There are now five prohibition states—Maine, Georgia, North Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma. In eight States and Territories—Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico—saloons are licensed with virtually no restrictions, although some of these have recently passed the Sunday closing laws. In all the other States there is some form of local option. In nearly all these local option States the "dry" territory has been steadily increasing for the last ten years.

In the South as a whole it has doubled; in Texas it has tripled, in Kentucky it has spread so widely that prohibition is confidently made that within three years the State will take its place beside Georgia in the prohibition column. To-day ninety-seven out of the 119 counties of Kentucky are wholly "dry", and of the remainder only four are wholly "wet". This seems an extraordinary condition in Kentucky, the home of bluegrass and whiskey, the State in which [illegible] is invested in distilleries.

Stepping over the border you find the menace you cannot get a drink anywhere except in the cities of Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga, and it looks as if Tennessee would have the luck to get into the ranks of prohibition States.

Georgia becomes a prohibition State on New Year's Day, and the law is so drastic that wine cannot be used in communion services in churches. You can druggists sell any form of liquor except pure alcohol.

TENNESSEE ALMOST DRY.

In Alabama 75 per cent. of the State is dry under a county option law.

In Mississippi sixty-eight out of the seventy-five counties are already dry, and a State prohibition campaign is being waged with every prospect of success.

Florida has thirty-four counties dry, seven counties die, and Governor Broward is actively leading a campaign for State prohibition.

South Carolina recently repealed the famous dispensary law and substituted local option by counties. A movement for state prohibition has just started, and seventeen out of forty-one counties have voted for no saloons. A large percentage of North Carolina counties are no saloons and the prohibition campaign is active.

Virginia has seventy-two dry counties out of 118. West Virginia has thirty out of fifty-five, and even Dawson is actively fighting the liquor traffic.

Fourteen of Maryland's twenty-three counties are dry; in Delaware the election last month resulted in almost half the towns going dry.

Louisiana has eighteen dry parishes and parts of others are also dry, and it is illegal to solicit orders for liquor in any of the dry districts.

Arkansas has sixty out of seventy-five counties dry and many dry towns in the others.

Missouri's local option law has made forty-four of her 115 counties abolish saloons. Sunday closing even in St. Louis is rigorously enforced.

TEXAS AN EXAMPLE.

Texas is one of the most notable examples of the revolution, for 163 counties are absolutely dry, fifty-three are partly dry, and only forty-seven are totally wet. The sale of liquor on dining cars is forbidden, and a traveller on a train may not even drink from his own flask.

Oklahoma has just adopted a constitution that forbids the sale of liquor.

Kansas is a prohibition State, and the last of the "speak easy" saloons has just been suppressed by popular opinion.

Nebraska has local option by villages and cities; 466 are dry, 600 wet. South Dakota is about one-quarter dry.

North Dakota has been a prohibition state so long that in some of the counties there are no jails.

Minnesota has 123 dry towns and rigid Sunday closing.

Iowa, once a prohibition State, has sixty-five out of ninety-nine counties dry and eleven other counties have only one saloon each.

Wisconsin has 450 dry towns. Michigan, under a county option law, has only one dry county.

A prohibition wave is rolling over Illinois; eight counties are to vote dry, while six allow saloons in only a few precincts.

Six hundred and eighty of Indiana's 1,015 townships are dry, and temperance people expect to increase the license fee to $1,500.

In Ohio 1,110 out of 1,476 townships are dry and 60 per cent. of the municipalities.

Pennsylvania seems little affected by the temperance wave, but there is one dry county.

New Jersey has no local option, but has recently begun a vigorous closing of saloons on Sundays.

PENNSYLVANIA LITTLE AFFECTED.

New York has township option, under which [illegible] towns in the state have no saloons.

Only twenty-four towns in Vermont allow liquor to be sold. New Hampshire is nominally a prohibition state, but only 67 per cent. of the population lives in really dry territory. Massachusetts has 250 dry and 100 wet towns. Connecticut has ninety-six dry towns out of 176, and every saloon must be run by its actual owner. About half Rhode Island is dry.

In Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona the Anti-Saloon League has started a campaign that has already resulted in the passage of a local option law in the first mentioned state. In Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah, although the saloons run about as they like, they are beginning to realize that sentiment is changing. The Mormon Church is fighting them, and the temperance people have already persuaded Idaho to adopt a Sunday closing law.

ANOTHER DARING HOLD-UP AND ATTEMPTED MURDER

A most daring attempt at robbery and murder occurred on Saturday evening, shortly after six o'clock. This time right within the limits of our city, the incident taking place at the lift lock.

It seems that as Mr. Tom Fitzgerald of Otonabee, was driving home on Saturday evening, and whilst passing through the lift lock, he was accosted by a hold-up man, who stopped his horse and demand his money. Mr. Fitzgerald grappled with the man for some minutes, and eventually got the best of him, throwing the highway man to the ground. Mr. Fitzgerald then made a dash for his cutter, and while driving away, the desperado, being foiled in his attempt at robbery, fired four or five shots at Mr. Fitzgerald, but fortunately his shots went wide of the mark.

The police were at once notified and have their hooks out for the desperado.

NO BRITISH FLEET FOR THE PACIFIC

London, Dec. 21.—The Associated Press is in a position to state on the authority of the British admiralty that there is no truth in the assertion published in the Standard today that the admiralty has decided to establish next May a Pacific and North American squadron, the base of which will probably be at Esquimalt.

"There is no shadow of foundation for the story; it is the veriest bunkombe; it must be obvious to anyone who gives the subject a moment's thought that such a move would be the last thing we would think of at the present moment," was the statement made by one of the highest officials of the admiralty.

The emphasis of this denial indicates that the admiralty was anxious that the report should be promptly put at rest, with the view of allaying any suspicion that might be aroused in America connecting the alleged formation of a British Pacific fleet with the sailing of the American battleship fleet.

Former Local Man Given Presentation

The Hamilton Times, of Dec. 19th, publishes a report of a reception to Mr. C. H. Mann, district deputy grand master of the I.O.O.F., Hamilton. Mr Mann was born and raised in Peterborough, moving to Hamilton some seven years ago. The paper in question said in part:

"Bro. Mann, D.D.G.M., took up the subject of the lodges in this district, and said a revival had been going on in the Order in this district. He was more than pleased with his receptions all along the line. He asked for their continued co-operation and assistance, and conveyed to the fathers of the Order who were present his sincerest thanks for coming out in such good numbers to his first official visit to this mother lodge.

Bro. Mann was presented with a basket of flowers to be conveyed to his wife.

Action Against Mr. J. A. Lawless

An action has been issued by Mr. W. Young Kinleyside, general manager of the North American Investment Company, against Mr. J. A. Lawless, proprietor of the National Hotel. A writ has been issued by the solicitors of the company for the repayment of certain sums of money alleged to have been paid to Mr. Lawless, for the return of certain cheques and promissory notes alleged to have been retained by him and for damages for an alleged breach of contract. The amount of damages is unstated.

EIGHTY MEN IMPRISONED IN A SYDNEY MINE FOR HOURS

Explosion Badly Injuries Fire Employes--Two Men, One of Whom is Married, will Die

Glace Bay, N.S., Dec. 21.—A bad explosion occurred this morning in the engine house of No. 2 colliery pit of the Dominion Coal Co., with damages which will amount to several thousand dollars, and the pit will be idle for at least a week. Only sufficient coal will be raised to keep the fires going at the pit.

The accident occurred at 3.20 a.m., and five men were in the house. Two of them are not expected to live. They have practically every particle of flesh burned from the body, while the other three are burnt and scalded on face, arms, and hands. The men are all single but one, and he is married and has one child. He will die.

BOILER DIDN'T BURST.

No cause is as yet known as to what caused the accident. The boiler did not burst, but seemed to be tilted completely off its base, the verticals and tubes gave way, and the big twelve-inch feed pipe, through which the steam is supplied to all the big plant burst. The door of the the engine-room was blown out of building, and all the glass in the windows smashed. Eleven men were near the scene at the time, and only a miracle saved them, as the debris from the wrecked boiler flew in all directions. The men were literally buried under scrap iron and strange to say were not hurt from that source. The injured suffering badly are at the St. Joseph Hospital.

No 2 mine is largest colliery in the world, and the accident cuts out the biggest producer of coal from the pit for at least six days, and a loss of 1,500 tons of coal will ensue.

An investigation will be held as to cause of accident at once. The boiler was carrying 125 lbs of steam at the time, and some thousands of gallons of boiling water flew in all directions at the time of the accident.

80 MEN CAUGHT IN MINE

About eighty men were in the mine at the time of the accident, and it was not until 8 o'clock that they could be taken out, as when the pipe burst, all the steam was cut off, fans stopped, and the men in the pit had to come to the bottom of the shaft to get out.

One fan is now going, and the other will be fixed this afternoon. Had the accident happened at any other time, some men might have been injured in the pit it would taken considerable time to get the large number out, but at the time of the explosion the night shift was peacefully all up, and the day shift was about to go in.

The penalty is expulsion.

Misery and Want In Canada

London, Dec. 21.—W. R. Trotter, representing the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, today addressed a joint meeting of the Labor Party Parliamentary Committee and the Trades Union Congress, giving what is described in the press as a graphic story of the misery and want of the laboring population in Canada. He said the Canadian manufacturers had flooded the skilled labor market. The fact that they were demanding the prosecution of shipping agents was merely their way to repudiating their agents in England in order to avoid the responsibility of non-fulfilment of promises. Mr. Trotter accused all the emigration agencies of sending unsuitable emigrants, the worst offenders being the shipping companies which were working on commission. He declared that the Canadian manufacturers wanted the tariff raised to heaven and cared nothing for the British trader.

William Sloan's Warning---Japanese ambition a Menace to British Supremacy on Pacific Coast---A Vital Question

We are just rounding off the first century of British dominion on the northern coast of America. In that brief space of time, through the [illegible] of imperial statesmanship, we have lost large [illegible] territory and coast line both on the south and north of what we now hold, and my firm conviction is, in view of past history and present conditions, that unless there is a complete reversal of policy, time will see our present possessions of British Columbia from the Rocky Mountains westward to the Pacific Ocean become a colony, and ultimately a possession of a united orient.

The All-Red line, from which we expect so much, is a bond drawing together the outposts of the British dominions. It narrows to a slender thread in the defiles of the Rockies. Guard well, then, the west; fill it with people who will be loyal to our ideals of national life. Guard well the strategic position, which is not only of Dominion but of Empire.

England has made an alliance with this new world power, but this alliance and all other treaties or compacts of an Eurasian complexion can never endure. They can at best possess all the elements of expediency. They can never possess the elements of permanence or stability. It is impossible; it is impracticable. Way more, it is unnatural. As individuals the races do not and never will assimilate.

United States Have Japanese Immigration Question Settled

Tokio, Dec. 21.—There is reason to believe that the entire question of emigration of Japanese to America has been satisfactorily settled, at least for the present, after a series of conferences which have been held between United States Ambassador O'Brien and Minister of Foreign Affairs Hayashi.

It is understood that at their last meeting the representative of the Japanese government outlined a plan to which it is agreed to limit emigration to students and commercial men having means of support, and entirely to prevent Japanese laborers from going to America.

This arrangement will entail the closest supervision on the part of the Japanese authorities. As the agreement is verbal, Ambassador O'Brien accepted it provisionally, but maintained that any violation of its terms would seriously embarrass a friendly government.

It is said that Foreign Minister Hayashi has determined to exercise absolute control in the matter.

Death of Mr. Geo. Lees on Saturday

The many friends of Mr. Geo. Lees, will regret to learn of his death which occurred on Saturday afternoon at his residence on Townsend street. Mr. Lees had been ailing for some time with a neuralgia of the stomach, but of late the disease had become more acute and caused death.

Mr. Lees was born in Toronto 47 years ago, and has been a resident of this city for the last seven or eight years. He was actively connected with the Murray street Baptist church.

A wife and two children are left to mourn the death of a loving father.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock to Little Lake cemetery.

Sad Death of Mr. Chas. A. Edmonson

On Saturday morning one of Peterborough's brightest and most generally respected young men, in the person of Mr. Charles Albert Edmondson, of 116 Weller street, a son of Mr. Henry Edmondson, passed away after a week's illness from appendicitis. Yesterday would have been the young man's 18th birthday.

Mr. Edmondson was universally beloved and his death at such an early age is to be greatly regretted. He was a member of the bugle band of the 57th regiment, and was prominently identified with the George St. Methodist church.

Two brothers and six sisters are left to mourn his loss. The brothers are Wm. and George of Peterborough, and the sisters are Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Martin, and Misses Annie Royce, Ethel and Grace, all residing in this city.

The funeral, which will most likely be a military one, will take place this afternoon at three o'clock, from the family residence, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Trent Valley Canal Traffic Increased

It is gratifying to learn that the past season has been the busiest in the history of the Trent Valley canal, superintendent J. H. McMillan has received from the various lockmasters their returns, showing the number of traffic generally during the past season, which has been the busiest in its history.

The chief item of interest in connection with the operation of the canal was the formal opening of the Lake Simcoe-Balsam Lake division, adding many additional miles of navigation to the system.

The report of the traffic at the various points, is as follows: Kirkfield lift lock, only opened for public use on July 6th, was 136 lockages, Rosedale lock, 1001 lockages; Fenelon Falls lock, 453 lockages; Lindsay lock, 806 lockages; Bobcaygeon lock, 849 lockages; Buckhorn lock, 1210 lockages; Lovesick lock, 930 lockages; Burleigh Falls lock, 701 lockages; Young's Point lock, 1038 lockages; Lakefield lock, 539 lockages; hydraulic lift lock, Peterborough, 1400 lockages as compared with 404 lockages in 1906; Peterborough lock, 1151 lockages as compared with 997 in 1906; Hastings lock, 17 lockages.

Our Special Issue Universally Admired

Splendid Merchants' and Manufacturers' Number is Now Issued

The special "Merchants' and Manufacturers'" number of the Morning Times issued on Friday last, containing scores of illustrations, personal portraits, etc., received universal praise throughout the city. It was noticed that several merchants who had purchased from, say, $5 to $50 worth each distributed many of their individual numbers among customers, as is customary to be done with illustrated calenders, and the recipients, in every case carefully rolled up and took with them these interesting souvenirs of Peterborough's progress and present high standing among Canadian cities. This issue was printed on a high grade of fine white paper which showed up the half tone pictures to great advantage. During Saturday many citizens who had not previously subscribed or copies, called at The Times office to purchase copies to mail to friends quite a large number being sent to the Old Country.

It is expected that by tonight the hundreds of copies printed over and above the subscription lists will be eagerly bought up.

St. Luke's Parish Work on Municipal Elections

St Luke's Parish Church Work for December says:—

The municipal elections will soon call upon the ratepayers to give their attention to the personnel of the City Council. Without wishing to enter into a discussion with regard to the council's work, one might say that some improvements might be made when the selection of a council is given to the citizens. On the whole the aldermen have manifested a great interest in the welfare of the city, and some of them have given real valuable service. But there has been lately, manifested some narrow minded policy, with regard to certain affairs, which prove that the originator is not worthy of holding an office which is in the gift of the people. If any one allows personal feelings to interfere with the discharge of a public duty, such a one is not fit to be trusted with the discharge of public affairs."

The question of who is to occupy the civic chair as Mayor ought to be seriously considered, and in doing so the custom of offering by reclamation a second term to the occupant of the chair should not seriously affect the discharge of a citizen's duty nor should be acceded to for merely reasons of politeness. Real and valuable service, ability and sound judgment alone should be factors in the choice for the chief magistrate. Certainly the mayor ought to be a property owner, a man of experience in years and in civic work, a man who will place the well-being of the city before anything else, and who will never allow personal affairs to hinder him from a fair and just discharge of his duties. That sort of a man ought to be the choice of the electors, whether he be a Conservative or a Liberal should in no way influence the electors.

It is not unlikely that the labor organizations of the city will make their choice of candidates for municipal honors, thereby calling the attention of the public to the interests they represented. No fair-minded citizen objects to all the interests of the community being represented in the municipal council, but we do expect that our interests will be represented by men of ability, standing and honor. Fair minded, economical representatives with public spirit are welcomed in public life by all classes of the community, and it is to be hoped that when the nominations are made it will be found that the gentlemen offering themselves for election will be men and will command the full confidence and respect of the electors.

Negro Had 14 White Wives

New York, Dec. 21.—Marina Maria Vann the 14th wife of James Nicholas Vann, of Mount Hope, Orange county, is dead and will be laid beside the thirteen other wives in the Vann family burial ground at Mount Hope today, according to the Sun.

James Nicholas Vann is one of the most remarkable characters in Orange county. He was born in Mount Hope township on April 22, 1807, and is therefore over 100 years old.

Although he is colored. Vann's fourteen wives have all been white and he expressed a distaste for women of his own race. He has been only servant to some of the most prominent men in Orange county. He has preached, doctored, and studied law, but is now getting so feeble as to hardly able to get around. Many years ago his biography was published and had a large sale.

Many Daring Burglaries and Petty Thefts are Being Reported

No doubt the lack of work and money stringency is the cause of so many hold-ups and thefts, that are now taking place, as every day reports are being printed of desperate hold-ups and burglaries, and in a great many instances late arrivals from over the water have been captured. No doubt many of the immigrants who come here are of the poorer class and live by no other means than petty thefts, some are more desperate and go so far as to take a life to accomplish their motive.

There is no doubt that the burglaries and thefts are greater in extent at this season, as the approach of Christmas always brings out the professional thieves.

Then again the poor circumstances of many families, some who have been enticed here by the cry of "lots of work," and "good times," have left their homes in England and landed here penniless and are thereby forced to desperate measures as to obtain money.

POLICE

At Saturday's police court, Stanley Gorman, aged 16 years, who had been arrested whilst in bed, by P. C.'s McHarry and Adams, early the same morning, was charged with having on July 21st stolen a cash box containing $45 in money, and a certificate in the Big Dipper Mining Company for $1,000 from the steamer Monarch.

He was defended by Mr. G. Gordon, but the case was remanded until the 27th. Mr. Gordon asked for bail as he did not want the boy to spend Christmas in jail. He has always been a respectable youth and was never to do wrong before. His worship accepted bail in the sum of $400.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

On Saturday morning John George, an Indian from Chemong reserve, was brought to Peterborough and tried by County Magistrate Edmison on the charge of being "found in a state of intoxication." He was fined $5 and costs, totalling $11.16, to be paid forthwith.

News Briefs

New York, December 21.—Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie Railroad Company, declared that Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, was reckoning without his host when he said that the wages of ordinary labor "would not have to come down along with the prices of raw materials in the present general business and financial depression."

Cleveland, Ohio, December 21.—The total loss to vessel property on the Great Lakes amounted to $743,000 for the season of 1907, according to figures compiled by marine men. Thirteen steamers and one schooner were lost. Their total capacity was 29,300 tons.

The greatest single loss was the steamer Cyprus, valued at $275,000. Damage to the steamer William E. Reis was $100,000.

In 1906 forty-four vessels, with a carrying capacity of 60,750 tons, and valued at $1,829,500 were lost. During 1905 forty-eight ships were lost. Their tonnage was 107,000 tons, and value $2,347,500, the greatest loss for any one year in the history of the lakes. Absorption is feared.

London, Ont., Dec. 19.—Adjt. Roe, of the Salvation Army, who created so much of a sensation in Ottawa recently by speaking in an unknown tongue, has had a similar experience here. During one of his sermons he broke out into a song, the language of which none in the audience knew. He himself did not know what it was.

In the evening he prayed in strange tongues. He was giving an address when suddenly he broke out into a prayer in a strange language. All wondered greatly at the unusual thing. The manifestations are causing much talk.

FRANCE'S INDUSTRIAL SEDAN

Prof. Adolf Wagner, of the University of Berlin, makes the statement that Germany is now richer than France. In the light of the transformation of Western Germany within recent years into a vast workshop, the increase in realty values in Prussia alone by $400,000,000 in two years (1895-1896) and the great expansion of commerce, the boast in not an idle one. Germany thus apparently won an industrial triumph of deeper significance than any number of Sedans.

Mulhall in 1896 gave Germany a national wealth of $40,200,000,000, as against $16,650,000,000 for France. Molinari estimated that between 1893 and 1897 the wealth of the empire increased $3,000,000,000. France between 1892 and 1896, by Mulhall's figures, gained $3,-950,000,000 in wealth, or less than $1,-000,000,000 in two years. Germany's ratio of industrial growth within the last five years has largely increased.

The fundamental causes are naturally to be looked for in the increase of population in Germany as contrasted with the decline of the birth-rate in France. While the German population of 56,367,178 in 1900 showed an increase of 4,067,277 for five years, the population of France, 38,961,945 in 1901, showed an increase of less than 650,000 over that of 1896. Taking for a more extended comparison the half century since 1856, France to a population which then equalled that of the area comprised in the German Empire has added but 4,000,000, while Germany has gained 27,000,000.

This diminution of births in France has already been reflected in the impaired efficiency of the army. French mothers no longer bear children to be food for cannon. Unfortunately they do not bear them to become recruits in the armies by which the victories of peace are won.

Is France in danger also of losing its intellectual along with its industrial supremacy? Dr. Bertillon in The Paris Figaro has recently shown that while French is now spoken by less than 50,000,000 people, German is the language of 115,000,000. For this decline no frivolous empress or war minister entering on a disastrous conflict "with a light heart" can be held responsible. The French nation has itself to blame for its apparent decadence.

INDEPENDENCE FOR CANADA

Under the above caption the Buffalo Courier makes the following reference editorially to the future of the Dominion:—

Of late the national idea is reported to be growing large in the public mind of Canada. After several years of unprecedented prosperity, substantial increase of population, and vast development of agricultural and mining resources, Canadians have come to feel they can stand alone. Many of them think their country should take a position among the nations as sovereign and independent. The old abstract quality of loyalty to the British crown has weakened as self-confidence enlarged and its decline has doubtless been hastened by words and policies of the British government current at London as essential to the interests of the empire, but distasteful to the Canadian people and regarded by them as injurious. The changed sentiment is indicated by frequent public discussion of the future of the Dominion. Before the Canadian Club at Ottawa, last week, an outspoken address was delivered by J. S. Ewart, Kingston, of Toronto, in which he predicted that Canada is near the end of the dependent road that Canadians know what is good for them far better than persons who are across the sea, and that the country will yet fill an independent position in the world, as a republic or a monarchy. There was a time when such remarks would have been classed as near to being treasonable, but Canada is very independent in spirit now, and the mother country is not in health to discipline her. The day of independence for Canada doubtless will come just as soon as the people show convincingly that they are agreed in wanting it. They are practically almost free now. Independent nationality would bring new responsibilities and burdens which might cause many ultimately to regret the political separation.

Canadians will receive the Courier's remarks in this particular in the kindly spirit in which they are offered. While there is unmistakably a sentiment in Canada favorable to the Dominion at once striding forth into nationhood, yet the vast majority of Canadians have no desire to see the hopes of the minority realized. The independence of Canada is much farther in the future than the Courier seems to think.

Responsible Journalism

No Metropolitan Newspaper on this side of the Atlantic or the other has done more of true public service than the "Montreal Witness". Few indeed, are the papers that can show such a record as its more than sixty years of fearless championship of moral reform. The "Witness" has ever dared to stand up for what it believed to be right, regardless of its own financial interests. Though published in Canada's greatest manufacturing centre, it has consistently championed the cause of the farmer both east and west.

In the words of one of the ablest men of our day, the principal of one of our own colleges, "Canada owes a debt of obligation to the "Witness" that it will never be able to repay." In its subscribers' interest, the "Witness" annually foregoes a revenue of many thousands of dollars by the attitude it takes towards pernicious or questionable advertisements.

The "Witness" is an up-to-date newspaper in the best sense of the word. It prints all the news worth while. Its markets and stock reports and financial reviews have the confidence of Canada's leading business men. Its various departments, such as "The Home", "Literary Review", Letters from Readers," "Boys' Page," "Children's Corner", "Medical", "Legal", "Veterinary", "Numismatic", "Agricultural", "Horticultural" and "Poultry", etc., etc., are all ably conducted by experts at a large expense, the last named being edited by the Macdonald College Poultry Expert.

All these departments in addition to the news and editorial features combine to make a complete, all-round family newspaper.

We can hardly recommend it to our readers, if they want, as most intelligent people do, a metropolitan newspaper in addition to the local paper, they will make no mistake in getting the "Witness".

"Daily Witness" $3.00 a year.

"Weekly Witness and Canadian Homestead" $1.00 a year.

Samples may be had on application to the publishers, Messrs. John Dougall & Son, "Witness" Block, Montreal.

It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. YPSILANTI.

Nearly Four Hundred Ways of Spelling the Name.

Curious postal officers in Michigan and Washington have been keeping for years past a record of the different ways Ypsilanti has been spelled on mail matters, and by comparing the notes they have preserved a list of veritable orthographic wonders has been compiled. This list easily establishes the claim that more different ways for spelling Ypsilanti have been devised than for spelling any other geographical name in America.

In all no less than 372 distinct ways of spelling the name have been counted, and it is probable that the greater number, perhaps all, have been used in good faith by persons who actually believed that the orthographic combinations reproduced were the correct combinations for representing Ypsilanti on the written or printed page. Every letter in the alphabet except "R" has been used as the initial letter of the name, though why so obvious a combination as Rypsilanti should be neglected when others much less obvious have been employed is difficult to explain. As a matter of fact the variations in the spelling are chiefly confined to the first syllable, "Y" being a letter lacking or having only an indifferent standing in many foreign languages.

Ypsy Lanti and Zyp Silanti are met with and among the spellings farthest away from the accepted and official standard are Whypsorlanter and Hipsylaundder.

GOING HOME FOR CHRISTMAS.

The Khan Writes a Characteristically Sympathetic Story of a Wanderer.

He is dying in a shack in a far-off Alberta town. The White Plague got him before he ever started out there, and it followed him about the prairies and into the mountains and back again, and finally laid him out. But Death is merciful, and that inevitable death called consumption more merciful than the rest of the shadowy pack, for whoever saw a consumptive yet that didn't believe he was going to recover?

This morning you could have read a newspaper through his poor, thin hands; his eyes were unnaturally bright, and there was a hectic flush upon his cheek.

"How d'ye feel this mornin'?" asked his old-time friend.

"Oh, a great deal better. I think I will be able to go home for Christmas."

His friend went out and told the group in the bar.

"Boys, he sez he's a goin' home for Christmas."

One of the men snapped his finger towards the ceiling and pointed to the ground. They were all silent.

"Boys, he jes' positively can't travel all the way to Ontario the way he is."

The drunken doctor who lost a splendid practice in the east, and who went out West to start life again, awoke in the cabin from a two weeks' bout.

"He'll leave the top o'night, m-right," he said, with a sardonic grin. "He'll go home—Christmas."

Three years ago the man sneaked out of the east. He had sprung in the old home country, was "done" with the sweetheart. He would go out West and take up land and prepare a home for her, and then he would come and claim her—would she wait? Oh, yes, she would wait. And she did wait. Hamlet's heartless sneer. "Frailty, thy name is woman," only applies here and there. How many women in old Ontario are waiting, waiting, waiting?

Patience and Endurance are not the daughters—they are the twin sisters—of God. What would have become of this country had it not been for these twain? The axemen and the lumbermen, the scythemen and the ploughmen, the tall sawyers and the framers would never have accomplished what they did were it not for the divine sisters. The sky above us is a splendid petticoat.

So he went away to the West full of hope, with a smile upon his lips, and on the seat beside him rested an impalpable Thing which claimed him for its own. How his blood leaped when a train-hand bellowed "Nor-Way!" through the car door, and "Ma-at Portage, and "Winnipeg," as they rolled over the Louise bridge, and he caught a glimpse of the historic Red River racing northward far below.

He will come home for Christmas. He will come home in a noble train thundering east none too fast with its cargo of happy, eager hearts. The smoking car will be full, and the day coaches will be crammed, and the Pullmans will be jammed. Everybody will be hail fellow well met.

"Merry Christmas" will sound from one end to the other of the flying bolt of steel and wood.

Going home for Christmas!

They will swap stories, they will sing songs, they will shout "The Maple Leaf Forever," they will sing the old gospel hymns: "There's a land that is fairer than day," and "Washed in the Blood of the Lamb."

They will drink out of each other's flasks, and they will venture on a colored song without precision, like an amateur at a slack wire. They will show each other certain photographs of handsome Canadian girls. One picture is stamped "Jones, Photo, Peterboro'"; another, "Smith, Photo, Barrie"; another "Robinson, Photo, Halifax"; another "Beaucoup, Photo, Riviere du Loup"; another "Lakeside, Photo, Hamilton"; another "Kodak, Photo, Bullock's Corners," and from an hundred other photo galleries all over the land. And they will say: "That's her—that's my girl. She's waited for me now four years. God bless her! I've got a home for her now."

Going home for Christmas!

But where is he? You will look for him in vain in the smoking car. He is not in the day coaches; there's no use going into the Pullmans. But when the train pulls up at North Bay, if you will go forward to the baggage car and peep in, you will see a long pine box. He is inside that.

He is going home for Christmas!

BRITISH BARONETS.

These of England and Ireland Wear the "Bloody Hand of Ulster."

The rank of baronet was given first by King James I. as a means of raising money. The recipients of the dignity were to be gentlemen of good birth possessing not less than £1,000 a year and in time of war—like the old knights banneret—were to occupy posts of honor near the royal standard.

The money payment has wholly ceased, but when a baronet is created the ancient form of warrant is still retained, and a "tally" is struck at the exchequer and handed to the new baronet by way of receipt. Baronets have no coronet or robes, but in the English and Irish divisions they possess as a distinctive badge the "Bloody Hand of Ulster," which invariably appears on their coat of arms.

The baronets "of Nova Scotia," who date before the union of England and Scotland, show the arms of Nova Scotia upon their shields. The baronets of Scotland have a distinctive badge consisting of an enameled decoration, "worn from the neck by an orange tawny ribbon," showing St. Andrew's cross upon a small shield, surmounted by a crown and surrounded by the enameled motto, "Fax mentis honestae gloria" ("Glory, the beacon light of the noble mind").

With this King Charles conferred a crest—a branch of laurel held by a naked hand and a thistle held by an armed one—with the added motto, "Munit haec, altera vincit" ("One defends, the other conquers"). All later baronets are of the "United Kingdom" or of "Great Britain" and possess no such pretty toys.

In fact, many people who pride themselves on their familiarity with Debrett know scarcely anything of baronets' badges and beyond a misty notion of the meaning of the Ulster Hand are unaware of their history and significance.

There is one instance of the honor being granted to a woman. Dame Mary Bolles of Osberton, Nottinghamshire, was created a baronet in 1635 for "maintaining thirty foot soldiers at eightpence a day for three years in his majesty's service," no slight help in those troublous times.

"Dame," the old English word for lady, is the almost obsolete style to be used by a baronet's wife. Nowadays she is styled "lady" without the use of her Christian name. Should she prefer the old word "dame," that is always followed by the Christian name and sounds deliciously quaint and distinctive.—Modern Society.

Canada Likes British Rule.

"The Political Cleavage of North America." This was the subject of an address by Hon. Geo. W. Ross, leader of the Opposition, before the Catholic Union at a meeting held in the St. Charles Cafe, Toronto, the other night. Canada's past relations with the United States were reviewed by Mr. Ross, who made reference to the United Empire Loyalist emigration from the States to Canada, the war of 1812, the invasions of 1837 and 1866, the Ashburton and other treaties which sacrificed Canadian to American interests, and the refusal of the Washington Government to negotiate reciprocal trade relations with Canada.

Far from driving Canada into a commercial and political union with the republic, these influences only served to bring Canada in closer relation with the motherland. Canada had been impelled to build up a nationality of her own. Denied the markets of the United States, she sought those in Great Britain. She preferred the British form of Government, and today the Imperial sentiment was stronger in Canada than it had ever been in her history.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

The Great Provincial Charity, The Hospital for Sick Children, Calls On You For Aid.

Remember that this Hospital is not a local institution, but Provincial.

"I LIKE PEOPLE."

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment.

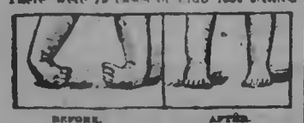
Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that Works.

Last year there were 1093 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 254 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.22 for the 47½ days stay.

If your dollar could straighten the feet of a little boy or girl with club feet, you would gladly give it, and your dollar will do that. There were 79 cases of club feet treated last year. Out of the 79, about 60 were from the country.

MASSAGE



BEFORE. AFTER.

If you know of any child in your county who is sick or has club feet, and whose parents can not afford to pay, send the name to the Hospital Secretary.

The stock books are open. Won't you let the Hospital write your name down for a few shares in Heaven's own work of healing little children?

A great mine of Mercy—the mining stock that always pays dividends—is bought with the money that helps The Hospital for Sick Children to extract the Gold of Life from the Quartz of Death.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

Dora came to Ridge Hill had she sat up more than an hour, but lay all day on her bed, while her face grew white almost as the wintry snow, save when a bright red spot burned upon each cheek, making her, as Dora thought, even more beautiful than she had been in health. Once in the gathering twilight, when they sat together alone, she startled Dora with the question, "Are you afraid to die?"

"Mother was not," answered Dora, and Ella continued, "But she was good and I am not. I have never done a worthy act in all my life. Never thought of death, or even looked upon it, for mother told us there was no need of harrowing up our feelings. It would come soon enough, she said, to me who hoped to live long; it has come too soon, all too soon, and the hot tears rained through the transparent fingers clasped tightly over her face.

For many weeks Dora had felt an undefined presentiment of coming evil had seen it in Ella's failing health—in the increased tenderness of Mr. Hastings' manner whenever he bent over the pillow of his young wife, or took her in his arms, as he sometimes did, to the window, that she might look out upon the garden and the winding walks which she would never tread again. And now Ella herself had confirmed it had spoken of death as something very near.

"Oh, she must not die!" was Dora's mental cry of anguish, as moving nearer to the bed-side she grasped the thin wasted hand which lay outside the counterpane, and this was her only answer, for she could not speak. There was a numbness at her heart, a choking sensation in her throat, which prevented her utterance. But Ella understood her, and, warming the warm pressure, she continued, "You, too, have seen it then, and know that I must die; though you do not know how I dread the lonesome darkness of the grave, the world which lies beyond. If somebody would go with me, or teach me the way, it wouldn't be so hard."

Poor Ella! Her life had been one round of fashionable folly, and now that the world was fading from her view, her fainting soul cried out for light to guide her through the shadowy valley her feet were soon to tread. And light came at last, through the word of God and the teachings of the faithful clergyman who was sent for at her request, and who came daily up to see her. There was no more fear now—no more terror of the narrow tomb, for there was One to go with her—One whose arm was powerful to save; and on him Ella learned to lean, clinging still with an undying love to her husband, upon whom she often talked of the time when he would be alone and she be far away.

"It is so hard to give you up," she said one day, when as usual he was sitting by her side; "so hard to say good-bye forever, and know that though you will miss me at first, and mourn for me too, there will come a time when another will take my place—another than Ella can call you here; but I am willing," she continued, as she saw him about to speak, "willing that it should be so. I have loved you, Howard, more than you can know, or I can ever tell; but I am not worthy of you. I do not satisfy the higher feelings of your heart; I am not what your wife should be, and for this I must die. Many a night, when you were sleeping at my side, have I lain awake, asking myself why I, to whom the world was so beautiful and bright, must leave it so soon; and as I thought over the events of our short married life the answer came to me, 'I cannot make you happy as you ought to be, and for your sake I am taken away.'"

"Oh, Ella, Ella!" groaned Mr. Hastings, laying his head beside hers upon the pillow.

From his inmost soul he knew that what she said was true; but for this he would not that she should die. She had been to him a gentle, loving wife, the one he had chosen from all others to share his home; and though he had failed to find in her the companion he had sought, she was very dear to him—was the mother of his child; and the strong man's heart was full of anguish as he thought of giving her up so soon. Who would comfort him when she was gone, or speak to him words of love?

Softly the chamber door unclosed, and Dora Deane looked in; but seeing them thus together she stole away into the garden, where the early spring grass was just starting into life, and there weeping bitterly, she too prayed that Ella might not die. But neither tears nor prayers were of avail to save her. Still for weeks she lingered, and the soft June air, stealing in through the open window, had more than once lifted the golden curls from off her fading brow, and more than one bouquet of sweet wild blossoms had been laid upon her pillow, ere the midnight hour when, with anguish at their hearts, Howard Hastings and Dora Deane watched together by her side, and knew that she was dying. There had been long, dreary nights of wakefulness, and the worn-out sufferer had asked at last that she might die—might sleep the dreamless sleep from which she would never waken. And Howard Hastings, as night after night went by, and the laughing blue eyes which had won his early love grew dim with constant waking, had felt that it would be better when his loved one was at rest. But death, however long expected, is sudden at the last, and so it was to him when he saw the shadow creeping over her face which cometh once to all. She would not suffer them to rouse the household; she would rather die with them alone, she said, with Dora standing near, and her husband's arms about her, so that the tones of his voice should be the last sound which would fall upon her ear, and Dora's hand the last to minister to her wants.

"I have loved you so much, Howard, oh, so much!" and the white, clammy fingers, so soon to be laid away beneath the summer flowers, strayed lovingly through the raven locks of her husband, who could answer only with his tears, which fell fast upon her face. "And you too, Dora," she continued, motioning the weeping girl to advance. "I have loved you too, for you have been kind to me, and when I am gone you will live here still and care for my child, whom we have called Fannie. It is a beautiful name, Dora—your mother's name, and for your sake I would fain let her keep it—but," turning to Mr. Hastings, and laying her hand caressingly upon his head, "when I no longer live, I would rather you should call my baby Ella Grey; and if my husband,"—here she paused to gather strength "for what she was about to say, and after a moment continued, "if in coming years, another's life beside you in my chair, and the voices of other children shall call you father, you will not forget your first-born, I know, but will love her better and think perchance the offence of me if she bears my name, for however lowly you may hereafter have, it was Ella Grey that won your first affection."

Again she paused, and there was no sound heard in the chamber of death save the sobs of those about to be bereaved, and the faint rustling of the leaves without, which were gently moved by the night wind.

"Bring me my baby," she said at last; and Dora laid the sleeping child in the arms of the young mother, who clasped it fondly to her bosom, breathed over it a dying mother's blessing, and with a dying mother's tears baptized it Ella Grey.

There was a long, deep silence then, and when at last Howard Hastings lifted up his head from the pillow where it had been resting, and Dora Deane came timidly to his side, they gazed together on the face of the sweetly sleeping dead.

CHAPTER XI

Ella Hastings was dead. The deep-toned bell proclaimed it to the people of Dunwood, who, counting the nineteen strokes, sighed that one so young should die. The telegraphic wires carried it to her childhood's home in the far-off city; and while her tears were dropping fast for the first dead of her children, the fashionable mother did not forget to have her mourning in the most expensive and becoming style. The servants in Hawaii's Show Volcano.

Kilauea, the spur of the great Manna Loa, is a well behaved volcano, as it can be visited with perfect safety, even if in eruption—as it is from time to time—when exhibitions of activity are given that are worth traveling thousands of miles to witness. This volcano is on the island of Hawaii, and the shortest possible trip that can be made to it from Honolulu covers four days. This allows only half a day at the volcano, which is much too short a time to study the workings of what is considered one of the world's wonders. A week at least should be given to the trip. The sea voyage is always more or less rough, but the boats, although small, are comfortable. From Hilo, where the water trip ends, there is a railroad ride of [illegible] miles through the big cane sugar plantation. This is followed by a stage run of eleven miles over a road leading through a perfect fairy land of tropical foliage, the highway being lined on either side with roses, magnolias and ferns, which last grow to the size of trees without losing any of their delicate beauty. Returning by the other route, there is a stage drive of thirty-five miles over lava fields and across the great flow which ran into the sea from Manna Loa several years ago.—Leslie's Weekly.

His Revenge.

An employee of the Bank of Brussels whose son was sentenced a year ago to three years' imprisonment for stealing from the bank disappeared, taking with him $70,000. He left a note for the manager of the bank stating that he took the money to revenge himself on the bank for the cruel treatment of his son.

Heart Strength

"Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing power. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have the same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds Strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON

"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES

said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB

says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 521 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortes, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 60-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of I. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua, we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 30 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Systematic Catarrh Has But One Cure

Lotions and Powders Will Never Help Unless the Blood is Given Attention

The way to radically and permanently cure catarrh is to cleanse the blood of the unhealthy secretions that keep the mucous membrane inflamed.

Catarrhal poison usually interferes with the stomach, kidneys and liver. These organs must be properly toned and strengthened, or else when you feel sick all over.

To get direct to the source of the trouble—to cleanse, nourish and purify the blood—where can you find anything so potent as Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

This grand medicine regulates the eliminating organs and completely drives the virus of catarrh out of the system. Thousands of cures prove this.

Of course to clear the nose and head of mucous discharges, Dr. Hamilton recommends the use of Catarrhozone Inhaler which, if used with his pills of Mandrake and Butternut, cures the most obstinate case of Catarrh ever known. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills in 25c. boxes.

He was not a prisoner but Mr. Boston accompanied him under orders of the government.

A Record Influx of Xmas Shoppers

Possibly the largest crowds of Christmas buyers, all day Saturday, thronged the shops, streets, and market that this city ever saw. This of course was in no small measure due to the beautiful sparkling winter's sunshine and the good sleighing. Hundreds of sleighs drawn by horses stamping joyously beneath their rows of merrily tinkling bells seemed to have brought in the rural population for many miles from every point of the compass.

The early trains brought large quotas from the villages and towns of the district. The 8.25 train from Port Hope carried the largest contingent, every car being crowded, while many had to find accommodation in the baggage car. The train was nearly an hour late and stopped at every flag station on the line to take on passengers. The other trains were correspondingly crowded.

Conversations with some of the leading merchants, especially dry goods' men and those selling knick knacks suitable for comparatively cheap presents, assured The Times that a vast amount of money must have passed across the counters on George and other streets. Several merchants noted that whilst the crowds were great, and clerks kept on the jump all day, that, as a rule cheaper lines were more in demand than last year.

Turkeys and other poultry both in the market building and various stores sold at tremendous prices; as one lady was heard lament, "That little turkey there worth about 60 or 75 cents, cost me $2.25, of the—rob the way these farmers are robbing us."

An average raise of about 50 cents each was demanded over prices asked at Wednesday's market for similar-sized birds. Many people refused to pay the extortionate prices asked for turkeys expecting to get them cheaper at the general market to be held tomorrow.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by some of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal uterine drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus, and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

BRAVE LITTLE BOY AND GIRL FOUGHT FIENDISH FATHER

English Immigrant, Insanely Jealous, Tried to Murder Wife with Poker, Pocket Knife, and Butcher Knife

Cornwall, Dec. 23.—The people of York street, in the west ward, were startled about 10 a.m. today by a cry of "murder," and some men who rushed to the scene found Mrs. Joseph Ashworth in a pool of blood in a neighbor's yard, her husband kneeling over her, struggling with his 12-year-old son for the possession of a huge butcher knife. The woman was terribly cut about the head and face and the snow in the yard was blood-soaked. The men called on Ashworth and disarmed him.

Ashworth was bleeding from a couple of wounds on the face, and had a cut in the shoulder. The boy, Jack, had one finger nearly severed, and the little nine-year-old daughter was cut in two places on the face. Ashworth was arrested by the crowd and turned over to the police, while the mother and children were taken to the Hotel Dieu nearby. Although badly cut and losing a lot of blood, Mrs. Ashworth's injuries are not serious.

The eldest son of the family, an intelligent young man of 25 years or so, when interviewed by a press representative, stated that the family, parents and eight children, came to Canada last July from Lancashire, England. The father, who is a little man of 40 years of age, was insanely jealous, without the slightest reason, of his wife, aged 32, and had often threatened to kill her. It seems that they quarreled when alone this morning, and the woman fled from the house into a neighbor's yard, pursued by her husband, who knocked her down and struck her with an iron poker. When she wrested this from him he took out his pocket knife and slashed her face. The little nine-year-old girl, who tried to help her mother, was struck in the face. The son, Jack, aged 12, had been getting a butcher knife sharpened for a neighbor, and hearing the cries ran to save his mother. The father dropped the pocket knife and tried to take the other weapon from the lad, but fortunately failed.

M'LEAN LEADS IN W. YORK CONTEST

The bye-election in West York for the Dominion House took place yesterday. The latest returns received last night gave McLean the Liberal candidate 78 majority over Wallace, the Conservative candidate. At the last election Hon. Archie Campbell, Liberal, had 124 majority.

Forty Italians on Montreal Train Fight with Razors and Revolvers

Montreal, Dec. 23.—A terrible fight occurred on the Moccasin train from Brockville as the train was nearing Montreal this morning. A gang of about forty Italians, who had been working for the Canadian White Company, got on the train at Cedars. They started a loud argument as soon as they boarded the train, and had only traveled as far as Waudreuil, when a fierce fight broke out. The Italians all drew weapons of one sort or another, and began a free-for-all, in which several of them were slashed with knives and razors, and a number of shots were fired. The other passengers on the train were badly frightened, as the bullets whizzed around.

The train employees were unable to handle the men, and the fight continued practically all the way into Montreal. The train was obliged to slow down at St. Henri, and most of the combatants jumped and made their escape, but three who remained on the train were arrested on their arrival in Montreal. One was badly injured and is now lying in a critical condition at the hospital. His name is F. Tolassi.

POLICE

At yesterday's session of the police Court, the Sons of Rest and Easy Assemblers quit their respective brick walls and attended to business.

The first case was that of Robt. Bailey, of North Monaghan, charged with unlawfully refusing to pay toll to the market clerk on December 9th. Mr. Gordon appeared for the defendant, and Mr. E. H. D. Hall conducted the prosecution. Bailey pleaded not guilty. Judgment was reserved for a week.

Fifty Lashes on Back For Tramp Thieves

Waterbury, Dec. 23.—Fifty lashes each, while running naked in the snow, was the punishment dealt out here to Tramps. The men stole the dinner that little Margaret Sarsclough was carrying to a poor neighbor on Milton.

Mrs. Carrie Sarsclough, poor herself, was given a roast of meat by a more fortunate neighbor. She gave the meat to her daughter, Margaret, and told the girl to take it to the home of Sarah Castle, an aged woman, even poorer than the Sarsloughs.

"Tell Sarah Castle," she said to her daughter, "that the Lord has been good to me, and she must share with me."

Just as the girl stepped out of the house the tramps seized her, wanted her arm until she screamed with pain, took the meat from her and ran.

12,000 STARVING IN GERMAN CAPITAL--- CHILDREN UNFED

The Municipal Council will be Asked for $30,000 to Supplement Private Charity--To School without Breakfast

Berlin, Dec. 23.—The municipality is face to face with a very serious problem in connection with the supply of food to thousands of virtually starving children attending the primary schools in Berlin, whose numbers have been greatly augmented this year in consequence of the industrial inactivity. Thanks to the Children's Canteen Society has been able to cope with the task in a fairly satisfactory way, by means of subscriptions from private sources, but the call on its funds this year are so great that it will be unable to supply many of the children.

WITHOUT BREAKFAST.

In the first week of December, according to official statistics, from 245 out of the 285 primary schools, no fewer than 11,947 children attended school, in most cases without breakfast, and in all cases without the prospect of obtaining a midday meal at home. Of these 4,498 receive a simple daily meal from the fourteen canteens belonging to the above mentioned society, the other 7,449 are totally unprovided for.

The question of the city's responsibility for the children has now been raised by the socialists in the municipal council, who propose that the council should in future undertake the task.

$30,000 IS NEEDED.

The society will enable this work to be carried on the sum of $8,421.50. Altogether for the feeding of the 4,500 starving little ones during the winter $30,000 will be necessary and the council is to be asked to vote $30,000 to make up the amount required and place it at the disposition of the society for administration. This course is suggested in order to obviate the loss of civic rights sustained by the children's parents should their offspring be directly fed by the authorities. Parents who do not send their children to school are fined unless they can give medical authority for keeping them home. Therefore poor parents send children to school even though foodless and miserably clad.

Priests and Nuns Called for Revenge

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 23.—Riots at Sihuatlen, a village near Guadajara, have resulted from the arrest of a priest on a charge of fighting with a townsman. The priests and nuns called upon the townspeople to avenge this insult to the order. Several hundred women and boys armed with clubs and a few revolvers attacked the town lockup and released the padre.

The priests have fled to the country fearing that they will be punished.

The nuns, known as Sisters of Mercy, took a prominent part in the disorders. The disturbance was finally quelled.

First Filipino Bill is a School Grant

Manila, P.I., Dec. 23.—The first bill to come up for final reading in the assembly, appropriating $1,000,000 for the construction of schools in the outlying barrios, or villages, will secure a unanimous vote, it having been supported by the committee to which it had been referred without a dissenting voice. It is now ready for passage.

The committee and the assembly are preparing instructions for the delegates to Washington. The principal matters which congress will be asked to grant include tariff reform and the abolition of the head tax charged visitors from Hong Kong and Japanese ports. The delegates will leave for America on December 31.

The first provincial council of the Catholic Church in the history of the islands is now in session in this city.

The bishops and clergy are considering matters important to the Church of which the most important is the placing of the Chinese upon an American basis throughout.

The Spanish and other clergy conform, it is understood, to this decision, which is the result of instructions given by the pope.

A magnificent torchlight procession of 35,000 men, women, and children took place in honor of the event, which is considered a complete victory for the American bishops who control Chinese affairs here. The opposition to the measure is principally from foreign priests in the outlying districts.

Prescription Hurts Sale of Medicine

Simple Prescription to Make Home Made Medicine Cure

To make up enough of the "Dandelion treatment", which is claimed to be relieving nearly every sufferer who uses it for backaches, kidney complaint, sore weak bladder and rheumatism; get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Those who have tried it claim that it acts gently but thoroughly on the kidneys, relieving backache and bladder trouble and urinary difficulties almost instantly. Many cases of rheumatism are known to have been relieved within a few days, the pain and swelling diminishing with each dose.

A well-known local druggist, who is in a position to know, asserts that this prescription, whenever it becomes known, always ruins the sale of the numerous patent medicine rheumatism cures, kidney cures, etc. It is a receipe which the majority of patent medicine manufacturers, and even certain physicians dislike to see published. Few cases, indeed, which will fail to fully yield to its peculiarly soothing and healing influence. Being composed of common every-day ingredients, which can be had from any druggist, it makes up a good tonic and harmless remedy and at nominal cost.

Military Funeral Held Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, the remains of Mr. Chas. Edmonson, were conveyed to their last resting place. The funeral was a military one, as the deceased was a beloved member of the bugle band of the 57th Regt. As the long cortege wended its way down the principal streets the impressive and solemn aspect, was plainly visible and much regret and sympathy was heard on all sides of the sudden cutting off of a young and promising life.

The procession started with a picked advance guard of the 57th Regiment. Members of the band as well as those of the battalion attending the funeral wore full winter uniform.

The cortege passed down George street to the sad strains of the dead march in Saul. The bearers were chosen from the members of the bugle band.

Rand Slaves Return To China with Wealth

Che Foo, Dec. 23.—The steamer Hohopolis, with 1,955 Chinese "slaves" from the Rand arrived here from Durban, South Africa. During the voyage some interesting facts were learned about the "slaves" many of whom were repatriated under the Imperial government's concession and at the cost of the British taxpayers before their contracts expired.

These men have, or are supposed to have, no means of paying for their own passage, but several of them have money, either secreted about their persons or in the safekeeping of friends. One man was caught in the act of trying to conceal $400 in a water spout in the Durban compound. An expedient often resorted to is to procure a draft on one of the banks in China before application for repatriation is made. The steamer carried on the Hohopolis Labor Importation Agency drafts to the amount of $300,000, but that does not by any means represent the total wealth of the coolies, as none of the money of the Cantonese is included in that figure They, with many of the Northerners, prefer to conceal their worldly goods about their persons. This they do entirely at their own risk as the agency makes adequate provision for the taking of deposits and handing over the sums taken to the owners on arrival in China.

A Cantonese reported that he had been robbed of $130, but was unable to indicate the thief. A northerner on another occasion reported that attempts were being made to get at his hard-earned savings. He had 50 sovereigns sewn up in small bundles in his clothing. In one instance a coolie had $100 sewn up in the soles of his boots, while another had a similar amount imbedded in bean. One man was actually the proud possessor of a motor-cycle, and several others had bicycles. There are watches on board in quantity, and a coolie with some commercial instinct may occasionally be seen with as many as twenty in his belt, the idea being to retail them at a profit in his own country.

There are any number of gold watch chains, silver watch chains, cigaret cases, traveling trunks, and so on. One Chinaman displayed a lovely diamond ring and presented the receipt for $125 which he had received from the Johannesburg jeweler from whom he had made the purchase. Another had a magnificent gramophone, while still another was carrying back an iron bedstead.

Outlook for Senior O.H.A. Hockey this Season not Very Bright--High Salaries May Kill Pro-Hockey League

Toronto, Dec. 23.—What are the senior hockey prospects for the coming season?

Well, so far as the O.H.A. is concerned, the outlook does not appear to be the brightest imaginable, and it looks from this distance as if the promoters of the new professional league, comprising teams in Berlin, Guelph, Brantford and Toronto, have the chance of a lifetime to put the pro game on a firm footing in Ontario. Whether they will make the best of their opportunity remains to be seen.

It looks like they will have little to compete against in the amateur line, and if the league does not make good it will be because of mismanagement and internal dissension.

Last year the O.H.A. had ten senior teams, five in the west and five in the east. Of this number five teams, Midland, Peterborough, Argonauts, Marlboros and Guelph are out of existence for one reason or another. Guelph, of course, only lasted part of last year before the O.H.A. got after Buck Irving and threw his whole team out. Marlboros have died a natural death. Argos, owing to the Rugby muddle, were not eligible, while Peterborough and Midland are out of the running for other reasons.

Two of the five vacancies have been filled by Parkdale and Preston, making seven teams in all, St. George's, Parkdale, Kingston, Berlin, Preston, Galt and Stratford, and with the season only two weeks away it does not look as if more than two or three of this number will amount to a hill of beans from a senior standpoint. Two of the known exceptions are the new St. Georges and Kingston.

HOW THE TEAMS SHAPE UP.

The last named team is practically intact from a year ago. Richardson being the only absentee, and he will be found on one of the Toronto teams while the St. George's have a team in sight that should be much stronger than last year, particularly on the forward line, where they are sure to have more speed, while their defence, if all the men now available turn out, will be strong, husky and a shade better than last year.

Parkdale, the third team in the eastern district, may furnish one of the surprises of the season, but just now they do not appear to have uncovered anything phenomenal in the way of players. They have had two practices and an army of men have turned out, but with one or two exceptions they have been of the junior variety. Percy Scott may have something better up his sleeve, but whether it is only his elbow remains to be seen.

WESTERN DISTRICT.

The western district will have two of last year's intermediate teams in Galt, Preston and Berlin. The latter, providing, of course, that the lay of miracles has not passed, will not be in the same class with the seniors of a year ago, who jumped to the pro. ranks True, they won the championship last year, but Preston claims that the Dutchmen beat them out only by reason of the assistance given them by the seniors early in the year.

In Stratford the local papers claim that the players are showing little or no interest in hockey matters, and the chances for a good team are slim unless the townspeople can prevail upon Davidson and Ramsey Rankin to throw down Varsity.

Then Hearn and Forbes may turn out, but there was a big "if" tacked on to everything in the hockey line in the town where the John Ross Robertson cup now resides, and the situation on the whole looks anything but reassuring.

MUCH DEPENDS ON TWAITS.

In Galt much depends upon Bill Twaits. Bill was the brains of the team last year, and he is now considering an offer from the Berlin professional if he takes it, Galt's chances of cinching the championship will be greatly lessened. Without Twaits Galt's team without Bill would be no fun in senior company.

To recapitulate here is what the senior O.H.A. series with the opening of the season only two weeks off look like;

St. Georges and Kingston, strong.

Parkdale, a new team, doubtful.

Berlin and Preston, intermediate teams of last year.

Galt, probably the same team as a year ago, minus Twaits.

Stratford, very doubtful.

THE PRO. PROSPECTS.

And now for the pro. prospects. In Toronto they are unusually bright. Guelph appears to have a good team in sight, while the report from Berlin to the effect that Gross and Meikus have jumped to other towns, following the example set by Goldie Cochrane, makes the outlook very doubtful in the Dutch town. Brantford is the place the other clubs fear most. It is reported that they have promised Goldie Cochrane a salary of $600 a week and a position, while equally extravagant figures are mentioned in the case of other players.

Roy Brown, acting under Fred Westbrooke's orders, has, it is said, been approaching players on every team in the league with the object of inducing them to jump to Brantford, and it is feared that there will be a revolt sooner or later.

It was understood that there was some wise legislation adopted at the organization meeting of the league limiting the trafficking in players, but apparently Brantford is determined to ignore the league rulings where they conflict with Westbrooke's determination to put a winning team on the ice. It is this reckless bidding for men that may cause trouble later.

A SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

Berlin and Guelph are said to be keeping salaries within very reasonable limits, while the Torontos are working on a co-operative basis and providing they receive the same patronage as a year ago the locals should have a successful season financially.

In Guelph and Berlin there was some criticism of the teams last year on the ground that they were not doing their best in the exhibition games played at the end of the season, and there are some who profess to believe that the public will patronize the amateurs in preference to the pros., but it has been the experience in the past that the lovers of hockey or any other game that its followers will attend when it can witness the best and surest brand of play, providing it is kept clean, and the chances are that the pros. will not lack patronage the coming season.

No Cold Weather for Xmas

Slop! slop! slop!
Slush! slush! slush!
Drizzle! drizzle! drizzle!

Ugh! its awful, and Christmas eve tonight too. If the weather man gets anything in his stocking on Wednesday morning it will be more than he deserves, after sending such a specimen of Christmas weather as this.

It began about half-past three yesterday morning, and snowed for an hour or more. Then the snow changed to rain.

The man who had to turn out at six o'clock, while still only half awake, was the one who felt it. Deep, slippy slush, that got over the edges of the boot, and soaked everything; met him as he opened the door. It was no use looking for the driest spot, for there were none.

The sign of the umbrella and rubber stores had a wonderful attraction for a great many people. The clerks had the busiest time this season, keeping up with the demands of the improvident ones who had ventured out unprotected. "Here's where we get the money for our Christmas turkey, all right" remarked one George street dealer, as he looked at the busy scene in his store. "Some people don't mind slipping a little on the ice, but when it comes to slush—why it's a case of rubbers, and ribbers at once."

It was a fine day for shopping, though. Those, who braved the elements, both overhead and under foot to finish their Christmas shopping, were well paid for their courage. The big stores were busy, but they were not crowded. There was plenty of room to look around. No one jostled you with their elbows, or trod on your toes.

Death of Dr. Bradd

Prominent Physician Passed Away After Short Illness

Our readers will be shocked to hear of the demise of Dr. F. J. Bradd, which sad event occurred at Nicholls Hospital at 10.45 o'clock last night. The doctor met with a slight mishap a couple of weeks ago, which was undoubtedly the direct cause of his death. In boarding a street car, he was thrown off his feet on entering, striking his head on the side of the car. He thought little of the mishap for a day or two, until a swelling in the right ear developed, causing much pain. After about a week's severe suffering, Dr. McDonough of Toronto, a specialist, was summoned, and ordered an immediate operation, which was performed by himself, assisted by Drs. Young and Carmichael. For a day or two matters progressed favorably, but subsequently erysipelas set in, and other complications developed. Although everything that medical skill could suggest was done, the hand of death could not be stayed, and the end came as noted above.

Dr. Bradd leaves a wife and two daughters—Mrs. Kennedy, of Chicago, and Miss Alto, who resides at home.

He was about 48 years of age and enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. Deceased was a member of several fraternal societies, in whose circle he had many warm personal friends.

Dr. Bradd was of a kindly disposition. He loved to do good and relieve suffering, without ostentation or reward.

His family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement, in which The Times joins.

The funeral arrangements will be announced in tomorrow's issue.

The family request that no flowers be sent.

No Honeymoon Train Modest Bride Balks

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Some years ago the cave man used to polish up his stone club and then leap bare-footed over the crags and hills on his honeymoon—that is, provided he had first crushed in the skull of the blushing bride's father and carried off his prospective better half by the hair.

As an improvement on this method S. A. Hutchinson, manager of the tourist departments of the Chicago and North-Western and Union Pacific railroads, decided to inaugurate a "Honeymoon Special." The tracks were all swept clean clear to the Pacific ocean and the train was to start last night with a load of blushing brides and tongue-tied bridegrooms.

However, a story was printed about the train, and the brides read it. Would they go through Omaha, Kansas City and other towns where the inhabitants go on an Kodak fiend and snapshot everything in sight? No. The brides saw themselves on the train and their pictures being distributed through the newspapers of the country as they stood on the back platform of the observation car, leaning upon "George's" arm while he tried to look comfortable in his $30 wedding suit.

Sports

Toronto, Dec. 23. — Peterborough, Hamilton, and London Y.M.C.A.'s and West End Y.M.C.A. of Toronto, have all written Edward Pyke, who proposes a Y.M.C.A. Rugby League, endorsing the proposal, and promising teams. Hamilton and Peterborough want Y.M.C.A. jurisdiction, and frown down upon the proposal to make it a branch of the Ontario Rugby Football Union. The Central Y.M.C.A. of Toronto, has not been heard from yet.

Wanted to go to Jail and Threw a Brick Through Window

Last night about 7.30, an Englishman caused considerable excitement by deliberately throwing a brick thrown a window of the store occupied by the Singer Sewing Machine Company, and then calling to the citizens nearby, whose attention had been aroused by the crash, "I did it just to get sent down for thirty days, as I cannot get work, and do not want to starve."

This appears to be a foolish excuse for such a rash act as it is altogether likely that had he applied for work to the city officials—that is if he would work—he probably could have been supplied with the necessary. However, Police Magistrate Dumble will attend to his case this morning.

Practical Proof of the 13 Superstition

Mr. Fred Walker, the head clerk at Dutton's grocery and fish and game emporium, who is one of the best and most thoroughly posted grocery clerks, in Peterborough yesterday had a practical proof of the undeniable bad luck connected with the number 13. Mr. Walker who worked for years with Messrs. Kerler & Tong, 9a London, England, and who has every rudiment of the trade as above mentioned came to Canada exactly 13 years ago yesterday. On Monday morning the 13th Monday, multiplied by so many years whilst engaged in hanging up an iron bar from which are suspended geese, rabbits and other game, was severely reminded of this apocalled absolute superstition by the iron upon which the same were suspended falling on his head and knocking him down on the pavement. After recovering from the momentary shock sustained, Mr. Walker remarked, "Well, I have been just 13 years in this country and now I have to suffer over that old superstition about the No. 13. We are pleased to note that Mr. Walker soon recovered and was shortly engaged in waiting on the numerous customers of the store.

The French Church Bill Upheld

Paris, Dec. 23.—The bill of M. Briand, Minister of Education, regulating the disposition of Church property, reached one of its crucial points in the Chamber of Deputies last evening, when article 14 was reached. This article annuls endowments for the saying of masses, on the ground that the state department and communes are unable to fulfil the conditions attached to such endowments. The Chamber, by a vote of 373 to 136, showed its opinion by refusing to suppress the article.

Deposits Growing Less

Montreal, Dec. 24.—The Canadian bank statement for the month of November, came out to-day and about the most striking change noticed is the very substantial falling off in deposits.

Deposits on demand fell away nearly $10,000,000, while there was a decrease of nearly $8,000,000 in deposits on notice.

The banks have further reduced their call loans both in Canada and elsewhere, while current loans in Canada also show a contraction.

PITY THE SORROWS OF THE BANK SHAREHOLDERS

The statement that the shareholders of the late Ontario Bank will have to take up a share of their double liability, is made the subject of a mournful article in the Toronto Star which points out that "to hundreds (of shareholders) it will make all the difference between comparative affluence and absolute want," adding the familiar statement that much of this stock was held by "widows and spinsters". Thus we are invited to mourn because of the "black Christmas" that these people must pass.

In referring to Bank shares, the Montreal Star says that the double liability which is wisely attached to the responsibility of owning bank shares, is intended for the protection of innocent people who deposit their money in the banks. Without it, that protection would not be as good as it is now; and, in this very case, it looks as if it would be needed to safeguard the people to whom the bank owes money. Now every person who goes into the banking business — i. e. buys bank shares—knows or ought to know this fact. Moreover, it should act as a spur to them to keep their eyes on the directors and see that the business of the bank is properly conducted.

No person—even if it be a widow, or a spinster—has a right to go into the banking business and invite other people to confide their savings to them; and then go to sleep as if they had bought a debenture or deposited their money in some one else's bank. Bank shareholders get more on their investment than bank depositors; and they should do something for it as things go in this practical world. If they want to put their money somewhere and not worry about it any more, they should do as other people do—deposit it in a safe bank. But if they go into the banking business, they ought to bear its responsibilities.

It is all very well to unload all the blame on the manager or the directors. It is the business of the directors to watch the manager; and it is the business of the shareholders to see that they elect good "watch dog" directors. A depositor could not effect an exchange in the directorate, no matter how distrustful he might feel. Nor could any other outsider. Yet the shareholders may go on year after year electing to the directorate a set of amiable old gentlemen who do not take sufficient interest in the bank's affairs to detect the theft of the head office; and then complain when the crash comes and they are "ruined" by the double liability.

There are a lot of people whom it is better to cry over during this hard winter than bank shareholders who have regarded their duty as done when they get their share certificates.

Young Editor Has Town By The Ears

Kingston, N.Y., Dec. 23.—Not since the Knickerbocker inhabitants of this quiet old Hudson River town heard of the discovery of gold on Hussey Hill has local society been in such a turmoil as today. Prominent bakers and business men are boiling with rage and the aristocracy are the talk of the stock of their own servants.

The cause of all this is a mild-mannered young man whose uncle, Henry Abbey, was a poet of no mean fame, and who is himself a graduate of Yale. This young man, Stephen H. Abbey, is the editor of Stephen H. Abbey's weekly newspaper called "The Ulster Squaredealer," and his editorial and news columns have handled local business matters, town administration, and local romance without gloves. In fact there was recently a well-defined rumor that young Mr Abbey was due for a beating and his printing plant was to be thrown into the Rondout Creek. But he proved himself equal to the occasion, and promptly secured from Judge Irwin permits for himself and his staff to carry revolvers, announcing that he knew his rights as a citizen of Kingston, and proposed to defend them by force if necessary.

Young Mr. Abbey began his career last spring with the publication of a weekly, christened "Around Town." His arrest for criminal libel soon followed, and everybody, it is said, more easily. But the case has never been prosecuted, and since the Ulster Squaredealer made its first appearance on June 22, more than one Kingstonian has grown a crop of wrinkles.

The second number of this interesting publication accused the local "system" of planning to railroad Mr. Abbey to an asylum. A "prominent uptown lawyer" was warned to quit ogling young women on the street, and the editor commented pointedly on various couples who had been noted making love along dark streets.

In the third issue Mr. Abbey had evidence. He told of how various loving couples had been the target for fusillades of rocks, and accused a "prominent downtown lawyer" of frequent drunkenness in New York. The ejection of four young Kingstonians from an East Houston St., New York, cafe was described luridly, and the "system" was charged with importing thug talent to "do" the editor.

In every issue local scandals are aired and the space is about evenly divided between unhappy married couples and faithless spouses, and the alleged graft game of the "system" which Mr. Abbey declares has robbed Ulster county and the city of Kingston of thousands of dollars.

The more prominent the target the better it seems to suit this young man. Each succeeding week finds some new and greater surprise for his readers, and the whole town is fairly holding its breath waiting for something to happen. Meanwhile young Mr Abbey nonchalantly declares that he is fighting the public's battles, and is going to keep right on fighting, no matter who has to be hit.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. All dealers.

TO CLEAR THE TABLE.

A Little System Works Wonders and Accomplishes Much.

One of the chief indications of a well regulated household is the rapidity with which breakfast, dinner or tea things are cleared away and restored to their respective places, and how to excel in this respect is something every young housewife should know. Where there is a full domestic staff with a constant supply of hot water, this is, of course, an easy task, but even under less favorable circumstances a little good management will greatly simplify the task of washing up.

Take care that the kettle or boiler is filled before the commencement of the meal; then at the conclusion there will be no delay caused by waiting for hot water. See that you have large, dry, clean towels to dry or polish the dishes with. Begin with the glasses, cups, saucers and other similar articles, reserving till the last those which have been used for greasy food.

If you have a plate rack over the sink so much the better. If not let your plates drain for a minute or two on a thickly folded towel after taking them from the water. This makes your towel last dry all the longer and lessens the labor of polishing. A small teaspoonful of soap powder or a few drops of cloudy ammonia added to the water greatly facilitates the task of washing up. Each article must be well rinsed afterward in a bowl of clean water.

Misery and Want in Canada

London, Dec. 21.—W. R. Trotter, representing the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, today addressed a joint meeting of the Labor Party Parliamentary Committee and the Trades Union Congress, telling what is described in the press as a graphic story of the misery and want of the laboring population in Canada. He said the Canadian manufacturers had flooded the skilled labor market. The fact that they were demanding the prosecution of shipping agents was merely their way of repudiating their agents in England in order to avoid the responsibility of non-fulfilment of promises. Mr. Trotter accused all the emigration agencies of sending unsuitable emigrants, the worst offenders being the shipping companies which were working on commission. He declared that the Canadian manufacturers wanted the tariff raised to heaven and cared nothing for the British trader.

Don't complain. What's the use? The chronic complainer travels a long road and pays heavy toll in the way of lost opportunities and pleasures.

Don't rehearse your ailments, physical or otherwise. People have to listen to you not because they are interested, but because they are trying to be polite.

The world is full of pains, heartbreaks. No one has a monopoly of them.

There is a certain grim sort of comfort to be derived from telling how one has lain awake all night keeping company with an aching back. But it only gains for one the reputation of being a bore.

Don't try to boss. It is one of the surest and most direct routes to unloveliness, yet many women travel there to their own undoing.

BY-LAW NUMBER

A By-law to Fix and Provide for Levying a Special Frontage Rate Upon Lands in the City of Peterborough Fronting on Streets, Lanes and Alleys Upon Which Water Mains are Laid

WHEREAS by Chapter 42 of the Statutes of the Province of Ontario passed in the Seventh Year of the Reign of His Majesty King Edward the Seventh it is enacted, that subject to the approval of the majority voting thereon of the electors entitled to vote at Municipal elections, the Peterborough Water Commissioners shall have power by By-law to levy and charge a special rate upon the several lands, lots or parts of lots, whether occupied or vacant, fronting or abutting upon all streets, lanes and alleys in the Municipality upon which water mains, from which the Commissioners are willing to supply water, are laid; such special rate to be an annual rate according to the frontage of the said lands, lots or parts of lots and not to exceed five cents per foot for such frontage and to be subject to the same discount for prompt payment as shall be allowed in respect of ordinary water rates for domestic use and to be payable at the time or times, during each year, fixed by the Water Commissioners for payment thereof.

AND WHEREAS the said Water Commissioners have decided to fix the said special rate at four and one-half cents per foot for each foot of frontage in said streets, lanes and alleys and to make the same payable on the same days and times as ordinary water rates are payable under the By-laws of the said Commissioners from time to time in force and effect.

THE PETERBOROUGH WATER COMMISSIONERS THEREFORE ENACT AS FOLLOWS:—

1.—This By-law shall come into force and effect on the final passing thereof.

2.—An annual special rate of four and one-half cents per foot for each foot of frontage of all lands, lots or parts of lots, whether occupied or vacant, fronting or abutting upon all streets, lanes and alleys in the City of Peterborough, upon which water mains, from which the Commissioners are willing to supply water are laid, is hereby fixed, levied and charged, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained.

3.—The said annual special rate shall be due and payable to the said Commissioners in equal portions, on the days and times specified and appointed for payment of ordinary water rates under the By-laws of the said Commissioners, from time to time in force, and shall be subject to the same discount, on each of such payments, as is allowed by said Water Commissioners for prompt payment in respect of ordinary water rates for domestic use, provided, however, that upon the production by the owner or occupant of any land, lot or part of lot against which said special rate is charged and who is also the user of water from the said waterworks on the same land, lot or part of lot, of a receipt for the payment of any sum, rate or rent, chargeable for the use of such water for the same period, the Commissioners shall remit or allow to such owner or occupant, the amount so paid, as a payment on account of the said special rate, and if the sum, rate or rent paid by the said owner or occupant, as occupant, as shown by the receipt therefor, shall for the same period, be greater than or equal to the said special rate, the Commissioners shall remit to such owner or occupant, the amount of the said special rate.

4.—The votes of the electors of the City of Peterborough entitled to vote at Municipal Elections shall be taken on this By-law on the same day as the annual election for the Municipal Council for the year 1908 and the polls will be held during the same hours, at the same places, and by the same Deputy Returning Officers and Poll Clerks, as are fixed and appointed for the said annual Municipal election.

5.—The seventh day of January, 1908, at the hour of 12 o'clock, noon, and the City Clerk's Office, are hereby fixed as the time when and the place where the Clerk will sum up the number of votes given for and against the By-law.

6.—The fourth day of January, 1908, at the hour of 12 o'clock, noon, and the office of the City Clerk, are hereby fixed as the time and place for the appointment of persons to attend at the various polling places, and at the final summing up of the votes by the Clerk respectively, on behalf of the persons interested in and promoting or opposing the passing of the By-law.

NOTICE

Take notice that the foregoing is a true copy of a proposed By-law which has been taken into consideration and which will be finally passed by the Water Commissioners of the City of Peterborough (in the event of the assent of the electors being obtained thereto) after one month from the first publication hereof in The Morning Times newspaper, the date of which first publication is the tenth day of December, 1907, and that at the hour, day and place therein fixed for taking the votes of the electors the polls will be held.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

the kitchen whispered it one to the other, treading softly and speaking low, as if aught could disturb the slumber of her who lay so motionless and still, unmindful of the balmy summer air which kissed her marble cheek. The grief-stricken husband rested it again and again as he sat by her side in the darkened room; and only they who have felt it, can know with what a crushing weight the grief fell upon his heart, the three words—"She is dead!"

Yes, Ella was dead, and Eugenia wept with hypocritical tears upon her cheek, gathered fresh white roses-buds and, twining them in the golden curls which shaded the face of the beautiful dead, dared even there to think that Howard Hastings was free; and as she saw the silent grief of the stricken man, who, with his head upon the table, sat hour after hour, unmindful of the many who came to look on what had been his wife, her lip curled with scorn, and she marveled that one so frivolous as Ella should be so deeply mourned. Once she ventured to speak, asking him some trivial thing concerning the arrangement of affairs; and, without looking up, he answered, "Do as you like, until her mother comes. She will be here to-morrow."

So, for the remainder of the day Eugenia flitted from the parlor to the chamber of death, from the chamber of death to the parlor, ordering the servants, admitting visitors, and between times scolding Dora for "being so foolish as to cry herself sick for a person who of course cared nothing for her, except as a waiter."

Since the night of her mother's death Dora's heart had not been half so sore with pain. The girl-wife Ella had been very dear to her, and the tears she shed were genuine. To no one else would the lady-in-waiting, and after dinner was over, the dinner at which Eugenia presided, and to which Mr. Hastings could not be induced to partake, she went into the garden with her little charge, seating herself in a pleasant summer-house which had been Ella's favorite resort. It was a warm, drowsy afternoon, and at last, worn out with weeping and the fatigues of the last night's watching, she fell asleep, as the baby had done before. Not long had she sat there, when Mr. Hastings, too, came down the graveled walk and stood at the arbor door. The constant bustling in and out of Eugenia annoyed him, and wishing to be alone he had come out into the open air, which he felt would do him good. When his eye fell on Dora, who was too soundly sleeping to be easily aroused, he murmured, "Poor child! she is wearied with so many wakeful nights"; then, fearing lest the slender arms should relax their hold and drop the babe, he took it gently from her and, folding it to his bosom, sat down by her side, so that her drooping head could rest upon his shoulder.

For two long hours she slept, and it was not until the baby's waxen fingers gave a vigorous pull to her short, thick hair that she awoke, feeling greatly surprised when she saw that Mr. Hastings was sitting near.

"I found you asleep," he said, by way of explanation, "and knowing how tired you were, I gave you my arm for a pillow"; then, as the baby wished to go to her, he gave it up, himself going slowly back to the lonesome house from which Ella was gone forever.

The next morning the mother and her three youngest daughters, all draped in deepest black, arrived at Rose Hill, prepared to find fault with everything which savored at all of the "horrid country." Even Eugenia sank into nonentity in the presence of the cold, city-bred woman, who ignored her existence entirely, notwithstanding that she loudly and repeatedly expressed so much affection for the deceased.

"Perhaps your daughter wrote to you of me (Miss Deane); we were great friends," she said, when they stood together in the presence of the dead and Mrs. Grey's emotions had somewhat subsided.

"Possibly; but I never remember names," returned the haughty lady coldly, without raising her eyes.

"There are so few people here with whom she could be intimate," continued Eugenia. "What I saw a great deal of her."

But to this Mrs. Grey made no reply, except to ask, "Whose idea was it dressing Ella in this plain muslin wrapper, when she has so many handsome dresses? But it don't matter," she continued, as Eugenia was about to disclaim all participation in that affair. "It don't matter, for no one here appreciates anybody better, I dare say. Where's the baby? I haven't seen that yet," she asked, as they were descending the stairs.

"She's with Dora, I presume," answered Eugenia; and Mrs. Grey continued:

"Oh, the nurse girl whom Ella wrote so much about! Send her in."

But Eugenia was not one to obey orders so peremptorily given, and for a long time Madame Grey and her three daughters waited the appearance of the nurse girl, who, not knowing that they were in the parlor, entered it at last, of her own accord, and stood before them with such a quiet, self-possessed dignity that even Mrs. Grey treated her with far more respect than [illegible] Eugenia, whose rule, for the time being, was at an end. Everything had been done [illegible] and when Mr. Hastings spoke of having Ella buried at the foot of the spacious garden, in a quiet, grassy spot, where trees of evergreen were growing, she held up her hands in amazement at the idea that her daughter should rest elsewhere than in the fashionable precincts of Greenwood. So Mr. Hastings yielded, and on the morning of the third day Dora watched with blinding tears the long procession winding slowly down the avenue and out into the highway towards the village depot, where the shrieking of the engine and the rattling of the car ball would be the only requiem tolled for Ella Hastings, as she was borne rapidly away from a spot which had been her home for one brief year.

The little Ella was in Dora's arms, and as she saw the handsome steeds and moving carriages she laughed aloud, and patted the window-pane with her tiny baby hands. Dear little one! she did not know, would never know, how much she was bereaved; but Dora knew, and her tears fell all the faster when she thought that she too must leave her, for her aunt had said to Mr Hastings that after the funeral Dora must go home, adding that Mrs. Leah would take care of Ella until his return. So, when the hum of voices and the tread of feet had ceased, when the shutters were closed and the curtains dropped, Eugenia came for her to go, while Mrs. Leah came to take the child, who refused to leave Dora, clinging so obstinately to her neck, and crying so pitifully, that even Eugenia was touched, and bade her cousin remain until Mr. Hastings came home. So Dora stayed, and the timid servants, as they sat together in the shadowy twilight, felt not half so lonely when they heard her gentle voice singing the motherless babe to sleep.

CHAPTER XII.

With all the showy parade, and empty pomp of a fashionable city funeral, Ella was laid to rest in Greenwood, and, in their darkened parlor, arrayed in the latest style of mourning, the mother and sisters received the sympathy of their friends, who hoped they would try to be reconciled, and were so sorry they could not now go to the Springs as usual. In another parlor, too, far more elegant but less showy than that of Mrs Grey, another mother wept for her only son, speaking to him blessed words of comfort in his bereavement, and telling him of the better world where again he would meet the loved and lost. Once she ventured to hope that he would come back again to her fireside, now that his was desolate, but he refused. Rose Hill henceforth would be his home, and though it was lonely and drear he must in a few days go back to it—for the sake of the little one, doubly dear to him now that its mother was gone. Oh, how sad was that journey back, and what a sense of desolation came over him, as he drew near his home, and knew that Ella was not there! that

The Sawfish.

More energetic than any other sharks are the sawfish, whose snouts are prolonged into a broad blade of cartilage, which is horizontal when the fish is swimming in a normal position and has both its edges set with slightly curved teeth about an inch apart. The end of this formidable looking weapon is blunt and comparatively soft, so that it is quite incapable of the feats popularly attributed to it of piercing whales' bodies, ships' timbers, etc. It attacks other fish by a swift lateral thrust of the saw beneath them, the keen edge disemboweling them. Then it feeds upon the soft entrails, which are apparently the only food it can eat from the peculiar shape of its mouth. It has an enormous number of small teeth, sometimes as many as forty rows in one individual, but they are evidently unfit for the rough duties required of their teeth by the garbage eating members of the family.

National Gardens.

There are two gardens of England—namely, Kent and Worcestershire. That of Ireland is usually said to be Carlow, in Leinster. Italy and Belgium are both called the garden of Europe, while that of France is Amboise, in the department of Indre-et-Loire. The garden of Italy is Sicily and of Spain Andalusia. In the east Ceylon and Burma have both received the title, and the district of India so honored is Oude. Glamorganshire is often spoken of as the garden of south Wales. To the region west of our noble Mississippi the title "garden of the world" has been given.

Mountain Climbing.

"Above all things complete abstinence from alcoholic drinks" is the motto of the famous Alpine guide Zurbruggen. The monks of the St. Bernard say that they nearly always find an empty bottle near the bodies of those who perish in the snow.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain condition of the stomach.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone, brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 631 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 300 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable [illegible] of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existance, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 300 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Hunningtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Systematic Catarrh Has But One Cure

Lotions and Powders Will Never Help Unless the Blood is Given Attention

The way to radically and permanently cure catarrh is to cleanse the blood of the unhealthy secretions that keep the mucous membrane inflamed.

Catarrhal poison usually interferes with the stomach, kidneys and liver. These organs must be properly toned and strengthened, or else you feel sick all over.

To get down to the source of the trouble—to cleanse, nourish and purify the blood—where can you find anything so potent as Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

This grand medicine regulates the eliminating organs and completely drives the virus of catarrh out of the system. Thousands of cures prove this.

Of course to clear the nose and head of mucous discharges, Dr. Hamilton recommends the use of Catarrhozone inhaler which, if used with his pills of Mandrake and Butternut, cures the most obstinate case of Catarrh ever known. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills in 25c. boxes

Britain's Great Cruisers

England to Construct New Type of Battleship

London, Dec. 23.—The armoured cruiser has been dropped from the English program because the limit has been reached and the big cruiser practically has become a battleship. In the immediate future Great Britain will devote her attention mainly to the development of a new type of cruiser.

Torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers, as well as submarines, are showing a tendency toward constant increase in size. Germany and Austria recently have been added to the number of nations engaged in building submarines.

England is building three more vessels of the Dreadnought type, one last unarmored cruiser, five destroyers, twelve torpedo boats, and twelve submarines. The appropriation for the coming year is $89,418,650.

France has in hand ten battleships and a large number of destroyers, torpedo boats, and submarines. In fact, when the present program is completed France will rank next to England in tonnage, taking the place of the United States, which now is second.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Medicines of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing to the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value, also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed long years ago by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

G.T.R. HANDS OUT XMAS PRESENT TO EMPLOYEES

In the Shape of an Announcement of the Details of its New Pension System--Employees Must Retire After 65 Years of Age

A splendid Christmas box was handed out to its men yesterday by the Grand Trunk, in the shape of announcement of the details of its new pension system, which is of a most generous nature. The pension fund will be entirely contributed by the company, the men not being assessed one cent. for its maintenance or administration. It will affect every member of the staff from Charles M. Hayes down to the humblest section man, while provision is also made for men incapacitated by accident or otherwise, or even men discharged without cause, and otherwise eligible under the pension rules.

The establishment of this pension system was approved at the last annual meeting of the shareholders, when the handsome sum of $200,000 was voted as a nucleus. In addition to the income from this sum, however, it is estimated that the company will have to supplement this by a large amount, varying from $70,000 to $75,000 a year.

It was stated at Grand Trunk headquarters yesterday that it is now proposed to make the operation of the pension fund effective on and after January 1, 1908, when the rules will be published to all the 35,000 or more employees on the rolls of the railway. Unlike the pension funds which have been established by some of the other large railways of this continent (of which there are not a few), the rules of the Grand Trunk pension fund will apply from the highest to the lowest of the staff—from the general manager himself down to the humblest section man or gate keeper. They require absolutely the retirement from active service of every officer or employee when attaining the age of 65, and if he has entered the service before the age of 40 years, and has served for a period of 15 years, or more, he is entitled with the approval of the pension fund committee to an annuity of 1 per cent. of the average annual salary paid for ten continuous years, for each year of uninterrupted employment, the basis of calculation being the same as that practically universal on this continent.

Thus if a man has served say 30 years, receiving an average of $1,000 per annum ($83.33 per month) on the pay rolls of the company for the last ten years—or for any period of ten years during his term of service—he would be entitled to 1 per cent. of $1,000—$10x30 years, or $300 per annum, equal to $25 per month.

The company, however, have made a provision that irrespective of rate of pay or service, the minimum allowance to be paid under any circumstances will be $200 per annum, and this without any counterbalancing maximum.

Another distinguishing feature is that whilst nearly all other companies base their pension on the average wage rate of the last ten years of service, the allowance from this fund will be on the highest average rate of wages for any ten consecutive years of continuous service. The most satisfactory rule, however, from the employees standpoint will be one providing that any employee over fifty years of age, after fifteen years of service if discharged without cause, at any time previous to reaching the pension age limit, becomes eligible to pension in proportion to the number of years of service up to date of discharge.

COMPANY TO BEAR WHOLE COST.

Although it was originally considered desirable to follow the general rules prevailing in Great Britain, of the formation of such fund by mutual contribution from the company and employees, it has been finally decided to follow the practice of companies generally on this continent, of contributing entirely out of their own revenues the necessary funds for the pensioning of their aged and faithful employees.

There is an old saying that is often worn threadbare by interested agitators and cynical politicians, that "Corporations have no souls"; such statements fall to the ground, however, when met with facts such as are illustrated in this case, for this fund is to be contributed entirely by the company, without requiring any contribution whatever on the part of the employees.

The rules of the new Grand Trunk Pension Department will include the best provisions of all other companies, railway or industrial, with two or three features entirely novel or not common to all. It will be administered by a board selected by the company from among its official staff (themselves possible beneficiaries), which board will be known as the pension committee, whose decisions will be final in all matters pertaining to the administration of the fund.

The benefits of the fund will also apply to worthy employees who may have been injured in the service of the company, or who have suffered the loss of faculties which render them incapable of self-support, such employees having served the company the minimum period of 15 years—whether the age limit has been attained or not.

While the Grand Trunk established, a number of years ago, what is known as the "Superannuation and Provident Fund Association," which is still in existence, its membership is limited to the official and clerical staff throughout its lines in Canada only, whereas the new fund will apply to employees on all lines of the present system, and, as before stated, to all classes of employees.

The Superannuation Fund will continue in operation with the registered membership as of December 31, 1907, but will be closed against the admission of any new members after that date.

It is anticipated that the pension scheme will form an admirable adjunct to the Company's Insurance and Provident Society which has been for many years in operation; the weak point in this has always been the inability of an aged or permanently disabled employee to keep up his payments to the insurance fund, although privileged to do so. Hereafter a very small deduction from his pension allowance will enable an employee to make provision for his family up to the maximum amount of $2,000.

Many of the conservative and thoughtful men among the employees will welcome this innovation, because of the class of man it is likely to induce to join the service of the company, as well as the inducement it furnishes to the trained and careful employees, whose experience makes them desirable to remain.

No Issue of The Times Tomorrow

To-day being Christmas Day and a public holiday and a day of festivity and rejoicing, our staff, editorial, reportorial and Printorial are going to take a whole day off to call on friends, celebrate the greatest event in the world's history and inadvertantly fill up on turkey, mince pie and other things, so that our readers will have to eat their to-morrow morning's breakfast minus the Morning Times.

ON EARTH PEACE, GOODWILL TOWARD MEN

Xmas and Its Predecessors

Christmas, like every other institution, has had to fight for its existence, and even today our hearts dissent from some of the observances that have grown up with it. Protests against the extravagant and tyrannous gift fiendish have been loud and earnest. Those who have no fault to find in this respect often inveigh against the merrymaking that has become such a feature of the day. Other object to the Santa Claus myth, and some to the pagan customs that are associated with the festive observances. On one ground and another there are probably millions of Christians who do not lend themselves wholeheartedly to the celebration of the day.

DENOUNCED BY THE CHURCH.

There is nothing new in this sentiment. More than one thousand years ago the Christmas festivals had in many instances degenerated into unholy revels. In fact, Christianity had no sooner succeeded in firmly establishing itself in Europe than its anniversary was brought into disrepute. In the sixth and seventh centuries the Church of Rome issued edicts against the festivities. The hanging of evergreens and laurel was then denounced as pagan, but it has braved a thousand anathemas and survives today. For many centuries the effort of the Church was to keep out the pagan symbols. Sometimes, as in the years of the Commonwealth, for example, the opponents of Christmas have had the upper hand; but the Restoration saw the pendulum swing the other way, and the earlier and vicious excesses disgraced the day.

OF PAGAN ANCESTRY.

Not least surprising that our modern Christmas should show many traces of the earlier feasts. Its sources was extraordinarily mingled with the old pagan Saturnalian and Bacchanalian revels. When St. Augustine was sent to England, he was instructed by Pope Gregory to accommodate the ceremonies of Christian worship, as much as possible to those of the heathen, and to "allow converts to kill and eat great numbers of oxen to the glory of God, as they had formerly done to the glory of the devil." This was done with a view of making missionary effort easier, for Gregory realized that to totally destroy every pagan custom at the beginning was to make the work of conversion almost impossible. Gregory showed something of the serpent's wisdom.

MINCE PIE AND MISTLETOE.

The mince pie and the mistletoe, two of the great Christmas symbols, are of pure pagan ancestry, the former signifying the gorges that the revelers regarded with most favor. The mince pie despite its heathenish origin, found favor even with the "unco guid," but they effected a happy compromise by baking the pies in the shape of the manger, the spices and savory meats they contained being held to represent the gifts that the Wise Men brought to Bethlehem. The Druids, long ago, brought into their houses bits of greenery from the woods, so that the sylvan deities might have a home for themselves while the trees were bare and cold. Our mystic mistletoe was their sacred emblem and was cut and given to each other at the turn of the year, with the words, "The mistletoe for the New Year." "Au Guy de l'an neuf," was a usual cry of greeting in France for many centuries. Finally it descended into a senseless jargon cry, made up of the words run all together. As such it became a part of a begging nuisance which had to be suppressed. At the Kalends of January, during the Roman Empire, the people gave each other branches of trees, and there is also a Romen origin of the valued mistletoe, which, Virgil says, heals all.

THE PURITAN CHRISTMAS.

"Wanted—Any man or woman who can give any tidings of an old, old, very old grey-bearded gentleman, called Christmas, who was woot to be a familiar ghost and visite all sorts of people, both pore and riche, and used to appear in glittering gold, silk and silver in the court and in all shapes * * * For ages this hoarie-headed man was of great yeares and as white as snow. He entered the Roman Kalender times out o' mind; as old or very near as Father Methusalem was."

These words are a part of a tract which was printed in England during the Puritan persecution of Christmas. It was a semi-humorous arraignment of the Puritans, "printed by Simon Mine'd Pie for Cisely Plum Porridge, and was to be sold by Ralph Fiddler Chandler at the sign of the Pack o'Cards, in Mustard Alley, in Brawn Street. Of course, all these words were intended to exasperate the Puritans, and no doubt they had this effect, for ridicule was the sharpest weapon ever forged against them. To sum up, one may say that Christmas has always had its abuses; but that, as the world better, so does the celebration of the world's great day. Merrymaking, however, will never be eradicated from it

Japanese Papers Suggest Emperor Should take Trip to Europe

Tokio, Dec. 25.—Suggestions are being made in Japan for a visit of the Japan emperor to England. The Osaka Mainchi writes as follows: Just after the Japan-China war, the diet voted that part of the indemnity should be contributed towards the expenditure of the imperial court as an expression of the national gratitude. A similar wish is now being entertained by the people. They desire to convey to his majesty in the most satisfactory way their gratitude for the imperial efforts which resulted in the victories obtained in the recent war. We therefore respectfully suggest that arrangements should be made for his majesty to pay visits to various foreign powers escorted by the warships Satsuma, Aki, Kurama, Tsukuba, and others which have been constructed in Japan, and the Mikasa, which is so prominently identified with the late war, and accompanied by the generals and admirals who distinguished themselves in that struggle. Such an action would, on the one hand, gratify the people of foreign countries, who are desirous to personally see the emperor; and, on the other hand, it would fulfil the wish of the Japanese nation to express its gratitude to his majesty. The visit of the crown prince to Seoul greatly strengthened the relation between Japan and Korea, although he stayed there for only three days. If his majesty paid a visit to Great Britain, our ally, and also visited Russia and France, the countries with which our empire has lately entered into agreements, and some other foreign lands, it is certain that the friendships between Japan and those powers would be wonderfully increased. If any power entertained suspicion of Japan, those suspicions would be at once dispelled by the imperial action, and further by the imperial action, and a further guarantee of the peace of the Far East would be supplied. To his majesty, also, it would be of much advantage to be able to observe the people and customs of countries which are very different from Japan. We constantly avail ourselves of the opportunity afforded by the imperial birthday to respectfully suggest that the emperor should pay visits abroad. In that event the diet would have pleasure in immediately voting the necessary expenditure, and the whole nation would gladly do everything possible to prepare for his majesty's journey.

Attacked and Injured By Furious Hawk

On Saturday, Mr. Jas. O'Brien, of the 5th concession of Douro saw a disturbance among his chickens and on going to investigate saw an immense hawk attacking a hen. He at once ran into the house for his gun. On his return the hawk had carried the hen some twenty feet into the air. He fired at it, wounding the bird of prey which fell to the ground with a wing broken. Mr. O'Brien grabbed the bird and carried it to the house. As he entered his wife said, "Don't injure the bird and we'll get it stuffed." Just as she said this the hawk, whose talons are fully an inch long and are pointed like needles, grabbed his wrist, inflicting many wounds. As Mr. O'Brien expressed it yesterday, "The —— hawk gripped me like a vice, sinking its claws into my wrist. I had to put it on the floor and kneel on it till I crushed its life out before the bird would let go and then, shortly afterwards my wrist began to swell."

Yesterday a Times representative met Mr. O'Brien carrying the dead hawk. It is as large as the average eagle and of a beautiful slate-blue color. Mr. O'Brien's wrist, whilst the swelling has subsided, is seriously injured and he had it tied up in bandages.

Mrs. Goold Demands Public Beheadal--Ruler in Consternation

Monte Carlo, Dec. 24.—Mme Vve Goold has produced consternation in the principality of Monaco, by exercising an ancient right of a condemned person and demanding that she be executed in the Plaza, which is the flower and tree decorated space in front of the Casino at Monte Carlo.

Ever since the trial of the Goolds for the murder of Emma Levin the Prince of Monaco has dreaded some such possibility as this. The persistent policy of the ruler has been to keep away, to cover up anything that might frighten the nervous sensibilities of the patrons of the gambling establishments. If it had been possible the trial would have been quashed and the prisoners secretly put away.

The idea of an execution in Monte Carlo was horrifying enough—even if it could be conducted in private!—and now this woman demands to be killed in public and that the guillotine be set up in front of the Palace of Chance.

Both she and her husband have appealed against their sentences—his that of hard labor for life and hers that of the headsman—and in view of the woman's plea for a final public appearance it is quite possible the appeal will be granted.

Meanwhile the Goolds are locked up in the Monaco prison. Goold has sent a farewell message to his friends in Ireland and England, and will be shipped to Cayenne, French Guiana, if the sentence be carried out. He has also sent loving messages to the cell of his wife, but she refuses to read them and declares that she wants nothing more to do with "that lazy drunkard."

Mme. Goold is defiant in everything. "I will go to the executioner," she has said, "with my head high. All the women want to see me on my knees, but they won't."

POLICE

At yesterday's session of the Police Court, Joseph Blake pleaded guilty to being a vagrant and having no visible means of support. The Chief explained that the prisoner came from England recently and has of late been sleeping in the police station. He noted that the night before last Blake threw a brick through a window of the Singer Sewing Machine Company's office and he had gone to Mrs. King's boarding house and got a meal without paying for it. He had taken steps to have the man deported. If the man were sent to the Central Prison he, the Chief, would have a chance to get the necessary papers made out. The Magistrate complied and sent Blake to the Central Prison for six months.

Mr. Gordon appeared on behalf of McCrea, charged some days ago with non-support. He noted that Mr. McWilliams had agreed to drop the case. He asked that the case be dismissed. The Magistrate consented.

The young man Wallace Kennedy charged with bigamy a few days ago, was allowed to go on suspended sentence, the Magistrate remarking "Well Chief to-morrow is Christmas and his wife wants him, so perhaps we better let him go."

Sports

Winnipeg, Dec. 23.—The Wanderers were beaten to-night at the Arena, 5 to 3, by the Maple Leafs in the sharpest and cleanest game seen here in years. It was replete with brilliant plays, of which the most spectacular were pulled off by Art Ross, the cup-holders' captain, who scored the first and last goal of the match. Penalties were few and far between, the heaviest being three minutes, for very heavy body-checking. No injuries were received by any of the players. Shouting was the weak point with Wanderers, who did not score in. On the other hand, the Maple Leafs, especially Smith and Campbell, were very tenacious of the puck till close in on the nets, when their chances were better, and this resulted in their winning. Of the Wanderers much more was expected from Stuart, Glass and Johnston, who, it was felt, did not extend themselves. Hern put up a brilliant game.

THE NEW INSURANCE LAW

The Insurance Bill introduced by Mr. Fielding in the House of Commons is not nearly so drastic as the recommendations as the Insurance Commission. Those recommendations were largely founded on the legislation affecting insurance companies that was hastily put into force in the State of New York, and which already has been largely found undesirable. Mr. Fielding's bill is evidently the result of discussion and compromise, and is likely to be appreciably modified as a result of criticism in the Committee and in the House. By the act as it stands, the powers of the Minister of Finance are enlarged, as are the powers of the Superintendent of Insurance; the distribution of deferred divvidends must be made once in every three years instead of five; head office officials are not allowed to receive commissions, and no salary of more than five thousand dollars must be paid unless specially approved by the board of directors; rebates are prohibited, and when it can be proved that such have been granted with the knowledge of of a manager and director, the latter are liable to be fined a thousand dollars, while agents granting rebates and individuals accepting them are each liable to a fine of a hundred dollars. No standard form of policy is made compulsory, but standard provisions are enacted. The most important of the provisions of Mr. Fielding's bill are those relating to investments. Mr. Fielding describes it as "an entirely new basis of determining the classes of securities in which insurance funds may be invested based upon the earning power of the individual security." Restrictions are made as to the sort of bonds, debentures, preferred and common stocks that the companies may invest in, based upon the number of years such bonds and stocks have been continuously paying dividends. The companies are also restricted to an investment of not more than twenty per cent. of the stocks and bonds of any one company. Five years is to be given insurance companies in which to comply with the act in regard to investments. The bill is a consolidation of all the Canadian acts relating to insurance, and when it has been thoroughly overhauled by experts and those most directly concerned it will, we hope, be found a good measure. We have the best banking act in the world as a result of mature consultation with competent bankers, and we ought to be able, with all that has been said about this matter, and by a similar process, to evolve the best insurance act in the world. We expect that the most adverse criticism will be directed against the restriction of investments. However, after the second reading the act is to be submitted to the Committee on Banking and Commerce, where the companies and others are to have ample opportunity to be heard.

THE CHRISTMAS DINNER.

What'll we have for Christmas?
Now, put your wits to use.
Now, shall we have a pair of ducks,
A turkey, or a goose?

Mr. Pi has come for dinner,
So will he for Bob cut loose
Now, shall it be a roast of beef,
A spring pig, or goose?

Pa's people Noel will dine with us,
And Ben his pet pheasant,
Helen one of a pair of ducks,
A turkey, or a goose?

These, these weighty questions
Our every hours enthrall;
There is room on the table for all the lot—
We cannot have them all

And then the last vital question
With keep it alive the clock—
Will it be roast beef a pair of ducks,
A turkey, or a goose?

And even if I fall asleep
I smell the pies set indoors,
And try to choose 'twixt sucking pig
A turkey, or a goose.

On Sundays when I go to church,
I don't an excuse
For singing "Heed a pair of ducks
A turkey, or a goose."

I feel I'm going bonkers,
I quail as any mouse
Trying to choose 'twixt sucking pig
A turkey or a goose.

One thing is sure on Christmas Day
We'll have, when I've
A nice mince pie, a pair of ducks,
A turkey, or a goose!

Sentenced to Three Years Imprisonment

Karlsruhe, Dec. 24.—Karl Lindenau, who was being prosecuted on a charge of complicity in the libelling of Olga Molitor, and of having attempted to blackmail her, was sentenced yesterday to three years' imprisonment and to five years' loss of civil rights. The trial of Lindenau is a sequel to the recent trial of Karl Hau, who was convicted of murdering his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, who was the mother of Olga Molitor. At the trial of Hau, Lindenau testified that Olga Molitor and not Hau shot and killed her mother.

Lindenau, who is 64 years old, has a record of having served several minor sentences for various offences. The states attorney declared that throughout his life Lindenau had incessantly utilized falsehoods and black mail in order to obtain money. He described his action against Olga Molitor as a poisoned arrow fired from ambush, which might have led to her destruction.

The prisoner repeatedly interrupted the proceedings by insulting the lawyer and putting his fingers in his ears and shrieking, "I will hear no more."

After being sentenced, Lindenau sobbed spasmodically, shouting between sobs, "And that is justice!"

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. All dealers.

Pleasure in Taste

London, Dec. 25.—A well known man about town and a writer, referring to the late Lord Kelvin, said; 'I met him once at Aix Les Bains, doing the cure. He seemed to me, in ordinary life, to be a very quiet, unobtrusive old gentleman, who found a great deal of pleasure in very innocent things. In fact, simplicity was his characteristic. I remember only one observation he made, namely, that he believed the pleasure in taste would gradually die out. This seems probable. The children of the upper classes today, for the most part, refuse to eat sweets. Most of the people one meets at dinner do not touch the joint. Last night I was at a dinner party of sixteen, where there were two entrees and a bird and there was no joint at all. Wines, except port and champagne, are now never seen at dinner and hardly an unmarried woman in society drinks any intoxicant. But cigarette smoking is almost universal. Certainly this is not calculated to improve the palate."

Former Local Man Succeeds

Mr. J. Frank Breckon, formerly of Peterborough, who for the past few years has been reporting on the Orillia News-Letter, has severed his connection with that paper and has been appointed editor of the Gravenhurst Banner, with which has been combined the Herald of that town. The Banner is a bright, newsy and enterprising journal, and has a splendid plant. Under the editorial guidance of Mr. Breckon it will doubtless continue to flourish

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

The Great Provincial Charity, The Hospital for Sick Children, Calls On You For Aid.

Remember that this Hospital is not a local institution, but Provincial.

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment.

Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that Works.

"I LIKE PICTURES"

Last year there were 1003 patients admitted. Of these 376 came from 251 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.22 for the 47½ days stay.

If your dollar could straighten the feet of a little boy or girl with club feet, you would gladly give it, and your dollar will do that. There were 79 cases of club feet treated last year. Out of the 79, about 60 were from the country.

DORA DEANE

OR THE LAST IND A UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

never more would she come forth to meet him—never again would her little feet stray through the winding walks, or her fairy fingers pluck the flowers she had loved so well.

It was near the first of July. The day had been rainy and the evening was dark and cold. Wet, chilly, and forlorn, he entered the hall and ascended the stairs, but he could not that night go to the old room and find it empty; and he was passing on to his library when the sound of someone singing made him pause, while a thrill of joy ran through his veins, for he knew that childish voice; knew it was Dora Deane singing to his child. Another moment and he stood within the room where Ella and Dora sat. All traces of sickness and death had been removed, and everything was in perfect order. Vases of flowers adorned the mantel and the stands, seeming out of place with the rain which beat against the window and the fire which burned within the grate. In her crib lay Fannie, and sitting near was Dora Deane, her rich auburn hair combed smoothly back, and the great kindness of her heart shining out from the depths of her clear blue eyes.

There are people whose very presence brings with it a feeling of comfort, and such a one was Dora. Mr. Hastings had not expected to find her there, and the sight of her bright face, though it did not remove the heavy pain from his heart, took from him the sense of utter desolation, the feeling of being alone in his sorrow.

"Dora," he exclaimed, coming to her side, "I did not expect this! How happened you to stay?"

"The baby cried so hard," answered Dora, "that Eugenia told me I might remain until your return."

"It was very kind and thoughtful in her, and I thank her very much. Will you tell her so?" he said, involuntarily laying his hand on Dora's head.

Divesting himself at last of his damp overcoat, and donning the warm dressing gown which Dora brought him, he sat down before the fire, and listened while she told him how she had stayed in that room and kept it in order for him because she thought it would not seem half so bad to him if he came into it at once and found it comparatively pleasant.

"You are a very thoughtful girl," he said, when she had finished, "and I hope I shall some time be able to repay you for your kindness to myself and Ella."

But Dora did not wish for any pay, and at the mention of Ella's name her tears burst forth afresh. The next morning, when news of Mr. Hastings' return was received at Locust Grove, Eugenia at once suggested that Dora be sent for immediately. "It does not look well," she said," for a good-sized girl, fourteen and a half years of age, to be staying in the same house with a widower. Folks will talk."

And growing suddenly very careful of her cousin's reputation, she dispatched a note to Rose Hill, requesting her immediate return. Not that she really thought there would be any impropriety in Dora's staying with Mr. Hastings, but because she had a plan by which she hoped herself to see him every day. And in this plan she succeeded. As she had expected, her note brought down Mr. Hastings himself, who, on his child's account, objected to parting with Dora, unless it were absolutely necessary.

"She is as well off there as here," said he; "and why can't she stay?"

"I am perfectly willing she should take care of little Ella," answered the previously instructed Mrs. Deane, who, in a measure, shared her daughter's ambitious designs; "but it must be done here, if at all. I can't suffer her to remain alone with those gossiping servants."

"Oh, yes!" exclaimed Eugenia, speaking as if this were the first she had heard of it. "That is a good idea. It will be delightful to have the dear little creature here, and so much better for her too in case of croup, or anything like that, to be with an experienced person like mother."

"But," said Mr. Hastings, "this would keep Dora entirely from her studies, and that ought not to be."

"It need not," hastily interrupted Eugenia. "She can go to school every day, for nothing will give me greater pleasure than to take care of our dear Ella's child;" and the pocket-handkerchief went up to her face to conceal the tears which might have been there, but probably were not.

It was finally arranged, and in the course of a few days the parlor of Locust Grove was echoing sometimes to the laughter, and sometimes to the screaming of little Ella Gray, who, from some unaccountable freak of babyhood, conceived a violent fancy for Eugenia, to whom she would go quite as readily as to Dora, whose daily absence at school she at least did not mind. Regularly each day, and sometimes twice a day, Mr. Hastings came down to Locust Grove, and his manner was very kind toward Eugenia, when he found her, as he often did, with his baby sleeping in her arms. He did not know how many times, at his approach, it was snatched from the cradle by Eugenia, who, in reality, was not remarkably fond of baby-tending, and who, in the absence of the father, left the child almost wholly to the care of her mother and sister. Management, however, was everything, and, fancying she had found the shortest avenue to Mr. Hastings' heart, she, in his presence, fondled and petted and played with his child, taking care occasionally to hint of neglect on the part of Dora, whom he now seldom saw, as at the hour of his calling, she was generally in school. It was by such means as this that Eugenia sought to increase Mr. Hastings' regard for herself, and in a measure she succeeded; for though his respect for Dora was undiminished, he could not conceal from himself the fact that Eugenia was very agreeable, very interesting, and very kind to [illegible] daughter.

As the autumn advanced, and the cold rainy weather precluded outdoor exercise, it was but natural that he should spend much of his time at Locust Grove, and his favorite authors discussed, while Eugenia's handsome black eyes smiled a welcome when he came, and drooped pensively beneath her long eyelashes when he went away. Thus the autumn and the winter passed, and when the spring had come the village of Dunwood was filled with rumors concerning the attraction which drew Mr. Hastings so often to Locust Grove; some sincerely pitying him if, indeed, he entertained a serious thought of making Eugenia Deane his wife, while others severely censured him for having so soon forgotten one whose grave had not been made a twelvemonth. But he had not forgotten, and almost every hour of his life was her loved name upon his lips, and the long golden tress his own hand had severed from her head was guarded as his choicest treasure, while the dark hours of the night bore witness to his lonely grief. And it was to escape this loneliness—to forget for a brief time the sad memories of the past—that he went so often to Locust Grove, where as yet his child was the greater attraction, though he could not be insensible to the charms of Eugenia, who spared no pains to interest him in herself.

He was passionately fond of music, and many an hour she sat patiently at the piano, seeking to perfect herself in a difficult piece, with which she thought to surprise him. But nothing, however admirably executed, could sound well upon her old-fashioned instrument, and how to procure a new one was the daily subject of her meditations. Occasionally, as she remembered the beautiful rosewood piano standing useless and untouched in the parlors of Rose Hill, something whispered her to wait and it would yet be hers. But this did not satisfy her present desire, for aside from the sweet sounds with which she hoped to entrance Mr. Hastings was the wish to make him think them much wealthier than they were. From one or two circumstances she had gathered the impression that he thought them poor, and, judging him by herself, she fancied her chances for becoming Mrs. Hastings No. 2 would be greatly increased if by any means he could be made to believe her comparatively rich. As one means of ef-

Not Man's Work.

Moonlight and springtime moods all to the contrary, the fact remains that marriage is not a man's work, but one of his dearest delusions, from which he parts begrudgingly. Moreover, it is not even necessary to him in the accomplishment of those things which are his work. It is generally no more than his dream of prolonging through years a humanly improbable condition. Happiness as a husband and father has always been his scarcely whispered prayer, his dearest secret hope, toward which all his idealism yearns. That numerous other and very potent motives enter into men's hearts is not in the least overlooked. It is only claimed that to the average man his future marriage is little more than a very beautiful dream.—Anna A. Rogers in Atlantic.

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 581 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortes, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $200,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. They soon appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Smallpox in East City

P. C. Adams on Monday night whilst on all night duty had considerable extra work to do on account of a reported case of smallpox on Concession street in the East Ward. On making investigations the officer ascertained that the report was true. He employed two special constables, Messrs. Pigeon and Mirror to watch the house where the man afflicted is quaranteened so that no one may have access or egress from the place. It seems that the patient has recently come from back of Belleville where he caught the disease. Fortunately the case in question is a light one, the man being so far able to walk about the house.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Peterboro Turf Club Winter Meet

There is no doubt but what the Peterborough Turf Club will this winter exceed all previous efforts put forth by that local aggregation which is anxious to advance good clean sport in this city, and in which Mr. Martin Connors plays a prominent part. The local Turf Club will hold a winter meet on Tuesday, January 21st, when there will be two events, a 2.35 pace or trot and a 2.18 pace or trot; on the second and last day there will be a 2.22 class and a free-for-all.

There promises to be lively betting and the privileges have been accorded Cooling and Wallace of Columbus, Ohio. Dr. Johnston, the popular president of the Turf Club, is authority for saying that the work of getting the track into shape would commence next week.

Why the Late Mr. Tarte Resigned

Ottawa, Dec. 23.—The published letters which passed between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. J. I. Tarte in regard to the latter's withdrawal from the government tell in perfectly clear and unmistakable terms the causes which inspired that step. The intimation from a Montreal journalist that the real cause was Mr. Tarte's transportation policy is not warranted.

In his letter of resignation to the prime minister, of his cabinet portfolio dated October 20, 1902, Hon. Mr. Tarte, then Minister of Public Works, said:

"In the interview which I had with you, you (Sir Wilfrid) expressed the opinion that I should not have spoken on the tariff as I have done. My views on the tariff are well known to you. I have on several occasions stated them publicly in your presence and discussed them often privately with you. Entertaining the opinion that the interests of the Canadian people make it our duty to revise without delay the tariff of 1897, with the view of giving a more adequate protection to our industries, to our farming community, to commerce, and to our working people, I cannot honestly remain silent. I forego my freedom of utterance and of speech under the circumstances, even to the great honor of being your colleague."

EMPHASIZES DIFFERENCE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's letter to Mr Tarte, written at the same time, says that after the interview he here had with Mr. Tarte, he (Sir Wilfrid) had felt it his first duty to wait upon his excellency the governor-general to inform him that he was obliged to demand the resignation of Mr. Tarte's portfolio. "In accepting your resignation," continues Sir Wilfrid, "it is well to emphasize the points of difference between us. During my absence in Europe, without any communication with me, and without any previous understanding with your colleagues, you began an active campaign in favor of immediate revision of the tariff in the direction of higher protection. I regret having been obliged to observe to you that this attitude on your part constitutes a self-evident violation of your duty towards the government of which you are a member. I repeat to you here what I told you on Sunday. I do not wish to discuss at this moment the economic theory, of which you have made yourself the champion. This question, however important it might be, is subordinate to one still more important.

WHAT HE FAILED TO DO.

"If you had reached the conclusion that the interests of the country demanded, without delay, an increase of the customs duties, the first thing for you to do as a member of the government, before addressing your views to the public, would have been to place them before your colleagues, with the object of obtaining that unanimous action of the cabinet which is the very foundation of responsible government . . . but to remain a member of the government, and at the same time to advocate a policy which has not yet been adopted by the government, was an impediment to the proper working of our constitutional system, and implies a disregard for that loyalty, which all those who are members of the same administration owe to each other, and have a right to expect from each other."

The letter of January 22, 1902, in which Mr. Tarte urged his transportation policy, and which, it is intimated, ultimately led to his resignation, was written seven months before the latter took place.

Separation Law in France Has Bad Effect

Paris, December 25. — The French Separation law threatens to extinguish the last of the Huguenots. It was passed amid the enthusiastic plaudits of the Evangelicals. "No harm, they said, could come to any church that accepted its provisions. The small Protestant churches of France did so, despite the protests of the allied churches on the continent. They established the Public Worship Associations, and accepted "the devolution of goods", the remnant of their property. Now, after a year's experience, and though the small pensions of their clergy have not yet expired, the churches are in difficulties. The "Journal Des Debats" reports that the Superior Council of the Union of Reformed Churches in this year short by 300,000 francs upon a necessary budget of 1,400,000 francs. This deficit is likely to grow as the charges for increase through the cessation of the clerical pensions, and already the little parishes and churches are being marked out for extinction and abandonment. So the gradual disappearance of Protestantism in France is likely to be one of the first results of the measures that received such hearty support at the beginning.

AGED FARMER MURDERED BY HIRED MAN IN PEEL CO.

William Curry Shot at Homestead, Nearly Twelve Miles South-East of Brampton--Son Also Attacked

The Murdered Man—William Curry, a retired farmer living between Mount Charles and Burnhamthorpe; formerly in the dairy business in Brampton.

The Accused—English immigrant, employed as hired man, who is said to have been a painter, and who came from Toronto a month ago.

Other Details—The accused, it is also charged was about to shoot the dead man's son when the father interfered. The son fought the accused, and after a terrible fight, knocked him unconscious.

Brampton, Dec. 26.—William Curry, aged about 80 years, one of the most respected citizens of Peel County, was brutally murdered at his residence in Toronto township on Christmas night.

The story of the crime was brought to Brampton at daylight this morning by John Black, son-in-law and neighbor of the murdered man, who had driven twelve miles through the drifted roads to inform the officers of the law. The tragedy occurred at the home of the murdered man's son, Mr. James Curry, ex-reeve of Toronto township, who himself was felled by the assailant and somewhat seriously injured.

SAT IN DINING ROOM.

The story told by Black is as follows: William Curry, the dead man, James Curry, his son, and the hired man, an English immigrant, were sitting in the dining room during the evening. Some time after nine o'clock the senior Currie said he was going to bed, and retired to his bedroom, which opens off the dining room.

A few minutes afterwards the hired man got up, extended his arms over his head, and, as he stretched himself, said; "Well, I think I'll go to bed, too."

"MY TURN TO LAUGH."

Then he walked over to the corner and picked up a double-barreled shot gun standing there. Turning suddenly on James Curry, the only other occupant of the room, he aimed the gun at him, and said, "You ———, you laughed at me when we were fixing the pump the other day. It's my turn to laugh now."

The shotgun had stood in that corner for years, and had not been loaded so that Curry felt no fear.

"There's no use trying to bluff me with an empty gun," he said.

At that moment Curry, senior, who had been undressing or making up the adjoining bedroom, hearing the angry words, appeared at the door of his room clad only in his night clothes.

"Put down that gun! Don't make a fool of yourself," he cried to the hired man.

WOUNDED IN BREAST.

Instantly the man turned the gun on him and fired. The charge struck him in the breast, and being at close range, made a terrible wound. He died almost instantly.

The man then turned his aim again on the son, who jumped at him and knocked the barrel upwards as it went off, the charge going into the ceiling.

A hand-to-hand fight for life ensued. The hired man drew a poker which he apparently had concealed under his coat, and striking Curry over the head, knocked him down.

HIRED MAN UNCONSCIOUS.

Curry, however, was able to grasp his antagonist around the legs. He also secured the poker, and eventually beat the man into submission. The man was reported to be unconscious at an early hour this morning.

James Currie, the son, is a man about 40 years of age. His sister, Miss Currie, kept house for him, and his father made his home there. Miss Curry had gone away for over Christmas to visit friends in Stayner. The other member of the Curry family is the wife of John Black, who lives on an adjoining farm. The Currys, father and son, had been over to the Blacks for their Christmas dinner, and had returned about 8 o'clock to their own home.

SCENE OF TRAGEDY.

The scene of the tragedy lies between Mount Charles and Burnhamthorpe, in a southerly direction from Malton.

As soon as Black arrived in Brampton, he aroused Crown Attorney McFadden and Dr. Reid Heggie, senior, coroner. To them he told the story of the tragedy, as he had learned it from James Currie, the survivor, and given in the foregoing. Dr. Heggie, Mr. McFadden, and Provincial Constable Price immediately left for the scene where they will at once open an inquest.

CAME FROM TORONTO.

The immigrant had been in the place about a month on trial, but Mr. Curry was not going to keep him longer. He had come from Toronto, and is said to be a painter by trade.

The dead man was formerly a resident of Brampton, where he was engaged in the dairy business. He was a prominent Methodist, being a member of St. Paul's church. A short time ago he gave up business and went back to the farm to live with his son. The tragedy of his death has caused a profound sensation.

HIRED BOY THERE, TOO

Brampton, Dec. 26.—It is said a hired boy, also English, was at the Curry homestead at the time of the murder. According to this story, after supper all four went out to the barn and did up the work for the night. Returning to the house, all were sitting together reading the papers.

About nine o'clock the hired man said to the boy, "I think we had better go to bed." The two went upstairs. A few minutes afterwards the hired man returned to the room carrying with him a double-barreled shotgun. Standing in the doorway, he said: "I got people had the laugh on me the other day when others were here but I have it on you now." and pointed the gun at Mr. Curry. One of the barrels was discharged into the old man's left breast.

USED STOVE SHAKER.

Unsuccessful in this, the hired man took from his pocket a heavy stove shaker, and struck Mr. Curry, junior, on the head, inflicting a very bad wound. Mr. Curry was too strong for him, however, and finally secured the weapon from him, and struck him a heavy blow on the head, stunning him for the time, and leaving him in an unconscious condition.

The Unwise Xmas Shopper

So, he rejoiceth, for he hath done his shopping early. Yea, even as the bird that seeketh forth in quest of the early worm.
He reeketh jauntily and extolleth himself in honeyed words.
He bestoweth encomiums upon himself.
He patteth himself on the back.

He receiveth a package and lo, it is from a friend.
And to this friend he hath sent no present.
He giveth mightily.
He contemneth himself as a fool, yea, even as a fool that bloometh.
For it becometh him not to forget his friends.

He goeth forth in great haste.
He moveth swiftly to the crowded mart.
He maketh much haste. He getteth busy even to the third and fourth generation.

And it came to pass that he stoppeth suddenly.
Too much haste produceth heart disease. So saith the papers.
He must be cool that in the end he expireth not from heart failure.
He treadeth the mart with much coolness.
Even as the cucumber to the third and fourth generation is he cool.
Fair damsels assaileth him with froward glances.
Within his slats is he poked with umbrellas.
Strangers within the city gates pass to and fro, yet is he calm.
for greatly he feareth heart disease.
So saith the papers.

And it came to pass that he bartered for gifts for his friend.
And then passed on his way.
His heart is light. It beateth as light as moonbeams on a damsel's cheek.
For he is glad within him.
His shopping is done.
He treadeth as light as the lamb in spring; yea, even as the gazelle in the fields.
He goeth home and wrappeth up his gift.

The string eludeth him, which is a habit of strings even to the third and fourth generations.
But lo! he wrappeth up the gift. So saith the papers.

Like unto the deer that flieth to its fawn he speedeth to the post-office.
He barbereth for stamps that his present may travel as the wind.
He strolleth homeward. He is full of much gladness.
He stoppeth, for a dire thought besmote him.
He hath left out his card.
He speaketh in fierce words to himself.
He is aweary with himself. He maketh himself tired. He feeleth as the lemon that passeth all understanding.

He lieth down and grieveth.
He is all in. SELAH.

Scores of Catholics Wish to be Wedded to Protestants

Montreal, Dec. 26. — Archbishop Bruchesi, who recently issued an edict forbidding mixed marriages between Catholics and Protestants in the archdiocese of Montreal, is fairly besieged with applicants asking for dispensations or for exemptions to go into other dioceses to have the marriage ceremony performed. The archbishop, however, is standing by his edict, and this is resulting in interesting complications.

The engagement has just been announced of a prominent young society lady, who is a Roman Catholic, but whose father is a Protestant, to a Protestant young man, a member of one of the largest Montreal industrial firms. The father of the young lady saw the archbishop, and stated that the young folks had fully made up their minds to be married. They would be willing if an exemption were granted to go to another diocese to be married, but the archbishop stated he could not allow it. Another effort is being made to have the marriage ceremony take place in Montreal, and to have it performed by a priest. For the last three weeks it is said there have been on an average ten applications a day to the archbishop for dispensations.

Christmas Day at the S. A. Barracks

The Salvation Army, that great Christian and philanthropic body, has this year, exceeded all former efforts. The local Salvation Army corps introduced an innovation in the manner of distributing presents to the children, and the plan carried out was a complete success in every way. The ship, "Goodwill," which was designed and built by Mr. Albert Blake, a sailor for over a score of years, was a complete model of a sailing craft. When the curtains were drawn back, the "Goodwill" was revealed. Mr. Blake, in nautical rig, made a good captain, and the crew of five girls were suitably dressed as sailors.

The first presentation was made to Sergt.-Major R. C. Braund, one of the most popular officers of the local corps, who was presented with a handsome traveling case, while an address was read by Staff Captain Goodwin. Then followed presentations to the children.

PROGRAM.

Prior to the arrival of the ship, a splendid program was rendered as follows;

Opening Song from War Cry — Staff-Capt. Goodwin.
Prayer—Ensign Webber.
Introduction of Chairman — Staff-Capt. Goodwin.
Song by School,—"Welcome Christmas."
Recitation, "The Greater" — Victor Doerman.
Solo, "Robin Red Breast"—Willie Leighmen.
Dialogue, "Six Old Maids"—Six little girls.
Recitation, "The Goblins 'll Get Ye"—Chrissie Montgomery.
Piano Duet—Miss Braund and Master Braund.
Vocal Duet, "Snow Flakes"—Dolly Gray and Elsie Northcote.
Dialogue, "The Tramp" — Misses Nash and Wiffin.
Drill, "Star Drill"—Six Girls.
Dialogue, "Two and Two are Four."—Caroline and May Lang.
Drill, "Dumb Bells,"—Six Girls.
Instrumental Duet, Brass—Masters Boorman and Richardson.
Recitation, "My Curls" — Laura Hodge.

Great amusement was caused during the evening by the reading of a wireless telegram from Capt. Blake to the effect that the "Goodwill" had arrived safely at the lift lock with captain, crew and passengers in good health.

The hall was suitably adorned for the occasion.

The Greek as a Canadian Citizen

As there is a large Greek colony in this city who embody large rent, license and taxpayers, it will interest our readers to learn that the leading Greek paper, published in the historic language of ancient Athens, entitled "Atlantes" and set up in New York has a whole page, illustrated, and printed in English, entitled "The Greeks of Today." This article is by the Hon. Geo. Horton. The article claims that the Greeks are "hospitable." This, the friends of the Peterborough Greek Colony know to be true.

Mr Horton, the writer of the article in question referred to here, has for years been consul-general of the United States to Greece and knows the Greeks better than any man not raised on that classic soil. The lecture by Mr. Horton was under auspices of the Archaeological Society of America.

During his lecture Mr. Horton paid a high tribute to the Greeks, both of olden and modern days, dwelling upon their patriotism. Whilst a stranger among the Greeks never becomes one of them, if a good citizen, he gets a kind welcome. Few foreign words creep into the Greek language. Greek is today spoken by 18,000,000. The schools of Greece are modern and comprehensive.

Prof. Sophocles of Harvard College has earned an enviable name on the continent. The lecturer then went on to note the grand educational institutions of Athens, including the Parnassos, the orphan asylum, the Arsakeron. Five million drachmas have been given this institution. Among other educational institutions are the observatory and the museum, which are equal to any and superior to many similar institutions of Europe or America.

The American press has given much attention to Mr. Horton's lecture which has demonstrated that the modern Greek in America or Canada is an acceptable citizen, and well worth admission to Canada.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Dr. Bradd's Funeral was Largely Attended

Many Friends from Distant Points Participate in Obsequies

Yesterday one of the most largely attended and most representative funeral cortèges that this city has seen for years, demonstrated the respect and esteem with which his many friends regarded the late Dr. F. J. Bradd, whose untimely demise has already been told in these columns.

Early in the afternoon, hacks, cabs and sleighs gathered in the vicinity of the deceased's residence laden with friends anxious to pay their last respect to a departed citizen.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Crossley, former pastor of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, but now of Oshawa, assisted by Rev. Mr. Manning the present pastor of that place of worship.

The pall bearers were all personal friends of the late Dr. Bradd, viz: Messrs. Hon. J. H. Stratton, J. J. McHain, Dr. Young, Dr. Carmichael, Dr. King and W. H. Robertson. Mrs. Bradd and family have the most sincere and heartfelt sympathy of the whole community in their recent sad affliction. Many friends of the late doctor came from distant points to attend the obsequies and thus show the last possible outside sign of a united friendship.

Mr. Patrick Meagher Has Passed Away

Yesterday morning Mr. Patrick Meagher, after a long illness, passed away at his late residence, 84 Lansdowne street. The deceased was 58 years of age, and was born in County Tipperary, Ireland. He came to this country 58 years ago, settling in Peterborough. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Besides his wife, five sons and two daughters are left to mourn his loss. The sons are John, of Chicago; Thos. of London; Harry, of Sudbury, and Patrick and William of Peterborough. The daughters are Mrs. Fred Cook, East Side, and Miss Ada, at home.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Peterboro Should Get This Industry

The Toronto World of yesterday's date says:

The Champion Rivet Company, a Cleveland concern, has decided to establish a branch in Canada, and Windsor has been highly favored for a location. It is authoritatively stated that the choice lies between Port Hope and Windsor. It is given out that the company will employ about 500 hands.

Here is a chance for the civic authorities to try and get this seemingly great industry, provided it does not cost the property owners too dear for its whistle.

New Year's Concert at Omemee

The Presbyterians are greatly elated over again securing Julia Choate on her second appearance at their annual church concert. This young violinste captured the large audience last year by her brilliant performance and with another year's experience at the Peterborough Conservatory of Music with Arthe Ivory, honor graduate of the Toronto College of Music, as accompanist. All look forward to a musical treat. H. Beckett, Toronto, will furnish the merry part of the program.

The building operations at Omemee replacing the places of business burnt down are rapidly progressing.

Where Money for Hartley Pamphlet Went

In the Review of last night Mr. Geo. Stevens gives what, according to his explanation, seems to be a detailed account of the pamphlets issued and sold, containing a portrait of Mr. Dave Hartley the local pedestrian. According to Mr. Stevens' report, and there is now no means of denying the same, Mr. Stevens has not made the high prices that some might have otherwise imagined.

In this report Mr. Stevens notes the names of those with whom he left tickets with the respective number left for sale in each case. Judging by his returns that motto "None sold" was only too frequent. After deducting all necessary expenses, given in the report in detail, Mr. Stevens claims to only have a balance of $21.90. Whilst these accounts have not, to our knowledge, been audited, it seems that the sale, as set forth, of the pamphlets was far below general and popular expectations. It looks like Dave Hartley has somewhere made a financial mistake. Still there are lots in this city who will back Dave for more money than a farmer has hay and do not expect to find a deficit either.

Brantford Lacrosse Player Here

Mr. A. Dowling, the well-known lacrosse and hockey player of Brantford accompanied by Mrs. Dowling, spent Christmas as a guest of his father-in-law, Mr. W. A. Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal, at the latter's residence, 178 Dalhousie St. Mr. Dowling carries a fine gold watch, presented by the citizens of Brantford, when the junior C.L.A. team of that city won the championship.

JAPAN WILL NOT PLACE ANY LIMIT ON EMIGRATION

Firmly Insists on Full Treaty Rights--Won't be Convinced That Moral Pledge was Given Canada

London, Dec. 26.—A Tokio cable says that Hon. Mr. Lemieux is leaving Yokohama on Thursday, and expects to return to Ottawa about Jan 12, traveling via San Francisco.

At the last meeting between Lemieux and Viscount Hayashi on Wednesday morning memoranda were exchanged. It is understood that the Canadian envoy is insisting on Consul-General Nosse's assurance, repeatedly given from the time before Canada's participation in the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty, that Japanese immigrants to Canada shall be restricted to about 400 per annum, and that this shall be regarded as a moral pledge given the Dominion government.

The Japanese government, however are unable to ascertain that such assurances were ever given, and hold that if this is really the case, distinct line should be drawn between pledges given before and after Canada's participation in the commercial treaty.

HIS LIPS ARE SEALED.

Tokio, Dec. 26.—Hon Rodolphe Lemieux, Canadian minister of labor, who has concluded his negotiations with the Japanese government regarding the regulation of immigration to Canada, said to the Associated Press today;

"My lips are sealed on the subject. Any statement I have to make belongs first to thee Dominion government. My mission will be completed only after my return to Ottawa. My colleagues there will be in a position to fully discuss and consider the whole question in its various phases.

"I have every reason to believe that a solution of the difficulties will soon be reached and am pleased to say that my negotiations with the Japanese foreign office were conducted in the friendliest spirit.

"I return with nothing but the most pleasant recollections."

The Associated Press is in a position to state that the situation is identical with the previous interest. Mr. Lemieux and Sir Claude M. MacDonald, the British ambassador, fully agreed with the terms of the memorandum whereunder the Japanese government outlines its plans for the future control of immigration, the announcement of which will be probably made when a similar arrangement is outlined to Thomas J. O'Brien, the American ambassador, who it is understood has submitted a number of suggestions from the American government for the consideration of the foreign office.

A FLUTTER AMONG DIPLOMATS.

The suggestions, it is believed, largely served as a guide to the arrangement submitted to Canada through Mr. Lemieux and there is reason to believe that the Japanese government will soon submit to Ambassador O'Brien the details of this plan to control immigration to America, which practically amounts to the prevention of all Japan immigration.

POLICE

Arthur R. Turner, a young Englishman, who came here from Manchester last August, will be deported just as soon as the necessary papers can be got ready. In the meantime he will dwell at Castle Nesbitt. He appeared in the police court yesterday morning on a charge of vagrancy, and first pleaded not guilty, but when he was informed what vagrancy meant he changed his plea. He is without work, home or money, and asked that he be sent to the jail. His worship gave him one month at hard labor, and it is expected that everything will then be ready for deporting him.

A Merry Christmas In Peterborough

Once more Christmas Day with its stupendous religious significance, and concomitant, world-wide festivities and rejoicing, has come and gone. Once more the little ones have ceased to count the hours and days until Santa Claus will take that mythical midnight drive bringing dolls and toys for them, with other articles of more use, but less interest in childish eyes, for the elders, and once more the gaters and maters have to pass, in too many instances the meeting of bills to pay for what Santa has left behind, and to ponder over whether a diet of snow balls will be necessary until such bills are paid.

Christmas was a real old fashioned Merry Christmas for most of our good citizens. Walking down George street Wednesday, one could see everywhere bright smiling faces and hear on every side a cheery "Merry Christmas!" and the answering "The same to you, old man."

Whilst the weather was not as bright as could have been wished for, thus keeping many, who did not possess homes of their own, within hotels, The Times did not see one drunken man all Christmas Day; this speaks volumes for a manufacturing city and demonstrates that our good townspeople can be, and were, merry without seeking the stimulus to be found under the south end of a cork.

Obituary

Yesterday the many friends of Mr. Mat. Clancy, of Mr. M. Pappas' establishment at 237 George street, extended their sympathy over the loss of his baby. Mr. Clancy's little one, only two months old recently contracted an attack of measles, which resulted in other complications the baby passing away yesterday. Whilst only an infant, the deceased was exceptionally bright, and its loss will leave a place in the parents' hearts impossible to fill. Up to going to press funeral arrangements were impossible to ascertain.

Sports

Brantford Expositor: In regard to Miller, the left-wing man, it would not be surprising if he developed into the star of the pro. league. He is one of the men the local management are particularly pleased with. The east is a good place to pick the winners from, and if Brantford Wells responds as well as Peterborough, the outfit of purple and white will be a dazzling team.

Mark Street Church Xmas Entertainment

The Mark street Christmas tree entertainment was largely attended and proved a great success. It was held in the Sunday school. The program given, almost wholly by the children, loudly applauded; in many instances encores being demanded.

The pastor, Rev. C. H. Coon, acted as chairman, and after an opening prayer, made a few brief remarks. He was pleased to see so many present. He hoped all had spent a very merry Christmas and that throughout the glad Yuletide season they would enjoy the pleasures and festivities for which it was intended.

The program render it was, as intimated of exceptional interest.

News Briefs

Gretna, Man., Dec. 21.—A murder took place here this morning. Fred Leclair was found in the river with his head split open, and a sack was found on the river bank, in which the murderer or murderers hauled the body down the bank.

The appearances indicate that there were two or more persons engaged in the murder, as the body was taken down the bank sideways. An axe was found at the top of the bank covered with blood.

London, Ont., Dec. 25.—Miss Maud Hill, Elias street, left her home yesterday morning, went to a drug store and purchased a bottle of carbolic acid, which she said she wanted as a disinfectant. She then went to the Centennial Methodist church yard, on Dundas street, and deliberately drank the contents of the bottle. Before medical assistance could be procured she died in great agony. She was 21 years old, and lived with her mother.

Baltimore, Md., December 24. — A cure for one of the most pitiable forms of insanity, hitherto considered 90 per cent. incurable, has been found in the surgeon's knife, by Dr. N. M. Owensby, physician-in-chief at Bayview Insane Asylum. This form of insanity is known as dementia praecox.

Dr. Owensby came to the conclusion that instead of the disease arising from a lack of secretion, there was a likelihood of over secretion. This conclusion opened up the possibility of of using the knife to cut away the diseased portion of the gland, and thereby give opportunity for new blood vessels to form.

Quebec, December 25. — Hon. Mr. Gouin has forwarded to the Federal Government his demand for the extension of the provincial boundaries northwards so as to take in the district of Ungava. He claims that Quebec is equally justified with Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan in urging an extension of its boundaries in the direction of Hudson Bay. The addition of Ungava to the Province of Quebec would double the size of the latter, and Mr. Gouin believes that its affairs can better be conducted from Quebec than from Ottawa, and that the annexation would better enable the province to protect its timber lands and fish and game near the present frontiers from destruction at the hands of operators in the district of Ungava.

Mexico City, December 25.—Now that the American battleship fleet has started on its journey to the Pacific, the probable action of the United States Senate on the treaty with Mexico recently signed by Mexico and the United States providing for the right to install and maintain telephone lines in Mexico, and for connecting these lines with those in the United States, will be awaited with interest. The treaty has already been approved by the Mexican Senate.

Young Bank Clerk Loses an Eye by Defective Cartridge

Yesterday morning a young man named Blackwell sustained an accident that will cause him to remember it as long as he lives. It seems that Blackwell was looking along the sights of a shooting iron. Whether owing to faulty mechanism in the gun or a bad cartage, the rear end of the cartridge blew back injuring his eye and blinding him as far as the hurt optic was concerned. Blackwell was at once taken to Dr. T. P. McCullough's office. The doctor examined the wound and ordered the patient to be taken at once to Nicholls hospital. Here under directions of Dr McCullough, it was found necessary to remove the injured eye. The sufferer was a bank clerk in the village of Omemee.

More Than Money to Many People Here

A Simple Home Recipe Recommended to Elderly Folks

This is a message that will bring happiness again into many families and sunshine into the lives of hundreds of disheartened and discouraged men and women here. It requires just a little perseverance, for it can't be bought already prepared. It is a simple home recipe now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and wrecks of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Extract Sarsaparilla, one ounce, and Compound Kargon, one ounce. Compound Kargon is a concentrated mixture and should be obtained in original packages. Shake well in a bottle. Take a dose in one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Many experiments, even in severe hospital cases, prove this simple mixture the remedy for rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorder, bladder weakness, frequent urinations, painful scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure, puts new life into them and invigorates the entire tract. It makes the kidneys clean the blood. The Dandelion will take care of liver trouble and constipation, and is fine for the stomach.

All the ingredients, it states a well-known local druggist, are of vegetable extraction, making it a safe and harmless prescription at any time.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of patent medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making up this prescription. Wherever this home remedy is generally known, states a large Eastern publication, it ruins the sale of the patent medicines and so-called rheumatism and kidney cures, which is its best endorsement of virtue.

WHY STAY RHEUMATIC?

Nothing Short of Folly When Cure is Guaranteed with Ferrozone.

Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and run down. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease.

Ferrozone cures because it builds up, because it renews the blood and dissolves the uric acid and the poisons that cause rheumatism.

It is proved right here that Ferrozone does cure.

Col. H. M. Ross, of Edwards, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrozone. Read his statement:

"I couldn't get around without a cane, and then only with difficulty.

"Rheumatism took complete control of my limbs.

"The suffering was more intense than hardships on the battle field.

"When my doctor had done his best I got Ferrozone.

"Then came a quick change.

"Ferrozone gave me comfort at once, eased the pain and took the stiffness out of my muscles.

"I am well today. Ferrozone cured me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago."

Be sensible about your ease. Ferrozone is known on all sides to be a cure that does cure. Why not get a supply today. The sooner you begin Ferrozone the quicker you'll get well. Price 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

THE RIGHT SORT

We have heard a great deal about Canada falling into the hands of United States capitalists through the exploitation of our transportation and resources by people from over the line. So far as we know, this enterprise is doing us no harm. It is now the turn of the United States to take alarm at Canadian encroachment. "The descent of the Canadian octopus," is what the New York Sun calls the rumored acquisition of the Boston & Maine Railway by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. But the writer is not resentful. He pays the managers of the Canadian Pacific the compliment of saying that they make a business of obeying constitutional laws, and, if they want anything, they generally succeed in getting it. If they decide that they want the Botton & Maine they will buy it and climb to the United States supreme Court if necessary in order to prevent confiscation of their rights. That, he declares, is the sort of octopus Our Lady of the Snows nourishes in her bosom.—Montreal Witness.

OUR WARLIKE NEIGHBORS

Notwithstanding all their professions in favor of peace, there is a feverish and almost hysterical demand in the United States for the strengthening of the defences of the Pacific Coast of that country. This is inspired by something else than the principle: "In time of peace, prepare for war." Some one has varied this maxim so as to make it read: "In time of peace, prepare to break it," and this seems to describe the attitude of our neighbors very fairly. They are getting ready to fight some one. They are very prone to fighting, and their history establishes the fallacy of the theory that a republican form of government is a guarantee of peace. In fact the country has been at war almost constantly throughout its history. It fought for nearly eight years with Great Britain, it was at war with the Ohio Indians in 1790; it was on the eve of war with France in 1791; and went so far as to break off all diplomatic communications with that country, and issue letters of marque, it was at war in 1798 with Tripoli; it was at war again with Great Britain in 1812, 13 and 14; it was at war with the Seminoles of Spanish Florida in 1817; it was at war in 1832 with the Indians of Wisconsin; it was on the Indians of Wisconsin; it was on the eve of war with Great Britain in 1834 and relations were strained between the two countries for several years; and it was at war with Mexico in 1846, and the struggle continued until 1848; it was engaged in the war of Secession from 1861 to 1865; it was on the eve of war with Spain in 1873, and hostilities were only prevented by the good sense of President Grant; it was at war with the Indians from 1867 to 1877; it was nearly involved in war with France over the establishment of Maximilian as Emperor of Mexico in 1867; then it had its war with Spain and afterwards with the Filipinos. In this list no account is taken of desultory Indian fighting. It is a pretty long list for a country which declared its independence only 131 years ago and it does not give rise to the belief that the United States goes in couch upon as a factor for the preservation of the peace of the world. There is an unmistakable desire abroad in the country to try what it can do upon the ocean, and it is not without considerable reference to the future that we note the threats from which the press of the country approves all questions affecting the Orient. If they persist in provoking Japan and in making preparations and demonstrations that can only be aimed at Japan, it is to be presumed one of the latter powers adopts a similar policy as that displayed in regard to Russia. If one has to fight, Japan may prefer to do it before her present antagonist has had time to get fully ready.

Bryan Nominated by His Daughter

Denver, Colorado, December 25.—At the Democratic National convention Ruth Bryan Leavitt will place in nomination for the Presidency of the United States, the name of her father, William Jennings Bryan. Friends of Mrs. Leavitt have decided that she shall enjoy the distinction of being the first woman whose voice has ever been raised in a National convention. They are active in the campaign to have her elected as one of the Colorado delegates to the convention so that she may be officially recognized on the floog of the hall and be in a position to name her father. If she is not elected she will get a proxy.

Big Navy for Russia

St Petersburg, Dec. 25. — The reconstruction of the Russian navy, which up to the present has been in abeyance owing to internal preoccupations, has suddenly emerged to the surface, and bids fair to develop a portentous conflict as between the wishes of the Emperor and the Douma. To-day the Douma Committee of National Defence sent a formal demand to Admiral Dikoff, the Minister of Marine, to submit to the Douma full particulars of the new shipbuilding programme worked out by the Admiralty. This entails an expenditure of $500,000,000.

The Committee by vote arrived at the conclusion that the investigation and sanction of the separate items in this year's budget would be impracticable without a knowledge of the contents of the whole programme. The demand opens a very delicate question, which at present is causing the Council of Ministers worry.

It can be stated on the best of authority that the shipbuilding programme has been elaborated through the personal participation of the Emperor, who is fully determined to make the restoration of Russia's scattered sea power the crowning achievement of his reign, regardless of cost.

It is asserted on competent authority that the naval programme is linked with the survival of the Douma, as the Emperor will not brook a refusal of appropriations.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. All dealers.

If You Do Not Wish to Be Disliked—

Don't meddle. In every community is found a Meddlesome Mattie who is responsible for two-thirds of the misunderstandings that make life such a problem.

Don't complain. What's the use? The chronic complainer travels a long road and pays heavy toll in the way of lost opportunities and pleasures.

Don't rehearse your ailments, physical or otherwise. People have to listen to you not because they are interested, but because they are trying to be polite.

The world is full of pains, heartbreaks. No one has a monopoly of them.

There is a certain grim sort of comfort to be derived from telling how one has lain awake all night keeping company with an aching back. But it only gains for one the reputation of being a bore.

Don't try to boss. It is one of the surest and most direct routes to unloveliness, yet many women travel there to their own undoing.

Learn to mind your own business. It is each individual's prerogative upon reaching years of discretion to shape his own affairs.

Wise is the woman who recognizes this and grants as well as exacts this privilege. She it is who numbers her friends by the score whose domestic life is unspoot.

Angelina Would Have to Go Hungry if She Married Rastus.

As their wedding day approached they sat down one evening to figure a bit on household expenses. He got out pencil and paper and put down coal and wood and gas and rent, but as they came to provisions a worried look appeared on his face.

"Ah 'spec' it's gwine ter cost a heap ter feed us, Angelina," he remarked, with a deep sigh, as he paused to sharpen his pencil.

"Huh! Doan' you' 'spec' Ah kin cook widout wastin'?" she asked. "Yo jes' go on now an' put down wot we'll heb fo' one Sunday dinnah, an' yo'll dun see it ain't gwine ter cost sich a heap, 'kase Ah'll make wot's left ober las' all week. Go on, Rastus, an' den we'll figger on de price later. Now, one five pound chicken."

"Uh-huh, mah lub."

"One quart oh potatoes."

"An' a mince pie. Well, Ah reckon dat's about all. An' now"—

"Hol' on, dar, Angelina!" he interrupted as he looked over the list. "Yo's dun made a big mistake yere."

"How's dat?" she asked.

"Why," he said, "yo's only dun named wot Ah generally eats mahself fo' Sunday dinnah. Wot yo' gwine fer hab?"

She looked at him speechless with astonishment for a moment or two; then, realizing that with his appetite they could never marry on $14 per week, she uttered a shriek that was heard all over the neighborhood and swooned at his feet.—A. B. Lewis in Judge.

The Fringe of Art.

Elihu Vedder, the painter, lives in Rome, where he has a beautiful apartment, and in Capri, where his white villa looks down on the sea.

"Elihu Vedder," said a New York illustrator the other day, "is as bohemian as ever. Fame has not spoiled him. I visited him last year, and his bohemian ways were delightful.

"You know they tell a story of a visit that he once paid to Alma-Tadema in London in that glittering house which Mrs. A.-T.'s money, made in grateful, comforting cocoa, bought.

"The morning after his arrival, very early, before even the servants were up, Vedder began a thunderous knocking on his host's sandalwood floor.

"Alma-Tadema turned in his gold bed, threw back the lace coverlet and sat up.

"'Who's there? What is it?' he cried in a startled voice.

"'I say, Tadema,' shouted Vedder, 'where do you keep the scissors that you trim your cuffs with?'"—Washington Star.

Truly Admirable.

An Illinois politician who once delivered what seemed to him an excellent and striking speech on the trust question was most anxious to ascertain its effect upon the Democratic part of his audience, these for the most part being Irish.

"Was the speech to your liking, Pat?" he asked an old friend in the audience.

"Sure, it were a grand speech," averred Pat in a tone of such sincere admiration that the politician felt moved to investigate further.

"Was there any part of it more than another that seemed to hold you?" the speaker asked.

"Well, now that ye ask me, I'll tell ye," responded the Celt. "What took me most, sir, was yere perseverance—the way ye wint over the same thing ag'in and ag'in."—Harper's Weekly.

A Break.

"What a queer remark that man made about the bride!" said the first wedding guest.

"What was it?" asked the other.

"He said: 'How natural she looks! Don't you think so?'"

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

The Black Hole of Calcutta.

A scientist, writing of the black hole of Calcutta and its atmosphere, says: "On the 20th of June, 1756, about 8 o'clock in the evening, 146 men were forced at the point of the bayonet into a dungeon eighteen feet square. They had been but a few minutes confined in this infernal prison before every one fell into a perspiration so profuse that no idea can be formed of it. This brought on a raging thirst, the most difficult respiration and an outrageous delirium. Such was the horror of their situation that every insult that could be devised against the guard without and all the opprobrious names the viceroy and his officers could be loaded with were repeated to provoke the guard to fire upon them and terminate their sufferings. Before 11 o'clock the same evening one-third of the men were dead, and before 6 next morning only twenty-three came out alive, but most of them in a high putrid fever. All these dreadful effects were occasioned by the want of atmospheric air and by their breathing a superabundant quantity of nitrogen emitted from their lungs."

Sealed Orders.

The custom of having warships sail under sealed orders arose from the desire of maritime powers to prevent the plans from becoming known to the enemy. In the American navy such orders come from the president and are delivered to a commander of a ship or squadron by a confidential messenger who knows nothing of their contents. Sometimes they are in cipher, but they are always sealed with the official seal of the navy department and the package cannot be opened until the time marked on it, which is usually several hours after the hour of leaving port. By this precaution the newspapers are prevented from disclosing prematurely the movements which may be of the greatest importance, and the spies of the enemy are rendered useless so far as their ability to discover the secret of such movements is concerned. Sailing under sealed orders is now the common naval practice in time of war. These instructions are found in the packet of sealed orders, which is opened when well out at sea.

A Runaway River.

The problem and the peril of the Colorado river are not difficult to understand. A great river running slowly on a ridge of its own creating, running in a broad and tortuous channel, choked with islands of mud and bars of sediment, running with a fall of only one foot to the mile, while to the north and west lay a vast depression below sea level and inviting the sluggish river to a swifter flow; between this sunken area and the uncertain course of the river a great garden of Eden in promise and potency, needing only to be watered and kept, then a canal tapping the river, a flood gathering at the far away sources, a breach in the unprotected bank and the whole volume of the river, forsaking its ancient and outgrown bed and rushing into that pit in the desert, sweeping in its course through miles of fertile farms and cutting canyons where canals had been—this is an outline of the situation and a hint of the peril.—A. J. Wells in Sunset Magazine.

The Dean's Raiment.

Dean Stanley was once driving with a friend from Montvale to Palermo. Both men were reading. Stanley suddenly discovered that he was shivering with a cold. He mentioned the matter to his friend.

"Well, hadn't you better put something on?" said the latter, pointing to the dean's bag, which was close at hand.

Stanley thought it a rather a good idea, and the friend went on reading. As they entered Palermo there were shouts of astonishment. Stanley was placidly reading. His friend found that the distinguished churchman had absentmindedly drawn out a nightshirt from his bag and put it on over his other clothing and thus arrayed was riding triumphantly into the city.—London Sketch.

The Earth's Shadow.

The earth has a shadow, but very few ever see it, except in eclipses of the moon, or else few recognize it when they see it. Nevertheless, many of us have noticed on fine, cloudless evenings in summer shortly before sunset a rosy pink arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray segment under it. As the sun sinks the arc rises until it attains the zenith and even passes it. This is the shadow of the earth.

Know His Capacity.

Stranger (to waiter)—Isn't that man named Meier who is paying his bill over there?

Waiter—I don't know. I haven't been long here.

S.—What has he had?

W.—Ten glasses of beer and a bottle of wine.

S.—Oh, yes; it is he then.—Paris Rire.

Two Failures.

"I married for beauty alone," said a presumably happy benedict to an old chum. "And yet you remind me of a friend of mine who married for money," was the rejoinder. "How's that?" "He didn't get it," said the chum sarcastically.

Sarcastic.

His Wife—You have been drinking again. Haven't you, now? Her Husband—M'dear, I cannot tell a lie. His Wife—You can't! Then you are further gone than I thought!

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment.

Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital best shows the sympathy that Works.

Last year there were 1063 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 251 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $6.31 each per day, or $302.22 for the 47½ days stay.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

getting this she must and would have a new piano costing not less than four hundred dollars. But how to procure the money was the question; the remittance from Uncle Nat, which had come on the first day of January, was already half gone, and she could not, as she had done once before, make Dora's head keep her out of the difficulty. At last a new idea suggested itself, and springing to her feet she exclaimed aloud, for she was alone, "I have it; strange I didn't think of that before. I'll write to the old man, and tell him that as Dora is now fifteen, we would gladly send her away to school if we had the means, but our expenses are so great it is impossible, unless the money comes from him. And he'll do it too, the old miser!—for in his first letter he said that he would increase the allowance as Dora grew older."

Suiting the action to the word, she drew out her writing desk and commenced a letter to her "Dearest Uncle Nathaniel," feelingly describing to him their straitened circumstances, and the efforts of herself and her sister to keep the family in necessaries, which they were enabled to do very comfortably with the addition of the allowance he so generously sent them every year. But they wished now to send Dora to school, to see if anything could be made of her! She had improved latterly, and they really hoped a change of scene would benefit her. For Dora's sake, then, would "dear dear uncle be so kind as to send them, on the receipt of that letter, such a sum as he thought best. If so, he would greatly oblige his loving niece."

"There! That will do," she said, leaning back in her chair, and laughing as she thought what her mother and Alice would say, if they knew what she had done. "But they needn't know it," she continued aloud, "until the money comes, and then they can't help themselves."

Then it occurred to her that if Dora herself were to send some message the coming of the money might be surer; and, calling her cousin into the room, she said:

"I am about writing to old Uncle Nat—have you any word or anything to send him?"

"Oh, yes," answered Dora. "Give him my love, and tell him how much I wish he would come home—and stay!" she added, leaving the room, and soon returning with a look of soft brown hair, which she laid upon the table. "Give him that, and tell him it was mother's."

Had a serpent started suddenly into life before Eugenia, she could not have turned whiter than she did at the sight of that hair. It brought vividly to mind the shadowy twilight, the darkness in the corners, and the terror which came over her on that memorable night when she had thought to steal Dora's treasure. Soon recovering her composure, however, she motioned her cousin from the room, and, resuming her pen, said to herself, "I shan't write all that nonsense about his coming home, for nobody wants him here, but the love and the hair may as well go."

Then, as she saw how much of the latter Dora had brought, she continued, "There's no need of sending all this. It would make beautiful hair ornaments and I mean to keep a part of it; Dora won't care, of course, and I shall tell her."

Dividing off a portion of the hair for her own use, she laid it aside, and then in a postscript wrote, "Dora sends"—here she paused, and thinking that "Dora's love" would please the old man too much, and possibly give him too favorable an opinion of his niece, she crossed out the "sends" and wrote, "Dora wishes to be remembered to you, and sends for your acceptance a lock of her mother's hair."

Thus was the letter finished, and the next mail which left Dungwood bore it on its way to India, Eugenia little thinking how much it would influence her whole future life.

CHAPTER XIII.

It was a glorious moonlight night, and like gleams of burnished silver, the moonbeams flashed from the lofty domes and minarets of Calcutta, or shone like sparkling gems on the sleeping waters of the bay. It was a night when the Hindoo lover told his tale to the dusky maiden at his side, and the soldier wearing the scarlet uniform talked to his blue-eyed bride of the home across the waters which she had left to be with him.

On this night, too, an old man in his silent room sat thinking of his home far beyond the shores of "Merrie England." Near him lay a letter, Eugenia's letter, which was just received. He had not opened it yet, for the sight of it had carried him back across the Atlantic wave, and again he saw, in fancy, the granite hills which had girded his childhood's home—the rock where he had played—the tree where he had carved his name and the rushing mountain stream which ran so swiftly past the red house in the valley—the home where he was born, and where had come to him the heart grief which had made him the strange, eccentric being he was. Thoughts of the dead were with him, too, to-night, and with his face buried in his broad, rough hands, he thought of her whose winsome smile and gentle ways had woven around his heart a mighty and undying love, such as few men ever felt. Of Dora, too, he thought—Dora, whom he had never seen, and his heart yearned towards her with a deep tenderness, because his Fannie had been her mother.

"I should love her, I know," he said, "even though she were cold-hearted and stupid as they say"; then, as he remembered the letter, he continued, "I will open it, for it may have tidings of the child."

The seal was broken, the letter unfolded, and a tress of shining hair dropped on the old man's hand, clinging lovingly, as it were, about his fingers, while a low, deep cry broke the stillness of the room. He knew it in a moment—knew it was Fannie's hair—the same he had so oft caressed when she was but a little girl and he a grown-up man. It was Fannie's hair, come to him over land and sea, and his eyes grew dim with tears, which rained over his thin, dark face as he kissed again and again the precious boon, dearer far to him than the golden ore of India. "Fannie's hair!" Very softly he repeated the words, holding it up to the moonlight, and then turning it towards the lamp, as if to assure himself that he really had it in his possession. "Why was it never sent before?" he said at last, "or why was it sent at all?" and taking up the letter he read it through, lingering long over the postscript, and grieving that Dora's message, the first he had ever received, should be comparatively so cold.

"Why couldn't she have sent her love to her poor old uncle, who has nothing in the wide, wide world to love save this one lock of hair! God bless you, Dora Deane, for sending that!" and again he raised it to his lips, saying as he did so, "And she shall have the money, too, aye, more than Eugenia asked, one golden dollar for every golden hair will be a meet return." And the old man laughed aloud at the novel idea which no one but himself would have conceived.

It was a long, weary task, the counting of those hairs; for more than once, when he paused in his work to think of her whose head they once adorned, he forgot how many had been told, and patiently began again, watching carefully through blinding tears to see that none were lost, for he would not that one should escape him. It was strange how childish the strong man became, counting those threads of hair; and when at last the labor was completed, he wept because there were no more. Fifteen hundred dollars seemed too small a sum to pay for what would give him so much joy; and he mourned that the tress had not been larger, quite as much as did Eugenia, when she heard of his odd fancy.

The moon had long since ceased to

TO CLEAR THE TABLE.

A Little System Works Wonders to Accomplishes Much

One of the chief inclinations of a well-regulated household is the rapidity with which breakfast, dinner or tea things are cleared away and restored to their respective places, and how to excel in this respect is something every young housewife should know. Where there is a full domestic staff with a constant supply of hot water, this is, of course, an easy task, but even under less favorable circumstances a little good management will greatly simplify the task of washing up.

Take care that the kettle or boiler is filled before the commencement of the meal; then at the conclusion there will be no delay caused by waiting for hot water. See that you have large, dry, clean towels to dry or polish the dishes with. Begin with the glasses, cups, saucers and other similar articles, reserving till the last those which have been used for greasy food.

If you have a plate rack over the sink so much the better. If not let your plates drain for a minute or two on a thickly folded towel after taking them from the water. This makes your towel last dry all the longer and lessens the labor of polishing. A small teaspoonful of soap powder or a few drops of cloudy ammonia added to the water greatly facilitates the task of washing up. Each article must be well rinsed afterward in a bowl of clean water.

Weak Women

The weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical nerve medicine suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous membranes, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vim, and energy. Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortes, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. They soon appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Xmas Weddings

NORTHEY-MORRIS

At the residence of the bride's father, in the presence of about seventy-five guests, an attractive house wedding took place Christmas Day, the contracting parties being Miss Annie May Northey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Northey, Aylmer St., and Mr. Wm. H. Morris, East Side, Rev. E. A. Pearson, of the George street Methodist church, was the officiating clergyman. Miss Ida Madeline Northey was the winsome little flower girl and carried a basket of carnations. Clayton Kensel's wedding march was brilliantly played by Miss Florence Preston. The bride was gowned in a dress of white silk with chiffon lace and insertion. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome silver tea service.

After the ceremony the bridal party sat down to a dainty spread and the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse. The bride, who is popular among her many friends, received a large number of beautiful gifts.

Mr and Mrs. Morris will reside on Sherbrooke street.

GARBUTT-COMSTOCK

Christmas Day was made somewhat more noticeable by the number of hack drivers, who wielded whips adorned with the proverbial white ribbons testifying to a or more marriages. Among the weddings solemnized here on Xmas Day, was that of Miss Edith E. Garbutt, youngest daughter of Mr. John Garbutt, "Brookside," Smith, and Mr. Manson Comstock, manager of the Peterborough Hardware Co., and second son of Mr Aaron Comstock. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. F. Mason, 740 Water street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of Murray street Baptist church.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the drawing-room and took her place beneath an arch of evergreens. The parlor was very prettily decorated in pink and white. The bride was assisted by Miss Dolly Comstock, sister of the groom, and little Miss Clare Mason, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. Harry Morgan.

After the ceremony, an adjournment was made to the beautifully decorated dining room, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of.

Many beautiful and costly presents were received. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid, a gold signet ring to the flower girl, two gold bars set with pearls and to the groomsman gold cuff links. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl cross.

Mr and Mrs. Comstock left on the 4.45 C.P.R. train for a trip to New York, Troy and Albany. On their return they will reside on Sherbrooke street.

The guests were composed of only the members of the two families immediately concerned.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

POINTED GUN IN FUN, TERRACE SAYS KILLING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Wept Bitterly when He Heard Old Man was Dead --Did Not Mean to Harm Anybody-- Was Only Playing Joke

Brampton, Dec. 27.—It was not until 10 o'clock last night that Terrace, the prisoner brought to jail here yesterday on a charge of killing Wm. Currie, recovered consciousness. Terrace is a young man, only 25 years of age, weighing not more than 125 pounds. He is an Englishman by birth, coming from Walsen-on-Tyne near Newcastle where he has a wife and two children. He sailed for Canada on November 20th, and was engaged by Mr. Currie at the British Welcome League. Although a jobber by trade he engaged as a farm hand with Mr. Curry.

THE PRISONER'S STORY.

He told his story clearly and concisely last night. He says that all the family but himself had been away for their Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Black, a married daughter of the dead man. He had spent the afternoon shooting sparrows and left the loaded gun standing in a corner of the farmhouse kitchen. Returning home they had supper and the two Currys, a hired boy, and Terrace, all did up the chores around the barn, and returning to the house played checkers and read the papers until the old man retired shortly before nine o'clock. Terrace and the boy also prepared to go to bed, and "got a bit of foolery," as the prisoner expressed it, he picked up the gun and said to the younger Curry "You had the laugh on me on Monday, I will have it on you now," referring to the ridicule to which he had been exposed on account of the awkwardness with which he went about his unaccustomed duties

SAYS SON KNOCKED HIS HAND.

Curry answered him sharply, and the old man came to the door of his bedroom in his nightdress and asked what the quarrel was about. Terrace states he answered him that there was no quarrel at all, and to go back but that the old gentleman rushed up close to him and the youngest man knocked the weapon up in his hands. In doing so the gun was discharged, the shot entering the old man breast of the old man.

A scuffle ensued, the prisoner stating that he and not Curry shouted to the boy to run for help and that in the struggle James Curry struck his head twice against the coal stove, and snatching up the shaker struck him, Terrace, across the head, and that after that he knew no more

TERRACE CRIED BITTERLY.

Up to this point, Terrace tells a straight story. He cried bitterly last night on learning that the old man was dead, and stated positively that there was no intention of hurting him or anybody else. He feels his position keenly, and strongly reiterates the assertion that he had no intention of harming anybody, that the gun was pointed at James Curry merely for fun, and that if the latter had left it alone no shot would ever have been fired.

Dr. D. L. Heggie, the jail surgeon is in attendance on the prisoner who, up to the present, has taken nothing but a little milk since the affair occurred.

BOY'S EVIDENCE IMPORTANT.

It remains for the hired boy, who was an eye witness up to the time the shot was fired, to corroborate either the prisoner's or James Curry's story.

Detective Greer and County Constable Breddy drove down to the Curry place this morning in order to get further particulars of the unhappy affair.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock to Dixie cemetery.

The following jury are empanelled for the inquest to be held at Elmbank on Monday next.

Walter Baldock, Wm. Hanna, Robt. Meech, Sylvester, Osborne, Robt. Whitehead, Walter Shean, Wm. McBride, George Potter, Wm. Whitehead, Roy Hammerton, John Hanna, Robt Speers, Ward Truemen, Jas Meech, Absalom Petherick.

Former Local Man's Work Appreciated

Referring to good work done by a former secretary of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A., the Fort William Times-Journal says:

The Y.M.C.A. rooms in the old Baptist church were formally thrown open to the public last night, and the number of visitors who attended the opening must have been very gratifying to the men who have the work in hand. The wives of the directors assisted in the receiving, besides providing a very dainty lunch. The building is certainly laid off to very great advantage, on the ground floor is the gymnasium, club room, and shower bath, and on the second floor is the social and the reading room. The secretary, Mr. Collins in the old tower.

The reading room contains all the latest papers and periodicals. The gymnasium is well equipped and the classes should be all well attended.

Mr. Williamson, the secretary, had many applications last night for membership, and by the end of the week he expects to have a fine list of members.

POLICE

Yesterday's session of the Police Court was well attended the Labor Loathing League turning out well. The first case tried was that of Stanley Gorman, charged with theft of a cash box containing about $15 and a mining certificate of stock from the steamer Monarch. The first witness heard was Daniel McAllister, part owner of the Monarch. On July 21st, 1906, he was aboard the boat. The cash box was locked up on a locker on the steamer. He put it there himself. The cash box belonging to himself and partner was also locked. The steamer was at the Wolfe street wharf when the cash box was taken. It was between 11.00 a. m. and 1.00 p. m. He and the rest of the crew were away at Nixon's Hotel for dinner. When he returned the locker door was open, and the cash box was gone. He thought that possibly W. C. Harris, his partner, had taken the box for safe keeping. However, he soon found Harris had not taken it. Witness then hunted along the boat houses for the thief, and spoke to Mr. Hickey, the ship carpenter, asking if he had seen anyone with a cash box. Witness identified a cash box produced in court.

To Mr. Gordon, who acted for the prisoner, witness said Harris had free access to the locker, but Harris had not had the keys on the day of the theft. There was a $20 bill on the Bank of Toronto in the cash box. There was no one in charge of the boat during the noon hour.

As some of the witnesses wanted by the Crown, friends of the prisoner, left town shortly after the theft, were not present, and others had left since Gorman was arrested, Mr. Wood asked for an adjournment. He further asked that the prisoner be confined in gaol, as the case might be adjourned from time to time if necessary. This he thought, would result in the friends of the prisoner wanted for witnesses, turning up in short order.

Mr. Gordon took exception to the Crown keeping the prisoner locked up as suggested. He asked that the prisoner be allowed out on bail, but this the Magistrate refused to allow.

Mr. Gordon here said under the circumstances he would consent to have his client committed for trial. He did this so that he might apply for bail to the Judge, and thus save the boy being kept in gaol.

Mr Wood explained that His Honor Judge Weller is out of town, and will not be back for a fortnight, so that the prisoner would gain nothing.

The prisoner was committed for trial.

Walter Head was then charged with having sold whiskey to an Indian named John George knowing the same to be an Indian, contrary to the provisions of the Indian Act. Mr. Gordon defended the prisoner.

George, the Indian, in the witness box said he lives at Rama, Simcoe County. He has been at the Chemong Indian Village for some months. He is an Indian and receives government allowance. D. McRae is the Indian Agent of his band. Witness was in Peterborough last week with Dow Taylor, a Chemong Indian. On Friday last got whiskey out of a bottle produced in Court by the Constable of the Indian Village, which he bought at a liquor store managed by Mr. Freeman. He then identified Walter Head, who was in court and said Head sold him the bottle of whiskey. Witness and Taylor bought it. Witness put in 15 cents and Taylor 10 cents. He identified Mr. Freeman as having been in the liquor store, when he bought the whiskey. He and Taylor drove home together and drank the whiskey on the way. He got drunk and was arrested and fined.

To Mr. Gordon, witness said he gets $5 a year from the government.

Dow Taylor next took the stand and corroborated the testimony of George, the preceding Indian.

After some other evidence the case was adjourned until this morning

Children's Aid Society Concert Last Night

The entertainment held in the Market Hall last night, in aid of the Children's Aid Society, was fairly well patronized but not as largely as so commendable a charity should have drawn. One of the features was the moving pictures, the machine being kindly supplied by the Peterborough Light and Power Co., and the film by Mr. Edwards of the "Crystal."

A FAMILY OF FIVE BURNED TO DEATH

Boston, Dec. 27.—Five persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the house of John Clark, at Watertown, a suburb, early today. Every member of the Clark family met death in the flames.

The dead are; John Clark, his wife and three children, John aged 11, Phillip aged 9, and Doris aged 2. The cause of the fire will never be known, as the flames had made great headway when first discovered by a neighbor, shortly after one o'clock. The house was about two miles from the center of the town and by the time the firemen reached the scene the house had been burned almost to the ground. The firemen were able to locate the bodies of the father and two boys, but the mother and little girl were not found until the ruins of the house had cooled sufficiently to permit a more thorough search.

SUNFIELD WENT CALMLY TO DEATH

Hamilton, Dec. 27.—After protesting his innocence in a signed statement issued through his spiritual adviser, Jacob Sunfield, the slayer of Andrew Radzyk, a German Pole, walked unflinchingly to the gallows, smoking a cigar, this morning, and met his fate without a tremor. He was executed shortly after daybreak by Radcliffe, the official hangman.

Sunfield had an affectionate parting with his sister yesterday afternoon. Last night he chatted with the hangman before going to bed. He retired at 11 o'clock and was awakened by one of the death watch at six o'clock this morning. His breakfast consisted of ham and eggs, a plate of toast, a piece of pie and a cup of coffee. He ate sparingly. Dean Mahoney of St Mary's cathedral, remained with him to the end.

Sunfield heard the death warrant read without a quiver. He had to walk the entire length of the yard to the gallows. It was a test of nerve, and Sunfield did not fail. Dean Mahoney walked on his right side and the hangman on the left.

Turnkey Hunter tried to shake hands with Sunfield at the bottom of the gallows. He motioned with a smile that his arms were pinioned. "Good-bye sir," he exclaimed.

"GOOD-BYE, GENTLEMEN."

Just before the black cap was put on he said in a strong voice, "Good-bye, gentlemen, I have been warned to say nothing."

While Dean Mahoney was saying the Lord's Prayer, Radcliffe sprung the trap. Sunfield shot from view. At the end of twelve minutes Dr. Roberts ordered the body cut down—the neck was completely broken.

Sunfield refused a stimulant offered by Dr Roberts. "I am not afraid to face death," he said.

SCORES OF ENGLISHMEN ON THE MARCH BACK TO TORONTO

Eighty of Them, Alleging They were Treated Cruelly by Railway Contractors, Start on 450 Mile Tramp

New Liskeard, Dec 27.—About 80 English immigrants out of employment and with no money started to walk from McDougall's Chutes, 100 miles north of here, to Toronto. The The distance is about 480 miles. Many of them had their feet so badly frozen that they had to be carried as far as Englehart, and then brought to the hospital here. They are lying here, now in a pitiful condition. They all tell of hard usage they received at the hands of some of the contractors of the railway line north of here.

There are a number of men coming into this country without situations and as a result they can get no work here, and are left destitute. Some of the immigrants referred to above obtained enough money to take them to Toronto, but the majority are on the march.

Armed Blacks Urge Others to Revolt

Henrietta, Okla., Dec. 27.—With every available fighting man sworn in as a deputy and only 1,200 pounds of ammunition in the town, Henrietta is fearing a deadly race war as the result of the lynching of James Gardner, a negro, Dec. 21st.

The firing of a small negro hack owned by a white man near the Frisco station yesterday caused a call to arms. Within five minutes after the fire alarm was given nearly 100 armed men were prepared for an attack. Three citizens' patrols have been established.

Thirty-five negroes, heavily armed, passed through Wild Cat, uniting the blacks to revolt. They are camped on the river within ten miles of Henrietta. More than thirty armed black have come from Wellette to Clearview, one of the thickest negro settlements in the central hills. About fifty stands of small arms were purchased by negroes in Wellette before the hardware stores quit selling to the blacks.

Sports

Ottawa Citizen: It develops that Harold Armstrong, who is a teller in one of the local banks, has not been at Renfrew since last Friday, when he informed officers of the club that he was going West on a few holidays, and that he would meet them in Ottawa in time to play with the Victorias. Armstrong did not tell officers of the Renfrew club where he was going, but the general impression is that he has joined the cupholders.

It is possible that Armstrong may be back in time for the matches with Vics but Renfrew are said to be doubtful on this point, and an officer of the club is away looking for Mayora.

Toronto Daily ... out West with the Tecumsehs, disagrees with the Calgary Herald on Art. Burn, the runner. The Calgary Herald says, Arthur Burns chance to get on ... medium distance runner are very good. He has well earned the attack and is one of the few amongst our Canadian-born runners in Canada. If he is not given an opportunity to get on the team it will not be because he does not deserve it. By his training and by his past performances he most decidedly merits the place, and if the team is made up on merit, then Burn will most decidedly go.

OMEMEE

Omemee, Dec. 28.—The building has been purchased lately by Thos. C. Irwin and is very attractive and improvements in the way of electric lights, new floors, walls and stage, etc., making it one of the best concert halls outside of the large towns and cities, and was crowded last night to the doors. About 450 merry people attended the Xmas Concert under auspices of L.O.L. No. 178, at which Miss Eva Cuthbert, vocalist and dancer, with Pigott and Parker, comic vocalists, and Master Rich as accompanist.

From start to finish it was one stream of merriment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone, and the performers were responsive to encores and all the selections were quite new and taking.

Human Slavery Still Being Practised On Dark Continent

Boer War General Tells of Brutalities in West Africa

Try to Rescue Slaves

New York, Dec. 27.—General F. Joubert Piemaar, who fought in the Boer war, arrived here from England yesterday on the steamship New York. This is his first visit to America, and he brings with him a story of the slave trade existing on the West Coast of Africa and of the cruelties practised upon the unfortunate natives. General Piemaar's mission is to expose this human traffic, and he says he has a definite plan by which it can be stopped. This plan he does not care to reveal until he has presented a number of letters of introduction to persons of prominence in this city, whose advice he seeks in carrying out his work.

"There is no man who loves his wife and family more than I do," he said when seen yesterday at No. 424 West 23rd street, "but what I have seen in the Angola province is of such a serious nature that it has impressed me so that I have left my wife and seven children in Cape Town and have out loose from all other affairs to right this great wrong. Everything I say I can prove concerning these poor slaves and their treatment. After the Boer war I sold my property in the Transvaal and attempted to settle in Angola, where there was a Boer colony. After I was elected leader of the colony I was asked by the Portuguese government to supply a force of men to subdue a Kaffir chief. The men of the Portuguese force that went with my men shot the chief, cut off his head and sold it for nine little Kaffirs. They used the head as a cornerstone for a new fort, and planted the Portuguese flag in the mud. I wrote at once to the government, telling its officials that I would not be the leader of men who did such things. Instead of supporting me they hunted me out of the country, and I should never have been here but for the help of the British Consul."

General Piemaar says the rich owners of the cocoa plantations in the islands of Principe and St. Thome, off Cape Palmas—who live in Lisbon—employ slave traders to get the slaves. These slaves, he asserts, are purchased in the interior and are driven to the coast shackled together in fours. A contract is read to them in Portuguese and they are forced to agree to its conditions, which they do not understand. They are then shipped to the Cape Islands, where they invariably die within a year from malarial fever, only to be replaced by others obtained in the same way. They are poorly fed, receive no money for their services, and are horribly treated with cowhide thongs—often beaten to death, he says. The climat of the islands is such that the cocoa trees grow luxuriantly, but it is fatal to the inhabitants. The overseers and the cable company's employes, he says, have to leave before, or as soon as the fever attacks them.

"I have challenged the Portuguese government," said the general, "to produce five slaves who had lived to come back from these islands, and they could not do it. There are three manufacturers of cocoa in England who buy about one-third of the product of these islands. Many of the owners of these plantations are members of the Portuguese government, who will fight to the bitter end any interference in this immensely prosperous industry, the income from which exceeds every other in that country. They connive with the slave traders, who are rich men. They pay on an average $150 for a slave.

The general told of a little Kaffir boy who ran away from his master. When he was caught this master beat him with a "sheoot"—a cowhide thong, dried and twisted like a corkscrew—"until his little body was streaming with blood." He then boiled a piece of Boer stick tobacco and made the boy drink a cupful of the mixture, ending his life by hanging him to a beam by the heels. "And this man," said the general, "boasts of this and similar acts of cruelty to his slaves."

Bravery of Little Jimmie Reid at the Murder Scene

Melton, Nov. 27.—That John Terrace, the murderer of William Curry, who was shot in his home near Elmbank, five miles south of here on Christmas night, intended to kill the entire Curry family, is the general opinion in this neighborhood. A new motive for the crime has been suggested.

Mr. James Curry, the son of the murdered man, states that on Monday night he paid Mr. Arthur Ashley of Brampton, who had been repairing a pump for him, ten dollars in the presence of the hired man.

Terrace made no comment at the time, but next day, when they were cleaning up oats, he remarked; "You seem to have plenty of money to pay your bills!"

"I think," said Mr. Curry, 'that he thought I had money, for although he did not refer to the matter again, he had evidently been thinking it over."

This suggestion is strengthened by the story of Jimmie Reid, the little home boy, who was with the hired man all afternoon. He says he went all over the house, and seemed to be looking for something. As he didn't find anything he may have thought Mr. Curry carried the money in his pocket.

Little Jimmie Reid, who ran for help, deserves credit for his bravery. When the fight between Mr. Curry and the hired man began, he retreated into a corner, where he crouched in terror.

"Run—run for Mr. McKay, Jimmie," called Mr. Curry, as he grappled and strained to overcome his assailant.

"Don't you dare go, Jimmie!" shouted the murderer. But notwithstanding the terror he was in, he bolted for the door, and made his way down the hill and across the creek in the darkness to the McKay house, where he horrified them with his shocking news.

Union Bank of Canada Has Successful Year

A Seven Per Cent. Dividend Paid to Shareholders

Rapidly encroaching upon its semi-centennial as a leading factor in the great financial institutions of Canada and well known throughout the broad world, the Union Bank of Canada on Saturday, December 21st, held its forty-third annual general shareholders' meeting at the Banking House in the historic capital of Canada, that wonderful fortress of Quebec.

Hon. John Sharples, the president, very acceptably filled the chair. The financial statement presented by the directorate was of a nature to inspire confidence, not only in the shareholders of the Union Bank but to show the commercial and financial world at large that this bank, despite the cry of hard times, raised mainly by pessimists, has not impaired the business of the Union Bank. During the past year their business, whilst transacted upon conservative principles has resulted in a 7 per cent. annual dividend being paid on stock. During the past half year, this bank has made a net profit of $196,124.18, whilst the premium on new stock issued was $66,840. The bank besides paying the dividends noted, has placed $100,000 towards Rest Account and given $25,000 towards Officers' Pension Fund, carrying a balance of $42,212.61 to next years account. Another branch has been opened at Cochrane, Alta.

AS ENGLAND DOES IT

One reason why, as a rule, English municipal government is better than it is on this side of the Atlantic is that the English city is really operated as a business corporation. The franchise is limited to those who have an appreciable financial interest in the city, and consequently the average of the voters is higher in intelligence, more interested in good government. The average elects its Board of Directors (Councillors), who elect their President (Mayor), thus carrying out the analogy to the business corporation. If our suffrage for municipal purposes were restricted to the actual stockholders, owners of property enough to pay an appreciable tax, our average voter would also be more intelligent.

CEMENT MANUFACTURERS

The national convention of cement manufacturers held a convention in Chicago, Dec. 17. The average man will be surprised to learn that there are enough cement manufacturers in the United States to hold a convention. Although the man who walks about any city sees cement used in sidewalks and cellars he fails to appreciate the fact that the cement industry is one of the most important in that country as well as in Canada, and that cement is being used in many new and important ways every year.

In 1904 the production of Portland cement in the United States was 58,668,881 barrels. In 1905 it increased to 76,832,812 barrels. In 1906 the total production of all kinds of cement was 84,480,445 barrels of 350 pounds each. The amount of cement produced in the country was 4.6 times as great in 1906 as in 1897 and its value was 6.7 times as great. This great increase has placed cement eighth in value among the mineral products of the United States.

The buildings of the future, when not steel skyscrapers, are as likely to be of concrete as of any material now known and used. Constant experimenting reveals new ways to make concrete buildings more safe, while at the same time new excellences are being discovered. Edison is going to build homes for workingmen out of concrete. Hotels, warehouses and other buildings requiring great strength to support weight are made of reinforced concrete. In Chicago the first church made entirely of concrete has all the massiveness of a classic temple combined with all modern requirements for comfort. And the building material in concrete is Portland cement. The cement manufacturers are important people.

In Canada an even greater ratio of progress is said to have developed during the past few years, so that the "cement" age may now be said to have set in.

As we are overstocked in calendars in order to reduce stock we have marked down all 50 cent lines to 25 cents. Times Bookstore, Peterborough.

Prominent Physician Takes Lockjaw

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Dr. Joseph Pearsden, a scientist, occupying one of the foremost positions with large packing firm, last night underwent surgical operations at the hands of physicians in the Chicago Baptist Hospital but he realized that the attack of lockjaw from which he was suffering would prove fatal, and urged them to end his life with a drug. The surgeons about him, inured as they were to the sufferings of others, hesitated before the dumb appeal of this man of science, probably more skilled in the effects of the disease which had seized him than any other man in the country, and then turned away for fear that they might grant his wish. Before the verdict of the dying men on his own life they were silenced, for there could have been no higher authority than his opinion.

When he found that the law, written and unwritten, would not permit his fellows to end his sufferings, Dr. Pearsden resigned himself to the care of the nurses. He heard his physicians say that if he lived another day there was hope for him. He shook his head. They pretended not to notice, and left him in charge of a nurse, with soothing lotions to quiet his pain.

Today will prove whether the dying expert correctly diagnosed his own case.

If Dr. Pearsden's expert opinion is justified, he will no longer be regarded as infallible in the one disease in which he has made a special study and won his reputation.

On Christmas Eve, while arranging a Christmas tree for his children in his home, Dr. Pearsden was stricken with acute lockjaw. The injury, which brought on tetanus, was a compound fracture of the nose, sustained a week ago. Dr. Pearsden was going through a dark passageway leading from his laboratory to another part of the establishment, when he fell down a short flight of stairs and struck his nose on a board. The hurt caused an abrasion of the skin, and the germs of tetanus infected it.

Making Radium

Vienna, Dec. 25.—Three grammes (about 46 grains) of radium were made in the university laboratory here. This is the greatest quantity yet produced, and to obtain it ten tons of uranium pitchblende had to be employed. This material was given by the Austrian Government to the Academy of Science. It was produced from the Government mines at Joachimsthal, Bohemia, which up to the present is the only known source of this costly mineral, and was brought to Vienna. The process of obtaining the radium cost $10,000. Important experiments will now be begun at the Vienna Laboratory to ascertain whether the theory of Sir William Ramsay, that radium and radium emanations can be converted into other elements, especially into helium and lithium, be correct or not. The Vienna Academy of Science, in recognition of the great services rendered by the English scientist in connection with radium discoveries will lend him a fraction of a gramme of the valuable stuff for purposes of experiment. On the basis of the figure quoted above a pound of radium would cost $1,760,000.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. All dealers.

Strange Use For a Tunnel.

In Edinburgh there is a derelict railway tunnel nearly a mile long which has been put to the strange use of growing mushrooms. The portals are furnished with doors, and one line of rails has been removed to make room for the beds, but the other track remains to facilitate the dispatch of the mushrooms in trucks.—Wide Awake Magazine.

A Bicyclist Recommends Pe-ru-na.

He says: "I have been a bicyclist for over five years. Last spring I caught cold causing catarrh. I took Peruna, and am well. I often recommend Peruna to my friends."

Many Athletes Praise Pe-ru-na. Builds Up Worn-Out Systems.

MR. JOHN PERRAULT.

Mr. John Perrault, 335 Davidson street, Boulevard St. Paul, near Montreal, Canada, writes:

"I have been a bicyclist for over five years, and last spring I caught cold and did not take anything for it, for I thought it was not bad enough, but it came to catarrh. I was so discouraged that I didn't know what to do. I could not sleep; I always felt tired and troubled.

"Finally I began to take Peruna. After I had taken one bottle I felt better. I took another one, and now I am well. I would like to always feel as I do to-day. I often recommend Peruna to my friends."

Close Confinement.

Mr. G. W. Woodbury, Rogers, Ohio, formerly Captain and Center of the Hiram College Basket Ball Team, writes: "There are times in the life of every student when excessive study and too close confinement and attention to the object in view will tell on your health. "I have found that when body and mind alike are weary and refuse to work, a few doses of Peruna restores lost strength and invigorates one quicker and more permanently than anything I know.

"It gives one nerves of iron and muscles of steel, and assists the mental activities together with the physical to a wonderful degree."

The athlete knows the importance of being in fine form. Peruna is a valuable assistant to anyone who wishes to keep himself in vigorous health every day

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

shine on the sleeping city, and day was breaking in the east ere Nathaniel Deane arose from the table where he had sat the livelong night, gloating over his treasure, and writing a letter which now lay upon the table. It was addressed to Dora, and in it he told her what he had done, blessing her for sending him that lock of hair, and saying that the sight of it made his withered heart grow young and green again, as it was in the happy days when he so madly loved her mother. Then he told her how he yearned to behold her, to look upon her face and see whom she was like, her father or her mother. Both were very dear to him, and for their sake he loved their child.

"No one will ever call me father," he wrote, "and I am lonely in my Indian home, lined all over, as it is, with gold, and sometimes, Dora, since early, I have thought I would return to America, and, seeking out some pleasant spot, would build a home for you and me. And this I would do were I sure that I was wanted there—that you would be happier with me than with your aunt and cousins. Are they kind to you, my child? Sometimes, in my reveries, I have fancied they were not—have dreamed of a girlish face, with looks like that against which my old heart is beating, and eyes of deep dark blue, looking wistfully at me across the waste of waters, and telling me of cruel neglect and indifference. Were this indeed so, not all India would keep me a moment from your side.

"Write to me, Dora, and tell me of yourself, that I may judge something of your character. Tell me, too, if you ever think of the lonesome old man who, each night of his life, remembers you in his prayers, asking that if on earth he may never look on Fannie's child, he may at last meet and know her in the better land. And now farewell, my daughter, mine by adoption, if from no other cause.

"Write to me soon, and tell me if at home there is one who would kindly welcome back

"Your rough old
"Uncle Nat."

"She'll answer that," the old man said, as he read it over. "She'll tell me to come home," and, like a very child, his heart bounded with joy as he thought of breathing again the air of the Western World.

The letter was sent; and with it we, too, will return to America, and going backward for a little take up our story at a period three months subsequent to the time when Eugenia wrote to Uncle Nat.

CHAPTER XIV.

One year had passed away since the night when Ella Hastings died, and alone in his chamber the husband was musing of the past, and holding, as it were, communion with the departed, who seemed this night to be so near that once he said aloud, "Ella, are you with me now?" But to his call there came no answer, save the falling of the summer rain; and again, as it had lain one year ago, he asked himself if to the memory of the dead he had thus long been faithful; if no thought of another had mingled with his love for her; and was it to ascertain this that she had come back to him to-night, for he felt that she was there, and again he spoke aloud, "I have not forgotten you, darling; but I am lonesome, oh, so lonesome, and the world looks dark and drear. Lay your hand upon my heart, dear Ella, and you will feel its weight of pain."

But why that sudden lifting of the head, as if a spirit hand had indeed touched him with its icy fingers? Howard Hastings was not afraid of the dead, and it was not this which made him start so nervously to his feet. His ear had caught the sound of a light footstep in the hall below, and coming at that hour of a stormy night it startled him, for he remembered that the outer door had been left unbolted. Nearer and nearer it came, up the winding stairs, and on through the silent hall, until it reached the threshold of his chamber, where it ceased, while a low voice spoke his name.

In an instant he was at the door, standing face to face with Dora Deane, whose head was uncovered and whose hair was drenched with the rain.

"Dora," he exclaimed, "how came you here and wherefore have you come?"

"Your child!" was her only answer, and in another moment he too was out in the storm with Dora Deane, whose hand he involuntarily took in his, as if to shield her from the darkness.

In a few words she told him how she had been aroused from her sleep by her aunt, who said the baby was dying with the croup; that the servant was timid and refused to go either for him or the physician, and so she had come herself.

"And were you not afraid?" he asked; and the heroic girl answered, "No; I fancied Ella was with me, cheering me on, and I felt no fear."

Mr. Hastings made no reply, but when he reached the house, and saw the white, waxen face of his child, he felt that Ella had indeed been near to him that night; that she had come for her little one, who, with a faint, moaning cry, stretched its hands towards Dora as she entered the room. And Dora took it in her arms, holding it lovingly there until the last painful struggle was over, and the father, standing near, knew that wife and child had met together in heaven.

At the foot of the garden, beneath the evergreens where he had wished to lay his other Ella, they buried the little girl, and then Howard Hastings was indeed alone in the world—alone in his great house, which seemed doubly desolate now that all were gone. For many weeks he did not go to Locust Grove, but remained in his quiet rooms, brooding over his grief and going often to the little grave beneath the evergreens. There once at the hour of sunset, he found Eugenia planting flowers above his sleeping child! She had marveled much that he stayed so long away, and, learning that the sunset hour was always spent in the garden, she had devised a plan for meeting him. It succeeded, and with well-feigned embarrassment she was hurrying away when he detained her, bidding her tarry while he told her how much he thanked her for her kindness to his child.

"I wished to come to Locust Grove," he said, "and thank you all, but I could not, for there is now no baby face to greet me."

"But there are those there still who would welcome you with pleasure," softly answered Eugenia, and then, with her dark eyes sometimes on the ground and sometimes looking very pityingly on him, she acted the part of a consoler, telling him how much better it was for the child to be at rest with its mother.

And while she talked darkness fell upon them, so that Howard Hastings could not see the look of triumph which the dark eyes wore when he said, "You must not go home alone, Miss Deane. Let me accompany you."

So the two went together very slowly down the long avenue, and when over an imaginary stone the fair Eugenia stumbled the arm of Howard Hastings was offered for her support and then more slowly still they continued on their way. From that time Mr. Hastings was often at Eugenia's side, and before the autumn was gone he had more than once been told she was to be his wife. And each time that he heard it, it affected him less painfully, until at last he himself began to wonder how it were possible for him ever to have disliked and distrusted a person so amiable, so intelligent and so agreeable as Eugenia Deane! Still he could never quite satisfy himself that he loved her, for there was something which always came up before him whenever he seriously thought of making her his wife. This something he could not define, but when, as he sometimes did, he fancied Eugenia the mistress of his house, there was always in the background the form of Dora Deane, gliding noiselessly about him, as she did that night when first she came to Rose Hill. He saw but little of her now, for whenever he called Eugenia managed to keep from the room both mother, sister, and cousin choosing to be alone with the handsome widower, who lingered late and lingered long, dreading a return to his lonely home.

Eugenia was now daily expecting an answer to her letter, and, feeling sure that it would bring the money, she began to talk to Mr. Hastings of her new piano, playfully remarking that as he was a connoisseur in such matters, she believed she should call on him to aid in her selection; and this he promised to do, thinking the while of the unused instrument in his deserted parlor, and feeling strongly tempted to offer her its use. Thus the weeks passed on, while Eugenia became more and more impatient for the letter.

Nurses' Fees.

A good deal of discussion has been aroused on the subject of the large fees received by certain nurses in New York. As a rule, patients are able to protect themselves from extortion by aid of a natural and healthy competition, and in England the custom of supplying nurses through co-operation tends to equalize the rate of payment. The difference between fees in London and New York is partly one of organization, the two or three guineas a week received by the Englishwoman being pure profit, while the five guineas of the American have to provide her with the expense of living out. Even taking this into account, the amount which the New York patient often has to pay seems high, reaching occasionally a total of $35, or £7, a week.—London Hospital.

Test of Many Uses.

During the recent army maneuvers the French troops were using for the first time an instrument which for variety of adaptation probably approaches to a record. It is a kind of concave lance shaft, or gouge, about eight inches broad at the base and with a handle about twelve inches long. This implement is a shovel, a pointed bar, a trenching pick, a wire cutter, a wood chopper and can be used for bread and meat.—London Globe.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring almost immediate help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing, antiseptic balm, put up in hermetical sealed capped glass jars at 25c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Peroxidine, liquefied by Dr. Shoop from Borax. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Sample Catarrh, a test of general strength, blood, building, nerve tonic, and tonic, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For unquestionable Catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,400 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out, more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the [illegible] of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the large gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the largest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this a [illegible] mining proposition, there being an abundance of [illegible] lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from [illegible] to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore, in fact the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by [illegible] miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one [illegible] stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This [illegible] mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, yielding the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places [illegible] and have made free gold tests, finding an average of [illegible] and from 3 to 25 per cent copper. [illegible] this ore. If the Antigua mines continue to develop [illegible] 1,000 tons smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and money [illegible] but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth [illegible] par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly [illegible] there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months. DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

A Woman's Suffering

Consultations With Doctors and Specialists Gave But Little Relief.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 30.—Mrs. R. J. Rawlings, of 12 Argyle street, gives the following statement which should be of interest to every reader: "No one could know what I have suffered with torturing headaches, faintfeeling, and lassitude. In the mornings I was scarcely able to do my work and when night came I felt too miserable to sleep. The doctors did me little good, so I decided to buy Dr. Hamilton's Pills about which I have heard so much good. In a week I improved. My headaches were less severe, my appetite increased, and faintness passed away. Day by day I gained strength, and increased in weight. The trouble I am sure was in my stomach, and Dr. Hamilton's Pills did what was necessary. I used twenty boxes and in consequence will live twenty years longer."

Just the prescription for every tired, ailing woman,—try Dr. Hamilton's Pills and see if this isn't so. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box.

Funeral Held Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon a sad ceremony was in evidence when the infant son, aged only two or three months, of Mr. Cluney, was laid to rest in the Roman Catholic cemetery. The death of this little one was a sad bereavement to the afflicted parents. The baby contracted an attack of measles recently, which unfortunately struck inwardly resulting in the death of the little one.

Mr. Larocque Won the Turkey

Mr. J. B. Larocque, proprietor of the Montreal House, won the big Christmas turkey offered by Mr. Alex. Gordon, the local meat merchant, to the party making the best guess as to its weight. The bird tipped the beam at 24 pounds and 3 ounces. Mr. Larocque made three guesses, the lucky one being 24 pounds and two ounces.

He wished one and all the compliments of the season.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CITY GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION A GREAT SUCCESS

The Galveston Plan Works Wonders

Puts Stop to Graft and Ensures Good Government

In September, 1900, after their city had been desolated, six thousand of their brethren slain, and seventeen million dollars' worth of property destroyed, Galveston's people, with a sublime civic devotion, determined to rebuild their fallen municipality and in the task they set themselves, discovered the uselessness of their old system of government. They realized the spirit of democracy essential in every city; the city sense. They realized the folly of boards and ward boundaries—and they abolished them and evolved a commission plan.

Under this system four commissioners are elected by the people, and these are the only four officials elected. All power is vested in this quartette. They are mayor, council, and all the boards conjointly. They are responsible to the people alone. One is president, and, in a sense, mayor; another has charge of the streets and public properties; a third has control of revenue and finances; and the fourth looks after waterworks and sewerage.

Des Moines has, in addition to this Commission, the recall, the initiative and referendum, including the compulsory references of all franchises to the people. Thus the people retain the veto power in themselves, and by passing on all franchise grants have strangled corporate bribery and graft. Officials are chosen, under the charter, with reference to their views on city issues and not on State or national issues. Party systems have no weight in municipal elections.

These western movements show the unmistakable drift of power toward the people and not away from them. In Canada similar conditions to a limited extent prevail. Our present system is not proving a success. While there is perhaps not much graft, there is a manifest lack of business acumen. How different things would be even in our own Peterborough if our civic affairs were managed as a purely business proposition. Our civic officials are becoming humorous that they are often in each other's way. High priced labor is frequently employed on jobs that are made to last as long as possible.

We do not hope for relief under the present system. All we can hope for is to gradually develop something better and more in keeping with modern civilization.

Gets High Title and British Gold

Former Canadian Proves Right to Vast Estate

Marinette, Wis., Dec. 28.—From a secure real estate man and heraldic an English nobleman and heir to estimated at many millions, the Aladdin-like record of George Northedge of this city.

He is sole heir to an estate valued at $1,185,000 in Montreal and one of seventy-five heirs to a bigger English estate.

He now is also Sir George William Northey-Northedge.

He is about 66 years of age and left here has been in England. He was born in Toronto and served in the union army in the civil war, as did his brother, who were wounded.

TO CLAIM VAST ESTATE.

Northedge, with an attorney, will soon go to Montreal to adjust the estate there, and from Montreal they will journey to England.

In England Sir George William Northey-Northedge will come into his own.

The story reads like a fairy tale, but the documents and proofs were found by attorney J. H. Frankie of Milwaukee and substantiate the claims. The records of births in Hartford, Conn., in the month of March, 1841, which have been obtained by Mr. Frankie, show that on the fourth day of that month a son was born to Col. William Northedge, and the Marinette man gives that date as the time of his birth.

His father, Col. William Northedge, died, ignorant of the fact that $1,000,000 awaited his pleasure in the Bank of England. His death was the result of wounds received in the civil war.

WILL NOT DESERT AMERICA.

George Northedge himself, when interviewed, showed plainly that as yet he does not realize the extent of the possessions that are supposed to be his, as he said that he would never become other than an American citizen and that he would invest all the money, if he got it, in American real estate.

"When an English attorney came to me in Chicago, where I was in the real estate business, and told me that I was heir to a fortune of $1,000,000, I received part of it and was supposed to go over to England and establish my claim to the rest.

"I thought it would be well to be satisfied with what I had already received, so I came up into Marinette county and took up a homestead. However, I am positive of my right to the title of Sir George William Northedge."

ONE OF FAMILY IN CHICAGO

Unaware of his distinguished lineage and financial prospects, Chicago cordially harbored a member of the family of Sir George Northedge for a few months preceding last May. At that time William H. Northedge left the boarding house at 16 Lincoln Park boulevard where he had been living, and returned to his old home in Marinette county, Wis. He ordered his mail forwarded to the town of Wausau, and that was supposed to be his home. He is 35 years old and is presumed to be the son of the new nobleman. When in Chicago he was employed as a switchman, but became homesick and he came to this city and accompanied home. Fellow lodgers at the house said last night that the [illegible] had never told anything [illegible] family except that it was in [illegible] circumstances.

Latest Reports of Departments

Number of Industrial Accidents in November was 372

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 30.—Industrial accidents occurring to 372 individual work people in Canada during the month of November were reported to the Department of Labor. One hundred and forty-two accidents were fatal and 230 resulted in serious injuries. In addition, three fatal accidents were reported as having taken place prior to the beginning of the month, information not having been received by the department before November. The number of fatal accidents reported in November, 1907, was two more than for the previous month, and 25 more than in November, 1906. Of 195 returns received during the month giving the age of the victims of industrial accidents, 22 referred to persons under 21 years of age, 14 to persons between 21 and 45, and 12 to persons over 65. One hundred and sixteen persons were over 21 years of age, but their exact ages were not specified.

Representatives of the various West Indian colonies are to assemble at Barbados, on January 14, in a conference for the consideration of agricultural and other matters of general concern. The time is deemed favorable for the consideration of closer relations between Canada and the West Indies. Sir Daniel Morris, the Imperial Commissioner of Agriculture for the West Indies, who has taken an active interest in the movement, has invited Canada to send representatives to the conference. The invitation has been accepted. It is understood that the Canadian representatives will be Mr. W. G. Parmelee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, whose official duty has brought him largely into consideration of the subject, and Mr. A. E. Jones, of Halifax, a merchant of large experience in the trade between Canada and the West Indies. The delegates will sail from Halifax shortly.

The Inland Revenue Department has issued a bulletin on the inspection of milk from 343 samples collected during July and August. The samples represent all the inspectoral districts of Canada, with the exception of Manitoba. The average percentage of genuine samples is 83, which is higher than any previous inspection. Toronto and British Columbia stand out prominently as districts in which the milk supply is of very low quality. The percentage for Toronto is 43, that for British Columbia 53, Calgary, London, Ottawa and Kingston head the list with 100 per cent. Montreal comes next with 97, New Brunswick 96, Nova Scotia 83, St. Hyacinthe 77, Prince Edward Island 73, and Quebec 69. Of the 343 samples 171 were normal, 111 abnormal, 36 skimmed or partly skimmed, 21 watered and 4 doubtful.

Presentation to North Monaghan Teacher

A pleasing function was in evidence a few days ago in the North Monaghan school when Miss Ellen Switzer of St. Mary's, who has been a teacher in the Monaghan school for several years, was presented with a gold bracelet. Miss Switzer thanked her pupils, referring to the many pleasant associations with them.

On the same evening about sixty-five young people gathered at the residence of Mr. Jas. Lillie, and presented Miss Switzer with several beautiful presents. A pleasant time was spent and the party remained until the time arrived for Miss Switzer to leave to meet the 5.10 early morning C.P.R. train for St. Marys. Several young people accompanied her to the station and saw her away.

Woman Sacrifices Her Own Life That Children May Live

New York, Dec. 29.—Starving herself that her four children might have sufficient food to sustain life, Mrs. Phoebe Prince, who was taken to the eastern district hospital from a barren room in Williamsburgh, died a few hours later as a result of the privations she had undergone.

Notwithstanding the mother's sacrifice, neighbors who learned of the conditions found that the children had had nothing to eat since early Christmas morning.

The physicians who attended the dying woman say that her weakness and emaciation had reached such a stage, that their best efforts were of no effect in reviving her, except for a few moments, when she was aroused sufficiently to recognize her children and found them already wonderfully improved by the warmth and food provided for them.

All four are reported now as healthy and comfortable, their reserves of youthfulness and vitality having pulled them through with the assistance of the other's unselfish devotion, her sacrifice having proved effective.

POLICE.

Jas. Christian, who hails from Nova Scotia, was in the police court Saturday morning on a charge of vagrancy, and wanted to be sent to jail.

"What is he doing here?" asked the magistrate. "Doing nothing," answered the chief. "Where do you come from?" was the next question.

The "vag" informed his worship that for the past two months he had been working for a farmer in Dunsmore.

"The jail is loaded up now," said his worship, "and then you don't belong to the city and we can't keep you."

His worship directed Christian to County Magistrate Edmison, who would probably make arrangements for his removal to the House of Refuge at Lakefield.

ARMY HORSES WILL BE THE REAL LIVE WIRES OF BATTLE

Commander of the Cavalry Can Receive Messages from His Advance While the Advance is on the Move--Each Man on the Circuit Hears What the Other Is Sending

Washington, Dec. 28.—Army officials are greatly pleased over the news that cavalry officers now can use the telephone a-horseback, owing to the recent invention of Lieutenant A. C. Knowles, of the United States Signal Corps.

Under this new system a horse becomes a moving field telephone and immediately available for communication with the headquarters of the army (in the field or any) base of operations with which quick communication is desired.

The plan proposed contemplates the equipment of each mounted courier carrying messages from headquarters to corps in the field with a light battery weighing about five pounds.

This battery is carried in the saddle pads. When communication with headquarters is desired, the man in the saddle unsheaths a light wire. This wire, attached to the battery, is then placed in contact with the body of the horse. The current thus conveyed to the horse's body, and accentuated, as possible, by a wet saddle cloth, is transmitted through the steel plates on the horse's hoofs to the ground, and thus a ground conduction is made.

The man in the saddle unhooks the receiver and transmitter and promptly is in communication with the staff headquarters. The officers of the Signal Corps think this invention will revolutionize and facilitate field movements.

Heretofore messages had to be sent from headquarters by courier and their delivery assumed. Couriers, however, are sometimes killed and often captured. This invention will enable a courier to report the delivery of a message, so the general in command will know that his orders are to be obeyed.

Sometimes battles are lost and moves frustrated by failure to deliver orders. Messages can, of course, be sent from headquarters over the telegraph lines as fast as they have been completed by the Signal Corps but there are many places in the field which the lines do not reach.

At such places the problem is solved by the signalman or cavalryman adjusting a piece of wire to an instrument in his pocket, letting the wire touch the flesh of the horse and instantaneously the connection is made with the telephone at the base of operations. The operator on horseback, in order to let the current flow freely, attaches a piece of wet cloth to the body of the horse by means of the saddle girth.

Equipped in that fashion, the trooper can at any place in the field, at rest or moving, "call" headquarters, report what is going on, and receive orders for immediate transmission to the front.

Major G. O. Squire, who is in charge of Signal Corps work at Fort Leavenworth, is now in Washington. He said today that the experiments have proved eminently successful, and that this method of communication is not known to other armies.

One of the experts at Fort Leavenworth is Lieutenant Reginald Sheldon. He is a practical operator in this new kind of communication.

Major Squire says that Lieutenant Sheldon has frequently communicated while on foot with a company of signal corps men at great distances by means of the telephone without wires other than the human body itself.

Lieutenant Sheldon is also an expert telephone operator on horseback according to the method just described.

Rev. Pearson, Strathroy, Preached Yesterday

Anniversary sermons were yesterday preached at both morning and evening, in George street Methodist church, Rev. M. L. Pearson, Strathroy, conducted the services. Mr. Pearson is the guest of his son at the parsonage.

From 1888 to 1890 Mr. Pearson, sr., was pastor of the church to which his son came from Toronto in June last. Mr. Pearson, sr., came to Peterborough from Lindsay in 1888, at which time he was president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, which territorite since leaving Peterborough has been as follows:—Orangeville, Brampton, Barrie, Collingwood, Berkley St., Toronto, Strathroy. While at Brockton, Mr. Pearson was elected president of the Toronto conference.

His many friends of former days were delighted to see and hear Mr. Pearson yesterday.

Kaid's Father Says It Is Hard to Wait

London, Dec. 28.—"Strange that one man should defy the might and majesty of Great Britain and Ireland!"

General Maclean, father of the Kaid, spoke with the deliberation of extreme age, when interviewed by William Maxwell of the Mail. "I am in my ninety-sixth year, and it is hard to wait so long."

The grand old Scot, who lives at Kew, springs from a race of soldiers who have borne themselves gallantly since the days of Culloden, when General Maclean and his three sons fought side by side with the Camerons.

"Time was when our soldiers would have landed and torn the brigand from his mountain fastness." The veteran stretched his hands towards the warmth, and gazing into the blazing heart of the fire, saw visions of the glories of the past. "Words have taken the place of deeds. We live in degenerate days. Zeal is a crime, and indifference has become a virtue."

"You did not see Harry?" he added, after a long pause.

"No. I spent five weeks near the foot of the mountains, but was forbidden to go to him."

"It was a great consolation to us to know that one of Harry's friends was in Morocco," said the Kaid's sister. "You have had letters from my brother?"

Since the tenth of the month no communication had come from the Kaid. I had, however, a bundle of letters, from which I read passages showing how Raisuli treated his prisoner—now with indulgence and now with oppression, as the wind blew from Tangier—and how the Kaid endured captivity and persecution with a dauntless heart.

The old general squared his shoulders. "He was never afraid of doing his duty."

Roman Catholic's Generous Offer

Chatham, Ont., Dec. 30.—The Methodist congregation at Raleigh Plains is about to build a new church on the corner of the Florida farm, owned by Mr. James Blythe. Mr. Blythe refused to sell the land, but gave half an acre free. His generosity is more appreciated because he does not belong to the Methodist Church, being a Roman Catholic.

British Battleship Coming to Esquimalt to Augment Fleet

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 29.—H.M.S. Algerine has been ordered to Esquimalt from Hong Kong to augment the fleet maintained here since the withdrawal of the Pacific squadron.

Advices to this effect were received at Esquimalt today. The Algerine will be placed in commission at Hong Kong in January, with volunteers from the China squadron, and will be ready to start across the ocean about the end of next month.

The complement of men to be carried by the Algerine will be 150, and it is expected that it will be completed in one week, after which she will be provisioned and made ready to leave.

The ordering of the Algerine to Esquimalt has again raised the report that the British admiralty will despatch a squadron to Esquimalt during the early part of the coming year.

Japan will Restrict Emigration to the United States

Tokio, Dec. 29.—A discussion of the Japanese government's program and method of limitation of emigration has commenced between the foreign office and American Ambassador O'Brien immediately after the departure of Canadian Minister of Labor Lemieux, Baron Chinda, vice-minister of foreign affairs, drove to the American embassy from the station and discussed the American proposals and suggestions offered by Ambassador O'Brien for the help of the Japanese government. It is understood that the discussion was eminently satisfactory and that a memorandum on the subject in the shape of a reply will soon be forthcoming.

It is quite evident now that the Japanese government recognizes that mistakes of administration on the part of a minor official in the past created the present difficult situation, and is determined that the future restriction of immigration will make complaints from the American government and people impossible.

The difficulty of dealing with the possibility of emigrants going over the borders of Canada and Mexico is now occupying much attention, because it is recognized that while the possibility continues it will not be possible to prevent a recurrence of complaints.

Xmas Dinner Spoilt by a Kitten in a Fit

A joke too good to suppress, whilst actually true, and not a lithographed so much per column story is told on undeniable authority, in fact by the person most affected, re some Christmas pies. It seems that a resident of, let us say Samoa street, had been promised some pumpkin pies by his good wife for Christmas dinner.

The good lady made the pies and hubby, on Xmas Eve rather talked about his coming treat. Yesterday a Time representative asked him, "Say ——, how did those pumpkin pies go on Christmas?" "Oh! Pumpkin pies be jiggered. Look here, you know we have a kitten, don't you? Well that confounded kitten took a fit on Xmas Eve and after scaling the perpendicular wall, got on the shelf where Mrs. —— had put those pies. That infernal cat seemed to expend all the energies of its fit on the pies. It clawed them, bit them and it tore them up so that the pies looked worse than a cancelled postage stamp struck by a tornado. However, I got even with the fitty cat. I put it in a basket and carried it out near Jackson Park and then let it go. This however did not get my pumpkin pies Xmas dinner."

HIT BY TIDAL WAVE OF THE "BLUE" LAW THE "WHITE" SUNDAY

Cities in the United States Feel the Effect of the "White Sunday" Movement--N. Y. City Passes New Law

New York, Dec. 29.—Although the New York board of Aldermen has put the ban on blue Sundays, much to the delight of the majority of the citizens, yet the blue law appears to be gathering force in other parts of the country.

According to the latest ruling in the metropolis, Sunday concerts will be resumed and theaters can give performances either sacred or educational.

But in Omaha, Kansas City, Troy, New Orleans, and Council Bluffs, things are not so happily arranged.

In all of these cities there promises to be similar conditions today to those which were in force last Sunday.

ST. LOUIS CONSIDERING.

In St. Louis the prosecuting attorneys of Missouri counties, sixty-five out of one hundred and fourteen, are holding a convention with the object of devising means for even stricter enforcement of local option. The convention, many members of which will adopt a resolution recommending that the next legislature enact additional legislation looking to the control of the liquor traffic.

St. Louis is now dry as a bone on Sundays, as are all the larger cities of the State, and with the most of the rural communities having local option and other elections in sight, the attorneys say that the whole State will be dry a year from Jan. 1. The convention here is being held under the auspices of the State Anti Saloon League.

THE NEW ORLEANS SITUATION.

In New Orleans there is an honest effort being made to close the saloons on Sunday. There are about ten saloons to every policeman, and the saloons are more active than the latter. Last Sunday there was as near "blue" as has been for years.

Kansas City has had seven Sundays like the last, November 3, Judge William M. Wallace, of the criminal court, by means of a "personally conducted" grand jury, ordered everything except newspapers, newsstands and fruit stores to close on Sunday.

All except two theaters defied him, and some pool halls and cigar stores remained open. As a result, managers, players, stage hands, actors and all employes of the "Chinese Shops" were indicted by the grand jury on 136 counts, were arrested and released on bonds aggregating $12,000.

NO BACKSLIDING IN OMAHA.

That Omaha's Sunday closing has come to stay, at least for the time being, seems assured by the fines imposed in court when a number of those arrested for working last Sunday were called up for trial.

The Nebraska closing law leaves to the judgment of the court the necessary work which may be attended to on Sunday, in the trial elevator, conductors and steam handlers were the only people discharged because of necessity of the occupation. Wagon drivers, baggage delivery, bootblacks, cigar salesmen, livery men and livery workmen, photographers, operators in a messenger service, and others of similar classes were fined. Until the same case is appealed to the supreme court and the law is reversed, Omaha will be closed as tight as a clam.

HARD ON THE THIRSTY.

Davenport's bid. tried on last Sunday, fits so well that it promises to stay on tight for some time to come. Insistence of political foes of Governor Cummins that he enforce the liquor laws have put Davenport under the spot-light so glaringly that Attorney-General Byers served notice that saloons must close Sundays and at ten o'clock at night.

Old Battleship is Made Target of Modern Shells

London, Dec. 28.—The old battleship Hero, of the British navy, has been battered into scrap iron by modern shell fire raining into her by two of the newest men-of-war in King Edward's fleet. The twenty-year-old warship, long since useless as a fighting machine, has shared the fate of the veteran Belisle, which two or three years ago was sacrificed to modern gunnery.

The Hero now lies a shattered hulk off the Kentish coast, and would probably have gone to the bottom, but for the fact that she rests on a shoal called the Kentish Knock. At high water she is nearly submerged.

Gunnery is now the chief aim of the British admiralty. Ordinary target practice is not realistic enough, so real ships must be fired at to test the effect of modern shell on armor-clad vessels.

The doomed ship was moored on the Kentish Knock shoal, near the mouth of the Thames, and prepared for the sacrifice. Her sides were divided into lettered sections by bands of white paint, as a guide to the classification of the hits scored. Then she was left alone to await the rain of shells which was to be poured into her.

The ships selected to practice their gunnery upon the old Hero were the Dominion and the Hibernia, two of the most modern battleships in the royal navy. Their guns were trained on the iron-belt and gun-turret of the Hero, the armor of which is from eight to twelve inches thick. The bombardment commenced at a range of between 6000 and 7,000 yards—a distance at which modern battles may be fought.

After a few ineffectual rounds, the gunners of the Dominion and the Hibernia found the range, and then commenced a deadly stream of 12-inch shells. If the Hero had been in fighting condition she would have been helpless to return the fire after the first few shots, one of which hit her turret and rendered her two big guns useless by carrying away the muzzles.

Soon the old battleship was riddled with shot holes, and had one yawning, jagged hole just above the water line. Her funnel, fighting top, and top hamper went by the board, only her single mast, by some miracle, escaping the general destruction. The armor plate was pierced through and through as if it were tinfoil.

When she had been subjected to three pourdings of this merciless character, the tough old Hero sank and rested on the shoal.

Beside the effect of the shell fire on her armor, the effect of the test was to ascertain the influence of gunfire on delicate electrical instruments used aboard modern warships.

News Briefs

Quebec Dec. 30.—Hon. John Sharples, M.L.C., president of the Union Bank of Canada, has been made a knight of St. Gregory the Great by the Pope, in consideration of his establishment of a children's ward in the Hotel Dieu Hospital and of other services to the cause of religion and charity.

Toronto, Ont., December 30.—That the immigration of Canada will closely approach the 300,000 mark for 1907, is the statement made by Mr. W. D. Scott, head of the Immigration Department at Ottawa, who was visiting Toronto yesterday. Mr. Scott declined to discuss the local situation further than to say that, with the present heavy immigration to Canada, it is inevitable that there should be a certain amount of congestion in the cities in winter time. This, he said, was because the farmers cannot employ the immigrant farm laborer all the year round.

Henrietta, Okla., Dec. 30.—With every available fighting man sworn in as a deputy and only 1,300 pounds of ammunition in the town, Henrietta is fearing a deadly race war as the result of the lynching of James Garden, a negro, December 24.

The firing of a small negro shack owned by a white man near the Frisco station yesterday caused a call to arms. Within five minutes after the fire alarm was given nearly 100 armed men were prepared for an attack. Three citizens' patrols have been established.

Thirty-five negroes, heavily armed, passed through Wild Cat, inciting the blacks to revolt. They are camped on the river within 10 miles of Henrietta. More than thirty armed blacks have gone from Weletka to Clearview, one of the thickest negro settlements in the coal fields. About fifty stands of small arms were purchased by negroes in Weletka before the hardware stores quit selling to the blacks.

Murdered Woman Not Yet Identified

Newark, N.J., Dec. 28.—The identity of the young woman, whose body was found in a pond in Harriston, a suburb of this city, yesterday, remains unknown. For nearly twenty-four hours the body has lain in the morgue, and the features have been viewed by hundreds of persons, but none of them ever saw the woman before. In view of this and further investigations which have been made, the police are inclined to believe that the woman was a visitor to Newark from some nearby city. That she may have been a resident of Brooklyn seems not unlikely, as of Brooklyn seems not unlikely as the coat found near the body was purchased in that city. As yesterday, however, the officials here have not been advised of any definite progress toward clearing the mystery by the police of Brooklyn.

An effort to learn the exact cause of the woman's death will be made today, when an autopsy will be performed. The present theory is that she was strangled, and the body thrown into the pond. The marks on the throat, which led to this belief, are very indistinct, however.

Hotelkeeper Fined

At Saturday's Police Court, His Worship rendered judgment, reserved from Friday in the case of the young man Head, charged with selling liquor to an Indian named John George, who lives at Rama, but temporarily located at Chemong Indian Village.

The Magistrate found Mr. Head, who is employed in a local liquor store, guilty and imposed a fine of $50 with $12.50 costs.

Mr Gordon, who acted for the defendant, will appeal the case before His Honor Judge Weller on the ground of insufficient evidence.

—The fire brigade had a run to the south end of the city last evening to extinguish a blaze.

A TALE OF DISASTER

Mining disasters have been so frequent of late, and some of these so great as to number the killed by hundreds, that the question of how their recurrence may be prevented has again become of leading importance. According to the bulletin just issued by the United States Interior Department, twenty-two thousand eight hundred and forty men have been killed by explosions and accidents in the coal mines during the past seventeen years. This is terrible to contemplate, as showing what a fearful price the nation is paying for its industrial progress. But the saddest part of the bulletin is that wherein the chief of the departmental branch which collected the facts, observes that the increase in number and seriousness of mine explosions may be expected to continue unless through investigation information can be obtained and published concerning the explosives used, the conditions under which they may be used safely, and the general conditions which make for health. Those who have charge of coal-mining operations may very well be presumed to be as anxious as men can be to prevent accidents, the loss entailed in every instance being heavy, and a reflection on their management. It is, however, to be noted that according to the report such misadventures are very much more prevalent in North America than in any European country. This is known to be true also of railway disasters. When a mining or railway disaster occurs in Europe the whole world, even America, is full of what, had it occurred on this side of the Atlantic, would have been passed over with a single sigh. These facts suggest that more might be done without any new knowledge, but with more care and discipline. Investigations in England, as well as in the United States, have frequently revealed the fact that many accidents, and some of the most destructive explosions, were the result of the miners' own carelessness, and not infrequently of wilful disobedience of the rules made for their safety. It is notorious that men engaged in dangerous occupations do become careless through familiarity with the silent but terrible forces in the midst of which they work. Miners have been known to lift the screen of a safety lamp while working to light their pipes, though they know their own lives and the lives of hundreds of others might be sacrified in an instant by their indiscretion. It may be that some of the explosives used in blasting coal have peculiar and dangerous qualities, affected by atmospheric conditions, or liable to ignition by inexpert handling. This is a branch of the subject which should be carefully studied. It is horrible to think that such reports of mining disasters as have appeared of late must continue a monotonous tale of death and misery.

FUTURE OF THE NEGRO

What part will the Negro play in the history of mankind? For more centuries than we can say with certainty he has filled a humble role, living in his native land with a minimum of toil and carried abroad only to be a friend to work at servile labor for others. The representations of Negroes on the oldest Egyptian monuments, and they date from more than 4,000 years ago, show him always as inferior. That he is capable of great progress is shown by unmistakable evidence in many individual cases, but there is no record of any national movement in Africa towards a higher state of civilization. There are no traditions so far as we are aware, among African Negroes of a time when their forefathers were great and powerful nation. Nor do we know of any remains of an ancient structure, which can be assigned with certainty to the Negro races. It is not to be understood that the native African Negroes have made no progress whatever in the science of government and the establishment of orderly society, but their case seems to be of either a minimum or an arrested development. Yet it is interesting to know that an explorer, who spent some years among the Negroes and became familiar with their language, published a statement some fifteen or twenty years ago that he found everywhere among them an expectation of the coming of the time when the Black race will, under a leader of Messianic character, enter upon a career of advancement that will terminate in universal dominion.

A recent writer, discussing the future of the Black race, says that its salvation will come about through labor. That the Negro is a workman of the most efficient class has long been known; that he is capable of great intellectual advancement cannot be disputed, that under favorable conditions he favorably compares with the white man will not be disputed, but to exhibit these qualities he must, as a rule be taken from his African environment. His native country does not present those conditions which encourage thinking provision for the future. Nature has been lavish of her gifts, and there is little need to seek protection from inclement weather. As it is possible to live in those parts of Africa which the Negroes inhabit, with a minimum of labor, so the Negro has been content to live without making needless effort. He has illustrated in a marked degree what a race will become, when it has no incentive to the accumulation of capital and is without the spur of competition. He eats, drinks and makes merry, and is quite indifferent to the probability that tomorrow he may die. Life costs him little effort, and he values it accordingly.

But we are told that a change is at hand. Contact with the White race is having the same effect upon the Black race in Africa as it has had upon the Yellow race in Asia, and a change seems imminent. It will be slight and hardly noticeable at first, but he would be a rash man, who would assume to set a limit to it. We have referred above to the evidence given in individual cases of the capacity of the Negro under favorable surroundings. One instance may be mentioned, which came under the writer's notice. During the presidency of Mr. ——, a lawyer of standing in his profession, of more than average eloquence as a speaker and a refined gentleman. He said that he wished to go to Congo as a consul because his father and mother, when children, had been brought from there as slaves, and he wanted to show the people of his race what progress they could make, if they adopted the civilization of the white man. The color of his skin barred him from the recognition he deserved, but his case is none the less suggestive. It sets us to wondering what the Negro race may accomplish when once it begins its march of progress, of which we are told, or what seems to be good authority, the first signs are already apparent.

Britain Will Have to Oppose Japan

Paris, Dec. 27.—M. Ernest Judet, editor of L'Eclair, publishes a leader entitled "England Is Committing Suicide," in which he says:

"Canada, like the United States, means to stem the invasion of Japanese coolies, and Australia is arming on land and sea to resist Japanese immigration by force.

"The Morning Post recently resumed the plans and ideas of Mr. Deakin, the Australian Premier, in the following terms;

"'If Mr. Deakin's project is accomplished Australia will within a short time become the most powerful of all the dominions from a military point of view. The scheme is the confirmation and crowning point of the Australians' modern policy, which demands a white Australia, so that it shall be impossible that invaders, yellow or other, can definitely put foot upon that continent.'

"Once again is demonstrated the profoundness of the truth. It is easier to do one's duty than to know it. Great Britain would commit suicide if she separated from America and her best colonies in the approaching war with Japan. On one hand, how can she resign herself to managing without Japan, which would render her such great service in Asiatic waters? and, on the other hand, how can she quarrel with Japan at the risk of stirring up formidable insurrections in India and elsewhere?"

A BISHOP'S ADVICE.

Parents Responsible For Happy Conditions In the Home.

Bishop Potter of New York has taken his able pen in hand and is writing a remarkably interesting series of "Talks to Women" in Harper's Bazar. In one of the numbers of the Bazar he has this to say, among other things, on the topic of "The Modern Home:"

"The modern home is just what the heads of it make it, and the question which most of all concerns the republic today is the question, What are the fathers and mothers in American homes teaching their children? It may indeed be said that the great differences in our American homes—differences of condition, differences of privilege, differences of opportunity—will make that question very hard to answer, hard perhaps, but not impossible, for the one thing that determines the influence of the home is its spirit, and the spirit is determined by quite other things than material resources or intellectual or social privileges and opportunities. A young man and woman may begin married life with a tolerably clear idea of such a life, however hazy may be their notions as to particular features of it. And the tragedy of the modern home consists in this, that the primary aim seems to be to make it a place for having a 'good time.'"

HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY.

Keep cheerful. Hunting trouble ruins more nerves than trouble when it is found.

Keep alert minded. There is nothing like getting in a mental rut to make one a hypochondriac.

Keep clean. The close connection of the pores of the skin and good health is being better understood yearly.

Keep active. The inert, lazy woman who won't exercise is usually the one who is always growling about her health.

Keep your feet warm. More cold is taken through the ankles than in any other way, so do not wear low shoes all winter.

Keep out of debt. If there is anything warranted to worry one to death it is money troubles. Care will even kill the nine lived cat, and what gives more care than a bunch of debts with no money to pay them?

Keep away from drugs. The fondness of our American women for dosing themselves on the slightest provocation is a menace to the health of the race. We deserve everything bad the president of Harvard said of us as regards the medicine habit.

A Tart Answer.

"I was writing by my study window," writes a clergyman, "and a little child was busying himself by throwing beans at the window. Losing all patience, I rushed out of the house, determined to frighten the boy. It happened that his mother was coming after him at the same moment, and we met by his side.

"I stormed at the child, and then, as the mother seemed excessively stupid, I gave her a piece of my mind. Finally as a grand and overwhelming conclusion to my scolding I said:

"'A little discipline now with your children will save you much pain if not disgrace in the future. Think of that, madam—that is, if you ever do think.'

"'Think, is it?' she replied. 'I think if you'd go back to your bedroom and wipe the ink off av your nose you'd be prettier even if you didn't make so much av a sensation.'

"It was not a soft answer, but it had the effect of turning away wrath."—London Tit-Bits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader lives permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

"It is an age since I had anything from the postoffice. I wish you'd call there," she said to Dora one afternoon, as she saw her preparing to go out.

Scarcely was she gone, however, when, remembering something which she wanted, and, thinking she might possibly meet with Mr. Hastings, she started for the village herself, reaching the office door just as Dora, accompanied by Mr. Hastings, was crossing the street in the same direction.

"I shan't have to go in now," said Dora; and, fancying her companion would prefer waiting for her cousin to walking with her, she passed on, all unconscious of what she had lost by being a minute too late.

"A letter from Uncle Nat—directed to Dora, too!" and Eugenia grew alternately red and white, as, crushing the missive into her pocket, she went out into the street, where she was joined by Mr. Hastings.

"Dora left me rather unceremoniously," said he, as he bade her good-evening, "and so I waited to walk with you."

But Eugenia could not appear natural, so anxious was she to know what the letter contained. Up to the very gate Mr. Hastings went, but for once she did not ask him to stop; and he turned away, wondering at her manner and feeling a little piqued at her unusual coolness. Hastening to her chamber, Eugenia tore open Dora's letter, and, clutching eagerly at the draft, almost screamed with delight when she saw the amount. Fifteen hundred dollars! She could not believe her senses; and drawing still nearer the window, for the daylight was fading fast, she sought for the reason of this unexpected generosity. But the old man's childish fancy, which would have touched a heart le[illegible] than hers, aroused only her deepest ire—not because he had counted out the hairs, but because there had not been more to count. Bounding to her feet in her wrath, she exclaimed, "Fool that I was to have withheld one, when the old dotard would have paid for it so richly. But it cannot now be helped," she continued, and resuming her seat she read the letter through, exploding but once more, and that at the point where Uncle Nat had spoken of returning, asking if there was one who would welcome him home.

"Gracious Heavens!" she exclaimed, growing a little faint. "Wouldn't I be in a predicament? But it shall never be, if I can prevent it, and I fancy I can. As Dora will not read this letter, it is not reasonably to be expected that she will answer it, and it will be some time, I imagine, before I invite him to come and see if we are kind to her! What a childish old thing he must be, to pay so much for one little lock of hair! I'd send him all of mine, if I thought it would bring me fifteen hundred dollars."

It did seem a large sum to her, that fifteen hundred dollars, more than she dared to appropriate to herself; but the piano she was determined to have, and, as she dreaded what her mother might say, she resolved upon keeping the letter a secret until the purchase was made, and then Mrs. Deane could not do otherwise than indorse the draft, and let her have the money.

They had been talking of going to Rochester for some time past, and if she could manage to have Mr. Hastings go with her, she could leave her mother at the hotel, or dispose of her elsewhere, while she went with him to the music rooms, and made the selection. As if fortune were indeed favoring her, Mr. Hastings called the next night, and they were, as usual, left together alone. She was looking uncommonly well this evening; and as she saw how often and how admiringly his eyes rested upon her, hope whispered that the prize was nearly won. After conversing a while on different subjects, she spoke of her new piano, asking him if he remembered his promise of assisting her in a selection, and saying she thought of going to the city some day that week. Again Mr. Hastings remembered the beautiful rosewood instrument, whose tones had been so long unheard in his silent home, and he said, "Do you not like Ella's piano?" while a feeling, shadowy and undefined, stole over him, that possibly it might some day be hers; and Eugenia, divining his thoughts, answered artfully, "Oh, very much. I used to enjoy hearing dear Ella play, but that don't do me any good. It isn't mine, you know."

Very softly and tenderly the beautiful black eyes looked into his, and the voice was low and gentle, as it breathed the sacred name of Ella. It was the hour of Howard Hastings' temptation; and, scarce knowing what he did, he essayed to speak—to offer her the piano whose keys had been so often touched by the fairy fingers, now folded away beneath the winter snow. But his lips refused to move; there was a pressure upon them, as if a little hand were laid upon his mouth to prevent the utterance of words he had better far not speak. Thus was he saved, and when Eugenia, impatient at his delay, cast towards him an anxious glance she saw that his thoughts were not of her, and, biting her lips with vexation, she half petulantly asked if he had any intention of going to the city that week.

"Yes—no—certainly," said he, starting up as if from a deep reverie. Then, as he understood what was wanted of him, he continued, "Excuse me, Miss Deane. I was thinking of Ella, and the night when she died. What were you saying of Rochester? I have business there to-morrow, and if you go down I will aid you all I can. By the way," he continued, "that is the night of ——'s grand concert. How would you like to attend it?"

"Oh, so much!" answered Eugenia, her fine eyes sparkling with delight.

"But stop," said he, "now I think of it, I have an engagement which may possibly prevent me from attending it, as I would like to do with you, for I know you would enjoy it still. It may be that I can, and if so I'll call for you at the hotel. We can come home on the 11 o'Clock train."

So, ere Mr. Hastings departed, it was arranged that Eugenia and her mother should next morning go down, and that in the evening he would perhaps accompany them to the concert.

"I am progressing fast," thought Eugenia, as she sat alone in her chamber that night, after Alice had retired, "but still I wish he'd come to the point, and not keep me in such suspense. I thought once he was going to, and I believe now he would if he hadn't gone to thinking of Ella and all that nonsense; but never mind, he's worth waiting for, with his fine house and immense wealth; I shan't care so much about Uncle Nat's money then, though goodness knows I don't want him turning up here some day and exposing me, as I dare say the meddlesome old thing would do."

This reminded her of the letter, and, as Alice was asleep, she thought this as favorable an opportunity for answering it as she would probably have. Opening her writing-desk and taking her pen, she framed a reply, the substance of which was that ma, Alice, and herself were very, very thankful to her dear uncle for his generous gift to Dora, who, strange to say, manifested no feeling whatever.

"If she is grateful," wrote Eugenia, "she does not show it in the least. I hardly know what to make of her, she's so queer. Some time, perhaps, she will appreciate your goodness, and meanwhile rest assured that I will see that your gift is used to the best advantage."

Not a word of coming home to the expectant old man whose heart each day grew lighter as he thought of the letter which Dora would write, bidding him to come to the friends who would welcome him back. Not one line from Dora to the kind uncle who, when he read the cruel lines laid his weary head upon his pillow and wept bitterly that this, his last fond hope, was crushed!

There is such a thing as retribution, and Eugenia Deane, sitting there alone that night, shuddered as the word seemed whispered in her ear. But it could not deter her from her purpose. Howard Hastings must be won. "The object to be gained was worthy of the means used to gain it," she thought as she sealed the [illegible] placing the draft for the

The commercial traveler flicked the dust off his boots, straightened his tie and entered the emporium of Mr. Brown, the village grocer. He was new to the district, otherwise he would not have made the error which we now divulge.

Behind the counter was a young gentleman of fourteen, with bulging eyes and a high collar. To him the traveler addressed himself.

"My boy," he said, "is Mr. Brown in?"

"I'm Mr. Brown," the boy replied "But possibly you want to see old Mr. Brown, my father. I'll get him."

And as the boy went in search of his premature aged parent it dawned upon the traveler that this is indeed an age of young men.—London Answers.

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON

"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES

said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB

says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortes, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunnelling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 60-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development; at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ores. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and With the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

John D. Roddick, Lyndhurst Tells His Experience

After Two Years' Suffering with Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Was Cured by Dr. Hamilton.

Lyndhurst, Ont., Oct. 2—The following statement made by Mr. Roddick, hotel merchant, tells of the remarkable knowledge possessed by Dr. Hamilton:

"Two years ago I had grippe which settled in my back and kidneys. I was sickly and very miserable, suffered great pain and inconvenience. Different remedies were tried without benefit and then I decided to try Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills. I derived immense good from their use in short time. When two boxes were used I was immeasurably better To-day I am well. Neighbors suffering from kidney and back trouble have also been cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I am convinced is the best medicine for regulating and cleansing the system. They are very mild but do the work just the same."

Nothing so certain in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Stabbed Whilst on the Way to His Home

It seems that stabbing and other serious affrays are not confined to large cities as the little village of Gooderham, in Haliburton county, was the scene of a serious stabbing affair on Christmas Eve, wherein a young man named Roland Madill received injuries which may prove fatal, whilst returning home from a lumber camp. Mad ll, who was on his way home in Monmouth township where a wife and children were awaiting him, met his uncle, James Morrison, a married man aged about 50 years.

A dispute arose and it is alleged Morrison cut him several times viciously with a knife. The weapon used was a hunter's knife with a long blade. Morrison was arrested by the county constable and the wounded man taken to the Lindsay hospital. No reason is assigned or known for the savage attack.

Successful Concert at Knox Church

The annual entertainment at Knox church was largely attended and, as usual, a great success. Tea was served to the scholars from 5.30 until 7.30, after which the tables were cleared away and Sheriff Hall took the chair and with a few brief remarks introduced a splendid program in which the following took part, viz., the Misses Ruby Carr and Geraldine Montgomery, Miss Jessie Miller, the primary class, Miss Ella Reutsch, Clarence Reutsch, Mrs. McCann, Mrs. Patton and Mrs. Mowry acted as accompanists.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the appearance of Santa Claus, who distributed presents to the children. Mr. Herb McCann made an excellent Santa Claus.

Coming Trouble for a Cavandish Farmer

Hector Smith of Cavendish, was in the city on Saturday and laid a serious charge against George Monerief, also of that township. Mr Smith states that on the 26th of December he was going to the Ketchegama post office for his mail, and whilst passing the residence of Mr. Monerief, some of the members of the family requested him to get their mail too. He complied and whilst sitting in the house, he states that Monerief rushed in and ordering him out tried to strike him. He naturally defended himself, and Monerief rushed to a room for a revolver. Mr. Smith being unarmed, ran away from the place of business and had a long conversation with County Police Magistrate Edmison Saturday morning, with a view of securing a warrant for Monerief's arrest, and the magistrate, after much deliberation, referred him to County Crown Attorney Wood.

Smith says he can give no reason for Monerief's attitude towards him

Turf News of Local Interest

The following from the current number of the Canadian Sportsman will be of interest to local horsemen.

"At the late meeting of the board of the American Trotting Association, held at Chicago, the following appears on the official report of their doings:

"Thorough investigation of the ownership of the chestnut horse "Tim Alert," with affidavits from all parties concerned who could be reached, apparently shows that the horse was in August, 1900, and for some time previously and afterwards, the sole property of Charles Martin, of Peterborough, Ontario, and he purchased said horse direct from Abraham Davidson, of Mitchell, Ont., for $900, who gave a bill of sale to said Martin at that time, and does not believe that any one else has any right or title in the horse."

Commenting on the above the Sportsman says,

"We can imagine we see the broad grin on the face of Cook when he reads the above. He may feel inclined to think notwithstanding his repeated declarations to friends that Martin did not ever own a hair on the horse's hide or tail, that it is quite possible somebody else knew better than he did and he may feel inclined to ship Tim Alert from Frenton to Peterborough, and restore him to the young fellow who works on the canal dredge and who is officially pronounced the owner. So Chas. Martin dredged up $900 for the pacer! Really the young fellow's friends will be delighted to hear that he was able to discover such a gold paying ledge in the Trent Canal. It apparently panned out to the lad employed at the boosting apparatus even richer than to the contractor who had the job. Patience yet a little while and we shall hear what we shall hear."

CITY GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION A GREAT SUCCESS

The Galveston Plan Works Wonders

In September, 1900, after their city had been desolated, six thousand of their brethren slain, and seventeen million dollars' worth of property destroyed, Galveston's people, with a sublime civic devotion, determined to rebuild their fallen municipality and, in the task they set themselves, discovered the uselessness of their old system of government. They realized the spirit of democracy essential in every city; the city sense. They realized the folly of boards and ward boundaries—and they abolished them and evolved a commission plan.

Under this system four commissioners are elected by the people, and these are the only four officials elected. All power is vested in this quartette; they are mayor, council, and all the boards conjointly. They are responsible to the people alone. One is president, and, in a sense, mayor; another has charge of the streets and public properties; a third has control of revenue and finances, and the fourth looks after waterworks and sewerage.

Des Moines has, in addition to this Commission, the recall, the initiative and referendum, including the compulsory references of all franchises to the people. Thus the people retain the veto power in themselves, and by passing on all franchise grants have strangled corporate bribery and graft. Officials are chosen, under the charter, with reference to their views on city issues and not in State or national issues. Party systems have no weight in municipal elections.

These western movements show the unmistakable drift of power toward the people and not away from them. In Canada similar conditions to a limited extent prevail. Our present system is not proving a success. While there is perhaps not much graft, there is a manifest lack of business acumen. How different things would be even in our own Peterborough if our civic affairs were managed as a purely business proposition. Our civic officials are becoming numerous that they are often in each other's way. High priced labor is frequently employed on jobs that are made to last as long as possible.

We do not hope for relief under the present system. All we can hope for is to gradually develop something better and more in keeping with modern civilization.

Gets High Title and British Gold

Former Canadian Proves Right to Vast Estate

Marinette, Wis., Dec. 26.—From a secure real estate man and heir to an English nobleman and heir to a fortune estimated at many millions as Aladdin like record of George Northedge of this city.

He is sole heir to an estate valued at $1,185,000 in Montreal and one of twenty-five heirs to a bigger English estate.

He now is also Sir George William Northey-Northedge.

He is about 66 years of age and his home has been in England. He was born in Toronto and served in the Union army in the civil war, as did his father. Both were wounded.

TO CLAIM VAST ESTATE.

Northedge, with an attorney, will soon go to Montreal to adjust the estate there, and from Montreal they will journey to England.

In England Sir George William Northey-Northedge will come into his own.

The story reads like a fairy tale, but the documents and proofs were secured by attorney J. H. Frankson of Milwaukee and substantiate the claims. The records of births in Hartford, Conn., for the month of March, 1841, which have been obtained by Mr. Frankson, show that on the fourth day of that month a son was born to Col. William Northedge, and the Marinette man gives that date as the time of his birth.

His father, Col. William Northedge, died, ignorant of the fact that a fortune awaited his pleasure in the Bank of England. His death was the result of wounds received in the civil war.

WILL NOT DESERT AMERICA.

George Northedge himself, when interviewed, showed plainly that as yet he does not realize the extent of the possessions that are supposed to be his, as he said that he would never become other than an American citizen and that he would invest all the money, if he got it, in American real estate.

"When an English attorney came to me in Chicago, where I was in the real estate business, and told me that I was heir to a fortune of $1,000,000, I received part of it and was supposed to go over to England and establish my claim to the rest.

"I thought it would be well to be satisfied with what I had already received, so I came up into Marinette county and took up a homestead. However, I am positive of my right to the title of Sir George William Northey-Northedge."

ONE OF FAMILY IN CHICAGO.

Unaware of his distinguished lineage and financial prospects, Chicago seemingly harbored a member of the family of Sir George Northedge for a few months preceding last May. At that time William H. Northedge was at the Harding house at 16 Lincoln Park boulevard where he had been living, and returned to his old home in Marinette county, Wis. He ordered his mail forwarded to the town of Marinette, and that was supposed to be his home. He is 35 years old and is presumed to be the son of the new nobleman. When in Chicago he was employed as an electrician, but became homesick and his mother came to this city and accompanied him home. Fellow lodgers at the boarding house said last night that the young man had never told anything about his family except that it was in good financial circumstances.

Latest Reports of Departments

Number of Industrial Accidents in November was 372

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 30.—Industrial accidents occurring to 372 individual wage people in Canada during the month of November were reported to the Department of Labor. One hundred and forty-two accidents were fatal and 230 resulted in serious injuries. In addition, three fatal accidents were reported as having taken place prior to the beginning of the month, information not having been received by the department before November. The number of fatal accidents reported in November, 1907, was two more than for the previous month, and 25 more than in November, 1906. Of 195 returns received during the month giving the age of the victims of industrial accidents, 22 referred to persons under 21 years of age, 94 to persons between 21 and 45, and 12 to persons over 45. One hundred and sixteen persons were over 21 years of age, but their exact ages were not specified.

Representatives of the various West Indian colonies are to assemble at Barbados, on January 14, in a conference for the consideration of agricultural and other matters of general concern. The time is deemed favorable for the consideration of closer relations between Canada and the West Indies. Sir Daniel Morris, the Imperial Commissioner of Agriculture for the West Indies, who has taken an active interest in the movement, has invited Canada to send representatives to the conference. The invitation has been accepted. It is understood that the Canadian representatives will be Mr. W. G. Parmelee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, whose official duty has brought him largely into consideration of the subject, and Mr. A. E. Jones, of Halifax, a merchant of large experience in the trade between Canada and the West Indies. The delegates will sail from Halifax shortly.

The Inland Revenue Department has issued a bulletin on the inspection of milk from 343 samples collected during July and August. The samples represent all the inspectoral districts of Canada, with the exception of Manitoba. The average percentage of genuine samples is 82, which is higher than any previous inspection. Toronto and British Columbia stand out prominently as districts in which the milk supply is of very low quality. The percentage for Toronto is 43, that for British Columbia 58, Calgary, London, Ottawa and Kingston head the list with 100 per cent. Montreal comes next with 97, New Brunswick 90, Nova Scotia 83, St. Pyrinthe 77, Prince Edward Island 73, and Quebec 69. Of the 343 samples 171 were normal, 111 abnormal, 46 skimmed or partly skimmed, 21 watered and 4 doubtful.

Presentation to North Monaghan Teacher

A pleasing function was in evidence a few days ago in the North Monaghan school when Miss Ellen Switzer of St. Mary's, who has been a teacher in the Monaghan school for several years, was presented with a gold bracelet. Miss Switzer thanked her pupils, referring to the many pleasant associations with them.

On the same evening about sixty-five young people gathered at the residence of Mr. Jas. Lills, and presented Miss Switzer with several beautiful presents. A pleasant time was spent and the party remained until the time arrived for Miss Switzer to leave to meet the 5.10 early morning C.P.R train for St. Marys. Several young people accompanied her to the station and saw her away.

Woman Sacrifices Her Own Life That Children May Live

New York, Dec. 29.—Starving herself that her four children might have sufficient food to sustain life, Mrs. Phoebe Prince, who was taken to the eastern district hospital from a tenement room in Williamsburgh, died a few hours later as a result of the privations she had undergone.

Notwithstanding the mother's sacrifice, neighbors who learned of the conditions found that the children had had nothing to eat since early Christmas morning.

The physicians who attended the dying woman say that her weakness and emaciation had reached such a stage, that their best efforts were of no effect in reviving her, except for a few moments, when she was aroused sufficiently to recognize her children and found them already wonderfully improved by the warmth and food provided for them.

All four are reported now as healthy and comfortable, their reserves of youthfulness and vitality having pulled them through with the assistance of the mother's unselfish devotion, her sacrifice having proved effective.

POLICE

Jas. Christian, who hails from Nova Scotia, was in the police court Saturday morning on a charge of vagrancy, and wanted to be sent to jail.

"What is he doing here?" asked the magistrate. "Doing nothing," answered the chief. "Where do you come from?" was the next question.

The "vag" informed his worship that for the past two months he had been working for a farmer in Enismore.

"The jail is loaded up now," said his worship, "and then you don't belong to the city and we can't keep you."

His worship directed Christian to County Magistrate Edmison, who would probably make arrangements for his removal to the House of Refuge at Lakefield.

ARMY HORSES WILL BE THE REAL LIVE WIRES OF BATTLE

Commander of the Cavalry Can Receive Messages from His Advance While the Advance is on the Move--Each Man on the Circuit Hears What the Other is Sending

Washington, Dec. 28.—Army officials are greatly pleased over the news that cavalry officers now can use the telephone a-horseback, owing to the recent invention of Lieutenant A. C. Knowles, of the United States Signal Corps.

Under this new system a horse becomes a moving field telephone and immediately available for communication with the headquarters of the rear the field or any base of operations with which quick communication is desired.

The plan proposed contemplates the equipment of each mounted courier carrying messages from headquarters to corps in the field with a light battery weighing about five pounds. This battery is carried in the saddle pads. When communication with headquarters is desired, the man in the saddle unsheaths a light wire. This wire, attached to the battery, is then placed in contact with the body of the horse. The current thus conveyed to the horse's body, and accentuated, is possible, by a wet saddle cloth, is transmitted through the steel plates on the horse's hoofs to the ground, and thus a ground conduction is made.

The man in the saddle unhooks the receiver and transmitter and promptly is in communication with the staff headquarters. The officers of the Signal Corps think this invention will revolutionize and facilitate field movements.

Heretofore messages had to be sent from headquarters by courier and their delivery assumed. Couriers, however, are sometimes killed and often captured. This invention will enable a courier to report the delivery of a message, so the general in command will know that his orders are to be obeyed.

Sometimes battles are lost and moves frustrated by failure to deliver orders. Messages can, of course, be sent from headquarters over the telegraph lines as fast as they have been completed by the Signal Corps but there are many places in the field where the lines do not reach.

At such places the problem is solved by the signalman or cavalryman adjusting a piece of wire to an instrument in his pocket, letting the wire touch the flesh of the horse and instantaneously the connection is made with the telephone at the base of operations. The operator on horseback, in order to let the current flow freely, attaches a piece of wet cloth to the body of the horse by means of the saddle girth.

Equipped in that fashion, the trooper can at any place in the field, at rest or moving, "call" headquarters report what is going on, and receive orders for immediate transmission to the front.

Major G. O. Squire, who is in charge of Signal Corps work at Fort Leavenworth, is now in Washington. He said today that the experiments have proved eminently successful, and that this method of communication is not known to other armies.

One of the experts at Fort Leavenworth is Lieutenant Reginald Sheldon. He is a practical operator in this new kind of communication.

Major Squire says that Lieutenant Sheldon has frequently communicated while on foot with a company of signal corps men at great distances by means of the telephone without wires other than the human body itself.

Lieutenant Sheldon is also an expert telephone operator on horseback according to the method just described.

British Battleship Coming to Esquimalt to Augment Fleet

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 29.—H.M.S. Algerine has been ordered to Esquimalt from Hong Kong to augment the fleet maintained here since the withdrawal of the Pacific squadron.

Advices to this effect were received at Esquimalt today. The Algerine will be placed in commission at Hong Kong in January, with volunteers from the China squadron, and will be ready to start across the ocean about the end of next month.

The complement of men to be carried by the Algerine will be 150, and it is expected that it will be completed in one week, after which she will be provisioned and made ready to leave.

The ordering of the Algerine to Esquimalt has again raised the report that the British admiralty will despatch a squadron to Esquimalt during the early part of the coming year.

Japan will Restrict Emigration to the United States

Tokio, Dec. 29.—A discussion of the Japanese government's program and method of limitation of emigration has commenced between the foreign office and American Ambassador O'Brien. Immediately after the departure of Canadian Minister of Labor Lemieux, Baron Chinda, vice-minister of foreign affairs, drove to the American embassy from the station and discussed the American proposals and suggestions offered by Ambassador O'Brien for the help of the Japanese government. It is understood that the discussion was eminently satisfactory and that a memorandum on the subject in the shape of a reply will soon be forthcoming.

It is quite evident now that the Japanese government recognizes that mistakes of administration on the part of a minor official in the past created the present difficult situation, and is determined that the future restriction of immigration will make complaints from the American government and people impossible.

The difficulty of dealing with the possibility of emigrants going over the borders of Canada and Mexico is now occupying much attention, because it is recognized that while the possibility continues it will not be possible to prevent a recurrence of complaints.

Xmas Dinner Spoilt by a Kitten in a Fit

A joke too good to suppress, whilst actually true, and not a lithographed so much per column story is told on undeniable authority, in fact by the person most affected, re some Christmas pies. It seems that a resident of, let us say Simcoe street, had been promised some pumpkin pies by his good wife for Christmas dinner.

The good lady made the pies and hubby, on Xmas Eve rather talked about his coming treat. Yesterday a Times representative asked him, "Say ——, how did those pumpkin pies go on Christmas?" "Oh! Pumpkin pies be jiggered. Look here, you know we have a kitten. Don't you? Well that confounded kitten took a fit on Xmas Eve and after scaling the perpendicular wall, got on the shelf where Mrs. —— had put those pies. That infernal cat seemed to expend all the energies of its fit on the pies. It clawed them. It bit them and it tore them up so that the pies looked worse than a cancelled postage stamp struck by a tornado. However, I got even with the fifty cat. I got it into a basket and carried it out near Jackson Park and then let it go. This however did not get my pumpkin pies Xmas dinner."

Wins Drinking Bet and Dies

Versailles, Dec. 30.—John Sabol, twenty-three years old, won a wager of $1 on Saturday night by drinking a quart of whiskey and nine glasses of beer. He collected the money, and was on his way home when he fell in a ditch and died yesterday.

Rev. Pearson, Strathroy, Preached Yesterday

Anniversary sermons were yesterday preached at both morning and evening, in George street Methodist church, Rev. M. L. Pearson, Strathroy, conducted the services. Mr. Pearson is the guest of his son at the parsonage.

From 1888 to 1890, Mr. Pearson, sr., was pastor of the church to which his son came from Toronto in June last. Mr. Pearson, sr., came to Peterborough from Bowmanville in 1888, at which time he was president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, while pastorate since leaving Peterborough has been as follows,—Orangeville, Brampton, Barrie, Collingwood, Berkley St., Toronto, Strathroy. While at Brockton, Mr. Pearson was elected president of the Toronto conference.

His many friends of former days were delighted to see and hear Mr. Pearson yesterday.

Kaid's Father Says It Is Hard to Wait

London, Dec. 28.—"Strange that one man should defy the might and majesty of Great Britain and Ireland!"

General Maclean, father of the Kaid, spoke with the deliberation of extreme age, when interviewed by William Maxwell of the Mail. "I am in my ninety-sixth year, and it is hard to wait so long."

The grand old Scot, who lives at Kew, springs from a race of soldiers who have borne themselves gallantly since the days of Culloden, when General Maclean and his three sons fought side by side with the Camerons.

"Time was when our soldiers would have landed and torn the brigand from his mountain fastness." The veteran stretched his hands towards the warmth, and gazing into the blazing heart of the fire, saw visions of the glories of the past. "Words have taken the place of deeds. We live in degenerate days. Zeal is a crime, and indifference has become a virtue."

"You did not see Harry?" he added, after a long pause.

"No. I spent five weeks near the foot of the mountains, but was forbidden to go to him."

"It was a great consolation to us to know that one of Harry's friends was in Morocco," said the Kaid's sister. "You have had letters from my brother?"

Since the tenth or the month no communication had come from the Kaid. I had, however, a bundle of letters, from which I read passages showing how Raisuli treated his prisoner—now with indulgence and now with oppression, as the wind blew from Tangier—and how the Kaid endured captivity and persecution with a dauntless heart.

The old general squared his shoulders. "He was never afraid of doing his duty."

Roman Catholic's Generous Offer

Chatham, Ont., Dec. 30.—The Methodist congregation at Raleigh Plains is about to build a new church on the corner of the Florida farm, owned by Mr. James Blythe. Mr. Blythe refused to sell the land, but gave half an acre free. His generosity is more appreciated because he does not belong to the Methodist Church, being a Roman Catholic.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

HIT BY TIDAL WAVE OF THE "BLUE" LAW THE "WHITE" SUNDAY

Cities in the United States Feel the Effect of the "White Sunday" Movement--N. Y. City Passes New Law

New York, Dec. 29.—Although the New York Board of Aldermen has put the ban on blue Sundays, much to the delight of the majority of the citizens, yet the blue law appears to be gathering force in other parts of the country.

According to the latest ruling in the metropolis, Sunday concerts will be resumed and theaters can give performances either sacred or educational.

But in Omaha, Kansas City, Troy, New Orleans, and Council Bluffs things are not so happily arranged.

In all of these cities there promises to be similar conditions today to those which were in force last Sunday.

ST. LOUIS CONSIDERING.

In St. Louis the prosecuting attorneys of Missouri counties, sixty-five out of one hundred and fourteen, are holding a convention with the object of devising means for even stricter enforcement of local option. The convention, many members believe, will adopt a resolution recommending that the next legislature enact additional legislation looking to the control of the liquor traffic.

St. Louis is now dry as a bone on Sundays, as are all the larger cities of the State, and with the most of the rural communities having local option and other elections in sight, the attorneys say that the whole State will be dry a year from Jan. 1. The convention here is being held under the auspices of the State Anti Saloon League.

THE NEW ORLEANS SITUATION.

In New Orleans there is an honest effort being made to close the saloons on Sunday. There are about ten saloons to every policeman, and the saloons are more active than the latter. Last Sunday there was as much "blue" as has been for years.

Kansas City has had seven Sundays blue to spots, November 3. Judge William M. Wallace, of the criminal court, by means of a "personally conducted" grand jury, ordered everything except newspapers, newsstands and fruit stores to close on Sunday.

All except two theaters closed him, and some pool halls and cigar stores remained open. As a result, managers, players, stage hands, ushers and all employes of the "Open Shops" were indicted by the grand jury on 636 counts, were arrested and released on bonds aggregating $125,000.

NO BACKSLIDING IN OMAHA.

That Omaha's Sunday closing has come to stay, at least for the time being, seems assured by the fines imposed in court when a number of those arrested for working last Sunday were called up for trial.

The Nebraska closing law leaves to the judgment of the court the necessary work which may be attended to on Sunday, in the trial elevator, conductors and cream handlers were the only people discharged because of necessity of the occupation. Wagon drivers, baggage delivery, bootblacks, cigar salesmen, livery men and livery workmen, photographers, operators on a messenger service, and others of similar classes, were fined. Until the same case is appealed to the supreme court and the law is reversed, Omaha will be closed as tight as a clam.

HARD ON THE THIRSTY.

Davenport's bid, tried on last Sunday, fits so well that it promises to stay on tight for some time to come. Instance of political foes of Governor Cummins that he enforce the liquor laws have put Davenport under the spot-light so glaringly that Attorney-General Byers served notice that saloons must close Sundays and at ten o'clock at night.

Old Battleship is Made Target of Modern Shells

London, Dec. 28.—The old battleship Hero, of the British navy, has been battered into scrap iron by modern shell fire rained into her by two of the newest men-o'-war in King Edward's fleet. The twenty-year-old warship, long since useless as a fighting machine, has shared the fate of the veteran Bellisle, which two or three years ago was sacrificed to modern gunnery.

The Hero now lies a shattered hulk off the Kentish coast, and would probably have gone to the bottom, but for the fact that she rests on a shoal called the Kentish Knock. At high water she is nearly submerged.

Gunnery is now the chief aim of the British admiralty. Ordinary target practice is not realistic enough, so real ships must be fired at to test the effect of modern shell on armored vessels.

The doomed ship was moored on the Kentish Knock shoal, near the mouth of the Thames, and prepared for the sacrifice. Her sides were divided into lettered sections by bands of white paint, as a guide to the classification of the hits scored. Then she was left alone to await the rain of shells which was to be poured into her.

The ships selected to practice their gunnery upon the old Hero were the Dominion and the Hibernia, two of the most modern battleships in the royal navy. Their guns were trained on the armor-belt and gun-turret on the Hero's starboard side, which is from eight to twelve inches thick. The bombardment commenced at a range of between 6000 and 7,000 yards—a distance at which modern battles may be fought.

After a few brief preliminary rounds, the gunners of the Dominion and the Hibernia found the range, and then commenced a deadly stream of 12-inch shells. If the Hero had been in fighting condition she would have been helped as to return the fire after the first few shots, one of which hit her turret and rendered her two big guns useless by carrying away the muzzles.

Soon these old battleship was riddled with shot holes, and had one yawning, jagged hole just above the water line. Her funnel, fighting tops and top hamper went by the board, only her single mast, by some miracle, escaping the general destruction. The armor plate was pierced through and through as if it were tinfoil.

When she had been subjected to three poundings of this merciless character, the tough old Hero sank and rested on the shoal.

Beside the effect of the shell fire on her armor, the effect of the fire was to ascertain the influence of gunfire on delicate electrical instruments used aboard modern warships.

News Briefs

Quebec Dec. 30.—Hon. John Sharples, M.L.C., president of the Union Bank of Canada, has been made a knight of St. Gregory the Great by the Pope, in consideration of his establishment of a children's ward in the Hotel Dieu Hospital and of other services to the cause of religion and charity.

Toronto, Ont., December 30.—That the immigration of Canada will closely approach the 200,000 mark for 1907, is the statement made by Mr. W. D. Scott, head of the Immigration Department at Ottawa, who was visiting Toronto yesterday. Mr. Scott declined to discuss the local situation further than to say that, with the present heavy immigration to Canada, it is inevitable that there should be a certain amount of congestion in the cities in winter time. This, he said, was because the farmers cannot employ the immigrant farm laborer all the year round.

Henrietta, Okla., Dec. 30.—With every available fighting man sworn in as a deputy and only 1,300 pounds of ammunition in the town, Henrietta is fearing a deadly race war as the result of the lynching of James Garden, a negro, December 24.

The firing of a small negro shack owned by a white man near the Frisco station yesterday caused a call to arms. Within five minutes after the fire alarm was given nearly 100 armed men were prepared for an attack.

Three citizens' patrols have been established.

Thirty-five negroes, heavily armed, passed through Wild Cat, inciting the blacks to revolt. They are camped on the river within 10 miles of Henrietta. More than thirty armed blacks have gone from Wolevka to Clearview, one of the thickest negro settlements in the coal fields. About fifty stands of small arms were purchased by negroes in Wolevka before the hardware stores quit selling to the blacks.

Murdered Woman Not Yet Identified

Newark, N.J., Dec. 28.—The identity of the young woman, whose body was found in a pond in Harrison, a suburb of this city, yesterday, remains unknown. For nearly twenty-four hours the body has lain in the morgue, and the features have been viewed by hundreds of persons, but none of them ever saw the woman before. In view of this and further investigations which have been made, the police are inclined to believe that the woman was a visitor to Newark from some nearby city. That she may have been a resident of Brooklyn seems not unlikely, as of Brooklyn seems not unlikely as the coat found near the body was purchased in that city. As yesterday, however, the officials here have not been advised of any definite progress toward clearing the mystery by the police of Brooklyn.

An effort to learn the exact cause of the woman's death will be made today, when an autopsy will be performed. The present theory is that she was strangled, and the body thrown into the pond. The marks on the throat, which led to this belief, are very indistinct, however.

Hotelkeeper Fined

At Saturday's Police Court, His Worship rendered judgment, reserved from Friday in the case of the young man Head, charged with selling liquor to an Indian named John George, who lives at Gama, but temporarily located at Chemong Indian Village.

The Magistrate found Mr. Head, who is employed in a local liquor store, guilty and imposed a fine of $50 with $12.50 costs.

Mr. Gordon, who acted for the defendant, will appeal the case before His Honor Judge Weller on the ground of insufficient evidence.

—The fire brigade had a run to the south end of the city last evening to extinguish a fire.

A TALE OF DISASTER

Mining disasters have been so frequent of late, and some of these so great as to number the killed by hundreds, that the question of how their recurrence may be prevented has again become of leading importance. According to the bulletin just issued by the United States Interior Department, twenty-two thousand eight hundred and forty men have been killed by explosions and accidents in the coal mines during the past seventeen years. This is terrible to contemplate, as showing what a fearful price the nation is paying for its industrial progress. But the saddest part of the bulletin is that wherein the chief of the departmental branch which collected the facts, observes that the increase in number and seriousness of mine explosions may be expected to continue unless through investigation information can be obtained and published concerning the explosives used, the conditions under which they may be used safely, and the general conditions which make for health. Those who have charge of coal-mining operations may very well be presumed to be as anxious as men can be to prevent accidents, the loss entailed in every instance being heavy, and a reflection on their management. It is, however, to be noted that according to the report such misadventures are very much more prevalent in North America than in any European country. This is known to be true also of railway disasters. When a mining or railway disaster occurs in Europe the whole world, even America, is full of what, had it occurred on this side of the Atlantic, would have been passed over with a single sigh. These facts suggest that more might be done without any new knowledge, but with more care and discipline. Investigations in England, as well as in the United States, have frequently revealed the fact that many accidents, and some of the most destructive explosions, were the result of the miners' own carelessness, and not infrequently of wilful disobedience of the rules made for their safety. It is notorious that men engaged in dangerous occupations do become careless through familiarity with the silent but terrible forces in the midst of which they work. Miners have been known to lift the screen of a safety lamp while working to light their pipes, though they know their own lives and the lives of hundreds of others might be sacrificed in an instant by their indiscretion. It may be that some of the explosives used in blasting coal have peculiar and dangerous qualities, affected by atmospheric conditions, or liable to ignition by inexpert handling. This is a branch of the subject which should be carefully studied. It is horrible to think that such reports of mining disasters as have appeared of late must continue a monotonous tale of death and misery.

FUTURE OF THE NEGRO

What part will the Negro play in the history of mankind? For more centuries than we can say with certainty he has filled a humble role, living in his native land with a minimum of toil and carried abroad only to be a bread to work at servile labor for others. The representations of Negroes on the oldest Egyptian monuments, and they date from more than 4,000 years ago, show him always a captive. That he is capable of great progress is shown by unmistakable evidence in many individual cases, but there is no record of any national movement in Africa towards a higher state of civilization. There are no traditions. So far as we are aware, among African Negroes of a time when their forefathers were great and powerful nothing do we know of any remains of ancient structure, which can be assigned with certainty to the Negro races. It is not to be understood that the native African Negroes have made no progress whatever in the science of government and the establishment of orderly society, but their case seems to be of either a minimum or an arrested development. Yet it is interesting to know that an explorer, who spent some years among the Negroes and became familiar with their language, published a statement some fifteen or twenty years ago that he found everywhere among them an expectation of the coming of the time when the Black race will, under a leader of Messianic character, enter upon a career of advancement that will terminate in universal dominion.

A recent writer, discussing the future of the Black race, says that its salvation will come about through labor. That the Negro is a workman of the most efficient class has long been known; that he is capable of great intellectual advancement cannot be disputed, that under favorable conditions he favorably compares with the white man will not be disputed, but to exhibit these qualities, he must, as a rule be taken from his African environment. His native country does not present those conditions which encourage making provision for the future. Nature has been lavish of her gifts, and there is little need to seek protection from inclement weather. As it, is possible to live in those parts of Africa which the Negroes inhabit, with a minimum of labor, so the Negro has been content to live without making needless effort. He has illustrated in a marked degree what a race will become, when it has no incentive to the accumulation of capital and is without the spur of competition. He lives, drinks and makes merry, and is quite indifferent to the probability that tomorrow he may die. Life costs him little effort, and he values it accordingly.

But we are told that a change is at hand. Contact with the White race is having the same effect upon the Black race in Africa as it has had upon the Yellow race in Asia, and a change seems imminent. It will be slight and hardly noticeable at first, but he would be a rash man, who would assume to set a limit to it. We have referred above to the evidence given in individual cases of the capacity of the Negro under favorable surroundings. One instance may be mentioned, which came under the writer's notice. During the presidency of Merlin of the Negro under favorable surroundings in the Congo Free State. He was a lawyer of standing in his profession, of more than average eloquence as a speaker and a refined gentleman. He said that he visited to go to Congo as a consul because his father and mother, when children had been brought from there as slaves, and he wanted to show the people of his race what progress they could make, if they adopted the civilization of the white man. The color of his skin barred him from the recognition he deserved, but his case is none the less suggestive. It gets us to wondering what the Negro race may accomplish when once it begins its march of progress, of which we are told, or what seems to be good authority, the first signs are already apparent.

Britain Will Have to Oppose Japan

Paris, Dec. 27.—M. Ernest Judet, editor of L'Eclair, publishes a leader entitled "England Is Committing Suicide," in which he says:

"Canada, like the United States, means to stem the invasion of Japanese coolies, and Australia is arming on land and sea to resist Japanese immigration by force.

"The Morning Post recently summed the plans and ideas of Mr. Deakin, the Australian Premier, in the following terms;

"'If Mr. Deakin's project is accomplished Australia will within a short time become the most powerful of all the dominions from a military point of view. The scheme is the confirmation and crowning point of the Australians' modern policy, which demands a white Australia, so that it shall be impossible that invaders, yellow or other, can definitely put foot upon the continent.'

"Once again is demonstrated the profoundness of this truth. It is easier to do one's duty than to know it. Great Britain would commit suicide if she separated from America and her best colonies in the approaching war with Japan. On the one hand, how can she resign herself to managing without Japan, which would render her such great service in Asiatic waters? and, on the other hand, how can the quarrel with Japan at the risk of stirring up formidable insurrections in India and elsewhere?"

A BISHOP'S ADVICE.

Parents Responsible For Happy Conditions in the Home.

Bishop Potter of New York has taken his able pen in hand and is writing a remarkably interesting series of "Talks to Women" in Harper's Bazar. In one of the numbers of the Bazar he has this to say, among other things, on the topic of "The Modern Home:"

"The modern home is just what the heads of it make it, and the question which most of all concerns the republic today is the question, What are the fathers and mothers in American homes teaching their children? It may indeed be said that the great differences in our American homes—differences of condition, differences of privilege, differences of opportunity—will make that question very hard to answer, hard perhaps, but not impossible, for the one thing that determines the influence of the home is its spirit, and the spirit is determined by quite other things than material resources or intellectual or social privileges and opportunities. A young man and woman may begin married life with a tolerably clear idea of such a life, however hazy may be their notions as to particular features of it. And the tragedy of the modern home consists in this, that the primary aim seems to be to make it a place for having a 'good time.'"

HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY.

Keep cheerful. Hunting trouble ruins more nerves than trouble when it is found.

Keep alert minded. There is nothing like getting in a mental rut to make one a hypochondriac.

Keep clean. The close connection of the pores of the skin and good health is being better understood yearly.

Keep active. The inert, lazy woman who won't exercise is usually the one who is always growing about her health.

Keep your feet warm. More cold is taken through the ankles than in any other way, so do not wear low shoes all winter.

Keep out of debt. If there is anything warranted to worry one to death it is money troubles. Care will even kill the nine lived cat, and what gives more care than a bunch of debts with no money to pay them?

Keep away from drugs. The fondness of our American women for dosing themselves on the slightest provocation is a menace to the health of the race. We deserve everything bad the president of Harvard said of us as regards the medicine habit.

A Tart Answer.

"I was writing by my study window," writes a clergyman, "and a little child was busying himself by throwing beans at the window. Losing all patience, I rushed out of the house, determined to frighten the boy. It happened that his mother was coming after him at the same moment, and we met by his side.

"I stormed at the child, and then, as the mother seemed excessively stupid, I gave her a piece of my mind. Finally as a grand and overwhelming conclusion to my scolding I said:

"'A little discipline now with your children will save you much pain if not disgrace in the future. Think of that, madam—that is, if you ever do think.'

"'Think, is it?' she replied. 'I think if you'd go back to your bedroom and wipe the ink aff av your nose you'd be prettier even if you didn't make so much av a sensation.'

"It was not a soft answer, but it had the effect of turning away wrath."—London Tit-Bits.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

"It is an age since I had anything from the postoffice. I wish you'd call there," she said to Dora one afternoon, as she saw her preparing to go out.

Scarcely was she gone, however, when, remembering something which she wanted, and, thinking she might possibly meet with Mr. Hastings, she started for the village herself, reaching the office door just as Dora, accompanied by Mr Hastings, was crossing the street in the same direction.

"I shan't have to go in now," said Dora; and, fancying her companion would prefer waiting for her cousin to walking with her, she passed on, all unconscious of what she had lost by being a minute too late.

"A letter from Uncle Nat—directed to Dora, too!" and Eugenia grew alternately red and white, as, crushing the missive into her pocket, she went out into the street, where she was joined by Mr. Hastings.

"Dora left me rather unceremoniously," said he, as he bade her good-evening, "and so I waited to walk with you."

But Eugenia could not appear natural, so anxious was she to know what the letter contained. Up to the very gate Mr. Hastings went, but for once she did not ask him to step; and he turned away, wondering at her manner, and feeling a little piqued at her unusual coolness. Hastening to her chamber, and crouching near the window, Eugenia tore open Dora's letter, and, clutching eagerly at the draft, almost screamed with delight when she saw the amount. Fifteen hundred dollars! She could not believe her senses; and drawing still nearer the window, for the daylight was fading fast, she sought for the reason of this unexpected generosity. But the old man's childish fancy, which would have touched a heart less hard than hers, aroused only her deepest ire—not because he had counted out the hairs, but because there had not been more to count. Bounding to her feet in her wrath, she exclaimed, "Fool that I was to have withheld one, when the old dotard would have paid for it so richly. But it cannot now be helped," she continued, and resuming her seat she read the letter through, exploding but once more, and that at the point where Uncle Nat had spoken of returning, asking if there was one who would welcome him home.

"Gracious Heavens!" she exclaimed, growing a little faint. "Wouldn't I be in a predicament? But it shall never be, if I can prevent it, and I fancy I can. As Dora will not read this letter, it is not reasonably to be expected that she will answer it, and it will be some time, I imagine, before I invite him to come and see if we are kind to her! What a childish old thing he must be, to pay so much for one little lock of hair! I'd send him all of mine, if I thought it would bring me fifteen hundred dollars."

It did seem a large sum to her, that fifteen hundred dollars, more than she dared to appropriate to herself; but the piano she was determined to have, and, as she dreaded what her mother might say, she resolved upon keeping the letter a secret until the purchase was made, and then Mrs. Deane could not do otherwise than indorse the draft, and let her have the money.

They had been talking of going to Rochester for some time past, and if she could manage to have Mr. Hastings go with her, she could leave her mother at the hotel, or dispose of her elsewhere, while she went with him to the music rooms, and made the selection. As if fortune were indeed favoring her, Mr. Hastings called the next night, and they were, as usual, left together alone. She was looking uncommonly well this evening; and as she saw how often and how admiringly his eyes rested upon her, hope whispered that the prize was nearly won. After conversing a while on different subjects, she spoke of her new piano, asking him if he remembered his promise of assisting her in a selection, and saying she thought of going to the city some day that week. Again Mr. Hastings remembered the beautiful rosewood instrument, whose tones had been so long unheard in his silent home, and he said, "Do you not like Ella's piano?" while a feeling, shadowy and undefined, stole over him, that possibly it might some day be hers; and Eugenia, divining his thoughts, answered artfully, "Oh, very much. I used to enjoy hearing dear Ella play, but that don't do me any good. It isn't mine, you know."

Very softly and tenderly the beautiful black eyes looked into his, and the voice was low and gentle, as it breathed the sacred name of Ella. It was the hour of Howard Hastings' temptation; and, seeing knowing what he did, he essayed to speak—to offer her the piano whose keys had been so often touched by the fairy fingers, now folded away beneath the winter snow. But his lips refused to move; there was a pressure upon them, as if a little hand were laid upon his mouth to prevent the utterance of words he had better far not speak. Thus was he saved, and when Eugenia, impatient at his delay, cast towards him an anxious glance she saw that his thoughts were not of her, and, biting her lips with vexation, she half petulantly asked if he had any intention of going to the city that week.

"Yes—no—certainly," said he, starting up as if from a deep reverie. Then, as he understood what was wanted of him, he continued, "Excuse me, Miss Deane. I was thinking of Ella, and the night when she died. What were you saying of Rochester? I have business there to-morrow, and if you go down I will aid you all I can. By the way," he continued, "that is the night of ——'s grand concert. How would you like to attend it?"

"Oh, so much!" answered Eugenia, her fine eyes sparkling with delight.

"Best stop," said he, "now I think of it, I have an engagement which may possibly prevent me from attending it, as I would like to do with you, for I know you would enjoy it. Still, it may be that I can, and if so I'll call for you at the hotel. We can come home on the 11 o'clock train."

So, ere Mr. Hastings departed it was arranged that Eugenia and her mother should next morning go down evening he would perhaps accompany them to the concert.

"I am progressing fast," thought Eugenia, as she sat alone in her chamber that night, after Alice had retired, "but still I wish he'd come to the point, and not keep me in such suspense. I thought once he was going to, and I believe now he would if he hadn't gone to thinking of Ella and all that nonsense; but never mind he's worth waiting for, with his fine house and immense wealth. I shan't care so much about Uncle Nat's money then, though goodness knows I don't want him turning up here some day and exposing me, as I dare say the meddlesome old thing would do."

This reminded her of the letter, and, as Alice was asleep, she thought this as favorable an opportunity for answering it as she would probably have. Opening her writing-desk and taking her pen, she framed a reply the substance of which was that ma, Alice, and herself were very, very thankful to her dear uncle for his generous gift to Dora, who, strange to say, manifested no feeling whatever. "If she is grateful," wrote Eugenia, "she does not show it in the least. I hardly know what to make of her, she's so queer. Some time, perhaps, she will appreciate your goodness, and meanwhile rest assured that I will see that your gift is used to the best advantage."

Not a word of coming home to the expectant old man whose heart each day grew lighter as he thought of the letter which Dora would write, bidding him to come to the friends who would welcome him back! Not one line from Dora to the kind uncle who, when he read the cruel lines laid his weary head upon his pillow and wept bitterly that this, his last fond hope, was crushed!

There is such a thing as retribution, and Eugenia Deane, sitting there alone that night, shuddered as the word seemed whispered in her ear. But it could not deter her from her purpose. Howard Hastings must be won. "The object to be gained was worthy of the means used to gain it," she thought as she sealed the letter, then placing the draft for the

The commercial traveler picked the dust off his boots, straightened his tie and entered the emporium of Mr. Brown, the village grocer. He was new to the district, otherwise he would not have made the error which we now divulge.

Behind the counter was a young gentleman of fourteen, with bulging eyes and a high collar. To him the traveler addressed himself.

"My boy," he said, "is Mr. Brown in?"

"I'm Mr. Brown," the boy replied "But possibly you want to see old Mr. Brown, my father. I'll get him."

And as the boy went in search of his prematurely aged parent it dawned upon the traveler that this is indeed an age of young men.—London Answers.

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON

"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES

said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB

says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 151 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. It's the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher, nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 300 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the property, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

John D. Reddick, Lyndhurst Tells His Experience

After Two Years' Suffering with Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Was Cured by Dr. Hamilton.

Lyndhurst, Ont., Oct. 5—The following statement made by Mr. Reddick to-day, Saturday, tells of the remarkable knowledge possessed by Dr. Hamilton.

"Two years ago I had grippe which settled in my back and kidneys. I was sickly and very miserable, suffered great pain and inconvenience. Different remedies were tried without benefit and then I decided to try Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills. I derived immense good from their use in short time. When two boxes were used I was immeasurably better. To-day I am well. Neighbors suffering from kidney and back trouble have also been cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I am convinced is the best medicine for regulating and cleansing the system. They are very mild but do the work just the same."

Nothing so certain in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c at all dealers.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Stabbed Whilst on the Way to His Home

It seems that stabbing and other serious affrays are not confined to large cities as the little village of Gooderham, in Haliburton county, was the scene of a serious stabbing affair on Christmas Eve, wherein a young man named Roland Madill received injuries which may prove fatal, whilst returning home from a lumber camp. Madill, who was on his way home in Monmouth township, where a wife and children were awaiting him, met his uncle, James Morrison, a married man, aged about 50 years.

A dispute arose and it is alleged Morrison cut him several times viciously with a knife. The weapon used was a hunter's knife with a long blade. Morrison was arrested by the county constable and the wounded man taken to the Lindsay hospital. No reason is assigned or known for the savage attack.

Successful Concert at Knox Church

The annual entertainment at Knox church was largely attended and, as usual, a great success. Tea was served to the scholars from 5.30 until 7.30, after which the tables were cleared away and Sheriff Hall took the chair and with a few brief remarks introduced a splendid program, in which the following took part, viz., the Misses Ruby Carr and Geraldine Montgomery, Miss Jessie Miller, the primary class, Miss Ella Reutsch, Clarence Reutsch, Mrs. McCann, Mrs. Patton and Mrs. Mowry acted as accompanists.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the appearance of Santa Claus, who distributed presents to the children. Mr. Herb McCann made an excellent Santa Claus.

Coming Trouble for a Cavandish Farmer.

Hector Smith of Cavendish, was in the city on Saturday and laid a serious charge against George Moncrief, also of that township. Mr Smith states that on the 20th of December he was going to the Ketchegum post office for his mail, and whilst passing the residence of Mr. Moncrief, some of the members of the family requested him to get their mail too. He complied and whilst sitting in the house, he states that Moncrief rushed in and ordering him out, tried to strike him. He naturally defended himself, and Moncrief rushed to a room for a revolver. Mr. Smith being unarmed, ran away from the place of danger. He had a long conversation with County Police Magistrate Edmison Saturday morning, with a view of securing a warrant for Moncrief's arrest, and the magistrate, after much deliberation, referred him to County Crown Attorney Wood.

Smith says he can give no reason for Moncrief's attitude towards him.

Turf News of Local Interest

The following from the current number of the Canadian Sportsman will be of interest to local horsemen.

At the late meeting of the Board of the American Trotting Association, held at Chicago, the following appears in the official report of their doings:

Thorough investigation of the ownership of the chestnut horse "Tim Alert," with affidavits from all persons concerned who could be reached, apparently shows that the horse was in August, 1906, and for some time previously and afterwards, the sole property of Charles Martin, of Peterborough, Ontario, and he purchased said horse direct from Abraham Davidson, of Mitchell, Ont., for $400, who gave a bill of sale to said Martin at reset, and does not believe that anyone else has any right or title in the horse."

Commenting on the above the Sportsman says:

"We can imagine we see the broad grin on the face of Cook when he reads the above. He may feel inclined to think notwithstanding his repeated declarations to friends that Martin did not ever own a hair on the horse's hide or tail, that it is quite possible somebody else knew better than he did and he may feel inclined to ship Tim Alert from Preston to Peterborough, and restore him to the young fellow who works on the canal dredge and who is officially pronounced the owner. So Chas Martin dredged up $400 for the purse! Really the young fellow's friends will be delighted to hear that he was able to discover such a good paying ledge in the Trent Canal. It apparently panned out to the lad employed at the boating apparatus even richer than to the contractor who had the job. Patience yet a little while and we shall hear what we shall hear."

GANG OF DESPERADOES WERE CAPTURED IN TORONTO

Chambers, the Ring Leader of the Gang, Answers the Description of the Man Who Robbed and Shot Porteous

Toronto, Dec 29.—There was a desperate hand-to-hand struggle on Sherbourne street at the corner of Shuter on Saturday evening, when the two young men, George Chambers, aged 27, and Thomas Morgan, aged 20, neither of whom have any fixed place of abode, were arrested by Detectives Newton, Twigg, and Guthrie, and Plain Clothes Constable Lydiatt. Both were heavily armed.

Acting on information gathered by Detective Tyton, Inspector Duncan detailed the officers to watch a house on Sherbourne street early on Saturday evening.

After a short wait in the rain and darkness, two men came out of the house, their hats pulled well over their eyes and overcoats buttoned up. As soon as they were clear of the house the four officers rushed at them.

They evidently realised at once that the game was up and prepared to make a fight for it. Morgan succeeded in getting his weapon out of his pocket, but it was instantly wrenched from his hand and thrown on the pavement.

STOPPED THE GUN PLAY.

Chambers' hand was deep in his coat pocket, and Detective Newton's experience told him what that meant. Quick as a flash the detective plunged his hand into Chambers' pocket and grasped his hand, which held a revolver.

The two young men put up a desperate fight, and had to be rather roughly handled by the officers before they were captured.

"It is a lucky thing there were four of us," said one of the detectives this morning. "One of the prisoners said afterwards that had there been only two of us they would have shot to kill.

MORGAN CONFESSED.

In the police station, Chambers, the older of the two, maintained a sullen silence. When brought to Inspector Duncan's office in the City Hall on Sunday morning, he still refused to say anything. A number of victims positively identified him as their assailant, and it was then that Morgan, the younger criminal, broke down and confessed.

Both men have police records, and Chambers has a particularly bad one. He was released from Kingston only a short time ago. Since the age of 18 he has been most of his time in prison.

The other criminal, John Morgan, a boy about 20 years, is from Miss MacPherson's Home in Stratford. He was born in West Ham, England.

The charges which may be made against the prisoners are those of attempted murder and highway robbery. They may get a life sentence on any of them, if convicted.

They came up in the police court this morning and pleaded not guilty. T. C. Robinette, K.C., is acting for them. They were remanded for a week. Reuben Crocker, a young mulatto, living at 621 Wellington St. was in the dock with them. He was implicated by Morgan and arrested at his house last night.

CASE ALSO IMPLICATED.

Samuel Case, a youth from Gananoque, who came up in the police court Saturday morning on the charge of stealing an overcoat, is also implicated.

The first of the present series of holdups was reported on Dec. 12th from Cavenville, near Millbrook, when Geo. Porteous, a farmer, was shot four times in the head. The robber called at Porteous' house and begged a dinner. He returned about 5.30 in the afternoon and demanded money. When it was refused he drew a revolver and began to shoot. One ball went through the farmer's left cheek, another went through his face from left to right, a third tore a hole in his scalp, and a fourth went through his ear. His assailant fled, and is thought to have boarded a freight train near Myrtle. The wounded man is in a critical condition, and in the event of his death a charge of murder will be laid.

On Dec 21. Fred W. Dundy, a farmer at Ely, was held up on Yonge street, by a man to whom he had given a ride, and who at a secluded part of the road held a revolver to his head. He was then made to get out of the sleigh. The robber then made away with the team and sleigh, which were however, recovered the next day.

R. F. McWilliams and Henry Rush will Contest the Mayoralty

43 For Alderman

In All Probability There will be an Election for School Trustee

Considerable interest was manifested in the nominations yesterday, the council chamber being crowded to the doors, and seats at a premium. It was a pity that a larger hall is not provided for this event, which so materially affects the interests of citizens generally.

For mayor there were nominated R. F. McWilliams for a second term, ex-Ald. Henry Rush, and William Yelland. The latter gentleman retired and the other two remain in the field. All three addressed the citizens present, but the main issue of the day were passed over with very few remarks. In fact, to use the words of all three candidates, "They had no axes to grind." To say the truth it would be advisable to call a public meeting in the opera house or elsewhere, so that each mayoralty and aldermanic candidate might verbally offer their several platforms to as large a gathering of the electorate as possible before election day. It is not fair to criticize the present mayor and council without giving them an opportunity to reply to such criticism. The few minutes allowed each candidate at the nomination for addressing his fellow citizens does not allow of an intelligent judgment even by the few present, to say nothing of the hundreds unable to take advantage of the occasion.

For Water Commissioner two are in the field—the retiring commissioner, Mr. W. H. Hill and ex-Mayor Henry Best.

The five retiring members of the Board of Education are Messrs. W. H. Hill, Dr Geo. Burnham, Jno. Crane, Wm. Pringle and D.W. Dimble. These men were all again nominated, but an addition to Mr. W. F. Nelson was proposed so that in all probability there will be an election for the School Board vacancy.

For alderman there are apparently many aspirants for a year of hard work in the public interest at a salary of much adverse criticism. Forty-three gentlemen were duly nominated, but undoubtedly many will retire.

It is well to note here that all candidates who intend to remain in the field must qualify with City Clerk Armstrong in the City Hall, before nine o'clock this evening, or their names will not go on the ballot papers.

The nominations were as follows:

FOR MAYOR.

Roland Fairbairn McWilliams, barrister at Law, proposed by Jas. Burnett and Jos. J. Duffus.

Henry Rush, Insurance Agent, proposed by Robt. Neill and Jas. Lynch.

Telegraphers May Once More Tie Things Up

Operators are Said to be Secretly Planning Second Big Strike--Cut in Wages Claimed

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Secret plans to reorganize the commercial telegraphers with a view to calling another strike on the eve of the Republican national convention, which meets here next June, came to light yesterday. Organizers are now at work repairing the breaches in the ranks caused by the strike of a few months ago.

The convention of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union will be held in Milwaukee June 8, and, according to present plans, the strike details will be completed at this meeting. The Republican national convention meets June 16, and if the Telegraphers are successful they will tie up the telegraph facilities on that day.

The telegraphers say employers are helping them to organize by reducing wages, and in this way forcing men who deserted the union during the strike to return to the ranks. The next strike will include all men employed by brokers and private concerns, it is said, as the brokers have reduced wages in spite of the agreements entered into during the last strike.

When the contracts with brokers were signed they provided for a minimum scale of $35 a week. Many of the brokers have cut salaries to $25 a week, and as there are about 700 idle operators in the city, the men at work have been forced to submit to the cut rather than throw up their positions. They have not submitted gracefully, however, and declare they are looking for an opportunity to even up the score.

Wesley Russell, secretary of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, admitted that a second strike was in contemplation, and that it would be called between June 8, when the telegraphers' convention assembles, and the date of the opening of the Republican national convention. He said he was sorry that the matter had come out at this time, as it might retard the work of organization in some cities.

The next strike, the leaders say, will be ordered in a systematic manner, and will have the full support of the American Federation of Labor, which was denied the telegraphers last time. The telegraphers were stampeded when they went on strike last August without the consent of their national officers and against the advice of the officials of other national organizations.

T. P. Cook, general superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, said last night that he had not heard of the plans of the operators to call a second strike. He said he did not think it would be possible for them to tie up the companies during the Republican convention.

HEALEY FALLS POWER TO BE DEVELOPED

Large Deputation, Composed of Municipal Officers and Leading Manufacturers, go to Ottawa to Ask for Lease

A deputation composed of the municipal officers of eighteen municipalities in Midland Ontario, and leading manufacturers and business men of eight ridings will in the next few days wait on the Dominion Government in behalf of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., to petition that body to give the company a lease of upper Healey Falls, which they need in order to properly develop Healey Falls. This portion of the Falls will be absolutely of no use to anyone else, but this company and there is no reason why the Dominion Government should not grant their request.

Healey is a most wonderful Fall of water and will undoubtedly in the course of a year or two, become known to the whole country for the enormous electric power which will be developed there. It will also bring into prominence all the towns in South Midland Ontario, especially that growing and prosperous place called Havelock, which through its importance, in connection with the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., and Healey Falls, has been appropriately christened "Power Town".

It is a shame to let the water that is flowing over the falls go to waste. Every time the second hand on a man's watch makes one revolution 100,000 cubic feet of water or enough to make 1,000 horse power flows over Healey Falls to no good and so it will continue to do until the Northumberland-Durham Power Co. have been given the required lease of the upper rapids at Healey Falls.

Peterboro Boy's Success

Whilst the majority of our local business, professional men and artisans of all crafts are seemingly content to travel along the humdrum path of current events, some of our local men, whether impelled by ambition, enterprise, chance or no matter what stimulus seem bound to win the topmost of the financial ladder. Among these ambitious climbers is Mr. Jos. J. MacPherson, one of Peterborough's leading and most successful contractors in brick and concrete building work. Mr. MacPherson who has had a hand in erecting some of Peterborough's leading buildings, spent Christmas in the city with his people.

Mr. MacPherson has, for the past year been out prospecting in the Cobalt district and has secured options or ownership in several promising claims, that will undoubtedly before many months, pay dollars for cents originally invested in stock. It might be mentioned that a conversation held by The Times with other Cobalt people yesterday developed the fact that this Peterborough boy has made a name for himself and his works as a successful and "to-be" winning prospector, as MacPherson brings intelligence to bear on hard work in this rich but otherwise inhospitable region. Mr. MacPherson's headquarters during the past summer and fall months have been at Latchford, Ont. "Mac" will probably spend the remaining winter and early spring months in this city, his home, and will, return then to the seat of his present operations. As "Mac" remarks, "Contracting is all right here, but I hope and expect to make as much in one lucky strike in Cobalt as any one could make here, with hard work and necessarily involved responsibility in a year. In answer to a question put by The Times, "Mr. MacPherson has not the Cobalt boom about played out?" Mac replied, "No chance. The boom has just only begun in a proper manner. That country is immensely rich in valuable minerals and the development of the same, will result in unknown possibilities for and all who either go there or are lucky enough to invest in the right mining stock. Cobalt has the silver and it is now up to Canadians to get up the sand and pluck to go and investigate."

The whole trend of Mr. MacPherson's conversation assured his questioner from The Times that the possibilities of Cobalt are beyond conception or description. Mr. MacPherson told several tales apent the mineorogical history, both past and present, of Cobalt that would cause the oldest and richest prospector, whose coin may come from Bullfrog, Nevada, or the Bluefields of Nevada to set up and take notice. By using the word "notice," we might call attention to the fact that nothing definite as to locality was given in this issue as to Mr. MacPherson's great find. We are, whilst wishing all readers and subscribers a Happy New Year, not transgressing that unwritten law prohibiting a newspaper, particularly the only daily in a largely extended district, from giving a free ad. This article is devoid of all thought or symptom of commercialism and simply call attention to the good work done by one of the sons of Peterborough. We advertise no stock, we quote no prices, but we do wind up, as persons sometimes do in the pulpit. "Lastly brethren, we don't know where Mr. MacPherson's mine is located and, finally, should Mr. MacPherson ever place the stock of this mine on the market, the man or woman who buys, is sure of a safe and lucrative return."

Again, it might be mentioned, in strict confidence that Mr. MacPherson does not know one single little word as to these personal remarks concerning him in his Cobalt properties. The Times however, backs up not only, under the dictates of common sense, and public decency, and apart from the universal cry of "graft" from the other side, the interests of the citizens of this great and growing manufacturing city so that we hope our readers will appreciate at least, one article wherein the intelligence and push of a local citizen will be given full value as a bona fide business transaction. We know beyond chance of contradiction or dispute, that many "fake" mines have been advertised from Cobalt. Still Mr. MacPherson, whilst, to tell the whole truth, is not yet in a position to advertise his discoveries has naturally presumably a mine or mines that will repay the original stockholders many per cent. This whole, possibly, too long drawn article, began singly as a personal notice of Mr. MacPherson's return to the city from Cobalt, but, should Mr. MacPherson, as is expected, in the near future, advertise a mine of his discovery or purchase thousands of dollars from this city, county and district, will flow towards Cobalt to, in part, demonstrate the confidence held here in Mr. MacPherson's integrity.

Doctors Find Gun Must Have Been Held Level

Melton, Dec. 29.—Interest in the Curry shooting, which occurred on Christmas night, continues unabated, in every gathering in this village, in Brampton, or along the route the public have the same question to ask, "Why did Terrace shoot the old man?"

The arrival early yesterday morning of Chief Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnston, representing the Attorney-general's department at the post-mortem, gave a new turn to the case.

Assisted by Doctors J. J. Lawson and D. L. Begnie, Chief Coroner Johnston made a rigid post-mortem over the body of deceased. The trio of medical men arrived at the homestead shortly before noon o'clock, and immediately set to work.

NATURE OF THE WOUND.

The wound itself underwent a thorough examination. It ran from a little to the left of the breastbone to the armpit, just beneath the collar bone. It measured seven inches in length, and four inches and a half at its greatest width. From the point where it started to where it ended under the armpit was a rise of one and a half inches. The rise was due to some of the shot deflecting upward from the ribs, one of which was broken and one smashed. It was the opinion of the medical men that deceased had received the full charge of shot.

"If Terrace had held his gun just an inch further to the right," said one of the doctors, "it would have saved Curry altogether."

Dr. Lawson is emphatic in his belief that the charge which Curry received in his breast was a full one.

"As Terrace raised the gun to shoot," he said to a press representative, "the old man turned slightly away from him. The shot, instead of entering the right breast directly penetrated the left breast in a slightly oblique manner. The charge tore a great hole in his breast, and the shot found lodgement in the muscles behind the left shoulder blade. From a description of the wound, I should say that when the shot was fired the gun was perfectly level. Terrace is not a tall man, and evidently held the rifle in the ordinary way. Judging from the stature of Terrace, and the location of the wound he inflicted, I haven't the slightest doubt but what the rifle was perfectly level."

"Did you observe any signs of burned flesh?" he was asked.

"The body had been washed by the undertakers when we examined it," said the doctor, "but we saw no signs. I believe that the muzzle of the gun was at least six feet from the dead man's breast when the shot was fired. We took shot from the skin where it hung from the wound two and a half inches below.

Dr. Johnston gave the immediate cause of death as due to bleeding into the lungs from the wounds. During the post-mortem, the skull of deceased was removed to ascertain whether or not death might have resulted from apoplexy, due to the excitement and advanced age of old Curry. No such symptom was found, the brain being reported as normal and in an exceptionally healthy condition.

USED CHARTED FORM

For the first time in a murder case, the charted forms, printed by the attorney-general's department under advice from Dr. Johnston, are being used. The chart is simply a double-ruled sheet as long as a page of foolscap. On the first page are printed questions relating to every organ of the body, the question being answered by a simple "yes" or "no," in order to obviate long and involved descriptions by the coroner who makes the post mortem. On the fourth page are two views of the human form in outline, front and back. The skull is shown in four positions. It is the coroner's duty to mark on the outlined body the exact location of any wound or bruise. The skull is treated in the same way. In order to overcome a conflict in the coroner's medical testimony through lack of memory, or an account of oversight, each doctor who examines the body attaches his signature to the document.

Many People Here Greatly Benefitted

Tremendous Popularity of the Vegetable Prescription

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy filled the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. Most of these folks naturally bought the ingredients only and mixed them at home. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

"STAUNCH BUT SLOW SO DON'T WORRY"

Says C.P.R. Officials

Montreal, Dec. 30.—The officials of the C.P.R. Steamship Company say that there is no need for anxiety concerning the steamship Mount Royal, which is now several days overdue. Many other vessels report severe storms, and have been delayed a number of days on their passage across the Atlantic. They say that the Mount Royal is a good staunch vessel, but is very slow.

From Meat Cutter to the Pulpit

Denver, Dec. 29.—From meat cutter to minister; from dressing fowl to cleansing morals; from a good salaried place to the trying life of a clergyman of small income, is the evolution which is taking place in the life of William E. Taylor, of No. 935 Acoma street.

"William E. Taylor, butcher."

That is the way his name appears in the city directory for 1906. In the directory for 1908 it will read:

"William E. Taylor, minister."

Ever since he was a child William Taylor wanted to be a minister, but in the battle of life he could not perform the double duty of keeping the wolf from the door and attending seminary. He has solved the question by following the occupation of butcher and grocer in Denver part of the past eighteen years and by studying at night. Greek and Latin are as easy to Mr. Taylor as English is to the natives of the United States. Within the last two years he has succeeded in nearly completing a six years' course of study, and for several months Bishop W. W. Weekly, of the United Brethren Church, has been urging him to take up active church work.

Twelve years ago Mr. Taylor commenced to study for the ministry. He had saved some money and thought he saw the way open to carry out his ambition. Sickness in his family forced him to give up his studies and he returned to his work as a butcher and grocer. He continued to take an active interest in church work, studied Greek and Latin and the Bible, and finally decided to become a minister of the United Brethren Church.

Like as not Mr. Taylor would have become a Presbyterian minister, but the Presbyterians require actual attendance at seminaries, and Mr. Taylor could not attend a seminary—he didn't have the money. The United Brethren Church has a specially prepared course, which enabled him to study at home. This course covers a period of six years, the first two years are devoted to preliminary study and the four remaining years go into the deeper questions. Next April Mr. Taylor will have finished the entire course.

Bishop Weekly was [illegible] W. Weekly, of the United Brethren Church, that when Mr. Taylor took his examination at the annual conference held at Fruitvale, Colo., September 12, the Bishop wanted him to take up church work without delay.

"I want to [illegible] my students first," said Mr. Taylor.

Besides studying Greek and Latin at home, Mr. Taylor took private lessons. For a short time he taught in a Denver business college, and is so thoroughly equipped that he will probably be given an important post in a mission church which will probably be established in South Denver by the United Brethren Church.

"I am not entering the ministry for the money there is in it," said Mr. Taylor. "I do not believe in high salaried ministers. A minister who receives $10,000 or $15,000 a year cannot have much Christianity in him.

"I do not believe in splendid churches. I don't like $100,000 churches, but more of them. I do not think that we should have box seats for the rich and have the poor kept in another part of the church.

"As for denomination, I don't think that the denomination counts. That isn't what will save us. Following the Bible is what will save. I wouldn't care what church I preached in, just so it was orthodox. If I went to a small town and didn't find any of the people of my church there I would take up another church. I believe in following the Bible.

"Some nights during examination periods, I have remained up all night and worked during the day. I have often remained up till two o'clock in the morning studying. I was determined to learn."

Mr. Taylor is simplicity itself. He is about 36 years of age, of medium height and size. He has a well developed head and is as artless in his statements as a school girl. Besides himself and wife, there are two boys and a girl in the family. The eldest child is ten years and the youngest but a few months old.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients — Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the highest endorsement from the leading medical writers, teachers and practitioners in their several schools, as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not easy to discover how much real benefit may be expected from its use. In many cases, miracles. It will not [illegible] in its advertising [illegible] it will cure them [illegible] cases.

Deure Man Had His Arm Fractured

Yesterday Dr. Carmichael was summoned at 8.30 a. m. to attend a case at the Cross in the township of Deure. The doctor on his way out had a hard time as the track along the roads, covered by last night's heavy snow storm, had not been broken and a heavy rain storm was raging. On arrival he found that a man named Edmund Allan, a resident of the township, had had the upper part of his right arm badly shattered. The bone was splintered but medical skill will probably save the limb. The story as told by the patient was that yesterday morning early, whilst walking along the road, he did not hear a team and sleigh coming behind until the horses were upon him. He, startled to hear [illegible]

HOW CHILDREN ARE QUICKLY STRENGTHENED

Develop Them with Ferrozone, Which Makes Rich Blood, Hardy Muscle, Steady Nerves.

Children brought up on Ferrozone are known by their strong, rugged frame, their chubby cheeks and healthful appearance.

Mothers find it an indispensable tonic and body builder, and in thousands of homes no other remedy is used.

EVERY CHILD IMPROVES ON FERROZONE

Mrs. E. Montgomery, of Pittsburg, writes: "A little niece came to visit me and noticing her pale and haggard looks, I started her on a course of Ferrozone. The change that girl underwent in a few weeks was marvellous. Her appetite chirped up, she had more spirit and strength, and a rosy color came into her cheeks that I never saw there before. I weighed my niece about the time she started to pick up, and in seven weeks she gained almost eight pounds, and just looked the picture of health. I think this should be an example to many mothers. And I hope that others will try Ferrozone for their little boys and girls. I am thoroughly convinced that it's the most strengthening tonic it has my strongest endorsement."

The reason Ferrozone works so beneficially with Ferrozone is that it acts directly on the blood, freeing it of all unhealthy matter, at the same time giving it an additional supply of iron.

This at once results in more strength new spirit and renewed vitality. Just one tablet at meal time works wonders.

Refuse to accept any article the druggist may say is just as good. Get Ferrozone, and the result we guarantee will be satisfactory. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 30, 1907

IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

According to the report of the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Birmingham, Eng., an innovation has been made there in the matter of education, which can but be very advantageous to those directly interested, as it necessarily tends to greater intelligence and a higher degree of skill among those who are directly affected by the new order of things. To all who are in any degree interested in education, and particularly in that phase of it which has to do with handicraft, the following observations of the Commission will be of considerable interest, and the innovation described will be regarded as a decided step in the right direction:—

"A school is in existence in Birmingham, particulars of which may be interesting to Canada. It is termed the School of Jewelers and Silversmiths, and is under the control of the museum and school of art committee of the corporation. It is considered highly successful, and it was largely due to the efforts of the Jewellers and Silversmiths' Association of Birmingham that the school was founded.

"The object of the school is to provide an artistic training for apprentices and craftsmen engaged in the local metalwork trades, and to supplement the mere manipulative skill in one particular branch of a craft which the workman acquires in the manufactory, by a training in design and by a complete and comprehensive knowlgede of the principles of the craft.

"About 600 apprentices and other employees are enrolled during the session. Most of these can only attend the evening classes, but many of the manufacturers send some of their apprentices to the afternoon classes.

"Arrangements have recently been made by which the head teachers of the local elementary schools may send to the jewellers' school on one-half day a week, all the scholars in their 6th and 7th standards who propose to become jewellers or metal workers.

"The school is well equipped for practical exercises in all the various branches of goldsmiths' and silversmiths' work and die-sinking. All tools, apparatus and materials are supplied by the committee.

"For jewellers the following subjects are taught:—Drawing from nature, lettering, design drawing from life, history of metalwork, engraving, enamelling, damascening, inlay, metal coloring, enamel making, mounting, setting, carving, saw-piercing, chasing, re-cousse, lectures on processes and precious stones.

"For silversmiths, the above subjects, mounting, embossing, raising, and lectures on processes.

"For die-sinkers, elementary and advanced modelling from plants, foliage, animals and the human figure, medallist design, chipping, die-cutting, stamping, mounting.

"There are two terms, Autumn term and winter term. The fees for ordinary students attending during the day are £4 for the term; if attending evenings only, £1 cents per term. Employees who are members of the Jewellers and Silversmiths' Association have the privilege of sending students to any of the classes for half the ordinary fee, the Association paying the other half.

"The committee award special prizes for attendance and progress, and the Board of Education also award medals and book prizes for the best work.

"An exhibition of students' work is held at the school annually.

"Students are entered for the technological examinations conducted by the city and guilds of London Institute, and certificates awarded by the board of education and by the metal work trades.

"The cost to the Jewellers' Association is about £500 per year, and to the rates about £1,700."

In this respect we find that the city of Birmingham is considerably in advance of the cities of this country, if not in other ways. True, we have in Ontario a school where ambitious young jewellers may take a further course after completing their apprenticeship in the store. True, also, that Birmingham has a distinct advantage in wealth and population over many cities in this country. The educational innovation that has been made there, however, is worthy of the closest attention of the people of this city and country, because of the practical benefits which may be derived alike by the individual tradesman and by the community from such schools as that described. The plan might be adapted to the needs of the young men serving their apprenticeship to every trade, and to the size of the purse whose strings would have to be loosened to meet the expense in connection therewith. The cities of this country should consider the advisability of following Birmingham's example as far as they are able to do so.

Religeon Cost Miss Kilburn a Fortune

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 21.—Because she persisted in identifying herself with a religious sect known as the "Forward Movement," Miss Mary Woodman Kilburn alleges she was cut off by the will of her father, the late William H. Kilburn, with a mere life interest of $100 a month in his valuable estate.

Persuaded then to sign that scanty interest to her mother, she declares, she found when his mother died soon thereafter that she was cut off with nothing at all.

Miss Kilburn appeared before Judge Rives in the Superior Court yesterday, seeking to have the estate settled up under her father's will rather than that of her mother.

In his will Mr. Kilburn named the Title Insurance and Trust Company, and Miss Kilburn as trustees of the estate. Miss Kilburn filed a contest to prevent their administering the will. After her mother's death and when she learned she had been disinherited, the young woman offered to withdraw the contest against her father's will and allow the estate to be administered thereunder by the remaining trustee, the Title Insurance and Trust Company. Attorney Will D. Gould, who had been appointed by Mrs. Kilburn as executor of her estate, declined to enter into this arrangement, however, and applied for letters of administration. It is her mother's will that Miss Kilburn is now contesting.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. All dealers.

Four-Foot Princes Seeking to Wed Tall Women

Berlin, Dec. 29.—Two princes of the noble house of Sayn-Wittgenstein-Hohenstein are afflicted with the curse of diminutiveness—they are both dwarfs. They have determined to remedy it.

Prince George, who attained his majority some time ago, and Prince William, who will attain his in September next, have made up their minds to contract mesalliances if they cannot find big enough women in their own ranks.

"I will go to England and marry the tallest women I can find, no matter whether she has sixteen quarterings to her escutcheon or none at all," says George, who has declined a number of advantageous marriage offers on the part of princely gents blessed with daughters of ordinary stature.

William, still more enterprising, has decided to go to the United States and marry the first gigantic girl that suits him.

"We are tired of having the Hohensteins referred to as dwarfs," say these princes, and in September next, when both William and George will be their own masters, they will start out on their gigantesc hunt.

The Sayn family traces its ancestors back to A.D. 1145. More than three centuries ago a German emperor conferred upon its male members the appellation of "Hoch und Wohlgeboren" (high and well born.) But whether high or low born, it made no difference at the accept the Sayns. Four foot six has been their limit since the beginning of the sixteenth century, according to records extant.

Whether they were taller before that date, the chronicle says it not. But that the noble lords have shrunk surely under the family curse is witnessed by books of minor history, records by medical authorities and experiments.

When Catherine the Great determined to breed a race of grants she hunted through Europe and Asia for six footers and more, setting them to marriage, feeding and training them. A prince of Sayn, hearing of this, was deputized by his family to go to Muscovite land and watch the experiment. And as the best thing to do the royal dwarf married the tallest woman in Catherine's importations.

His immense frau, whose hips he touched with the crown of his head when nestling at her side, bore him two eighteen pound baby daughters, that grew up to be as formidable as their mother, but the male offspring of the unequal pair proved no larger in the course of years than the average Wittgenstein-Hohenstein.

What Is Happiness?

"What is happiness?" asks James Bryce in the Atlantic. "Is it pleasure, and, if so, what is pleasure? Aristotle gave us a definition of pleasure, or, rather, perhaps a description, since the logicians say that you cannot define an ultimate fact which has not been much improved upon. It is not, however, psychological definitions that need concern us, but rather this question, which occupied the utilitarian school seventy years ago, whether the pleasures taken in the aggregate as constituting happiness are to be subjected to a qualitative as well as a quantitative analysis. Shall we measure them by the intensity by which they are felt or by the fineness and elevation of the feeling to which they appeal? Is the satisfaction which Pericles felt in watching the performance of a drama of Sophocles at an Athenian festival greater or less than the satisfaction which one of his slaves felt in obtaining a jar of wine?"

Lungs That Are Starved.

It is a fact that most of us are victims of our own lazy respiration and deprive ourselves of oxygen that is so necessary if we would keep our bodies at their highest point of efficiency. Oxygen is absolutely necessary to the existence of animal life. Man gets oxygen from air breathed into his lungs. Besides introducing oxygen into the blood, the lungs act as excretory organs, removing undesirable elements from the system at each expiration. In ordinary or unconscious breathing only 10 to 13 per cent of the air in the lungs is changed at each breath, leaving 80 to 90 per cent of the lung capacity filled with stale air. Forced or conscious breathing of pure air ventilates the lungs, driving out the 80 to 90 per cent of the stationary or stale air. All bedroom windows and doors should be wide open during sleep, thus connecting the lungs directly with pure air of the outside world.—Delineator.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant, at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

fifteen hundred dollars safely in her purse, she crept softly to bed, sleeping ere long as soundly as if the weight of a guilty conscience had never rested upon her.

CHAPTER XV.

The next morning at the appointed time Mr. Hastings, Mrs. Deane, and her daughter stood together in the Dunwood depot, awaiting the arrival of the train. Eugenia was in high spirits, chatting gayly with Mr. Hastings, whose manner was so unusually lover-like that more than one looker-on smiled meaningly as they saw how very attentive he was. On reaching the city he parted from the ladies for a time, telling Eugenia, as he bade her good-morning, that he should probably not see her again until about three o'clock in the afternoon, when he would meet her at the music-rooms.

"Meet you at the music-rooms for what?" asked Mrs. Deane, who, though she had frequently heard her daughter talking of a new piano, had never for a moment believed her to be in earnest.

"What do you suppose he would meet me for, unless it were to look at pianos?" answered Eugenia; and her mother replied, "Look at pianos! A great deal of good that will do, I imagine, when both of us together have but twenty-five dollars in the world!"

A curious smile flitted over Eugenia's face as she thought of the draft, but she merely replied, "And suppose we haven't any money, can't I make believe, and by looking at expensive instruments induce Mr. Hastings to think we are richer than we are? I don't accuse him of being at all mercenary, but I do think he would have proposed ere this if he hadn't thought us so wretchedly poor."

Mrs. Deane could not understand how merely looking at a costly piano indicated wealth; but feeling herself considerable interest in her daughter's success, she concluded to let her pursue her own course, and the subject was not resumed again until afternoon, when, having finished their shopping, they sat alone in a private room, opening from the public hall, and opposite the ladies' parlor in the hotel. They had taken this room, because in case she attended the concert Eugenia would wish to rearrange her hair, and make some little change in her personal appearance. "Then, too, when Mr. Hastings came," she said, "they would be by themselves and not have everybody listening to what they said. By the way, mother," she continued as she stood before the glass, "if Mr. Hastings can attend the concert, suppose you go home at half-past six. You don't care for singing, you know, and besides that you stumble so in the dark, that it will be so much pleasanter for Mr. Hastings to have but one in charge."

"And much pleasanter for you, too, to be alone with him," suggested Mrs. Deane, who really cared but little for music, and was the more willing to accede to Eugenia's proposal.

"Why, yes," answered the young lady. "I think it would be pleasanter—so if he says he can accompany me, you go home, like a dear good old woman as you are." And trying on her bonnet, Eugenia went out to keep her appointment, finding Mr. Hastings there before her, as she had expected.

Several expensive pianos were examined, and a selection at last made of a very handsome one, whose cost was four hundred and fifty dollars. "I care but little what price I pay, if it only suits me," said Eugenia, with the air of one who had the wealth of the Indies at her disposal. "You will see that it is carefully boxed and sent to Dunwood, will you not?" she continued, turning to the man in attendance, who bowed respectfully, and stood waiting for the money, while Mr. Hastings, too, it may be, wondered a very little if it would be forthcoming. "I did not know certainly as I should make a purchase," continued Eugenia, "so I left the money with mother at the hotel; I will bring it directly;" and she tripped gracefully out of the store followed by Mr. Hastings, who felt almost as if he had done wrong in suffering her to buy a new piano when Ella's would have suited her quite as well, and the name upon it, "E. Hastings," would make no difference!

Once in the street he thought to say something like this to her and prevent the purchase, but again an unseen hand, as it were, sealed his lips; and when he spoke, it was to tell her that he could probably escort her to the concert, and would see her again about dark. Here, having reached the hotel, he left her, and walked on a short distance when, remembering something concerning the concert which he wished to tell her, he turned back, and, entering the hotel, went to the parlor where he expected to find her. But she was not there, and, thinking she had gone out for a moment and would soon return, he stepped into the hall, and as the day was rather cold, stood over the register, which was very near Eugenia's room. He had been there but an instant when he caught the sound of his own name, and looking up he saw the ventilator over the door opposite was turned back, so that everything said within, though spoken in a low tone, could be distinctly heard without. It was Eugenia who was speaking, and not wishing to listen, he was about turning away, when the words she uttered arrested his curiosity and chained him to the spot.

They were, "And what if Mr. Hastings did give it to me! If he marries me, and I intend that he shall, 'twill make no difference whether the piano was bought afterward or a little in advance. He knows, or ought to know, that I would not use Ella's old one."

"But has he ever said a word to you on the subject of marriage?" queried Mrs. Deane, and Eugenia answered, "Not directly, perhaps, but he has had it in his mind a hundred times, I dare say. But pray don't look so distressed. I never knew before that ashaming mothers objected to their daughters receiving costly presents from the gentlemen to whom they were engaged."

"You are not engaged," said Mrs. Deane, and Eugenia replied, "But expect to be, which is the same thing"; then after a pause, she continued, "But, jesting aside, Mr. Hastings did not buy the piano. I bought it myself and expect to pay for it, too, that is, if you will indorse this draft. Look!" and she held to view the draft of which Mrs. Deane was, until that moment, wholly ignorant.

Wiping from his white brow the heavy drops of perspiration which had gathered thickly upon it, Mr. Hastings attempted to leave the place, but the same hand which twice before had sealed his lips was interposed to keep him there, and he stood silent and immovable, while his surprise and indignation increased as the conversation proceeded.

In great astonishment Mrs. Deane examined the draft, and then questioned her daughter as to how she came by it. Very briefly Eugenia told of the letter she had sent her Uncle Nat. "I knew there was no surer way of gaining his good will," said she, "than by thrusting Dora in his face, so I asked her if she had any message, and she sent her love, together with a lock of her mother's hair, which I verily believe turned the old fellow's heart. I have not the letter with me which he wrote in reply and directed to Dora, but it was a sickish, sentimental thing, prating about his love for her mother, and how much he prized that lock, which he said he would pay for at the rate of one dollar a hair! And don't you believe, the silly old fool sat up all night crying over and counting the hairs, which amounted to fifteen hundred! 'Twould have been more if I hadn't foolishly kept back some for hair ornaments. I was so provoked I could have thrown them in the fire."

"But if the letter was directed to Dora, how came you by it?" asked Mrs. Deane, who, knowing Eugenia as well as she did, was still wholly unprepared for anything like this.

Girls Black Boots

Princeton, Mo., Dec. 29.—With girls shining shoes, washing windows and show cases, selling candies and cakes of their own make; boys cleaning the streets and yards, shucking corn for the farmers and doing all sorts of odd jobs about town, the 65 students of the Princeton high school made more than $100 in one day with which to buy books for their library.

Being in need of books, and money to get them not being on hand, the teachers and students decided upon this method. The entire number put in the day at work. While some only turned in small sums, others proved good money-getters of the best kind and had several dollars to show for their labor. Each student was allowed to choose his or her own method of making money.

Miss Urania Alley, a member of the senior class, and a leader in the younger society circles, procured a boot-blacking outfit and went about the streets shining shoes. By this method she made $10.25. Misses Montie Hollars and Leila Fair, other members of the class, also shined shoes. Miss Hollars made $7.05 and Miss Fair $3.50.

The girls of the sophomore class sold candies and cakes. Professor Wright and his class of boys went to the country and gathered corn. Some of the girls blacked stoves, scrubbed, washed dishes and did other odd jobs. Many of them made as high as $6.

The freshmen class made $25.75, sophomores $22.75, juniors $16.23 and seniors $30.10. D. W. Branam, superintendent of the schools, took a leading part in the work. He appeared on the streets in overalls early in the morning and worked all day in the street cleaning gang.

The money thus earned will purchase almost 100 volumes for the library.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am prepared to send through druggists, small free Trial Bottles of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing could be fairer, nothing more convincing as a physical test of any medicine of real, genuine merit. But this article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a most wonderful healing antiseptic balm, put up in hospital sized, capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, creamy like ointment, supported by Dr. Shoop's Peculiar Process. If Catarrh of the nose, throat or head has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of signed up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public, in this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $4.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 4 to 7% per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government expert's report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Many Doctors Failed

Dr. Hamilton Again Figures in a Case that Puzzled Other Physicians

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 3.—When the treatment of Mrs. Stanley, of 145 Argyle St., was first given it caused no small comment, and again establishes that a physician who understands his profession none excel Dr. Hamilton.

"For years," says Mrs. Stanley, "I have suffered greatly from a peculiar dragging weakness that resulted from pleurisy and asthma. Doctors prescribed but failed to advise anything of real benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut and I bought five boxes. They gave me renewed strength and energy, toned my stomach, enriched my blood, and supplied just what my system needed. No medicine could have benefited more than Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and believe every woman would be helped enormously by using these pills regularly. They did me more lasting good than all the prescriptions I took in five years."

No man or woman in poor health ever used Dr. Hamilton's Pills without benefit; the depressed, ailing and weak they uplift and strengthen as a trial always proves.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

The candidates for mayor and water commissioner were permitted to address the electors between eleven and twelve o'clock. Mr. Yelland as usual amused his audience considerably, and what little criticism of the mayor was in evidence emanated from his lips alone.

MR. HENRY RUSH

Was the first speaker and the audience received him with applause. He remarked that he had lived in Peterborough for 45 years, and this was the second nomination he had attended. Speaking of his candidature, he said, that for the last three months he had been asked to allow his name to go before the people as a candidate for mayor. At first he had considered the matter a formality, but when two weeks ago, a requisition had been presented to him, signed by hundreds of ratepayers, he had felt that it was a call to duty, and after several days consideration, he had accepted. He had no axes to grind, was a large property owner, and had made a success of his own business, and felt that he could make a similar success, if given an opportunity, in managing the business of Peterborough.

Mr. Rush went on to speak about the purchase of the Hilliard property, remarking that for the benefit of a number of the ratepayers and voters who had come to the city in the last few years, and did not know him as well as the older citizens, he wished to correct a report that had been circulated.

During the first year that he had been a member of the council, a great problem was to get gravel, and he had made the proposal to purchase a part of the Hilliard farm. It was found that the owner did not wish to sell a part of it but wished to sell the whole farm for $10,000. This was considered an impossibility, as far as the council was concerned, but he had advised leaving the matter to him. It had cost him a lot of anxiety and time before the matter was settled. One man to whom he had spoken, a property owner, had said, "Rush, buy it yourself; there's money in it," and had offered to put up $5,000, and take a half interest. Mr. Rush however, refused. "The ratepayers of Peterborough had elected me to do my best for them," he remarked, "and I would not have taken any money and bought the property for myself." The speaker considered the Hilliard property worth $40,000 to the city today.

"I am not going to find fault with what has been done," continued Mr. Rush; "I am not here for that. I have no axes to grind, and I pledge myself to do the best I can for the city, without fear and favor. I am under no compliment to anyone, and what I have I have made myself."

"Economy must be the watchword" were his concluding words, before thanking the ratepayers for the honor of the requisition.

EX-MAYOR YELLAND

Was not satisfied with the way things are going on. Mr. Rush was speaking about the gravel pit. I want to say a few words about that, and if he gets in I hope he will see that there is not so much paid for taking out the gravel. Some of the teamsters take out four loads a day, and I often see them going into the Commercial House for a quiet dose. Then they are looking for higher wages! This is pretty slippery ground. If I were looking for votes," he remarked, amid much laughter, "but I'm not. If I had the say they wouldn't have taken out a foot of gravel for three months, unless they first come to my terms. Then they have these unions among them. They are the curse of the country," he exclaimed, but was stopped by a sudden storm of hisses from the crowd, so that his remarks were drowned, and Chairman Armstrong had to call the meeting to order.

MAYOR McWILLIAMS

Prefaced his speech by remarking that he was placed in a somewhat peculiar position seeing that the only criticism on this year's work came from one who does not intend to remain in the field (Wm. Yelland). It is only fair, he continued, that my opponent should state on what grounds I am not entitled to the customary courtesy of a second term. Regarding the teamsters I am being attacked on both sides, but the Board of Works attempted to deal fairly with the men and gave them an increase of 40 cents. I am, as I always have been, a decided supporter of union principles (Cheers). As to the lift lock, the mayor went on to say, that it had not been very creditable to the town that ready access was not available to a work constructed by the government at a cost of half a million dollars. The lift lock was one of Peterborough's big attractions, and it had been thought necessary to put a road through to it for the accommodation of thousands of our visitors who would otherwise have had to go a considerable distance out of the way. Concerning the cost of the road way the Board of Works had put a honest and capable man in charge of the work, in whom he had and still has every confidence. He (the mayor) was no judge of the cost of such work.

His worship next touched on the overdraft question, and stated that, $90,000 of the present overdraft is due to new schools over which the council has no control, $40,000 is due to sidewalks and sewers, debentures for which it has not yet been possible to issue, which conditions prevail every year. This year was started with an overdraft of over $50,000. The moment the city's re-making debentures are sold there will not be much of an overdraft.

Turning to the assessment question, the mayor said the matter had been much exaggerated. "I gave no instructions to either Mr. McKee or McGrath. The council had nothing whatever to do with the increased assessment, and we don't want any more money this year than last. I, personally, was one of ten people in the council who voted for Mr. McKee, and I was the one who had the appointment of one member of the Court of Revision which cut the assessment down.

The mayor here went on to say that he had no axe to grind with Mr. Rush. His opponent, who as he claims is acquiescing to the expressed wish of five or six hundred ratepayers to accept nomination, I'm brought out by reason of the fact that 1300 voted for me last year, and I'd rather have 500 votes than 1500 names on a requisition paper.

Who has brought out Mr. Rush? I'm not fighting Mr. Rush, and it's for you to ascertain who is opposing me. You know whether they are political or not, and you know who it is I've had to fight all the way through my political career. Mr. Rush dropped out of the council because he did not wish to run for mayor, and who has brought him out now? I'll leave that for you to find out."

With regard to Relief Officer Miller, the mayor said he was one of the best officers the city had, and explained that the council had decided not to give him an increase on salary until they saw whether the increased work would continue, giving Mr. Miller, however, a bonus for the year.

MR. W. H. HILL.

Mr. W. H. Hill, candidate for Water Commissioner, thanked the gentlemen who had nominated him. He had been a member of the Water Commissioners since the water works had been taken over by the city in 1902, and also of the old board before that time.

MR. G. W. HATTON.

Mr. Henry Best, the other candidate for Water Commissioner, was not present, and Mr. G. W. Hatton asked permission to speak on his behalf. He announced that he intended to support Mr. Best, not because he had any personal feelings against Mr. Hill, but because he thought it was in the best interests of the city.

For Alderman

Ladies and Gentlemen—

Having accepted nomination for a third term as alderman, I shall if elected, use every effort to further the best interests of the city, and advocate and support such measures as will promote the welfare of the community as a whole. JAS. CURRY TELLS STORY OF TRAGEDY --VERDICT OF MURDER

Against Terrace, Who Committed the Terrible Deed on Xmas Night--Proof That a Second Shot was Fired

Brampton, Dec. 31.—In the ... ll to against Terrace at all. He was pos... to... hall at Elmbank, twelve miles from here, Coroner D. Higgins, of Brampton, held an inquest this afternoon into the circumstances surrounding the death of William Curry, who died on Christmas night after being shot by his hired man, John David Terrace. While some of the jurors contended that further evidence should have been adduced, and that they should have heard the story of James Reid, the Barnardo boy who saw the shooting, the following verdict was returned;

"We find that William Curry came to his death from a gunshot wound caused by a shot from a gun fired by one John Terrace, and that the said John Terrace did wilfully kill and murder William Curry."

NO NEW EVIDENCE

No new evidence was brought out. James Curry told his story of the shooting of his father, and the struggle he had with Terrace, whom he finally overpowered and tied with rope.

To Mr. Hassard Mr. Curry said that on the day before Christmas, when he and Terrace were in the stable, Terrace removed a large hammer from his pocket and placed it on a barrel. Mr. Hassard cross-examined Mr. Curry very minutely as to the dimensions of the dining room at his house and Mr. Curry broke down and cried, stating that he would rather not give evidence above, however.

Dr. Moses H. Aikins said he reached Curry's house at exactly twelve o'clock on Christmas night, and found Mr. Wm. Curry dying. Thirty-two minutes later he died. Nothing could have been done to prevent death, which, in his opinion, was caused by shock and hemorrhage.

Dr. D. L. Heggie of Brampton, who performed the post-mortem in company with Dr. J. A. Lawson and Dr. A. J. Johnston, of Toronto, gave as the cause of death, hemorrhage and shock, caused by the gunshot wound.

The general line of the wound, said Dr. Heggie to Mr. Hassard, was upward. The bulk of the shot passed through the body.

Inspector Wm. Greer, who examined the Curry home, said, stated that there was a gun ... hole in the ceiling of the kit... and he found the shot lodged ... the rafters and sheeting of the roof.

This concluded the evidence. Mr. Hassard asked the coroner to instruct the jury ... a verdict that William ... met his death from a gun in the hands of Terrace, but to leave off the clause containing the reference to murder. The verdict was returned as above, however.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, because of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause, would have quickly removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctively feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One is a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Manitoba May Take Over The Bell 'Phone System

Experts Now Making a Valuation for the Government

Winnipeg, Man., January 1st.—Mr. O. F. French, telephone expert for the Manitoba Government, on Saturday completed making a valuation of the Bell telephone system. The engineer had already completed his work in Winnipeg and Portage La Prairie, and is to-day visiting each office at country points preparatory to submitting to the government his final report as to the valuation of the Bell system within the province, which report is expected by the Premier early next week.

Premier Roblin states that if the valuation placed upon the Bell system by the government's own engineer is such as to warrant the government proceeding further in the matter, and agreement for the purchase of the Bell system within the province will be drawn up and the system pass into the hands of the provincial government.

President Sise called upon the Government about ten days ago and negotiations were opened between the Bell people and the Cabinet, with a view to handing over to Manitoba the plant of the company within the province. Mr. Sise placed a valuation of $4,000,000 on the Manitoba system. This figure was considered much above the market value of the system taking into consideration the fact that the government or municipalities had already made preparation for putting in systems to compete with the Bell, and in some places, such as Winnipeg, had gone to great expense putting down conduits. Mr. Sise declined at first to reduce his price, stating that if he was selling the plant for himself he would no. sell under five millions.

POLICE

At yesterday's session of the Police court a local hotelkeeper was charged with selling intoxicants during prohibited hours, viz., last Sunday. He pleaded guilty and no witnesses were subpoenaed nor papers issued, so that the penalty invoved no costs further than the fine, viz., $100.

The hotelman in question explained that a local liveryman who suffers greatly with asthma, and who on Sunday had an attack begged him for a glass of liquor as he was choking with his disease. The defendant acquiesced in the afflicted man's request and went into the bar. Just as he handed the glass of liquor to the liveryman, and, for which no charge was made, Inspector Stewart happened to enter the hotel and saw the transaction. Hence the $100 fine.

Attempted Murder

Kingston, Dec. 31.—John Troy, the slayer of Angus McLeod at Napanee 10 years ago, attempted to kill Valentine Shortiss, the Valleyfield murderer, on Saturday afternoon by stabbing him in the face and neck with a thick piece of wire. Both murderers are prisoners in the insane ward of the penitentiary. Shortiss is not seriously hurt.

News Briefs

New York, January 1.—When Christmas Eve festivities were at their height on board the steamer Pannonia, the Cunard liner was brought to an abrupt stop in order that Dr. J. Fraser Orr, the ship's surgeon, might have the most favorable conditions under which to perform an operation for appendicitis. It was just at midnight that a hurry call came from the steerage and the steamer lay to for one hour while the delicate cutting and stitching was done. The patient, a man passenger, was recovering when the steamer arrived.

Washington, January 1.—The Bureau of Corporations has issued a belated reply to James A. Moffatt, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, who declared at the time the fine of $29,240,000 was imposed against his company by Judge Landis, that it was not justified as there was no discrimination involved in the rate paid on the shipment of oil from Chicago to East St. Louis, and that the action of the court was based on a mere technical violation of the law. Commissioner Herbert Knox Smith presents a statement of facts in opposition to this view to show that a discrimination was practised with the knowledge of the Standard Oil Company and of the Chicago & Alton Railway.

New York, January 1.—All records for the arrival of immigrants at the port of New York were broken during the calendar year 1907, according to the preliminary statistics. The statement shows that a total of 1,171,034 aliens was handled by the Ellis Island authorities, this being a gain of 128,000 over the number for 1906, and almost as many aliens as arrived at all the ports of the country during 1906. The year 1906 was itself a record-breaking year.

St. Petersburg, January 1. — At the last session of the Russian Parliament before the beginning of the Christmas holidays, famine appropriation of $7,-500,000 was passed. This appropriation, with a few local bills, comprises the entire legislative product of the first six weeks' work of the Third Douma. Committee work, however, is well advanced, and the Douma will be in a position to begin consideration of the budget and several other important measures soon after the recess, which terminates January 28.

The famine appropriation, which is double the amount originally proposed in the budget, will be immediately available for the relief of about twelve provinces.

Address to the Electors

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—Having been duly nominated a candidate to contest the mayoralty of Peterborough for the year 1908, I accept this nomination and respectfully solicit your vote and influence to secure my return.

I had no aspirations for the position and no thought of entering the contest for the Mayor's Chair until a few days ago. I was waited upon by some of the most substantial of our citizens and presented with a requisition, signed by several hundred taxpayers, urging me to enter the field as a candidate. I could do no other than regard such a requisition, signed by a large and representative number of citizens, as a call to duty. Consequently, as I have, during my 45 years' residence in Peterborough, tried to do my duty faithfully to the place in which all my material interests are centered, I have decided to place myself in the hands of the electors.

If I am chosen as Mayor, I shall use all my ability to practically apply the motto of my life—"The interests of Peterborough first, last and always." I am known to you all by virtue of a residence of 45 years in the city, and through a corresponding experience in business, which, through the kind co-operation of the public, I have been favored in making a success.

Though I have not sought public office any more than I am seeking the present offered position, may say that, for four terms in succession, I was returned as alderman without soliciting or attending a nomination or soliciting a vote. I felt that both as an honor and a flattering mark of confidence, which I endeavored to justify to the fullest of my ability. And if elected as Mayor I shall discharge the duties of the office to the full extent of my powers and with a single eye to the promotion of the best interests of the city.

This is the platform upon which I can and do appeal to your support; that is the platform upon which I will justify your choice, if you do me the honor to elect me. It is not practicable for me, even if it were in line with my inclination, to personally call upon the electors. I hold that the office should seek the man rather than the men the office. I have no personal interests to serve; my only object in accepting the nomination for Mayor is to serve the best interests of the City of Peterborough. With cordial wishes for a Happy New Year to all, I remain,

Your obedient servant,

H. RUSH

Peterborough, December 31st, 1907.

Local Option Campaign in the West

Wingham, Ont. January 1st.— The local option campaign in Western Ontario is being energetically carried on. In Wingham a bitter campaign is being waged between the hotelmen and the local option people, and the result is doubtful.

It is considered almost certain that the temperance party will win in Kinloss township, where there is only one hotel to be affected.

In the township of Carlosa, where there is a large German population and a German hotel to be affected, the temperance party has little hope of winning.

In Howick township, Bruce, the temperance people have good hopes of winning. Four hotels are affected.

A Big Record of Misfortune

New Orleans, La., January 1.—Almost unparalleled misfortunes have been heaped in the short space of one week upon William Adler, one of New Orleans' foremost bankers and leading wholesale grocers of the south.

The arrival of news that Mr. Adler is a shipwrecked refugee at Belize, British Honduras, added several new misfortunes to the record already long.

One week ago Mr. Adler's resignation as president of the State National Bank about New Orleans financial circles. Since then the bank has announced that it must go out of business. Mr. Adler's wholesale grocery firm has gone into the hands of a receiver; a cargo of groceries consigned to Honduras, which Mr. Adler's friends claimed were one of his last hopes of recouping his fortunes, has been lost by shipwreck, and the steamer Alps, carrying both the groceries and Mr. Adler and owned by Mr. Adler, is a total loss by the same wreck. By the merest slip of chance the insurance policy on the shipload of groceries was rendered worthless by failure of premium payment before the wreck.

Financiers on Prospects for the Year 1908

Bank Situation Across Line is Improving Every Day

Montreal, Jan. 1.—As the old year passes out in the same state of stagnation and unattractiveness from a financial point of view as it has stood for some time past, the reviewers and critics are turning their attention to the prospects for the coming year. As a general rule deductions are favorable.

William B. Ridgely, Controller of the Currency says:—

"I think the situation is improving gradually, and after the first of the year the general expectation seems to be that this movement will proceed even more rapidly. The returns under the last call of the controller's office have come to hand so well that we know, with considerable accuracy, the situation as it is with the National Banks. Upon the whole, it is very satisfactory.

"It will be found that the banks in a great many cities have done their duty by the public with surprising faithfulness. This is particularly true of New York city. The same may be said of other eastern cities and some of the West."

NOT SO BAD AS APPEARS.

Another authority says: "The year is going out with business sentiment considerably unsettled in the United States. There are reasons to believe, however, that actual conditions are better than appear upon the surface. Much will depend upon the monetary position after we have well turned the New Year.

"Undoubtedly there are weak spots, and on the other hand, there are strong features. Perhaps there never was a time when the situation as a whole was so difficult to analyze.

"But it is recognized that industrial interests as a rule are meeting the situation as it exists. Curtailment of production and reduction of expenses are general. There has not been as yet any important reduction in wages, but there has been an enormous reduction in the labor force, and this fact alone is bound to have its effect upon the wage scale.

"To-day the general tendency is to reduce stocks. This very condition will prove the cure. The moment money is in freer supply, confidence will appear quickly and then the smallness of stocks will become apparent. The result should be the reverse of the conditions to-day."

SURE OF RECOVERY.

J. S. Bache & Co. say: "The failing off in business must necessarily continue for a time, and readjustment by failures, and re-organization is sure to follow. Dividend reductions will necessarily accompany the process. But we are in the position of a sick patient who is sure of recovery without prolonged distress. This attitude of hopefulness will in itself help to bridge over the period of discomfort incident to reduced profits, income and wages. The assurance that within a year, or not much more, we shall again be traveling the highway of prosperity, will make easier the year, or not much more, of depression."

FAILURES MAY ENSUE.

Henry Clews says: "Gradually the money market is righting itself. The currency premium is rapidly disappearing; bank reserves are rising, and clearing house certificates should soon be withdrawn. While considerable difficulty may arise in commercial circles within the next sixty days in extending a large mass of maturities, and some failures may ensue, this contingency will simply prove to be a beneficial cleansing process, weeding out weak concerns and clearing the ground for a fresh and clear recovery. Before the spring funds should be freely returned from the interior and money may become a drug; bringing lower rates than desirable owing to heavy increase in currency and the impossibility of contracting when demand subsides. So much for the effects of inflation. Congress owes the country a remedy for the present defective condition of our currency system without further vacillation or procrastination. Failure to do so will be agross and damaging neglect of duty."

C. P. R. Buys Land at Havelock

Havelock, Dec. 30.—The C.P.R. will make great improvements at this point during 1908. Supplies are being stored here for the construction of the Georgian Bay grain route from Victoria Harbor. Havelock is quite likely to be named as the divisional point when the new line is constructed. The grain route will pass about four miles north of Peterborough.

The C.P.R. have bought considerable land to the south of their present yards here, and it is reported that tracks will be laid on it during 1908. The round-house here will be doubled in size, and the coal chutes made larger. The line from Toronto to Montreal will also be double-tracked before 1909.

Holland Out on His Own Recognizance

It will be remembered that the Times of Saturday was given a partly humorous but wholly lamentable story if a complaint made by Thos. Weston, Lakefield, in the local Police Station, regarding as alleged assault on the complainant's wife by Fred. Hollins of the latter mentioned village who has been arrested on a charge of indecent assault, and now luxuriates (?) in the county jail awaiting his trial.

It will be remembered that the complainant says that on Christmas Day he sent his wife over to the home of Frederick Holling to purchase a bottle of "grog". She did not return until late in the evening, and when she did she had a direful story to relate of the treatment accorded her by the prisoner, which has caused to be confined to her room ever since.

Her husband claims that when she asked the prisoner for the whiskey he entered into an indecent conversation He locked both the rear and front doors and held her a prisoner. She was oblivious of what subsequently occurred until she awoke and found herself in a private room in the Holling residence. He finally allowed her to go, giving her the whiskey as she went.

Mrs. Weston is an Englishwoman 24 years of age. She has three children and has been in Canada for eight months. Both Holling and the Weston were in the Portland Cement works.

Holling is now behind the bars at Castle Nesbitt charged with the alleged indecent assault and also with selling "boodleskit" without "branded". Yesterday morning His Worship County Magistrate Geo. Edmison, allowed Holling to go on his own recognizance to appear for trial on January 2nd.

Bell 'Phone Company Sells Out to Manitoba

Special to The Times

Montreal, Dec. 31.—The Bell Telephone Company have come to a final agreement with the Manitoba Government by which it will sell out to the government its lines and properties in the Province of Manitoba.

The purchase price, it is said will be in the neighborhood of $3,750,000, compared with $4,000,000, which the Bell asked when the negotiations were opened. The transaction looks like a very profitable one for the shareholders of the Bell Company, as it would be very easy for the company to pay them a very handsome bonus out of profits of the transaction.

17 Names Out of 43 For Alderman

The hour for qualifying for municipal honors closed at nine o'clock last night, and the nominees who did not sign the necessary papers by that hour will not have their names appear on the ballot papers. There are now two candidates for the chief magistrate's chair, 17 for aldermen, two for water commissioner, and six for school trustee. For the latter office there is just one new candidate, Mr. W. F. Nelson. Ex-Mayor Henry best has entered the lists with Mr. W. B. Holt for water commissioner. And five new men are in the field for aldermen, viz., J. J. Turner, Jr., J. T. Anderson, Geo. A. Gillespie, R. Neill and Wm. Buller, Jas. Clancy and Jas. Bogue. The The old aldermen before the electorate are Archibald A. McIntyre, W. G. Morrow, W. J. Johnston, Geo. H. Duncan, W. H. Bradburn, R. H. Leary, Harry Morgan, Jerry Phelan, Geo. J. Tovey, Chas. E. Elliott, the old aldermen Arthur Stevenson and Thomas Wilson have dropped out, both of whom did excellent service on the aldermanic board of last year and and will be missed in 1908.

It is significant that, notwithstanding the fact that considerable adverse criticism has been offered against last year's council, and that 24 candidates for aldermen were nominated, but 17 men qualified (as of whom were aldermen) in 1907.

But then every council board meets with adverse criticism, deservedly so or otherwise.

As to the school trustees one nominee is out for No. Five Ward.—W. F. Nelson—and without detracting from the well known ability and fitness for the position of the other nominees it is only fair to assume that East Peterborough should be represented on the Board of Education.

The following is a complete list of the candidates who qualified yesterday:

FOR MAYOR.

Roland F. McWilliams.
Henry Rush,

FOR ALDERMEN.

W. G. Morrow.
W. B. Bradburn.

Mr. Gillespie's Nomination Advocated

To the Editor of The Times—

I do not often ask space in your paper though a subscriber, but now I think that among the municipal candidates is a man, not only a good citizen, but whose election would convey a deeper significance and result to the city. The gentleman I refer to is Mr. Geo. Gillespie of the grocery firm of White & Gillespie. Mr. Gillespie is one of the leading men in the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association. His election as an alderman would have, in all probability a wide-spread effect in getting the association to hold their next or following meeting in this city. This would mean several hundred good citizens gathering here, and the expenditure of a large sum of money in the city, and in a general free advertisement for Peterborough throughout the press of Canada.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

The Bohemian for January

The Bohemian for January has ten short stories that have all the snap, originality and quick interest that a short story should have. "Bob Yap Tim", by Kendrick Schofield is the tale of a "taint", a story of a Eurasian, a man without a race; it is powerful a man without a race; it is a powerful piece of pathos. "The Beaten Track," by Mary Wilhelmina Hastings, is one of the finest stories of the streets, of their glitter, their sham and their genuineness that has recently appeared in the magazines. "That Awful Duel" is a humorous masterpiece; a blustering Russian Count unwittingly challenges in Paris one of the best shots on the Western Plains. "Ashes Tenacious" is a unique story of a European secret service and of how a new brand of cigar helped a critical situation.

The leading articles are as interesting as the fiction. Ernete Novelli, the Italian actor who has created such a stir in this country, contributes his "My Yesterdays" to the January number. He tells the story of a talent that would not be downed by discouragement. In the series of "Humorous College Journalism", "The Yale Record" is brightly described.

A DISCOVERY OF GREAT VALUE

Because a Cure Was Found for Inflammatory Rheumatism

There are many types of rheumatism but none worse than inflammatory.

It was this kind that almost killed Mrs. Edw Warman, of Kentville, N. S.

Every known remedy she tried, different doctors gave their advice, but the disease increased.

Weak and despairing, she was at her wits' end when the remarkable cure of Thos. Cullen was published. This gentleman was cured of rheumatism by "Ferrozone." Consequently Mrs. Warman used the same remedy. Here is her statement;

"For years I have been rheumatic. I tried various forms of relief without success. The disease increased, settled in my joints and muscles; these swelled, caused excruciating pain and kept me from sleeping. My limbs and arms stiffened, my shoulders were lame and prevented me from working. Week by week I was losing strength and despaired of finding a cure. It was a happy day I heard of Ferrozone. Every day I took Ferrozone I felt better, it eased the painful joints, took off it so that now an ache has returned, and energy and a feeling of new life. Ferrozone cured my rheumatism, our Essex damp weather no longer affects me."

Ferrozone has power to destroy Uric acid, neutralize and enrich the blood, and therefore does cure the worst cases. Mrs. Warman's statement proves this.

By removing the cause of the disease and building up a reserve of energy Ferrozone is certain to cure. Sufferer, isn't it about time to stop experimenting? Ferrozone is a cure. We guarantee this. Sold by all dealers. 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name—"Ferrozone."

LOCAL OPTION

A feature of the approaching municipal elections in Ontario will be the large number of local option by-laws to be submitted. There are campaigns being carried on for cutting off bill licenses in 96 municipalities, 87 being in incorporated villages and towns. Local option has already been applied in a large number of municipalities, chiefly townships. The experience so far is evidently regarded as satisfactory, else there would not be so many new places ready to try the plan. The same conditions were noted in the past, however, first with the Dunkin Act, which applied to townships, and then with the Scott Act, which applied to counties, and from each there was later a falling away. It will take time to test the staying strength of the public sentiment.

CANADIAN METHOD OF INDUSTRIAL PEACE

The Canadian Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, which President Eliot of Harvard University at the meeting of the Civic Federation recently held in New York called "the best piece of legislation ever adopted to promote industrial peace," is thus reviewed by him in the current number of McClure's Magazine.

The purpose of the measure is not arbitration, compulsory or other, but conciliation, investigation and publicity. It applies to all mining properties and all agencies of transportation, including railways of all kinds, steamships, telegraph and telephone lines, gas, electric light, water works and powerhouses. It covers any disagreement between an employer and one or more of his employees, including wage disputes, hours and condition of employment, refusals to employ any person or class of persons, allegations as to the suitability of materials, trade customs and the interpretation of agreements.

The Minister of Labor is charged with the administration of the act. The records and correspondence originating from it are kept by a Registrar of Boards of Conciliation and Investigation. "Canada has an advantage over the United States", says Dr. Eliot, "in that regulation of industries and of all strikes which arise in industries falls inevitably to the national administration and not to the provincial."

Either of the parties to a dispute may make application for an investigating board of three members, one to be appointed on the recommendation of the employer, one on the recommendation of the employees and the third on the recommendation of the first two. The board must be appointed within fifteen days. During its inquiry no lockout or strike may be declared by either party, but nothing in the measure restrains them from so acting on its conclusion. If a settlement of the dispute is effected the board transmits to the Minister of Labor a memorandum of the proceedings. If a settlement is not arrived at the full stenographic report of the case is submitted to the Minister for publication.

Fines of from $100 to $1,000 a day may be imposed on employers who declare a lockout contrary to the provisions of the act, and fines of from $10 to $50 a day on employees who go on strike. Any person inciting to or encouraging a strike or lockout in the circumstances is liable to a fine of not less than $50 or more than $100.

In effect the act prevents a man's wages or hours without thirty days' notice and insures that no lockout or strike can occur until after an investigation by an impartial public authority and then only in the face of full publicity.

Since March 22 when the act went into effect it has brought about the adjustment of serious industrial differences, notably that between the Western Coal operators and their employes. The act in particular prevents the sudden cessation of industries vital to the public welfare and makes it impossible for capital or labor to deal an industrial blow without due warning. It makes it necessary for the aggressor in an industrial dispute to have a well-considered case before invoking public sympathy.

WHY CAPITAL IS SCARCE

Those who have difficulty in understanding how we have brought about a scarcity of capital, might study the statistics of coal production last year just published by Mr. Lloyd George, the president of the British Board of Trade. These statistics show that the production of coal in the United Kingdom, Germany and the United States was greater than in any previous year. "The total output of the United Kingdom amount to 251,000,000 tons, or an increase over 1906 of 15,000,000 tons. In Germany the production amounted to 135,000,000 tons, or, 16,500,000 tons more than in the previous year. In the United States the quantity produced amounted to nearly 390,000,000 tons, thus exceeding the output of 1906 by nearly 19,000,000 tons."

Now, coal is not a bad measure of industrial activity. Most industries still use coal to create power, and an increase in the production of coal probably means an increase in industrial activity. More industrial activity calls in turn for more capital, so that we may fairly infer that, when more coal is consumed, more capital has been required. The time is approaching when coal will not be so sure a measure of the "visible coal" of water power, distributed over the country in the form of electricity will turn many a wheel which is now driven by coal.

The world will some day discover that—like an individual—it cannot employ capital until it has saved it. No savage would be foolish enough to think that he could dig with a sharpened stick which he had not yet cut out of the forest. He would know that he must get his stick—his capital—before he could use it. Again, if he had the misfortune to burn it up in his fire some night, he would not expect to get up next morning and go on digging with it, just as if it had not been burned. He would never be so superficial in his thinking.

Yet this is precisely what many a wise man, engaged in the world's business, thinks that he can do. He gets up on the morrow of a great calamity like the Japo-Russian war, which has burned up an immense amount of capital, and acts precisely as if he thought the supply had not been diminished. Business does not slacken its pace, when it finds the flames roaring in its vaults. It idly wonders where Japan and Russia will get the money to rebuild; but never acts as if they might get it from the very pile of gold upon which it depends for its "sharpened sticks."

Industry cannot outrun capital. We must make our implements before we can use them to earn more capital. The day may come when we will take a scientific view of this matter, and when nations will realize that they cannot both eat their cake and have it in war—and have it.

Much general attention has of late been attracted to an electric candelabrum on display in the window of Mr. Frank Clarke's store, corner of George and Brock streets. It was made in New York and is a special order. Six weeks were occupied in its manufacture. It has five small electric lights, combining about 25-candle-power.

Good coal stock is a safe and sure investment. Galbraith shares are especially attractive.

Modest Capitalization — Large Coal Reserves

This Company organized under the laws of the Northwest Territories of Canada, owns and operates the Galbraith mine located at Lundbreck Alta. They have four vertical seams of coal traversing their property, aggregating over 40 feet in thickness. Three of these seams are developed to a depth of 350 feet, and as they pass through the Company's lands for nearly a mile, some idea of the amount of coal may be had.

Shipping Steadily

The present output of the mine is about 200 tons per day. These shipments will be rapidly increased, as the C.P.R. allows its cars to be loaded with coal for points in the U. S.

Case Dismissed With Costs

The case of Robert Bailey, who was charged last week with non-payment of toll on the market square, came up for judgment yesterday. Mr. G. Gordon, of O'Connell and Gordon, appeared for Mr. Bailey, and Mr. E. H. D. Mail, City Solicitor, for the city. His Worship thought Mr. Bailey had a right to bring goods to that place to sell, whether he went in the back door or the front door made no difference.

The law on this question is taken from page 383, chapter 19, sub-sections 12 and 13 of the Revised Ontario Statutes, which read as follows:—

"The by-law may also provide for the imposition upon and the collection of the market fees from any person who shall remain or cause his vehicle to remain upon that part of any street immediately adjoining or surrounding or being within one hundred yards of the market place for the purpose of selling upon such street or streets such articles, so as to obtain the advantages of the said market [illegible] provided that no such portions of streets shall not in itself be deemed sufficient ground for the imposition of any fee, but this section shall not apply to grain, seeds, wool nor dressed hogs.

"The by-law shall not prevent the sale of any such articles to any person carrying on business and having an actual and bona fide store, shop or other similar place of business, on those portions of the streets in the next preceding sub-section mentioned; nor shall the by-law authorize the imposing or levying of any fee in respect to an article so sold, or of any vehicle in which the same is contained."

His Worship decided to dismiss the case, Mr. McIlmoyle to pay the costs.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

"'Twas the merest chance in the world," answered Eugenia, stating the circumstances by which the letter came into her possession, and adding that "Mr Hastings must have thought her manner that night very strange, but come," she continued, "do sign your name quick, so I can get the money before the bank closes."

But this Mrs. Deane at first refused to do, saying it was not theirs, and Dora should no longer be defrauded; at the same time she expressed her displeasure at Eugenia's utter want of principle.

"Grown suddenly very conscientious, haven't you?" scornfully laughed the young lady, reminding her of the remittance annually sent to them for Dora's benefit, but which had been unjustly withheld; "very conscientious indeed; but I am thankful I parted company with that commodity long ago."

Then followed a series of angry words and bitter recriminations, by which the entire history of Eugenia's selfish treatment of her cousin, even to the cutting off her hair more than two years before, was disclosed to Mr. Hastings, who, immeasurably shocked and sick at heart, turned away just as Mrs. Deane, to avoid further altercation, expressed her readiness to indorse the draft, on condition that the balance after paying for the piano should be set aside for Dora.

"And haven't I told you repeatedly that the piano was all I wanted? and I shouldn't be so particularly anxious about that if I did not think it would aid me in securing Mr. Hastings."

"Which you never shall, so help me Heaven!" exclaimed the indignant man, as he strode noiselessly down the hall and out into the open air, where he breathed more freely, as if just escaping from the poisonous atmosphere of the deadly upas.

It would be impossible to describe his emotion, as he walked on through one street after another. Astonishment, rage, horror, and disgust each in turn predominated, and were at last succeeded by a deep feeling of thankfulness that the veil had been removed, and he had escaped from the toils of one who slowly but surely had been winding herself around his fancy—he would not say affections, for he knew he had never loved her. "But she might have duped me," he said, "for I am but human;" and then as he thought what a hardened, unprincipled woman she was, he shuddered and grew faint at the mere idea of taking such a one to fill the place of his gentle, loving Ella. "I cannot meet her to-night," he continued, as he remembered the concert. "I could not endure the sound of her voice, for I should say that to her which had better not be said. I will go home—back to Dunwood, leaving her to wait for me as long as she chooses."

With him to will was to do, and having finished his business he started for the depot, whither Mrs. Deane had preceded him, having been coaxed by Eugenia to return at half-past six, and thus leave her the pleasure of Mr. Hastings' company alone. The piano had been paid for, and as it was quite dark, and beginning to rain, the now amiable young lady accompanied her mother to the depot, and having seen her safely in the cars, which would not start in some minutes, was on her way back to the hotel, her mind too intently occupied with thoughts of coming pleasure to heed the man who, with dark, lowering brow, and hat drawn over his face, met her on the sidewalk, and who at sight of her started suddenly as if she had been a crawling serpent.

"Will the Deanes always cross my path?" he exclaimed, as, opening the car door, he saw near the stove the brown satin hat and black plumes of the mother, who was sitting with her back towards him, and consequently was not aware of his presence.

To find a seat in another car was an easy matter, and while Eugenia at the hotel was alternately admiring herself in the glass and peering out into the hall to see if he were coming, he was on his way to Dunwood, breathing more and more freely as the distance between them increased. "Yes, I have escaped her," he thought, and mingled with thankfulness for this was a deep feeling of sympathy for Dora, to whom such injustice had been done.

He understood perfectly her position—knew exactly the course of treatment which from the first she had received, and while trembling with anger he resolved that it should not continue. "I can help her, and I will," he said emphatically; though how or by what means he could not, in his present state of excitement, decide. Arrived at Dunwood, he stepped hastily from the car and walked rapidly down the street until he came opposite Locust Grove. Then, indeed, he paused, while an involuntary shudder ran through his frame as he thought of the many hours he had spent within those walls with one who had proved herself unworthy even of the name of woman.

"But it is over now," he said, "and when I cross that threshold again, may——"

The sentence was unfinished, for a light flashed suddenly out upon him, and a scene met his view which arrested his footsteps at once, and, raining as it was, he leaned back against the fence and gazed at the picture before him. The shutters were thrown open, and through the window was plainly discernible the form of Dora Deane, seated at a table on which lay a book that she seemed to be reading. There was nothing elegant about her dress, nor did Howard Hastings think of this; his mind was intent upon her who had been so cruelly wronged, and whose face, seen through the window on that winter night, looked very fair, so fair that he wondered he had never thought before how beautiful was Dora Deane.

At this point Mrs. Deane, who had been slower in her movements, reached the gate, and resigning his post near the fence, Mr. Hastings walked slowly home, bearing in his mind that picture of Dora Deane as he saw her through the window, with no shadow on her brow save those left there by early grief, and which rendered her face still more attractive than it would otherwise have been. That night, all through the silent hours, there shone a glimmering light from the room where Howard Hastings sat brooding upon what he had heard, and meditating upon the best means for removing Dora from the influence of her heartless cousin. Slowly over him, too, came memories of the little brown-faced girl who, when his home was cheerless, had come to him with her kindly acts and gentle ways, diffusing over all an air of comfort and filling his house with sunlight. Then he remembered that darkest hour of his desolation—that first coming home from burying his dead; and now as then he felt creeping over him the icy chill which had lain upon his heart when he approached the house whence they had borne his fair girl wife. But he had found her there—Dora Deane—folding his motherless baby to her bosom, and again in imagination he met the soft glance of her eye as she welcomed him back to Ella's room, which seemed not half so lonely with Dora sitting by his side. Again he was with her in the storm which she had braved on that night when his child lay dying—the child whom she had loved so much, and who had died upon her lap. Anon this picture faded too, and he saw her as he had seen her but a few hours before—almost a woman now, but retaining still the same fair, open brow and sunny smile which had characterized her as a child. And this was the girl whom Eugenia would trample down—would misrepresent to the fond old uncle, far away! "But it shall never be," he said aloud; "I will remove her from them by force if need be. But where would she go?" he asked. Then as he remembered Ella's wish that he should care for her—a wish which his foolish fancy for Eugenia had for a time driven from his mind, he felt an intense longing to have her there with him; there, in his home, where he could see her every day—not as his wife, for at that time Howard Hastings had never thought it possible for him to call her by that name she seemed so much a child, but she should be his sister, and his manly heart throbbed with delight as the thought how he would watch over and protect her from all harm. He would teach her, and she should learn sitting at his feet as she sat two years before; and life would seem no longer sad and dreary, for he would have a pleasant home and in it Dora Deane!

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organs fail. Don't drug the stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply a makeshift. Get a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Free sample tea sent on request by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Lincoln and Stanton.

There was a marked contrast between Lincoln's manner, which was always pleasant and even genial, and that of Stanton. The latter's stern, spectacled visage commanded instant respect and in many cases inspired fear. In receiving visitors, and they were legion, Stanton seldom or never sat down, but stood before a high desk as the crowd passed before him and one by one presented their requests or complaints, which were rapidly disposed of. He was haughty, severe, domineering and often rude. When I think of him in the daily routine of his public audiences the characterization of Napoleon by Charles Phillips, the Irish orator, comes to mind, "Grand, gloomy and peculiar."—David Homer Bates in Century.

Gambling in Church.

The mania for gambling will out, no matter how carefully hedged about by the law. Here is an illustration.

"It took a conversation I overheard at the close of the church service last Sunday night to bring me to a realization of the virulence of the betting fever," said a Harlem woman. "I actually heard two boys betting on the skill of the sexton in snuffing out the candles. One bet 25 cents that he would extinguish each candle at the first application of the snuffers, the other that he wouldn't. I had been watching the proceedings with the same thought in mind, but it never occurred to me to bet on the outcome."

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. As I said, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—causes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is pleasing, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with you, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, tossing, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a fact necessary, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Rouge your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company' holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 60 to 80-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 250 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be realized as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 6 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines are now but in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government expert's report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Many Doctors Failed

Dr. Hamilton Again Figures in a Case that Puzzled Other Physicians.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 1.—When the treatment of Mrs. Stanley, of 143 Argyle St., was first given it caused no small comment, and again establishes that a physician who understands his profession none excel Dr. Hamilton.

"For years," says Mrs. Stanley, "I have suffered greatly from a peculiar dragging weakness that resulted from pleurisy and asthma. Doctors prescribed but failed to advise anything of real benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut and I bought five boxes. They gave me renewed strength and energy, toned my stomach, enriched my blood, and supplied just what my system needed. No medicine could have benefit more than Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and believe every woman would be helped enormously by using these pills regularly. They did me more lasting good than all the prescriptions I took in five years."

No man or woman in poor health ever used Dr. Hamilton's Pills without benefit; the depressed, ailing and weak they uplift and strengthen as a trial always proves.

THE UNITED STATES WILL TEST JAPAN

Japanese Ambassador to the United States Leaves for Japan

Uncle Sam Determined to Restrict Influx of Orientals

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(Special)—Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, has arranged to leave Washington Monday afternoon. He will sail for Japan from San Francisco Jan. 7 on the steamer Manchuria.

The ostensible purpose of the ambassador's trip is to make a personal report to his home government on the situation in the United States, with especial reference to the immigration question.

Until the ambassador reports it is not likely that his successor will be named officially. Before he can get to Japan, however, a new agreement between two countries will be put into effect, by which it is proposed to limit the number of Japanese coming into the United States.

No new treaty is to be negotiated, but protocols have already been exchanged between this country and Japan, as a result of which Japan promises to take the immigration question into its own hands, limiting the number of those given direct passports to the United States to certain classes of students, professional men, and expert laborers.

The ordinary coolie classes will not be permitted to leave Japan for the United States, according to the terms of the agreement, which will be practically identical, both for Canada and for the United States.

JAPAN WILL NOT BE BOUND.

Recently the Japanese government has given positive assurances to the representatives both of Canada and the United States that it will itself put an end to all indiscriminate emigration to the shores of the Pacific.

The Japanese have positively refused to put this agreement into the form of a treaty. They propose to stand on all their rights under their existing favorable commercial treaty with Great Britain, and they will not negotiate any new convention with the United States which does not expressly provide that citizens of Japan shall be treated precisely the same as those of the most favored nation.

This would be a treaty agreement on the part of the United States to pass no exclusion law, and our government would refuse to make such an agreement with any foreign nation, and particularly with Japan.

JAPAN'S HONOR IS KEYNOTE.

This is the complete understanding or condition of affairs which now exists between Canada, the United States and Japan. Before Viscount Aoki leaves Ambassador O'Brien, American representative at Tokio, will receive from the Japanese government an official statement or assurance that it will restrict the emigration to the United States and to Canada.

If the Japanese government acts in the future as it has done in the past, and confines itself to mere words, the result will be that the stream of immigration will keep up and congress will keep up, and congress will be urged to pass an exclusion law, which probably will ensue.

Figures received by immigration officials show that the so-called legitimate immigration from Japan, although small when compared with that from Europe, is absolutely steady in the volume.

HUNDREDS COME IN BY STEALTH.

All roads are supposed to be turned back at the border, but the fact of the matter is that hundreds of them are coming over the line in spite of every effort of the immigration officers.

It will take several months before it can be determined whether the voluntary assurances on the part of Japan that it will limit emigration to the United States are worth anything or not.

People from the Pacific slope say that the Japanese will never regard anything short of a treaty arrangement, and that, at the present time, seems out of the question.

The California representatives in congress and other members from the same section are practically a unit in the belief that even President Roosevelt, who is now opposed to an exclusion law, will find the Japanese cannot be kept out by means of any informal diplomatic correspondence of the Japanese government.

The Pacific coast people are willing to wait awhile, being confident that the president will before long become convinced that Japan is not acting in good faith, and will thereupon agree to sign a rigid exclusion act whenever it is presented to him.

POLICE

Only one case was tried at yesterday's Police Court, viz., John Williamson, who was charged with being drunk. Williamson, who was arrested on New Years Eve, was not in a tearably state of sobriety after his 36 hours in the Hotel de Ups. He was remanded for one week as the Magistrate thought it better to let the man sober up.

At the county police court yesterday morning before County Police Magistrate Edmonson, the charge of selling liquor without a license was heard against Fred Holland of Lakefield. It will be remembered that a short time ago Holland was arrested by Hugh County Constable George Cochrane and County Constable A. Munro on the charge of indecent assault. Mrs. Thos. S. Weston of Lakefield the complainant, and it is alleged he sold a bottle of liquor to her. The charge on which he was arraigned yesterday was preferred against him. Both of the offences are to have been committed on Christmas day. The evidence of Mrs. Weston was heard and also that of her husband. Their testimony seemed rather conflicting in some of the details. Judgment was reserved, as another charge will be heard against Holland next Tuesday.

A Heavily Loaded Trolley Car Plunged Into a Ditch of Water

An Accident Near Walkerville--Passengers were Cut and Bruised

Walkerville, Jan. 2.—An eastbound car on the Windsor & Tecumseh line, with trailer attached, heavily loaded with holiday pleasure-seekers on their way to the roadhouses along the river front, left the track a few miles from here yesterday at noon, plunging into a four-foot ditch filled with water.

Some of the passengers sustained minor cuts and bruises by being thrown against the seats, but none were seriously hurt. One boy was thrown against a post and severely bruised. Most of the passengers got out of the cars in time to avoid a wetting.

Dr. Blanchard Has a Narrow Escape

At the great Charlotte street rink fire Dr. Blanchard, V.S., a veteran of the South African war, who won his spurs in that strife, on Wednesday night awoke from his virtuous slumbers and naturally, from past war experiences, wondered whether bombs from the enemy's guns were bursting over his head or whether the Boers had crept round from behind and set fire to an adjoining farm house situated on a kopje. The doctor, however, on investigation found out, too soon, that the immense building immediately opposite his residence and place of business was on fire.

Dr. Blanchard, naturally sought to protect his "lares and penates," and got his surgical instruments ready for immediate removal.

Fortunately the exigencies of the occasion did not compel the removal of anybody. Had it not been for the (as far as the doctor is concerned) fortunate intervention of a Bell Telephone Company's gun hundred wire cable the upper part of the northern end of this great brick structure would have fallen so as to throw thousands of them, red hot from fire, into the house he occupies. Indeed the intervening cable broke the wall in half, and the fragments fell partly on the northern pavement, and partly on the street. As it was many panes of glass on the upper part of Dr. Blanchard's house were cracked by the heat, his furniture within were scorched and the paint and varnish on his front door and shutters were badly damaged. The doctor whether insured or not is lucky to get off more easily than he or his good wife might have done, had the former been under fire from a Boer contingent.

Deep Sea Mission Ball a Great Success

The Deep Sea Mission ball, held New Year's night, in the new Conservatory of Music Hall, was largely attended by the youth and beauty, of the city for, not so much immediate needs of charity, that is to use a dirty mundane social argument as for the furthering of a most estimable charity. Still the ball rolled up a large sum for the charity and those attending gave up gladly. The ball was not exactly a masked ball but a "bal poudre." To those not present, whether from lack of the necessary coin or from other reasons, and not understanding "la language francais," it might be explained that a "bal poudre" means the largest amount of personal adornment by the ladies, including enough "poudre" in the hair of each to block the cog wheels of an ordinary mill, the most elaborate application of sticking plaster available on chin and cheeks and other signs designating the temporary proprietorship of a countenance supposed to have belonged to bygone decade s. Well all jokes aside the girls and women at the New Year's night ball at the Conservatory looked charming, and many a man regretted that present conditions do not permit the show in public of such "make-ups," as were shown at the ball.

Nearly two hundred of the youth and beauty of Peterborough society circles were present and a large sum was diverted towards a most commendable charitable object. Mr. R. H. Marlowe, of the local Canadian Bank of Commerce, acted as honorary secretary. Music was supplied by Mr. Musgrave of Toronto, whose ability is too widely known to need any comment.

Clouded Brain

Clears Up on Change to Proper Food

"The brain cannot work with clearness and accuracy if the food taken is not fully digested, but is retained in the stomach, to ferment and form poisonous gases, etc. A dull, clouded brain is likely to be the result.

"A Mich. lady relates her experience in changing her food habits, and results are very interesting.

"A steady diet of rich greasy foods such as sausage, buckwheat cakes and so on, finally broke down a stomach and nerves that by inheritance were sound and strong, and medicine did no apparent good in the way of relief.

"My brain was clouded and dull and I was suffering from a case of constipation that defied all remedies used.

"The 'Road to Wellville,' in some providential way, fell into my hands, and may Heaven's richest blessings fall on the man who was inspired to write it.

"I followed the directions carefully, physical culture and all, using Grape-Nuts with sugar and cream, leaving meat, pastry and hot biscuit entirely out of my bill of fare. The result — I am in perfect health once more.

"I never realize I have nerves, and my stomach and bowels are in fine condition. My brain is perfectly clear and I am enjoying that state of health which God intended his creatures should enjoy, and which all might have, by giving proper attention to their food."

"There's a Reason."

Address to the Electors

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—Having been duly nominated a candidate to contest the mayoralty of Peterborough for the year 1908, I accept this nomination and respectfully solicit your vote and influence to secure my return.

I had no aspirations for the position and no thought of entering the contest for the Mayor's Chair until a few days ago. I was waited upon by some of the most substantial of our citizens and presented with a requisition, signed by several hundred taxpayers, urging me to enter the field as a candidate. I could do no other than regard such a requisition, signed by a large and representative number of citizens, as a call to duty. Consequently, as I have, during my 45 years' residence in Peterborough, tried to do my duty faithfully to the place in which all my material interests are centered, I have decided to place myself in the hands of the electors.

If I am chosen as Mayor, I shall use all my ability to practically apply the motto of my life—"The interests of Peterborough first, last and always." I am known to you all by virtue of a residence of 45 years in the city, and through a corresponding experience in business which, through the kind co-operation of the public, I have been favored in making a success.

Though I have not sought public office any more than I am seeking the present offered position, may say that, for four terms in succession, I was returned as alderman without soliciting or attending a nomination or soliciting a vote. I felt that both as an honor and a flattering mark of confidence, which I endeavored to justify to the fullest of my ability. And if elected as Mayor I shall discharge the duties of the office to the full extent of my powers and with a single eye to the promotion of the best interests of the city.

This is the platform upon which I run and do appeal to your support; that is the platform upon which I will justify your choice, should you do me the honor to elect me. If it is not practicable for me, even if it were in line with my inclination, to personally call upon the electors, I hold that the office should seek the man rather than the man the office. I have no personal interests to serve; my only object in accepting the nomination for Mayor is to serve the best interests of the City of Peterborough. With cordial wishes for a Happy New Year to all, I remain,

Your obedient servant,

H. RUSH

Peterborough, December 31st, 1907.

The Mayoralty

Read the THREE Mayoralty addresses. One signed by R. F. McWilliams, one signed by Mr. Henry Rush, and another in Mr. Rush's favor above the signature of ten business men, and written by whom? It is safe to say that the man who wrote the third address is accustomed to criticising anything and everybody as duty calls, whether deservedly or otherwise. It is also fair to assume that in an election of this kind, when ten prominent citizens undertake to go out of their way in an extraordinary manner to espouse the cause of the present mayor's opponent, the mayor must be recognized as a strong factor in the field of municipal politics, and hard to defeat. And what creates his strength but public support. We say this with due respect to Mr. Rush, who is a gentleman and an old and valued servant of the town. Both candidates must stand on their own individual worth, and both are men who can with fortitude abide the shock at the public polls. In the crucible before us we vote that the acts of the council (if any) are laid upon the shoulders of the mayor.

Mr. Rush does not take this stand publicly, but the ten business men before alluded to do. We'll, in tomorrow's issue we shall take the public behind the scenes somewhat, and let a little light shine upon some matters for which the mayor is being held solely responsible.

Archibald A. McIntyre An Alderman for 1908

Ald. Archibald A. McIntyre had felt it to be in his business interests not to run for a fourth term this year, but has deferred to the overwhelming pressure of a large number of admirers, and consented to go to the polls. Archie has done good service as chairman of the Property Committee last year, and the city cannot well afford to lose his three years of practical experience on the Council Board. He is a prosperous contractor, and applies the same business acumen that has assured his success in the building field to his duties in the city's interests. Alderman McIntyre's past services and his honesty and integrity of purpose will assuredly place him once more one of the twelve for the year 1908.

Alderman Johnston a Sure Winner

There are 17 candidates in the field for alderman, ten of whom have served on the Council Board. Among the ten aldermen seeking re-election is Ald. William J. Johnston, a man with five years on the council of Ashburnham, when a separate municipality and four years' service on Peterborough's aldermanic board during the latter period he has enjoyed the confidence and trust of both the community and his colleagues as a member of all the principal committees. He took active and keen interest in securing the new fire hall of which all citizens are proud, and served two years on the Water and Light Committee. He has the courage of his convictions, which invariably are in the interests of the whole community without fear or favor.

To Ald. Johnston is largely due the credit for the present electrical fire alarm system, a crying want for many years. He was born in Peterborough 43 years ago, and since reaching manhood has followed that public course which leads up to the mayor's chair. Ald. Johnston is a wide awake and prosperous contractor, in which capacity he has always given a preference to union labor. By his colleagues he is recognized as a strong member of the council, is generally recognized as such by the ratepayers at large, and will undoubtedly make a good showing at the polls on Monday next.

Chairman of Board of Works

Ald. Duncan, the chairman of last year's City Board of Works, has acquiesced to the wish of a large number of supporters and consented to once again run for alderman. It is an old proverb that whoever assumes the chairmanship of the Board of Works seldom has finish as a member of the Board of Works. It is a difficult office to fill, and ensures to the chairman more abuse than thanks. However, it must be borne in mind that the responsibility for our roads and permanent improvements does not rest upon either the Board of Works or the council, but upon the practical official whose duty it is to advise the council and its Board of Works. Ald. Geo. Duncan has done good work for the city, and sacrificed much time in its interests. He has been conscientious and painstaking and we must not lose sight of the fact that it was he who insisted on the opening of the Monaghan street sewer, constructed in 1906, to ascertain whether it had been constructed properly or not, and all who have followed the council's proceedings must admit the wisdom of his course. Whatever criticism has been offered against Ald. Duncan's work is merely a reptition of the criticism showered annually upon all Board of Works chairmen; and whatever defects is in evidence in our permanent improvements is due to those upon whose skill and practical judgment every council must rely. Ald. Duncan has been a faithful and painstaking servant of his fellow-citizens, and should be recognized as such at the polls on Monday next.

Endorsed Sunday Saloons

Chicago, January 1. — Sunday saloons were endorsed last night at a session of the National Ethical convention. Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, of Chicago, and Professor Nathaniel Schmidt, of Cornell University, were the speakers, who had good words to say for the operation of saloons on Sunday.

Local Oddfellow on Extended Tour

Mr. J. A. Tully of this city, has gone to Montreal, and from there will journey to St. John's, Que., where he will meet the grand master of the I.O.O.F. of that province, and assist at the institution of several new lodges of the order. It foretells promotion Mr. Tully will visit quite a number of lodges in the lower provinces in his official capacity in connection with the Relief Association of the Order, which he spoke well of when he took him the greater part of January.

Less Than 100 of Them are Idle

After a survey of the leading cities of Canada, Commissioner Coombs, of the Salvation Army, made a statement last night to the effect that the unemployed problem has been greatly exaggerated, and in reality the situation is by no means as serious as is generally believed. The report shows that less than one hundred emigrants brought to the country by the Army are idle, and the majority of these are said to have sufficient means to support them until vacancies in their respective lines open up.

"My conviction is there will be a large demand for farm labor in the spring," said Commissioner Coombs.

"This country has come up against an exceptional situation through the financial stringency in the United States and the situation has been aggravated by the late arrivals of families sent out here by societies which have no organization to look after them. Philanthropic societies however, in the different centres have risen splendidly to the occasion and are meeting the needs."

Serious Fire Destroyed The Charlotte St. Curling and Roller Rink

About three o'clock yesterday morning those citizens who do not or did not sleep too soundly, were awakened by a call, not to arms but to protect property. The cause of this alarm was that the Charlotte street rink, used by the Curling Club on New Year's Day for the first time this season, was in flames. The cause of the great conflagration is still unknown.

Still the fire took place destroying not only the whole immense structure, but all but six pairs of curling stones, stored therein.

The fire is said to have started in the northwestern corner of the building, and in a few minutes, the whole structure was in flames. The loss is in the neighborhood of seven thousand dollars, and the cost to rebuild is estimated at about $12,000. There is insurance to the extent of $4,500 on the building.

The firemen were just getting their beauty sleep after a long and hard working day, entertaining their thousands of guests at the fire hall reception, in about three minutes answered the call to arms, sent in by a Mr. O'Brien. This was after a false alarm had been as quickly responded to at the C.P.R. station. When the firemen reached the scene, the fire had made great headway. It seemed to burst out very suddenly, although it is thought it had been burning on the inside for some time.

Five streams of hose fought the flames, and Chief Rutherford, with his firemen, worked heroically to save the structure, but it had gained such headway that everything that could be done seemed of little avail.

Both the north and south walls of the rink fell in, but fortunately no one was injured in the collapse. The north end of the structure fell backwards, smashing every window in a broom shop, owned by Mr. Thos McQuillan.

Just at twenty minutes to four the south wall went down, and it is nothing short of a miracle that no one was injured by its fall. As it was, Chief Rutherford, Firemen W. Metheral and W. Tremain had narrow escapes from being seriously hurt. Mr. T. Kelland saw that the wall was going to fall, and shouted for the people to get out of the way. With a crash it fell, covering the street with piles of bricks and mortar, the hose in the debris. However, the streams of water were not stopped, but the work of mastering the flames was considerably inconvenienced. Several panes of glass in Dr. Blanchard's house were smashed to atoms, and traffic on the street in front of the rink was delayed. Before the street cars had commenced their daily trips for the morning the track was cleared.

Apart from the splendid work done by the brigade a word of thanks is due to the clerk of the weather. No wind was blowing from any point of the compass or most assuredly, either or both Robinson's livery stable and Gemmil's carpet works both within ten feet would have gone.

All that remains of the rink is a few black and charred timbers. The curling stones, with the exception of those belonging to Messrs. S. Oke, D. Davidson, Mr. Medd, Dr. Wightman and J. A. Aylmer, were destroyed. In all 125 pairs are gone, and the loss is estimated at $2,000, without any insurance. The Lakefield curlers lost eight pair of stones.

The loss of the building is between five and seven thousand dollars. There is $4,500 of insurance, $1500 with the Phoenix Fire Insurance Co., $1500 with the Northern Co., and $1500 with the Western Co.

No Confession Made of Murder--Second Wife is Accused

Quebec, Jan. 3.—Omer Rochette and Filon Marceau, his bride of a week, both of whom are accused of the murder of Marie Plamondon, Rochette's former wife, arrived in Quebec yesterday morning in charge of Chief McCaskill, who accompanied them from Chicago, where they were arrested three days ago. Chief McCaskill, when asked about the reported confession of the prisoners, said the story was entirely without foundation, and that it was published in one of Hearst's Chicago papers before he had even spoken to or seen Rochette. It was issued in a special edition of the paper, and of course was then sent over the wires as a special despatch to the whole country.

The arrival of the prisoners in Quebec yesterday was kept from the public, and save for the presence of a few railway officials at the depot there were none to witness the arrival of the party.

Both Rochette and his wife have pleaded not guilty to the accusation of murder, and the preliminary investigation has been set for Monday next. It will be conducted behind closed doors, Judge Chauveau will preside, and Messrs. Lemperance and Davidson will act as Crown prosecutors, while Mr. M. A. Lemieux, son of Hon. Judge Lemieux, will represent the prisoners.

WIFE TO BE TRIED.

It was reported yesterday that an attempt would be made to have the present Mrs. Rochette admitted to trial upon her arrival in Quebec, but as late developments have led the Crown to directly accuse her of murder, all hope of saving her from accompanying her husband to jail, awaiting the investigation has been removed.

Both prisoners seemed confident yesterday, and Rochette especially nodded cheerfully to several of his acquaintances whom he encountered in the corridors of the court house. The attorney for the defence claims that when the case comes to trial he will be able to show that neither Rochette nor his wife poisoned the food which was responsible for the death of Marie Plamondon.

PERILS OF PEACE SEEN BY EUROPE

Growth of Socialism Disturbing Factor in Politics of Old World--British Stocks Go Down

London, Jan. 4.—Peace has its victories and its dangers, and the year just closed has been marked by remarkable developments of both. Europe rejoices today in the brightest political weather in which it has ever greeted the advent of a new year. The family of nations was never in sweeter accord.

Practical diplomacy of the wise, far seeing, personal type has this year re-fashioned international relationships that any breach in the prevailing harmony seems impossible, at all events, in the near future. The Hague conference was largely a failure, and even rejoices in that—rejoices, be it understood, in the true interests of peace. Many will account it rank pessimism to rejoice in the triumph of common sense over altruism, but they may take heart in the fact that 1907 marks the beginning of a greater struggle between these two forces, the issue of which is more doubtful, and the progress of which threatens to disrupt existing political institutions in several countries.

SOCIALISM'S GROWTH RAPID.

The growth of socialism this year in Great Britain, France, Germany, and Italy has been so rapid that it already has become much more than a mere disturbing factor in the domestic politics of each nation.

Its influence is so strong upon the existing British government this year that it caused a shrinkage in values of stocks on the London exchange before the American crisis arose amounting to $1,500,000,000.

The socialist cause in Europe draws its recruits from the opposite extreme of society. Its adherents among the educated classes exemplify more strikingly than the pure enthusiasts at The Hague the struggle between the ideal and the practical.

They assume that human nature is not selfish and amenable to the golden rule if given a chance.

There are many in Europe [illegible] Europe are followers of socialism only for what there is in it or what they think is in it for them. There is no denying, however, the tremendous growth of their political power. In the aggregate it has reached such proportions that a practical test of socialism on a larger scale than yet has been tried seems well nigh inevitable.

There has been sufficient experience already, both in England and on the continent, to give a clear indication of the result, but one must be appalled by the prospect of a trial in which an ever unhappy country risks the experiment.

France has just had a lesson in the virtual bankruptcy of Brest, one of its most important ports, but the socialist cause does not seem to suffer by the warning in the country at large.

This, then, is one of the greatest dangers of peace which 1907 has developed to gigantic proportions.

GREAT FEDERATION SCHEME.

Another utopian scheme in international affairs, inspired perhaps by its Christmas season, is occupying the attention of Sir Max Waechter, who again urges the federation of the six great powers as within the scope of practical politics. He urges it can be accomplished by a common tariff and free intercourse between the nations.

He takes no account of the widely different economic conditions of the nations concerned. He does not concern himself with the fact that no one can live in the same degree of comfort for instance in Italy, for half the amount required in England. He does not consider the necessity of the imposition of the same labor laws and the establishment of practically the same scale of wages in all the countries, nor does he see that the practical effect of his idea would be to reduce labor to the condition of that of the country least to be on a economic scale.

The plan, like others equally impracticable which are advanced in the name of socialism, will continue to be keenly debated, and the man in the street will consider his views in the light of full importance to those of the trained economist.

IT PLEASES FRANCIS JOSEPH.

Actual conditions in Europe in these last hours of 1907 are best summarized in the words of the veteran ruler, Francis Joseph, in his address from the throne on Saturday, when he said:

"The mitigation already noticeable in the last year of some instances of friction in the international situation fortunately continues. The efforts of all the powers tend increasingly towards tranquillization and towards the consolidation of general peace by the cultivation of tranquil, reciprocal intercourse."

The Bankers' Magazine, in reviewing the financial year points out that it has been disastrous in itself, and also follows several other years of severe shrinkage in values. The average fall in prices, despite the substantial recovery of the last month, has been 9 per cent. There has been no depreciation as great in the last twenty years. Consols and Indian funds fell 4 per cent. representing $150,000,000. Twenty-six English railways lost $77,000,000, or 5 per cent. Mines suffered most, South Africans, after steadily declining for several years, losing 23 per cent. more in 1907.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy (and while using the "Discovery") as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

GOOD ADVICE

Mr. Tarte's advice to his sons, which has been reproduced since his death, was characteristic of the man: "My sons, you have a newspaper. See therefore that it wounds no one's feelings or blackens no person's reputation. Do not quarrel with the clergy. Remain French and Catholic and loyal subjects of the Queen and Empire. Fulfil your religious duties as well as those of good citizens."

THE LEMIEUX MISSION

It will not do to permit reports from American sources to create the premature impression that Mr. Lemieux's mission to Japan has failed, says the Montreal Star. The Tokio correspondent of the London Times says that it has not failed. It is quite possible that the American legation at Tokio, not being able to get the attention which would naturally be accorded to that of Japan's only ally, has not been too enthusiastic over the Lemieux mission; and it will be noted that chief among the complaints that are made against the Canadian Commissioner is that he did not go out of his way to co-operate with the American representative. When the truth on this matter is, we will learn when Mr. Lemieux returns. It is inconceivable that he should have occupied anything but a most friendly attitude toward the American Government; but it is quite as likely that he did his work under the aegis of the British Ambassador.

This Japanese question is one of considerable delicacy, and we should behave ourselves touching it with the decorum of a world power. It would be peanut politics to try to make a point against Mr. Lemieux in the matter. If he has bungled his mission, we shall learn all about it in good time; and then it will be early enough to show our disapproval. But we should be very sure of his failure before we admit it; and we should never accept such a belief on outside evidence.

If he has really failed, Canada is in a serious position. We should then have to choose between giving up our share in the Japanese treaty—with possible Imperial complications — and abandoning the people of British Columbia to the chances of Oriental immigration. We cannot afford to quarrel with Japan, and we cannot afford to permit British Columbia to be anything but a "white man's country". Thus we have more at stake in Mr. Lemieux's success than has that gentleman himself or all his colleagues.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Sheop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Sheop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Sheop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Sheop's. Take no other. All dealers.

Queen Victoria's Dresses

London, December 11.—Queen Victoria of Spain, whose craze for dress is amazing, must have spent thousands upon thousands of pounds upon all manner of finery and jewels while in this city. The resources of London were not sufficient for her in this direction and famous jewellers from Paris, Berlin, and even St. Petersburg, to say nothing of costumiers, lead their choicest wares before her at Kensington Palace. Queen Victoria's clothes are the envy and despair of the greatest and most extravagant dressers among her sex here. Her furs alone must be enormously valuable, as it is said that she has three of the finest suits of sable obtainable. As to her jewels, they fairly staggered even those who have been accustomed to the barbaric display of jewels in which the Anglo-American multi-millionairesses revel.

American Subscription Exceeds English

London, Dec. 25.—There was some heart searching at the annual meeting of the Keats-Shelley Memorial Association, when the secretary, H. E. Boulton, announced that the American subscriptions to the memorial in Rome amounted to $12,500, while the British subscriptions came up to only $5,000.

A member of the committee raised the point why Americans were responding so much more generously than Englishmen to literary appeals. Earl Crewe, who presided at the meeting, said he thought that Americans were more cosmopolitan than Englishmen, and were in the habit of giving much larger donations.

Leigh Hunt attributed American generosity to the fact that there is more ambition among Americans, while Secretary Boulton pointed out that there were greater riches in the United States, and that literary appeals were made there less frequently than in England.

The association has purchased a house in Rome which is henceforth to be preserved as a memorial to the two poets. This house will be opened by the King of Italy early next year.

The Outing For January

The New Year's issue of The Outing Magazine is a big, handsome, profitable number. It has several articles of importance that so intimately concern problems before the American people today that a careful reading of them is worth while. Clifton Johnson, for instance, in the service of this magazine was sent to Canada to picture the social and industrial conditions just as they are without the lure and glamour that seems to hang over new countries. His article is entitled "On the Edge of the Canadian Northwest", and it at once skilfully matter-of-fact and unusually interesting. It really pictures nation builders at work. "The Sightless Athlete" is a glimpse of training methods whereby the blind are taught to excel in athletics. It is little short of marvelous that the blind boys herein described can perform the feats they do.

Where is the happiest land? Hugo Parton in the January Outing Magazine states that it is the Island of "Moorea," situated in the Society group. It is a "Swiss Family Robinson" story that has the merit of being absolutely true. It is illustrated in color from drawings by Charles Sarka. A glimpse of the world in its swaddling clothes is furnished by Mr. Robert Dunn in his article entitled "On the Chase for Volcanoes." It is a thrilling description of this brilliant young writer's trip over the volcanic island which was thrust above the surface of the Bering Sea last year. It is like a glimpse into an ancient geological period.

As being what may be called a story of romantic fact, nothing in the magazines in recent years has excelled Ralph D. Paine's article in The Outing Magazine entitled "The Vikings of American Commerce", which is the first in his series of "Old Salem Ships and Sailors". This is the story of the rise of Salem's glory as a seaport in the days just after the Revolution when the American maritime commerce was the envy of the world. From the old log books and sea journals found by hundreds in the Essex Institute at Salem, Mr. Paine derives an intimate story of those vigorous old-time personalities. Altogether, this series forms a new and true story of a great era—all the more interesting now that the American flag is so seldom seen in foreign ports.

Emmerson Hugh has never written a better short story than that entitled "Luvinsky and the Strad", which he explains is "a true tale of art by the wayside". It is a humorous story of a backwoods confidence game. In "The Viewpoint", Caspar Whitney, the editor, reviews the years athletics, particularly the football season just passed, ranking the teams and commenting upon the merits and defects of the game as played under the revised rules.

Ex-Mayor Yelland's Speech

Editor Morning Times:

Sir,—Would you kindly allow me a little of your valuable space to reply in part, to the remarks uttered by Ex-Mayor Yelland in the council chamber on Monday last re Unions. In his wisdom (?) he says, that unions are a curse to this country. Does the Ex-Mayor not know that he is now living in the 19th century of Grace? Does he not know that the teeming thousands of this country—the working classes referred to,—have been made vastly better off in this world's goods by reason of trade unions? Did he not know that he was offering direct insult to a large portion of the Brain and Muscle of this country? Does he not know that in union there is strength? Does he not know that the rich have always been and always will continue to prey upon the very vitals of the working class? In the web of these conditions is it any wonder that the builders of the towns and cities all over the civilized world should band themselves together for mutual protection. Was there ever one hair hurt in the head of the Ex-Mayor by reason of the Trades and Labor Council of this city, by reason of the Carpenters' Union, or the Bricklayers' Union, or the Moulders' Union, or the Stonemasons' Union or any other union? His remarks were uncalled for and unjust and will not redound to his advantage should an opportunity ever present itself.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am

JUSTICE.

Carrie Nation's Nephew

Redlands, Dec. 29.—Claiming to be a nephew of Carrie Nation, John Nation was arrested and charged with being drunk here last night. He had just made his way into town on a freight train from San Bernardino, and, according to the police, was so proud of his distinguished relative as of the liquor which he had stowed away in his stomach.

"If you don't let me out of here right now," he shouted from behind the bars, "my Aunt Carrie will come and get me out. She's a fighter, she is, and she won't let me stay in jail for nothing."

But, alas for John, the able temperance aunt was too far away for threats of her revenge to have effect on the bluecoats of Redlands, and her wandering nephew slumbered in jail.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

Ere long, however, his better judgment told him that the censorious, curious world would never suffer this to be; she couldn't come as his sister—she couldn't come at all—and again there came over him a sense of desolation, as if he were a second time bereaved.

Slowly and steadily the raindrops pattered against the window pane, while the lamp upon the table burned lower and lower, and still Mr. Hastings sat there, pondering another plan, to which he could see no possible objection, provided Mrs. Deane's consent could be obtained: "And she shall consent," he said, "or an exposure of her daughter will be the consequence."

Then it occurred to him that in order to succeed he must for a time at least appear perfectly natural—must continue to visit at Locust Grove just as he had been in the habit of doing—must meet Eugenia face to face, and even school himself to listen to the sound of her piano, which he felt would grate so harshly on his ear. And all this he could do if in the end Dora would be benefited.

For the more immediate accomplishment of his purpose it seemed necessary that he should visit New York, and as in his present excitement he could not rest at home, he determined upon going that very morning, in the early train. Pushing back the heavy drapery which shaded the window, he saw that daylight was already breaking in the east, and, after a few hurried preparations, he knocked at Mrs. Leah's door, and telling her that important business required his presence in New York, whither he should be gone a few days, he started for the depot, just as the sun was rising; and, that night Mrs. Elliott, his sister, was surprised to hear that he was in the parlor and wished to see her.

"Why, Howard!" she exclaimed, as she entered the room and saw how pale and haggard he was, "what is the matter, and why have you come upon me so suddenly?"

"I have come, Louise, for aid," he answered, advancing towards her, and drawing her to his side. "Aid for an injured orphan. Do you remember Dora Deane?"

"Perfectly well," answered Mrs. Elliott. "I was too much interested in her to forget her soon. Ella wrote me that she was living in Dunwood, and when next I visited you I intended seeking her out. But what of her, and how can I befriend her?"

In as few words as possible Mr. Hastings told what he knew of her history since his sister saw her last, withholding not even the story of his own strange fancy for Eugenia.

"But that is over, thank Heaven," he continued; "and now, Louise, you must take Dora to live with you. You have no child, no sister, and she will be to you both of these. You must love her, educate her, make her just such a woman as you are yourself; make her, in short, what that noble-hearted old man in India will wish her to be when he returns, as he shall do, if my life is spared, and, Louise," he added, growing more and more earnest, "she will well repay you for your trouble. She brought sunshine to my home; she will bring it to yours. She is naturally refined and intelligent. She is amiable, ingenuous, open-hearted, and will one day be beautiful."

"And you, my brother, love her?" queried Mrs. Elliott, looking him steadily in his face, and parting the thick, black hair from off his high white forehead.

"Love her, Louise!" he answered. "I love Dora Deane! Why no! Ella loved her, the baby loved her, and for this I will befriend her; but to love her, I never thought of such a thing!" and walking to the window he looked out upon the night, repeating to himself: "Love Dora Deane! I wonder what put that idea into Louise's brain?"

Returning ere long to his seat, he resumed the conversation, which resulted at last in Mrs. Elliott's expressing her perfect willingness to give Dora a home and a mother's care, to see that she had every possible advantage, to watch over and make her not only what Uncle Nat would wish to find her, but what Howard Hastings desired that she should be. Of Mrs. Elliott we have said but little, neither is it necessary that we should dwell upon her character at large. She was a noble, true-hearted woman, finding her greatest happiness in doing others good. Widowed in the second year of her married life, her home was comparatively lonely, for no second love had ever moved her heart. In Dora Deane, of whom Ella had written so enthusiastically, she felt a deep interest, and when her brother came to her with the story of her wrongs she gladly consented to be to her a mother, nay, possible a sister, for, with woman's ready tact, she read what Mr. Hastings did not even suspect, and she bade him bring her at once.

A short call upon his mother, to whom he talked of Dora Deane; a hasty visit to Ella's grave, on which the winter snow was lying; a civil bow across the street to Mrs. Gray, who had never quite forgiven him for having killed her daughter; and he started back to Dunwood, bearing with him a happier, healthier frame of mind than he had experienced for many a day. There was something now worth living for—the watching Dora Deane grow up into a woman, whose husband would delight to honor her, and whose children would rise up and call her blessed. This picture, however, was not altogether pleasing, though why the thoughts of Dora's future husband should affect him unpleasantly he could not tell. Still it did; and, mentally hoping she would never marry, he reached Dunwood at the close of the third day after his departure from it.

Here for a moment we leave him, while in another chapter we look in upon Eugenia, whom we left waiting for him at the hotel.

CHAPTER XVI.

In a state of great anxiety, which increased each moment, Eugenia looked for the twentieth time into the long hall, and, seeing no one, went back again to the glass, wondering if her new hat, which without her mother's knowledge had that afternoon been purchased, and now adorned her head, were as becoming as the milliner had said, and if fifteen dollars were not a great price for one in her circumstances to pay for a bonnet. Then she thought if Mr. Hastings proposed soon, as she believed he would, she should never again feel troubled about the trivial matter of money, of which she would have an abundance. But where was he and why did he not come? she asked herself repeatedly, caring less, however, for the delay, when she considered that if they were late more people would see her in company with the elegant Mr. Hastings, who was well known in the city.

"Eight o'clock, as I live!" she exclaimed at last, consulting her watch, "and the concert was to commence at half-past seven. What can it mean?" and with another glance at her bonnet she walked the length of the hall, and leaning far over the balustrade looked anxiously down into the office below, to see if by any chance he were there.

But he was not, and returning to her room she waited another half-hour, when, grown more fidgety and anxious, she descended to the office, inquiring if Mr. Hastings had been there that evening. Someone thought they had seen him in the ladies' parlor that afternoon, but further information than that she could not obtain, and the discomfited young lady went back to her room in no very enviable frame of mind, particularly as she heard the falling of the rain and thought how dark it was without.

"What can have kept him?" she said, half crying with vexation. "And how I wish I had gone home with mother!"

Wishing, however, was of no avail and when that night at half-past ten the hotel omnibus as usual went to

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organs fail. Don't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply a makeshift. Get a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Free sample tree sent on request by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. CIRCUS RIDERS.

They Earn Good Salaries, but Their Careers Are Short.

A man horseback rider receives from $75 to $125 a week, and his career as a principal rider lasts about ten years. It is short not so much because these men get stiff and lose their agility as because they lose their nerve. Nearly all circus folk marry young, and with their added responsibilities comes a lively sense of danger which they ignored in younger days. A man rider who cannot turn a somersault on a horse cannot command more than $50 a week. A woman rider who can perform this feat gets from $150 to $200 a week if she is a finished rider.

This isn't much when all the disadvantages of the calling are taken into consideration, but it should be remembered that all the expenses are paid, including the care, feeding and of course the transportation of their horses. All they have to provide is their own clothing. For the men riders clothes do not constitute much of a factor, and the women nearly always make their own, except those provided by the management.

French Rags High Priced.

A collector of rags offered the manager of a large boarding house a certain price for a bag of worn-out linen.

"These rags are worth more than that," said the shrewd landlord. "I run several houses in this neighborhood, and all are occupied exclusively by French guests."

The dealer apparently considered that remark sufficiently explanatory. He cast a hasty glance upon the contents of the bag, then raised the price.

"And he could well afford to raise it, too," said the landlord. "Even at that rate he will make money off the things. French rags the world over bring a higher price than any other. The reason why? French people wear a better quality of linen and their castoff garments are in demand by all manufacturers of high grade paper."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn busy grandma back to fresh gents. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I unfailingly cure all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those mud-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and take away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with such pain. We will, and in confidence recommend

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 581 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this price, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there, for if you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Many Doctors Failed

Dr. Hamilton Again Figures in a Case that Puzzled Other Physicians.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 1.—When the testimony of Mrs. Stanley, of 165 Argyle St., was first given it caused no small comment, and again establishes that a physician who understands his profession none excel Dr. Hamilton.

"For years," says Mrs. Stanley, "I have suffered greatly from a peculiar dragging weakness that resulted from pleurisy and asthma. Doctors prescribed but failed to advise anything of real benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut and I bought five boxes. They gave me renewed strength and energy, toned my stomach, enriched my blood, and supplied just what my system needed. No medicine could have benefit more than Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and believe every woman would be helped enormously by using these pills regularly. They did me more lasting good than all the prescriptions I took in five years."

No man or woman in poor health ever used Dr. Hamilton's Pills without benefit; the depressed, ailing and weak they uplift and strengthen as a trial always proves.

An Enormous Owl

Quite a large number of Englishmen who happened to meet in the Peterborough House yesterday were greatly surprised by the size and activity of the enormous owl that Mr. Head, the proprietor, has in a large cage. This bird, which was captured in the township of Dummer in a trap set to stop its ravages among the chickens is "a terror" to eat. It is fed on dead sparrows and mice. The mice it simply grabs in its powerful beak and swallows as one would take a pill. Sparrows make about two mouthfuls or should it be put "beak-fuls"? This owl which is acknowledged to be the largest ever seen in this part of the country creates amusement when it sees a dog. It ruffles up its feathers, claps its beaks noisily together and hisses whilst the canine is in sight.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Victim of a Very Painful Accident

It seems that cases arise where the most charitably disposed, and most kindly intended may, by misunderstanding exigencies of the particular occasion do harm to those whom they would protect. An instance of such "contra temps," occurred when Robert McGill, an old man residing at 321 Mark street, east ward, was the victim of a painful accident. McGill was passing along Hunter street, and when opposite the Quaker Oats Co., fell striking the cement walk with great force. A few minutes later he was picked up unconscious by a gentleman who happened to see him fall. The injured man was taken to his home. It seems however that the most serious part of the mishaps occurred after Mr. McGill had been taken home. Not knowing that he lived alone. Mr. McGill's friend left him at the door, evidently thinking there was someone to give proper attention. weather being cold the old man was chilled through and laid in a helpless condition. Later on a gentleman passing by was attracted by the injured man's groans. He went to the old fellow, and seeing his helplessness, carried him into the house Dr. Scott was summoned and ordered that Mr. McGill be removed to Nicholls hospital. In addition to being chilled with the cold, it was found that he had fractured his right leg just above the ankle.

Mesdames James and Lewis Jones, of Midland, are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Switzer.

A large number attended the services held there and conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Puckler. In his discourse the importance of time was very vividly brought out. On Friday evening, Dec. 27th, Mr. and Mrs. M. Ruth gave a most enjoyable time to Mrs. Ruth's Sunday school class, and a number of young people.

The Canadian Magazine

It is gratifying to note that, with The Canadian Magazine, as a literary production, has for some time been holding its own with the highest magazines, it is now showing a market advance artistically. The Christmas number gave emphasis to this feature, and again the January number contains some particularly attractive illustrations. The drawings of Louis A. Holman, illustrating an article on old Acadia forts, are especially good. The number contains a very valuable and illuminating article, entitled "Metal Mining in Canada," by Ralph Stokes, an authority on mining, and contributions by Dr. Louis Frechette, Virnie Sheard, A. B. Carman, and other well-known writers.

FOR ALDERMAN

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Having served you as alderman for two years, I once again, at the request of a large number of ratepayers, offer myself as a candidate for re-election. During last year I held the important position of chairman of the Board of Works, thereby acquiring a knowledge of municipal affairs that should enhance my value as a member of the Aldermanic Board for 1908. If elected for a fourth term I shall use my best endeavors to advance the interests of the community as a whole, without fear or favor, and will only support such measures as are calculated to assure to my fellow citizens a maximum of benefits at a minimum of expenditure.

Trusting that you will once more honor me with your confidence, believe me to remain.

Your Obedient Servant.

Total	35,612	22,307

The fatality list of the world for 1907, chronicled by the New York Tribune, shows an aggregate of 35,612 killed and 22,307 seriously injured, or a grand total of 57,919 unfortunates who in one form or another, suffered death or painful injury in direct instances as the direct result of carelessness.

Day by day throughout the year, nearly 100 persons perished by violence in every 24 hours, while nearly 150 were either killed or maimed.

The harvest by earthquakes, landslides and other disturbances of nature stands at the head of the column with a grim total of 21,512 killed and [illegible] injured. Next come storms and floods with a total of 4,309 deaths and [illegible] injuries. Explosions and mine disasters, chiefly in America, holds third place with a total of 3,086 deaths and 2,721 injured. Marine disasters claim fourth place with a total of 2,26[illegible] lives. Fire victims rank fifth in the list with 1,[illegible] fatalities and 667 injured. Next in the column are the 511 who lost their lives in railroad wrecks.

Despite the great hue and cry about careless operation of automobiles, their victims in the aggregate are few compared with other forms of accident. The grand total of automobile accidents is 229 killed and 704 injured, while the roll of street cars and wagons is 136 killed and 292 injured.

From careless handling of firearms 197 were sent to their graves. Seventy-five persons were killed and 160 injured in runaways.

In the various sports football leads first in the list of accidents. About a score of players received fatal injuries and more than two were seriously injured.

WOLVES ATE HUNTER AFTER AWFUL FIGHT

Saddle Lake, Alta., Jan. 4—A man was killed and eaten by wolves at a point forty miles south of Lou St. Vincent. Only the man's gun and a few hairs were found, while nearby were the remains of seven timber wolves which the man had evidently shot before being overcome by the rest of the pack.

Some half-breeds from St. Paul de Metz have gone to try and identify the victim, if possible. The victim is supposed to be an English or American tourist hunter.

Ald. Morgan a Strong Candidate

Alderman Harry Morgan is seeking reelection after one term on the Council Board. He was last year the acceptable representative of Ward Five, and in his election Ward Five's first choice for Alderman, Mr. Gillespie being second. Harry Morgan has proved a valuable servant to the city. He is broad minded and liberal and has the courage of his convictions, without fear or favors. He has been outspoken in all public affairs, and believes that nothing is too good for Peterborough. For instance, in his speech at the opening of the new fire hall on New Years Day, he said: "We have a good city, a good city council, a good sanitary inspector, two good assessors and a Romaine street sewer, but they all want fixing. While the new fire hall is an improvement on the old one it needs something to make it up-to-date. A few hundred dollars would do this. The city's business should be run on similar lines to private business. But in the case of the new fire hall only two or three loads of hay at from $14 to $20 a ton, can be put into the mow at one given time, whereas if fifteen or twenty tons could be stored the hay would cost the city a proportionately reduction per ton." Ald. Morgan has taken considerable interest in the fire service and its men, characterizing the latter as good as any volunteer brigade in the world." It would be a loss to the city, and particularly to Ward Five, if he were not elected but there, his friends will see to it that he makes one of the twelve next year. He is a strong supporter of union labor, and his motto is "Peterborough" first, last and always.

W. H. Bradburn a Good Candidate

Ald. W. H. Bradburn is going to the polls again after one term on the Council Board. He has served on several important committees, and shown marked ability in public administration. He had considerable weight in last year's council, and his first term as alderman has brought out those characteristics which stamp him as a valued servant to renewed confidence as a City Father. There should be no doubt of his candidature meeting with the success he deserves.

Address to the Electors

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—Having been duly nominated a candidate to contest the mayoralty of Peterborough for the year 1908, I accept this nomination and respectfully solicit your vote and influence to secure my return.

I had no aspirations for the position and no thought of entering the contest for the Mayor's Chair until a few days ago. I was waited upon by some of the most substantial of our citizens and presented with a requisition, signed by several hundred taxpayers, urging me to enter the field as a candidate. I could do no other than regard such a requisition, signed by a large and representative number of citizens, as a call to duty. Consequently, as I have, during my 45 years' residence in Peterborough, tried to do my duty faithfully to the place in which all my material interests are centered, I have decided to place myself in the hands of the electors.

If I am chosen as Mayor, I shall use all my ability to practically apply the motto of my life—"The interests of Peterborough first, last and always." I am known to you all by virtue of a residence of 45 years in the city, and through a corresponding experience in business, which, through the kind co-operation of the public, I have been favored in making a success.

Though I have not sought public office any more than I am seeking the present offered position, may say that, for four terms in succession, I was returned as alderman without soliciting or attending a nomination or soliciting a vote. I felt that both as an honor and a flattering mark of confidence, which I endeavored to justify to the fullest of my ability. And if elected as Mayor I shall discharge the duties of the office to the full extent of my powers and with a single eye to the promotion of the best interests of the city.

This is the platform upon which I can and do appeal to your support; that is the platform upon which I will justify your choice, if you do me the honor to elect me. It is not practicable for me, even if it were in line with my inclination, to personally call upon the electors. I hold that the office should seek the man rather than the men the office. I have no personal interests to serve; my only object in accepting the nomination for Mayor is to serve the best interests of the City of Peterborough. With cordial wishes for a Happy New Year to all, I remain,

Yours obedient servant,

H. RUSH

Peterborough, December 31st, 1907.

The Mayoralty

The spirit of "fair play" should and does, we hope, underlie the whole British constitution, either in political or municipal affairs. In the present mayoralty election this principle will undoubtedly prevail so far as the two candidates are concerned. The two principals are both gentlemen, both friendly toward each other, and both men of honor. Mr. Rush does not criticise his opponent, and his opponent does not criticise him in their respective addresses. Mayor McWilliams is making the customary courtesy of a second term and ex-Ald Rush is deferring to the wishes of his requisitionists in contesting the borough. But in the the circular issued by ten business men the mayor is charged with the sins of anybody and everybody. He is scored because of the overdraft at the bank, an overdraft created by reason of delay in selling city debentures. These debentures were under the hands of a Finance Committee, one of whom is acknowledged to be an exceptionally strong man in finance, and that committee have been holding out in the face of a tight money market for terms commensurate with the standing of Peterborough. When these debentures are disposed of our overdraft will be no more than in former years, and the indebtedness thereof was created by the petitions of ratepayers themselves for permanent improvements for which they are willing to pay 60 per cent. of the whole cost of construction.

Again, the mayor is blamed for the Armour hill costs and the Romaine street sewer. Bungling, no doubt, but by whom? Why should the mayor shoulder the burden? One cannot expect a lawyer, a carpenter, a flour and feed man or a mechanic to be skilled either in civil engineering or road work. The council must rely upon the judgment of their paid officials in such matters, and when these officials prove incompetent what should follow? Now, as to the Armour hill roadway to the lift lock, the engineer reported, if our memory serves us right, that that grading could be done for $500. In good faith the mayor and council ordered the work to be proceeded with, and at a time when they felt they could not afford to expend too much cash on such work. It cost $3,000, and whose judgment was at fault? Regarding the Romaine street sewer, the engineer reported the work practicable, and in good faith the council of 1906 undertook it. Last year Ald. Duncan insisted that this particular work should be uncovered to ascertain the trouble in connection with the sewers blocking. And what was discovered? Why the pipes were agee, and shid and water, lounging in at their own sweet will and accord. The mayor then called an inquisition meeting, bringing on the carpet before him whose council all parties concerned. And what do we find? Why the work was constructed under the most difficult if not impossible conditions. Pipe was laid and cemented for the most part under water, and all with the knowledge of the council's advisor.

The engineer acknowledged that when the work was well under way he realized that its being a satisfactory job was extremely doubtful, but he pushed it through because the School Board was urging him to complete the work. The foreman of the work and the pipelayer were both disgusted, and wanted to quit the undertaking. This all came out in evidence. At the last meeting of the council one and all were agreed as to who was responsible for the bungling on public works. Alderman Morgan offered that nothing else could be expected when previous councils had taken men out of factories to superintend sewer construction. The mayor held the council for three-quarters of an hour, and urged them to pass a resolution definately placing the responsibility for such bungling to where it belonged, and in accordance with the freely expressed opinions of his colleagues. He was openly supported by Aldermen Phelan, Tovey, Duncan and Wilson. The others were acquiescent, but not so outspoken. As a matter of fact a resolution on the above lines was moved by Ald. Phelan, but subsequently dropped, the majority manifesting considerable diffidence in passing a resolution of censure on any civic employe at the closing of their term. But the knowledge of who was responsible for serious bungling in public work was fully recognized. Why blame the mayor and council for such blunders; the city employs so-called skilled men to advise them in all matters pertaining to practical work, and those men are responsible for their office. And all the present city officials, excepting the sanitary inspector, were in office before last year's council took their seats. The mayor has always ruled without fear or favor, and is entitled to credit for such. He should, and undoubtedly will, have "British Fair Play."

As to the assessment everybody

"There's a Reason"

THE CITY FINANCES

In reply to the misleading circular issued against me, permit me to call the attention of the electors to the following facts.

1. On Jan 1st, 1907, the overdraft for works for which debentures had not then been issued amounted to over $73,000 which included nothing for schools.

2. Of the overdraft now existing $49,000 is for advances made this year to the Board of Education for the Collegiate and Queen Alexandra school.

3.—The sale of the debentures was entrusted by the council to the Finance Committee composed of Aldermen Tovey, Morrow, Bradburn, Phalen and the mayor, and later delegated to Ald. Morrow and Bradburn.

4. In October last a conference was held with the Finance Committee of the School Board as to the sale of $86,000 school debentures and at their request the sale was deferred. Mr. Robert Fair, one of the signers of the circular, was present as a member of the Board and strongly opposed selling the debentures till money became easier.

5. The rate of taxes for purposes over which the council has any control was in 1906—7.41 mills, and in 1907—6.90 mills.

6.—The highest taxation in the history of the city was in the year that Mr. Rush was chairman of the Finance Committee.

British Warships Ordered South--Take Peep at U.S. Fleet

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 4.—H.M.S. Sloop of War Shearwater, now stationed at Esquimalt, has received instructions from the British admiralty to proceed to Iquique, Chili, and to await further orders there. She leaves for South America, on January 23rd, and will be there about the time the United States war fleet is in that latitude. It is rumored here that the cause of her dispatch is to report to the British admiralty any observations she may make on the United States fleet after the 10,000 miles passage around the Horn, but it is more likely in connection with the recent rioting at Iquique.

This time last year the Shearwater was dispatched to the Galapagos Islands to inquire into the state of slavery in which a number of British West Indians were held. She found the black subjects, and was told gruesome tales of their sufferings under South American taskmasters. The matter was reported to the admiralty and subsequently Sir Edward Grey was asked in the British House of Commons what steps would be taken to secure the release of the West Indians. The foreign secretary replied that state of bondage would be terminated and the Indians would be deported. It is understood that this has not yet been done, and it is likely that the Shearwater will pay another visit to the Galapagos Islands.

TEXT OF RECENTLY FOUND BIBLE VERSE

The text of the new verse to St. Mark's Gospel, discovered by Charles L. Freer, of Detroit, and announced through the Michigan University, to the American Association for the Advancement of Science follows the known verse of Mark xvi., 14, and relates to the message given by Christ to His disciples after the resurrection. The translation follows:—

"And they answered, saying that this age of unrighteousness and unbelief is under the power of Satan, who does not permit the things which are made impure by the (evil) spirits to comprehend the truth of God (and) His power. For this reason reveal thy righteousness now, they said to Christ, and Christ said to them, The limit of the years of the power of Satan has been fulfilled, but other terrible things are at hand, and I was delivered unto death on behalf of those who sinned in order that they may return to the truth and sin no more, to the end that they may inherit the spiritual, indestructible glory of righteousness (which) is in heaven."

POLICE

At the police court yesterday Mr. Spencely was charged with having thrown a snowball at Mrs. S. Lowry, S. Brown followed Mrs. Lowry into the witness box and corroborated her evidence that the defendant had thrown something at her, but he could not see what, nor did he know whether the object thrown struck complainant.

Spencely gave evidence and said he met Mrs. Lowry crossing the Hunter street bridge. He spoke to her in fun. He gathered some loose snow off the hand rail and tossed it over his back but did not know whether he hit her or not. The Magistrate said that defendant should not have spoken to the woman and should not have thrown a snowball at her. He fined Spencely $6 with $4.55 costs, which was paid.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

unacquainted with the act knows that the mayor and council have no control over the assessment; they can raise or lower the rate, and appoint the assessors, but their authority ends there. It is remarkable that no one has yet blamed the mayor and council for their choice of assessors (both of whom had served the city in that capacity for years), but a start is made at the mayor because one of the assessors had an abnormal idea of values.

Both Mr. Rush and Mayor McWilliams are appealing to the electorate on their own personality. The address signed by ten "business men" should not be taken seriously, as it has not yet been endorsed by Mr. Rush (both candidates, so far as we know, are in sympathy with the working man), and both have served the city faithfully. But is there any earthly reason why Mayor McWilliams should not have the unwritten courtesy of a second term, and Mr. Rush the assured honor of succeeding him in due time.

Since writing the above we notice that an evening contemporary is following the same old tactics as last year. A number of letters under the cognomen of "One who got a circular," "South Ward," and Another ex-Alderman, and many and so forths. Well, this policy was followed last year, and what did it end in? Not much certainly so far as the paper's candidate was concerned.

Hawaiians Averse to Hindu Labor

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 4.—Cheap Hindu labor is not wanted in Hawaii. A letter has been received here from Alexander & Baldwin, planters, of Honolulu, in reply to a proposal that a commission should be sent there to take the places of Japanese on plantations. The letter says: "The Hawaiian Planters' association has discussed the question, but no Hindus will be brought here. We would much prefer good European laborers, such as Portuguese and Spaniards, who arrived last summer in considerable numbers. Europeans are preferable to Hindus, whose low standard of living and uncleanly habits do not appeal to us."

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman understands the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examination and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper, contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a book to be had free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent woman now-a-days insist on knowing what they take—medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

JAPS ARE READY TO FIGHT--WHITE MEN WILL CARRY GUNS

The Situation is Serious--Jap Influx on the Increase--Have Engaged All Steerage Passages from Honolulu for Six Months

The murderous attack of some five hundred firemen, who while jostling on another, broke the window of a Japanese store in Vancouver, has caused quite a sensation in British Columbia.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 4.—The influx of Japs from Honolulu is increasing rather than abating. Inside information received here says a small steamer is chartered to leave Honolulu next week with a hundred and fifty Japs for Vancouver. The Canadian-Australia —lines have steerage passages booked ahead for six months by Japs in Honolulu —fifty to each ship. Charters are now being arranged for at least two more vessels to bring big loads.

WHITE MEN TO ARM

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 4. — Trades and Labor Council last night held a hot discussion on the Japanese question. It was proposed that there is no legal machinery to have police go through all the houses of Jap town to search for knives and revolvers, and thoroughly disarm the Japs, then the laboring men should themselves arm with revolvers in case of emergency. The situation is admittedly serious, and the declaration was made that the mayor and five authorities are "chattering in their teeth," and fearful to act less they should offend the Japanese government or consul.

"I, for one, will arm myself," said R. P. Pettipher, and another said, "I am ready to join a force any day."

LIKE AN ARSENAL

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 4.—Reports are current that Powell street is more like an arsenal than a residential district. Many Japs are said to be arming themselves with knives and revolvers. No explanations for excess No explanations were forthcoming on this subject, but in the way of resolutions the meeting last night marked attention to Assistant Williams, whose alleged pro-Japanese decision and the Japanese riots in Steveston were severely criticised. It was alleged that the magistrate, police, and city council are all afraid to act against the Japs. A committee of three was appointed to investigate the conduct of the magistrate, and demand his resignation if the charges we intend to be true.

FOURTH JAP ARRESTED

Vancouver, B.C., Jan 4.—A fourth Jap was arrested last night on the charge of attempted murder in the little riot on New Years morning. Foreman Frost had his nose cut off in the fight, but will recover. All the victims are now doing well. There is little evidence against the arrested Japs except the white arrested they had on blood covered clothing.

Correspondents' Views on the Water By-law

(To the Editor of The Times.)

There appears to be considerable misunderstanding in reference to the proposed water works bylaw, on which the ratepayers are to vote on next Monday.

Some people appear to have the idea that this bylaw will raise the water rate to all consumers, whereas the very opposite will be the result—for instance suppose a present or prospective water consumer's bill is now $50, the commissioners consider the passing of the bylaw will enable them to give a reduction (a reduction to the present discount) of 81-3 per cent. or $4.16 2-3, and this does not take a cent from any ratepayer, except those who own or hold vacant unoccupied lots, past which the water pipes are now or will hereafter be laid.

This is only fair, as owners of such vacant lots have the benefit of the enhanced value which these improvements bring to their property, and for which they have not heretofore contributed a cent. The only mistake that appears to have been made by the commission, is that this rule should have been adopted from the time the town purchased the water works. The commissioners certainly deserve the greatest credit for their management of this service. I doubt whether there is any business, private, corporate or public that can show such a record as they can today. I am sure every person would be delighted, if all our corporation business were handled in the same business-like manner—it would save the taxpayers tens of thousands of dollars annually.

Vote for this bylaw, and compel those who hold vacant lots for speculative purposes, and who desire to have their value increased at our expense, to pay a fair share towards such expense. It is a step in the right direction. If it is carried it will and should cost the large land owners in the city more, and to to that extent it will benefit the remainder of the ratepayers. Incidentally if carried it will cost Mr. La Plante, the Chamberlain, state ex-Mayor Best, the latter of whom is a candidate for a place on the commission more money, hence their opposition.

It must always be remembered that twenty-four years' hence, when the water works will have been paid for in full, the city will own this asset, and those large land owners will hold a proportionately larger share of them, notwithstanding they have not paid a cent toward their purchase, while you and I have contributed full cost of a very valuable public utility.

Vote for the bylaw and the old commission who have done their duty so ably.

RATEPAYER.

Since writing the above I noticed a letter in each of the evening papers—the one in the Review is signed "G. W. Hutton"—they are evidently the product of the same pen. In these he is intimated that our water commissioners succeeded in having an unconstitutional act passed by a "sleepy" legislature, which, of course includes Premier Whitney, for it appears he cannot see how the act ever got past the watchful eye of Premier Whitney." Never mind the constitutionality of the act I will venture the opinion that Premier Whitney and the legislature can look after the constitutionality of their acts, quite as well as the solicitor for the land owners of Peterborough.

Vote for the bylaw and Mr. Hall, and thus reduce our water rate.

Vested Rights v. Water Commissioners

To the Editor of The Times:—

As apparently the question of what or is not right does not appeal to many, the ultimate query being, how does it affect me? and I am going to [illegible] the principle at issue, let us go into details.

The center of business population, we are told, will vote on the bylaw. Surely here is the place to exert a thoughtful consideration of the question. We should [illegible] our interests [illegible] and [illegible] the basis that is proposed to be the [illegible] of taxation. It is a well-established principle, we can [illegible] how to be taxed on our [illegible].

We are told that they, the [illegible] etc., will [illegible] the only [illegible] with a view of protecting themselves [illegible] portion of the water rate now charged them, and that the property of non-users of water and vacant property does not pay any sum of taxation on the water rates. The opponents to the bylaw and the [illegible] of Mr. Best say that this class of property pays more than its share [illegible] and [illegible] it pays for street watering, sewerage, flushing, hydrant tax and fire protection in addition to the ordinary rate for schools, police protection, etc. In addition to all this property owners are to be subject, under the water commissioners new act, to confirmation of a max mum tax of five cents per linear foot per annum for ever. Fifty dollars per thousand feet. One hundred dollars per thousand feet should the property owner own property on each side of the street. What does one think of that seriously you know. An irresponsible water commission can exact this tax which, of course, virtually amounts to, as said before, confiscation.

One thousand feet of waterpipe can be purchased and laid down, reached and covered up at about 65 cents per foot. 1000 feet at 65 cents per foot—$650. Interest on $650 at 5 per cent. per annum—$32.50, and your property owners are liable to be taxed $100 a year for an outlay, the interest on same being $32.50, a net gain to the commissioners of $68.50 per annum. All this, remember, in addition to the general taxes this class of property already pays. How many years would it take to get back the original outlay? Certainly tax vacant property, tax it out of existence, not by vote of the property owners but of the hobos and riffraff. As the property fronted on the main is improved in value, the unearned increment and that [illegible] of staff Assessors, if they do their sworn duty must increase the assessment on this class of property to a percentage probably ascertained by the water commissioners only. All this is a mere matter of detail—the principal stake is lost sight of and must not even be considered.

G. W. BATTON

P.S.—Belleville consumers only pay; No tax to non-users and vacant property.

Galt consumers only pay; No tax to non-users and vacant property.

As we are overstocked in [illegible] order to reduce stock we have decided to [illegible] down all 50 cent lines to 39 cents. Times Bookstore, Peterborough.

CURED PAINFUL IRREGULARITIES

Strong Testimony From a Lady Resident of Clarksburg, Proving That Ferrozone Surpasses All Other Remedies.

The health of many women is constantly imperilled through failure of certain organs to work according to nature's requirements.

Where this condition occurs there is no safer remedy to employ than Ferrozone, which has a specific action on female troubles.

Not only does it act directly on the organs, ensuring regularity and freedom from pain, but by forming rich red blood fortifies the system against weakening drains.

FERROZONE MAKES STRONG WOMEN

Ferrozone possesses a volume of merit totally absent in the ordinary medicine, and its superiority is proclaimed by thousands of women it has restored to vigorous health. From Mrs. F. O. Caldwell comes the following endorsement, written from her home in Clarksburg; "I went through a most trying experience with what is commonly known as 'Female Trouble.' It isn't necessary to state my symptoms, but I suffered a great deal. My health was well nigh ruined, and I got into such a condition that I couldn't even sleep. I was dreadfully nervous, weak and pale. Different prescriptions were recommended and I tried them. But Ferrozone was the first to help. I improved steadily under Ferrozone, and normal conditions were finally established. I gained weight, my color and spirits improved, and my former health was restored. Ferrozone cured me, and with a full heart I recommend this good medicine to all other women."

Beware of imitations—don't allow a druggist to palm off anything else for Ferrozone, which costs 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

IMPORTANT BUT UNSATISFACTORY

The Dominion Government referred a certain case to the Supreme Court of Canada for a decision as to the right of companies holding provincial charters to do business outside of the province in which the charters are granted. The important character of the question will be at once apparent, when we reflect that there are thousands of companies, representing millions of dollars of capital, whose right to do an extra-provincial business was involved. The question arose between the Canadian Pacific Railway company and the Ottawa Fire Insurance company, but the nature of the constitutional question involved was of such moment that the government took the matter up. Six judges took part. Three of them, Messrs. Justices Duff, Iddington and McLennan, held that the powers of provincial companies extended far enough to enable them to do business outside of the province in which they were incorporated. Chief Justice Fitzpatrick and Mr. Justice Davies dissented, and Mr. Justice Girouard declined to express an opinion on the unconstitutional issue, holding that it was not properly before the court. Thus, while the majority of the court decided in favor of the claims of the companies, the judgment will hardly be regarded as final, and it is understood that the case will be appealed to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. In the meantime it is suggested that the promoters of companies will hesitate about applying to the provincial authorities for incorporation, if they are likely to engage in any extra-provincial business. The point involved is so far-reaching in its nature, that it is to be hoped an early determination of it can be secured.

BLUE RUIN REPORT

A despatch from the Old Country, says the Brockville Recorder, states that at least a million Englishmen last week are learning through the Daily Mail that Canada is poverty stricken, and with a grave outlook for the coming winter. Extracts are published from the Toronto Telegram, Halifax Herald and Woodstock Express, to prove that the distress in Eastern Canada is altogether exceptional. It is stated that ten thousand, mostly Britishers, are out of work in Toronto, and more unemployed are walking the streets of Montreal than for years past. All the big firms are retrenching and laying off men, especially in Ontario. The outlook for many families is stated to be terrible. All industries, especially the metal trades, are doing little or nothing.

These reports will tend to greatly restrict next year's emigration.

The financial stringency, it is asserted, is driving the Colonial Governments and municipalities to various expedients in their urgent need for money, most of them paying banks heavily for temporary accommodation to avoid public issues.

The baneful effects of such widely circulated reports concerning Canada is something that must prove very injurious to the good name of this Dominion. Never in the history of the country has such unprecedented prosperity been shown as in the past decade, and the very little diminution of commercial activity is due to the world-wide financial stringency and to a somewhat backward season for crops. There is not the slightest foundation whatever for any sensational reports which are largely due to the over zeal of the Tory press, headed by the Mail and Empire, to belittle the almost phenomenal progress of this country. The Tory press never in their history felt the wave of prosperity and industrial activity to a larger extent than since the Laurier Government came into power, and the universal wail they now set up recalls that fabled story of the innocent husbandman who finding a chilled viper took means of reviving its benumbed energy only to receive an expression of its gratitude in the deadly poison of its sting.

A Pot of Molten Metal Burst

Pittsburg, Jan. 3.—Two men were killed and 13 others seriously injured by an explosion in convertor No. 3 of the Edgar Thompson plant of the United States Steel Corporation at North Braddock, about seven miles east of here, yesterday.

The two men killed were foreigners. Six of the injured were Americans and the others Slavs.

No official statement of the cause of the explosion has been issued, but old converter mill men say the cause could hardly be other than that some of the molten metal sifted through the sandstone lining of the converter and came in contact with the steel sheathing, which perhaps was damp.

When the explosion occurred the bottom of the converter dropped out, throwing 15 tons of molten metal into the pit, where 15 men were working at the ladles. There was no explosion when the hot mass of steel struck the bottom of the pit, but instead flames of burning gas were sent up which burned the men in the pit. The two men who were killed had been working under the converter, and their bodies were terribly mangled.

The force of the explosion blew the sheet iron off the converting mill and caused two of the walls to collapse, besides breaking all the windows in the buildings in the vicinity. It partially destroyed the warehouse near the converting mill.

Nude Doukhobors In Zero Weather

Fort William, Jan. 2.—Twelve of the Doukhobor pilgrims who are stopping here for the winter started on another march yesterday, and despite the fact that the thermometer registered ten below zero, set out, minus wearing apparel of any kind. Seven men and five women were in the party, and for over half a mile they marched, chanting their mournful dirge. The line of march was right through the center of the town, and citizens could hardly credit their eyes when they beheld the marching band of nude pilgrims.

The police were soon on hand, and the band was rounded up into a downtown poolroom, where they continued their march round the tables while the police decided what next to do. They were finally hustled into cabs and taken back to their house, where the entire party of ninety has resided since they came to the city. Strange to say, none of them appeared to have suffered any evil effects.

The New-York Tribune

The newspaper in the home is a necessity. Get one that can be safely read by the entire family. The Tribune is a paper that prints all the news of the world in such a manner as to be readable without offending the laws of good taste. It is a human paper—one edited by men and women; and while, at times, it may occasionally make mistakes, its readers believe and trust in it. The Daily Tribune is more than a continuous history; it is and has been for over sixty years the great exponent of progressive national thought and fills a larger place in American history than any other newspaper. It contains special articles on nearly every subject which interests intelligent and clean-minded people, to say nothing of the instructive editorial articles and reviews of Books, Music, Art and Drama. In fact, there is nothing ever printed in The Tribune that will not instruct and educate, just as it is a fact that there is nothing ever printed that will offend decency.

With the Sunday Tribune you get a handsome illustrated supplement of timely topics and a superb twenty-page magazine with colored cover, which contains most interesting fiction and short stories by well known authors. This, with other sections, goes to make up one of the most complete and interesting Sunday Newspapers published.

The Daily and Sunday Tribune is the ideal family newspaper. If you are not familiar with it you owe it to yourself and family to at least try a months subscription to verify the above statement. A dollar bill sent to the Circulation Department of The Tribune, New York, will bring The Daily and Sunday Tribune into your family for one month. Or send $10 for one year.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

the depot, it carried a very cross young lady, who, little heeding what she did, and caring less, sat down beneath a crevice in the roof, through which the rain crept in, lodging upon the satin bows and drooping plumes of her fifteen-dollar hat, which, in her disappointment, she had forgotten to exchange for the older one, safely stowed away in the hand-box she held upon her lap. Arrived at Dunwood station, she found, as she had expected, no omnibus in waiting, nor anyone whose services she could claim as an escort, so, borrowing an umbrella and holding up her dress as best she could, she started, hand-box in hand, for home, stepping once into a pool of water, and falling once upon the dirty sidewalk, from which the mud and snow were wiped by her rich velvet cloak, to say nothing of the frightful pinch made in her other bonnet by her having crushed the handbox in her fall.

In a most forlorn condition, she at last reached home, where to her dismay she found the door was locked and the fire gone out, her mother not having expected her to return on such a night as this. To rouse up Dora and scold her unmercifully, though for what she scarcely knew, was under the circumstances quite natural, and while Mr. Hastings at Rose Hill was devising the best means of removing Dora from her power, she at Locust Grove was venting the entire weight of her pent-up wrath upon the head of the devoted girl, who bore it uncomplainingly. Removing at last her bonnet she discovered the marks of the omnibus leak, and then her ire was turned towards him having been the cause of all her disasters.

"I'll never speak to him again—never!" she exclaimed, as she crept shivering to bed.

But a few hours' quiet slumber revived her, and during the next day she many times looked out to see him coming, as she surely thought he would, laden with apologies for his seeming neglect. But nothing appeared except the huge box containing the piano, and in superintending the opening of that her mind was for a time diverted. Greatly Alice and Dora marveled whence came the money with which the purchase had been made, and both with one consent settled upon Mr. Hastings as having been the donor. To this suggestion Eugenia made no reply, and feeling sure that it was so Dora turned away, and, walking to the window, sighed as she wondered what Ella would say if she could know who was to take her place in the heart of Howard Hastings.

The instrument was finely toned, and Eugenia spent the remainder of the day in practicing a very difficult piece which she knew Mr. Hastings admired, and with which she intended to surprise and charm him. But he did not come, either that day or the next, and on the morning of the next, which was Saturday, feigning some trivial errand to Mrs. Leah, she went herself to Rose Hill, casting anxious glances towards the windows of his room to see if he were in sight. Dame Leah was a shrewd old woman, and, readily guessing that Eugenia's visit was prompted from a desire to see her master rather than herself, she determined to tantalize her by saying nothing of him unless she were questioned. Continually hoping he would appear, Eugenia lingered until there was no longer a shadow of excuse for tarrying, and then she arose to go, saying as she reached the door, "Oh, now I think of it, Mr. Hastings has a book in his library which I very much wish to borrow. Is he at home?"

"No," answered Mrs. Leah, "he went to New York Thursday morning on the early train."

"To New York!" repeated Eugenia; "for what? and when will he be home?"

"He said he had important business," returned Mrs. Leah, adding that "maybe he'd be home that night."

Eugenia had heard all she wished to know, and, forgetting entirely the book, bade Mrs. Leah good-morning and walked away, feeling in a measure relieved, for the business which took him so suddenly to New York had undoubtedly some connection with his failing to call at the hotel for her! He had never called upon Sunday evening, but thinking that after so long an absence he might do so now she sat in state from six o'clock till nine, starting nervously at every sound, and once, when sure she heard him, running from the room, so he would not find her there and think she had been waiting for him. But he did not come; and the next day, feeling exceedingly anxious to know if he had returned, and remembering the book which she had failed to get, and must have, she towards night sent Dora to Rose Hill, bidding her if she saw Mr. Hastings tell him that her piano had come and she wished him to hear it.

In the long kitchen by a glowing stove Dame Leah sat, busy with her knitting, which she quickly suspended when she saw Dora, who was with her a favorite.

"So Eugenia sent you for that book?" she said, when told of Dora's errand. "I'll see if he will lend it."

Mr. Hastings was alone in his library. All that day he had been making up his mind to call at Locust Grove, where he knew Eugenia was impatiently expecting him, for Mrs. Leah had told him of her call, winking slyly as she spoke of the forgotten book.

"Yes, I will go and have it over," he thought, just as Mrs. Leah entered, telling him that "Miss" Deane wanted that book."

Thinking that Eugenia was in the house, he answered hastily, "Take it to her, and pray don't let her in here."

"It's Dora, not Eugenia," said Mrs. Leah, and instantly the whole expression of his countenance changed.

"Dora!" he exclaimed. "It's a long time since I saw her in this room. Tell her to come up."

Very gladly Dora obeyed the summons, and in a moment she, smiling stood in the presence of Mr. Hastings.

"I am glad to see you," he said, motioning her to the little stool on which she had often sat when reciting to him her lessons, and when she now sat down it was so near to him that, had he chosen, his hand could have rested on her beautiful hair, for she held her hood upon her lap.

Two months before and he would not have hesitated to smooth these shining tresses, but the question of his sister, "Do you love her?" had produced upon him a curious effect, making him half afraid of the child-woman who sat before him, and who, after waiting a time for him to speak, looked up into his face and said, "Do you want me for anything in particular, Mr. Hastings?"

"Want you, Dora? Want you?" he said, abstractedly, as if that question, too, had puzzled him; and remembering himself, and why he had sent for her, he answered, "I want to talk with you, Dora—to tell you something. Do you remember my sister, Mrs. Elliott?"

The eager, upward glance of Dora's eyes was a sufficient answer, and he continued: "I saw her last week and talked with her of you. She wishes you to come and live with her. Will you go?"

Dora could never tell why she cried, but the thought of living with Mrs. Elliott, whom she regarded as an almost superior being, overcame her, and she burst into tears, while Mr. Hastings looked at her, quite uncertain as to what, under the circumstances, it was proper for him to do. If his sister had never bothered him with that strange question he would have known exactly how to act; but now, in a state of perplexity, he sat motionless, until, thinking he must do something, he said gently: "Dora, my child." The last word removed his embarrassment entirely. She was a child and as such he would treat her. So he said again, "Dora, my child, why do you cry?" and Dora answered impulsively, "It makes me so glad to think of living with Mrs. Elliott, for you do not know how unhappy I have been since she found me four years ago."

"I know more than you suppose. But it is over now," he said; and stretching out his arm, he drew her nearer to him, and resting her head upon his knee he soothed her as if

SNUFFBOXES.

Once Held an Important Part in the Councils of Nations.

No longer applicable is an old diplomat's advice to "take snuff often and slowly," yet according to the Hon John W. Foster, author of "The Practice of Diplomacy," the time was when snuffboxes held an important part in the councils of nations. The present which the Spanish government tendered to General Pinckney in 1795 and which congress withheld from him was a gold snuffbox.

The British plenipotentiary who attended the conferences at the close of the Napoleonic wars received as presents twenty-four snuffboxes of the value of £1,000 each. Richly jeweled boxes were the diplomatic fashion a century and more ago, but the fashion has changed.

As a reminder of the olden time, Sir Charles Russell, afterward lord chief justice of England, the British senior counsel in the Bering sea arbitration at Paris in 1893, a great collector of historic snuffboxes, carried a precious one and was constantly offering its contents to his colleagues.

After the treaty of 1856 was concluded with Persia the American minister to Turkey, who signed it, wrote to the secretary of state:

"I would suggest the following present: A diamond snuffbox of the value of $4,000 for the shah; to Mirza Agbra Khan, the grand vizier, a diamond snuffbox to the value of $3,000; to Farrukh Khan, with whom the treaty was negotiated, another of the same value; to Mirza Ahmed Khan, the Persian charge at Constantinople, a diamond snuffbox to the value of $2,000."

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,000 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $200,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. The men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $3.00 to $7.00 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 30 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Many Doctors Failed

Dr. Hamilton Again Figures in a Case that Puzzled Other Physicians.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 1.—When the treatment of Mrs. Stanley, of 143 Argyle St., was first given it caused no small comment, and again establishes that a physician who understands his profession none excel Dr. Hamilton.

"For years," says Mrs. Stanley, "I have suffered greatly from a peculiar dragging weakness that resulted from pleurisy and asthma. Doctors prescribed but failed to advise anything of real benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut and I bought five boxes. They gave me renewed strength and energy, toned my stomach, enriched my blood and supplied just what my system needed. No medicine could have benefited more than Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and believe every woman would be helped enormously by using these pills regularly. They did me more lasting good than all the prescriptions I took in five years."

No man or woman in poor health ever used Dr. Hamilton's Pills without benefit; the depressed, ailing and weak the uplift and strengthen as a trial always proves.

The Havelock Ice Business

A Havelock despatch says that operations will soon be commenced for storing ice at Swift & Co.'s ice house of that village. They begin to fill the ice house in the winter, as soon as the ice reaches the thickness of 12 inches. The ice has been got from Norwood during the past few years, but before that it was shipped from Peterborough. The work of loading the ice into the cars to ship is a very interesting operation. The cutting is done by first planing the ice to a depth of about six inches, by means of a very sharp bladed ice plough. When partly divided, it can easily be broken into cakes by the blow of an iron bar. Then the congealed water is carried by sleighs to the cars in which it is taken to the Havelock ice houses for storage and future use. About 30 men have steady employment during the season at Havelock in this branch of business.

Mr. Hall's Enterprise

Mr. David Hall, the well known proprietor of the Snowden House barber shop, has decided not only to adhere to the old prices, in spite of the proposed advance, but will give two bargain days a week—Tuesdays and Fridays, when the following prices will be charged:

Canadian Rink Owners Have Trouble

It seems as though the "good old Canadian winter," is a thing of the past and only to be found in the pictures of Canadian scenery, printed by the English illustrated papers, where the average city man is shown to be shooting buffaloes and reindeer from his drawing room windows. One instance in corroboration of the above is the fact that for some years proprietors or managers of skating and curling rinks have had much difficulty in making ice. Many places are still without skating, it being almost impossible to get a sheet of ice on a rink. In several towns it has been found impossible to secure ice in a closed rink.

Peterborough is fortunate in having good ice at Brock street rink. Jack Throbeck has worked hard to get a sheet of ice, and has succeeded well under the conditions. Several times he had worked at the rink all night in order to take advantage of cold weather.

Lindsay Boy Bitten by a Bull Dog

A Lindsay despatch says that on New Year's day, Percy, the ten-year-old son of Mr. Jerry Sheehan of that town, had a most unfortunate experience, wherefrom he is laid up. It seems that Percy, with two other boys, were passing down Ridout street, and when opposite Dr. Blanchard's residence heard his bulldog bark. Being afraid of him, the lads ran, but the animal managed to pin Percy by the coat tail. The brute began to worry the lad, who struggled to his feet, only to be again thrown, the dog having fastened his fangs in the boy's leg. Fortunately the second fall broke the beast's hold, and the lad lay quiet, striving to protect his face from the furious beast. He was dreadfully bitten, and if help had not been summoned before the dog fastened upon his throat, a fatal tragedy might have been the result.

The lad was rescued by Mr. Frank Forbert, and Mr. McLean, neighbors, who found it a difficult task to drive the dog away.

Chief Vincent is taking steps to have the dog destroyed. An action for damages may also follow.

Kind Words for Mr. Anderson

To the Editor of The Times—

Sir,—As a ratepayer interested in the election of good practical men as aldermen for 1908 allow me to utter a few words of commendation in favor of Mr. J. C. Anderson's candidature.

I have had an opportunity of knowing Mr. Anderson intimately during the past ten years, and have been impressed with the sound judgment he has used in municipal matters, whenever he has taken a special interest in them. His knowledge of business matters would also be of value in the consideration of public finance, and I know that nothing would tempt him to swerve from taking a straightforward, honest course in all matters. Mr. Anderson has been a property holder of East Ward for years, and was born in the ward. He has held the responsible position of head accountant in the Peter Hamilton Company's office for a considerable number of years, and I am satisfied that the city would possess an intelligent, faithful, youth and energetic representative, if he is elected to sit among the Board of Aldermen for 1908.

Yours, faithfully,
BUSINESS MAN.

W. G. Morrow For Alderman

Mr. W. G. Morrow is again before the public for municipal honors. His record is a flattering one, and there should be no doubt of his re-election. He is a master of finance and brings to bear on the council work the same business skill that he applies to his own personal affairs. He is recognized as a coming man for high honors, and has started out on a career which should land him where he belongs in at the top rung of the ladder of public confidence.

For Alderman

Ladies and Gentlemen—

Having accepted nomination for a third term as alderman, I shall if elected, use every effort to further the best interests of the city, and advocate and support such measures as will promote the welfare of the community as a whole. With best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Yours Respectfully.

Ladies and Gentlemen—

In deference to numerous requests, I have consented to place myself at your disposal for the position of Alderman for 1908.

The management of the city's affairs on business lines is my platform, and if the electors will do me the honor of electing me, I will make the general welfare and progress of the municipality my aim.

Where to Vote

The Names of Those Who are Seeking Municipal Honors

At nine o'clock this morning the polls will open for the recording of votes for mayor, alderman, water commissioner and school trustees. Both candidates for mayor have enjoyed public confidence and both should be voted for on the ground of their own individual worth in municipal affairs, party politics or creed should have no weight whatever, the electors are pledged to vote for he whom they consider the best man for mayor, primarily. He and his colleagues control the interests of the city, the whole city and no other interests than those of the city and its citizens as a whole. It is the duty of every elector to vote according to his own conscience. Both candidates have seriously avoided personal criticism of each other. Both are well-known to the community, and the claims of both to the mayoralty should be weighed without the influence of political county interest into the question. It is of course, the prerogative of every citizen to thank and support himself, and oftimes when his views clash with those of his best friends, TRUE friendship is never shaken by differences of opinion on public affairs.

The mayoralty today should be decided on the principle of "Who will make the best chief magistrate." Judging each candidate from a view of past service, ability and strength of character.

R. F. McWILLIAMS

Has served, three years as a councillor with an intermission of one year when he declined to run. He was last year the head of the poll for Mayor of the city. He is young in years, and has many good points by whom he is charged with the success of last year's council. He is also assisted by twelve aldermen who differ in opinion as to the success of the work transacted in the Council last year, but unanimously assert that he did not question the ability of the Mayor, which was but one man of 13, each of whom had a vote and a voice on all measures. Then why should all of whatever blame exists upon one man? It is to be assumed that his colleagues were quite as much to blame as he. One thing is most certain and that is, Mayor McWilliams devoted much time and study to the office, and whether he possesses the ability warrants gentlemen of office or not, the electors have from 9 till 5 today in which to decide. And he has also had much championship the cause of labor.

MR. HARRY RUSH

Is undoubtedly a successful business man who has lived many years in Peterborough. The Alderman Board is not new to him, he was at one time held the important position of City Finance Minister. His integrity and honesty of purpose cannot be questioned and personally is held in high esteem by all who know him. He is a man of his word, and if elected, he will apply careful administration and economy to govern with fairness and equity to all concerned.

We do not think he has an enemy in the city, personally, and he is always ready to relieve the distressed and lend a helping hand. He retired from the council, and now defers to the wishes of his friends in contesting the election, should the electorate decide to give Mayor McWilliams a second term. Mr. Rush would take his defeat like a man, and would be welcomed in the field another year.

FOR ALDERMAN.

FOR ALDERMEN.

The following are the candidates for aldermen:

W. G. Morrow.
W. H. Bradburn.
James Hogue.
James Clancy.
Geo. H. Duncan
Geo. E. Elliott.
Geo. A. Gillespie.
J. J. Turner, Jr.
W. J. Johnston.
R. H. Leary.
Barry Maguire.
Robert Neill.
Harry Phelan.
Geo. J. Tovey.
Archibald A. McIntyre.
W. Buller.
John C. Anderson.

The old men seeking re-election are:—

Morgan.
Morrow.
Bradburn.
Elliott.
Duncan.
Tovey.
McIntyre.
Phelan.
Johnston
Leary.

The new candidates, seven in number, are:—

Anderson.
Hogue.
Turner.
Buller.
Clancy.
Gillespie.
Neill.

As the faults of the council have been shouldered on to the mayor, there seems to be no earthly reason apparently for leaving any of the old aldermen at home this year. In consequence of the 45 candidates who were nominated last 17 only had the right to qualify. Ten of the interest—one-fourth of the bunch nominated—are seeking re-election. Each of these ten have experience, most of them have spent three one year, and serious prospects for a good deal. Messrs. Morrow and Bradburn are the only strong, healthy ones too. Failure to re-elect them would be a misfortune. Out of 12 aldermen, it is only reasonable to elect Ward Five two names and we have. And Messrs. Morgan and Gillespie are a combination on behalf them to secure their representation for that ward.

GEO. E. ELLIOTT

Has proved a capable alderman and is seeking a third term. He is with the garbage bylaw and has manifested commendable interest in sanitary measures. The public will vote today on whether they will have passed or not a bylaw to provide for the systematical removal of garbage in the interest of public health, and at a schedule of prices in fairness to all concerned. The terms of the bylaw will be submitted afterwards by-All Elliott should be elected, and one cause no reason why he should not.

HARRY PHELAN,

Some years ago made a desirable town councillor and last year exercised commendable judgment on the Aldermanic Board. He succeeded

GIRLS OF TODAY ARE WEAKLINGS

Few Possess the Vitality and Girlish Beauty of the Olden Times.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as to-day.

No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she falter after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent, and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrozone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferrozone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrozone follows quickly a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferrozone.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic.

It is especially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used.

Ferrozone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

EXPLORING NEW AND OLD WORLDS

A British expedition opened Thibet to the world, but it may remain for American scholarship to furnish the first authorative account of the hermit people. Under the direction of the Field Museum of Natural History of Chicago, Dr. Berthold Laufer is about to begin a three years' study of Tibetan life and customs.

Also Prof. Alexander Agassiz, of the Harvard Museum, is preparing to send a scientific expedition to Central Africa. "From Africa always something new." The statement, as true now as of old, lends expectancy to the researches of the Harvard party.

Meantime in the Africa of the Romans the French archaeologist Ballu has been making important discoveries. In the ruined city of Timgad in Algiers he has unearthed a monastery of early Christian times, with a basilica and cloisters. What if one of the cells of that ancient cloister should yield a manuscript of the Gospels or a palimpsest preserving in faint outline a lost classic? The papyri dug up at Oxyrhynchus, containing a third-century fragment of the Gospel of St. Matthew and a Sappho poem have whetted the appetite.

In this delving into buried antiquity by which the treasures of Troy, Olympia and Mycenae have been recovered to the world and the records of the old cities of the Euphrates brought before modern eyes, has a rare zest of exploration. France, Germany, England and the United States have shared honors in the rivalry. Now the Italian Government has decided to excavate Herculaneum, the richest of storehouses of classical antiquity. Herculaneum is the archaeologists' promised land. Its spoils should fill many of the gaps in the world's classical library.

THE BENEFIT OF WATERWAYS

The national advantages from deepening the waterways and harbors in the Great Lake system is made evident by the following statements of John A. Fox, special director of the national river and harbor congress.

About $70,000,000 has been expended in perfecting a 1,000-mile route to Duluth and in providing a uniform depth of 21 feet in the lake harbors. As a result of such work the commerce on the lake has grown from 6,000,000 tons in 1865 to some 75,000,000 tons. The rate on grain has dropped by reason of vessels of large tonnage being able to traverse the route, from 45 cents to 1 1-3 cents a bushel. The rate on the railroads competing with this great water route has been lowered to 5-7 mills per ton per mile as compared with 9-1 mills in other regions, the rate on the lakes themselves being nearly 15-100 th mill per ton mile. In other words, that $75,000,000 in earning annually, in saving freight charges over $130,000,000 to producer and consumer.

BIRTH RATE IN ONTARIO

Births marriages and deaths occupy a report of 43 pages just issued by the registrar-general's department and dealing with the statistics for 1906. The birth rate for the year was 28.5 as compared with 22.6 for 1901. The marriage rate of 9.2 was 0.3 in excess of the previous year. Essex county continued to contribute an undue proportion of these, showing 93 over York county. This is the result of the large number of American couples coming over to be wedded. The death rate was 14.2, the number being only 81 in excess of 1901. The proportion of illegitimate births was very low and decreasing from 1.56 in 1881 to 1.34 in 1905. The next lowest nations were Ireland with 2.66, England with 3.04, Scotland 6.83, Italy 6.34, while Sweden rises to 10.80 and Austria to 11.50.

United States Crops

Enormous Volume of Grain Harvested by the Farmers in the Season Just Past

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.— The Department of Agriculture to-day issued a report giving final estimates of acreage, production and value of farm crops showing the winter wheat acreage to be 28,152,000; production, 440,442,000 bushels, value per bushel, 83.2 cents. Spring wheat acreage, 17,079,000; production, 224,640,000; value, 86 cents. Corn acreage, 99,531,000; production, 2,592,720,000, value 61.7 cents. Oats acreage, 31,870,000; production, 754,445,000; value, 44.3 cents. The average weight per bushel is shown by the reports received by the department to be 56.9 pounds for spring wheat, 58.9 pounds for winter wheat. It was announced that the value of the farm products of 1907 covered in to-day's report was $3,400,000,000, an increase of $425,000,000 over 1906. The farm value on December 1 of the four crops already mentioned follows: Corn, $1,134,446,000; winter wheat, $361,217,000; spring wheat, $193,220,000; oats, $234,563,000. Hall's enterprise.

A Dream Worth $20,000

Paris, December 31.—A case of a dream being worth $20,000 has just come to light at 6, Rue Truguet, Toulon, in which town lives a commercial traveller named Edouard Cholet. Twelve months ago M. Cholet was advised by the office of the local Treasurer-General that the City of Paris Debenture Bond which he held had come out at the drawing at par ($500). Thereupon M. Cholet surrendered his bond for its face value. Last Tuesday night his wife dreamt that the bond which her husband had held No. 348,764, had really drawn $20,000.

She urged her husband to make immediate inquiries, and M. Cholet, though very sceptical, went to the Treasurer-General's office, where, on search being made, it was discovered that a mistake had been made, and that the bond supposed to have been drawn at par, had in reality been drawn for $20,000.

An Indian Lochinvar

North Yakima, Dec. 29.—"My heart says you are very pretty. I want you bad enough to steal you. You come!" Thus spoke a young brave of the Snake tribe to the daughter of Alfred Charley, notable Yakima Indian, the other night at Toppenish.

The dusky maiden's reply was brief. "Get your cayuse," she said.

The brave, rejoiced at his conquest, got his cayuse and the young couple rode through the night toward Pasco, hotly pursued by Alfred Charley, who did not approve of his daughter's choice. So far as is known all three parties are still going.

The elopement followed an acquaintance between the two young people formed during the potlatch just concluded.

A Famous Newspaper Man

William E. Curtis, the famous correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, writes a two-column letter for his paper every day in the year without intermission. His powers of sustained work are as great a marvel as his faculty of always making his matter interesting.

Probably no other newspaper correspondent in the country is read so regularly and, eagerly by so many thousands of men and women as Mr. Curtis. Mr Curtis has travelled several times around the world, visiting every country under the sun, and writing a larger number of brilliant and interesting letters of travel than were ever before produced by a single hand. Many of these have later been reprinted in book form. One of his latest expeditions for The Record-Herald was through Mexico, resulting in a series of letters as entertaining as those he wrote a few years ago from India, Turkey and the Holy Land. His forthcoming letters from Ireland, Russia and Germany will rival in importance and interest any of his previous contributions.

Beginning his career in Chicago as a reporter in 1872, Mr. Curtis rapidly rose to be managing editor. He resigned that position to accept a government appointment as secretary of the South American commission. So brilliantly did he perform the duties of this office that James G. Blaine, Secretary of State, placed him at the head of the Bureau of American Republics. At the world's fair in Chicago he distinguished himself as the executive head of the Latin-American department. He is a member of almost every learned society in Washington and of many in Europe. It is not strange that The Record-Herald gains Mr. Curtis' letter every day in the first column of the front page, and that nothing but a California earthquake can displace it from that station of honor.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. (2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

DORA DEANE

OR THE LAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

she were indeed the child he tried to believe she was, and he her gray-haired sire, instead of a young man of twenty-seven.

And Dora grew very calm, sitting there with Mr. Hastings' hand upon her head, and when he told her it was all arranged, and she should surely go, she sprang to her feet, and while her cheeks glowed with excitement, exclaimed, "It is too good to come true. Something will happen; Aunt Sarah will not let me go."

"Yes, she will," said Mr. Hastings decidedly. "I am going there to-night to talk with her."

Then, as it was already growing dark, he arose to accompany Dora home, both of them forgetting the book, which Eugenia seemed destined never to receive. But she did not think to ask for it in her joy at meeting Mr. Hastings, who succeeded in appearing natural far better than he had expected, telling her, not that he was sorry for having failed to keep his appointment, but that it was not consistent for him to do so, and adding that he hoped she was not very much disappointed.

"Oh, no," she said, "I know of course that business detained you"; then, as she saw him looking at her piano, she advanced towards it, and, seating herself upon the stool, asked "if he would like to hear her play?"

He could not conscientiously answer "yes" for he felt that the sound would sicken him; but he stood at her side and turned the leaves of her music as usual, while she dashed through the piece she had practiced with so much care.

"How do you like it?" she said, when she had finished; and he answered, "I always admired your playing, you know, but the tone of the instrument does not excite me. It seems rather muff d. Is it the wires were made of hair?" and his large black eyes were bent searchingly upon her.

Coloring crimson, she thought, "Can he have learned my secret?" then, as she remembered how impossible it was for him to know aught of the money she answered, "Quite an original idea," at the same time seating herself upon the sofa. Sitting down beside her as he had been in the habit of doing, he commenced at once upon the object of his visit, asking if her mother were at home, and saying he wished to see her on a matter of some importance; then, knowing who was really the ruling power there, he added, as Eugenia arose to leave the room in quest of her mother, "Perhaps I had better speak of my business first to you!"

Feeling sure now of a proposal, the young lady resumed her seat, involuntarily pulling at her fourth finger, and mentally hoping the engagement ring would be a diamond one. What, then, was her surprise when she found that not herself, but Dora was the subject of his remarks! After telling her of his visit to his sister, and of her wishes with regard to Dora, he said, "Since the death of my wife and baby, I have felt a deep interest in your family for the kindness shown to me in my affliction. I promised Ella that I would befriend Dora, and by placing her with Louise I shall not only fulfill my word, but shall also be relieved of all care concerning her. Do you think I can persuade your mother to let her go?"

Eugenia did not know. She would speak to her about it after he was gone, and tell him on the morrow.

"I shall rely upon you to plead my cause," he continued; "Louise's heart is quite set upon it, and I do not wish to disappoint her."

"I will do my best," answered Eugenia, never suspecting that Mr. Hastings was quite as anxious as his sister, who, she presumed, intended making a half companion, half waiting-maid of her cousin.

"But it will be a good place for her, and somewhat of a relief to us," she thought, after Mr. Hastings had gone. "She is getting to be a young lady now, and growing each year more and more expensive. I presume Mrs. Elliott will send her to school for a time at least, and in case our families should be connected it is well for her to do so. I wrote to Uncle Nas that we wished to send her away to school, and this is the very thing. Mother won't of course insist upon her having all that money, for she will be well enough off without it, and if Mr. Hastings ever does propose I can have a handsome outfit! Fortune does favor me certainly."

Thus Eugenia mused, and thus did she talk to her mother, and she was the more easily persuaded when she saw how eager Dora was to go.

"I shall be sorry to leave you, Aunt Sarah," said Dora, coming to her side and resting her hand upon her shoulder, "but I shall be so happy with Mrs. Elliott that I am sure you'll let me go."

Mrs. Deane was naturally a cold, selfish woman, but the quiet, unassuming Dora had found a place in her heart, and she would be very lonely without her; still, it was better for her and better for them all that she should go; so she at last gave her consent, and when the next day Mr. Hastings called he was told that Dora could go as soon as he thought best.

"Let it be immediately, then," he said. "I will write to Louise to-night, and tell her we shall come next week."

"I wish I could go to New York with her," said Eugenia. "It's so long since I was there."

"You had better wait till some other time, for I could not now show you over the city," answered Mr. Hastings, who had no idea of being burdened with Eugenia.

"He expects me to go with him some time, or he would never have said that," thought Eugenia, and this belief kept her good-natured during all the bustle and hurry of preparing Dora for her journey.

The morning came at last on which Dora was to leave, and with feelings of regret Mrs. Deane and Alice bade her good-bye, while Eugenia accompanied her to the depot, where she know she should see Mr. Hastings.

"I've half a mind to go with you as far as Rochester," she said to Dora, in his presence, as the cars came up, but he made no reply, and the project was abandoned.

Kissing her cousin good-bye, she stood upon the platform until the train had moved away, and then walked slowly back to the house which even to her seemed lonesome.

CHAPTER XVII.

It was late in the evening when our travelers reached the city, which loomed up before Dora like an old familiar friend. They found Mrs. Elliott waiting to receive them, together with Mr. Hastings' mother, who, having heard so much of Dora Deane, had come over to see her. Very affectionately did Mrs. Elliott greet the weary girl, and after divesting her of her wrappings she led her to her mother, whose keen eyes scrutinized her closely, but found no fault in the fair childish face which looked so timidly up to her. Half bewildered, Dora gazed about her, and then, with her eyes swimming in tears, whispered softly to Mr. Hastings, "I am so afraid it will prove to be a dream."

"I will see that it does not" said Mrs. Elliott, who had overheard her, and who, as time passed on became more and more interested in the orphan girl.

For several days Mr. Hastings lingered, showing her all over the city, and going once with her to visit the room where he had found her. But the elements had preceded them: fire and water,—and not a trace of the old building remained. At the expiration of a week Mr. Hastings started for home, half wishing he could take Dora with him, and wondering if his sister were in earnest when she asked him if he loved her?

A new world now seemed opened to Dora, who never thought it possible for her to be so happy. The ablest instructors were hired to teach her, and the utmost care bestowed upon her education, while nothing could exceed the kindness both of Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Hastings, the latter of whom treated her as she would have done a young and favorite daughter. One evening when Mrs. Elliott was dressing for a party Dora asked permission to arrange her soft glossy hair which she greatly admired.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountain mint shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by all dealers

Greasing the Feet.

Greasing is necessary for horses which are much exposed to dampness and is as good for the sole and frog as for the wall. It is applicable also to feet which have to stand on dry bedding. Feet which, on account of diseased conditions, require to be frequently soaked or poulticed ought also to be greased. Bedding of peat moss and fine sawdust, equal parts, is most excellent. All these measures may be advantageous if the feet are properly shod.—C. R. Wood, V. S.

Horse Sense.

The good habit horse can be spoiled by the bad habit man.

With the team it's spare the currycomb and spoil the coat.

The slovenly driving horse is the product of a careless driver.

You may feed a horse corn to make him fat, but oats are what give him life.

Keep constantly a good sized lump of rock salt in the feed box for the horse to nibble at pleasure. It will then take just as much as its appetite craves and no more than is needful.

Protein and Its Sources.

Protein is the nitrogenous part of feeds and is by far the most valuable of the different groups of nutrients. Its characteristic element is nitrogen. The white of egg is almost pure protein. Cottonseed meal and linseed meal are very rich in protein, and so are leguminous hays, such as clover, alfalfa and cowpea hay.—John Michels.

A Dry Barnyard.

Have the barnyard well drained. It will be much better for your stock, and it will be economy to have it drained on to a field that can be cultivated. Such a plan enables you to raise a prolific early forage crop by sowing corn near the yard, advises Kimball's Dairy Farmer.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a plain tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. The obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling force.

Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have their controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this wonder prescription—is alone directed to these great and vitalizing nerve centers. It builds; strengthens; it calms real, genuine heart help.

If you would have Heart Health, strong digestion, complexion, good nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 631 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS,

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Hunningtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $4.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Noted Evangelist's Experience

Irene, Ills., Oct. 7—"I always praise the bridge that carries me over safely" are the words of J. Dimick Taylor, the great American Evangelist, whose home is in Irene. While in Nova Scotia last winter I needed medicine and used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They helped me wonderfully and I recommended them to others. I send this testimonial because your remedy will work directly on the kidneys, and cures the urinal disorders that often give pain to the man and woman affected with kidney trouble. I have not found anything equal to Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills. I gave them to a man on Tan Cook Island that was suffering in a most horrible way and in a few hours he was relieved.

When a minister like Mr. Taylor comes forth in praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, it is evident their power is beyond the ordinary. For diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver and stomach they have no equal. Easy to take, very mild, sure to cure. 25 cents per box at all dealers.

Has served three years on the Council Board, last year as finance minister. He is a master mechanic in the truest sense of the word, and mechanical advice oft-times stands the council in good stead. He has made an exceedingly capable and intelligent alderman, worthy the confidence of the electorate.

THE NEW CANDIDATES

With regard to these new candidates the electorate can be depended upon to vote intelligently, and on general principles alone.

The Water By-Law

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—I wish to enter a protest against the water main by-law to be voted on to-day. Only property holders should be allowed to vote on said by-law. It is now proposed to levy a yearly tax on every man's property fronting on streets along which water mains run. The poor man living on said streets in addition to keeping his well and pump in repair will have to pay a yearly tax of 6 1-2 per cent. per foot on his frontage, in spite of the fact that he pays his share in his taxes for fire protection, etc. Vote early against this unconstitutional by-law.

RATEPAYER.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, bearing a full list of the ingredients composing it. It is printed there in plain English. Thirty years of experience has proved its sterling worth as a blood purifier and all-healing tonic for the cure of stomach, liver and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can, in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots, such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry-bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, found to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for true medicine which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the system accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" enriches the blood and so invigorates and creates the stomach, liver and lungs, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

MR. HARRY RUSH THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE FOR MAYOR FOR 1908--THE MAJORITY WAS 794

Over R. F. McWilliams --A Majority In Every Ward for Mr. Rush

W. H. Hill is Water Commissioner--Three New Men for The 1908 Council--Ald. Leary and Duncan Defeated

Yesterday's bright weather and the active, though in many cases undercurrent interest taken in the mayoralty and councillors' election, as well as the water works bylaw brought out a large vote.

The electors turned out rather yesterday than at the same election last year. In 1907 Hicks polled 1163 and McWilliams 1384 votes, or a total of 2547 votes polled for both. This year the figures are McWilliams 998 and Rush 1792 votes, or a total of 2790 votes. This makes a total plurality of 243 votes poll d this year over 1907.

The election was run on good, clean lines, the principle candidates, were those for the chief magistracy of the city both acting in friendly rivalry, and leaving the choice tot he electors. All day long rigs flew from place to place hurrying electors of both sexes to their respective voting places. Mr. Rush's committee room on Simcoe street, was thronged throughout the day by his supporters, who carried on a quiet but systematic work which resulted in placing their candidate at the head of the polls by the large majority of 794 votes over Mr. McWilliams.

It is not for us to say why Mr. McWilliams met with such marked defeat, we can only say with every confidence that during his term of office in the chief magistrate's chair, this gentleman conscientiously carried on the work in the best interests of the city.

The incoming mayor is an old citizen of Peterborough, who will no doubt justify the confidence placed in him by the electorate of yesterday.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

The election for water commissioner resulted in Mr. W. H. Hill being elected by a majority of 767 votes. The votes polled were as follows:

W. H. Hill	1686
Henry Best	919

THE BYLAW VOTE.

There were two bylaws to be voted upon, viz., one which practically amounted to the taxation for water mains by a tax upon such property as they immediately pass. This bylaw was considered as having the effect of compelling owners to pay a tax for water mains passing such property and thus, by making them pay their share for improvement of such property by having access to the water works supply only pay their share of the water rates and consequently lower the rate for them who now pay. The bylaw was carried by an overwhelming majority. The other bylaw where by it was proposed to have garbage from stores, residences, hotels, etc., removed at public cost was defeated. The exact figures were not available at a late hour last night but the fate of the both bylaws was as above noted.

The Very First Signs are in the Back

Most Kidney and Bladder Trouble and Few Know What to do

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here, also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

An authority has stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no strongly alcoholic patent medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive, is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This preparation is said to restore the natural functions of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter; uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties.

This is worth trying and may prove just what many people here need.

Local Option Defeated in Millbrook and Burleigh

Local option was voted on in many places yesterday. Following are the returns received up to late hour last night. In Burleigh it was defeated by a vote of 65 for and 86 against the bylaw. In Millbrook the bylaw was also defeated. Norwood, Campbellford and Omemee all go "dry" by small majorities

Jews of Russia Appeal to England

London, Jan. 6.—The Jewish World publishes the following:

"We have received from an important source in Russia an appeal, couched in terms that only the gravest urgency could justify, to make known to the British public the desperate condition in which the Jews of Russia find themselves. Never has the outlook for our brethren in the realms of the czar been blacker than it is today. Yielding to pressure from the ultra-reactionary element the duma has adopted an openly anti Semitic attitude, and has expunged from its program the demand for equality of rights for the Jews.

"Further the president of the duma has publicly given utterance to statements of the wildest nature which are found to inflame the anti Jewish passions of the hooligans and encourage them to persevere in their campaign of murder and outrage.

"The Jews in Russia are beset with feelings for which consternation is a mild term, and the only hope they can see for the future lies in arousing public opinion abroad. Will England help?"

Mount Royal Sighted?

St. John, N.B., Jan. 6—Two steamers, both flying C.P.R. flags, one towing the other, have been sighted about 75 miles out of St. John. It is thought that one of the vessels is the long over-due Mount Royal. They will arrive in St. John early tomorrow morning.

The French Had a Prosperous Year

Paris, France, Jan. 6.—Statistics published this morning disclose that France had a prosperous business year in 1907. Foreign commerce shows a gain of $180,000,000 over 1906, the taxes brought in $35,000,000 more than was expected, and the bank deposits show an increase of $4,000,000, while the railroads earned $10,000,000 more than in 1906.

Owing to the large increase in the cost of living, it was expected that the national savings banks would show a diminution of deposits, but it seems that they have held their own. Their loans were less than for several years past, but this was on account of the absence of the great international transactions. French ports also show an encouraging increase of business, but the general disposition is to regard the future with anything but confidence, because $200,000,000 of the national capital has been invested in Germany, where the situation, if least precarious than it was a few weeks ago, is still ominous. Retrenchment of expenses is the order of the day in the multitude of French industries, big and little, which cater to the fancy of the foreigners.

Politically the internal situation is not one to give confidence to employers of labor. The tone of the editorials in all the papers is rather gloomy, but they do not let readers know exactly what it is that is feared. The only cheerful act is from a small group including men like Jacques Siegfried and Leroy Beaulieu, who, with ten and voice, demonstrate to the pessimistic that by the idea of March all will be prosperous again, both in the American and the European markets.

Will Talk with Mars

Tesla Wants Niagara Power to do the Trick

New York, Jan. 7.—Nicola Tesla says he will be able to talk with Mars if the power producing companies at Niagara will co-operate with him. He asserts that a way has been found at last for transmitting wireless messages across the gulf that separates us from the first planet. He has been working for several years on an electric power plant capable of transmitting 10,000 horse power to any part of the world or to any of our neighboring planets. The mere matter of distance between dispatching and receiving points is absolutely no object whatever. Wireless power, according to M. Tesla, may be sent a million or more miles just as easily as one mile.

Several of the electric power companies at Niagara Falls have agreed to co-operate with M. Tesla in an effort to reach Mars by wireless. These Niagara power plants are now capable of producing electrical vibrations of such intensity that if measured by ordinary standards the rate at which their energy is delivered could readily be advanced to a billion horse power. But no such performance is necessary to produce strong electrical impulses on Mars. Mr. Tesla has estimated that a rate of a few hundred million horse power is quite sufficient to establish wireless communication with that planet.

Mr. Tesla's wireless plant which he has already equipped at Long Island for the sending of long distance electrical waves is to be utilized. Mr. Tesla agrees with other scientific men in thinking that Mars is considerably older and supposedly correspondingly more advanced than us in science; and he also believes that Mars is now signaling to us.

John Burns Defies the Suffragettes

London, Jan. 5.—The Suffragettes are still flaunting the fiery cross and striking terror into the fluttering hearts of timorous cabinet ministers. Each member of the British government has experienced the fierce invective of indignant womankind, and all but one has succumbed to the oratorical flood. That one was John Burns.

When men with less personality scrambled from the platform, "Honest John" only squared his shoulders and, in his megaphonic voice, which could be heard above the interruptory din, commanded the feminine agitators to "look at him." Involuntarily they turned to him.

News Briefs

St. John, N. B., Jan. 6.—A joker on Saturday night started the story that another break in the water main had occurred and that the supply would be shut off till Monday. The news spread, and so great was the draught for liquid use that the register in the waterworks office soon showed a fall in pressure from 198 to 146 feet. There was no break and a reward of twenty-five dollars is offered for the discovery of the joker.

Gleichen, Alberta, Jan. 6.—Mr. Nagasawey, a native of Japan, spent several days in the vicinity of Namaka and Strathmore, looking for sugar beet land on which to locate a colony of Japanese, but no one knew anything of his intentions until he applied at the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company's office in Calgary for a tract of irrigable land. It is stated on the best authority that he informed the company that he had examined the land and was satisfied that this was quite suitable for sugar beets. He wanted 10,000 acres in a block to start with, but would ultimately require 50,000.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Dr. J. C. Siebel, a physician of this city, announced yesterday before the American Association for the Advancement of Science that he has discovered a method of generating energy within the human body. He asserted that electricity stored in the human body can be released and made to do work. This work, he said, will mean the prolongation of life through the additional vitality supplied to the human body working as its own electrical generator.

Berlin, December 25 — The municipality is face to face with a very serious problem in connection with the supply of food to thousands of virtually starving children attending the primary schools in Berlin, whose numbers have been greatly augmented this year in consequence of the industrial inactivity. Hitherto the Children's Canteen Society has been able to cope with the task in a fairly satisfactory way, by means of subscriptions from private sources, but the call on its funds are this year so great that it will be unable to supply many of the children.

THAW PLEADS INSANITY AT TIME OF SHOOTING WHITE

May Take Four Weeks to Choose Jurors, as all Have Read Papers--His Wife in Court

"Not guilty; the defendant being insane at the time of the commission of the act."—Answer of prisoner's lawyer, yesterday morning to the charge that he murdered Stanford White, the famous architect.

New York, Jan. 7.—There was much of the spectacular missing at the opening of the second trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White in the Supreme Branch of the Criminal Courts building at noon today. Where, when the first trial began last January, were hundreds of curious persons congregated to get a glimpse of either the accused man, or the wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, of his sister, the Countess of Yarmouth, or of any of those in the entourage of the case, yesterday there were only scores.

Outside the Tombs, the prison which adjoins the Criminal Courts building, were congregated the biggest crowd trying to get through on the disaster, whose actions have drawn him and his family such notoriety.

Contrary to general expectation, Evelyn Thaw did not reach the prison till nearly 12 o'clock, word having been conveyed to her that the Grand Jury would be charged by Justice Victor J. Dowling before the Thaw case was called and the arduous task of selecting a jury begun. With Thaw during the morning were Josiah Thaw and Mrs. Geo. L. Carnegie and one of the defendant's counsel, J. Russell Peabody.

WILL BE MERE TEDIOS

Many wild rumors were flying about the corridors during the charge of the grand jury for the January term. One of these was to the effect that the first one hundred talesmen called in the special panel of 300 for the Thaw trial had been exhausted because of the premature publication of their names. This report was exploded by the clerk of the court tallying 80 responses to the roll call after one hundred names. The other fourteen were on hand or presented sufficient cause for absence when the case was called. It was the opinion of the defendant's counsel that the selection of the jury would consume much more than the ten days like last year. At that time 237 citizens were examined before the box was filled.

Martin W. Littleton said it was his intention to address the court on the looking up of the jury during the progress of the case. He termed the plan barbarous, and an unwarranted reflection upon the integrity of the men chosen.

The defence will be insanity. Just what kind of insanity will be set up remains to be seen. All forms were exploited at the last trial and much stress was laid on "brain storms," the fleeting mental condition catalogued by Dr. Britton W. Evans, one of the defending alienists. It is his contention that Thaw was insane during the time he shot White, but that since that time he has recovered his mental equipose and is not a dangerous person to be freed of the odious charge of murder.

SENSATIONS PROMISED

District Attorney Jerome is prepared to combat the insanity claim even more vigorously than he did last year. Much was learned through that trial, and many sensations equally as astonishing as those presented in 1907 are promised. The defence says it has almost twice the number of witnesses as were examined last year, and for the State the District Attorney's office has not been idle. The trip abroad of Assistant District Attorney Garvin last summer took him over the route traveled by Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit, and it is said he probed many details that will aid materially in weakening any testimony relative to their trip given by Evelyn Thaw, should the defence succeed in having that evidence admitted for the purpose of showing that it contributed to mental unhinging of Harry Thaw before he married her.

ONE TALESMAN CHOSEN.

By one o'clock one talesman had passed muster after a searching series of questions by District Attorney Jerome and by Mr. Littleton. The lone man in the box, when the noon adjournment was reached, was Chas. E. Grimmel, a ship broker, who resides at 317 E. 11th street. Five others had been examined and given sufficient reason why they were unfitted to serve.

Before adjournment Justice Dowling instructed the court clerk not to swear the jurors until the box was filled, then the entire twelve can be sworn and time saved if any peremptory challenges are made.

TO SIT AT NIGHT.

To expedite the progress of the trial Justice Dowling announced that morning, afternoon and night sessions of the court would be held, the afternoon session being from 2 to 6, and the night period from 8 till 10. The morning session will be from 10 to 1.

THAW ENTERS COURT

New York, Jan. 6.—It was within New York Jan 6.—It was within twenty minutes of the noon hour before Thaw was brought into the court room. By five minutes his wife had preceded him, and was seated on the opposite side of the room with Josiah Thaw and Mrs. Carnegie. She looked eagerly at her husband, smiling and in expectant manner, and he returned the look with a smirking that could be hardly called a smile. It was noticed that he was very nervous as he walked behind his counsel across the doorway at the rear of the room to the enclosure in front of the justice's bench. His head was held high and he glanced neither to the right nor left until the table, where about his attorneys were seated, was reached. He greeted them with a nod and seated himself comfortably to begin his second fight for his life. He is separated from his wife by at least twenty feet and she cannot have the encouragement of his close proximity as during the last trial, when he could turn his head and converse with either his mother or wife.

MOTHER QUITE ILL.

Not until the jury is chosen will his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, come to New York from Pittsburg, after a case of illness and the shock of the Yarmouth marriage, annulment proceedings combined with the tension of preparing for the present trial, has proved too much for her. When the formal indictment was read to the prisoner his attorney replied to the charge by changing his original plea of not guilty to "Not guilty, the defendant being insane at the time of the commission of the act."

A VAIN OBJECTION.

True to his promise, Mr. Littleton addressed the court with a plea against the confinement of the jury during the period of the trial. His efforts were in vain, the court deciding that the jurors should be confined, stating that they would be comfortably accommodated in a modern fire proof structure, and that such sacrifices as they would be called upon to make would be in the interests of the community and the duty of all good citizens.

Midnight Marriage Romance Soon Ends

Beverly, June 6.—Miss Elizabeth Dietrich, of Riverside, who was married at midnight to John Gillespie, a plumber of that place, on October 12, by Squire Stevenson of this city, will make application to the county court for separation.

Ten days after the romantic marriage came a letter from a Mrs. Addie Gillespie, of South Bethlehem, Pa., to Squire Stevenson declaring that she was married to John Gillespie nine years ago at Mount Holly. An investigation proved that the first Mrs. Gillespie's story was true, and was substantiated by George D. Worrell of Mount Holly, and Mrs. Charles Beecher, of Riverside, who knew both persons, and on account of cruelty, as she alleged, the first Mrs. Gillespie was compelled to leave her husband and seek work with a family at the place where he deserted her.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gillespie believed in her husband until a week ago, when she left him because she said he was a habitual drunkard. The woman in desperation of tears legally separated from Gillespie if the law recognizes the marriage.

When the two Mrs. Gillespies met in Philadelphia by appointment, last week, there was no hair-pulling or any scratching, but they talked over the situation. It was argued that Gillespie being addicted to drink and not a provider for his family, both women agreed to dismiss all claims upon the bigamist. Criminal action will not be brought against Gillespie by either woman unless the matter is taken up by county court, which owing to the pressure of business, has paid no attention to the alleged bigamy.

VERY PREVELENT IN YOUNG WOMEN

A Condition of "White-Bloodedness is Fast Increasing.

It is always associated with lassitude and sensitiveness to cold. All the mucous surfaces, such as the gums, lips and eyelids, are blanched and waxy looking, the skin is pallid and colorless.

The pulse becomes rapid and feeble, there is also loss of appetite and enfeebled digestion, palpitation of the heart, breathless and tend say to faint. In extreme cases there is complete disappearance of the menses, flow and dropsical swelling of the limbs.

Physicians know of no remedy so prompt in results as Ferrozone, which contains all the elements lacking in debilitated blood.

Ferrozone not only improves the present quality of the blood, but actually forms more blood—the rich, red kind that nourishes and feeds the organs that require assistance.

"About a year ago," writes Mrs. S. G. Stanhope, of Rothesay, my daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless, and kept losing strength until too weak to attend school.

"We read of a similar case, that of Miss Dascon, Stirling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and this induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three boxes of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six boxes were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained ten pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of spirits."

Every growing girl and young woman can make herself strong and healthy with Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

OUR FORESTS

Canada is one of the very few countries which can be depended on to produce more timber than is sufficient for its needs. Such is the opinion of a great French authority, M. Melard, who has made a careful study of the source of the world's timber supply. There are only seven countries in the world which now export wood in any quantity. Besides Canada, these are the United States, on this continent, and, in Europe, Austro-Hungary, Norway, Sweden, Russia and Finland. In Asia, only Russia has more than enough for her own use; Africa and South America can send little or no timber suitable for ordinary use, and Australia can supply little.

Of the seven exporting countries mentioned, the United States, Russia and Austro-Hungary have been increasing in population and developing their resources so rapidly that they must soon cease to rank among exporting countries. Norway is over-cutting her forests and must soon decrease her export. Only three countries remain, namely, Canada, Sweden and Filand, as sources that can be depended on for the timber supply.

Canada's forest area has been estimated at 350,000,000 acres, but so much of this is of little value naturally, or has been burned over that more recent estimates fall much below this, even less than half. The amount of wood produced annually is no doubt much in excess of what is now being cut each year. It is important, however, if Canada is to hold her position as a timber producing country, that her forests be protected from fire and so managed as to ensure the greatest amount of timber being cut year after year, so as to keep them producing in perpetuity; and it is to this end that efforts are being made to secure better care of her forests.

The demand for wood is sure to keep up and increase; it is wanted for building, for furniture, for tools, and for a multitude of other uses; and as a nation progresses so the amount of wood used for each individual of its population increases, and so the country which can supply the demand for this commodity has a source of ever increasing importance, and one that will well repay considerable expenditure in its care.

DOMESTIC SERVANT QUESTION

Mr. Rutbnew, chief of the bureau of statistics of the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, has been expressing his views upon the domestic servant question. According to the New York ladies who heard his lecture at the Teachers' College, he only "adds complications and multiplies difficulties," while a newspaper critic is of opinion that "he is presumably good at figures, but he cannot subtract trouble from the domestic situation." Such criticism would appear to be justified when it is found that Mr. Rutbnow's best remedy for things as they are is to put the affairs of the household on a factory basis, "with regular hours on and off and the whistle blowing three times a day." It is objected that "the home is not a factory and has a few exigencies peculiar to itself," which even a statistician might have known. Miss Ernestine Hirst, who has lived forty-nine years in one New York family, is better acquainted with the essence of the matter. She sums the question up with: "If the mistress thinks nothing about a girl's happiness, the girl thinks nothing about that mistress's happiness. If a mistress gives a girl no credit, that girl doesn't try to deserve it." No doubt where in individual cases the two sides think rightly and alike the servant question is solved, but as a general proposition it will never be solved until house service has ceased to be regarded and treated as a menial occupation.

A HINT TO MANUFACTURERS

The Vancouver Province says "Our Canadian manufacturers in fact in many lines of production are suffering just because they are unknown to the people, and they are certain to continue to suffer until they realize that they should advertise. Their American rivals will beat them out of the market every time, although their goods are of less value, simply because they invite custom by advertising that they have articles for sale."

English News

London, Jan. 7.—The guardians of Eye Workhouse yesterday discussed a letter from the local government board submitting the report of Captain Hervey, the inspector, which stated the workhouse was the worst in Suffolk, and ought to be closed.

WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED.

At a meeting of the Westminster Board of Guardians, Mr. Wallis said that on Monday next 700 of the unemployed at London would be set to work by the London County Council in the London parks. £13,000 is to be expend d, and the work will last sixteen weeks. Harnessing the Wind

Denmark Developing Electrical Energy from the Wind

London, Jan. 5.—The danes get electrical power from the wind. Since 1897 the Danish government has contributed about $30,000 for equipments, and has even lately erected an experimental station at Askoc. Experiments have been carried on at the initiative of the government, and some electric works generate electricity by means of wind motors have been the result. Motors with four wings have given best results, since a small number of wings act detrimentally upon the wind current between the wings. If a medium large wind motor is used with a wing surface of about 40 square meters (one square meter equaling 10,764 square feet), eight horse power is obtained at a wind velocity of six meters a second, one meter equaling 3.28 feet. At a velocity of eight meters the horse power is more than doubled. A wind with a velocity of eight meters a second is no rarity. The weather reports classify it as No. 3, while the highest wind velocity is No. 12. Since 1903 there has been in existence the Danish Electricity Company, from whose zealous agitation thirty larger and smaller wind power electrical equipments are in operation throughout Denmark.

A COLD WEATHER PLAINT.

Priscilla Jane's a helpmate, worth her honest weight in gold,
A wife who scorns fault finding and who's never known to scold,
Of calm and even temper, meek and quiet as a lamb,
Who, whate'er the aggravation, never gives the door a slam.
Yet her mood doth oft annoy me when from work at night I come
And a cold draft from the parlor on the threshold strikes me dumb
With experienced conviction, born of my ten wedded years—
The furnace isn't working, and Priscilla Jane's in tears!

It takes but one wee moment to assure me of the fact
That since midday or thereabouts Priscilla Jane's been racked,
Chilled, worried, grieved and frozen, sooted, grimed and smudged in turn
By a cranky furnace fire that would do all else but burn.
That first cold draft convinced me, so I feel naught of surprise
At her choked, subdued boohooing, with her apron to her eyes.
On a cold day I expect it, and there's ground for all my fears—
That the furnace isn't working, and Priscilla Jane's in tears.

The mild warm days of winter never give me great concern.
I know such days our furnace, all uncared for, is sure to burn!
When it's too warm for much fire, yet too chill to do without,
'Twill, raging, feed on nothing—sheer perversity, no doubt!
But wait until the mercury's at zero or below,
And just as sure as preaching when from work at night I go
I find a cold reception, and fruition of my fears—
Our furnace isn't working, and Priscilla Jane's in tears!"

—Roy Farrell Greene in Puck.

Absentminded.

Absentminded Professor—Dear me! I know that one is to remind me to purchase some coffee, and the other is to prevent my forgetting to pay my insurance, but I'm hanged if I know which is which.—Harper's Weekly.

On Conclusions.

It doesn't pay to jump at conclusions. Once we had a dog that had a bad habit of jumping at conclusions. When he had no other animal's conclusion to jump at he would go round and round in a circle for an hour at a time trying to reach his own conclusion.

That puppy would wait until a cow had gone past and then jump wildly at her conclusion. As is the custom of people similarly afflicted, once he reached a conclusion he hung to it till he was kicked loose. As is usual also with people of similar proclivities, he was a dash gummed nuisance.

But one day that hasty pup jumped at a big, thoughtful bay mule's conclusion, and the next day we had to get a brand new dog. The old one wasn't even worth repairing.

No; it doesn't pay to jump at conclusions.

Why Not?

There recently entered the service of a Cleveland family a domestic of Scandinavian origin. She had never seen a refrigerator before, and the lady of the house, after initiating her into its mysteries, instructed her never to leave anything old or left over in the icebox, but to keep the refrigerator perfectly clean and fresh by throwing the old things away each morning.

The very next day the mistress, looking out of the window, observed something peculiar in the yard.

"What is that, Sophie?" she asked.

"And how did it get there?"

"That is old ice, ma'am," was the proud response, "left over from yesterday. I trew it away lak you tol' me."—Harper's Weekly.

Thought He Proposed.

The day of the lady cop had arrived.

"Halt!" exclaimed one of the gentler guardians as she stepped in front of the speeding automobile.

"Will you take my name, miss?" asked the courteous young man in the big machine.

She blushed to the roots of her hair.

"Take your name?" she chirped. "Why—why, this is so sudden."—Chicago News.

A Mistaken Impression.

"Of course," said the analytical questioner, "there is a great deal to be said on both sides of the question."

"Yes," answered Senator Borgium. "Too many of us are getting the idea that all a public question is fit for newspapers is to serve as the topic for a good talk."—Washington Star.

A Music Lover.

"Do you think you will give any musicales this winter?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I like them. They give me a chance to keep still instead of inviting criticisms of my grammar from mother and the girls."—Washington Star.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon which homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

"It's not all my own," said Mrs. Elliott, taking off a heavy braid and laying it upon the table. "I bought it in Rochester nearly two years ago, on the day of Ella's party. I have often wished I knew whose it was," she continued, "for to me there is something disagreeable in wearing other people's hair; but the man of whom I purchased it assured me that it was cut from the head of a young, healthy girl."

For a moment Dora stood thinking then catching up the beautiful braid and comparing it with her own, she exclaimed, "It was mine! It was mine! Eugenia cut it off and sold it the day before the party. Oh, I am so glad," she added; "though I was sorry then, for I did not know it would come to you, the dearest friend I ever had," and she smoothed caressingly the shining hair, now a shade lighter than her own.

Mrs. Elliott had heard from her brother the story of Dora's shorn locks, and the braid of hair was far more valuable to her, now that she knew upon whose head it had grown. In her next letter to her brother she spoke of the discovery, and he could not forbear mentioning the circumstances to Eugenia, who, not suspecting how much he knew of the matter, answered indifferently, "Isn't it funny how things do come round? Dora had so much of the headache that we thought it best to cut off her hair, which she wished me to sell for her in Rochester. I always considered that that child was inclined to be a little penurious!"

Wholly disgusted with this fresh proof of her duplicity, Mr. Hastings could scarcely refrain from upbraiding her for her perfidy, but thinking the time had not yet come he restrained his wrath, and when next he spoke it was to tell her of a foreign tour which he intended making.

"I have long wished to visit the Old World," said he, "and as there is nothing in particular to prevent my doing so, I shall probably start the first of June. I could go sooner, but I prefer being on the ocean in the summer season."

For a moment Eugenia grew faint, fancying she saw an end of all her hopes, but, soon rallying, she expatiated largely upon the pleasure and advantages to be derived from a tour through Europe, saying "it was a happiness she had herself greatly desired, but should probably never realize."

"Not if you depend upon me for an escort," thought Mr. Hastings, who soon after took his leave.

Much Eugenia wondered whether he would ask the important question, and take her with him, and concluding at last that he would she secretly made some preparations for the expected journey! But alas for her hopes! The spring went by, the summer came, and she was still Eugenia Deane, when one evening towards the middle of June Mr. Hastings came over to say good-bye, as he was intending to start next morning for New York, or rather for his sister's country seat on the Hudson, where she was now spending the summer. This was a deathblow to Eugenia, who could scarcely appear natural. Tears came to her eyes, and once when she attempted to tell him how lonely Rose Hill would be without him she failed entirely for want of voice.

"How hoarse you are! Have you a cold," said Mr. Hastings, and that was all the notice he took of her emotion.

Fearing lest he should suspect her real feelings, she tried to compose herself, and after a time said jokingly, "I shouldn't wonder if you were going to take you a wife from some of the city belles."

"Oh, no!" he answered lightly. "Time enough to think of that when I return."

This gave her hope, and she bore the better than she could otherwise have done.

"You will not forget me entirely I trust," she said as she gave him her hand.

"Oh, no!" he answered. "That would be impossible. I have many reasons, which you do not perhaps suspect, for remembering you! By the way," he continued, "have you any message for Dora! I shall probably see her, as she is with my sister."

"Give her my love," answered Eugenia, "and tell her to write more definitely of her situation. She never particularizes, but merely says she is very happy. I do hope Mrs. Elliott will make something of her!"

The next moment Mr. Hastings' good-bye was ringing in her ears, and he was gone. Seating herself upon the stairs, and covering her face with her hands, Eugenia wept bitterly — and this was their parting.

One week later, and at the same hour in the evening, Mr. Hastings sat in his sister's pleasant parlor, looking out upon the blue waters of the Hudson, and wondering why, as the time for his departure drew near, his heart should cling so fondly to the friends he was to leave behind. "I shall see them again if I live," he said, "and why this dread of bidding them farewell?"

At this moment his sister entered the room, bringing to him a letter from a rich old Texan bachelor who was spending the summer with some friends in the vicinity of her home. It was directed to the "Guardians of Dora Deane," and asked permission to address her! He had seen her occasionally at Mrs. Elliott's house, had met her frequently in his morning rambles, and the heart which for forty-five years had withstood the charms of Northern beauties and Southern belles was won by the modest little country girl, and he would make her his wife, would bear her to his luxurious home, where her slightest wish should be his law. With a curious smile upon her lip Mrs. Elliott read this letter through, and then without a word to Dora carried it to her brother, watching him while he read it and smiling still more when she saw the flush upon his brow and the unnatural light in his eye.

"Have you talked with Dora?" he said, when he had finished reading.

"No, I have not," answered his sister. "I thought I would leave that to you, for, in case she should ask my advice, my fear of losing her might influence me too much."

"Louise!" he exclaimed, leaning forward so that his hot breath touched her cheek, "you surely do not believe that Dora Deane cares aught for that old man. She is nothing but a child."

"She is seventeen next November," said Mrs. Elliott, "almost as old as Ella was when first you were engaged, and how can we tell how often she has thought of matrimony? Mr. Trevors is a man of unexceptionable character, and though old enough to be her father he is immensely wealthy, and this, you know, makes a vast difference with some girls."

"But not with her—not with Dora Deane, I'm sure," he said. "Where is she? Send her to me, and I will see."

Dora's governess, who had accompanied them to the country, was sometimes very exacting, and this day she had been unusually cross on account of her pupil's having failed in one or two lessons.

"I'll report you to Mr. Hastings and see what he can do," she had said, as she hurled the French grammar back upon the table.

This threat Dora had forgotten until told that Mr. Hastings had sent for her; then, fancying he wished to reprimand her, she entered the parlor reluctantly and rather timidly took a seat upon an ottoman near the window, where he was sitting.

During Dora's residence with Mrs. Elliott she had improved much, both in manner and personal appearance, and others than the Texan planter called her beautiful. The brownish hue which her skin had acquired from frequent exposure was giving way to a clearer and more brilliant complexion, while the peculiarly sweet expression of her deep-blue eyes would have made a plain face handsome. But Dora's chief point of beauty lay in her hair—her beautiful hair of reddish brown. It had grown rapidly, fully verifying Alice's prediction, and in heavy shining braids was worn around her classically shaped head. And Dora sat there very still—demurely waiting for Mr. Hastings to speak, wondering if he would be severe, and at last laughing aloud when, in place

Black Hand Tragedy In Montreal

Montreal, Jan. 2.—As the result of another Italian fracas, in which the Black Hand is believed to have played a part one Italian is dead and two others seriously injured. The row occurred tonight in a house at 316 St. David Lane, in which a number of Italians lodged. Shortly after 8 o'clock a volley of shots was heard from the house and several men rushed out into the lane. There the shooting was kept up and one of the Italians was shot dead, the bullet passing through his right eye. Another Italian, whose name is given as Dominique Latour, was shot in the head and stabbed in the back. He is not expected to recover. Another Italian, Antonio Marabeto, was stabbed in the hand. The participants made their escape, but the police have since made a number of arrests. From remarks made by some of the prisoners, it is believed that the notorious Black Hand had something to do with the shooting.

First Run on a Bank.

The first "run" on banking institutions in London was in 1667. Many Lombard street goldsmiths and bankers had lent out the money intrusted to them and, being called upon for payment, were unable to meet the demand. A crowd of creditors and others assembled, and a riot followed, in which four bankers were hanged at their own doors before order could be restored and the angry creditors persuaded that they were not being swindled.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, but they are symptoms only of a certain species Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 8 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1.400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 7½ per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Dr. Hamilton Speaks on Curing Pimples

Gives Common Sense Advice That Every Person can Employ at Home.

"I believe all skin diseases such as pimples and eruptions originate through the failure of the eliminating organs to pass certain poisonous wastes from the body.

"There is at all times a large accumulation of fuel matter in the system, which, if not destroyed, gets into the blood. Germs and disease producing matter are thus circulated through the body. Ultimately they force their way through the pores of the skin, produce pimples, swelling, red blotches and often eruptions horrible to look upon.

"I usually found the primary cause to be with the kidneys and bowels,—these organs are too slow. My Pills of Mandrake and Butternut contain very active vegetable extracts that act on these organs instantly. They give strength, tone and vigor to the eliminating organs that positively ensures a clean healthy body."

A course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills puts the system in perfect order, they cleanse the system inside as soap and water does outside, they remove all taints and poisons that block the avenues of health and life, make the skin smooth, restore roses to the cheeks and that brightness to the eye that denotes sound health. Because Mild, Safe, Efficient, anyone can use Dr. Hamilton's Pills with perfect results.

In Saturday's issue of the Montreal Star is an excellent sermon from the pen of Rev. Marshall P. Talling, Ph. D., of Toronto, who is well known in Peterborough, having occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church, for some months. The sermon is accompanied by a portrait of the reverend doctor, and is on the subject of "The World's Need of Men." His text was;

Jer. v., 1, "Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and mark in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that doeth justly that seeketh truth, and I will pardon her."

Interesting Relic of Ancient Rome

Rev. Canon Davidson Presents Fire Hall with Part of an Old Roman Firehall

In the local fire hall is one of the most ancient relics connected with the fire system of olden days. This is a piece of "Serpentine" which formed part of the mosaic pavement of the fire station of the Cohort "Vigiles," in the Via Monte di Fiora, Rome. It might be explained that the Vigiles were organized by Emperor Augustus who ascended the throne in the year 25 B.C., and died in 14 B.C. Their duties were to watch for and extinguish fires in the City of Rome. The station where this "serpentine" was found has a court yard, with a well in its center, a chapel and several inscriptions of the third century. The stone was brought from Rome by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church and recently presented to the fire hall by him.

The stone, which has been framed with a suitably written card, is about 4 1-2 inches long, about one inch wide and 3-4 of an inch thick. Its polished side is of a beautiful dark green with scattered marks, somewhat the shape of snowflakes, in a lighter green. Notwithstanding the centuries during which the people of ancient Rome walked over the floor of which it formed part, the polished surface is perfectly preserved, testifying to the hardness and wearing qualities of this stone.

Mr. Collier Found Many Sun Spots

Mr. Herbert Collier, 555 Weller street, a member of the Peterborough section of the Royal Astronomical Society, has recently made some interesting drawings of disturbances on the sun which he discovered through his own telescope. Mr. Collier last week found that there were large spots plainly visible on the surface of the sun and were developing rapidly and that they gave every indication of becoming enormous in size. The disturbances were noted on New Year's Day.

Curlers will Soop Her Up This Year

Now that the Charlotte street curling rink has been destroyed by the fire fiend it looked as though the knights of stone and broom might give up in despair and call curling a lost art in Peterborough. However those enthusiastic devotees of the ice have simply been laying low and waiting until the insurance underwriters view the ruins and calculated the loss.

Yesterday morning Mr. Wm. Power of Toronto, viewed the ruins, and being satisfied as to the loss, a gang of men were set to work. Some were clearing away the bricks that piled around the broom factory at the rear, and a carter contracted for removing the debris that covers the central portion of the rink.

It is the intention of the Curling Club to proceed in making ice on the floored portion, and the work will be pushed ahead rapidly. Every effort will be made to have a list of games before the season passes by, and the prospects for sport are looking brighter.

Next spring will probably see the club beginning the erection of a fine large building, which will be one of the best curling rinks in Canada, as present civic conditions impel the erection of a heavier structure than the old rink.

Canadian Descendant of Cromwell Dead

Belleville, Jan. 6.—Oliver Cromwell Young, who died recently at his home in Picton, Prince Edward County, at the age of 92, was a lineal descendant of Oliver Cromwell, the Great English Dictator. He was the last surviving child of George Young, whose father, Isaac Young, left Hanover two hundred years ago and settled in England. While there he married Rebecca Cromwell, cousin of the Great Oliver Cromwell, and soon after came to America.

George Young came to Canada in 1809 with other United Empire Loyalists, but before coming he also married a Cromwell, his cousin, thus bringing into the family a double strain of the noted Cromwell blood. They settled in the Township of Sidney, near this city, where Oliver Cromwell Young, the old gentleman just deceased, was born. When a young man the latter went to Prince Edward County, where he has lived ever since. He married Jane Parliament and settled in Amelianburg. The old gentleman died at the residence of his son, George Young, barrister, of Picton.

Oliver Cromwell Young was a lifelong Conservative, and was very proud of his descent from the great Dictator, to whom in his younger days he was said to bear a marked resemblance.

Another Huge Local Factory in Sight

It looks as though Peterborough's large family of industries is to have still another arrival. This is no less than a car factory, which will employ at the beginning 400 men, and later 1,000. At the present time the promoter of the scheme Mr. B. D. Isaacs, is at St. John, N.B., negotiating with the city council there. According to the despatch from St. John, the only two Ontario cities making a bid for the big factory are Peterborough and Hamilton.

The erection of the factory involves an expenditure of more than a million dollars, and Mr. Isaacs states that almost $500,000 has already been subscribed.

The following is the despatch from St. John;

The car works project, which Mr. B. D. Isaacs places before the city council, involves the expenditure of a million or more, and the employment of 400 men, to be increased to 1,000. Mr. Isaacs says that nearly half a million dollars capital has been subscribed.

He asks important concessions and a reply before the end of January, as Peterborough, Hamilton, and St. John's, Que., are making him offers. The council will consider the matter next week.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

Reeve Scott of Smith Was Serenaded

Reeve Robt. Scott of Smith township yesterday morning at about 2 o'clock paid the penalty of popularity in the country. A party of Forresters returning home to Bridgenorth from an installation at Peterborough, demanded admittance and Mr. Scott, lightly clad, hurried downstairs to discover the cause of the trouble. Immediately on the door being opened he was pulled outside where he was compelled to make a speech. On the termination of the serenade he was permitted to again seek the solid comfort of his downy couch.

County Police Court Cases

This morning at 11 o'clock County Police Magistrate Edmison will hear the case of Geo. Moncrief of Cavendish, who is charged with insanity, and with having pointed a revolver at a party, also of Cavendish. It is alleged that Moncrief held up a party of three persons who were driving. The case will be heard in the county police court.

On Wednesday the enlarged case of Rex vs. Holland will be continued.

On Thursday Magistrate Edmison will go down to Norwood to hear a charge which Mr. W. J. Poffer has preferred against Wm. Saunders for having used abusive language on the public highway.

OPEN TRIBUTE OF SYMPATHY TO THE LATE WM. PRINGLE

The Board of Education Passes a Sincere and Heartfelt Vote of Condolence Regarding Their Late Member

Last night the Board of Education held its last session of 1907, during which they paid sincere respect to the late Mr. W. Pringle, a former and active member of that assembly of Peterborough's educationalists. Those present were Messrs. Fair, chairman, Ackerman, Dumble, Robinson, Hayes, Hall, Crane, Morrison and Burnham. Every member of the board spoke and paid a high tribute to their departed fellow member. Judging by a consensus of opinions expressed by those present, the late Mr. Pringle's death is a hard blow, not only to the city's pedigree but to educational matters in general.

The following address was moved by Mr. Hall and seconded by Mr. Burnham, viz.;

The Peterborough Board of Education deeply lament the untimely death of Mr. William Pringle, principal of the Peterborough Commercial College, who for four years has been a member of this board.

Mr Pringle gave to this board the benefit of his large experience as an educator; he gave his valuable time and his best services, and, as chairman of the Supervision Committee and chairman of the Building Committee of the King Edward school, rendered most valuable service to the board.

We lament the loss of as zealous a member always ready to give his time and labor to aid a work which he had at heart. Mr. Pringle by his gentle, courteous and kindly manner so endeared himself to us all that we feel his death as a personal loss and mourn with the dear ones of his stricken home.

We unite in tendering to his bereaved widow and family our heartfelt sympathy on behalf of the Board of Education.

It might be added that the board decided to have a portrait of the late Mr. Pringle enlarged and framed placed in the King Edward school, the deceased being chairman of the committee during the erection and furnishing of that building. It was universally admitted that never was a chairman more faithful in the duties of his office.

The current thought of the late Mr. Pringle was "What is in the public interest? It is a pity Peterborough has not more such men.

Late Mr. W. Pringle Laid to Rest

Yesterday afternoon the last sad rites were paid in honor to the late Mr. W. Pringle. The funeral cortege, which was one of the largest and most representatively attended, left the family residence of the deceased, 380 Bethune street, at 2.30 o'clock, and wended its solemn way to the Little Lake cemetery. The long procession was headed by some 30 or 40 students of the Peterborough Business College. Then came teachers of the Public schools, followed by a long line of members of the Masonic Order, under whose auspices the funeral was held, headed by Mr. D. H. Burritt. A hack entirely filled with floral designs was there a mute testimony to the love and respect generally held for the late Mr. Pringle. The Masonic body present was ended by Chaplain H. C. Minch. The long and solemn procession included people from every walk in life. George street was lined on both sides by citizens anxious to at least pay the last silent token of respect. The funeral was, among many hundreds of others attended by former School Inspector Duncan Walker who drove with Inspector Mowat.

Monorief was Fined $50 and Costs

George Monorief, of Cavendish township, appeared before County Police Magistrate Edmison on two serious charges, and was found guilty on both. The first was that of having assaulted his daughter, Martha Monorief, and the second of pointing firearms at his daughter mentioned above, Mary Gill, Sidney Gill and Howard Gill. On the first charge he was allowed to go on suspended sentence, and on the second was fined $50 and costs, to be paid forthwith, or thirty days with hard labor in jail. The evidence was of a very contradictory character. Monorief denying point blank the accusations brought against him in the witness box by the witnesses for the prosecution. Owing to the nature of some of the testimony the magistrate intimated that proceedings on the charge of perjury would be taken. Mr. J. E. L. Goodwill acted for the prosecution and Mr. P. D. Kerr, for the defence.

Local Market Business Increased

Yesterday morning Mr. W. H. McIlmoyle, the market clerk, in a joking way said "The new councillors seem to have brought grist to my mill." He explained this cryptic saying by noting that yesterday business was "a-humming" on the market square. There were 20 loads of hay, 15 loads of wood, 181 hogs, 7 loads of straw, 13 head of cattle and a large quantity of oats weighed on the public scales, in addition to the ordinary run of goods brought in.

Twenty-Five Places Carry Local Option-- Change in Owen Sound

Was Defeated in Twenty Municipalities --Orillia Dry

Owen Sound Wants Change

Local option carried	25
Licenses cut off	84
Lost on "three-fifths"	21
Licenses involved	68
Local option defeated	20
Licenses involved	74
Number of repeal votes	6
Local option retained	5
By-law to be rescinded	1
Still to hear from	25
Total under local option	310

Toronto, Jan. 7.—The vote on local option in 97 municipalities throughout Ontario yesterday added 25 more places to those already under local option and brings the number up to 310. This may be further increased when the returns come from the 25 municipalities still to hear from.

The local option vote means the closing of 84 licensed establishments on the first of next May.

In 20 places a majority of the votes were polled against local option.

In Thamesville the only place where there was a chance, the majority was only 4 in the first place. Now it has changed to 9 the other way. In the others the original majorities of 238 were increased to 310.

It is understood that steps will be taken at once to organize a demonstration in favor of the repeal of the three-fifth clause.

"Gratified, but not satisfied," that is Mr. Spence's view, for he declares that the results indicate a definite, decided and permanent advance.

A CHANGE FOR OWEN SOUND.

Mr Spence would not admit that the vote in Owen Sound was a direct defeat for local option, as he thought the personal elements entered into the struggle, but the election of the mayor and council, all "antis" looks as if Owen Sound is cured of local option.

"The government has made no definite promise that they will amend the act so as not to allow the auctioneering of bars in hotels. That will greatly improve the situation in Owen Sound."

Italian Caught "Red" Handed--Three were Arrested Last Night

Last night about ten o'clock three members of the Italian colony were arrested and brought to the police station. It seems that the "padrone" of an Italian boarding house on Charlotte street, telephoned to the police station that a row was in progress at his place. Police Officers Hodge and Newhall hurried to the spot and found things upside down. They went in and started to make arrests. In the fracas the "padrone" Nicolas Rozzeto, raised some trouble and cut his hand badly on a glass. On arrival at the police station a few minutes later, Nicolas' right hand was simply drenched in blood.

A Mrs. Winn, who lives at the Italian house, attempted to rescue Nicolas, who was making a desperate attempt to resist arrest. She was given time to get back into the house or she would have been edged behind bars.

The truth will come out at this morning's session of the police court.

Jas. Curry Gives Evidence--Tells of His Struggle with Tearse

Brampton, Jan. 7.—When the preliminary trial of John Tearse, the English immigrant charged with the murder of William Curry on Christmas night, opened this morning before the magistrate a fairly large crowd was present in the court room. Tearse, as his correct name has turned out to be, looked little like a desperado who would shoot a man down in cold blood. He is small in face, undersized, and one eye, the eye which was injured, was still badly bloodshot, giving him a sinister aspect which, under ordinary circumstances, he would not have. He listened intently to the evidence.

JAMES CURRY'S EVIDENCE

At the request of Mr. A. R. Hassard, counsel for the prisoner, the witnesses for the crown were excluded while the evidence of James Curry, the first witness for the crown, was taken. Crown Attorney McFadden devoted somewhat more attention to questioning him regarding the dispute between him and the prisoner when the length of time he had been engaged was discussed.

"He said that he had been engaged for a year, and he was going to stay a year, and I told him that he was not going to stay a year, and that if he said he was engaged for a year he was lying," said Mr. Curry.

"He said that I was lying," continued the witness, "and then father spoke up and said, 'Why you know you told me, Jack, that you were coming for a month.'"

"Was there anything more said at the time?" asked Mr. McFadden.

"Nothing more that I remember," replied the witness.

OVERCOME BY EMOTION.

When he told of the firing of the shot which killed his father, the witness had great difficulty in controlling his emotions and finally he broke down completely and could not proceed for a time.

A new point was brought out when he admitted in answer to a question of Mr. McFadden that when told by Tearse to put his hand behind his back he obeyed. It was just at this point that his father came into the room and a moment later the shot was fired which killed the old man.

Mr. Hassard in cross-examination wanted to know why Mr. Curry had not stated at the inquest that he placed his hands behind his back when Tearse told him to. Witness thought he had.

"You can find out from my examination," said Mr. Curry. "It will be down there if I said it."

Mr Hassard dropped the point for the time being.

"Did you touch the gun while it was in Tearse's hands," asked Mr Hassard. "Will you swear that you did not?"

"I might have touched it with my elbow," admitted the witness. This however, he said, was after the first shot was fired.

THAW WAS SNUBBED BY HIS LAWYER WHO IGNORED PRISONER

Tugged at Littleton's Sleeve, and Lawyer Turned His Back on Him After a Glance--Evelyn Shook Her Head at Prisoner

New York, Jan. 7.—With nine jurors in the box, the second trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White on the Madison Square Roof Garden, June 25th, 1906 began its second day with a rush. It is expected the box will be filled before the close of the morning session at one o'clock, and then the process of elimination will begin. It was agreed that no peremptory challenge should be made until after the box was filled, a proceeding unique in American criminal jurisprudence, but at the same time a great time saver. Both the defence and prosecution have 24 peremptory challenges, thus giving a chance of emptying the jury box four times over after the jurors have passed the bias and cause for challenging.

During the last trial so many communications were read reflecting on the jurors who had been worn, that both District Attorney Jerome and Martin W. Littleton, of Thaw's counsel, deemed it best to choose the present course, and Justice Dowling readily assented. The justice intends to move the trial with all the celerity compatible with justice, and will brook no prolonged addresses or procrastinating methods.

JURORS AT HOTEL

The jurors have been quartered at a Broadway hotel located in the very center of the "White Light" district, wherein Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her accused husband have had so many frolics. Not much opportunity for participation in the gay life of the district is given the tentative jurors, for beyond passing in and out of the hotel portals and gazing out on the illuminated scenes from the windows of the sumptuously-furnished rooms at night, the men who may, and those who will, have Harry Thaw's fate on their keeping, are closely guarded. The trip to and from the jail are made in covered busses, two officers being seated in the coach so to see that the court's ruling that no outsider shall speak to the jurors, or that they shall not converse among themselves upon the trial, is observed.

HARRY MEETS EVELYN.

Harry Thaw slept fitfully last night. It was after ten o'clock when he was taken back to the tombs, and the excitement of the morning seemed to have unstrung him somewhat. He was up early this morning, and expressed himself as being pleased at the progress made in selecting the jury.

"In another week I will be near freedom," he said to his warden, "and I am hopeful that the result will bear out my confidence."

Evelyn Thaw was at the prison before ten o'clock, but only had a brief meeting with her husband, as he was brought over to the court room. The attractive little woman did not show any trace of weariment over her long hours in court yesterday. It appears that she thrives on excitement.

THAW WAS SNUBBED.

During the absence of one of the jurors there was a conference between District Attorney Jerome, Assistant District Attorney Garvin, Martin Littleton, Dan O'Reilly, and A. Russell Peabody. The lawyers stood near the end of the table where Thaw was seated. They talked earnestly for several minutes, the prisoner looking at them intently. Isador G. Tiffany, a broker residing at 238 West 82nd street, had been called for examination, and it was whispered that the combat of the attorneys was concerning the talesman. Thaw tugged at Mr. Littleton's sleeve several times before that attorney turned around. When he saw that it was his client who was endeavoring to attract his attention he gave a curt nod and turned his back squarely upon Thaw. The latter seemed annoyed. He began to chew his finger nails and a slight flush spread over his pallid face. Many watched the pantomime, not the least interested spectator being Evelyn Thaw. She nodded her head disappointedly at the prisoner, but this did not seem to reassure him. Littleton ignored Thaw when the attorneys separated, but went over to Mrs. Thaw and extended his hand in greeting, while the other lawyers went to the bench and conferred.

Justice Dowling it turned out that the side bar talks concerned the manner of making peremptory challenges, whether all those jurors objected to should be dismissed at once or whether each challenged juror should have his vacant seat filled before the next man was challenged. Mr. Tiffany proved to be a man of firm views, but admitted his opinion in the special case was subject to revision.

Treasurer—W. Adamson.

Mr. Hill's Election is Highly Approved

Judging by general conversation heard on the street yesterday, the large majority for Mr. W. H. Hill, demonstrated beyond dispute or cavil, that the public has, and has had every confidence in the past management of the water works control, which was so triumphantly placed by his grand majority on Monday. Mr. Hall, has opponent, pro tem, whilst duly elated in this particular, still holds a warm place in public opinion and the fact of his having come out second best in the competition does no more than "Harry" has fallen one fraction of millimeter below the place he has so long occupied in public estimation. Elections are queer things. And this is no reflection on Mr. Hill's election, but simply, and, in general terms a proof of the well known saying originally used by a bygone Canadian statesman that, "An election is like a horse race. You don't know which wins till the judges give their decision."

There is no doubt however that in Mr. Hill's election, the electorate of Peterborough have chosen a man qualified by natural gifts, assisted by the experience of past dealing with the subject affected to deal intelligently and in the public interest for all.

Fear Outbreak of Striking Miners

Reno, Jan. 1.—From his bed today Governor Sparks, who is very sick, made a statement in explanation of his action in asking President Roosevelt to send troops to Goldfield. He said in part:—

"Throughout the whole controversy I have acted according to my best judgment. I believed from advices received from confidential agents in Goldfield that trouble was imminent in the mining camps. I knew that dynamite had been stolen from the mines, that the miners were armed and prepared for trouble, and the picketing of mines and preventing men from working was damaging property. I was also advised that the sheriff and other civil authorities were unable to cope with the situation. And this is why I asked for the troops. I believed that so long as there were regular soldiers on the ground there would be no outbreak, but I feared, and had reason to fear, that unless such action was taken immediately there would be riot and bloodshed.

"While I was in Goldfield I investigated personally the conditions that prevailed. I found that the business men were afraid of violence and that the women were in terror. Dozens of women have left the camp because they feared trouble. I found that there was organized a band of High-Graders and that the sheriff is absolutely unable to secure a conviction of any one thieves. I learned that there are over a thousand rifles in the possession of the miners, and that the spirit of many of the men is such as to warrant me in believing that those rifles would be used on small pretext.

Sports

The employees of Cressman's establishment went at each other last night in a burlesque game of hockey at the Brock street rink between the hours of six to seven. When the employees of the second and third floor whitewashed those on the ground floor by the score of 7—6.

There was a large number of supporters from the establishment in attendance who cheered their respective teams.

The players appeared with such placards as "smallpox, keep away," etc., needless to say this was on the back of a ground floor player. He may be now in the cellar. Bunty Titterson, guarded the nets for the sky-lights, and blocked everything. He had the kill quick sign on his back which prevented the rubber discs from going into the nets.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Citizens of Peterborough:

I desire to thank those of my fellow citizens who by their votes and influence endorsed my past career as a water commissioner of the City of Peterborough by returning me for a renewed term of office. I shall as in the past, endeavor to merit the very flattering expression of confidence which the public have thus been good enough from time to time to bestow upon me. I regret that my election necessarily involved the defeat of an opponent who stood so deservedly high in the public favor, and I can only recognize the results as another obligation to the most faithful service which it is in my power to render.

Respectfully yours.

RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT.

Much is being said just now about responsible government, and its application to a recent incident in British Columbia. The discussion is likely to grow more acute during the next few months, and is almost certain to occupy the attention of the legislature. It may therefore be timely to make a few observations in the hope that some light may be cast upon it, which may be cast upon it, which may be useful in aiding the general public to arrive at a right conclusion.

Responsible government in Canada is an adaptation to this country of what is known in parliamentary government in the United Kingdom, and, speaking generally, it may be denied as that principle which requires the exercise of the prerogatives of the Crown and the administration of the government to be carried on in accordance with the views of the people, as expressed through the representatives. In accordance with this principle, the Sovereign has not since the year 1901, when Queen Anne disallowed the Militia Bill, ventured to exercise the right of veto. In accordance also with this principle, Parliament has on many occasions held the ministry responsible for the acts of magistrates, although it could not be suggested that the ministry were privy to those acts. In other words, Parliament is supreme, its powers extending even to the right to deprive the sovereign of his crown and to regulate the succession. It must be obvious that this principle can only be applied to a Canadian province within certain limitations. Our governmental institutions are of statutory creation, and the fundamental statute, which is the British North American Act, establishes a system which is unique, the application to which of the precedents evolved in parliamentary government in England must necessarily be qualified by features in our constitution to which there is nothing similar in the constitution of the United Kingdom. For example, the people of British Columbia as a province have no voice in the appointment or dismissal of a lieutenant-governor, and this fact of itself shows the impossibility of applying parliamentary government in its fullest sense to a province, for as long as there is one essential feature in which our parliamentary institutions differ from those of the Mother Country, just so long must there be a difference in the working out of constitutional government.

As far as we are able to see at present, the only point upon which there is likely to be a serious divergence is in regard to the royal assent to Bills. Dourinet, who must be recognized as the greatest authority on parliamentary government in Canada, concedes that this is an open question. Let us take a case such as Lieut.-Governor Dewdney's withholding assent to a Bill prohibiting the employment of Chinese or Japanese labor by certain companies. He withheld assent in consequence of instructions from the federal ministry, whose representative and appointee he was. Mr. Turner did not advise the act; he probably did not even advise Mr. Dewdney to follow instructions. But this is not the point, which is that when the legislature again met no one pretended to hold Mr. Turner responsible for Mr. Dewdney's act. As far, therefore, as anything can be established by a single precedent, an act, which a lieutenant-governor does by direction of the federal ministry, is not one for which the legislature will hold the provincial ministry responsible, and we suggest that no provincial legislature will ever depart from the precedent thus established. For a Conservative legislature would not be likely to hold a Conservative government responsible for an act done by the lieutenant-governor by direction of a Liberal federal ministry, nor would a Liberal legislature be likely to condemn a Liberal government for an act done by a lieutenant-governor by direction of such a ministry, and the same would hold good if the position of the parties were reversed. Hence we reach this conclusion. The principle of ministerial responsibility within the province cannot be held to attach necessarily to acts done by a lieutenant-governor as a Dominion officer and in pursuance of specific or general directions from the federal ministry. In such a case no question of confidence between a lieutenant-governor and his advisers arises. It is hardly supposable that a provincial ministry would advise a lieutenant-governor to disregard instructions from the federal ministry upon a matter coming within the undoubted powers of the latter. It is easy to say that the provincial premier should resign under the circumstances referred to, but a premier holds his position by virtue of the mandate of the people, and although he is called to office by the lieutenant-governor, he is only able to retain office because the people so will. He would not be justified in refusing to carry out the popular will, simply because an officer whom he did not appoint, and who is not responsible to him in any way, acted in pursuance of instructions from a paramount authority. There are other phases of the case, which may be referred to on another occasion.

Japanese Soldiers Still in Manchuria

London, December 31.—A despatch to the Times from Pekin calls attention to the great number of Japanese soldiers still in Manchuria, though the country is perfectly tranquil, and records complaints of their incivility to railway passengers.

The despatch also gives instances of the Japanese forbidding railway construction in Chinese territry west of the Liau Valley, and claims that it is impossible to reconcile this prohibition with any national interpretation of the open door policy.

In an editorial on the Oriental immigration, the Times deplores the breakup of the Indian congress as tending to justify those anxious to justify the exclusion of Indians as well as other Oriental races from the colonies, and advocate the calling of a commission representative of all the colonies, India and the Mother Country, for a preliminary investigation to assist the next Imperial Conference to deal with the subject.

It suggests that the evidence taken before such a commission might convince some of the colonies of the impossibility of hanging against the Oriental immigration, and thinks that certain parts of the British territories most suited to Orientals and least suited to the white men's habits might be established especially reserved for Oriental immigration. The editorial concludes:

"At present the Oriental races realize our difficulties, but a swarming inrush of even unarmed paupers cannot be resisted forever."

Must Pay As You Enter.

Pittsburg, Jan. 6.—The Pittsburg Railways Company, operating the surface lines in this city, rigidly enforced the "Pay-as-you-enter" plan with the result that the service was badly impeded. Passengers did not take kindly to the innovation, and many tendered bills to the conductors, holding up all the persons behind them and delaying the cars. Women with bundles refused to pay their fare until they were seated and had laid the bundles aside, and in some instances passengers stormed the cars and refused to pay when inside.

A number of the conductors resigned, but the officers of the company say they will continue to enforce the rule.

THE PREY OF A GRIZZLY.

By a Little Oversight Bruin Was Robbed of a Good Meal.

In the early settlement of California grizzly bears were numerous and troublesome, but few men ever had a more singular experience with a grizzly than Paul Sweet, who kept a tannery near Santa Cruz. The story is told by Mrs. Dall in "My First Holiday."

Mr. Sweet was one day walking alone in the woods when he came suddenly upon a grizzly bear and her two cubs. He was quite unarmed, and before he had time to consider any plan of action the bear was upon him. She struck him down, but he kept his presence of mind and lay perfectly quiet.

The grizzly stood over him for a minute or more, then seized him by the waistband and began dragging him along. He did not resist, and she dragged him for a dozen rods to a little sandy hollow, where she dropped him and began digging a hole in the sand. Into this hole she rooted the man, and then nosed and pawed the sand over him until he was buried from sight. The prudent animal, not being hungry at the moment, was making a cache of her prey.

Mr. Sweet's heart lightened as he realized the brute's intentions, and he began to hope that he might escape. He waited a few minutes after the bear had covered him in, and then, thinking that she had retired from the scene, he began to work himself free very cautiously. The grizzly was on the watch, however, and at the first movement of her prey rushed to the spot and with two or three strokes of her paw snugly tucked him in again.

Mr. Sweet instantly became motionless again and allowed himself to be reburied in the sand. Luckily his hat had slipped over his face, so that the sand did not fill his nose and eyes, and by raising his head a little he was able to throw off the sand sufficiently to breathe.

He was more wary next time and lay still for an hour or two until he felt pretty sure that the grizzly had retired from the spot. Very cautiously then he worked himself free from the sand and crept away.

LAPSE OF REASONING.

Instances by Two of the World's Greatest Benefactors.

To illustrate the kind of lapse of reasoning power from which great inventors are known to suffer, like that under influence of which Sir Isaac Newton cut one hole in a wall to let a cat pass through and then a small hole for the kitten, an old story in the life of Morse will answer well. Long before he invented the telegraph Morse was known to the officers of the patent office as a persistent applicant for patents. When his great invention of "distance writing" was about completed he wanted the Baltimore and Ohio Railway company to try it.

To get rid of him the president of the road turned him over to a subordinate. This official was struck with the beauty of the invention and became so interested in it that he sat up half the night discussing it with the inventor. At length Morse confessed there was only one thing which baffled him. "As long as the railroad runs," he said, "where poles may be erected it will be easy sailing, but when we come to the big bridges what is to be done then? We can't erect poles across the stream, and without them the wire would sag and perhaps break from its own weight. I confess I don't know what to do. Can't you suggest a way out of the difficulty?

"Why don't you fasten the wires to the bridge?" asked his companion without a moment's hesitation. For a moment Morse gazed at him, with open mouth, and then exclaimed: "Why not, indeed? Why, I never thought of that. It's the very way."

The layman's tip put the finishing touch to the work of the great inventor, and thus wires came to be strung on bridges when crossing large streams.

Bismarck's Retort.

One evening when the German troops were before Paris Duke Ernst of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha began grumbling in Bismarck's presence because the iron cross of the first class, given for bravery in the field of battle, had been distributed too indiscriminately. Bismarck replied that the distribution of such decorations was always a delicate and difficult task, "for," said he, "conspicuous merit has to be rewarded, but in some cases conspicuous position, with or without merit, cannot be overlooked. See now," he said, "Moltke has it, Roon has it, Blumenthal has it. Excellent! But," he added, "your highness and I have it, too, and surely it is not for us to grumble!"

An Odd Legacy.

Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Jefferson family of actors, was remembered curiously in the will of Weston, who was himself an esteemed member of Garrick's company. Weston's will contained this item:

"I have played under the management of Mr. Jefferson at Richmond and received from him every politeness. I therefore leave him all my stock of prudence, it being the only good quality I think he stands in need of."

A Heated Discussion.

"What's the matter with the fire eater? Been swallowing too many flames?"

"Nope. He's been drinking too much firewater."

If you cannot obtain what you want the most, be as happy as you can with second choice, which is perhaps the best you can get.

He that plants thorns must never expect to gather roses.—Pitgay.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

of the expected rebuke, he asked if she knew Mr. Trevors.

"Excuse me," she said, as she saw his look of surprise. "Miss Johnson threatened to report me for indolence, and I thought you were going to scold me. Yes, I know Mr. Trevors. I rode horseback with him last week."

A pang shot through Mr. Hastings' heart, but he continued holding up the letter. "He has sued for your hand. He asks you to be his wife. Will you answer yes?"

And, trembling with excitement, he awaited her reply, while the revelation of a new light was faintly dawning upon him.

"Mr. Trevors wish me to be his wife that old man?" she exclaimed, turning slightly pale. "It cannot be; let me read the letter." And taking it from his hand, she stood beneath the chandelier, and read it through, while Mr. Hastings scanned her face to see if he could detect aught to verify his fears.

But there was nothing, and breathing more freely he said, as she returned to him the letter, "Sit down here, Dora, and tell me what I shall say to him. But first consider well. Mr. Trevors is rich, and if money can make you happy you will be so as his wife."

Dora did not know why it was, but she could not endure to hear him talk in such a calm, unconcerned manner of what was so revolting. It grieved her, and laying her head upon the broad window seat she began to cry. Mr. Hastings did not this time say "Dora, my child," for Louise had told him she was not a child, and he began to think so too. Drawing his chair nearer to her, and laying his hand upon her hair, he said gently, "Will you answer me?"

"Yes," she replied somewhat bitterly. "If Mrs. Elliott is tired of me I will go away, but not with Mr. Trevors. I would rather die than marry a man I did not love, because of his gold."

"Noble girl!" was Mr. Hastings' involuntary exclamation; but Dora did not hear it, and, looking into his face, she said, "Do you wish me to marry him?"

"Never, never," he answered—"him, nor anyone else!"

"Then tell him so," said she, unmindful of the latter part of the remark. "Tell him I respect him, but I cannot be his wife."

And rising to her feet, she left the room, to wash away in another fit of tears the excitement produced by her first offer.

Very still sat Mr. Hastings when she was gone, thought after thought crowding fast upon him, and half bewildering him by their intensity. He could answer Louise's question now! It had come to him at last, sitting there with Mr. Trevors' letter in his hand and Dora at his feet,—Dora, who was so dear to him, and his first impulse was to hasten to her side and sue for the love she could not give the gray-haired Texan.

"And she will not tell me nay," he said. "It will come to her as it has to me—the love we have unconsciously borne each other."

He arose to leave the room, but meeting his sister in the door he turned back, and seating himself with her in the deep recess of the window he told her of the mighty love which had been so long maturing, and of whose existence he did not dream until another essayed to come between him and the object of his affection.

"And, Louise," he said, "Dora Deane must be mine. Are you willing—will you call her sister, and treat her as my wife?"

And Mrs. Elliott answered, "I know, my brother, that you love Dora Deane. I knew it when I asked you that question, and if to-night I tried to tease you by making you believe it possible that she cared for Mr. Trevors, it was to show you the nature of your feelings for her. And I am willing that it should be so—but not yet. You must not speak to her of love until you return. Hear me out," she continued, as she saw in him a gesture of impatience: "Dora is no longer a child—but she is too young to be trammeled with an engagement. And it must not be. You must leave her free till she has seen more of the world and her mind is more mature."

"Free till another wins her from me," interrupted Mr. Hastings somewhat bitterly; and his sister answered, "I am sure that will never be, though were you now to startle her with your love she probably would refuse you."

"Never!" he said emphatically; and Mrs. Elliott replied: "I think she would. She respects and admires you, but as you have looked upon her as a child, so in like manner has she regarded you as a father, or at least the husband of Ella, and such impressions must have time to wear away. You would not take her with you, and it is better to leave her as she is. I will watch over her and seek to make her what your wife ought to be, and when you return she will be older, will be capable of judging for herself, and she will not tell you no. Do you not think my reasoning good?"

"I suppose it is," he replied, "though it is sadly at variance with my wishes. Were I sure no one would come between us I could more easily follow your advice, and were it not that I go for her I would give up my journey at once, and stay where I could watch and see that no one came near."

"This I will do," said Mrs. Elliott, "and I fancy I can keep her safe for you."

A while longer they talked together, and their conversation was at last interrupted by the appearance of Dora herself, who came to say good-night.

"Come and sit by me, Dora," said Mr. Hastings, unmindful of his sister's warning glance. "Let me tell you what I wish you to do while I am gone," and, moving along upon the sofa, he left a place for her at his side.

Scarcely was she seated when a servant appeared, wishing to speak with Mrs. Elliott, and Mr. Hastings was left alone with Dora, with whom he merely talked of what he hoped to find her when he returned. Once, indeed, he told her how often he should think of her when he was far away and asked as a keepsake a lock of her soft hair.

Three days afterwards he went to New York, accompanied by Mrs. Elliott and Dora. He was to sail next morning, and wishing to see as much of the latter as possible he felt somewhat chagrined when, soon after their arrival, his sister insisted upon taking her out for a time, and forbade him to follow. For this brief separation, however, he was amply repaid when on the morrow his sister, who went with him on board the vessel, placed in his hand at parting a daguerreotype, which she told him not to open till she was gone. He obeyed, and while Dora in his sister's home was weeping that he had left them, he in his stateroom was gazing rapturously on a fair young face, which, looking out from its handsome casing, would speak to him many a word of comfort when he was afar on the lonely sea.

CHAPTER XVIII.

It was night again in Calcutta, and in the same room where we first found him was Nathaniel Deane, not alone this time, for standing before him was a stranger—an American, he called himself, and the old East India man, when he heard that word, grasped again the hand of his unknown guest, whose face he curiously scanned to see if before he had looked upon it, but he had not, and, pointing him to a chair, he too sat down to hear his errand. Wishing to know something of the character of the individual he had come so far to see, Mr. Hastings, for he it was, conversed a while upon a variety of subjects, until, feeling sure that it was a noble, upright man with whom he had to deal, he said, "I told you, sir, that I came from New York, and so I did; but my home is in Dunwood."

One year ago, and Uncle Nat would have started with delight at the mention of a place so fraught with remembrances of Dora, but Eugenia's last cruel letter had chilled his love, and now, when he thought of Dora, it was as one incapable of either affection or gratitude. So for a moment he was silent, and Mr. Hastings, thinking he had not been understood, was about to repeat his remark, when Uncle Nat replied, "My brother's widow lives in Dunwood—Mrs. Richard Deane — possibly you may have seen her!" And with a slight degree of awakened interest, the little keen black eyes looked out from under their thick, shaggy eyebrows at Mr.

The Selfishness of Bachelors.

Assuredly the erudite Gibbon and the crotchety Dr. Johnson would have liked a woman to attend to their household affairs, but each preferred that the other take the chance of assuming a burden, and, however prudent a wife thus obtained might have proved to be, we may be certain that her advent would have been attributed to human prescience and that she would not be regarded as coming as the Scriptures truly say, "direct from the Lord." And yet the pompous Gibbon should have known better. Twenty odd years before, while still capable of feeling human emotion, he had fallen in love really and truly with the Lausanne minister's daughter, Susanne Curchod, and would have married her but for his father's disapproval. But self interest prevailed, and he let the beautiful girl go to become the wife of Necker and the mother of Mme. de Stael. Doubtless the melancholy aspect of the great man's autobiography is due largely to his subsequent feeling of aggrievement at having deprived himself by excessive caution of a most desirable companionship.

But it is ever so with men who have passed forty unsubdued by domestic discipline. Their flagrant demands invariably exceed the bounds of reason. Observe Gibbon's requirements—a mistress, a lively acquaintance, a good natured friend, a dignified head of the table, a frugal housekeeper and a useful nurse, all molded into one feminine form.—George Harvey in North American Review.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 631 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require milling in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying, if can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 2 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $1.00 to $1.400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Hunningtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced ISO PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Systematic Catarrh Has But One Cure

Lotions and Powders Will Never Help Unless the Blood is Given Attention

The way to radically and permanently cure catarrh is to cleanse the blood of the unhealthy secretions that keep the mucous membrane inflamed.

Catarrhal poison usually interferes with the stomach, kidneys and liver. These organs must be properly toned and strengthened, otherwise you feel sick all over.

To get direct to the source of the trouble—to cleanse, nourish and purify the blood—where can you find anything so potent as Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

This grand medicine regulates the eliminating organs and completely drives the virus of catarrh out of the system. Thousands of cures prove this.

Of course to clear the nose and head of mucous discharges, Dr. Hamilton recommends the use of Catarrhozone Inhaler which, if used with his pills of Mandrake and Butternut, cures the most obstinate case of Catarrh ever known. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills in 25c. boxes.

A Fine New Year's Gift

From the Montreal Daily Witness.

One of the best New Years gifts that Canada can receive is the announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway is about to increase its capital by $25,000,000. At the head of the Canadian Pacific are not only many of the ablest men of the country, but, because of the vast enterprises they own and administer on the land and rivers, the lakes and the oceans, men exceptionally in a position to judge the likely course of future events. In such circumstances, the words of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the company, speaking for the board of directors are most inspiring. The directors are convinced that Canada will continue to progress, and that if there be any temporary set-back resulting from financial conditions in other parts of the world, it will prove comparatively unimportant. Therefore it is held to be vitally important that the Canadian Pacific should proceed without cessation in the course adopted some years ago, of adding to the railway's facilities in every direction, so as to be prepared to cope with the very largely increased traffic sure to be thrown on your lines. Such language is indeed inspiring, and will restore confidence and buoyancy to those who were inclined to be mildly pessimistic as to the immediate future, even so far as Canada was concerned. As the Witness has persistently reiterated and has shown abundantly by facts and figures, there never has been any reason to fear any general or prolonged contraction of business in this country, and the action of the Canadian Pacific Railway goes to show that by the springtime everything should be in full swing again. The railway, at least, deserves our thanks at this time for the expression of its well-founded confidence, a confidence that not only covers this country, but extends to Europe, where most of its securities outside of Canada are held. Indeed, its confidence that its securities will find an advantageous market at this time is the most cheering financial feature of many months.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, chronic, hang-on coughs, bronchial and throat troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution. It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough;

My thanks are due and are hereby tendered to the electors—the ladies as well as the gentlemen—in every section of the city, for the large and representative support I received on Monday, which elected me as one of your Board of Aldermen for 1908. Ladies and Gentlemen—

Permit me to thank you for the evidence of your confidence in again electing me alderman by such a magnificent vote.

MR. RUSH'S THANKS

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough;

Ladies and Gentlemen—

My most grateful thanks are herewith publicly tendered to you for the strong confidence reposed in me by electing me Monday your mayor for 1908 by so handsome a majority.

I take this as a very flattering honor you have conferred upon me, because, as you all know, I did not personally canvass a single voter. My election, therefore, is entirely due to the independent support I received from all classes of citizens, to the strong public sentiment in my favor, and the energetic work of my friends. It affords me additional pleasure to know that you have also elected an intelligent Board of Aldermen for the year, whose support and assistance will be of great service to me in the discharge of my municipal duties.

Having made no promises to any one, I feel at liberty to use my own judgment in all matters coming before the board, unbiassed by any pledge, and so, with the assistance of my colleagues in the council, it will be my aim to promote the city's welfare and to safeguard the interests of all classes of the community.

The result of the election conclusively proves that the vote of the majority of the electors is in favor of the Hydro-Electric power by-law, and I shall endeavor to carry out the wishes of the majority as expressed by the vote.

Thanking you for the honor you have conferred upon me, I am,

Yours truly,
H. Rush

MANY THANKS

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough;

I desire to express my warm appreciation of the renewal of confidence which I received Monday from my friends, which re-elected me for another year a member of your Board of Aldermen.

I know no better way of continuing to enjoy the confidence of the ratepayers than by a constant discharge of the duties of the position. This I have always aimed to do, and will continue to do without fear or favor.

Let me again thank my friends and "the boys" who faithfully worked in my behalf, and to add my best wishes for a prosperous new year for the citizens and City of Peterborough.

JOHN TEARSE SENT FOR TRIAL FOR THE MURDER OF CURRY

James Curry Says He Would Fear for His Life If the Prisoner were Acquitted--Jimmie Reid Tells His Story

Brampton, Jan. 8. — John Davis Tearse was committed for trial yesterday afternoon on the charge of murdering William Curry on Christmas night. He will be tried at the March assizes.

Mr A. P. Hassard, counsel for the prisoner, contended that no motive for murder, or at most, an exceedingly slight one had been shown. Since there was no motive, there could be no murder, he said. The prisoner might be indicted on a charge of carelessly handling firearms.

The Witness, Jimmie Reid, on his own statements, shows himself to be an unreliable witness, while James Curry undoubtedly harbors quite to such an extent that all his utterances must be viewed in that light. He says that he would rather be shot than see Tearse get free. Surely that shows that he is unduly prejudiced."

Crown Attorney McFadden contended that everything pointed to the deed having been murder according to the legal definition.

Tearse, under Mr. Hassard's instructions, made no statement in his own behalf.

JIMMIE REID'S EVIDENCE.

Upon the resumption of the trial after the noon adjournment, Mr. Hassard cross-examined the witness. Jimmie Reid:

"Did you hear Curry go over the story that you have told?" asked Mr. Hassard.

Jimmie admitted that he had.

"When Jack put his hand in his pocket for twine, what did he do with the gun?"

"He held it in his other hand."

"Which hand?"

"This one"—Jimmie faced around suddenly in accordance with his mental picture of the scene, and indicated his left hand.

Jimmie went on to tell of how, after the first shot was fired, he went out on the verandah.

"Did you hear Tearse say anything during the fight?" asked Mr. Hassard.

SHOUTED "MURDER."

"I heard him shout, 'Murder!' was the reply.

"Did you hear him say anything else?"

"He told me not to go to McKay's."

"Anything else?"

"He said, 'I'm done for!' Then I went for Mr. McKay."

AFRAID OF TEARSE.

Mr Hassard broke new ground when he asked Mr. Curry if he had made a statement since the death of his father to the effect that he would leave the country if Tearse was acquitted, and that he would rather have been shot than live in terror of his life.

The witness admitted having made the statements, and replied in reference to the latter statement; I would rather be shot than live feeling that my life was constantly in jeopardy."

"Is it true that you have kept the light burning every night since your father was shot?" asked Mr. Hassard.

"It has never been out," was the reply.

IMMIGRATION FOR PAST SEVEN YEARS

Winnipeg, Jan. 9.—The Canadian immigration figures for the past seven years are decidedly interesting and encouraging. They are:

1904	131,000	83,000
1905	150,000	114,000
1906	216,000	141,000

MAY CAUSE A ST. CAR STRIKE IN HAMILTON

Hamilton, Jan. 9.—The discharge of John Thraker, general foreman of the Street Railway Men's Union, yesterday may result in another street car strike. The affair has taken a serious turn, and it looks as if there will be trouble, unless the matter is patched up. There was a buzz of excitement among street railway employes yesterday, and it is probable a special meeting will be called to consider the matter.

Officials of the union stated that an international officer yesterday, and word was received that R. L. Reeves, who was here during the strike, had left Detroit, and would be here at two o'clock this afternoon.

At the time of the strike, when the Ontario Railway Board ordered the company to take back all the men, it was intimated that some of them would be weeded out later. It is stated that over half the union men employed at the time of the strike are not connected with the company now.

Sports

Newmarket, Jan. 8.—In an intermediate O.H.A. game here last night Midland defeated Newmarket by 12 goals to 4. The half-time score was 3 to 1. The local men gave the Northerners a good argument, but tailed away in the second half owing to lack of condition.

COULD GO SOME TOO

Belleville Ontario: When the Port Hope team came out for their preliminary, a hum of wonder ran through the audience, for as big a lot of boys were never seen on Belleville ice. Big as were the Lindsay Midgets, they were dwarfed by the representatives of Port Hope four of five of whom were six feet and over, and some of them were correspondingly stout.

A SHAKE-UP PROMISED.

Ottawa Free Press: The result of Saturday's Waterloo will probably bring about a shake-up in the team. Walsh may be tried at center and one or two other positions shifted. Hard work is now essential to round out the team a winner, and as Wanderers play next Saturday in Ottawa, the most important fixture on the schedule, the players must concentrate their full attention on the hard work ahead. Saturday's defeat may prove a boon to the team, and again it may cost them the championship. The milk has been spilt, but must be mopped up and lost ground recovered.

WHITCROFT AND CROWLEY.

Edmonton Bulletin: Fred Whitcroft as rover, showed up much better than on Christmas Day. He was in the game from start to finish, and never let up. Dreton at center played one of the best games of his life, and made many nice dashes down the ice. Campbell on the left wing was as usual, accurate and fast in his shooting. He played considerable off-side, however, and the puck was called back a large number of times on his account. Wilson in the goal stopped many hard shots, while "Bill" Crowley at coverpoint was a stone wall. Edmonton beat Strathcona by 9 to 3.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES.

Last night saw the opening of the City League when the Strathconas defeated the High Lifes, and Lakefield trimmed Bridgenorth.

John Boyd, the Negro Murderer, Hanged in Toronto Yesterday

Toronto, Jan. 8.—"It is about time for them to come for me."

These were the last words uttered by John Boyd, the Negro murderer, who was hanged in Toronto jail this morning. They were spoken in his cell a few minutes before his death took place. With him at the time were his spiritual advisers, Rev. Frank Vipond and Rev. E. E. Thompson. Both clergymen continued to pray and a minute or so later the hangman, John R. Radcliffe, entered the doomed man's cell.

Not a word was spoken, and in the stillness could be heard the chant of the ministers as they continued reading the Psalms. Boyd, who up till this was seated, stood up. In a moment Radcliffe had placed the handcuffs upon him, and the procession to the chamber of death took place.

WENT STEADY TO THE GALLOWS

Boyd went to his doom with no unsteady step. Before him walked Sheriff Mowat and Governor Chambers, followed by the two clergymen, chanting Psalms, then Boyd and Radcliffe followed by guards and policemen. Boyd walked with as steady a step as the rest. He kept his eyes cast down until the door of the death chamber was reached. Slowly the four in front filed into the room, and when it came his turn Boyd looked up for a moment at the crowd of about twenty people in the corridor beyond the door. He lowered his eyes for a moment and passed within.

On one side of the room stood Sheriff Mowat and Governor Chambers, on the other two clergymen and between them Boyd passed with Radcliffe's hand on his arm. Four steps and he stood on the trap doors—one foot on each.

EXECUTIONER IN A HURRY.

Hangman Radcliffe appeared to be in a hurry. As the clergymen continued the psalter he quickly put the black bag—or cap—over Boyd's head. Then kneeling down he tied a leather strap around his legs. Boyd was then ready for the rope. The noose, already made, was dropped over his head, and with a few quick jerks was tightened around his neck, the knot being under his left ear.

"The Lord's Prayer," said Radcliffe in what seemed a rather loud voice, and immediately Rev. Mr. Vipond and Rev. Mr. Thompson began, "Our Father which art in heaven." Radcliffe stood in readiness, and at the words "deliver us from evil," pulled the lever. With a loud, rattling noise the doors fell under, and the doomed man disappeared from view. All that could be seen from outside the door was a slight movement of the rope.

CLERGYMEN TURNED AWAY.

Just as soon as the recitation of the Lord's Prayer was begun, both clergymen turned their heads to avoid seeing the fatal drop.

When he had pulled the lever Radcliffe hurried from the small room. It was evident he wanted to get away as soon as possible.

Davidson-Cook Nuptials

A quiet wedding took place in Bloor street Presbyterian church, Toronto, on Tuesday evening, when Mr James Roger Davidson of Brandon, Manitoba, formerly of Peterborough was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Emma Evelyn Cook of Peterborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, of Cranbrook, B.C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr Wallace. The bridal couple were unattended, and left in the evening for their future home in Brandon. Only a very few friends were present. Among those from Peterborough were the Misses Dickson, Miss Louise Davidson and Mr Dickson Davidson, brother of the bridegroom.

POLICE

Yesterday's Police Court was crowded to the rear wall, the Sons of Eaton turning out in goodly numbers to hear the case of the Italians Nicolas Renzetti Antonio Maroni and Nicolas Maroni. The two Maronis were charged with having been disorderly in a public place on Tuesday. Mr. Minicola acted as interpreter. Mr Renzetti was represented by Mr. Gordon and pleaded not guilty to a similar charge.

Antonio Maroni, laid the charge against Renzetti.

Another charge was laid against Renzetti for interfering with Constable Newhall whilst the latter was arresting Maroni. Renzetti wanted to lay a charge against one of the Maronis. Mr. Gordon objected to Mr. Minicola acting as interpreter as he and Renzetti are not good friends. The Magistrate said if Mr. Gordon liked the Court would get an interpreter down from Toronto.

Renzetti was also charged with having assaulted both of the Maronis. He pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Gordon asked for bail for Renzetti saying that the latter had an interest in a house on Charlotte street. The Magistrate asked, 'Why not let him take a night's rest on the hill. There is a bath there.' His Worship said that he would allow bail for Renzetti in the sum of $500, and the others for $200 each. The cases were enlarged until this morning. It is likely that Michael Basso of Toronto, will be brought down to act as interpreter.

DEFENCE SPRUNG FIRST SURPRISE IN THE THAW CASE

Will Call Jerome's Doctors--Thaw Insists on Conferring as to Jurors, 500 of Whom Have Already Been Called to Court

Mrs. Hersch, aunt of Thaw, his father's sister, epileptic from childhood fits increasing in frequency with age; demented before her death.

H. W. Copely, uncle of Thaw, his mother's brother, from birth an imbecile.

Josiah Copely, Thaw's maternal uncle, violently insane, and in asylum for several years.

John Rees, son of Thaw's maternal aunt, an epileptic and in an institution for the feeble-minded; had maniacal outbursts, in which he attacked his mother, sister, and family physician.

New York, Jan. 8.—In the Thaw case the defence sprung the first surprise of the second trial today by announcing that it had issued subpoenas for several of the expert witnesses who testified for the prosecution at the first trial, and who, when District Attorney Jerome applied for a lunacy commission, made affidavit that in their opinion Thaw at the time of his inquiry was suffering from an incurable form of insanity. These same doctors, however, had previously testified on the witness stand in response to Mr. Jerome's famous hypothetical question, that they believed Thaw knew what he was about when he shot and killed Stanford White on the Madison Square roof garden. This move is intended by the defence as a blow to the prosecution in putting these same doctors on the stand, and is taken by some as showing a determination that Thaw shall not be convicted even with the danger of a stay in the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan as the alternative.

The alienists who were the principals of the prosecution at the first trial were Drs. Wm. Mabon, Charles MacDonald and Austin Flint.

It is remembered that at the trial last year District Attorney Jerome declared that he believed Thaw insane, but a commission found him otherwise. Now the defence takes a somewhat similar stand, but they say, "Thaw was—not is—insane, and that the insanity was merely temporary. It is said that they will adduce some of the very evidence which Jerome laid before the commission and which went to show that an aunt on Thaw's father's side, two uncles on his mother's side, and a son of a maternal aunt were epileptics, some of them becoming dangerous maniacs.

TODAY'S SESSION

New York, Jan. 8.—Two hundred more talesmen were empanelled this morning for the trial of Harry K. Thaw, who is endeavoring to escape the death penalty for the murder of Stanford White. This makes a total of five hundred men who have been called to court so that the lawyers for the prosecution and defence could select 12 to pass upon the fate of the millionaire prisoner. But three men are sworn as jurors so far. 169 of the first 200 talesmen have been examined and another 100 reported for the test today. Despite the long sessions of yesterday and the fact that it was eleven o'clock last night before the court adjourned, both District Attorney Jerome and Thaw's counsel, Martin W. Littleton were keen for an meeting later today.

NINETY-TWO YESTERDAY.

Ninety-two talesmen were examined yesterday, an unusual record. The jury box was filled, only to be depleted at the night session with nine men removed by peremptory challenging, five by the State, four by the defence. Four provisional jurors were then selected, and during the night they were kept isolated from the three men who have been sworn as permanent jurors. Justice Dowling will insist now that peremptory challenges be exercised by the lawyers after the man has passed the bias and cause stage for challenging. The method of filling the box before swearing the jurors did not prove to be the time-saver that was expected.

Thaw is beginning to feel the strain of this second trial. There are those who believe he is as nervous today as he was on the first day of his first trial.

Now Telephoning Without the Wires

Copenhagen, Jan. 9.—It was announced here today that wireless telephonic messages had been transmitted successfully yesterday between the Wireless Zee wireless station at Berlin and the Lyngby station, near this city. The distance is about two hundred miles. The American minister, Dr. Maurice F. Egan, and others from the American Legation, as well as several representatives of the French legation, visited the laboratory of Prof. Poulsen, who recently has developed a new system of transmission, and he demonstrated the power of his instrument to transmit messages clearly and accurately. He said that he hoped to communicate with America via Ireland by telephone in February next.

Conditions are Good Despite Alarmists

C. E. E. Usher, assistant general passenger agent of the C. P. R. is spending the holidays in this city. Mr. Usher makes his headquarters at Winnipeg, and he states that conditions generally throughout the west are much better than one is led to believe by the alarmist reports, which have been circulated.

While the wheat crop was not as large this year as last, still this was more than compensated for by the increase in prices. It has been estimated that $20,000,000 in excess of last years returns will be brought into the country by this year's crop.

Mr. Usher expects to see a very heavy tourist traffic to Victoria and the coast. The Seattle exposition will attract many and the Empress hotel will do all in its power to direct traffic to Victoria. With the opening of the Empress hotel, Victoria will be splendidly equipped to handle this business.

—The mock parliament under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club, opened yesterday evening. The leaders were Mr. N. A. Howard Moore and Mr. W. G. Shiner. Last night the elections were held.

ADVERTISERS IN THIS ISSUE

Warns Japs Anew on Immigration

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—Secretary Root has addressed a second warning to Japan on the immigration question.

In accordance with his instructions Ambassador O'Brien at Tokio has notified the Japanese minister for foreign affairs that the passage of an exclusion measure by the United States Congress depends entirely upon the efficiency with which the immigration regulations adopted by the Japanese government shall be enforced.

Determined as the President and Secretary of State are to stop the immigration of Japanese laborers, they propose at the same time to take a step which will show the far eastern nation that the American people are preserving generally an attitude of entire friendliness. This step will be in the form of a courteous expression of good will on the occasion of the departure to-morrow of Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador. By direction of the president every member of the cabinet will be at the railroad station to bid the ambassador farewell. Already Viscount Aoki has taken leave of the president and has been charged by the latter with a most cordial message of good will to the Japanese emperor and people.

Only once before has anything of this kind been done, and that was two years ago, when Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, was recalled by his government. At that time the president desired to emphasize that Sir Mortimer had been perfectly acceptable to him. This same purpose partially inspired the decision to show like courtesy to Viscount Aoki, but a more important reason existed in the desire to demonstrate the high regard the American government entertains for the representative of Japan.

Instructions cabled to Mr. O'Brien regarding the immigration question following consideration of the results of the policy pursued by the Japanese government during the last ten months. Assurances were given by that government in February that it would restrict immigration to this country by refusing to give passports to men of the laboring class. These assurances were not observed, possibly because of the failure on the part of sub-ordinates to execute instructions of the ministry for foreign affairs. Now information has been received of a confidential character indicating that the Japanese authorities have no real intention of enforcing the new regulations.

It is stated there are many difficulties, political in character, which stop the authorities from rigidly applying the regulations, not only as to immigration to the United States, but to Canada also. In order that Japan will realize exactly the position this government will adopt if the immigration of undesirables therefrom continues, the president and secretary Root decided to send the instructions.

There can be no protest by Japan against this warning. Throughout the discussion of this question Secretary Root has proceeded in accordance with article II. of the treaty of commerce and navigation between the two countries promulgated in 1895. By that article it is expressly stated that the stipulations of the treaty do not in any way affect the laws, ordinances, and regulations with regard to immigration of laborers which are in force or which hereafter may be enacted in either of the two countries."

This government contends it has under the article quoted entire liberty to do whatever it may see fit with respect to Japanese laborers. It can admit them, it can regulate their admission, or it can exclude them. The administration has appreciated, however, that to regulate or exclude Japanese laborers would arouse the Japanese people as nothing else could do, and for this reason it has preferred to leave the matter as far as possible to the hands of the Tokio authorities. It believed faithful observance of the assurances given last spring would have settled the question, but this having failed it hopes a strict enforcement of the new regulations will bring the desired result.

Every opportunity will be given to Japan to show her good faith. Secretary Root has been in conference with members of the foreign affairs committee of the house in regard to the Japanese question. In accordance with his advice they have decided not to consider Japanese exclusion until it shall appear the Japanese government is not efficiently enforcing the regulations. Members of the committee are being pressed by the Pacific slope representatives to take action.

They assert that the Republican party will be confronted in a short time by the question whether California and other coast states shall remain within its ranks. They point out that, to avoid those states from passing over to democratic control, the republican party was compelled to agree to Chinese exclusion.

Japan never will give it assent to the enactment of an exclusion bill. It has insisted from the beginning that its subjects will be treated in exactly the same manner as Europeans. It has urged the passage of a bill authorizing naturalization of Japanese desiring to transfer their allegiance to this country. President Roosevelt recommended the enactment of a naturalization measure in a message submitted to congress at the beginning of last session. He did not repeat the recommendation and he will not do so now. Moreover, the sentiment against anything of the kind is so strong in both houses that its consideration cannot be expected.

White Mob Attacked the Japs and Tried to Drive Them Out

Ogden, Utah, January 9.—With cries of "Hang the Japs," one hundred and fifty white men charged upon the section where between 500 and 600 Japanese laborers roomed early last night and attempted to drive out the Orientals. But for the arrival of Chief of Police Browning and all available members of the police and sheriff's forces much bloodshed would have resulted. As it was, missiles were thrown and a number of men were slightly injured. Several arrests were made.

The outbreak followed the more or less riot of the night previous, when several Japanese were badly beaten. Most of the attacked party fled, many of them leaving Ogden on trains yesterday. Those who remained attempted to fight the invaders with disastrous results to themselves. The whites who led the fight are insistent that all Japanese shall leave the city and it is believed they are waiting for the present excitement to blow over when they will renew the attack.

The trouble followed the discharge a week ago of 30 Americans employed on the Southern Pacific Railway icehouse and the substitution of Japanese at less pay. The company rescinded the order this week but meanwhile the feeling had grown against the Japs to such an extent that white railroad men vowed vengeance.

A TIP FROM AOKI.

San Francisco, January 9.— Viscount Aoki, the retiring Ambassador of Japan to the United States, who is on his way to the Orient, arrived here last night. He said that Japan was willing to restrict the immigration of her subjects, but would consider as an offensive move any attempt on the part of the United States to exclude Japanese from America or American insular possessions.

Some Hard Knocks

Woman Gets Rid of "Coffee Heart"

The injurious action of coffee on the heart of many persons is well known by physicians to be caused by caffeine. This is the drug found by chemists in coffee and tea.

A woman suffered a long time with severe heart trouble and finally her doctor told her she must give up coffee, as that was the principal cause of the trouble. She writes:

"My heart was so weak it could not do its work properly. My husband would sometimes have to carry me from the table, and it would seem that I would never breathe again.

"The doctor told me that coffee was causing the weakness of my heart. He said I must stop it, but it seemed I could not give it up until I was down in bed with nervous prostration.

"For eleven weeks I lay there and suffered. Finally husband brought home some Postum and I quit coffee and started new and right. Slowly I got well. Now I do not have any headaches nor those spells with weak heart. We know it is Postum that helped me. The Dr. said the other day, 'I never thought you would do what you are.' I used to weigh 92 pounds and now I weigh 135.

"Postum has done much for me and I would not go back to coffee again for any money, for I believe it would kill me if I kept at it. Postum must be well boiled like the directions on pkg. say, then it has a rich flavour and with cream is fine." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," found in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

It Could Not be so Here

A blue-eyed repulsive looking drunk has been drifting around the streets the last two days soliciting loans, and when not given the price of a beer he treats the person held up to a volley of filthy oaths which passers-by are compelled to hear.

ALD. BLLIOTT'S CARD

To the Electors:

Permit me to thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for your valued support Monday at the polls, which has elected me again as a member of your Board of Aldermen for 1908.

Believe me I fully appreciate the importance of the trust you have again imposed in me. The increased number of the votes polled for me I take as a vindication of my course in the council, which is very gratifying. I accept the verdict of the people regarding the Garbage Bylaw, not as an indication that they do not want some efficient system of disposing of the city's garbage, but because the garbage of the city has been so well looked after by individual householders, it has not become a menace to the health of the community.

Your obedient servant,

GEO. G. ELLIOTT.

Holland Fined $50 For Selling Liquor in Village of Lakefield

Gets Off on The Charge of Indecent Assault

Yesterday his Worship County Magistrate Edmeson had his hands and brain fully occupied all the morning and afternoon listening to the Lakefield indecent assault case. As told in a former issue of The Times, Fred Holland was charged with having committed an indecent assault upon Weston's wife, the two latter being English immigrants. There was also a subsequent charge of selling liquor illegally against Holland. Lakefield it must be remembered is one of those "Local option" burgs.

On the charge of selling liquor, Holland, who was ably defended by Mr. Gordon, of Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon, was fined $50 and given one week in which to pay the same. It was rumored last night on seemingly good authority, that Mr. Gordon will appeal to a higher court against this conviction. Mr. Cashman, ex-Lakefield license inspector, appeared for the prosecution.

Mrs. Weston was the first witness, and said that on Christmas Day at noon, she went over to Holland's residence to get a bottle of whiskey. Her husband had given her a dollar bill and fifty cents in silver. Mrs. Holland was taking her husband's dinner to the Cement Works. On the way they met Mr. Holland coming home. The party went back to the house going into the kitchen. Mrs. Holland gave witness a glass of beer. Mrs. Holland also had one and her little girl. Mr. Holland had whiskey. Witness said that she was sitting on a chair near the fire. At about 2.30 Mr. Holland made an indecent proposal to witness, during the interval witness claimed that she sat by the stove, waiting for the whiskey. Mr. Holland said he would give her the whiskey when she was going home. During this time Mr. Holland was drinking whiskey and when he made the proposal was good and drunk. He offered the dollar back again for a consideration.

Mrs. Weston said that soon afterwards she fainted, excited by the indecency of the man's suggestions. When she regained consciousness Holland was sitting at the foot of the bed and Mrs. Holland was down stairs. Mr. Holland again began his insulting remarks. Mrs. Holland wanted to know what her husband was doing, and came into the room. Witness said she wanted to go home to her children, but Mrs. Holland said they were downstairs.

At this point Mrs. Weston sat down on the seat in the witness box and fainted. A bottle of tincture of iodine fell from her hand.

In her evidence to his worship, before Mr. Gordon had commenced his cross-examination, witness said that when later, she was in the yard, Holland had again spoken as before.

"My wife has no go in her," he said. "I've taken a fancy to you."

The indecent assault case was discharged although defendant as above stated was "mauled," to use a slang expression for which apologies are due, this case of Mrs.

WESTERN OUTLOOK HOPEFUL

The Ottawa Free Press takes a roseate view of the situation in Western Canada. Land speculation has been nipped; but on the other hand western traders have begun to pay their debts to the eastern wholesaler and manufacturer, and with the larger amount of money in circulation in the west, owing to the higher prices paid this year, the situation has considerably improved.

This year the farmers of the plains are receiving an average of 80c per bushel cash on the streets, and this represents an amount of $19,200,000 placed in the hands of western farmers up to the present date. Last year the number of bushels shipped, up to December 10, was 25,000,000, but the price paid to farmers averaged only 65c per bushel, totalling $16,250,000. Therefore it will be seen that the country is better off this year by $2,950,000, and this represents wheat alone.

Oats are bringing 35c. per bushel to the farmer, while last year the price paid was only 27c. The figures for 1900 were 2,285,720 bushels, and 2,040,450 bushels for 1907, showing a decrease of 196,140 bushels. But no allowance is here made except for oats already graded. Taking these figures into consideration it will be found that the increased price of oats, despite the small crop, represents a difference of nearly $110,000 in favor of this year over the amount received by the farmers last year.

Barley has remained at about the same price, namely, 46c. per bushel, on the street. But the crop this year was valued at $578,532.96, as against $279,548 for 1906, which shows an increase of $196,978.26.

Flax is bringing about an average of $1.10 per bushel this year, which shows a decided increase, the figures being $347,403.41 for 1907, compared with $207,206.34 in 1906, an increase of $140,197.

It will be readily seen by the above figures that the amount of money put into the pockets of the western farmers up to the present time this year represents an increase of over $4,-$3,200,000 as compared with the same date last year. But the above figures, as far as barley, oats and flax are concerned, only take into consideration the grain that has been graded; allowing for the amount that may be in the elevators and on the railways at the present time, the increase of currency in circulation this year over last will easily total $5,500,000, and perhaps considerably over this figure.

In the face of the above figures there cannot be any reason for any serious depression, and one is inclined to believe that the optimistic view is the correct one—that no depression actually exists.

PARTY GOVERNMENT

Goldwin Smith told the Farmers' Institute that he feared party politics would ruin the country. This is no new view for the scholarly gentleman to express. He never had anything complimentary to say about political parties. In fact he never had very much to say that could be called complimentary to any one, for he is essentially cynical in his views of things. What he would substitute for party government he does not say. Neither do any of the others who have taken lately to declaiming against our present system. No one has even claimed that party government is ideal; but it does seem to be inevitable. Men of similar views will work together, and this leads to party organization. If we could abolish existing parties tomorrow, new parties would be formed the next day.

Two tendencies in political life are very noticeable. One is that of the members of parties, who are elected to legislative bodies, to subordinate themselves almost wholly to the wishes of the leaders. This is especially noticeable in the Canadian House of Commons, where the Liberal majority, so far as questions of policy or details of administration are concerned, might as well consist of so many mechanical toys. On questions, which are not strictly party ones, there is a great deal of freedom of voting, which shows that in point of fact all the members of that side of the House do not think alike on a very great many questions, perhaps we might say on the majority of questions there are wide differences of opinion, but the moment it is known that the matter to be decided is one touching the standing of the ministry, the taking of a vote is a mere formality. This paralysis of partyism goes even farther, and causes private members to refrain from expressing their views on new questions, lest something they may say will embarass the government. Indeed the Prime Minister is no longer simply the leader of the House. He has become its master, and one not frequently hears a member say that he will endeavor to arrange with him for an opportunity to express the views of his constituents on some matter affecting them in a special way. He is not so great a parliamentary Czar as the speaker of the United States House of Representatives, but he does not fall far short of it. We do not know that we should like to go so far as to say that the Canadian Parliament is simply a device for expressing the wishes of the Prime Minister, although some people might think the description not inapt. Things were not so bad as this when the Conservatives were in power; whether or not they will be when the Conservatives get back again, time alone can determine, but we hope for the best.

On the other hand the spirit of independence of party control is very much more manifest in the press than it ever was, and a larger section of the community is every year shaking itself free from party trammels. We have on a former occasion spoken of the development of an independent press, which, though in a general way divided between the two great parties, deems its duty to be to deal fairly with both, and always to make the public welfare, as it understands it, the chief object of its efforts. The breaking down of party lines among the voters is very noticeable. It is not necessary to go outside of Victoria for evidence of this, and the man, who talks much with his neighbors on political questions will bear testimony to the fact that party ties sit very lightly upon most of them. This state of things will soon rectify all that is wrong in party government, although we suppose it will always be the case that when a man exhibits qualities, which mark him out especially among his fellows, such as those which were exhibited by Disraeli, Gladstone and others who might easily be named, our representative system will substantially be a one-man government.

Too Risky

Ask your doctor if he does not think it would be wise for you to keep a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house.

"A hard chill, pain through the chest, difficult breathing." If this should be your experience, send for your doctor. It may be pneumonia! To doctor yourself would be too risky. If your doctor cannot come at once, give Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. When he comes, tell him exactly what you have done.

DETECTIVES AT WORK.

New York, Jan. 8.—One hundred new veni re men reported to Justice Dowling in the criminal branch of the supreme court this morning for duty in the case of the State against Harry Kendall Thaw, who is charged with the wilful murder of Stanford White. While there were nine jurymen in the box this morning there is no certainty that there will be even that many when court adjourns tonight. The nine men have been passed for cause, but the prosecution and the defense in the case each have thirty peremptory challenges, all of which may be exercised. Time after time while the jury was being selected for Thaw's first trial the jury box was full when one side or the other exercised a peremptory challenge thereby vacating a seat. So much importance is the case that it is hardly likely that either side will be satisfied with a jury until all of its peremptory challenges has been exhausted. Of the 300 veni re men summoned, 100 of whom reported yesterday, and 100 today, and the others under order to report tomorrow, not one has escaped close scrutiny from detectives representing both sides of the case. The district attorney has been over the list carefully, and his detectives have looked up the records of all the men summoned. The detectives in the employ of the defense have gone over the lists just as carefully, and whenever a man is called in the case, he may be sure that both of the attorneys who question him know all there is to learn about him.

AN ACCOUNTANT CHOSEN.

Charles C. Goss, an accountant, employed by the American Tobacco Company, residing at 5 W. 74th, was chosen to replace Conway, the deposed No. 5 provisional juror. He is 38 years old and married. They adjourn for lunch.

Something More Interesting.

The old darky was having his eyes tested for glasses. After the oculist had put up several cards of Roman letters, which the negro vainly endeavored to call off correctly, he looked over at the oculist and asked, with some disgust:

"Whar's de use in lookin' at dem things?"

"With them I'm trying to find out how far you can see distinctly," returned the eye specialist.

"Waal," declared the old darky, unsatisfied, "dey ain't worth tryin' t' make out. Put up er watermillion!"—Bohemian.

The Origin of the Holy Stone.

At the reformation, when the church of St. Nicholas at Yarmouth was despoiled, the carved stone of many of the monument's, both in the church and outside in the graveyard, were shipped off, some to Newcastle to be turned into grindstones and some on board the ships of the royal navy of the day to be used in scouring the decks, whence it is interesting to know the seamen's term "holy stoning the deck" takes its origin.—London Standard.

Moles as Mesmerists.

Like the squirrel and some other animals, the mole lays up a store of food during the autumn months. A curious and interesting feature in relation to this storage is that the mole does not kill the worms it collects and depends there in such a condition that they do not attempt to escape.—Cassell's Life.

YOU FEEL TIRED ALL THE TIME

Night comes and it's hard to sleep. Morning dawns and the anxious tired feeling is still there. Unwilling to get up, a strong desire to rest just a little longer.

Unwise to neglect this gradual decline. It can't cure itself,—but Ferrozone by forming rich pure blood at once supplies nutriment for building up the system. This extra nourishment is distributed throughout the entire body, gives force to the nerves, strength to the muscle, and power to the digestive organs.

At once you feel braced, toned and strengthened. You know a powerful force is building up depleted energies, you realize what it means to have the vim and spirit of robust health.

Search the world over and you won't find a tonic, to nourish, build up, and fortify a weak, lady like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the best all round strengthening medicine ever discovered.

To take Ferrozone regularly is an insurance policy of health, a guarantee that you will be free from vexatious spells of dizziness and debilitating sickness of every kind. Surely it is worth while trying a medicine that Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Bowsman, Man., speaks of as follows:

"I want to state my case, because I think it may be the means of assisting other suffering women back to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffered from queer aches and ayments. Every thing that went wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments, but they didn't help. He said that my low condition of health was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous, and was made so by Ferrozone." (Signed) Mrs. H. S. Gold.

Before your ill-health assumes a chronic or malignant form build up with Ferrozone. Sold everywhere, 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

The Great Provincial Charity, The Hospital for Sick Children, Calls On You For Aid.

Remember that this Hospital is not a local institution, but Provincial.

"I LIKE PICTURES"

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment.

Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that Works.

Last year there were 1063 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 294 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.21 each per day, or $58.38 for the 47½ days' stay.

If your dollar could straighten the foot of a little boy or girl with club foot, you would gladly give it, and your dollar will do that. There were 70 cases of club foot treated last year. Out of the 70, about 50 were from the country.

If you know of any child in your county who is sick or has club foot, and whose parents can not afford to pay, send the name to the Provincial Secretary.

The stock books are open. Won't you let the Hospital write your name down for a few shares in Heaven's own bank of healing little children?

A great mine of Mercy—the mining stock that always pays dividends—is bought with the money that helps The Hospital for Sick Children to extract the Gold of Life from the Quartz of Death.

MEN AND WOMEN.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

Hastings, who answered, "I know the family well. Dora is not now at home, but is living with my sister."

Many and many a time had Uncle Nat repeated to himself the name of Dora, but never before had he heard it from other lips, and the sound thrilled him strangely, bringing back in a moment all his olden love for one whose mother had been so dear. In the jet-black eyes there was a dewy softness now, and in the tones of his voice a deep tenderness, as, drawing nearer to his guest, he said in a half-whisper, "Tell me of her—of Dora—for though I never saw her I knew her mother."

"And loved her too," rejoined Mr. Hastings, on purpose to rouse up the old man, who, starting to his feet, exclaimed: "How knew you that—you whom I never saw until to-night? Who told you that I loved Fannie Deane? Yes, it is true, young man—true, though love does not express what I felt for her; she was my all—my very life, and when I lost her this world was a dreary blank. But go on—tell me of the child, and if she is like her mother. Though how should you know? You who never saw my Fannie?"

"I have seen her," returned Mr. Hastings; "but death was there before me, and had marred the beauty of a face which once must have been lovely. Five years ago last January I found her dead, and at her side was Dora, sweetly sleeping with her arms around her mother's neck."

"You—you!" gasped the old man, drawing near to Mr. Hastings "you found them thus? I could kneel at your feet, whoever you may be, and bless you for coming here to tell me this; I never knew before how Fannie died. They never wrote me that; but go on and tell me all you know. Did Fannie freeze to death while in India I counted my gold by hundreds of thousands?"

Briefly Mr. Hastings told what he knew of Mrs. Deane's sad death, while the broad chest of Uncle Nat heaved with broken sobs and the big tears rolled down his sunken cheeks.

"Heaven forgive me for tarrying here while she was suffering so much!" he cried. "But what of Dora? She did not die. I have written to her, and sent her many messages, but never a word has she replied, save once"—here Uncle Nat's voice grew tremulous as he added, "and then she sent me this—look!—'twas Fannie's hair," and he held to view a silken tress much like the one which lay next Howard Hastings' heart! "Oh, what a child it made of me, the first sight of this soft hair!" he continued, carefully returning it to its hiding place, without a word of the generous manner in which it had been paid for.

"Shall I tell him now?" thought Mr. Hastings, but Uncle Nathaniel spoke before him, and, as if talking with himself, said softly, "Oh, how I loved her, and what a wreck that love has made of me! But I might have known it. Twenty-one years' difference in our ages was too great a disparity, even had my face been fair as John's. She was seventeen, and I was almost forty; I am sixty now, and with every year added to my useless life my love for her has strengthened."

"Could you not transfer that love to her daughter? It might make you happier," suggested Mr. Hastings, mournfully shaking his head Uncle Nat replied, "No, no. I've tried to win her love so hard. Have even thought of going home, and taking her to my bosom as my own darling child—but to all my advances she has turned a deaf ear. I could not make the mother love me—I cannot make the child. It isn't in me, the way now, and I must live here all alone. I wouldn't mind that so much, for I'm used to it now, but when I come to die there will be nobody to hold my head, or to speak to me a word of comfort, unless God sends Fannie back to me in the dark hour, and who knows but he will?"

Covering his face with his hand, Uncle Nathaniel cried aloud, while Mr. Hastings, touched by his grief, and growing each moment more and more indignant at the deception practised upon the lonesome old man, said slowly and distinctly: "Dora Deane never received your letter — never dreamed how much you loved her—never knew that you had sent her money. She has been duped,—abused—and you most treacherously cheated by a base, designing woman! To tell you this, sir, I have come over land and sea; I might have written it, but I would rather meet you face to face—would know if you were worthy to be the uncle of Dora Deane!"

Every tear was dried, and bolt upright, his keen eyes flashing gleams of fire, and his glittering teeth ground firmly together, Nathaniel Deane sat, rigid and immovable, listening to the foul story of Dora's wrong, till Mr. Hastings came to the withholding of the letter and the money paid for Fannie's hair. Then, indeed, his clenched fists struck fiercely at the empty air, as if Eugenia had been there; and, springing halfway across the room, he exclaimed: "The wretch! The fiend! The beast! The devil! What shall I call her? Help me to some name which will be appropriate."

"You are doing very well, I think," said Mr. Hastings, smiling in spite of himself at this new phase in the character of the excited man, who, foaming with rage, continued to stalk up and down the room, setting his feet upon the floor with vengeance, and with every breath denouncing Eugenia's perfidy.

"Curse her," he muttered, "for daring thus to maltreat Fannie's child, and for making me to believe her so ungrateful and unkind! And she once cut off her hair to buy a party dress with, you say?" he continued, stopping in front of Mr. Hastings, who nodded in the affirmative, while Uncle Nat, as if fancying that the few thin locks which grew upon his own bald head were Eugenia's long black tresses, clutched at them savagely, exclaiming: "The selfish jade! But I will be avenged, and Madam Eugenia shall rue the day that she dared thus to deceive me. That mother, too, has not, it seems, been wholly guiltless. She was jealous of my Fannie, she has been cruel to her, but I'll remember that too!" and a bitter laugh echoed through the room, as the wrathful old man thought of his revenge.

But as the wildest storm expends its fury, so Uncle Nat at last grew calm, though on his dark face there were still traces of the fierce passion which had swept over it. Resuming his seat, and looking across the table at Mr. Hastings, he said, "It is not often that old Nat Deane is moved as you have seen him moved to-night; but the story you told me set me on fire, and for a moment I felt that I was gone mad. But I am now myself again, and would hear how you learned all this."

In a few words Mr. Hastings told of his foolish fancy for Eugenia, and related the circumstance of his having overheard her conversation at the hotel in Rochester.

"And Dora, you say, is beautiful and good," said Uncle Nat; "and I shall one day know her and see if there is in her aught like her angel mother, whose features are as perfect to me now as when last I looked upon them beneath the locust trees."

Pushing low his head, he seemed to be thinking of the past, while Mr. Hastings, kissing fondly the picture of Dora Deane, laid it softly upon the table, and then anxiously awaited the result. Uncle Nathaniel did not see it at first, but the curl long fell upon it, and, with a cry like that which broke from his lips when first he looked on his dead Fannie's hair, he caught it up, exclaiming, "'Tis her—'tis Fannie, my long-lost darling, come back to me from the other world! Oh, Fannie, Fannie!" he cried, as if his reason were indeed unsettled, "I've been so lonesome here without you. Why didn't you come before?"

Again for a time he was silent, and Mr. Hastings could see the tears dropping upon the face of Dora Deane, who little dreamed of the part she was acting far off in Hindostan. Slowly the reality dawned upon Uncle Nat, and, speaking to Mr. Hastings, he said, "Who are you that moves me thus from one extreme to another, making me first a fury and then a child?"

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties in Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by all dealers.

The Alternative.

At a fancy dress ball for children a policeman was stationed at the door and was instructed by the committee not to admit any adults. Shortly after the beginning of the ball a woman came running up to the door and demanded admission.

"I'm sorry, mum," replied the policeman, "but I can't let any one in but children."

"But my child is dressed as a butterfly," exclaimed the woman, "and she has forgotten her wings."

"No matter," replied the policeman; "orders is orders, so you'll have to let her go as a caterpillar."—London Answers.

Lights Out!

An irascible sergeant, going his nightly round of the barracks in order to make sure that all lights had been extinguished, noticed that a window was illuminated. He roused the occupants of the room. "Put out that light," he ordered, "and be quick about it!"

"But it's moonlight," explained a private.

"I don't care what it is," roared the sergeant; "put it out!"—London Graphic.

Costly Monotony in Dress.

Our clothes are all alike, and this monotony has led to unlimited extravagances. What has not been done to soften the eternal pinafore frock look original? New elaborations are invented daily, each one more expensive than the last, but nobody is deceived. It is still the old pinafore, only a little madder, a little dearer, every day.—London Graphic.

An Unfortunate Interruption.

"George was just going to propose to me last night."

"And what happened?"

"A tire blew up, and then he couldn't think of anything else."

Weak Women

Do weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. And with that way, two treatments, must be considered. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former, Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical relief, a quaint old-country remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal, tonic treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, and, like the tonic of all nerve, all blood and all tissue ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. If restless and nervous, if anxious and fearful, if troubled about nervous weaknesses, with the Restorative, comes nervous restfulness, strength returned, vigor and ambition, and the weak woman, before she knows it, is a strong woman, with the charm of health and beauty.

Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative, for 30 days or 60 days—a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 651 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 6 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1.400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of J. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (INC.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Humorous Report of Editor's Operation

The many readers and friends of that bright and sparkling little country sheet, the Bobcaygeon Independent, whilst sympathising with Brer Smiff in his temporary divorce from literary work, will be pleased to learn that the outcome was successful. Mr. Stewart in that paper writes as follows;

Last week this great journal was knocked out, and unable to come to time. A miserable, rotten appendix did it. The business manager, reporting editor, mechanical foreman, chief compositor and head push were all bowled out at once. They all had the same appendix. The retirement of such a bunch of the staff left the boss and the "devil" up a tree—a Christmas tree, all among the fuzzy-wuzzy branches and burning taper. This week, several distinguished graduates of this great print shop were fortunately home for the holidays, and thanks to their valued assistance the g.j. hobs up serenely. The appendix is gone, and the business manager and his bunch of colleagues, this g. j. is happy to say, are doing well, and are desirous of expressing their grateful thanks for the many very kind inquiries after their health. Smiff will have recovered from his usual holiday tout in a few days, and by next week it is hoped that the Bob. Ind. will be itself again.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement of each ingredient—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredient known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

Suspicion Rests on Whitmore for the Murder of His Wife

New York, Jan. 7.—In a safe in a saloon owned by Fred E. Raven, at No. 48. Tillary street, Brooklyn, the police discovered yesterday afternoon what they declared to be the most important evidence yet unearthed in connection with the Harrison pond murder mystery. They found there the rings and other jewelry which Theodore S. Whitmore, husband of the murdered woman, declared his wife Lena was wearing when he last saw her on Christmas Day.

According to the bartender of the saloon this jewelry was also there on the night of December 30 by Whitmore, who requested him, he says, to look it in the safe.

The jewelry consists of one diamond ring, one marquise ring, one turquoise ring set with diamonds, one garnet ring, one wedding ring, a butterfly breast pin set with diamonds, another breast pin set with pearls, and a lover's knot pin studded with diamonds.

Besides the rings and breastpins the safe contained a gold locket with the monogram E. W. E., a half dozen pearl handled fruit knives, a half dozen teaspoons and a half dozen silver forks, all of which the barkeeper asserts Whitmore brought to him, together with a watch.

HUSBAND IS NERVOUS.

Whitmore, who has been detained as a witness for the coming inquest is in a cell at the Harrison station house, and his nerves are in a pitiable condition. Mr. Vickers, the prosecutor, refused to talk about the case after having been closeted with Whitmore. The latter also would have nothing to say and begged the prosecutor to see that no one was permitted to disturb him. He said that he did not even wish a lawyer to visit him.

Despatches from Albany say that the police records of that city show that Whitmore was arrested there in 1891 on complaint of Lena Slater, but that the charge was withdrawn as it was followed by a wedding ceremony in court. A few months later Mrs. Whitmore had her husband arrested for non-support, but withdrew the charge in 1894 she preferred a charge of assault, third degree, against him.

On September 28, 1896, Whitmore was sentenced at Troy to Clinton prison, according to the State prison records, for two years and seven months. Whitmore and a companion were accused of robbing a man on the Rensselaer approach of the New York Central Railroad bridge between Albany and Rensselaer, and throwing him over an embankment. Whitmore was pardoned the following year by Governor Black.

Whitmore's Brooklyn neighbors are full of gossip as to the domestic life of the motorman and his wife, and told many sensational stories as to the man's actions on the day after Christmas. The unanimous feature of their testimony was that Whitmore appeared to be intoxicated when he returned home the day after Christmas.

Walter McDonald and James Lawler, two waiters, employed in "Bob's Restaurant" in Park Row, have also been summoned to the inquest. Whitmore has told the detectives that he dined in this restaurant about one o'clock in the morning of December 26. Neither of the waiters remembers seeing him there that night. Each declares he knows the man well, as he was accustomed to eating there. Besides this, the waiters rented rooms from Whitmore in his Adams street house.

After making careful inquiry in the neighborhood of the Whitmore home, the police say they failed to find the store mentioned by Whitmore as the place where he bought buns and tobacco about four o'clock on Christmas Day. The statement made by the prisoner that he had made some purchases at a grocery store opposite his home was also found to be untrue, the detectives declare.

At other places in the neighborhood where Whitmore was well known no one could be found who had sold him anything on Christmas Day, the detectives aver.

Captain Kuhne, chief of the Brooklyn detective bureau, said that at first Whitmore denied knowing anything about the trunk. This was sent to Mrs. Whitmore's sister, Mrs. Smither, but later admitted sending it. The couple are known to have been quarrelling over money matters and to have had a fight on Christmas Day before the woman left the house, saying she was going to visit a sister living in Schenectady.

After Whitmore's first denial that the body found in the swamp was that of his wife, Mrs. Martin Smithers, of No. 486 East 170th street, Bronx, the dead woman's sister, visited the Harrison morgue and identified the body.

Mrs. Whitmore had a brother and married sister in Schenectady and on Christmas Eve told her mother and her married sister in the Bronx she was going there for a few days. She has not been seen in Schenectady and from that place came much evidence last night.

Whitmore told the detectives he returned to his home early on Christmas Day and met his wife, who had been away from him several days. She went away about four o'clock in the afternoon on Christmas Day. He said he knew her sister's address, although he understood she was going to visit friends in Schenectady.

Says Rheumatism is Not Incurable Now

Scientist Says It is a Symptom of Inactive Kidneys

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the system and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

There are numerous remedies known which many persons believe will relieve this suffering—salicilate of soda, colchicum, potash, etc.—but these drugs are terribly hard on the stomach, often ruining this most important organ, and they fail as often as they relieve.

A well-known specialist, who has probably treated more cases of rheumatism than anyone else, and who is also the most successful, says the following simple treatment, which is harmless and inexpensive and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix by shaking in a bottle, taking a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, sorrows, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter. Scalds, stones, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

COUNTRY NEAR KIEL ALL UNDER WATER

Kiel, Jan 9.—A violent northeast wind has driven the waters of the Baltic inshore and the low-lying districts of this city are flooded to the depth of six or seven feet. Many casualties to fishing and other small crafts are reported. A similar driving in of the sea is occurring at all the coast towns. Guns have been fired all day from the Lubeck fortress to warn the villagers that the sea is rising and likely to flood the country and that they should move further inland.

The scheduled manoeuvres of a German fleet have been postponed on account of the weather.

Would Shut Out Japanese Coming from Honolulu to Canada

Ottawa, Ont., January 10.—The Department of the Interior has under consideration a departure in regard to immigration. The intention is to amend the regulations so that in future all immigrants must come direct to Canada from their place of birth or the country of citizenship. This regulation will apply to the Atlantic as well as the Pacific. While it is not framed against any particular class of immigrants, and will be general in its character, it will have the effect of shutting out Japanese coming from Honolulu to British Columbia. It is understood the Japanese authorities have intimated to Mr. Lemieux that there will be no objection that will exclude Japanese from Canada, if not emigrating direct from Japan to Canada. In regard to direct immigrants they have given assurances to reduce this to the requested minimum, but they are desirous of doing it in their own way, without making any formal compact. If that is done the present difficulty over Japanese immigration will be solved, but if not, then the treaty will be abrogated. That appears to be the general vieww in ministerial circles here. The proposed new regulation providing for immigrants coming direct would also mean that European immigrants would not be permitted to come by way of the United States ports, thereby ensuring a more efficient medical inspection and a better control over the character of immigrants landing in Canada. However, it is probable nothing definite will be done in respect to changing the present regulations until after Hon. Mr. Lemieux has returned to the capital and has made his report to the government.

LINDSAY MIDGETS COMING STRONG

Lindsayites will be here tonight in large numbers to cheer for their famous Midgets when they stalk up against the locals in the opening game here of the intermediate O.H.A. The visitors and their supporters are confident of victory since they defeated Cobourg in their first game in Cobourg, but the Strats will make them go all the way to win, and will put up the hardest kind of argument to carry off the honors. There will no doubt be a bumper crowd as the reserve seat plan is filling up fast.

Death of Mr. J. W. T. Fairweather

The older citizens of Peterborough, who will remember that entertaining and popular merchant who some years ago occupied the premises now used by Mr. Thomas Barrie, viz., Mr. J. W. T. Fairweather, will regret most sincerely that the latter has passed away at the family residence, Queen's Park, Toronto, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Fairweather has been in bad health for the past two years. The deceased was the eldest son of the late Mr. William Fairweather, who was for many years a prominent Peterborough merchant. In 1895 he removed to Toronto where he conducted a large business.

About two years ago Mr. Fairweather was united in marriage to a Montreal lady. While here he was popular among a wide circle of business and personal friends, and in Toronto he achieved a similar popularity. He leaves behind him a widow, his mother, one brother Robert, and two sisters, Misses Bella and Jessie Fairweather, all of whom reside in Toronto.

The funeral will proceed from the C.P.R. station here on the arrival of the 11.48 train on Saturday, January 11, and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

There's Quite a Row About Unsanitary Bakeshops

We don't know how bad or how good they are.

The papers say some startling things and the health boards are stirred up.

It seems an opportune time to say that the most nourishing bread in existence is not in the shape of bread at all, but is composed of granules.

That's GRAPE-NUTS.

No bread in the world is so nutritious, for Grape-Nuts food is made of entire wheat and barley and goes through various processes of baking, during which the starch part is turned into a form of sugar to be seen glistening in minute particles on each granule of Grape-Nuts. The food is the easiest to digest in the entire list of all foods and it will pay to use it in place of white bread and observe how well you feel.

The factories are the world's standard for cleanliness and sanitary conditions.

Scores of visitors are escorted thru the factories each day and see just how Grape-Nuts and Postum are made and how immaculately clean every nook and corner is.

Come, you all are welcome.

If you can't come, send a postal with address carefully written and we'll mail free the beautiful illustrated book, "The Door Unbolted."

It takes one all thru and the pictures show the interesting machines at work.

Grape-Nuts food and Postum are never touched by human hands in the processes of making.

Healy Falls' Power

Result of Municipal Elections Favorable to the Company

Havelock, Jan. 7.—Managing-Director Culverwell of the Northumberland Durham Power Co., states that Havelock and supporters of the company were elected all round and its opponents defeated. The local company and certain Peterborough city influence were directed against the Healey Falls supporters.

The Port Hope municipal street lighting bylaw was carried, being supported by him. The promoters of the bylaw advocated its passage for the purpose of bringing the local company to a contract at a fair rate and short term so that the Healey Falls competition would be secured.

Mr. W. Croft Robbed in Broad Daylight

Yesterday, between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Mr. William Croft, the veteran ginger beer manufacturer, left his delivery sleigh in front of his residence at 259 Park street. Mr. Croft, not anticipating theft or trouble, left two robes in the sleigh, the horse being in the stable feeding. One of the robes was a light colored, goat skin robe with the lining and the other was a well worn black colored goat skin robe lined with black. Fortunately a short time after the robbery occurred, a neighbor of Mr. Croft called at the latter's house and told him she had seen the theft take place. She gave a full description of the thieves.

Mr. Croft reported the matter to the police who are now hot-foot after these petty depredators. As the lady referred to, has given a concise description of the thieves, it will pay these gentry to return the robes to Mr. Croft's residence before they are captured and sent to Central Prison for a long term.

Otonabee Couple United in Marriage

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. R. Bainbridge, Otonabee, when his youngest daughter, Ellen, became the bride of Mr. Herbert Taylor, of Otonabee. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Coon of Mark street Methodist church. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired becomingly in white organdie and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was assisted by her cousin, Miss Mary Dayell, who was costumed in similar style. Little Miss Bertha Sargisson, niece of the bride, attracted much attention as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. Wm. Bainbridge.

After the ceremony about forty guests sat down to a sumptuous repast.

The bride was the recipient of many costly presents testifying to the high esteem in which she is held. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain, and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet.

Mr and Mrs. Taylor will reside in Otonabee.

Invents Apparatus To Telegraph Pictures

Paris, Jan. 10.—Pascal Berjonneau, an inventor, yesterday exhibited before the postmaster general and a number of persons interested in scientific investigation, a new telephotograph apparatus which can be adapted to the wireless system or to the ordinary telegraph wire system. He transmitted the picture of the postmaster without the aid of wires from one end of the hall to the other. The inventor claims that distance does not interfere with the effectiveness of his methods. Photographs, he says, can be sent by it between New York and Paris.

Life in the Shanties

Mr. Tuffield Delaire, the well-known Cavendish Lumber Company's foreman has decided to spend the whole winter in the city. Mr. Delaire, in conversation with a Times representative yesterday rather put an end to any wild idea that local dilletants might have had of going out to cut the mighty monarchs of the glen, from their respective stumps.

Mr. Delaire's description of shanty life as "she" exists, includes turning out at possibly 3 a.m. with lanterns and "Jacks" to illuminate the way to work. While such life is healthy and adapted to the wants of husky men, fond of work, we fear that a subscriber who asked us to find out particulars as to the work had better keep to his job of measuring cut yards of print, tape and cottons. The work is not for him. Our friend of the dry goods counter would last about one-fifth of one week, should he get out in the back woods confronted with the work of a shanty man.

EDNA GOODRICH, WHO INTRODUCED WHITE WAS SUBPOENAED

But the Pretty Actress Tore Up the Paper--Does Not Want to Tell What She Knows About Evelyn Thaw and Stanford White

New York, Jan. 9—Edna Goodrich, the actress whom Evelyn Thaw said introduced her to Stanford White and first took her to the studio gatherings in the Madison Square Garden tower, may be brought into court for contempt. A subpoena to appear as a witness for the defence was served upon her last night at the Grand Opera house, where she is appearing with Mat Goodwin, and she tore up the paper. A report of the affair was made to Justice Dowling, when the Thaw trial Justice Dowling, when the Thaw trial convened this morning.

FIGHT FOR EVIDENCE

An attachment can be served upon her to report whenever she is needed, or she can be fined and imprisoned for contempt of court. It is probable that a later fight will be made by the actress and Goodwin to escape giving evidence, as it would interfere with the engagement of the theatrical company with which she is playing. Whether the court and District Attorney Jerome will consent to have her testimony taken by commission and read on the stand in affidavit form is a question. The service of papers on Edna Goodrich is in accordance with the plan of the defence to substantiate with material witnesses every portion of the evidence given by Evelyn Thaw when she was on the second last day of her testimony.

The truth or falsity of her recital cannot be attacked directly by the commonwealth, but Assistant District Attorney Garvan was abroad last summer, and it is said he obtained much information to combat the evidence, and to cast doubt upon its authenticity.

EDNA WAS COY.

The process server sat throughout the matinee performance of "An American Citizen" yesterday, intending to serve the papers when she left the stage after the performance. But Miss Goodrich ate a light meal served in the dressing room, and did not leave the building. After the night performance the server was denied admission to the stage entrance. He waited until Edna Goodrich and her mother came out, and then threw the subpoena upon the woman Miss Goodrich denied she was herself, and indignantly tore the papers to bits.

BOX IS FULL AGAIN

New York, Jan. 9.—There were 78 of the 100 men in the box for the Thaw jury on hand this morning. It is expected that the jury will be secured by tomorrow night, and the case be ready for the taking of testimony by Monday. There were nine men on the box, six of them trial jurors and three on probation, yesterday afternoon.

Within a half hour after the examination of talesmen began, a fourth juror, passed successful examination as a temporary juror. He was Frank Manning, an insurance agent, who said he had read some of the testimony of the last trial, but had never read the morning papers thoroughly. He resides at 90 Lexington avenue. For a time it seemed that insanity as a defence for murder was a hard dose for the talesmen to swallow, and Mr. Littleton stood a challenge for cause. Later it was withdrawn when Mr. Manning said he expected to be informed by the court relative to the insanity probabilities, and was ready to form a verdict in accordance with the testimony.

EVELYN'S VEHICLE HELD UP.

Owing to the crowds outside the building, the electric vehicle containing Evelyn was held up. There was a rush which swept the policemen aside, and the best they could do was to clear a path across the pavement for the form of artist's model to hurry in. Once inside she was surrounded by another squad of police and escorted to an elevator.

Chas. H. Thurston, a bookkeeper, residing in the Bronx, was the eleventh juror placed on the probation list.

The jury box was filled when John DeHart, an architect of 1029 Fox avenue, was accepted as number twelve.

World to End Death Bands--Extermination of Black Hand Society

New York, Jan. 9.—Following the wrecking by a bomb of the tenement house owned by Ciro Peggioreale at No. 342 East Eleventh street, it became known that a plan of world-wide scope has been devised by Lieut Joseph Petrosini, in command of the Italian Bureau of the police department, to crush the Black Hand, Mafia, and similar societies.

Petrosini has established correspondence with heads of the police department in Rome and other Italian cities, and through them will learn when ever a brigand or black mailer has left the country supposedly for America. He has established similar connections with the police of Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Denver, San Francisco, and New Orleans, and many smaller cities, and in this manner the local police expect to keep track of the leaders of groups and cliques in this country.

Lieut. Petrosini is aiding in the organization of a national body of Italian-Americans, which proposes to appeal to Congress to pass an immigration law to cause a more careful examination of immigrants from Sicily and South Italy.

"Many undesirable citizens, men known as successful brigands in Sicily and Southern Italy, are permitted to enter America," Lieut. Petrosini said. "They should be kept out. When they reach America they are admired and made leaders by the uneducated of their kind, and soon are again at their old games of murder and blackmail.

"This can only be stamped out by driving as many of them as possible out of the country and scaring others out, because the average Sicilian is afraid to tell on his persecutors.

"Peggioreale, who came from Sicily," continued Petrosini, "will tell us nothing about this explosion. When his home at No. 215 Elizabeth street was blown up in a similar manner three years ago he was equally uncommunicative. He never brought any black Hand letters to us or aided us to solve the mystery."

Peggioreale said he does not know who his enemies are, and that he is closely guarding his children fearing they might be kidnapped.

"ONTARIO." THEIR CRY.

Port Hope Guide: The O.H.A. match between Cobourg and Port Hope juniors was the feature, and the opening of 1908 will long be remembered. It was a great struggle, and Port Hope carried off the honors by 5 to 3. The blue and white colors floated in every corner, and the way those enthusiasts sang "Ontario" recalled the bygone days and made your heart glad. This is the greatest hall in this Province, and it never grows old.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome spikenard leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by all Dealers.

Was Wrecked on the Shoals

Norfolk, Va., January 10.—A broken message received here from Cape Hatteras, on the North Carolina coast, reports the stranding and loss on the treacherous Diamond Shoals, yesterday, of an unknown schooner, of whose crew of seven men, five perished and two were saved.

The message, which fails to give the name of the lost vessel, reports her to have been a schooner bound from Long Point, Maine, to Charleston, S. C., laden with fish scrap.

The captain of the vessel was among those who were lost.

Gary Is Dark and Thirsty

Gary, Ind., with its 35,000 population, is suffering a water and light famine. The water works pumping station and electric light power plant, which is in reality one plant, went out of commission Saturday afternoon, and Supt. William Liscomb said the repairs could not be completed before to-morrow. Meanwhile the town is without protection against fire.

As there is no gas in the town, the only means of lighting for the last two nights have been lamps and candles. Last evening it was reported that the supply of candles was almost exhausted. Even the saloons have crossed the "seven pers" off the drink lists. Most of the barber shops have closed their doors, and business was practically suspended last evening.

THE COMMERCIAL OUTLOOK

At the recent meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway shareholders called to authorize a new issue of $20,000,000 of capital stock, Sir Thos. Shaughnessy declared his confidence and that of his fellow directors in the future of the country. They agree that Canada will continue to progress and that any temporary set-back consequent upon general world conditions will prove comparatively unimportant. Sir Thomas said that the road should continue adding to its facilities so that it might be ready to handle the largely increased traffic that was certain to be thrown upon it. Evidently the managers of the Canadian Pacific have no fears for the future. The New York Financial Chronicle believes that business should soon be restored to something like a normal basis, but that before distrust can be wholly removed "there must be less antagonism toward corporate bodies." The London Statist thinks that the period of depression in the United States will be long or short, according to the action of Congress. A writer in the Review of Reviews calls attention to crops, railway earnings, exports and the gold supply as basis for confidence in an early restoration of prosperous conditions. The depression, he says, may continue well on toward the end of this year, but "our present financial and business depression will probably end almost as suddenly as it began." Within two months, this writer observes, money may be plentiful and cheap in stocks and bonds may be rising. The New York Post recalls that the panic of 1893 was attended by a great many railway bankruptcies, but there is no indication today of a repetition of such catastrophies. On the whole the situation, both here and across the line, seems fairly sound, and the feeling is that once the money flurry is over the tide of prosperity should begin to rise again.

France Sees War With the Japs

Paris, Jan. 10.—Paris newspapers continue to declare that America and Japan are on the eve of war. The Echo de Paris thinks the conflict will come when the American navy reaches oriental waters.

"Admiral Evans" the Echo says, "will do well to navigate only with all lights masked at night, keeping away from the coasts, and ordering to remain ceaselessly at their posts the officers and men charged with looking out for torpedoes."

The Petit Parisien inclines the same view and concludes a long article on the subject as follows:—

"Unfortunately the Japanese are bound to win at first, anyway, and the English have taught them such brutality it is not impossible that by unfair tactics they will gain the final victory, but the United States will not be whipped for long."

Other newspapers analyze the statements made by French army and navy officers, and say war is bound to come and that Japan holds the master hand at this time. One writer warns the United States "not to be taken unawares like Russia, but to be ready at any moment or as soon as possible to protect its possessions in the Pacific."

A New Thaw in the Famous Murder Trial

New York, Jan. 10.—With a new Thaw to begin again the battle for his life, a new Evelyn to trip it through the scenes of tragedy of that clouded existence, and an atmosphere that inevitably lends the color of new meaning to the sordid drama, the second trial of Harry Kendal Thaw for the murder of Stanford White opened yesterday in Part 1, of the criminal branch of the supreme court.

SETTING THE SAME.

The setting was identical with that which witnessed the remarkable confession of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, to avenge whose degradation at the hands of the New York architect it was held by the defence that Thaw had been lashed to an fury that cried for blood. The personnel was practically the same that filled the court-room that never-to-be-forgot ten afternoon when a young girl, barely out of her teens, in a sweetly modulated and emotionless voice, told that amazing tale of murder and innocence. But in the interim the girl and the man had unconsciously changed places. The interest had been whifted.

THE FIRST TRIAL.

In the first trial the central figure was that of the husband, whose reason unseated, whether by heredity or by the unbridled license of a spectacular career, it was contended, had, in that last shock of his wife's admissions, received the final impetus toward destruction. Evelyn was, after all, only the background—a picturesque, if cheap and meretricious background, horrifying to the abstract idea of tender youth bartered. But the concrete example of the truism that, to sully a soul there must be a soul to sully.

NOT THE SAME EVELYN.

A twelvemonth ago her small, classical features were as charmingly satisfying in their outline, her eyes as clear as though they had looked upon only the pure. But ill-health had robbed her of the beauty of her slenderness. She was pallid, furtive, apparently suffering, the pathetic little ghost that crept into crime as at once the cause and the sacrifice.

Evelyn's eyes were constantly turned toward her husband, with now and again a half smile on the parted lips. Her thought seemed to linger upon him. She turned from the inspection of the jurors, that threatened momentarily to engage her interest, to consult his face. She was the embodiment of content, as she sat behind him, with his brother, Josiah, on one side of her, separating her from Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, Thaw's sister, and the subpoena server Moore, who is connected with the firm of H. Russell Peabody, her husband's personal representative, on her left.

Thaw returned those looks with a sort of dull apathy for a time, but finally forsook all pretense of feeling and gave himself utterly up to his thoughts.

A WEAK MAN

If Harry K. Thaw has recovered during his enforced idleness in the Tombs, any of the physical vigor and mental poise on which his lawyers and counsel are relying as an argument to the jury of his present sanity, he gave no evidence of it yesterday. His weakness was patent to all when he circled the room to reach the gate which by the new arrangement enables him and his counsel to occupy the enclosed platform reserved for the legal battle. His step was uncertain; his movements spoke only of lassitude, and his face was the picture of dejection.

KEPT HER PROMISE.

She Wasn't Much of a Politician, but She Was Truthful.

Mrs. Eliot sighed so deeply as she took out her hatpins that her husband looked up from the evening paper. "I don't believe I've any bent for politics," she said in response to his inquiring glance. "Every time there's an election of officers of the club I get into some kind of mess, try as I may to avoid it.

"You see, Harry," she continued confidingly, "I don't really care a fig who is in office so long as I'm not. I like all the members very well, and I'd as lief have one as another president or secretary or on committees.

"I have no favorites. I'm truly impartial. But that won't work. If you belong to a woman's club you are forced to sweat and agonize over candidates. You must be partisan or be out with both sides.

"You know Mrs. George has been president for four years, and every year Mrs. Tufts has tried to get Mrs George out and herself in. About a week ago she came to me and said she was sure of the nomination if I would vote for her. Would I? I thought it over and said I would, for I admire Mrs Tufts tremendously, she is so lovely and charitable.

"Today, just before balloting, Edith Reynolds came to me and said I must vote for Mrs. George. Edith said I owed it to her—you know she helped me make over my blue foulard and canned all those peaches for me when cook burned her hand.

"Everybody wanted Mrs. George, Edith said, and if I voted for her she would get the nomination. I thought it over and said I would vote for her. I admire and respect her very much. She is so witty and forcible when she presides, and she speaks French beautifully, and I thought if everybody wanted her it was only proper that"—

"Do you mean that you promised to vote for both?" interrupted Mr Eliot.

"Yes; I promised Mrs. Tufts as I have just said, and I promised Edith because"—

"But you didn't actually vote for both."

"Why, of course I did, Harry. I may not be much of a politician, but I was brought up to keep my word," said Mrs. Eliot, with dignity.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

The Great Provincial Charity, The Hospital for Sick Children, Calls On You For Aid.

Remember that this Hospital is not a local institution, but Provincial.

"I LIKE PICTURES"

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment.

Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that Works.

Last year there were 1063 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 254 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.22 for the 47½ days stay.

If your dollar could straighten the foot of a little boy or girl with club feet, you would gladly give it, and your dollar will do that. There were 79 cases of club feet treated last year. Out of the 79, about 50 were from the country.

If you know of any child in your county who is sick or has club feet, and whose parents can not afford to pay, send the name to the Hospital Secretary.

The stock books are open. Won't you let the Hospital write your name down for a few there in Heaven's own work of healing little children?

A great mine of Mercy—the mining stock that always pays dividends—is bought with the money that helps The Hospital for Sick Children to extract the Gold of Life from the Quartz of Death.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

"I have told you I am Howard Hastings," answered the young man, adding that the picture was not that of Fannie, but her child.

"I know—I know it," returned Uncle Nat, "but the first sight of it drove me from my senses, it is so like her. The same open brow, the same blue eyes, the same ripe lips, and, more than all, the same sweet smile which shone on me so often 'mid the granite hills of New Hampshire. And it is mine," he continued, making a movement to put it away. "You brought it to me; and in return, if you have need for gold, name the sum, and it shall be yours, even to half a million."

Money could not buy that picture from Howard Hastings, and though it grieved him to do so, he said, very gently, "I cannot part with the likeness, Mr Deane, but we will share it together until the original is gained."

Leaning upon his elbows and looking steadily at his visitor, Uncle Nathaniel said, "You have been married once?"

"Yes, sir," answered Mr Hastings, while his countenance flushed, for he readily understood the nature of the questioning to which he was to be subjected.

"What was the name of your wife?" was the next query, and Mr. Hastings replied, "Ella Grey."

"Will you describe her?" said Uncle Nat, and almost as vividly as the features of Dora Deane were delineated by the artist's power, did Mr. Hastings portray by word the laughing blue eyes, the pale childish face, the golden curls, and the airy form of her who had once slept upon his bosom as his wife.

"And did you love her, this Ella Grey?" asked Uncle Nat.

"Love her? Yes, but she is dead," answered Mr. Hastings, while Uncle Nat continued:

"And now, if I mistake not, you love Dora Deane?"

"Yes, better than my life," said Mr. Hastings firmly. "Have you any objections?"

"None whatever," answered Uncle Nat, "for though you are a stranger to me, there is that in your face which tells me you would make my darling happy. But it puzzles me to know how, loving one as you say you did, you can forget and love another."

"I have not forgotten," said Mr. Hastings sadly; "God forbid that I should ever forget my Ella; but, Mr. Deane, though she was good and gentle, she was not suited to me. Our minds were wholly unlike; for what I most appreciated was utterly distasteful to her. She was a fair, beautiful little creature, but she did not satisfy the higher, nobler feelings of my heart, and she, too, knew it. She told me so before she died, and spoke of a coming time when I would love another. She did not mention Dora, who then seemed like a child, but could she now come back to me she would approve my choice, for she too loved Dora Deane."

"Have you told her this?" asked Uncle Nat—"told Dora how much you loved her?"

"I have not," was Mr. Hastings' reply. "My sister would not suffer it until my return, when Dora will be more mature. At first I would not listen to this; but I yielded at last, consenting the more willingly to the long separation when I considered that with Louise she was at least safe from Eugenia, and, I hope, safe from any who might seek either to harm her or win her from me."

"You spoke of having stopped in Europe on your way hither," said Uncle Nat. "How long is it since you left New York?"

"I sailed from there the latter part of June, almost ten months ago," was Mr. Hastings' answer, adding that as he wished to visit some parts of Europe, and left home with the ostensible purpose of doing so, he had thought it advisable to stop there on his way, for he well knew that Mr. Deane, after learning why he had come, would be impatient to return immediately.

"Yes, yes; you are right," answered the old man. "I would go to-morrow if possible; but I shall probably never return to India, and I must make some arrangements for leaving my business in the hands of others. Were Dora still in Eugenia's power I would not tarry a moment. I would sacrifice everything to save her, but you say she is safe with your sister, and a few weeks' delay, though annoying to me, will make no difference with her. Do they know aught of this—those wretches in Dunwood?" he continued, beginning to grow excited.

"They suppose me to be in Europe, for to no one save my mother and sister did I breathe a word of India," Mr. Hastings replied; and Uncle Nat rejoined: "Let them continue to think so, then. I would rather they should not suspect my presence in America until I meet them face to face and taunt them with their treachery. It shall not be long, either, before I do it. In less than a month we are homeward bound—and then, Miss Eugenia Deane—we'll see!" and his hard fist came down upon the table, as he thought of her dismay when told that he stood before her.

But alas for Uncle Nat! The time was farther in the distance than he anticipated. The excitement of what he had heard told upon a frame already weakened by constant toil and exposure in the sultry climate of India, and one week from the night of Mr. Hastings' arrival the old man lay burning with fever, which was greatly augmented by the constant chafing at the delay this unexpected illness would cause. Equally impatient, Mr. Hastings watched over him, while his heart grew faint with hope deferred, as weeks, and even months, glided by; while vessel after vessel sailed away, leaving Uncle Nat prostrate and powerless to move. He had never been sick before in all his life, and his shattered frame was long in rallying, so that the summer and the autumn and a part of the winter passed away ere, leaning heavily on Mr. Hastings' arm, he went on board the ship which was to take him home—take him to Dora Deane, who had listened, wonderingly to the story of her wrongs, told her by Mrs. Elliot at Mr. Hastings' request.

Indignant as she was at Eugenia, she felt more than repaid for all she had suffered by the knowledge that Uncle Nat had always loved her; and many a cheering letter from her found its way to the bedside of the invalid who had each one beneath his pillow, beside the picture, which Mr Hastings suffered him to keep. More than once, too, had Dora written to Mr. Hastings kind sisterly notes, with which he tried to be satisfied, for he saw that she was the same frank, ingenuous girl he had left, and from one or two things which she wrote he fancied he was not indifferent to her. "She does not, at least, care for another," Louise assured him. There was comfort in that, and during the weary days when their floating home lay sometimes becalmed and sometimes tossed by adverse winds, he and Uncle Nat whiled away the tedious hours by talking of the happiness which awaited them when home was reached at last.

During Mr. Deane's illness Mr Hastings had suggested that the annual remittance be sent to Dunwood as usual, lest they should suspect that something was wrong if it were withheld, and to this Uncle Nat reluctantly consented, saying, as he did so: "It's the last dime they'll ever receive from me. I'll see her starve before my eyes, that girl Eugenia." Still, as the distance between him self and the young lady diminished he felt a degree of satisfaction in knowing that the draft had as usual been sent, thus lulling her into a state of security with regard to himself. Rapturously he talked of the meeting with Dora, but his eye was fiery in its expression when he spoke of that other meeting, when Eugenia would be the accused, and he would be the accuser. The invigorating sea breeze did him good, and when at last the Cape was doubled, and he knew that the waves which dashed against the [illegible] the same name with those

A WARM WELCOME.

The Way an American Visitor Was Received in London.

"When I arrived in London," says a well known actor, "I received a charming letter from a man whose name I could not recall ever having heard before, but presuming that it must be some friend whom I had forgotten I readily accepted the invitation to dinner which the epistle contained and duly turned up the following evening at the hotel named. A gentleman whom I did not recognize at once approached me with outstretched hand, and so pleased did he seem to see me that I did not like to hurt his feelings by admitting that my memory had failed me, but trusted that some chance remark might presently remind me of our previous acquaintance.

"In due course we enjoyed the best dinner the house had to offer, accompanied by the very choicest cigars. At this point the gentleman left the room in order to get something out of his overcoat pocket and failed to reappear. I waited for him in vain. Then by degrees the truth dawned upon me, and I realized why he had been so genuinely pleased to meet me. However, he told so many amusing stories that the evening was pleasant enough to more than compensate me for being obliged to pay the bill."—New York Globe.

A SOLDIER'S DREAM.

This Little Gem of Fiction Comes to Us From France.

A French soldier who had been away from home for several years returned unexpectedly to his native town. The day of his arrival being Sunday, he went to the village church, believing his wife would be there, and he thus could see her the sooner. Taking a seat near the door, he waited until the service was over.

While waiting, being very much fatigued after a long journey, he fell asleep, his head resting on the back of the pew. While sleeping he dreamed of being seized as a spy and after a short trial was condemned and led out for execution. The guillotine had been erected, the army stood ranged about, and all the preparations were made as impressively as possible. The condemned man was placed in position, and the last act in the drama was at hand.

Just at that moment his wife was passing down the aisle of the church on her way out. She recognized her husband and in order to awaken him tapped his neck playfully with her fan as his head was thrown back on the seat. The contact of the fan he in his dream supposed to be the knife of the guillotine. The shock was so great it killed him instantly.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical pascous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood albumen.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, essays nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 851 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,900 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 6 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's great producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 4 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2,00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 14.—At one time it was feared that Mrs. J. Grant, of 23 White street, would succumb to the deadly ravages of advanced kidney trouble. "My first attacks of backache and kidney trouble began years ago. For six years that dull gnawing pain has been present. When I exerted myself it was terribly intensified. If I caught cold the pain was unendurable. I used most everything, but nothing gave that certain grateful relief that came from Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Instead of being bowed down with pain, today I am strong, enjoy splendid appetite, sleep soundly. Lost properties have been instilled into my blood—cheeks are rosy with color, and I thank the day that I heard of so grand a medicine as Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

POLICE

Yesterday's cold weather drove a large audience into the police court where the respective cases of Nicolas Bennett and the two Marions were on the docket. The chief charged one of the informations against Bennett, so as to make it read that the latter assaulted P. C. Newhall whilst the constable was making an arrest. He withdrew the original charges against the two Marions and laid fresh informations.

Reuben May was charged with vagrancy and pleaded guilty. The chief asked for a remand for eight days or until a Dominion government deportation officer arrived.

The case against the man Williamson, charged with having assaulted his wife was next considered. As Mrs. Williamson is still in the hospital, Chief Roszel asked for a further enlargement. Mr. Gordon, who acted for Williamson, asked that bail be allowed. His worship said he would accept $200 cash bail. Williamson's son, from Detroit, asked that a fine be imposed on the prisoner and that he be let go. This, however, the magistrate refused.

Geo. Rogers was charged with stealing a horse from a man named Louis Florence, last November. Mr. Kerr appeared for the prisoner and pleaded not guilty. Florence, the first witness called, said Rogers told him last November that he could use a horse in Hastings to gather junk. Witness loaned Rogers a horse to be returned as soon as he, Florence, wanted it. It has not been returned and prisoner claimed that the horse had died. Witness claimed that Rogers had traded the horse for another one and had later on sold the one he got. Prisoner when asked by Florence for the value of the horse said he did not owe him anything.

To Mr Kerr, witness said the horse Rogers got had cost him (Florence) $60 and another horse in trade. Witness said he had only asked Rogers for the horse back three days ago, where Mr. Kerr asked witness, "Are you a Jew?" "Yes, I am," replied Florence. "Do you consider an oath taken as you have just done as binding on your conscience?"

Geo. Dog, next witness, said Rogers came to his place, where Florence's horse was stabled, and explained that he was going to get the horse for the cost of its feed. Rogers told him Florence had agreed to let him have the horse on these terms, and had also agreed that Rogers might sell the horse for $60, and keep anything he got over and above that amount.

Sam Hatherly, next witness, a horse dealer of Hastings, said Rogers brought the horse to his stable, where it remained for 30 days. He would not give $10 for the animal. There was about $12 owing to witness for feed for the animal. Rogers traded the horse off for a grey that was worth about $20.

W. B. Sherwin of Hastings, knew the horse Rogers took back to that village. It was only worth about $15.

Rogers, the prisoner, said he got the horse from Florence on September 17th. Florence asked him to take the horse to Hastings and try to sell or trade it off so the Florences father would not know of the deal.

To Mr. Medd, witness said $22 to Hatherly after the papers had been served on him for the horse's keep.

The magistrate said the evidence was so contradictory he would discharge the case. He ruled that the costs of the court, $7.72, be paid by the informant.

James Marton plead guilty to having been drunk in a public place. He was assessed in the sum of $2.

The Renzetti case was then on and Mr. Gordon for the accused plead guilty to a charge of assault. Rogers was then charged with having created a disturbance and plead not guilty. The cases were enlarged until this morning.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce has nothing to conceal. He does not fear the charge of having the [illegible] but turned fully up [illegible] confident that [illegible] of these medicines will their great [illegible] merit. Being wholly made [illegible] medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and entirely free use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on the bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and liver regulator—the medicine which, when recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and fatally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time, to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

LEMIEUX SAYS JAPAN HAS NO DESIRE TO RUN THIS CONTINENT

Understands Economic Conditions Here and will Probably Make a Satisfactory Settlement of Emigration Problem

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, who was sent as Canadian envoy to Japan, to discuss with the authorities in Tokio the desirability of measures to prevent the flooding of the Province of British Columbia with Japanese labor, arrived back in Ottawa at six o'clock this morning, after 15 days' travelling from Tokio. This afternoon he will present to his cabinet colleagues an account of what has been accomplished as to the nature of the proposals which the Japanese Government has made for the restriction of migration from their country to Canada.

Mr. Lemieux's lips are, of course, sealed on this subject for the present. At the same time he had no hesitation in expressing his full confidence that a satisfactory arrangement would be had with the Japanese government of the difficulty which has arisen.

"Nothing could possibly have been kinder and more considerate that the reception accorded me by the Japanese government. I found them well acquainted with conditions on this continent and with the economic problems which an invasion of Japanese labor would create among us."

"I was given every opportunity for the presentation of the matter which took me to Japan and I have every confidence that things will turn out all right."

NO DESIRE TO CONTROL.

In further discussion Mr. Lemieux observed that nothing is further from the Japanese mind than to reach out after the control of the destinies of the American continent. The desire of the Japanese government is to encourage in every way the industrial development of Japan herself as well as of Formosa, Saghalien, Korea and Manchuria. Eastward therefore rather than westward lies the field for an extension of Japan's sphere of influence and one has but to see for himself the marvelous energy, industry and mental ability of the Japanese to foresee how successful their policy will be carried out.

ALL UNDERSTAND ENGLISH.

"One of the things that struck me most forcibly in Tokio was the fact that everyone seemed to understand and to speak English. The hotel proprietors had been educated at Cambridge. Very many of the officials and of the educated class had attended the universities of Yale or Cambridge and even the "Rickshaw" man knew what you meant when you gave him his directions in the English language.

"Baron Hayashi, the foreign minister of Japan, is the man who made the treaty of alliance with Britain, and one is not long in the country before he has seen for himself the strong law that Britain has made for herself on the Japanese immigration.

"Toward Canada, as a portion of the great British empire, the Japanese people look with the same feelings of esteem and affection that they do toward England herself, and it but remains for our Canadian exporters to take advantage of the great opportunities that are open to them for profitable trade in that wonderful country. Our enterprising American neighbors have already built up a most profitable commerce with Japan, and there is no reason in the world why we should not do likewise. We have the wheat and the flour to send them, of quality unsurpassed. We have also the cattle and the cheese, the paper and the pulp, the canned meats, canned fish, canned milk, canned vegetables that they require. Our produce is already known in Japan. Let our merchants, our manufacturers, our farmers, and our exporters not close their eyes to this market, for it is one of the finest they can ever obtain.

PRAISE FOR MISSIONARIES

"The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has done a great deal to make this country known in the Orient. I was, however, simply amazed at the wonderful work accomplished by the Canadian missionaries, and by the number of missionaries we have already sent to that field. One cannot speak in too high praise of their devotion and their labors.

They are received everywhere with most perfect courtesy and apart from the work they are doing for the spread of Christianity among the Japanese people, they have established schools and colleges in which thousands of Japanese have been taught to speak our language. On the same ship as took me to Japan there were twenty odd Canadian missionaries bound for Japan to strengthen the working force in that field.

Canada has a great deal to gain by her negotiations with Japan on this immigration question the immense prestige of the Anglo-Japanese alliance and the personal influence and ability besides, of Sir Clark MacDonald, the British minister, who is the dean of the diplomatic corps in the Japanese capital and by far the most influential and distinguished figure therein.

ADMIRES JAPANESE GENIUS

"Like almost everyone who visits this empire of flowers, Mr. Lemieux has returned home with a new insight into the genius of this marvelous people, its intelligence, its industrial development, its army, the finest in the world, its navy, second only to that of Great Britain.

The post master general has thoroughly enjoyed his trip and is enjoying the very best of health. He will meet his associates at the cabinet board at once so that there may be as little delay as possible in the conclusion of the negotiations with the Japanese minister for an understanding in this most delicate question. Mr. Lemieux will doubtless go back to his place in the House of Commons next week.

THE LINDSAY MIDGETS TAKE THE FIRST GAME FROM THE STRATHCONAS

Straths Make a Good Impression in Their First Try Out

Score was 6-4

Peterborough Strathconas meekly went down to defeat to the tune of 6—4 in their initial O.H.A. game against the Lindsay Midgets last night, before a fairly well filled rink.

The game was looked forward to with some speculation, as the Lindsay bunch had won from Cobourg, and the Straths had not been tried out.

The Scugogites arrived by special train with about 75 rooters, and went into the game to win. The play was clean, well balanced, and keenly contested from the start. It would be hard to name any of the Lindsay forwards for distinction, except Capt. Koyl who showed a little better experience, but had a close second in Cotey. Newton was a safe goal tender and stopped many hot ones.

Peterborough's line up proved about as strong as expected. Parnell showing up well in the forwards and Glover was, as usual, strong on the defence, although he seemed a trifle out of form. Derocher was all to the good in goal and had lots to do.

The ice was in good condition and the crowd in good humor all the way through.

THE GAME

The game opened at 8.35 by Mayor Rush dropping the puck between Lane and Dobson. A few preliminary rushes followed, taking in the centre part of ice, during which several offsides occurred. Two hot shots were stopped by Newton in the Lindsay nets. Another faceoff was necessary and Weatherstone got two minutes for tripping. Two more offsides at centre and Lindsay got busy with a good combination and stormed Peterborough's goal. Parnell got away with a rush and shot from side but Newton was on the job and stopped the rubber. After a good combination Jay the Peterborough forwards lost the rubber and Lane got it right back for a high shot. A mix up occurred to left of Lindsay goal and Cotey got away after the face-off but lost the rubber and Stoddard was offside. Dusty got two minutes for a hard check. Peterborough forwards got in Lindsay's territory, but the Midgets again retaliated, this time for the first score in twelve minutes.

Things got warmer and Cotey was sent to the boards for two minutes for making things. Koyle got away and passed to Lane who beat the net for number two in 11-2 minutes.

Peterborough forwards began to take notice and rallied in several shots but luck seemed not to favor them till Parnell tried from centre and hot the right spot, after 11-2 minutes, making the score 2—1.

Koyle got away with an individual dash but was held up by Glover. Randle made a long shot, but it rebounded in the way. Koyle tried his luck for another and again Derocher was there with the goods. Parnell took a chance but was offside. Stoddard was the next to make a try and after a brilliant dash took his chance from centre. On the rebound from goal, somebody got off side and the puck was placed in Glover's territory. Cotey broke loose and cleared well for a long dash, passed to Stoddard, who raised the tally to 3—1 in 12 minutes.

Dusty got one in half a minute by scoring on an individual rush.

Cotey and Dusty mixed it in the corner and both got five minutes on the boards.

Two more offsides and Weatherstone had trouble with his skates and had to retire Cotey going off to even up.

Lindsay got another start but but Glover foiled their line, and Koyle was offside. Parnell cleared and passed to Dobson who returned the disc and a moment later Parnell made the score read 3—3. The first half was ended before anything further happened.

HALF TIME

Glover started fast in the second half and displayed some of his old time form but could not score. Two minutes passed and Cotey located the net again, and the score read 4—3.

Parnell started well but got two minutes for tripping. Five offsides occurred in regular order. The game warmed up for a while and Peterborough forwards did some shooting, but could not score. Newton made a good stop from centre and after a scrimmage in front of goal Randle moved off towards the Peterborough end. In the checking by the defence the puck was consigned to the balcony. Parnell was again penalized for five minutes. Newton made a good stop from Glover, and the puck traveled to Peterborough's end again. Derocher made good when Stoddard swatted the disc in his direction. The puck got on forbidden ground twice and then Lindsay scored again on a combination play between Randle and Cotey in 11 minutes. Score 5—3.

Glover placed one in half a minute, making it 5—4, and the game got warm again.

Cotey found the net for Lindsay's last in three minutes. Several offsides made the spectators restless as there was only a few minutes to play. Dusty was sent home for mixing with his check and a little later the game ended with Lindsay the victors by a score of 6—4.

The line-up was as follows:

Lindsay.		Peterborough.
Newton	Goal.	Derocher
Koyle	Point	Glover
Sullivan	Cover.	Meagher
Cotey	Rover.	Dusty
Stoddard	Center.	Dobson

Italian Force of 125 Men Wiped Out by Abyssinians

Rome, Jan. 10.—News has been received here of a terrible battle in Italian Somaliland, on the East Coast of Africa, between the Italian forces there and the Abyssinians.

It is learned on good authority that Lugh, the furthermost Italian station in the interior, was besieged by the Abyssinians and destroyed after a desperate and unequal fight and its defenders were killed.

It is believed here that the Italian government is concealing a severe reverse in order to prepare the public for graver news.

The importance of the situation lies in the establishment of the fact as to whether or not the King of Abyssinia ordered the attack upon the Italian possessions.

A WHITE OFFICER.

Lugh was garrisoned by only about 125 natives under the command of Captain Bongiovanni, and the attacking party consisted of about two thousand Abyssinians, according to reports received here.

The Italian government has ordered the squadron, now in the Red Sea, to proceed to the coast of Somaliland, in order to protect the towns along the coast, as the entire territory is garrisoned by not more than two thousand natives, under the command of Italian officers. At the same time the government has telegraphed to the Italian Legation at Addis Abeba, the capital of Abyssinia, instructing the Italian minister to present a protest to King Menelik against the violation of the status quo.

Italy holds Lugh through an agreement concluded with the Sultan of that territory in 1895, which, however, was never ratified by King Menelik, who considered Lugh as a portion of his territory.

Admit Men, Bar Women

New York, Jan. 11.—Why is it morbid for a woman to wish to be present at a murder trial and not morbid for a man to desire to see the same trial, asks Fannie Fair in the Herald. This is the question that one cannot help asking one's self since the announcement was made that no woman except relatives and friends or newspaper women reporting the trial are to be permitted to be present at the second trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White.

It is very difficult, indeed to grasp the logic of a situation. If it is a good thing for a man to hear a great murder trial why isn't it a good thing for a woman to do so?

If it is informing, educating, certainly the men will admit that women need education along these lines as much as men.

ARE THEY NOT CITIZENS?

If it is right and proper that a citizen of this Republic should have some idea, gained at first hand, of all the workings of its affairs, even to criminal jurisprudence, then are the women not to be considered citizens in this sense, even though they may not vote and serve on juries? At least they train some who may be jurymen and influence husbands who are voters, or is that just a pleasant little consolation prize which men have been giving us for so many years in place of the ballot?

It is just as important that a woman who is not specially interested should be a spectator at a murder trial as that a man should be. It is no more morbid for a woman than for a man.

It is no more hysterical for a woman to want to be present as a man.

It is no more and no less the result of idle curiosity in one case than in the other.

And yet men calmly and deliberately take the position that all women who were present at the Thaw trial or at any similar trial were morbid, hysterical creatures, except such of them as were there on business of a specific order.

PEOPLE WITH IDLE MINDS.

There is an obvious dramatic interest, of course, in all murder trials but for those who are interested in that sort of thing the most obscure trial is frequently more significant than the most notorious.

Men and women who, having no business there, wish to attend such cases as the Thaw trial have none of these intelligent reasons for wishing to be present. They all belong to one class of persons. They all belong to one class of persons. They are all people with idle minds which demand for such food as they get on this sort of interest.

They manage to work their way into a courtroom, and they see the defendant who is admitted to have killed a man; also the woman in whose interest he is said to have committed the crime. He seems to be an ordinary individual. What is the brand of Cain which should have been stamped upon his brow? She is fairly pretty, perhaps, but where is the beauty more transcendant than any beauty heretofore beheld?

Where, in short, are the thrills for which the idly-morbid are no doubt looking? Alas! to be thrilled at any occasion in life is not a matter of seeing a real trial, or a real beauty. It is a matter of the eye which sees something more significant than outward contours, the ear, which hears something more sounding than the hackneyed court room badinage and oratory.

Going to Probe the Public Accounts

The Witnesses Called by the Commons Committee all Prominent Men

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—A number of motion for the appearance of witnesses made in the Public Accounts Committee this morning further indicate the matters with which it is he intention of the Opposition to investigate.

The witnesses summoned are: A. F. Bowman, in connection with payments of $210,306 and $215,338 paid to him for dredging and harbor improvements at Fort William; Lt.-Col. Fiset, deputy minister of militia, and Lt.-Col Wurtele, in connection with the payment of $284,722, progress estimates to the Ross Rifle Co.; F. O. Lewis, Montreal, and H. H. Wickware of Kemptville, Nova Scotia, in connection with the government's dealings with the Ontario Target Gun Co.

Mr. Foster moved for particulars in reference to payments made to various persons connected with the Royal Insurance Commission.

The examination of Mr. Bowman was fixed for Tuesday, January 21.

A discussion took place as to the desirability of an agreement being being reached which would expedite business, which made it evident there is no likelihood of any change in procedure being arrived at.

News Gatherer Plays Detective

To the Editor of The Times—

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly publish the following, John Hogan still insists on becoming a veritable Nick Carter. So it came out during hearing of the shot versus Baggetti trial, John who appears to be part and parcel of the local police department, stated in evidence that about 9.30 on Tuesday night, he was on George street, and noticing a wild look on P. C. Adams and Newhall, he determined to follow them. They led the sleuth to the home of one Ranzetti, an Italian, saw the officers enter the house and shut the door. Not to be shut out from the fun this "newsy" man hunter, described to the court how he peeped through the glass on the side of the door. However John showed lack of courage, as when the scuffle occurred inside, John noting they were making for the door, so flew fast he should fall a prey to the cold steele of the Sunny Southerners. But under careful tuition John may recover his lost nerve. Speaking to several individuals, who with myself heard this case, it was rumored that this hungry news getter was secretly connected to Chief Roasel's brigade.

A problem for the wily John will be for him to discover what adhesive substance is being largely used to cement rubber to wood.

Yours sincerely,

PETER EDGERLY.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in suitable cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

Clearer brain and steadier nerves always follow the use of Postum in place of coffee—sometimes in a very marked manner.

Caffein—the drug in coffee, interferes with digestion, and if continued is sure to show in some fixed disease.

The perfect poise of mind and body—the power to accomplish something worth while, makes a lot of difference with ones earning capacity.

If it's worth while to you, try the change to Postum—say, two weeks. You'll know "There's a Reason."

HARRY K. THAW MOURNS FOR MOTHER --PRISONER IN DESPAIR

Mrs. Thaw, Senior, Will be on Hand Next, as She Is Recovering--Thaw, in Despair, Wires to Her at Pittsburg

New York, Jan 10.—Worried by the continued absence of his mother and by the reports of her illness growing more serious, Harry K. Thaw appeared to be in depressed spirits as he responded to the call of the court clerk and walked to the bar of the court where he is on trial for his life. The fact that his mother is unable to come to New York has distressed the slayer of Stanford White. Even the presence of his pretty and alert little wife, Evelyn Thaw, does not appear to console him enough to overcome the absence of his mother, and it was of this they were talking on the Bridge of Sighs yesterday when a peeping female distorted their conversation to the stage of the quarrel. The reports of the alleged spats had been lacking confirmation, but they were widely exploited, and Thaw's counsel felt called upon to unstintedly deny them.

EVELYN CONSOLING HIM.

As a matter of fact Evelyn Thaw was endeavoring to console her moody husband, and had asked him to kiss her and be brave, when the saying woman who gave rise to the story of the quarrel saw them. These little love scenes are frequent about the court ante-rooms, and have generally been interpreted to give the impression that the affection which compelled Harry Thaw to shoot, and drew Evelyn Thaw into the witness stand in an endeavor to prevent her husband losing his life as a penalty for the crime, is not on the wane.

That the new arrangement of the court room railings has prevented Evelyn Thaw from sitting beside her husband as she did at his first trial has caused them both to be greatly concerned, but unless Justice Dowling relaxes his adamant ruling, Evelyn's alluring face may will be shadowed by the end of the jury box while her accused husband sits in full view of the men who are to decide whether he shall live or die. That Thaw might feel less concern about his mother, Mr. Peabody wired to Pittsburg this morning enquiring about her condition, and expressing the wish that she would be able to travel east by the end of the week.

MRS THAW IMPROVES

The response was that Mrs. Thaw was much improved and that she expected to start for New York either Saturday night or Sunday. Thaw eagerly read the telegram, smiling toward his wife, and holding up the yellow slip. She nodded affirmatively and the message was passed back to her.

Then her lips framed the word "splendid," and the paper was sent over to Thaw.

COURT ON SATURDAY?

The examination of talesmen started with a rush this morning. Justice Dowling made good his announced intention of holding court tomorrow by instructing Wm. Penney, the clerk, to draw another venire of 100 talesmen to report Saturday morning, and that when the taking of testimony began the court will be in session from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m., with an hour recess for luncheon.

The sole survivor of the day, who took his place as trial juror No. 1 was William E. Doolittle, chief clerk in the auditing department of the New York Central railroad.

Three more men needed to complete the jury, and to avoid coming to court on Saturday both Assistant District Attorney Garvan and Mr. Littleton set about to get the five men desired.

There have been 400 special talesmen drawn for the jury now, 300 having reported, with perhaps 50 of the lot excused for reasons presented to the court.

Several of the talesmen drawn on yesterday's jury reported this morning, and saved themselves $250 by explaining to Justice Dowling why they were unable to respond at the time set.

STATE CHALLENGED HIM

Three were sent from the stand for cause before Clayton R. Gross, an insurance agent, was dismissed with a peremptory challenge by the State. The very first man of today's panel was accepted as a provisional juryman. He is Wm. H. McHugh, a clerk.

After he had been examined by both sides, Mr. Garvan, in re-direct questioning, asked him if he knew what a reasonable doubt was.

"Well, if you expect me to explain what my understanding of a reasonable doubt is," said McHugh, with some show of spirit, "I am afraid you will not find me a reasonable."

Justice Dowling then took the talesman in hand, and was satisfied that he could give the prisoner the benefit of any doubt that was coming to him.

"REASONABLE DOUBT."

The reasonable doubt issue has not figured so much in this trial as in the first one. Man after man was bowled down when he endeavored to explain his conception of a reasonable doubt. This time the stumbling block is "if you have an opinion would it take evidence to remove that opinion?"

No matter which way a talesman answers the question, it gives the attorneys an opportunity to challenge him for this or cause.

The seventeenth talesman to be examined was the second one accepted for provisional service. He is Frank J. Howell, a married man of middle age.

A retired broker, Wm. S. Sondheim was chosen after a brief examination and assigned to seat No. 10. He is 64 years old, and has a family.

Wm. Burch, an assistant secretary of the Y.M.C.A., 153 Bowery, was seated as 11th provisional juror. He had no scruples against capital punishment, and did not object to insanity as an excuse for murder.

Harry Duschness was the 12th man accepted. He is 55 years old, manufacturer, with a family of boys. After the luncheon recess the process of elimination of the prohibitionists will take place.

New York, Jan. 10.—Wm. L. Sondheim the 10th juror, was removed by District Attorney Jerome's peremptory challenge and Henry Duschness, 12, was removed similarly by the defence as soon as court reconvened at 2 o'clock.

POLICE

At the county police court yesterday morning before County Police Magistrate Edmison Alonzo Phillips, of Asphodel, was charged with non-support of his wife and two children. The prisoner has been in jail for about ten days and the authorities think that his mental condition is not as good as it might be. The charge is preferred by his wife, who says he deserted her and her two little girls and refused to contribute to their support in any way. The prisoner was remanded and a report on his mental condition will be furnished the magistrate by Jail Surgeon Caldwell and Dr. Greer.

Commissioner Coombs Coming

Commissioner Coombs, the head of the Salvation Army in Canada, will be in Peterborough on Sunday, January 26th, and address two large meetings in the Grand Opera House. In the morning he will deliver a sermon at the barracks and the meetings at the opera house will be held in the afternoon and evening. At the latter service the commissioner will deliver an address.

Jas. Hunter Accused of Attempting to Kill Wm. Chute

Toronto, Jan. 10.—At four o'clock this afternoon a man opened the door of the shop of Wm. O. Chute, a tailor in the Yonge street arcade, and fired two shots at him with a revolver.

Fortunately, the shots were fired wildly, and the bullets did not strike Mr. Chute. One pierced the wall and the other went into the floor.

The police were at once called, and began a search for James Hunter, who has a barber shop in the same arcade, and between whom and Chute there has been bad blood for some time past.

Hunter had not been at his place of business all day, but is said to have been seen outside of Chute's door just prior to the shooting.

At 4.30 Hunter was found in the cellar of his shop by Sergt. Allison and Policeman Young and placed under arrest. He was locked up at Court street station on a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

HOW IMMIGRATION WILL BE CHECKED

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—The immigration of Japanese into British Columbia during the past summer and fall has been in part from Japan direct, but for the most part from the Hawaiian Islands, which are under the control of the United States.

Hon Mr. Lemieux's mission to Tokio has resulted in a proposal which is believed will effectually regulate the number of laborers coming to British Columbia from Japan direct, although there are a couple of features of the arrangement which may be improved on as a result of further negotiations. One of these is in regard to the immigration of Japanese agriculturists. If the voluntary restriction of the emigration of Japan's people to Canada does not in practice prove effective then steps will be taken to make them effective, as the authorities at Tokio have absolutely no desire to see its people leaving for the continent at all.

As regards the immigration of Japanese from Hawaii, an order-in-council has now issued which will have the effect of putting an end to the enormous immigration we have been receiving in the last few months from that quarter. The same order-in-council will, it is believed, put an end also to the carriage of Hindoos to British Columbia, most of whom have come to us through Hong Kong. Under the immigration law of Canada the governor-in-council is empowered to make regulations for the enforcement of the same.

MOTHERS MUST HAVE ABUNDANT STRENGTH

No Mother Can Rear a Healthy Child Unless She is Strong Herself.

A woman's anxieties multiply tenfold about the time the new baby is expected.

If her strength is exhausted and her blood weak, it goes hard in the hour of trial.

Ferrozone should be used because it makes the blood nutritious and rich. By instilling new strength into every part of the body, it uplifts your spirits at once.

Childbirth is certainly made easier by Ferrozone. The following statement expresses the earnest gratitude of Mrs. M. E. Duckworth, of Durham. It is a woman's story—of her own case—told that other women may profit by her experience;

"Before baby was born I was in a weak, miserable, nervous state. I had no reserve strength. I tried to build up, but nothing helped me. I looked upon the coming day with dread, knowing I was unequal to the occasion.

"Ferrozone braced me up at once. It gave me strength and spirits, brought back my nerve and cheerfulness. From my experience with Ferrozone I recommend it to all expectant mothers."

There is more concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone than you can get from anything else. It supplies what weak systems need. Simply take one tablet at meals and you'll feel benefited in a thousand ways.

Ferrozone makes healthy, virile, vigorous women; try it. 50c per box of fifty tablets, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 7, 1908

THE LONDON, "TIMES"

The change in the management of the London "Times" which is now announced is not altogether surprising to those who have observed the recent trend of journalistic affairs in London and who have known as much as might be known by anybody outside its office of the conduct of that famous paper. It has, indeed, been an open secret for a good while that some change in management might be expected before very long, though scarcely a hint has been given of its precise character. The advent of Mr. Pearson cannot, therefore, be said to have been expected, though in view of his progressiveness and aggressiveness in English newspaper life it cannot be regarded as astonishing.

It will be a cause of gratification, on grounds of permissible sentiment, as well as others, that Mr. Walter is to remain prominently associated with the paper. Hitherto the names of Walter and the "Times" have been inseparable and it would be regrettable to have them now entirely separated. Gratifying, too, is it to be assured that no radical change in the character of the "Times" is to be made. Since it became known as "The Thunderer", in the days of Barnes and Edward Sirling, and, indeed, since an earlier date than that, the "Times" has been more than a newspaper: it has been an institution. Its influence upon the history of the British Empire, and, therefore, of the world, in the last hundred years has been greater than any good judge could estimate without danger of being charged with exaggeration by the uninformed or the unthinking. To transform the "Times" would seem to a large part of the English nation much like rebuilding Westminster Abbey or one of the great universities, and would give an unwelcome shock to the whole world.

Changes are, however, possible without transformation, and such have occurred and doubtless will yet occur in the "Times". The altering conditions of communication and publication, and, indeed, of human life and its activities and needs, have made it necessary that the "leading journal" should adapt itself to them for the maintenance of its leadership. That the "Times" has done so, in the main with excellent discretion, the most judicious observers will cheerfully testify, adding with confidence that it has thus maintained its historic primacy at little impaired as perhaps was humanly possible. Some of its old contemporaries have made great strides, and other journals have been founded and have attained marked success. But the "Times" has ever remained the "Times", standing unique and alone among British journals, and, indeed, in the journalism of the world. That the finest paper has even in part passed from the control of the family which has conducted it since its foundation, through generation after generation, is news of high interest. That under the altered management it will continue unbroken the splendid traditions and lofty spirit which for more than a century have made it the world's foremost newspaper will be a widespread and earnest desire.

BORROWING BOOKS

"Give every man thine ear and few thy books," should be the advice given to every modern book lender. People who would scorn to tell a lie, think nothing of appropriating other people's literature—whether it be the current number of a magazine or the novel of the hour. It is true they invariably promise to return it, but alas! how seldom is that promise kept. Sometimes the binding of a book is a protection, and people do not so light-heartedly borrow when books are bound in vellum, while the fact of a book belonging to a set is a great and good excuse not to lend it at all. Have no qualms in such refusals for the chance of a permanent yawning gap in the neat row is too much for the feelings of any book-lover. Cookery books are open to the ruthless borrower, while as to "enquire within" that friend of our nursery days—it is a certain prey. There is, however, great satisfaction in lending books to a friend who you know will return them—and quickly—but I feel inclined to put my arms around my book-shelves to guard them selfishly from the depredations of the marauding borrower. Personally, I feel shy about borrowing books. It is like asking the name of a pet dressmaker or asking for a photograph, and no one should ask for the loan of a first edition or a rare copy. Let us draw a veil over the legend—true but terrible—of a book returned—a first edition, too—with a slice of cold bacon between its leaves, inserted it is supposed as a breakfast book marker!—what fate is too severe for the borrower who turns down pages and leaves luckless volumes before a scorching fire or lays downwards on the table, till their backs are broken? Surely he should be punished according to his deserts, and never be allowed to hold any save a railway novel, bought for ten cents, printed in small type and bearing a startling picture and title—all for ten cents. Someone has said that no book is properly read until it has been read again and again, and marked. Luckily this Philistine habit has gone out of fashion, though, of course, the owner of a book can do as he likes with his own property. The borrowing of books is something of a necessity in country places, but nevertheless it is positively heartrending to come home and find that a favorite book has been borrowed during one's absence. To promise a swift return seems an aggravated insult, and often the borrower of the book has the base audacity to forget who the lender of the book might be! Avaunt, borrowers of books and leave them in peace on their owner's book-shelves. This sounds selfish does it not? But a lover of books has every right to be selfish of his treasures, and guard them jealously from the thoughtless borrower.

The Inspiring "Rebel Yell."

To know truly what the "rebel yell" was one must have heard it with the din and the roar of the rifles and the thunder of the artillery; with the shrieks of the wounded and the groans of the dying; must have seen mother earth being discolored with the rich blood of valorous men. "When Greek joined Greeks, then was the tug of war;" when Americans met Americans, it was then the "rebel yell" was given birth. It was a thing to inspire brave men to action, to give resolution strength; to the coward it was a consuming terror. The man who could stand unbalanced in the face of the real "rebel yell" in the days of its strength may justly lay claim to a courage that knows no faltering.—Knoxville Journal.

Carlyle's Bumptiousness.

Joachim, the great violinist, was introduced to Carlyle by a mutual friend. The sage was about to take his morning walk, and he asked Joachim to accompany him. During a very long walk in Hyde park Carlyle kept the conversation running on Germany and its great men—the Fredericks, Moltke and Bismarck—until at last Joachim thought it was his turn to take a lead, and he started with the inquiry, "Do you know Sterndale Bennett?"

"No," was the reply, and, after a pause, "I don't care generally for musicians; they are an empty, wind baggy sort of people."

Victoria and Lady Minto.

It is related that when Sir John Mintis fell ill queen Victoria sent the Princess Louise to the dying man to inquire what favor she could accord him that could alleviate his sorrow. If not his pain. Sir John thereupon called for his writing tablet and inscribed upon it the words, "I should like the queen to see my wife." Then the queen broke through her iron rule not to receive any woman whose marriage tie had been once dissolved, whether there be blame or not, graciously accorded to the request and accorded the sorely tried lady a tender and sympathetic interview.—St. James' Gazette.

Good coal stock is a safe and sure investment. Galbraith shares are especially attractive.

Modest Capitalization — Large Coal Reserves

This Company organized under the laws of the Northwest Territories of Canada, owns and operates the Galbraith mines located at Lundbreck, Alta. They have four vertical seams of coal traversing their property, aggregating over 40 feet in thickness. Three of these seams are developed to a depth of 350 feet, and as they pass through the Company's lands for nearly a mile, some idea of the amount of coal may be had.

Shipping Steadily

The present output of the mine is about 200 tons per day. These shipments will be rapidly increased, as the C.P.R. allows its cars to be loaded with coal for points in the U. S.

We are selling a limited number of these shares at the extremely low price of in blocks of 100 or over. Right money in the States makes it possible for us to give this unprecedented offer in stock that will be paying dividends inside of six months, and you are sure to realize a handsome profit.

Parties ordering can send money by P. O. Orders, Express Orders or Bank Drafts, and we will have the stock issued direct to you. Full information furnished on request. Correspondence solicited. References, Bank of Montreal

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that Works.

Last year there were 1093 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 284 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.22 for the 47½ days stay.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

ship more which kissed the shores of America stood forth upon the deck, tall and erect as ever, with an eager, expectant look in his eye which increased as he each day felt that he drew nearer and nearer to his home and Dora Deane.

CHAPTER XIX.

One bright, beautiful summer morning a noble vessel was sailing slowly into the harbor of New York. Groups of passengers stood upon her deck, and a little apart from the rest were Uncle Nat and Howard Hastings, the former gazing eagerly towards the city, which had more than doubled its population since last he looked upon it.

"We are almost home," he said to his companion, joyfully, for though the roof that sheltered his childhood was further to the northward, among the granite hills, he knew that it was America, the land of his birth, which lay before him, and as a child returns to its mother after a long and weary absence so did his heart yearn towards the shore they were fast approaching.

A crowd of memories came rushing over him, and when at last the plank was lowered he was obliged to lean upon the strong arm of Howard Hastings, who, procuring a carriage, bade the hackman drive them at once to Mr. Elliott's. For some time Mrs. Elliott and Dora had been looking for the travelers, whose voyage was unusually long, and they had felt many misgivings lest the treacherous sea had not been faithful to its trust, but this morning they were not expecting them; and, wishing to make some arrangements for removing to her country seat on the Hudson, Mrs. Elliott had gone out there and taken Dora with her. Mr. Hastings' first surprise was to follow them, but knowing that they would surely be home that night and remembering how weary Uncle Nathaniel was, he wisely concluded to remain in the city and surprise them on their return.

Like one in a dream, Uncle Nat walked from room to room, asking every half-hour if it were not almost time for the train, and wondering if Dora would recognize him if no one told her who he was. Scarcely less excited, Mr. Hastings, too, waited and watched; and when, just at dark, he heard the door unclose, and Dora's voice in the hall without, the rapid beating of his heart was distinctly audible.

"That's her—that's Dora. I'll go to her at once," said Uncle Nat; but Mr. Hastings kept him back, and Dora passed on to her room, from which she soon returned, and they could hear the sound of her footsteps upon the stairs as she drew near.

With his face of a deathlike whiteness, his lips apart, and the perspiration standing thickly about them, Uncle Nat sat leaning forward, his eyes fixed upon the door through which she would enter. In a moment she stood before them—Dora Deane—but far more lovely than Mr. Hastings had thought or dreamed. Nearly two years before he had left her a schoolgirl, as it were, and now he found her a beautiful woman, bearing about her an unmistakable air of refinement and high breeding. She knew him in an instant, and with an exclamation of surprised delight was hastening forward, when a low, moaning cry from another part of the room arrested her ear, causing her to pause ere Mr. Hastings was reached.

Uncle Nat had recognized her—knew that she was Dora, and attempted to rise, but his strength utterly failed him; and, stretching out his trembling arms towards her, he said supplicatingly, "Me first, Dora—me first!"

It was sufficient, and Dora passed on with a welcoming glance at Mr. Hastings, who, feeling that it was not for him to witness that meeting, glided noiselessly from the room in quest of his sister. Fondly the old man clasped the young girl to his bosom and Dora could hear the whispered blessings which he breathed over her, and felt the hot tears dropping on her cheek.

"Speak to me, darling," he said at last; "let me hear your own voice assuring me that never again shall we be parted, until your mother calls for me to come and be with her."

Looking lovingly up into his face, Dora answered, "I will never leave nor forsake you, my father, but wherever your home may be there will mine be also."

Clasping her still closer in his arms, he said: "God bless you, my child, for so I will call you; and never I am sure, did earthly parent love more fondly an only daughter than I love you, my precious Dora. I have yearned so often to behold you, to look into your eyes and hear you say that I was loved, and now that it has come to me I am willing, almost, to die."

Releasing her after a moment, and holding her off at a little distance, he looked earnestly upon her, saying, as he did so, "Yes, you are like her—like your mother, Dora. Some, perhaps, would call you even more beautiful, but to me there is not in all the world a face more fair than hers."

In his delight at seeing her, he forgot for the time being how deeply she had been injured, and it was well that he did, for now nothing marred the happiness of this meeting, and for half an hour longer he sat with her alone, talking but little, but looking ever at the face so much like her whom he had loved and lost. At last, as if suddenly remembering himself, he said: "Excuse me, Dora; the sight of you drove every other thought from my mind, and I have kept you too long from one who loves you equally well with myself, and who must be impatient at the delay. He is worthy of you, too, my child," he continued, without observing how the color faded from Dora's cheeks. "He is a noble young man, and no son was ever kinder to a father than he has been to me since the night when I welcomed him to my home in India. Go to him, then, my daughter, and ask him to forgive my selfishness."

From several little occurrences Dora had received the impression that a marriage between herself and Mr. Hastings would not be disagreeable to his sister, but she had treated the subject lightly, as something impossible. Still, the thought of his love another was fraught with pain, and when at last she knew that he was on the stormy sea, and felt that danger might befall him when the fate of his mother and sister were so anxious, troubled look as days went by bringing them no tidings—when she thought it just possible that he would never return to them again, it came to her just as two years before it had come to him, and sitting alone in her pleasant chamber she more than once had wept bitterly, as she thought how much she loved him, and how improbable it was that he should care for her, whom he had found almost a beggar girl.

In the first surprise of meeting him she had forgotten everything, save that he had returned to them in safety, and her manner toward him then was perfectly natural; but now when Uncle Nat, after telling what did bade her go to him, she quitted the room reluctantly, and much as she wished to see him she would undoubtedly have run away upstairs had she not met him in the hall, together with Mrs. Elliott, who was going to pay her respects to Uncle Nat.

"I have not spoken with you yet Dora," he said, taking her hand between both his. "Go in there," motioning to the room he had just left "and wait until I present Louise to your uncle."

It was a habit of Dora's always to cry just when she wished to least and now entering the little music room she threw herself upon the sofa and burst into tears. Thus Mr. Hastings found her on his return, and sitting down by her side he said gently "Are you, then, so glad that I have come home?"

Dora would not, for the world, let him know her real feelings, and she answered, "Yes, I am glad, but I am crying at what Uncle Nat said to me."

CANAL LOCKS.

A motor canalboat has been tried in England on the Birmingham canals, and it has been found that in a round trip of 150 miles the old method with horses is almost twice as costly as the new motor boat method.

Netherland ports are to be benefited by the widening and deepening of the North sea canal, so that large vessels will be able to move at all stages of the tide. For night traffic the canal is to be lighted by electricity.

It is interesting to note the difference in the tides of the two oceans at the termini of the Panama canal. The mean level is the same, but on the Atlantic side the tidal oscillation does not exceed two feet, whereas on the Pacific side it is at times as great as twenty feet—ten feet above and ten feet below the mean level.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortes, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings carries rich gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expenses. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 300 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of I. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

What Many Men Need

Dr Hamilton Has a Prescription That "Sets" You Right Up.

When a man has lost ambition to "dig in" and stay at things—when he complains of headache, fullness in the right side, pains in the shoulder blade—it's purely a case of liver.

These symptoms invariably indicate a clogged, lazy liver. The body can't get rid of its wastes, and the whole system is half paralysed.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver into activity in one night. Being a mild vegetable laxative they produce results in a few hours. The bilious headache and constipation are cured, spirits rise, complexion clears, animation returns. Nothing in the calendar so efficient for that tired lazy feeling as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Very mild, don't interfere with work, invariably do lots of good. Try a 25c box, all dealers.

Mr. Robinson's Action Approved

Mr. W. S. Robinson's manly apology presented to the Board of Education on Thursday night, was yesterday very favorably commented on by a mighty smart man who never makes a mistake and it takes a clever man to have sense enough to acknowledge his misunderstanding. Mr. Robinson may possibly have erred in judgment but his explanation more than obliterates the mistake. Several members of the Board seen by The Times yesterday, are quite in accord with Mr. Robinson's action.

The New-York Tribune Farmer

When a practical farmer reads The Tribune Farmer the recognition is mutual, and they are friends for ever after. Why? Because the practical farmer readily discovers that The Tribune Farmer is a superior publication for farmers and their families and learns from its columns that everything worth knowing about the theory or practice of farming is treated by men recognized as experts in their various lines. He knows that it keeps him in touch with all the latest improvements by text and pictures and with the special work being done at agricultural colleges all over the country. His wife also welcomes this weekly visitor (The Farmer is printed every Thursday), because each issue always contains features of interest to women folk.

If you are not acquainted with this publication it will cost you only $1.00 for an introduction, or a years subscription. Once a friend always a friend.

The members of the Board of Education will visit the Queen Alexandria school in a body on Monday morning. They will assemble at the secretary's office on George street, at 11 o'clock and take a car for the school. The pupils take possession on Monday. The building is said to be the equal of any school in the city and the members of the board are desirous of looking it over.

It is probable that the board will revive the old custom of visiting the schools. Mr. Fair brought up the matter at the last meeting of the board, and it was favorably commented on.

Saloon Fight at Terre Haute

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 10.—The anti-saloon league, after a long effort to get the requisite number of names to a remonstrance against saloons in the Third Ward, decided not to file it when the county auditor refused permission to see the signatures filed by the saloon interests revoking signatures to the remonstrance.

The saloon interests are said to have had enough revocations to defeat the remonstrance in which event no further remonstrance could be filed for two years. The saloon interests then were permitted to withdraw revocations and await the filing of the remonstrance a month hence.

The ward includes a brewery owned by Crawford Fairbanks, a political power in the state, who is denounced by the reform element in the democratic party for his close alliance with National Chairman Thomas Taggart. At one time the anti-saloon league was conceded a complete victory in the ward, but Fairbanks put his agents to work. He also addressed a meeting of saloonkeepers, urging compliance with the law and warning them of the danger of a counter movement.

Railroad Man

Didn't Like Being Starved

A man running on a railroad has to be in good condition all the time or he is liable to do harm to himself and others.

A clear head is necessary to run a locomotive or conduct a train. Even a railroad man's appetite and digestion are matters of importance, as the clear brain and steady hand result from the healthy appetite followed by the proper digestion of food.

"For the past five years", writes a railroader, "I have been constantly troubled with indigestion. Every doctor I consulted seemed to want to starve me to death. First I was dieted on warm water and toast until I was almost starved; then, when they would let me eat, the indigestion would be right back again.

"Only temporary relief came from remedies, and I tried about all of them I saw advertised. About three months ago a friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food. The very first day I noticed that my appetite was satisfied which had not been the case before, that I can remember.

"In a week, I believe, I had more energy than ever before in my life. I have gained seven pounds and have not had a touch of indigestion since I have been eating Grape-Nuts. When my wife saw how much good this food was doing me she thought she would try it awhile. We believe the discoverer of Grape-Nuts found the "Perfect Food". Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich., Read "The Road to Wellville", in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

CHRONIC CATARRH NOSE AND THROAT

"At the Advice of Friends I Tried Pe-ru-na and the Results Have Been Highly Satisfactory." — So Writes Mr. Pilon.

MR. RAOUL PILON, 116 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P.Q., Can., writes:

"I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured. I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much. I was greatly discouraged. I had a bad breath and bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief. At the advice of friends I tried Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory. At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna will bring relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus save yourself both suffering and expense.

Patients have the privilege of writing to Dr. Hartman for free advice. A book on "Chronic Catarrh" will be sent upon request.

WAR WITH THE U.S. WOULD HURT JAPAN --BLAMES BRITAIN

Japanese Politican Says It Would be a Frightful Disaster

But Country Must Expand

If no Emigration to America, Australia and New Zealand Must be Thrown Up

Rome, Jan. 12—Dr. [illegible], a prominent politician and sociologist in an article discussing the relations existing between the United States and Japan and a possible situation which may arise between Japan and Great Britain said that a war between the United States and Japan would be of great damage to Europe but would prove a frightful disaster to Japan, which even if victorious would be suffocated by property by losing her chief commercial market, the United States.

Still Deputy Nitti argues with a dense population surpassing that of Italy, and with an annual birth rate of half a million over her death rate. Japan requires emigration in order to live. If the United States refuses to permit Japanese immigration, he says, Japan must follow the fatal road toward the Phillippines as the first step toward Australia and New Zealand and sooner or latter that toward Mongolian conquest.

BLAMES BRITAIN FOR WAR.

Paris, Jan. 12.—Lucien Millevoie, a member of the chamber of deputies, who first achieved notoriety by his connection with Boulanger movement, in the author of a sensational article published today, in which he calls upon Great Britain and France to intervene in the American-Japanese crisis before it is too late. He declares that Great Britain, supported by France, holds the key to the situation, but says the difficulty is that no one is able to fathom the secret hopes of the British government.

M. Millevoie lays the responsibility for the Russo-Japanese war to the door of Great Britain. This war made a "cemetery" of Manchuria, and the writer asks if Great Britain now desires "another orgy of blood which will make the world shudder." M. Millevoie argues that Great Britain may believe she can rule the fat east upon the ruins of Japan and America, but he contends that if she does hold this conviction she is playing with fire, as a war might arouse the Asiatics from the Indus to the Amur.

TAKAHIRA IS AMBASSADOR.

People's Case Will Last But Few Hours --Thaw Jury Complete

New York, Jan. 12—Now that the jury which will try Harry Kendall Thaw is complete, the district attorney's office is making preparations for the trial, which will begin on Monday, the case for the people will be opened by Assistant District Attorney Francis P. Garvan, who will make a brief address to the jury in which he will tell of the shooting of Mr. White on the Madison Square Roof Garden, on the night of June 25, 1906. Following this the people will call only enough witnesses to prove that Stanford White was killed by the young millionaire. It is expected that the people will not take more than two hours to present its case. Then the defence will attempt to prove by the witnesses that Thaw was not responsible for his actions at the time he killed the architect, but that he was temporarily insane as a result of a story told him by his chorus-girl wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the prisoner, who is in St. Petersburg, [illegible] there is no [illegible] her to [illegible] and

Mr. Littleton has already declared to the court that his client will plead not guilty and offer the defence that he was insane when he killed White.

He has gathered all the witnesses had at the first trial and added many new ones. Some of the expert witnesses in Jerome's employ at the first trial will testify for Thaw now. These alienists have described Thaw as a paranoiac and it is believed Mr Littleton will have them repeat this opinion and then leave Mr. Jerome in the position of calling for another commission in lunacy if he should so desire, to back up the testimony of his experts.

The Thaw Jury

New York, Jan. 12. — There is a striking similarity between the jury which tried Thaw last year and the jury which will sit upon his case during the coming trial. This time two unmarried men have squeezed in and the widowers are also represented. The occupations of the two juries are never alike, and the present jury is about the same averages as that which disagreed in 1907. It averag a 45 3-4 years of age while last year's averaged about 48 1-2 There were two men in the 1907 jury in their sixties, and two such men are on the present jury.

Canadian Rugby Union To Recognize Both Bodies

Toronto, Jan. 11.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union was held this afternoon at the King Edward Hotel with Dr. W. B. Hendry the vice-president in the chair. The other delegates present were, secretary D. L. McKeand; Percy Molson, Montreal; T. P. Cleary, Ottawa; Geo. Ballard, Hamilton; W. J. Slee; Dr. A. B. Wright and H. C. Griffith, of Toronto

On motion of Mr. Cleary, seconded by Mr Molson, it was decided to empower the incoming executive to alter the constitution so as to definitely the object of the Canadian Rugby Union and provide for the recognition of the rules and regulations of each individual union affiliated with the Canadian Rugby Union and to communicate with the governing bodies of the several amateur unions regarding the same.

This means that the Canadian Rugby Union will recognise the amateur definitions of both the C.A.A.U. and the Federation.

Secretary McKeand's report read as follows; "I feel that your executive has every reason to congratulate itself on the success of the past season in arranging the senior series and bringing into membership the Inter-Provincial Union, and thus widening. Considerable difficulty arose during the season through a controversy concerning the status of various clubs, but being convinced of the purity of the motives of the different unions in promoting amateur sport, your executive went ahead and arranged a series of matches in both senior and intermediate groups.

"Ottawa College defaulted to Peterborough owing to the lateness of the season, and the latter was defeated by Montreal in the finals.

It was decided to purchase individual championship shields for the players of the Montreal club (senior champions) and Hamilton (intermediate champions).

The action of the Executive Committee in admitting the Inter-Provincial Rugby Union was ratified.

The amendments to reduce the score for a drop kick from the field from 4 points to 3, and from a penalty kick from 3 points to 2 was carried. Another amendment to restrict forwards to obstructing opponents "with arms and shoulders only" was also adopted.

The financial statement showed a balance of $62.

Officers were elected as follows:
President—Dr. W. B. Hendry.
First Vice—D. L. Keand.
Second Vice—W. J. Slee.

"UNITED CANADA" SAYS THINGS--RAPS GOL. SAM HUGHES

Repesentation for English Speaking Catholics Becomes a Joke

Intolerance is Dying

Latest Political Gossip Heard in the East

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—United Canada, the organ of the English Catholics, takes a rap at Charlie Murphy, senator Coffey and other aspirants for the portfolio of Hon. R. Wilcott, secretary of state, in this week's issue. It says the question of representation for English-speaking Catholics has been brought to that stage when it becomes a joke. The efforts of certain factions in Ottawa and Toronto to boom certain candidates read like patent medicine advertisements and are not seriously regarded in official circles and only tolerated by the premier himself.

The same paper notes signs that intolerance is dying in Ontario, in the defeat of the son of the late S. Clarke Wallace and Dr. Pattullo. It adds; "In addition to these two significant incidents it might be recalled also that Sam Hughes, M.P. for Victoria, while a ranting Orange Tory, is kept in parliament by the deliberate planning of the Liberal leaders. This can be proven, in fact it is no secret. The late Sir John Macdonald would not tolerate Colonel Hughes as a follower for one hour. The veteran leader would do with Hughes what the great Edward Blake did with John Charlton, who repudiate him on the floor of parliament.

"In the contest in York Mr. Wallace and his friends revived the autonomy bill of 1905, but apparently it had no effect. It is interesting now to recall (the government-owned Catholic press are afraid to mention it) that only two Ontario Conservatives—N. Lewis of Huron and Mr. Pringle of Cornwall—voted for the autonomy bill giving the Catholics certain rights in the west."

SOME POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Messrs. Wright, Muskoka; Clements, Kent; Lake, Qu'Appelle, and Owen, Northumberland, will go to South Huron next week to address meetings in the interest of Horton, the Conservative candidate in the by-election.

That the great session will develop surprises and much heart-burning has already been indicated by the thoroughness of the opposition's investigation of the report of the auditor-general. Two days this week were largely taken up with criticism of the expenditure of Hon. L. P. Brodeur. The minister did not show up well. Whether it be that he does not speak the English tongue with the same facility as the other French-Canadian ministers, or was unwilling to take the house fully into his confidence, it is certain that he was not easily understood, and did not readily respond to the demands for information as he might have if he had nothing to conceal.

In the two days Brodeur was on the rack, the house made little progress. The house does not yet know why the country should be called upon to pay over $8000 for the travelling and living expenses of the minister of marine in England and France, especially when the British government provided handsomely for the entertainment of the Canadian ministers in England. But, little by little, the details may come out, and further cross-examination of the minister to that end is promised.

MORE SCANDALS!

But the main point of attack is not to be the minister of marine. Other departments are not to be neglected, if woe is to believe the gossip of the corridors. The opposition, it is claimed, is determined to pursue a similar policy in respect to some other branches of government, and has uncovered numerous juicy scandals which will be looked into at the proper time.

Evelyn Thaw will be Alone

During all the coming trial there is not likely to be a soul of her own sex to uphold Evelyn Thaw. She will have nobody to talk to, nobody to ask questions of, nobody to sit beside her and comfort her.

Mrs. THAW HAS COURAGE

All these facts will afford rich material for the "pity brigade" which will soon take up the case. But Mrs. Thaw has rare courage. If her face looks chilled and pathetic, it is a natural attribute. An illusion envelopes her. A melancholy severe about her. But when she smiles the gleams in her eyes are by no means soul-deep. Her usual woebegone expression is simply due to the fact that ordinarily she is almost utterly without animation.

The awful atmosphere of the court room is enough to sicken a stronger woman than Evelyn Thaw. Mrs. Carnegie has been made ill by it, and many of the talesmen of the past two days have been taken with the grip. It is scarcely a wonder that many of them have made palpable efforts to get away.

SIXTEEN WERE CRUSHED TO DEATH IN A SENSELESS PANIC AT ENGLISH THEATRE

Britain Could Not Spare Enough Ships to Oppose Her

The Fate of Australia

Barnsley, York, Eng., Jan. 11 — The senseless stampede of a crowd of people in a theater in this city resulted today in a shocking disaster.

Sixteen persons, including a number of children in arms, were crushed to death by the frantic efforts of the crowd to get clear of the building, and many others were injured, and all for no reason.

There was no danger, no fire; only the unaccountable panic of the crowd that found its egress from the theater hampered by its own numbers.

There had been a performance for children at Harvey Institute.

The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, many persons had been refused admission.

At the conclusion of the performance an inexplicable mad rush was made for the exits, where the fatal crush occurred.

The weaker went to the ground and were trampled to death by the stronger.

Lives were crushed out and limbs were broken by the frantic people as they struggled and fought to make their way to the open.

There was no need of haste.

Japanese Navy May Dominate Pacific

Lives Crushed Out and Limbs Broken by the Frantic People

No Reason For Disaster

London, Jan 12. — The Standard prints anonymously, but with a prominence suggesting that it regards it as representative of Australian opinion, an article from an Australian correspondent discussing the future of the Pacific. Apropos of the voyage of the American fleet, the writer, who is clearly imbued to the fullest extent with prejudice and fear of the Japanese, says Australians can scarcely question the certainty of war between the United States and Japan. He asks if the American fleet meets the fate of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet, what naval power will remain to challenge the predominance of Japan in the Pacific.

He adds; "It is not an idle question, for the nation that dominates the Pacific will dominate us, or, at least, will dominate our relations with the outside world. We don't believe the Motherland could send a fleet large enough to cope with Japan victorious over America, with the German menace at home, and the possibility always of some new turn in the European labyrinth. From whatever standpoint we look at it there can be no doubt that there is a power growing in the Pacific which will soon, if allowed to grow unchecked, become more powerful than England there. That power is Japan, who within three years will have trebled the number of the battleships with which she attacked Russia."

After references to the Anglo-Japanese alliance and an expression of doubt regarding Japan's good faith, the writer says; "If the American fleet were destroyed, the Philippines would become a stepping stone to the East Indian archipelago, which is the natural prey of an insular power that aspires to become the England of the East, and to maintain a greater Japan founded on her own naval supremacy. Then, with Japanese emigration deflected southward, so as to reinforce the thousands of the Mikado's subjects already settled on our northern coasts, the time for us to fight for our white Australia would be close at hand."

Thaw in Europe "Quite Crazy"--His Secretary's Suicide

New York, Jan. 12.—The Herald's Berlin correspondent cables: A strangely interesting communication has reached me, which is as follows.

"Concerning the personality of Harry K. Thaw, who is now undergoing a second trial for murder, it appears that when Thaw, many years ago, was on his big journeys in all parts of the world due had as a friend, private secretary and traveling companion, a handsome young man named Thordsen.

"In one of their joint journeys in Italy this young man, who constantly was with Thaw, was suddenly found dead in Rome under mysterious circumstances. It was reported he had shot himself, although no reason was given for his doing so. Indeed, up to the time of Thordsen's death his communications with his friends and relatives gave every sign of gaiety and happiness.

MAY YET PLAY PART

"His death was held in such account by Thaw, who at the time was in Florence, that he expressed that opinion in several letters to relatives of the young man who were living in Germany.

"These letters have now been turned over by Thordsen's family to a Berlin lawyer, Dr. Franz Evers, to be investigated, in order that the matter may be further inquired into.

"It is more than possible that letters may yet play a role in the trial now in progress.

What there is behind this cryptic communication must be a matter of considerable interest. I have just seen one of Thaw's letters concerning the death of Andrew Thordsen in the Grand Hotel in Rome. It is really tame and not startling. It is addressed to Herr Strumpf, and reads;

"I have been to Florence, but am in Rome again. In answer to your letters, Andrew had been well when he was first with me and seemed very glad to have a session. He suited me very well.

NO REASON KNOWN.

"He met death in Rome one month before he shot himself, and he appeared cheerful always. Neither I, the police nor anyone could discover any reason for his ending himself. He must have brooded over money having been lost long ago until he became temporarily insane. The clergyman must have thought so, for he was given the last unction in articulo mortise by a priest as he was a Protestant. The Rev. Mr. Nevin, an American minister, conducted the funeral service. It is similar to the Church of England service. He was buried in the cemetery here. It is all very sad and was without reason. You have all my sympathy.

"B. THAW."

"P.S.—If you know any reasons be had, please write me."

Apropos of the letter, if taken from the point of view of a graphologist, it would when analysed be as follows;

A man of intensely weak character, almost illiterate, ely. It is schoolboy writing, full of blotches and corrections of misspelling. "Given" is a spelt "glirn," "his" is spelt with a big "H" in the middle of a sentence. Service is spelt "servace."

According to the maitre d'hotel who is attending me tonight, and who was in the same capacity at the Grand Hotel in Rome at the time Thordsen shot himself, both Thaw and his man Thordsen were quite crazy. He tells me Thordsen shot himself against a pillar inside the Church of San Paolo.

Thaw Embraces Science Cult?

New York, Jan. 12.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has been quite sick in court during the past few days. It has been a pitiful sight at times to see her sitting in fevered anxiety while her husband rolls his half-wild eyes over the jury, speculating in his dull way over the possibilities of each man. As the talesmen were being examined the whisper went around the room that Thaw had taken up the study of Christian Science and that he was in daily communication with Mrs. Eddy, the head of the cult.

There was no evidence of his new faith in Thaw's sombre countenance. There was no new light in his eyes—no gladness in his soul. His peculiar Indian profile was as solemn as ever, and if the Christian Scientists have won him over they have apparently given him nothing but commonplace consolation as yet.

In his former trial his vanity outstripped his prudence. But no fact has been made plainer during the present trial than that Thaw's assumed pose as a hero has vanished. He is up against the cushion, as billiardists say, and is playing them close. He realizes the gravity of the situation quite as much as his lawyers. It is one that he cannot bridge with gold or bank checks.

Mrs. Thaw was apparently suffering from illness during the entire day. The light of fever was in her eyes and at times she drooped wearily. But when one gives her the concessions due to all women, one must still regard her as an actress first of all. She plays to the gallery with all her soul to achieve her purpose. Consequently it is hard to tell just where her art leaves off and her real nature begins. When her husband looks at her she dimples into smiles. But at other times, when his head is turned away, there comes a half-frightened expression into her eyes—a queer, nervous look that is not natural.

Maybe it is the dread of her future in case Thaw is released. It is possible, too, that she knows more of the prisoner's mental phase than his lawyers have ever found out, even from her.

Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie and Mr. Joseph Thaw sat beside Mrs. Thaw during the day, but their presence did not seem to cheer her. Occasionally, as Mrs. Thaw's head drooped and her eyes closed, Mrs. Carnegie would speak to her, but it seemed evident that the long, sharp sword of hostility was between them.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Inspector Spotton's Report on Condition of Local Schools

It will be gleaned [illegible] both the friend of [illegible] public in general to [illegible] B. B. Spotton, [illegible] inspector, and enthusiastic [illegible] returned a satisfactory [illegible] Department of Education on [illegible] suit of his recent visit to Peterborough.

Following is the report now in the hands of the secretary of the board.

GRADING OF ACCOMMODATION.

The different accommodations are graded I. II. etc., and will be considered in the following:

Water closets II.
Water supply I.
School grounds, III.
School buildings, II.
Halls, I.
Waiting rooms, III.
Cap rooms I.
Teachers' private rooms, II.
Desks, II.
Blackboards, I.
Cushions II.
Heating, I.
Ventilation, I.
Lighting,

No changes have been made in the recommendations since last inspection except that two class rooms in the King Edward public school building have been united for the use of the two commercial terms. On account of the distance between the two buildings this arrangement necessarily entails a good deal of inconvenience and injuriously affects the organization to some extent. The new institute building is making satisfactory progress and will no doubt be ready for occupation in September next.

In the meantime I have simply [illegible] grading at last inspection additions of [illegible] Library, $250 for type [illegible] and $75 for the museum have been [illegible] A fine collection of stuffed birds [illegible] and will unquestionably be [illegible] of great service in connection with the work in biology.

Ratio of pupils to teachers about 43.1.

Inspector Spotton suggested that an additional period per week be allotted to English composition throughout the school. The time for oral reading should also, owing to the large classes, be somewhat increased to meet the requirements of the regulations. In French he suggests an increase of time in Form II. The time proportioned to arithmetic he says is too large. There are difficulties in the way of the most effective organization he states on account of the unsatisfactory accommodations and the consequent crowding of some of the classes.

POLICE

His Honor Judge Weller held court on Saturday afternoon when Clinton Reichtmeyer was charged with the seduction of Pearl Longdo. The girl as well as her mother, who was the complainant, gave evidence. Reichtmeyer was committed by Magistrate Dumble for trial some time ago. Mr. R. Ruddy, Millbrook, appeared for the accused, and Mr. R. E. Wood, county crown attorney, conducted the prosecution. The prisoner was discharged.

Wife's Father Thrashed Him?

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 7.—Roy M. Smith, recently of Chicago, began action in the Supreme court of Marin county yesterday to secure $50,000 damages from his father-in-law, Alfred Morgan, a wealthy clothier, and the latter's wife.

One action is against Morgan for $25,000 as a recompense for a thrashing and in the other for a similar amount Mrs. Morgan is joined, charged with alienation of the wife's affections.

In the complaint concerning the thrashing Smith sets forth that his father-in-law belabored him with a piece of rope three feet long and two inches thick.

Priest Bitter Against Hibernians

Philadelphia, Jan. 12.—[illegible] Ancient Order of Hibernians [illegible] said to-day [illegible] Rev. D. L. McDermott, rector of St. [illegible] Roman Catholic Church [illegible] services in his church [illegible] remains of John Daly, a [illegible], until the invitation to a Hibernian lodge to attend had been revoked. Father McDermott, in explanation, said: "My absolute opposition to the Ancient Order of Hibernians is based on my knowledge and the facts in my possession about the Molly Maguires, which I got directly from the Molly Maguires themselves. No power on earth will ever make me recede one inch from my stand against the Hibernians. I have given my testimony against them, and what I said was true and is true, and I cannot compromise on it."

Train Jumps Trestle Twenty People Hurt

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 7.—Five cars of the Collier special, a train carrying a number of Ohioans to Florida, plunged over a twenty-five foot trestle into the dry bed of Copper Mine Creek to-day. Twenty persons were hurt, none of them fatally.

The engine passed the bridge in safety, then left the rails and turned on its side. The baggage car turned over on the banks, the five heavy Pullmans following, crashing through the trestle and falling to the bed of the creek. The last car, an observation coach, rested with one end in the mud and the other on the bank above.

One car in the middle of the train cracked in the middle through the strain and plunged down Jacob Roth of Erie, Pa., and his wife. They were not seriously injured, however, and were able to go to a hospital here to-night.

THE COST OF DIVORCE

Moralists still wrangle over the hedonic status of divorce; some say it is a luxury, while others are positive that it is necessary. But, whatever the outcome of this controversy, one fact is already obvious—that the cost of divorce is exorbitant and must be greatly reduced if this country is to remain in the Land of the Free and the Cradle of Democracy. A pathetic case lately recorded in the chronicles of Jersey City brings home to us this lamentable lapse from perfect Liberty. A Newark couple, having been wedded fourteen months, set out on a hunt for bargain sales in divorce decrees. They first consulted a Jersey City justice, who told the pair the bitter truth—namely, that a lawyer must be called in and an indebtedness of at least $250 incurred ere the bonds of matrimony would snap. "We won't give more than $10 for the job!" the divorce seekers are said to have exclaimed. "If we can't get a decree for that we'll stay married." After being reassured that $250 was really the bottom quotation, they went away with the resolution to remain to-main together until death should them part.

What friend of the people does not feel his indignation rise as he reads this tale? What a travesty upon justice it is to order a commonwealth so that a married couple must get $250 worth of discontent out of wedlock before divorce becomes a good business proposition! It matters not whether divorce be a luxury or a necessity; so long as the pleasure is under government ownership and dispensed by the Sovereign People through their courts it should be placed within the reach of every citizen. Humble husbands and wives who think that dissolution of the marriage contract is worth $10 to them should have a fair chance along with the multi-millionaire who is willing to spend a fortune in order to get rid of his wife. Unless this is done, the impression will soon be created that divorce is a pastime for the few, not for the many. And this thought is repugnant to every high minded statesman who has helped draft American divorce laws.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Japan wants to wahen China. This job is likely to require a good deal of early calling.

Mme. Gould refuses to confirm or deny the rumor that she is to remarry Count Boni. Why does she cruelly keep the world in suspense concerning a matter of such grave importance?

To be silly is the latest fad of London women, according to one of the English periodicals. We are wondering whether it requires much practice on the part of the ladies to become authorative exponents of the fad.

QUEER BEQUESTS.

Odd Notions That Are Aired In Last Wills and Testaments.

Duchess Dudley, dying in 1555, left $500 per annum for the redemption of poor English Christian slaves from the hands of "the barbarous Turk," and in the year 1723 Thomas Belton of Hoxton proved his enmity toward his own kith and kin by cutting off his three sons and his brother Timothy with a shilling apiece, while he showed his sympathy for his distressed countrymen by leaving the bulk of his property, about $125,000, in trust to the Ironmongers' company. One-half of the interest of this large amount he directed should be expended in ransoming British subjects from slavery in Turkey or Barbary.

An old lady of Barton, Lincolnshire, being once benighted on the Lincolnshire wolds, was able to direct her steps by the sound of the curfew bell from St. Peter's church. In grateful remembrance she conveyed a piece of land of thirteen acres to the parish clerk and his successors on condition that they and he ring the bell from 7 to 8 p. m. daily, Sunday excepted, from the carrying of the first load of barley until Shrove Tuesday. The curfew bell is still rung in England in some places in accordance with old bequests.

Some persons had a curious predilection for their own names—a predilection which found vent occasionally in a puerile manner. Thus one Henry Green left his estates to his sister, with the proviso that she should give four green vests lined with green galloon to four poor men every Christmas, and his fellow townsman Gray directed that six "nobles" should be spent annually in providing six old women with vests of gray cloth and 40 shillings in providing three old men with coats of the same material.—London Globe.

An Event in Sunday Journalism

The people of the middle west are rapidly discovering that the Sunday Magazine of The Chicago Record-Herald is not only a real magazine but also one of the greatest in this age of magazines. Its recent display of enterprise in paying $25,000 for the exclusive serial rights of Conan Doyle's new romance, "Sir Nigel", compelled even the editors of the famous monthlies to acknowledge the presence of a new and powerful rival.

When this was followed by Anthony Hope's new Zenda romance, "Sophy of Kravonia", the reading world needed no further proof that the Sunday Magazine of The Record-Herald was able to capture the finest and most costly new fiction offered in England and America. Its illustrations and cover designs in color have from the beginning been of unsurpassed beauty and artistic grace. Its short stories, descriptive of all kinds are the choicest that the literary market affords, many of them being written by the most popular authors and magazine contributors in the United States. In short, it is an entertaining, high-class magazine that will bear comparison with the best independent weeklies or monthlies, whatever the price.

There is nothing else like it in American journalism.

Picture Frame Reform.

A campaign against the classical gold frame one constantly sees on pictures is being made by an American artist Charles Field of St. Louis, now in Paris. He contends that every frame an artist possesses should be especially designed as regards molding and carving to fit a given canvas, so it becomes not only part of the picture, but also the thing that shows it to best advantage. The movement has caused much interest and comment in American art circles. Already John Martin of New York has taken up the new idea, and two of his pictures will be exhibited in the coming autumn season framed in this way.—Argonaut.

Cold Steel.

A new bayonet and also a new sword have been decided upon, but it is not known when they will replace the present regulation weapons. The sword is designed for thrusting and will be long, straight and narrow, after the pattern of the rapier. The bayonet, too, will be long and thin, so as to give its wielder a good reach. It was said some time ago that the days of long range fighting had made the bayonet almost obsolete, but the Russo-Japanese war proved that hand to hand fighting has by no means been relegated to the past.—London Court Journal.

Dangerous Sense of Humor.

George G. Morton, a machinist residing on Russell street, has very sore ribs and all because he laughed too heartily. He was thoroughly enjoying a joke played on a comrade with a garden hose, and as he watched the sport from a window he laughed with great gusto, so much so that he was seized with pains and had to be helped to a seat. A medical man was called and found that he had fractured a rib and had torn away part of the lining about another rib.—Bermuda Royal Gazette.

DORA DEANE

OR THE LAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

Mr. Hastings bit his lip, for this was not exactly the kind of meeting he had anticipated, and after sitting an awkward moment, during which he was wishing that she had not answered him as she did, he said: "Will you not look up, Dora, and tell me how you have passed the time in my absence? I am sure you have improved it, both from your own appearance and what Eugenia has told me."

This was a subject on which Dora felt that she could trust herself, and, drying her tears, she became very animated as she told him of the books she had read and the studies she had pursued. "I have taken music lessons, too," she added. "Would you like to hear me play?"

Mr. Hastings would far rather have sat there watching her bright face, with his arm thrown lightly around her waist, but it was this very act, at a touch of his arm, which prompted her proposal, and gracefully disengaging herself she crossed over to the piano which was standing in the room and commenced singing the old, sad song of "Home again, home again, from a foreign shore." The tones of her voice were rich and full, and they reached the ear of Uncle Nat, who in his eagerness to listen forgot everything, until Mrs. Elliott said: "It is Dora singing to my brother. Shall we join them?"

Reading the way, she ushered him into the music-room, where, standing at Dora's side, he listened rapturously to her singing, occasionally wiping away a tear called forth by the memories the song had awakened. The sight of the piano reminded him of Eugenia, and when Dora had finished playing he laid his broad hand upon her shoulder and said, "Do you ever hear from Eugenia on the villains?"

Dora knew to whom he referred and half laughing at his excited manner she replied, as she stole a mischievous glance towards Mr. Hastings, "I received a letter from Eugenia not long since, and she seemed very anxious to know in what part of Europe Mr. Hastings was now travelling, and if he were ever coming home?"

"Much good his coming home will do her, the trollop!" muttered Uncle Nat, whispering incoherently to himself as he generally did when Eugenia was the subject of his thoughts. "Don't answer the letter," he said at last; "or, if you do, say nothing of me; I wish to meet them first as a stranger."

Near the window Mr. Hastings was standing, revolving in his own mind a double surprise which he knew would mortify Eugenia more than anything else. But in order to effect this Uncle Nat must remain incognito for some time yet, while Dora herself must be won, and this, with the jealous fears of a lover, he fancied might be harder to accomplish than the keeping Uncle Nat silent when in the presence of Eugenia.

"To-morrow I will see her alone, and know the worst," he thought; and glancing at Dora he felt a thrill of fear lest she, in all the freshness of her youth, should refuse her heart to one who had called another than herself his wife.

But Ella Grey had never awakened a love as deep and absorbing as that which he now felt for Dora Deane and all that night he lay awake, wondering how he should approach her and fancying sometimes that he saw the cold surprise with which she would listen to him, and again that he read in her dark-blue eyes the answer which he sought. The morrow came, but throughout the entire day he found no opportunity of speaking to her alone, for Uncle Nat hovered near her side, gazing at her as if he would never tire of looking at her beautiful face. And Dora, too, had much to say to the old man, on this the first day after his return. With his head resting upon her lap, and her soft white hand upon his wrinkled brow, she told him of her mother and the message she had left for him on the sad night when she died. Then she spoke of her Aunt Sarah, of Eugenia and Alice, and the wrath of Uncle Nat was somewhat abated when he heard her pleading with him not to be so angry and unforgiving.

"I can treat Alice well, perhaps," he said, "for she, it seems, was never particularly unkind. And for your sake, I may forgive the mother. But Eugenia never!—not even if Fannie herself should ask me!"

Thus passed that day, and when the next one came Uncle Nat still stayed at Dora's side, following her from room to room, and never for a moment leaving Mr. Hastings with her alone. In this manner nearly a week went by, and the latter was beginning to despair, when one evening as the three were together in the little music-room, and Mrs. Elliott was with her mother, who was ill, it suddenly occurred to Uncle Nat that he had appropriated Dora entirely to himself, not giving Mr. Hastings a single opportunity for seeing her alone.

"I have wondered that he did not tell me he was engaged," he thought, "but how could he when I haven't given him a chance to speak to her, unless he did it before me; strange I should be so selfish. But I'll make amends now—though I do hope he'll be quick!"

Rising up, he walked to the door, when, thinking that Mr. Hastings might possibly expect him to return every moment, and so keep silent, he said: "I've been in the way of you young folks long enough, and I feel just as if something might happen if I left you together! Call me when you want me!" So saying, he shut the door, and Mr. Hastings was alone at last with Dora Deane!

Both knew to what Uncle Nat referred, and while Dora fidgeted from one thing to another, looking at a book of prints wrong side up, and admiring the pictures, Mr. Hastings sat perfectly still, wondering why he was so much afraid of her. Two years before he felt no fear; but a refusal at that time would not have affected him as it would do now, for he did not then know how much he loved her. Greatly he desired that she should speak to him, look at him, or do something to break the embarrassing silence; but this Dora had no intention of doing, and she was just meditating the propriety of running away, when he found voice enough to say, "Will you come and sit by me, Dora?"

She had always obeyed him, and she did so now, taking a seat, however, as far from him as possible, on the end of the sofa. Still, when he moved up closely to her side, and wound his arm about her, she did not object, though her face burned with blushes, and she thought it quite likely that her next act would be to cry! And this she did do when he said to her, "Dora, do you remember the night when Ella died?"

He did not expect any answer yet and he continued: "She told me, you know, of a time when, though not forgetting her, I should love another—should seek to call another my wife. And, Dora, she was right, for I do love another better, if it be possible, than I did my lost Ella. 'Tis four years since she left me; and now that I would have a second wife, will the one whom I have chosen from all the world to be that wife answer me yes? Will she go back with me in the autumn to my long-deserted home, where her presence always brought sunlight and joy?"

There was no coquetry about Dora Deane, and she could not have practiced it now if there had been. She knew Mr. Hastings was in earnest—knew that he meant what he said—and the little hand which at first had stolen partly under her dress, lest he should touch it, came back from its hiding-place and crept slowly along until his was reached, and there she let it lay. This was her answer and he was satisfied.

For a long, long time they sat together, while Mr. Hastings talked, not wholly of the future when she would be his wife, but of the New Year's morning years ago when he found her sleeping in the chamber of death—of the bright June afternoon when she sat with her bare feet in the running brook—of the time when she first brought comfort to his home—ed

The old darky was having his eyes tested for glasses. After the oculist had put up several cards of Roman letters, which the negro vainly endeavored to call off correctly, he looked over at the oculist and asked, with some disgust:

The Origin of the Holy Stone.

At the reformation, when the Church of St. Nicholas at Yarmouth was despoiled, the carved stones of many of the monuments, both in the church and outside in the graveyard, were shipped off, some to Newcastle to be turned into grindstones and some on board the ships of the royal navy of the day to be used in scouring the decks, whence, it is interesting to know, the boatmen's term "holystoning the deck" takes its origin.—London Standard.

Moles as Mesmerists.

Like the squirrel and some other animals, the mole lays up a store of food during the autumn months. A curious and interesting feature in relation to this storage is that the mole does not kill the worms it collects, but stupefies them in such a manner that they do not attempt to escape.—Country Life.

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $200,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's great copper producers. The famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,000 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits in the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income; of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length, no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Hunningtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

What Many Men Need

Dr Hamilton Has a Prescription That "Sets" You Right Up.

When a man has lost ambition to "dig in" and stay at things—when he complains of headache, fullness in the right side, pains in the shoulder blade—it's purely a case of liver.

These symptoms invariably indicate a clogged, sluggish liver. The body can't get rid of its wastes, and the whole system is half paralyzed.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver into activity in one night. Being a mild vegetable laxative they produce results in a few hours. The bilious headache and constipation are cured, spirits rise, complexion clears, animation returns. Nothing in the calendar so efficient for that tired lazy feeling as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Very mild, don't interfere with work, invariably do lots of good. Try a 25c box, all dealers.

Mr. Latimer of this city, who travels for the Geo. Foy Co., Ltd., of Toronto, returned on Saturday from a business trip between Burkes' Falls and the Magnetawan River. Mr. Latimer gave The Times an amusing account of the hardships encountered whilst in that wild country. As he drove a team along the country roads the "pitch-holes" were something terrible, sometimes being four or five feet deep. One horse of his team would mount on trying to leap the holes whilst the other would accurately climb down and up from the holes. The result of such a difference in the horses' actions is better imagined than described.

About a dozen of the late Mr. Fairweather's personal friends in Toronto accompanied the remains. Mr. Robt. Fairweather, brother of the deceased, was the only relative present. The pall bearers were: Messrs. R. H. and Thos. Fortye, G. W. Hatton, Alex. Elliott, R. R. Hall and J. R. Stratton.

The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous. Rev. Robt. A. Pogue of St. Paul's church conducted the service at the grave.

Is This the Buckhorn Burglar?

The Toronto police have in custody a man, named Edward Burke, whom they believe, robbed Purser's store at Buckhorne, about six weeks ago. Mr. George Cochrane, high county constable, received a message from Toronto, where the police are holding the man until Mr. Cochrane goes after him. The police of the Queen City, believe that he is the man who robbed the store, and at the point of a revolver stole $25 in full sight of Miss Purser and Miss Stubbs.

"Coffee" Cough

Woman Feared Consumption but Specialist Said Cough Came from Coffee

Quite a relief to learn your cough, which everyone said was surely consumption, is really caused by reflex irritation from coffee drinking.

You can quit the coffee, but consumption is hard to "shake".

A Wis. woman coughed so hard and so much she and her friends thought sure she had consumption, but a specialist in lung diseases, found her lungs were all right—the cough came from coffee. She writes:

"I had a very bad cough that refused to yield to medicine. After five months doctoring with my home doctor and fearing consumption, I consulted a specialist who examined my lungs thoroughly. He said they were all right but I must quit drinking coffee as that was probably the cause of it. I was very nervous, also.

"He suggested I drink Postum, and gave me no medicine, only said he would write to my home doctor. I came home glad in one way and sorry in another. I thought it was hard to give up coffee, for I did not care for breakfast without it.

"The doctor's letter miscarried and I got no medicine for 2 weeks, but I left off coffee and began to use Postum, and my cough began to get better. It steadily improved in other ways—digestion got all right and I was not nervous.

"A short time ago I went to a picnic where they served only coffee and I drank some, but found my great love for it was entirely gone.

"I would have been glad to have had a cup of Postum, for the coffee I drank seemed like I had swallowed a nurse, besides I did not sleep that night. Nothing would induce me to go back to coffee again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Get the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville", in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicine are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

NEW CITY COUNCIL HOLDS THEIR FIRST REGULAR MEETING

Several Important Matters Brought Up but, in the Main, Held Over for Further Discussion and Approval

Last night the new City Council held their first regular meeting with Mayor Rush presiding. Those present were Aldermen Johnston, Elliott, Tovey, Morgan, Buller, Bradburn, Turner, Gillespie, R. Neill, McIntyre, Morrow and Phelan.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

The following resolution was adopted;

Council of the City of Peterborough.

Gentlemen;—

Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

Board of Works—Aldermen Phelan, chairman, Bradburn, Buller, Tovey, McIntyre, Elliott and Morgan.

Fire, Water and Light—Aldermen Johnston, chairman; Buller, McIntyre and Turner.

Manufacturers' (Railways and Franchises)—Aldermen Neill, chairman; Morrow, Gillespie and Tovey.

Finance (Printing and Licenses)—Aldermen Morrow, chairman; Phelan, Neill and Bradburn.

Property (Market, Building and Health)—Aldermen Bradburn, chairman, Johnston, Gillespie and Morgan.

Legal (Reception, Legislation and Joint with County)—Aldermen Elliott, chairman; McIntyre, Turner and Phelan.

2. That four members constitute a quorum for the Board of Works.

3. That the usual grant of $200 be made to the mayor, to be paid quarterly, at the beginning of each quarter.

The audit of the Peterborough water works was then read and adopted.

The report of Mr. Finch Hatton was then read and adopted.

The resignation of Mr. Robert Nott now a member of the county council formerly of the Board of Health, was read and accepted.

A report of the city tax collector, Mr. Green was read, showing that only $9850 was still unpaid.

J. Ross Robertson, Toronto, wrote asking for a grant to the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. Referred to the proper committee with power to act.

The governor-general wrote regretting that he could not accept the kind invitation issued to him to come here by the Sons of England. Several other communications were then read followed by one by Mrs. Martha Reid, objecting to the assessment for the following year. The Court of Revision sent a communication noting several changes in their work of changing the assessment for this year.

Ald. Morrow next read a full list of the standing committees for the year, already given in the report and noting that the usual grant of $500 be given the mayor for his services.

It was moved that Mr. Jas. Hall be a member of the Board of Health. Dr. Young appointed to the board. Ald. Elliott moved that Mr. James Murty be a member. Carried.

Ald. Morrow moved that by-law No. 1256 be suspended regarding the board of Health.

A motion was brought forward by Ald. Morrow that the City Council pay the Board of Education a certain sum asked.

It was moved by Ald. Phelan that Ald. Bradburn, Morrow and Neill be empowered to act in procuring power for municipal and other purposes.—Carried.

It was then carried that the Manufacturers' Committee be empowered to go to other cities to try and get manufactories for the city.

The matter of the Black Bridge was then discussed.

Ald Johnston thought it was only right that the City Council should draft a resolution of condolence to the family of the late Mr. Pringle.—Carried unanimously.

The matter of iron tracks in the fire hall was brought up by Ald. Johnston, Ald. Morgan noted that considerable trouble was now experienced at the hall. Owing to his speech, several important changes at the fire hall were recommended. This was left to the Fire, Water and Light Committee to deal with these improvements. Ald. Johnston noted that if Ald. Morgan were given his full way he would spend $2000 of the city's money.

Ald. Tovey passed a few remarks upon the way the Street Railway management was neglecting the shovelling away of snow.

Ald. Phelan, in a joking way, said he would look after the matter.

The matter of the city's assessment was next brought up. Ald. Phelan noted that whomsoever might be appointed assessors must "work together." This matter was shelved until a further meeting.

Ald. Neill moved that assessors should be advertised for. In reply to Ald. Elliott, the mover would not mention any fixed salary, that to be fixed later.

EMMERSON CASE HAS BEEN DISMISSED

Fredericton, N.B., Jan 13.—In Circuit Court here today Jas. H. Crockett appeared with J. Douglas Hazen, K.C., and Mayor McLeod and counsel, prepared to go on with the case of King on information of Henry R. Emmerson vs. James P. Clock et. al. Nobody was present to represent the Crown or Emmerson. Has made application to have the case dismissed. Judge McLeod asked if the Crown had been notified that application would be made, and Hazen said he notified Solicitor-General Jones on Saturday and yesterday. His honor then dismissed the case.

Japan and U. S. Are Drifting Into Trouble

Negotiations on the Emigration Question are Reaching Critical Stage

Wait Till Fleet is Nearer

Tokio, Jan. 13.—Incoming cablegrams indicating an overwhelming sentiment in America in favor of an exclusion bill, are causing much uneasiness among leaders of all shades of politics, who have repeatedly expressed the conviction that the Americans did not desire to discriminate against Japanese and would accept the attitude of the Japanese government as evidence of its sincere desire not to embarrass the American government, and at the same time save the "amour propre" of the Japanese.

Uneasiness has been intensified by the delay of a reply from Washington to the Japanese note of December 31.

RELATIONS ARE STRAINED.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Negotiations between the United States and Japan have reached a serious stage. While war as an eventuality is not seriously apprehended, largely because of Japan's unpreparedness, it is known that the historic friendly relations are strained almost to the point of breaking. The official denial given at the state department of so-called reports of demands having been made upon Japan are literally true in a diplomatic sense, but the denial in a measure, is an evasion.

CAN GIVE NO ASSURANCE.

Secretary Root is now preparing an answer, with the assistance of several experts in Oriental affairs. The Japanese government will be informed that assurances cannot be given that an exclusion act will not be passed, but that the administration will exert its influence to prevent such legislation if possible, pending negotiations.

The issue in official circles in Japan has caused acute agitation, and because of the strained conditions of affairs Secretary Root will not unnecessarily precipitate matters, with the battleship fleet so far from its base in the Pacific.

A Crime to Give Negro the Ballot

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 12.—Governor James Vardaman, in his message to the legislature, asked that body to memorialize congress to call a constitutional convention to repeal the fifteenth and modify the fourteenth amendment. He asks that a law be passed making the negro support his own schools and allowing him only a manual education, taking the position that the educated black is more criminally inclined than his illiterate brother.

"These iniquitous portions of the United States constitution were conceived in a spirit of hatred and ignorance, and brought forth in a spasm of venom and revenge," he says. "To give the negro the right of suffrage and place him on terms of absolute equality with the white man was the capital crime of the ages against the white man's civilization. The effect has proven disastrous, and the perpetuation of the evil effects of the error can only harm to both races. You cannot adjust laws suited to the government of the white man—the heirs of all the ages in the foremost files of time—to this low-browed, civilization-venerated savage. And it is worse than a crime to undertake it."

DELIBERATE MURDER, PREMEDITATED, COWARDLY SAYS GARVAN

Prosecution in Thaw Case Opened Its Argument Yesterday Morning--Was Prisoner Insane When He Shot White?

New York, Jan. 13.—Prior to the opening of the trial of Harry K. Thaw today, Attorney A. Russell Peabody stated that no application for a commission to go to Pittsburg and take the testimony of Mrs. William Thaw would be made, as the defendant's mother had signified she would come on to New York when needed. Mrs. Thaw is still a very sick woman, but the value of her testimony as a personal matter, rather than in the prosaic form of a deposition, has led the attorneys to abandon the latter proposition.

Thaw was called to the bar promptly at ten a.m.

THE PROSECUTION'S CASE.

Within the next few minutes Assistant District Attorney Garvan had begun the outline of the prosecution's case to the jury. He said that the grey matter in Thaw-White affair had attained should but urge the jurors to a thorough understanding of the gray matter imposed upon them.

"The defense in this case," said Mr. Garvan, depressing emphasis from his address of a year ago, "is insanity. The material facts are admitted. Insanity, let me admonish you, is not to be determined by what you or I might think. It is no more physicians or mere theorists may tell us, or what exponents of pseudo-scientists may describe. Insanity, as we have to deal with it, has been defined by the legislature of the State of New York. The law is wiser than we are. We are sworn to obey it and to live under it. That law says that the only reason excused of criminal responsibility is he who is deficient of reason that he does not know the nature or quality of his act or that the act is wrong. With this definition, and this definition of the law alone, I ask you to judge of all the acts of this defendant on the night of June 25th, 1906.... when he shot and killed Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square Garden."

A DELIBERATE MURDER.

Mr. Garvan proceeded for some minutes in his address, describing the killing of Stanford White as "premeditated, deliberate and cowardly murder."

The first witness called was the man who made the diagram of the garden where the killing occurred.

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw, looking taste and somewhat careworn, today appeared in the room of the proceedings declaration of the actual details of the tragedy, with the diagram pictures. Joseph Thaw, the brother, and Mrs. George L. Carnegie, the sister, completed the usual family group. There were less than a score of spectators present at the morning session.

THE FIRST WITNESS.

Walter H. Volkening, a draughtsman, the first witness called, made the diagram of the scene of the killing, which was introduced in evidence today. He was cross-examined at length as to all the surroundings of Madison Square Garden at the time he made the drawing. Immediately after the first witness had concluded his testimony, District Attorney Jerome asked that all witnesses be excluded. The court made an exception of all medical experts. This ruling disclosed the fact that Dr. John T. Dugan, the Thaw family physician, was in the court room and will be one of the first witnesses for the defence.

SCENE ON THE ROOF GARDEN.

As the second witness, Mr. Garvan called and examined James Clinen Smith, who last year testified in rebuttal, having been abroad when the state presented its direct case.

Grenfell Gets His Herd of Reindeer

St John's, Nwfld., Jan. 12. — The herd of reindeer imported from Norway by Dr. Wilfred Grenfell from the celebrated missionary was landed at Cremille Harbor, Labrador, under difficulties. The deer were placed on board the steamer Anita a, St. John's but on account of numerous ice floes the boat was unable to proceed near the shore The animals were lowered from the steamer into a body of ice.

When deckhands started to drive the deer to shore it was found that the ice was very thin, and in spite of the efforts of the men, several animals broke through and perished. The bull of the herd was driven ashore safely.

A short time later a storm arose and the Anita was forced on a reef, her bottom was badly damaged, and her sides were crushed by a huge ice floes, which was carried against the vessel. The boat remained afloat, however, and was able to reach St John's, where she arrived yesterday looking badly.

New Phase of Trouble

Johannesburg, January 11. — The trouble between the Government and the Asiatics in the Transvaal entered upon a new phase yesterday.

There has been discovered a flaw in the immigration act which renders illegal the sentences of deportation found last month against several of the British Indian traders in the country, and the sentences will have to be revised.

The Government, however, is as determined as ever, and the immigration act will be so amended as to make possible more drastic treatment.

Seven Indian traders were sentenced by three months at hard labor at Pretoria today for refusing to obey the law to leave the country on account of their failure to register.

HARTLEY INVITED.

That Mr. Dave Hartley's reputation as a hockey player has extended far and near will be born out by the following letter;

Would like to see you enter.

W. D. SCOVILLE.

DR. GRAY OBJECTS TO WAY STREETS ARE BEING CLEANED

At last night's session of the City Council, Dr. Gray spoke concerning the present system of snow plowing. He said the present City Council was composed of intelligent men. The present system was as though a row of logs were passed along the sidewalks. He wanted the snow plow to be pulled along the pavements from when a snow storm starts till it quits. In the East Ward, things in this connection were rotten.

He was assured that things in the future will be improved.

Brother and Sister Engaged to Wed

Englewood, S. Dak., Jan. 12.—Albert Jackson and Miss Minnie Burton discovered just before the day set for their marriage that they were brother and sister, and they have gone to Northern Minnesota to make a search for their mother, whom they have not seen since they were little children.

Jackson is a miner, and has been in the Black Hills for several years. Miss Burton came to the Hills six or seven months ago as a book agent. The young woman sold the young miner some books, Jackson fell in love with her, contrived to see her frequently, and a few weeks ago asked her to marry him. She consented, and they set a day for the nuptials.

"It came to light the day before the marriage was to be celebrated that the young woman's real name was not Burton, but Worthington, and the real name of her lover was not Jackson, but Worthington. Each had been given away when a child; he had taken the name of the man who had adopted him and she that of the man who had adopted her. They had been separated and neither had known the name the other had taken.

Funeral of Late Mrs. R. J. Kidd

This afternoon the last sad rites will be observed in connection with the remains of the late Mrs. R. J. Kidd who, as was universally mourned yesterday passed away at her late residence, 380 Hunter street, on Sunday morning early. While the deceased had been in poor health since last November, she had only been seriously ill two weeks. The late Mrs. Kidd was forty-two years of age, and was born in Millbrook. Her maiden name was Charlotte Cox, and was the daughter of the late Chas. and Mrs. Cox of Goderich. She was married to her husband, who now survives her, twenty years ago, and they have resided in this city ever since. The deceased lady was held in high esteem by a large number of friends. She has of late years been actively engaged in church work, as a member of Charlotte street Methodist church. She was also a great worker in the Ladies' Aid, having filled several important offices in that society.

Besides her husband, her mother and four sisters are left to mourn her loss. The sisters are Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Black of Toronto, Mrs. (Dr.) Emmerson of Goderich, and Miss Cox of this city.

The funeral will take place this afternoon, the service at the house commencing at 1.30, and the funeral will leave at two o'clock and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

INAUGURAL MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL YESTERDAY

The Mayor's Address--Will not Stand for a Second Term--

Chairman of the Committees Appointed by Ballot

The inaugural meeting of the new City Council was held at eleven o'clock yesterday morning.

There were present his Worship Mayor Harry Rush, Aldermen Gillespie, J. J. Turner, jr., W. H. Bradburn, Johnston, Buller, Neill, Morrow, Phelan and Tovey.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

His Worship Mayor Harry Rush read to his colleagues the following address;

Gentlemen:—

I understand that it has been usual for the newly elected mayor to address the members of the new council and to outline, as far as is judicious, the business program for the year, and to offer suggestions as to the policy that should be pursued on important matters.

I presume, however, that this is more or less a matter of discretion, than a cast iron rule. At least, it is my intention to offer only a few brief remarks that can hardly be called an address.

I wish to express the personal gratification I feel in the fact that I will have the assistance of so intelligent and representative a board of Aldermen as I see before me. I realize that I have been singularly fortunate in this respect, and have been congratulating myself on the pleasure which it will afford me to have such good support in the discharge of the duties of my office and in lessening the responsibilities thereof.

You will necessarily do many new and important things to further the march of improvement in our city and to complete work already inaugurated. Whatever may be demanded of you, I am confident the interests of the city at this important stage of its development will commend itself to you as worthy of your best efforts.

I commend all the city interests to you in the hope that you may be successful in meeting every problem which may justly claim your attention as the guardians of the city's welfare for the next twelve months, and as affecting the prosperity of Peterborough for many years beyond your actual term of office.

I may say in conclusion that the pressure of my friends has induced me to accept this important office, and I wish it to be understood that it is not my present intention to accept a second term.

CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES.

Mayor Rush before the council adjourned into Committee of the Whole to appoint chairmen of the different committees, and to subsequently strike the personnell of said committee, explained that Ald. Tovey, ex-chairman of the Finance Committee, had decided to relinquish all claim upon said office, realizing that his business engagements kept him down to a point in the south end of the city too far removed from the city hall to permit of his filling the office with that close attention to the city's interests the importance of the committee demanded. The mayor ended with a strong recognition of the valued services to the city last year rendered by Ald. Tovey as finance committee.

The chairmen of the different committees were appointed by ballot, which resulted as follows:

Board of Works—Ald. Phelan on a vote of 10 to 3, the latter gentlemen evidently understood before the meeting that Ald. Elliott was not a candidate for the position.

Fire, Water and Light—Ald. Johnston on a charge of 10 to 3 on Ald. Morgan.

Manufacturers' Committee—Ald. Neill elected by a straight vote of 13.

Finance Committee—Ald. Morrow on a vote of 11 to 2, the latter being cast in favor of Ald. Bradburn.

Property Committee—Ald. Bradburn on a vote of 10 to 3, the latter being in favor of Ald. McIntyre.

Reception Committee—Ald. Elliott on a straight vote of 13.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston—That the Board of Works be constituted of seven members and the remaining committees of four, the mayor to act ex-officio on all committees.—Carried.

MAYOR'S SALARY.

Ald Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn—That the remuneration of the mayor be $500.

The council then adjourned till eight o'clock.

Considerable [illegible] has been expressed that Ald. Elliott had not been given the chairmanship of his old committee. Previous to which capacity he served with great ability, and will undoubtedly fill the office with credit not only to himself but to the community at large. But Ald. McIntyre is a valued member of the council and although he does not assume a chairmanship this year, his advice will at all times carry weight.

POLICE

Frank and Charley Healey, East Side, yesterday gave themselves up to High County Constable Cochrane and County Constable A. Moore. They are wanted in connection with the charge of forgery upon which Frank Hamilton was arrested by High County Constable Cochrane a few days ago. It is alleged that Hamilton raised a cheque of $1.40 in his favor to $51.40. The three come up on Friday at ten o'clock at Magistrate Edmison's county court.

The Healey brothers were admitted to bail on $500 each, one having to furnish personal surety of $250. The Healeys surrendered themselves voluntarily, and claim to be in no way connected with the offence.

Half a Million Dollar Fire in Big Warehouse in Toronto

Building burned—Storage warehouse of M. Rawlinson & Co., Limited, 11 St. Joseph street.

Value of building, $60,000.

Loss on building, $20,000.

Value of contents, $500,000.

Loss on contents, $400,000.

Persons who stored furniture in warehouse, 2,000.

Insurance on building, $26,000.

Insurance on contents, about $300,000.

Toronto, Jan. 13.—When John the foreman of M. Rawlinson's warehouse, on St. Joseph street, near Yonge, opened the door of the elevator shaft at 8.20 this morning, a column of flame spouted up the shaft making him retreat quickly. He immediately informed the chief foreman of the works, Alfred Ellis, and the fire brigade was summoned.

The fire started in the first storey of the more westerly of the two large warehouses owned by M. Rawlinson and Co., Ltd. It is supposed that it was caused by a defective electric motor which was placed there. This section of the building is used exclusively for the storage of pianos, of which there were 180 in storage when the fire fiend commenced his work.

Many persons suffer with weak stomach and more or less ill ease because they fail to understand the simple and healthful plan of a breakfast somewhat like the following:

A little fruit
A dish of Grape Nuts and cream.
One or two soft eggs.
A Cup of Postum Food Coffee and perhaps a piece of hard toast.

A man says, "I couldn't go on that until noon."

One or two day's trial will teach him a big volume of facts and make him feel "fit as a lord." There is a deep underlying scientific reason. The best argument, however, is the actual experience with such breakfasts.

Objects to the City Shovelling Snow

(To the Editor of The Times):

The snow on our main thoroughfares, especially on George street all day yesterday, was not only a nuisance to the driving public, but also to merchants with stores abutting. Now it is possibly not up to your paper to reopen the old time agreement made between the city and the Street Car Co. But yesterday things looked "raw" when the street car people simply, with their little gratis franchise, now worth $200,000, shoved over for the rate and taxpayers to shovel up and cart away. In the particularly raw deal I do not blame the street car people for getting the citizens at large, to shovel and cart away the snow from their tracks.

Still when one saw the four and five foot deep drifts, mechanically or artificially made, of snow, at each side of Georg street, and considered that those in control of the street railway company, sat in their power-warmed offices and laughed as the taxpayers who shot their wagons, in song processions, one after another, in scores, to clear the snow away, it awakens a thinking man to a memory, and reminiscence and enquiry, "Who was the real gainer outside the company, by the deal when by the city does such work to let a foreign concern make money, and litter at the continuabulation of the shovels as they fling out the way for as exportation of our hard earned dollars to Chicago."

Yours truly,

RATEPAYER.

Tried to Stop Man from Suicide

New York, Jan 14.—While endeavoring to prevent a man, who gave his name as Edward Walker, of 597 Wabash avenue, Chicago, from leaping from the Brooklyn bridge, late last night, Patrolman Robert Fitzgerald was knocked from the overhead iron work by the pole of a passing trolley car, into the East River, 135 feet below. His body was not recovered. Another policeman arrested the would-be suicide as he was about to jump over the railing. Walker is about 21 years of age.

THE JAIL ON A FARM

There is something very attractive about this proposal of Sir William Mulock's to take the prison away from the heart of the city or town, and put it out in the midst of a great big farm, upon which such inmates as could be trusted to do it might be put to work. Prison life, is meant, of course, to involve a curtailment of liberty, and there can not well be anything more irksome to the spirit of a man than to be walled up as prisoners mostly are, with the full tied of human activity beating right up to the walls themselves. But does the community, which puts these men away for its better security, gain much by the fact that the iron thus enters their souls? It may be doubted. True, some of them are apparently incorrigible, anyhow, and feeling and sympathy are wasted upon them. Whether in respect of themselves, or of society, nothing is to be expected of them. There must be, for all that, a goodly number upon whom the sane and sober life of the farm would have its influence for good, and if it did no more than afford to their custodians the means of keeping some out of the evil influence of others, the experiment would be well worth while. Still greater importance, perhaps, attaches to Sir William's suggestion that the prisoners might have it thus put in their power to earn something, and save it against their going out to face the world again. It must require a degree of moral courage greater than one who has stooped to crime can be supposed to possess, to enable a man to face the world with a brave heart when, to the degradation with which his soul is seared, there is added the hopeless fear of dependence that follows upon abject poverty. How secure expects men thus cast adrift to behave themselves passes understanding. Of the real, hereditary criminal classes nothing need be expected. And against them vigilant suspicion may well be exercised; but it would be well to avoid making unnecessary additions to their ranks.

INTO THE LAND OF THE INCAS

The Government of Peru has entered into contracts with a railway construction man to build railways from the coast into the interior of the country, where the natural wealth is said to be something fabulous. A curious condition of affairs prevails at Peru, and if the contractor be allowed to select his own routes he can probably get the best possible, with excellent road-beds already made and which have endured for ages. It would be strange, indeed, if the old splendid highways of the Incas, long since grown over with forest, should now be cleared and used as the road-bed of modern railways.

In the ancient days, the Incas had post houses at intervals on their roads, where trains drunners were constantly on duty and carried messages and light articles, such as fresh fish from the sea coast, into the interior with remarkable speed, by the relay running system. These roads were hundreds of miles in length, traversing the most difficult valleys. They were wonderful engineers, architects and artisans, those ancient Peruvians, and had methods of wrkoing metal long since lost to the knowledge of man. What was one of the oldest and most advanced civilizations was destroyed, and for centuries the interior of this country, once so rich and productive, has been a wilderness. What wonders may not this latest enterprise reveal. It is like driving a railway into history.

CATTLE SHIPPING.

How Animals Are Loaded on Board Vessels in Hawaii.

Afterward I was taken to Kawaihae, where I saw cattle loaded in a most cruel manner. It was a little after 6 o'clock when I landed on the beach among a lot of cowboys and half naked natives. The cattle were corralled under the trees, and when one was ready to be taken aboard a rope was tied about its horns. A cowboy on horseback then rode into the surf, dragging the frightened steer into the water. The rope was tossed to a half naked native who was swimming, and he in turn carried it to the men waiting in a small boat. These men pulled the animal, which must now swim or drown, to the boat and tied him by the horns to its side. After eight steers had been tied up in this manner the engine on the steamer was set to work and the boat pulled alongside by means of a rope. The cattle were then hoisted on board by the use of a bellyband. The method of handling these dumb animals is brutal, and, while the men seem to use as much care as possible in moving them about, their piteous bellowing caused by fear made as pathetic a scene as I have ever witnessed. Thousands are shipped every year, and it seems that some more humane method of putting them aboard might be adopted.

The Japanese sailor on these ships is said to be the best for keeping the ship clean, while the native excels in handling the boats, especially in rough water. The Hawaiian is a born swimmer, and native boys will follow these vessels for several hundred yards as they are leaving Honolulu, swimming alongside and diving for coins thrown overboard by the travelers. The passage on these boats is always rough, and on the Ewaiani, as the ship lay at anchor out in the channel, the nights were intensely warm. Freighting in this way is necessarily expensive, but those in authority say that it is the only way practical, as no wharf could withstand the lashing of the waves caused by the mad fury of the winds during the winter. At that season it is often impossible to make landings along the rocky coast of Molokai.—Leslie's Weekly.

The Electro Magnet.

In engineering works the electro magnet is taking a very prominent place. This device dispenses with hooks, slings and other lifting apparatus. By throwing a switch controlling the current the magnet is energized and thereby attaches itself to the bars, castings, scrap or pig iron which it is desired to lift. The magnet poles are shaped according to the nature of the material to be raised. For heavy rails they are oblong and are slung from the crane hook by a short chain. Castings weighing over two tons are successfully handled by electro magnets. Another use to which the electro magnet is put is in breaking old castings so that they may be melted and utilized. To accomplish this the magnet is made to lift and drop a steel ball weighing from one to six tons.

Passing of a Famous Bridge.

At last the old bridge over the Golden Horn at Constantinople is about to be done away with and replaced by a new structure. An amusing tale is told in connection with the efforts of an American firm to secure the order. With a view to impressing the sultan with the quality of its work an elaborate painting was prepared for presentation to his majesty showing the bridge as it would appear during a storm which would have done credit to the Atlantic. However, the firm was informed that the sultan would be so horrified by this view that it at once prepared a picture showing the bridge as it would appear on a beautiful summer's day. Even this, however, Reuter says, failed to effect its purpose.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

the dark, rainy evening when the light of her sitting in Ella's room, with Ella's baby on her lap, had cheered her aching heart of the storm she had braved to tell him his baby was dying of the winter night when he watched her through the window of the dusky twilight when she sat at his feet in the little library at Rose Hill and again in his sister's home on the Hudsons when he first knew how much he loved her, of all these pictures, so indelibly stamped upon his memory, he told her, and of the many, many times his thoughts had been of her when afar on a foreign shore.

And Dora, listening to him, did not care to answer, her heart was so full of happiness to know that she should be thus loved by one like Howard Hastings. From a tower not far distant a city clock struck twelve, and then, starting up, she exclaimed, "So late! I thought it was only ten! We have kept Uncle Nat too long. Will you go with me to him?" and, with his arms still around her, Mr. Hastings arose to accompany her.

For half an hour after leaving the drawing-room Uncle Nat had walked up and down the long parlors with his hands in his pockets, hoping Mr. Hastings would be brief, and expecting each moment to hear Dora calling him back. In this manner an hour or more went by, and then, grown very nervous and cold (for it was a damp, chilly night, such as often occurs in our latitude, even in summer), he began to think that if Dora were not coming a fire would be acceptable, and he drew his chair near the register, which was closed. Wholly unaccustomed to furnaces, he did not think to open it, and for a time he sat wondering why he did'nt grow warm, and if it took coal oil as long to propose as it did Mr. Hastings.

"It didn't take me long to tell my love to Fanny," he said; "but then she refused, and when they accept, as Dora will, it's always a longer process, I reckon!"

This point satisfactorily settled, he began to wish the atmosphere of the room would moderate, and hitching in his chair, he at last sat directly over the register, but even this failed to warm him, and mentally concluding that though furnaces might do very well for New Yorkers, they were of no account whatever to an East India man, he fell asleep. In this situation Dora found him.

"Poor old man," said she, "it was thoughtless in me to leave him so long;" and, kissing his brow, she cried, "Wake up, Uncle Nat—wake up!" and Uncle Nat, rubbing his eyes with his stiff red fingers, and looking in her glowing face, saw that "something had happened"!

CHAPTER XX.

Mr. Hastings and Dora were engaged. Mrs. Hastings, the mother, and Mrs. Elliott the sister, had signified their entire approbation, while Uncle Nat, with a hand placed on the heads of the young people, had blessed them as his children, hinting the while that few brides ever went forth as richly dowered as should Dora Deane. The marriage was not to take place until the following October, as Mr. Hastings wished to make some improvements at Rose Hill, which was still to be his home proper, though Uncle Nat insisted upon buying a very elegant house in the city for a winter residence, whenever they chose thus to use it. To this proposal Mr. Hastings made no objection, for though he felt that his greatest happiness would be in having Dora all to himself in Dunwood, he knew that society in the city would never have the effect upon her which it did upon Ella, for her tastes, like his own, were domestic, and on almost every subject she felt and thought as he did.

Immediately after his engagement he imparted to Uncle Nat a knowledge of the double surprise he had planned for Eugenia, and the old gentleman at last consented, saying, though, that it was doubtful whether he could hold himself together when first he met this ingenious, but unscrupulous young lady. Still, with Mr. Hastings' presence as a check, he would endeavor to succeed.

So it was arranged that in Dunwood, where Mr. Hastings' return was still unknown, Uncle Nat should pass as a Mr. Hamilton whom Mr. Hastings had picked up in his travels. Four years of his earlier life had been spent in South America, and whenever he spoke of any particular place of abode it was to be of Buenos Ayres, where he had once resided. By this means he could the more easily learn for himself the character and disposition of his relatives, and feeling now more eager than ever to meet them he then started with Mr. Hastings for Dunwood. It was morning when they reached there, and, with a dark, lowering brow he looked curiously at the house which his companion designated as Locust Grove. It was a pleasant spot, and it seemed almost impossible that it should be the home of a woman so artful and designing as Eugenia. About it now, however, there was an air of desertion. The doors were shut and the blinds closed, as if the inmates were absent.

On reaching Rose Hill, where he found his servants overwhelmed with delight at his unexpected return, Mr. Hastings casually inquired of Mrs. Leah if the Deanes were at home. A shadow passed over the old lady's face, and folding her arms she leaned against the door, and began: "I wonder now if you're askin' after them the first thing! I don't know but they are well enough, all but Eugenia. I believe I never disliked anybody as I do her—and no wonder, the way she's gone on. At first she used to come up here almost every week on purpose to ask about you, though she pretended to tumble over your books and mark 'em all up with her pencil. But when that scapegrace Stephen Grey came she took another tack, and the way she and he went on was perfectly scandalous. She was a-runnin' up here the whole blessed time that he wasn't a-streakin' it down there."

"Stephen Grey been here? When, and what for?" interrupted Mr. Hastings, who, as his father-in-law during his absence had removed to Philadelphia, knew nothing of the family.

"You may well ask that," returned Mrs. Leah, growing very much excited as she remembered the trouble the fast young man had made her. "Last fall in shootin' time he came here, bag, baggage, guns, dogs, and all—said it didn't make a speck of difference you being away, 'twas all in the family, and so you'd 'a' thought, the way he went on drinkin', swearin', shootin', and carousin' with a lot of fellers who stayed with him here a spell, and then when they were gone he took a-flirtin' with Eugenia Deane, who told him, I'll bet, more'n five hundred lies about an old uncle that, she says, is rich as a Jew and has willed his property to her and Alice."

"The viper!" muttered Uncle Nat to himself; and Mrs. Leah continued, "I shouldn't wonder if old Mr. Grey was gettin' poor, and Steve, I guess, would marry anybody who had money, but Lord knows I don't want him to have her, for though he ain't an atom too good, I used to live in the family, and took care of him when he was little. I should 'a' written about his carryin's-on to Mrs. Elliott, only I knew she didn't think any too much of the Greys, and 'twould only trouble her for nothing'."

"But where are they now — Mrs. Deane and her daughters?" asked Mr. Hastings.

"Mrs. Deane and Mrs. Leah replied. "Gone to Avon Springs; and folks do say they've done their own work and ate cold victuals off the pantry shelf ever since last November, so as to save money to cut a swell. I guess Eugenia'll be mighty glad if that old uncle ever dies. For my part, I hope he won't; or, if he does, I hope he won't leave her a dollar."

"Not a dime!" thought Uncle Nat, who, not being supposed to feel interested in Eugenia Deane, had tried to appear indifferent, holding hard the while upon the rounds of his chair "to keep himself together."

(To be Continued.)

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountain shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by all dealers.

Why Not?

There recently entered the service of a Cleveland family a domestic of Scandinavian origin. She had never seen a refrigerator before, and the lady of the house, after initiating her into its mysteries, instructed her never to leave anything old or left over in the icebox, but to keep the refrigerator perfectly clean and fresh by throwing the old things away each morning.

The very next day the mistress, looking out of the window, observed something peculiar in the yard.

"What is that, Sophie?" she asked. "And how did it get there?"

"That is old ice, ma'am," was the proud response, "left over from yesterday. I t'row it away lak you tol' me."—Harper's Weekly.

Thought He Proposed.

The day of the lady cop had arrived.

"Halt!" exclaimed one of the gentler guardians as she stepped in front of the speeding automobile.

"Will you take my name, miss?" asked the courteous young man in the big machine.

She blushed to the roots of her hair.

"Take your name?" she chirped. "Why—why, this is so sudden."—Chicago News.

A Mistaken Impression.

"Of course," said the analytical questioner, "there is a great deal to be said on both sides of the question."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "Too many of us are getting the idea that all a public question is fit for nowadays is to serve as the topic for a good talk."—Washington Star.

A Music Lover.

"Do you think you will give any musicales this winter?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I like them. They give me a chance to keep still instead of inviting criticisms of my grammar from mother and the girls."—Washington Star.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain (congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else whatever. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and he proves it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—causes blood pressure away from pain centres. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful, quickly, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is always. It's simply Common Sense.

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 300 feet, is over 8 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this agency believes will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the largest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this one an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purpose, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $4.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Last year there were 1093 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 254 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.20 for the 47½ days only.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government expert's report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Wives and Mothers Suffer with Backache

Unfortunately They Fail to Recognize the Dangerous Cause of the Trouble.

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and growing family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weak ailing women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing down pains.

Such suffering isn't natural but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The dizziness, insomnia, deranged menses and other symptoms of kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

Who Nailed Rubbers to Floor?

There is no doubt as to whom nailed Mr. Kerr's rubbers to the police station floor. The Times reporters all plead "not guilty," and a query put to the scribes of the evening papers seems to elect emphatically the fact that none of them did the trick. It is now suspected that a local carpentering contractor is the culprit.

Havelock Local Option Opponent Here

Yesterday a well known resident of Harwood or in the near vicinity was in the city, and gave The Times a call. The gentleman noted that whilst local option will come into force there on May 1st, that the hotelmen of that burg are going to raise the prices of drinks and stabling accommodation so that the advocates of local option will have to pay for what he calls "their fad." The prices of whisky and other liquors has gone up as has that of stabling and care of horses, etc. Our informant claims that the surrounding farmers who voted for local option, will, when their next tax bills come in, regret the vote on this matter.

Toronto Fire Brings this City to Fore

It seems that yesterday Toronto has had still another big fire, the storage rooms of Rawlinson, Ltd., having been burnt. Now Hogtown, whilst not being envied for its recent extensive conflagrations, seems through its press agents to seek glory even through its losses. To route is all right but it seems to want glory or incidentally advertisement through its losses. Why don't manufacturers or merchants locate in Peterborough where proper (no insidious reflections meant) fire protection is offered and where cheap power can be had.

Local Lighting Dealt With

Ald Johnston, at last night's council meeting noted that a most unsatisfactory condition exists between the Peterborough Light & Power Co. and the city. Ald. Morgan noted that the company had a six years' contract with the city. Ald. Phelan thought the city was not getting what it pays for. His worship thought the chairmen of the Fire, Water & Light Committee should see Mr Learmonth.

It was finally decided, on motion of Ald. Morgan, to ask Mr. Learmonth to appear before the council next Monday night to explain matters.—Carried.

Former Local Citizen to Return

Mr. R. E. Mason, a former local man, but now representing the National Cash Register Co., is a guest once more at the Oriental Hotel. Mr Mason whilst representing one of the largest and most influential firms in the world is certainly a hustler and the hotelman or merchant who previously without a register, receives from Mr. Mason is a wonder. Mr. Mason's popularity throughout the city inspires the hope, that his real foundation, that he may return to the city as a permanent resident when his old friends will extend the glad hand of welcome.

Convict Gets Large Fortune

Como, January 14.—After spending half his life in prison or under police supervision, the convict Gerolamo Pasquale, at the age of 49, now finds himself, through the death of an aunt, the owner of a great fortune and the proprietor of villas at Como and at Stravedomo.

Pasquale was born in Milan, and came into the hands of the police at an early age. He was frequently arrested, and got his last sentence, one of four years imprisonment, in 1898. While he was working in the prison quarry on the island of Lampedusa in April, news came of the death of his aunt, Giuseppina Pontiggia, to whom it was found he was direct heir. The woman died intestate, and Pasquale, though he was her pet aversion, inherited the estate after other relatives had tried in vain to prevent it.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulæ are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for fixing and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure, triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own being a most valuable antiseptic and a ferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour rising, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER IN OPERA HOUSE--MEN FOUGHT WITH WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Explosion of Gas Tank Caused Mad Rush for the Exits

160 Lives were Lost

Scores of People Jumped from Windows on Second Floor in Terror

Boyertown, Pa., Jan. 14.—When day light dawned today the full extent of last night's horror, when Rhoades' Opera house was dogged, was apparent. The list of dead is placed at 150, and the injured at 75.

How many were killed may never be known, for among the victims of this awful disaster were a number of visitors and some strangers.

FLAMES SPREAD RAPIDLY

It is estimated that there were 400 persons in the playhouse when the explosion of the gas tank which was being used in connection with moving pictures occurred. An amateur performance of "Scottish Reformation" for the benefit of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School, was being produced when the explosion occurred. Someone yelled "Fire" and in a remarkable short time the center of the opera house was a blazing furnace. The rapidity with which the flames spread was caused by the upsetting of the coal oil used for the foolights by some of the persons on the stage who endeavored to allay the fright of the women and children in the audience.

Even the men seemed to lose all control and in their efforts to reach the street, in this manner many women and children were forced back and trampled to death. Particularly was this the case with those who were caught on the stairway.

A MAD STRUGGLE.

Pandemonium reigned, and in the mad scramble for the exits, the weaker ones were brushed aside and trampled, numbers being killed.

Scores of persons on the second floor, seeing the awful doom on the stairway, risked their lives by jumping from the windows. Several of these were so badly injured that they died.

Boyertown is a village of about 2,500 population, and there is scarcely a home in the little town that has not been afflicted by last night's fire.

SUFFOCATING SMOKE

Reuben W. Stover, one of those who escaped the flames, said today: "When the explosion occurred there were about 400 persons in the building, including boys and girls on the balcony, which was directly behind the scenes. Without warning there was a terrific explosion, which seemed to shake the entire building. Immediately there was a wild rush for the exits. The people on the balcony jumped over the footlights into the audience. Everybody seemed to have lost control of themselves. The flames first consumed the scenery, and then swept down on the crowd like a great wave. The suffocating smoke dropping men and women and children in its path. The flames did the rest.

LOST CONTROL OF THEMSELVES

"Once the crowd began to fight its way towards the doors no power on earth could have saved all the lives, but I believe that if the men had not lost control of themselves the loss of life would have been very small."

The fire was not brought under control until early this morning, after assistance had arrived from Reading and Pottstown.

Physicians and nurses from Reading aided materially in alleviating the sufferings of the injured.

Early today about fifty members of the State Constabulary arrived from Reading on a special train.

The work of removing the bodies from the debris will be unusually tedious and hazardous.

When the crush was at its height the floor gave way, precipitating many persons to the basement and the bodies of these are buried beneath the charred timbers and tons of brick from the ruined walls.

In addition to the opera house, the Farmers' National Bank, Rahn's hardware store, and the dwellings of George Rahn, Harry Pennypacker and Alfred Seasbard were burned.

The monetary loss will amount to about $75,000.

For several months the Sunday School pupils of St. John's Lutheran Church had been rehearsing "The Scottish Reformation," which was being staged by Mrs. B. E. Munroe of Washington, the authoress, and when the curtain rose at 8 o'clock the opera house was thronged with representative citizens of the borough.

The second part of the play, in which the student from Glasgow University and the Puritans marched to Leith to meet Queen Mary, had just been rendered, the young people taking part had finished their songs, and incidental to the drama, a number of pictures were shown by a moving picture machine. This was operated by H. W. Fisher of Carlisle, Pa., who used calcium lights. While he was operating the machine there was a flash and a loud report, and the people sitting in the rear of the opera house, near the machine, arose in fright, and rushed towards the stage. Their action caused a panic in the audience, and many of the people, thinking the building was on fire, also started toward the stage. The young people who were taking part in the play motioned them to go back and resume their seats, but the frightened spectators attempted to climb upon the stage to escape the fiery, sputtering of the moving picture machine.

One of the young men on the stage, more excited than the others, made a motion as if to reject the audience, and in his excitement he overturned one of the coal oil lamps that were used as footlights for the stage. It fell with a crash into the auditorium and exploded. In an instant the stage front was ablaze and the frightened people surged toward the rear again. The youthful actors escaped, clad in their stage garments.

The mob became panic-stricken, and strong men beat down women and children.

Thaw Was Irrational at Monte Carlo--Stole Away from Nurse

New York, Jan. 14.—Mr. Robert H. Chase, superintendent of the Friends' Asylum for the Insane at Frankfort, near Philadelphia, where Harriet Alice Thaw, a paternal aunt of the accused, is confined, was the first witness at the afternoon session of the Thaw trial. He said he knew Miss Thaw and had examined her from time to time as to her mental condition. Invoking again the confidential relationship of physician and patient, District Attorney Jerome prevented the witness from saying what the mental condition was.

Mrs. Amy Gossette, the trained nurse who attended Harry Thaw at Monte Carlo in 1897, followed Dr. Chase on the stand. Mrs. Gossette is an English woman by birth, but now a resident of California.

District Attorney Jerome objected to any testimony from Mrs. Gossette unless Thaw should open court waived the point of privileged communication as between patient and nurse, which is the same as with a physician. Justice Dowling asked Thaw if he desired to enter a waiver.

"I do," replied the defendant.

THAW STOLE AWAY.

Mrs. Gossette said that while under her care, and with a temperature of 109 degrees, Thaw dressed himself one day and stole out. He was gone two hours, and came back in a highly nervous condition.

Mrs. Gossette said that while Thaw was under her care, he impressed her as being distinctly irrational.

There was a brief cross-examination, and then Martin Green, a newspaper man who witnessed the tragedy and testified last year that Thaw acted in a thoroughly irrational manner, was called.

Green today described Thaw's appearance as "badly mussed up," and irrational.

Thomas B. Hankey, another newspaper man who saw the killing, testified that Thaw impressed him as an insane man.

Mr Littleton here asked for an early adjournment until tomorrow, because of the non-arrival of certain out-of-town witnesses, and it was granted by Justice Dowling.

Jack London Lost a Month

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Friends of Jack London, the author, are beginning to feel alarmed over his failure to arrive at the Marquesas Islands, which he was expected to reach early in December.

London left Hilo, Hawaii, on October 7 last in his little boat, the Snark, for Marquesas, and is about a month overdue. It is supposed that the Snark, which is equipped with a gasolene engine, is drifting about as the result of injury to her machinery. Mrs. London, two friends and a small crew are on the boat. The steamer Mariposa is due here on January 25 from La Hi Tahiti, and it is hoped she will bring news of the party.

POLICE

At yesterday's session of the police court, poor old John Powers, whose face is unfortunately known more in that dispensary of justice than at the quoit seller's cricket of a bank, was handed out a pass good for six months board and lodging in Castle Nesbitt. John had had quite a little "spell" with his worship and was treated by the latter with consideration, owing to existing circumstances. Possibly any other magistrate than Mr. Dumble, who holds the sword of justice with a blunt edge and broken point, in such cases, would have given John a long sentence for contempt of court. John assured the magistrate and told him that he wished his worship would get six months some time himself, so that he could see what such a sentence meant.

Former Douro Man Dies in Winnipeg

The death occurred in the General Hospital, Winnipeg, on Friday, January 3rd, from heart failure, of Harris Frankish, who was well known here, being the third son of the late Francis Frankish of the township of Douro. The deceased had lived in the West for some years. He was 46 years of age, and unmarried. The funeral took place on Sunday, Jan. 5th, to Elmwood cemetery, Winnipeg, according to his ante mortem wishes.

There are left to mourn his loss his mother, Mrs. F. Frankish, now residing in Lakefield, and four brothers and three sisters. The brothers are William F. and Charles G. of Douro, Albert T. of Cranbrook, B.C., and Arthur J. of Calgary, Alta. The sisters are Mrs. Andrew Young of Smith, Mrs. Jacob H. Payne of Dummer, and Miss Lillie, residing at home.

Rioters Burn Protestant Chapel

Shanghai, Jan. 15.—Rioters at Kiuhsing-fu, a town in the province of Chu-kiang, have burned the Protestant chapel and school there. The official residence of the local magistrate also was destroyed. The foreigners are safe. There has been considerable unrest recently in this province, but the disorders have been directed principally against the dynasty.

The Presbyterian Church South in the United States has maintained a missionary establishment at Kiu-kiang-fu since 1895. In 1905 there were three missionaries and their wives, one woman missionary and several native workers at the station, which consisted of two places of worship, three day schools, one boarding school and one dispensary.

The town, which is an important commercial centre, is situated on the Grand Canal.

JEROME FIGHTS TO BLOCK EVIDENCE OF INSANITY TAINT

Several Physicians of Thaw Family Were Not Allowed to Testify--The Prisoner's Wife is Now Excluded

New York, Jan. 14.—There was a delay of half an hour in beginning the Thaw trial today. Justice Dowling having been caught in a subway blockade on the way down town. Dr. John T. Dercmar, of Kittanning, Pa., one of the Thaw family physicians, was the first witness called to the stand. Dr. Deemar testified at the first trial that he had treated Harry Thaw as a boy for St. Vitus' dance and measles. He repeated this testimony today and told also of attending members of the Copley family—the mother's branch of the defendant's antecedents. Dr. Deemar said that Henry W. Copley, a member of the older Mrs. Thaw, died an imbecile.

ALIENISTS IN COURT.

Dr Charles G. Wagner, of Binghamton, N.Y., and Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, two of the alienists for the defence, were present today when court opened.

Mr. Deemar was asked as to the present mental condition and whereabouts of John Ross, a maternal cousin of the defendant, but District Attorney Jerome blocked the testimony on the ground that he had obtained this information while acting in a professional capacity, and it would require a waiver from his patient before he could testify. Justice Dowling sustained the objection over the protest of Mr. Littleton, of the defence.

On cross-examination, District Attorney Jerome drew out the fact that Henry Copley, who became insane for mental work, was never confined.

Dr. Wm. S. Dodge, of Roanoke, Va., formerly assistant physician at the Western Lunatic Asylum at Staunton, Va., where Horace Thaw, paternal cousin of Harry Thaw, was confined, was called as the next witness. When Dr. Dodge was asked as to Horace Thaw's condition up to the time of his death Mr. Jerome again objected on the ground of confidential relation between physician and patient, and was sustained.

The district attorney also successfully objected to the introduction in evidence of the commitment papers prepared when Horace Thaw was committed to the asylum on the ground that they were hearsay. Mr. Littleton took an exception to both rulings.

Dr. L. S. Foster of Norfolk, Va., formerly of the Eastern State Hospital for the Insane, at Williamsburg, Va., where Wm. S. Thaw, another cousin of the defendant, was confined, next was called to the stand.

Dr Foster was asked to identify the records of the asylum as to the admittance of Wm. S. Thaw. When the record was offered in evidence Mr. Jerome objected on the ground that it was not competent testimony, and was sustained.

Mr. Littleton here recalled Dr. Deemar and succeeded in circumventing the former objections of the district attorney as to John Ross. Dr. Deemar said he ceased to be Ross' physician after the latter was committed to the Hazelhurst asylum for the Feeble Minded, where he is still a patient. He was allowed to tell of Ross' mental condition and declared it unsound, the symptoms being manacial.

THAW AS A BOY.

Charles Kuhl, of Wooster, Mass., who was a teacher at Wooster University, Wooster, Ohio, in 1885, when Harry Thaw was a student there, took the stand and was asked to tell his impressions of Thaw as a boy of eighteen or seventeen years of age.

"Harry Thaw had a nervous gait and walked jerkily," he said. "His eyes were striking, his complexion dark. He mingled in the class room and associated with all of them. His eyes usually had a fixed, staring gaze. There was never any warmth in his eyes—no illumination."

Mr Kuehler said he set down many of Thaw's eccentricities in a diary which was destroyed ten years ago. Thaw's mind always worked slowly, and he had great difficulty in following any demonstration. His manner was irrational.

BE REMEMBERED HARRY.

Cross-examined by District Attorney Jerome, Mr. Kuehler said 200 persons attended classes at Wooster, and added that time was a matter he had not thrown in contact with 1,400 boys in twelve years. He was interested, however, that the memory of Thaw—a pale-faced, twitching kid, stood out above the others. When Jerome asked if the witness had carried Thaw along in his mind as a horrible example," Mr. Littleton objected and was sustained.

Kuehler said he had often used Thaw's case as an illustration. He was asked when, and to whom.

"To a boy named Bingham—" began the witness.

"What Bingham?" demanded Jerome, "the police commissioner?"

Thaw himself joined in the general laughter. He looked annoyed, however, when the witness said he had used the defendant as the example of the son of a rich man.

At the conclusion of Kuehler's testimony the luncheon recess was ordered.

"Stuporous Melancholia" is Harry K. Thaw's Defence

New York, Jan. 14. — "Stuporous Melancholia" succeeds "Dementia Americana" as a defence for Harry K. Thaw in his retrial for the death of Stanford White.

It has been decided by Martin W. Littleton and Daniel O'Reilly, of counsel for Thaw, that they will endeavor to convince the jury that, at the time their client shot his victim, he was suffering from a form of insanity for which Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton coined a phrase after examining Thaw previous to his first trial.

Before Thaw was called for trial last year a form of lawyers which then had charge of his case had Dr. Hamilton examine their client as to his mental condition. Dr. Hamilton, after examination, reported that Thaw, when he shot Stanford White was suffering from stuporous melancholia. The alienist said that the disease was curable and was what is known as explosive emotional insanity. In other words, he said, Thaw realized after the shooting that he had done it, but was unable to recall the details of the act.

Stuporous melancholia, Dr. Hamilton said further, was attended by brain storm and a certain form of aphasia.

It was set up last winter in the defence of a man named Hamagan, who was charged with murder and acquitted.

THAW IS PLEASED.

Thaw spent Saturday in his cell, smoking a big black pipe and surrounded by his voluminous correspondence. He seemed to be particularly pleased with the contents of one of the letters, which he read over several times. He said he was feeling well, but would not talk about his trial, declaring he would obey the injunction of his counsel. Mr. Littleton, in keep his lips closed while the trial was in progress.

Judge Dowling will probably appoint a commission to go to Pittsburg to take the deposition of Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, who is too ill to appear at the second trial of her son. Ordinarily, depositions of witnesses in other states are taken by a local commission, but Judge Dowling believes that in an important case like this he should send his own commission. Questions to be asked Mrs. Thaw will be framed by counsel on both sides, and these being duly authenticated, will be mailed and given to the commissioner. The deposition will be returned to Judge Dowling to be read in evidence.

JURY SATISFACTORY.

From his cell in the Tombs today Thaw issued a statement in which he expressed his satisfaction with the jury, and predicted that within a few weeks he would be a free man. He says,—

"I believe them to be a fair-minded, sensible group of men, and I am confident that my lawyers will convince them of my innocence."

Thaw's wife, too, seemed pleased with the men who are to judge the merits of her husband's case.

"I think it is a good jury," she said. "The jurors suit my husband, and anything that suits him is satisfactory to me."

MISS SIMONTON COMPLAINS.

Word come from Pittsburg that the police of that city were investigating threats made by mail on the life of Miss Ida Vera Simonton, if she should testify against Thaw in the present proceedings. Miss Simonton has informed the police that she has been in receipt of letters of threat using impure for several months. They were written in French and signed, presumably fictitiously, in Italian, apparently in imitation of Black Hand methods.

Miss Simonton was for a time in the company of Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit when the youthful pair were touring Europe, and it is said she witnessed acts of cruelty on the part of the young man which Mr. Jerome was anxious to get before the jury at the last trial. At that time, however, Miss Simonton was in Africa, in the present instance she has said that while reluctant to appear she would not refuse to take the stand. The threatening letters she has received would have no weight with her if called as a witness.

Good coal stock is a safe and sure investment. Galbraith shares are especially attractive.

Modest Capitalization Large Coal Reserves

This Company organized under the laws of the Northwest Territories of Canada, owns and operates the Galbraith mine located at Lundbreck, Alta. They have four vertical seams of coal traversing their property, aggregating over 40 feet in thickness. Three of these seams are developed to a depth of 360 feet, and as they pass through the Company's lands for nearly a mile, some idea of the amount of coal may be had.

The present output of the mine is about 200 tons per day. These shipments will be rapidly increased, as the C.P.R. allows 40 cars to be loaded with coal for points in the U. S.

Deolsion Frees Sohmitz and Ruff

San Francisco, Jan. 15. — The District Court of Appeals set aside to-day the judgment in the case of Former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, convicted of extortion in the French restaurant case. Abe Ruef also benefits, for, according to the decision, he pleaded guilty to an act that was no offence at the time of the state.

The news of the decision spread rapidly over the city, causing consternation in some quarters and delight in others.

District Attorney Langdon said Ochmitz and Ruef will be prosecuted on othe indictments that are public offences. In the mean time they may be released on bail after due process.

A Few Hints on How to Take Care of the Complexion

There are so many "beautifiers" on the market and so many "treatments" recommended for the complexion that one would think Dame Nature was extremely stingy with her gifts. Unfortunately, many of us, when our complexions are not all they should be, try to improve them by artificial beautifiers. Rouge, powders, enamels and many of the "beauty lotions", while of temporary benefit, ultimately leave the skin coarser, more sallow and with more of a faded look than before we began their use.

There is no use fighting Dame Nature, what we should do is to assist her.

One of the most effective aids to one complexion is a simple wash which can easily be made at home. In fact, it is best to make it yourself, so as to be sure you have the right ingredients.

Obtain at your drug store Rose Water, 2 ounces; Cologne Spirits, 1 ounce; Eppotone (skin food), 4 ounces. Put the Eppotone in a pint of hot water (not boiling), and after dissolved, strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits.

Apply the wash freely night and morning to the face, neck and hands. It will be but a short time before the palest complexion will take on an immediate and decided change for the better, and the powder puff and rouge can be relegated to the closet.

You need not be at all afraid of this simple home remedy. It is absolutely harmless to the most delicate skin.

Prince of Wales May Come for Great Event This Year

Quebec Tercentary will be Held in August --Warships of Three Nations May Attend

Wonderful Pageants

Quebec, Jan. 14.—Quebec will celebrate the ter-centenary anniversary of its foundation by Samuel Champlain in August next, and not in 1909, as was originally intended. The change was suggested by his excellency the governor-general, and was definitely decided at a meeting of the Executive Committee, held last evening.

EARLY IN AUGUST.

The celebration will be a memorable and unique one in every respect and the most gigantic festivity ever witnessed in Canada. The exact date for the celebration has not been set, but it will be during the beginning of August.

In a communication read to the committee the governor-general said; "We shall have, we hope, the approval of the whole Canadian people to this undertaking, and the good wishes and practical assistance of the whole British Empire and certainly the good wishes of France."

PRINCE AND BATTLESHIPS

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will visit Canada to assist at the celebration, as well as Imperial and colonial ministers. There will be also fleets from England, France, and the United States, which will afford opportunity of great naval and military festivities. There will also be many social events, fetes, champetres, and fete de nuit, but the most striking feature of the celebration will be the historical pageants.

COMMITTEES TO WORK

The branch committees in the city of Montreal, including Mrs. H. Wilson Bedford, Lady Drummond, Mrs. Dunduraud, Sir Alex Lacoste, Justice Hodeaux, F. D. Monk, and G. W. Stephens, as well as all the local committees interested, will now set to work with zeal to make the gigantic celebration a prominent one in the history of Canada.

IS THE PRINCE COMING?

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—It is confidently expected that the British royal family will be represented by one of its members at the tercentenary celebration in Quebec next August. At the same time it is not known who the representative will be, although it is hoped that their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales will be able to again visit Canada for this occasion.

Oberlin M. Carter Loses Funds

Chicago, Jan. 16. — Judge Kohlsaat, in the United States Circuit Court, decided in favor of the government this afternoon in the suit against Oberlin M. Carter, former captain in the United States engineer corps, charged with having embezzled $700,000 of government funds through conspiracy with Grove and Traynor at Savannah.

The court stated that Carter was entitled to the $400,000 in warrants and railroad bonds and other securities held by the government in safety deposit vaults and banks in various parts of the country. Under the decision the government will retain the securities.

Sports

LIPTON DID NOT CHALLENGE.

Slave Island, Ceylon, Jan. 14.—Sir Thomas Lipton says that it is untrue that he had challenged for America's Cup. He says that it is too early, and that the size of the boat is no object.

TOAD EDMUNDS PROTESTED.

Berlin, Jan. 14—The final O.H.A. senior game played here last evening resulted in a hard fought victory for last year's champions by a score of 10—1. The game was Stratford's all the way, and Berlin never had a chance. Ramsay Rankin was the star player, ably backed up by Hyde and Toad Edmunds.

The latter was the cause of a protest, filed by Berlin before the game, as it was claimed that he had played professional hockey in Regina last winter.

BELLEVILLE OUT OF IT.

Belleville, Jan. 14. — The local junior O.H.A. team sustained their third defeat at the hands of the Picton team last night, by a score of 3—1, and thus put practically out of the running for the championship. Fred Washorne refereed and about 2 000 people witnessed the game.

MIDGETS ALWAYS WIN.

Whitby, Jan. 14.—The Lindsay Midgets defeated the locals in an O.H.A. intermediate game last night, by a score of 9—3.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES.

Tonight two more city league games will be played at the Brock street rink with the Norwood "Night Hawks" meet the Strathconas between eight and nine o'clock and Bridgenorth and High Lifes come together between nine and ten. The Norwood team is expected to make a strong bid for the trophy this year and the first game tonight will be well worth seeing. The Night Hawks will have on their line up four men who have played O.H.A. hockey in former years. The Norwood team will arrive on the 6.48 and expect to bring up a big bunch of rooters.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE OR THE "ALL-RED"?

The promoters of the All-Red route have a new opponent to meet in Sir John Colomb, who has created an ogre that seems intended to frighten timorous people away from the scheme of a fast mail service between the United Kingdom and the Antipodes by way of Canada. This creation has nothing to do with the question on its merits, and it is free from the suspicion of being inspired by the very natural opposition of rivals in the shipping trade who are already in the field. Sir John's idea is that whatever may be the merits and attractions of the All-Red route, the people ought to realize that, inasmuch as it is in a large measure a maritime route, or rather a combination of two maritime routes with a land route between them, its security in time of war will depend absolutely on the continued power of the Empire to control the seas traversed by it. The All-Red route is put forward as a common imperial undertaking. The resolution passed at the Colonial Conference was to the effect that such financial support as might be necessary should be contributed by Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand in equitable proportions. Sir John Colomb considers that this is putting the cart before the horse. Drawing his inspiration from the once venerated Adam Smith, he boldly declares that "defence is of much more importance than opulence." Of course this is rank heresy in a mammon worshipping age. Still Sir John holds that view, and he argues from it that if the several parts of the Empire devote no inconsiderable portion of their resources to the establishment and maintenance of an All-Red route they will have less to spend and less inclination to spend what is needed on its maritime protection in time of war.

Questions of precedence are not easy to keep out of Imperial matters, but one hardly expected to find one interjected here. It is interesting to observe, however, that Minister of War Haldane does not look at the matter of defence so timorously. "Our shores" said Mr. Haldane recently, "are encircled by the sea, and we have a great navy, but there may come a time when it will not be so easy for us as to-day to command what is called the two power standard in the navy. Germany has a population of nearly sixty millions; the United States before long will have a population of one hundred millions, and it will be very hard for us, with a population of forty-four millions to maintain a two power standard against two nations with a combined population of 160 millions, and should that time arrive it will be upon the home defence forces that we shall have to rest our trust." The two views do not harmonize very well, but since the War Minister does not look with forebodings on the matter, the All-Red champions may hope that their project will get a hearing on its merits.

THE TRIUMPHS OF PEACE

Something equivalent to converting the sword into a ploughshare has been going on in Japan. Count Nogi, the famous general who drew upon himself the attention of the world at Port Arthur, is now said to be the head of a school at Tokio, where the children of the nobility are educated. Both sexes are among the pupils, and Miss Shimoda Utako was the principal of the girls' department.

Count Nogi is a man of quiet tastes and believes in the simple life. Miss Utako—well, she is a woman. The head of the school laid down certain rules for conducting the establishment. He especially inculcated extreme simplicity of dress. Miss Shimoda Utako regarded this as just like the foolishness of man. She gave a dinner to the teachers at which she defended the practice of wearing silk dresses and powdering the face. To illustrate her meaning she appeared at school in a costly new silk kimono every day, such raiment as would make a New York society belle in her boudoir pink with envy.

She is not appearing at school in that kind of kimono now, for, indeed, in any kind of kimono. Count Nogi obtained certain ideas of discipline while he was in the army, and has had some experience in enforcing them. The one who supervises the studies of the "girlies" at that establishment of co-education now is Matsumoto Gentaro, and Shimoda Utako may later be heard of as the head of a suffragettery on a farm.

Asks Great Britain to Intervene

Paris, January 14.—Lucien Millevoye, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, who first achieved notoriety by his connection with the Boulanger movement is the author of a sensational article published to-day, in which he calls upon Great Britain and France to intervene in the "American-Japanese crisis," before it is too late. He declares that Great Britain, supported by France, holds the key to the situation, but says that the difficulty is that no one is able to fathom the secret hopes of the British Government.

M. Millevoye lays the responsibility for the Russo-Japanese war to the door of Great Britain. This war made a "cemetery of Manchuria", and the writer asks if Great Britain now desires "Another orgy of blood which will make the world shudder?" M. Millevoye argued that Great Britain may believe she can rule the Far East upon the ruins of Japan and America, but he contends that if she does hold this conviction, she is playing with fire, as a war might arouse the Asiatics from the Indus to the Amur.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Cereals are seldom overcooked, but rather undercooked. Thus always allow plenty of time in preparing cereals.

If a bedstead creaks at each movement of the sleeper, remove the slats and wrap the ends of each in old newspapers. This will prove a complete silencer.

In using linen doilies on the highly polished table cut asbestus pieces to place beneath the mats, especially if there is any danger of the hot dishes marking the table top.

The polished appearance of starched clothes will be increased if a piece of wax the size of a small bean and half a teaspoonful of powdered borax is added during the boiling.

The new heavy embroideries of raised gold and silver work should never be brushed in the ordinary way. If rubbed gently with a piece of crimson velvet, a good result will be obtained.

Visit the Attic.

The woman with ancestors can plume herself more than usual—that is, provided the ancestors had money for frills and the middlemen for women didn't discover those frills twenty or more years back.

Stiff, rich brocades, an old friend which has long been slighted, is once more being "taken up," and lucky that woman whose grandmother or great grandmother kept her frocks.

If there be not enough for a gown for the girl who does not think it sacrilege to make over grandma's belongings, perhaps one of the new capelike evening wraps can be evolved.

If the brocade has big velvet figures then "cinch" it at once, for it is the newest of the new and lends itself admirably to the long straight lines that at present prevail in wraps and gowns.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

Alone with Mr. Hastings, his wrath burst forth, but after a few tremendous explosions he grew calm, and proposed that they too should go at once to Avon. "We shall then see the lady in all her glory," said he, "and maybe hear something about her old uncle, though you'll have to keep your eye on me, or I shall go off on a sudden and shake her as a dog would a snake! We'll send for Mrs. Elliott and Dora to join us there," he continued. "it will be fun to bring them together, and see what Eugenia will do."

"I am afraid you could not restrain yourself," said Mr. Hastings, but Uncle Nat was sure he could, and after a few days they started for Avon where "Miss Eugenia Deane, the heiress," was quite a belle.

For a long time after Mr. Hastings' departure for Europe she had remained true to him, feeding on the remembrance of his parting words, that "he had more reasons for remembering her than she supposed"; but when, six months went by, he sent her neither letter, paper, nor message she began to think that possibly he had never entertained a serious thought concerning her, and when Stephen Grey came she was the more ready to receive his attentions and forgive his former neglect. He was a reckless, unprincipled fellow, and feeling this time rather pleased with the bold, dashing manner of Eugenia, backed as it was by the supposed will of Uncle Nat, he made some advances, which she readily met, making herself and him, as Mrs. Leah had said, "perfectly ridiculous." When he left Dunwood he went West, he'd say, her playfully that, if he found no one there who suited him better than she, he would the next time meet her at Avon, and perhaps propose! He was disgusted with Saratoga, Newport, Nahant, and all those stupid places, he said and wished to try something new.

To spend several weeks at Avon, therefore, was now Eugenia's object. She had succeeded in coaxing her mother to withhold from Dora the thousand dollars, a part of which was safely invested for their own benefit, but this alone would not cover all their expenses, for Mrs. Deane, growing gay and foolish as she grew older, declared her intention of going to Avon also. The water would do her good, she said, and it was time she saw a little of society.

To this plan Eugenia did not particularly object, for it would indicate wealth, she thought, for the whole family to spend the summer at a watering-place. Still it would cost a great deal, and though Uncle Nat's remittance came at the usual time they did not dare to depend wholly upon that, lest on their return there should be nothing left with which to buy their bread. In this emergency, they hit upon the expedient of dismissing their servant and starving themselves through the winter and spring, for the purpose of making a display in the summer; and this last they were now doing. Eugenia fluttered like a butterfly, sometimes in white satin, sometimes in pink, and again in embroidered muslin; while her mother, a very little disgusted with society, but still determined to brave it through, held aside her cambric wrapper and made faces over three glasses of spring water in the morning, drowned herself in a hot bath every other day, rode twice a day in crowded omnibuses to and from the springs, through banks of sand and clouds of dust, and sat every evening in the heated parlors with a very red face and a very tight dress, wondering if everybody enjoyed themselves as little in society as she did, and thinking ten dollars per week a great deal to pay for being as uncomfortable as she was!

For her disquietude, however, she felt in a measure repaid when she saw that Eugenia was the most showy young lady present, and managed to keep about her a cross-eyed widower, a near-sighted bachelor, a medical student of nineteen, a broken-down merchant, a lame officer, a spiritualist, and Stephen Grey! This completed the list of her admirers, if we except a gouty old man who praised her dancing, and would perhaps have called her beautiful but for his better half, who could see nothing agreeable or pleasing in the dashing belle. True to his promise, Stephen Grey had met her there, and they were in the midst of quite a flirtation when Mr. Hastings and Uncle Nat arrived, the latter registering his name as Mr. Hamilton, and taking care soon after to speak of Buenos Ayres as a place where he formerly lived. The ruse was successful, and in less than half an hour it was known through the house that the singular-looking old gentleman was a South American, a bachelor, and rich undoubtedly, as such men always were!

The Deanes were that afternoon riding with Stephen Grey, and did not return until after supper, a circumstance which Eugenia greatly lamented when she learned that their numbers had been increased by the arrival of an elegant-looking stranger from New York, together with an old South American whose name was Hamilton. The name of the other Eugenia's informant did not know, but he had not registered it, but he was a splendid-looking man, she said, and with more than usual care Eugenia dressed herself for the evening, and between the hours of eight and nine sailed into the parlor with the air of a queen.

From his window in an upper chamber Uncle Nat had seen the ladies as they returned from their ride; and when Mr. Hastings, who at that time was absent from the room, came back to it, he found the old gentleman hardly pacing the floor and evidently much excited.

"I've seen her," said he, "the very one herself—Eugenia Deane! I knew her mother in a moment, and I knew her, too, by her evil eyes. I could hardly refrain from pouncing upon her, and I believe I did shake my fist at her! But it's over now," he continued, "and I am glad I have seen her, for I can meet her and not betray myself, though, Hastings, if at any time I am missing, you may know that I've come up here to let myself off, for my wrath must evaporate somehow."

Feeling confident that he could trust him, Mr. Hastings then long accompanied him to the parlor, where his gentlemanly manners and rather peculiar looks procured for him immediate attention; and when Eugenia entered the room he was conversing familiarly with some gentlemen whose notice she had in vain tried to attract. At a little distance from him and near the door was Mr. Hastings, talking to Stephen Grey. Eugenia did not observe him until she was directly at his side, then, turning pale, she uttered an exclamation of surprise, while he, in his usual polite, easy manner, offered his hand, first to her mother, and then to herself and Alice, saying in reply to their many inquiries as to when he had returned, that he reached Dunwood a few days before, and finding they were all at Avon had concluded to follow. At this remark the pallor left Eugenia's cheek and was succeeded by a bright glow for Mr. Hastings must feel interested in her, or he would not have followed her here; and the black eyes which a few hours before had smiled so bewitchingly upon Stephen Grey now shone with a brighter luster as she talked with Mr. Hastings of his European tour, asking him why he had stayed so long and telling him how natural it seemed to have him home once more.

"By the way," she continued, "we say there is an old South American here—a queer old fellow—did he come with you?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Hastings, glancing towards Uncle Nat, whose eyes had never for a moment lost sight of Eugenia; "I found him in my travels, and liking him very much brought him home with me. Allow me to introduce you, for, though rather eccentric, he's a fine man, and quite wealthy, too."

"Wealth is nothing! I wouldn't think any more of him for that," returned Eugenia, taking Mr Hastings arm and advancing toward Uncle Nat, whose left hand grasped tightly one side of his blue coat, while the other was offered to Eugenia.

Premier Jameson's Policy.

Dr. Jameson has issued a manifesto at Cape Town, in which he asks for a mandate to amend the constitution to prevent a recurrence of the blocking of supplies by the Legislative Council.

He says that the Progressives, by their consistent moderation and conciliation, have obliterated racial differences, and that a moderate party has emerged, which will be named the South African Unionist party, the name of Progressives disappearing.

Dr. Jameson invites moderate and independent men to support the new party on a platform consisting of four planks, namely: Development of South African products and industries, equal rights for all civilized men, the union of the European races and the union of the South African colonies.

The manifesto adds that at the next customs and railway conferences with the other South African colonies the first step must be taken toward federation, or, failing that, unification, with a prospect of union in the near future.

It declares that a general native policy, redistribution of seats and other questions should remain in abeyance until union is accomplished.

Letters Delayed by the Sun.

Two letters posted at Walton-on-the-Naze on May 27, 1904, only reached their destinations on Sept. 17, 1909. The delay was occasioned by the letters falling between the wood and zinc lining of the letterbox, which had become separated by the heat of the sun.

Death Foretold in a Dream.

A Lewisham mother who found her baby dead in bed beside her told the coroner that she had dreamed two hours before that the child had died. Her husband said the woman told him about the dream, and on taking the child up he saw that it was dead.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this dispensable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. With out that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism that now, at last, it is formally cures all curable cases of this horrid, torturing, wretched disease. These sand-like granular crystals, found in Rheumatic Blood must be dissolved and put away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—for any one to suffer longer with pain. We think, and so confidently recommend our help, that we positively guarantee

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON: "Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $500,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 6 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 2 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1.400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mine—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Hunningtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in his great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $4.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 7½ per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government expert's report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we get our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Local Man's Idea Approved

Two gentlemen connected with theatrical business in New York City, yesterday happened to call in at the "Crystal." Mr. Edward's cheap in price, but good in quality place of amusement on George street. These gentlemen called at The Times office, and in conversation with one of our representatives, noted that Mr. Edward's plan of lighting up the main aisle of the place is unique and well worthy of adoption by many of the larger theatrical places. The light referred to is an electric lamp placed in the footboard or wainscotting of the aisle leading from the main entrance between the rows of seats. The New Yorkers thought this the best system they had ever seen of showing patrons of any place of amusement where to go to their seats without stumbling over themselves whilst getting there.

Clock Presented to Mr. Frank Pratt

Proprietor and Guests of Peterboro House Honor a Coming Bridegroom

On Monday night, the proprietor of the Peterborough House, Mr. Jas. Heel, and the boarders of the house, sprung a surprise on a fellow lodger, Mr. Frank Pratt, when they congratulated him on his coming entry into the great army of benedicts, and followed the verbal congratulations by a practical proof of their friendship, in the presentation of a very handsome marble clock. A pleasant evening was spent with songs, music and refreshments. A notable feature of the evening's amusement was the fact that songs were sung in three languages, English, French and German. Mr. Pratt responded in suitable terms to the kind wishes tendered and heartily thanked his friends for their handsome present. Mr. Thos. Ashton occupied the chair, and Mr. Chas. Dunnett, the genial disposer of liquid refreshments, made the presentation. Mr. Pratt will be married today.

Smith Highway Men are Suspected

In view of the rumors circulated recently concerning the alleged holdup of a Smith township farmer by name Calvert, it might be mentioned that yesterday a man from Bridgenorth, said that Mr. John Calvert, who lives about four miles northwest of Peterborough, had been robbed of four bags of flour which he was taking home on his sleigh. He did not know the men who robbed him, but has very strong suspicions. It could not be learned whether fire arms had played any part in the affair. The Bridgenorth man said the robbery took place on Wednesday just at dark.

Case Against Mr. Thos. Darcy Dismissed

The county police court mill was grinding yesterday with County Magistrate Edmison in charge.

Mr. T. Darcy of Lakefield, proprietor of a temperance house in that village, was the defendant. The case arose through Mr. Gingrass, a resident of Lakefield, coming home on Sunday, January 5th, drunk. Mrs Gingrass, thereupon laid a complaint with the inspector, as she believed her husband had obtained his liquor at Darcy's. When he came home he was minus $10, which she thought had been stolen from him.

In the witness box yesterday her evidence did not "cut much ice" as she knew nothing directly bearing on the charge. It transpired that Gingrass had the whisky at home, where he first had five drinks. He was drunk when he reached Darcy's with a friend, and did not know what he drank. One of the witnesses was aware that it was only some of Kuper's stout that Gingrass had.

Mr. Jas. Haverson, Mr. Beck, Mr. McWilliams, Mr. Moore and Inspector Stewart were all present.

After all the evidence had been heard, his worship dismissed the case.

Fighting in East Coast of Africa

Rome, Jan. 15.—Pitched battles have occurred in Italian Somaliland, on the east coast of Africa, between the Italian forces and the Abyssinians. A dispatch received here to-day reports a raid by two thousand Abyssinians near Lugh, the furthermost Italian station in the interior, the Abyssinians robbing killing and imprisoning many of the merchants.

Later dispatches indicate that Lugh was destroyed after a desperate and unequal fight and that its defenders were killed. Lugh was garrisoned by only 125 natives, under the command of Captain Bonglovanni. It is believed here that the Italian government is concealing a severe reverse in order to prepare the public for graver news.

The Italian government has ordered the squadron now in the Red Sea to proceed to the coast of Somaliland to protect the towns along the coast. The entire territory is garrisoned by not more than two thousand natives, under the command of Italian officers.

At the same time the government has telegraphed to the Italian legation at Addis Abbaba, the capital of Abyssinia, instructing the Italian Minister to present a protest to King Menelik against the violation of the status quo. Italy holds Lugh through an agreement concluded with the Sultan of that territory in 1905, which, however, was never ratified by King Menelek, who considered Lugh as a portion of his territory. The station is nearly thirty days' march from the coast.

The importance of the present situation lies in the establishment of the fact as to whether or not the King of Abyssinia orders the attack upon the Italian possessions.

Walking

Once An Effort, Now a Real Pleasure

Walking, especially in the early morning, is fine exercise, if one is robust enough to really enjoy it. If not, it is burdensome.

A lady at Blount Springs, Ala., where the water and fresh air did not seem to build her up as she hoped, found that Grape-Nuts food was just what she needed to give strength. She writes:

"Circumstances have made it necessary for me and my family to board for the past five years and during that time I have suffered greatly from indigestion. Improper and poorly cooked food being the evident cause of my trouble.

"Indigestion had become chronic and complications arose so that I lived for months at a time on raw eggs; could not even take wine, brandy or milk—the latter sours on my stomach. I tried about every known remedy and had been here for a month, drinking the water and walking morning, noon and night, trying to get relief.

"Accidentally I heard of Grape-Nuts and began to eat the food. After about three weeks on this food together with the exercises, I found the greatest relief. First noticeable in the morning walk and early rising, which before had been done with the greatest possible effort, but now have become a positive pleasure—with a gain of 10 lbs.

"Since using this food and being so improved, I meet others also, who have used it with like results. One lady who has been a great sufferer from nervous and stomach troubles has been entirely relieved and continues to use Grape-Nuts daily in her family." "There's a Reason."

THAW'S STRANGE ACTS--CIGARETTES DEPOSITED IN SAFE

Thaw Wrapped Them in Tinfoil and Had Them Laid Away--Crazy Action at Whist Club Five Days Before Shooting White

New York, Jan. 15.—Telephone girls, club stewards, bell boys, waitresses, and actors have been called upon to tell how queerly Harry K. Thaw behaved just before he killed Stanford White. There were so many of these "temperament" witnesses that the court officers' room at the Criminal Courts Building was not large enough to hold them all this morning and they overflowed into the corridors. The benches usually held down by the copy messengers for the newspaper writers covering the trial were usurped by the witnesses. It seemed as if everybody who had seen or talked with Thaw within a week before June 25, 1906, had been summoned by the lawyers who are defending the wealthy Pittsburgher.

The most interesting testimony was that of Christopher Baggan, a steward of the New York Whist Club, who told of Thaw's doings the day of the tragedy, and who, under cross-examination by District Attorney Jerome, gave amusing details of Bridge whist games in which Thaw and several men of prominence participated.

New York, Jan. 15—Dr. Hortatus C. Wood, of Philadelphia, was called to the stand as the first witness in the Thaw case today. Dr. Wood some years ago made an examination of Harriet Alice Thaw, a relative of the defendant. District Attorney Jerome objected to the physicians' testimony, but was over-ruled by the court, as the relation of attending physician and patient did not exist in this case.

Dr. Wood said that Miss Thaw was of unsound mind.

CARRIED SCREEN WITH HIM

The next witness to be heard told of new eccentricities of Thaw. Thus before the killing of Stanford White he was Christopher Biggan, a steward of the New York Whist Club. Thaw was in the club on June 20, 1906, just five days before the roof garden tragedy. Although the day was hot, Thaw insisted on taking a screen with him wherever he went about the rooms. He was highly nervous, excitable, and irritable, and once as he passed the witness was muttering, "This is awful."

Baggan said Thaw finally asked him to have a package put in the safe.

"What was in the package?" asked Mr. Littleton.

"Three cigarets wrapped in tinfoil."

Thaw's eyes, the witness said, had a peculiar stare. A telephone message came for him, and when the witness touched him to attract his attention, Thaw trembled all over. When in the city Thaw was in the club rooms every day.

GATES AND SCHWAB.

"Did Thaw impress you as rational or irrational?"

"Irrational."

On cross-examination, Biggan said he had known Thaw for 11 years. Thaw was in the club playing bridge whist the day of the tragedy. Asked who else was there, the witness said Capt. Walker, John A. Drake, and John B. Gleason, one of counsel to Thaw at the first trial. At other times he said Mr. Gates and Mr. Schwab were present.

"But they always appeared calm, didn't they?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Yes."

"And Thaw was nervous?"

"Yes."

"And they were playing for money?"

"I don't know."

"Haven't you any idea?"

"No, sir, I'm not supposed to have any."

"I know you are not supposed to have any, but, as a matter of fact, haven't you?"

"The rules forbid playing for money, sir."

"Did Thaw and his party have anything to drink, June 25th?"

"Oh, yes, all sorts of mineral waters."

"And what else?"

"Nothing, unless they had it with them; we don't serve anything but mineral waters at the club, sir."

"But every member has a locker?"

"Yes, sir."

"And they keep all they want in the locker?"

"Yes, sir; I guess so."

"And drinks were served from the lockers that day?"

"I really don't know, sir."

"Thaw understood the game of bridge whist, didn't he?"

"Yes, sir."

"And played with the best men?"

"Yes, sir."

The witness said Thaw had been more or less nervous ever since he had known him. He was calmer when playing bridge than at any other time. Thaw was on the telephone the better part of the day of the tragedy, and the witness heard him repeat, "This is awful." Thaw's nervousness increased incredibly during the years the witness had known him.

Miss Matilda Sc[illegible] was a telegraph operator at the Grand Hotel in 1903 and 1904, when Thaw was a guest there, was the next witness. She said she knew Thaw under the name of Parr. She saw him often, and his eyes were always staring and bulging. His manner was irrational.

One morning Thaw put in 75 telephone calls in less than three hours. One morning he ordered his breakfast three times in 20 minutes.

While Henry Sobefer, another member of the coroner's jury, was testifying that Thaw appeared irrational at the inquest, Foreman Greenwell put a question for the jury. "Did Thaw's eyes appear then as they do now?" he queried.

"No sir," said the witness.

Henry W. Schmall, another member of the coroner's jury, also testified as to the defendant's irrationality. They all said the jurors discussed Thaw's mental condition after rendering their verdict.

Mr. Littleton here sprung something of a surprise by asking the witness, Schmall, if he had read District Attorney Jerome's comments on the mental condition at the former trial.

He replied in the affirmative.

"Did my remarks influence your judgment?" demanded Jerome.

"In a way they did," said Schmall.

The luncheon recess was here taken.

Large Loan Made for Chinese Railway

Pekin, January 15.—The Tien Tsin-Chin-Kiang loan agreement was signed yesterday by the German Bank, the British-China Corporation, and the Chinese Foreign Board. The amount of the loan is £6,600,000, and the issue price 95, with interest at 5 per cent. The terms of the new loan, which is made in China for the completion of the line are revolutionary in the history of Chinese finance. The line is to be 780 miles long and will parallel the Grand Canal. Redemption of the loan will begin in ten years. Germans will furnish two-thirds of the amount for the Chi-Li-Chantung section, and the Englishmen one-third for the Kiang-Su section of the line. The security given is, first, the imperial pledge, and, second, the revenues of the Province of Chi-Li-Chantung and Kiang-Su.

West Peterborough Farmer's Institute Meeting Yesterday

Mr. A. J. Reynolds Delivers an Address on Practical Agricultural Matters

Yesterday afternoon the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute met in the City Council chamber with President Telford in the chair. Mr. Wm. Collins, who always takes a practical interest in the affairs of the institute, and is its secretary, was also present.

Mr. Cornell gave a lucid and eloquent speech on the subject of milk production for city sale.

Mr. A. J. Reynolds of Scarboro, said he was pleased to see the active interest taken by the farmers of this district. He spoke of ensilage and cut straw for feed. Cattle, he said must have solid food. The straw of this year is good in quality. Farmers should give as much attention to their cattle and their feeding as to the dollars and cents. He then described the necessary conditions to promote a good growth. Moisture is an essential feature towards obtaining a paying growing. A good drainage system is necessary to get proper sub-soil moisture. By proper loosening up of the soil in spring, evaporation is assisted. Peas grow better on soil or sod that has been loosened up. Speaking on the subject of "Rotation of Crops," Mr. Reynolds said it is not a paying or lucrative proposition to sow the same grain, year after year on the same ground. Experiments from sowing roots under conditions noted by him is detrimental to the plants and threatens their very existence. He likes a good dark soil. Harrowing in the spring stirs up the soil. He prefers to leave the ground with a rough surface. Here a general discussion on this subject took place, on the value of flax seed for food. Mr. Reynolds thought it better for the farmers to grind their own seed than send it to the mills, as the shaft bend it to the mills, as thus they saved a large percentage of the oil, an important source of nourishment otherwise lost. The speaker advised farmers to try raising alfalfa for feed.

Mr. Collins then arose and lectured the small attendance at this most interesting meeting. There were not right in the heart of a great agricultural district more than twenty-five practical farmers present. In fact, a casual glance, developed the fact that including members of the Agricultural Society who waited for this meeting, not a quarter-century of farmers were present.

Mr. Graham Weir moved a vote of thanks to the outside speakers who were present and contributed so materially to the interest and instruction of those present. The meeting then adjourned.

Harry K. Thaw Lost His Own Case Clara Morris Declares

New York, Jan. 15.—Clara Morris has been writing her impressions of the Thaw trial. "I am told," says she, "that there laid (the exposure hers) on the table the other day a most significant telegram, sent by Mrs. William Thaw to Mr. Littleton—legal fine flour of the great State of Tennessee, and Harry Thaw's chief of counsel—and the message read, 'Don't let my son dictate to you.'

"In this short sentence is expressed a great dread, an earnest warning, and a complete explanation of the collapse and ruin of the defense in the first great trial. Had that message been written a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thaw would probably be today in Europe. Mrs. William Thaw's mind would be at rest, and the city of New York better off in pocket by many thousands.

HIMSELF HIS FOE.

"There is small doubt that Harry Thaw has been himself the greatest obstacle to his own freedom, for during the first trial this incredible young egotist with a hollow square of lawyers about him accepted advice from no one if he could help it, and became a personified interference.

"Notes—notes—notes were thrown at the lawyer who happened to be on his feet at the moment. Notes urging the extension of this matter; notes commanding the shortening of that evidence.

"Get that man out of the chair!"—"Make more of this testimony!"—"Did you do so and so as I told you?"—and so on and on. This to a crowd of unnecessary advisers whom he regarded more as a domestic staff than as legal authorities. "And then at that vital moment Dr. McLane Hamilton was called by the defense—Mr. Delmas's most clever play—many present who were not lawyers saw the doors opening for Thaw's going forth. For he was the accused who had just been declared sane by a commission in lunacy, and the witness chair held the expert who was the first to visit him after the shooting, and would be called upon to testify that he found him to be insane. In heaven's name, what was there left for the jury to do but free the accused?

PUFFED WITH PRIDE.

"But Mr. Thaw, puffed with pride at his triumph over Mr. Jerome, unable to understand his counsel's intention, furiously refused to listen to one word further of the insanity charge—which, nevertheless, is today his sole plea, it is said.

"He declared himself his own chief counsel, and the lawyer who had his case in hand satirically and most mistakenly asked orders, and obeyed them by withdrawing the witness and 'resting,' when the case fell to pieces like a house of cards, and today Harry Thaw, with his weary, anxious face, his wide, sad eyes, his waxen fingers, his stylish tumbled hair, looks less cocksure than when, with his own, egotistical hand, he slammed the door that held him imprisoned another year. Perhaps he has learned the wisdom of putting himself unreservedly in the hands of Mr. Littleton—let us hope so.

He has sinned, and he has very evidently suffered. His money has been a veritable boomerang to him. His mother's absence fills him with anxiety; his anger against Yarmouth, his unworthy brother-in-law, smolders in his breast. He is very sad, very tired—almost I could wish him in the country house he longs for, a good piano and—Evelyn."

FATAL ACCIDENT AT CAMPBELLFORD

Campbellford, Jan. 15.—A fatal accident occurred today, in which a man named Albert McQuilton, was killed. He, along with a number of other men, was working at rock work in connection with the new power plant at Crow's Bay. When in the act of adjusting the graplers, a large piece of overhanging rock, weighing between four and five tons, fell on him, crushing and killing him instantly. Deceased was about 21 years of age, unmarried, and resided near Trenton. Ont. No inquest will be held.

LEGISLATURE MEETS ON FEBRUARY FIFTH

Toronto, Jan. 15.—At the close of a meeting of the cabinet yesterday afternoon Premier Whitney announced that the date for the opening of the final session of the legislature would be Wednesday, February 5. The volume of legislation to be proposed by the government is likely to be large, and Mr. Mackay will make his debut as leader of the opposition.

The ceremony of introducing the three new members, Dr. Forbes Godfrey, West York; Mr. Charles R. McKeown, Dufferin, and Mr. A. E. Donovan, Brockville, will open the proceedings.

The Redistribution Bill will probably be one of the most important subjects for discussion.

A Little Child's Toes Fell Off

Woodstock, Jan. 15.—A case of cruelty to [illegible]-year-old child, which has been pending against Arthur Scott for some time, was settled yesterday, when Magistrate Hall fined him $50 and costs, which he paid. The stat[illegible] charge was that Scott neglected to provide the necessaries of life for the child, whereby it suffered severely bodily injury. Scott was first arrested on a charge of cruelty and the case was dismissed.

The child was then in the hospital, where it still is with so severe injuries that all its toes fell off, having been frozen. An arm had also been broken. Scott then had knowledge of the injuries. Public indignation was so strong that the case was re-opened and Scott was arrested again on a technically different charge. He spent several weeks in jail, then was found guilty and let out on bail with the opportunity of hearing the case before the court of appeal. He did not do this, and the magistrate's verdict was judgment as above.

POLICE

The charge against James Williamson for assaulting his wife about two weeks ago was dismissed yesterday morning. Williamson has been out on bail and was to have appeared before the magistrate today. However Mrs. Williamson did not care to press the charge, so the case was discharged. He had been drinking rather heavily and was merely put in jail until so sobered up. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared on behalf of the accused.

Chas. Burke, who was brought down from Toronto by High County Constable Corbin on Tuesday night, to answer a charge of robbery at Burkhorn, faced Police Magistrate Dunlop on a charge of assaulting P. C. Sawball on October 23rd. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, and elected to be tried summarily.

After Burke had been remanded he was taken up to the county magistrate's court to answer to the charge of robbery of $25 from Patterson Buckhorn on Nov. 5. He pleaded not guilty to this charge, and was remanded for a week.

Atlantic Rate War Occasioning Great Interest in Britain

London, January 16.—The rate war among the Atlantic steamship companies together with the new agreement between the two German companies, the North German-Lloyd and the Hamburg-American, to which the Emperor has just set the seal of his approval, is creating the greatest interest in British shipping circles.

The struggle for supremacy in fixing the rates and working conditions of the enormous Atlantic passenger traffic, which has been proceeding intermittently for nearly a year, is now reaching the climax and promises to be one of the most severe in the history of British shipping.

The International Mercantile Marine is considered to have made a great stroke when, a short time ago, it secured the only available berthage for big liners at Southampton, together with dock construction sites, and inaugurated a mid-weekly service with the White Star liner Adriatic and her sister ships.

The new agreement between the Hamburg-American and North German-Lloyd—which represents an aggregate tonnage of 1,652,138—is a formidable threat to British interests in every part of the world.

It is under the single flags while the Mercantile Marine, which began with a tonnage under one million, was international.

Among the reasons advanced here for the new agreement are, first, the appearance of the Lusitania and the Mauretania; and, second, the White Star Company's establishment of an express service to New York from Southampton and Cherbourg, which is regarded as an infringement of the spirit of the agreement between the North Atlantic combine and the German companies.

According to the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, the latest rumor is that Messrs. James Pirrie and Morgan are considering a great reconstruction of the lines under their control with a view to applying to them the enormous financial resources at their command.

MONSTER MILL BURNED AT KENORA --LOSS OF $500,000

Plant of Company Had Only Been in Operation a Month and Three Days--Full Insurance Carried

Kenora, Ont., Jan. 15.—The Maple Leaf Flour Mills Co.'s immense 5,000 barrel mill and packing house were destroyed by fire last night, aggregating a loss of about $500,000. The fire started about 10 o'clock in the cleaning department in the fifth storey. The cause is not known, but is likely either from defective flues or likely either from defective electric current or from friction.

The large elevators and ten concrete storage bins almost filled with wheat were saved. There was a snow and wind storm at the time, blowing from the north west, and as the fire started in that corner of the building it was soon evident that the structure could not be saved.

The packing house situated a few feet south of the mill building, was in the fatal direction, and although every effort was made to save it, nothing was accomplished as the walls of the mill fell in that direction and spread the fire everywhere.

The destroyed mill was only opened on Dec. 13, and had just rolled into place about the first large shipment of flour being made a few days ago. The mill had machinery installed for 2,500 barrels, but had a capacity of 5,000 barrels daily.

POWER PLANT A LOSER

The disaster to the town will make none the less a revenue producer almost the whole of the water power development work for a long time to come, as the Maple Leaf Milling Company were under contract to take from the town 2,000 horse power. This would have given the town an immediate revenue of $20,000 per year which, by this fire, is now cut off. D. S. Cameron of Winnipeg is president of the Maple Leaf Milling Company.

The mill proper was 165 feet by 55 feet and six storeys high.

Mr. Cameron left last evening for the west. It is expected he will return immediately on being apprised of the loss.

Forty Teams from the Country Left Without Claimants

Scores of Visitors Lost Lives in Theatre Fire One Lady Dreaded Trouble and Had Doors Removed

162 Bodies Recovered

Boyertown, Jan. 15.—But two members of the cast, so far as can be learned were killed. This was due to the precaution taken by Mrs. Della Myers. She had a premonition that something would happen. At a luncheon given to the members of the cast in the hall several days ago, she said she feared something. There ought to be a means of escape, she said. The rear entrance was spoken of, and at her suggestion the doors were taken off the hinges so that in case of accident egress could easily be accomplished.

Boyertown, Pa., Jan. 15—Of the more than 165 persons crushed or burned to death in Monday night's theater disaster, it is probable that more than half will be laid away in nameless graves. The morgues in which the bodies were placed for identification were opened to the public today.

So far as physicians and undertakers could ascertain from the mutilated 110 of the dead were women and girls and 55 were men and boys. So badly burned were the other that such could not be determined, and it is probable they will all be counted as one girl in Union Cemetery.

THIRTY IDENTIFIED.

Up to 1 p.m. thirty bodies had been identified by means of jewelry or clothing.

Two of the injured, Mrs. John Dyer and Jacob Johnson, both of this place, died today, bringing the list of dead also to 162.

Considerable headway was made today in clearing out the ruins of the opera house. It is believed bodies are still buried in the ruins.

A. H. Burnham of New York, who was sent here as representing the Theatrical Managers' Association to investigate the affair, arrived today. There are thousands of small theaters, such as the Boyertown opera house, scattered throughout the county, and the association is interested in many of them. Mr. Burnham said today, "Most people attending a theatrical performance rush up going out the same way they came in. They forget about the other exits with which every theater is equipped. If they would think of the other exits and use them and not pile into one, such sad affairs would not occur."

Pottstown, Pa., Jan. 15—With the opening today of the four improvised morgues in which lay the victims of Monday night's theater holocaust, the inhabitants of this city and borough began to realize the awful extent of the tragedy. The hand of sorrow has touched probably every family in the town and in neighboring villages. Where families were not directly affected by the terrible flame and fire through the loss of relatives, they were mourning for lost friends or acquaintances. The grewsome scenes following the disaster bring a shudder to the stoutest heart, and many thousands who have come as curiosity seekers have gone away declaring they never want to witness another sight like it.

The [illegible] were opened at 10 o'clock this morning, and by noon the crowds were so great that it was necessary to call out the militia to keep order. Thousands of people from all parts of the country have been coming to the city since early this morning, and the streets are packed with humanity. Many of the visitors are relatives of the victims, who are searching for the bodies of their loved ones. Others are curiosity seekers, who have come to see the sights. Many of the latter class are being turned away by the police, who are under strict orders to admit only those who have business in the morgues.

The morgues are the Odd Fellows' Hall, the Knights of Pythias Hall, the Reading Fire Company's building and the Lutheran Church. The bodies are being taken to the morgues as fast as they are identified, and the work of identification is going on rapidly. The three undertaking establishments of the borough were too small to accommodate the large number of victims, so the borough officials decided to use the high school. Undertakers from surrounding towns were pressed into service to care for the bodies as they arrived from the ruins. To each body was attached a tag containing a number and with the corpse was laid any article of jewelry or clothing that might have been in the possession of the victim.

Coroner Strasser, who has been on the scene since midnight, had expected to open the morgues to the identification of the dead yesterday afternoon, but the number of dead grew so large that the undertakers even with the augmented force from other towns were unable to properly arrange the bodies.

Most of the bodies were in such a condition that few of them will be recognized by the features alone. In nearly every case the upper portions of the bodies were burned, some of them to a crisp. Because of the difficulty of identification and the attendant confusion the coroner decided to keep the morgues closed until today, and during the morning the doors of the buildings were thrown open. Hundreds of people were waiting at each place to get a look at the dead, in the hope of finding the remains of loved ones. Perfect order was maintained. At each of the morgues a detail of the State police was on duty to keep the crowds moving. As quickly as identifications were made the bodies were turned over to undertakers for removal to the homes of the victims.

Agricultural Society Holds Annual Meeting

Yesterday afternoon the West Peterborough Agricultural Society held their annual meeting in the council chamber with President R. H. Leary in the chair.

The business was mainly of a routine character, the minutes of last meeting being read and confirmed. The election of officers for the coming year resulted in practically the same board being elected. One difference was the election of Messrs. Dr. Johnston and Jas. O'Shea of the Peterborough Turf Club to the directorate.

The officers elected were:
President—R. H. Leary.
Vice-Pres.—J. H. Garbutt.
2nd Vice—F. S. Redmond.
Sec.-Treas.—Fred Hall.

The matter of the fall exhibition was discussed and favorably considered, as the exhibition of last year, whilst not a money maker, was under the circumstances fairly satisfactory. The next exhibition will be held on Sept. 17th, 18th and 19th.

The following board of directors was elected, viz., Messrs.
Geo. E. Elliott.
S. Dey-ll.
J. J. Turner.
Dawson Kennedy.
John Young.
W. B. Stewart.
John Brown.
J. R. Bell.
H. C. Garbutt.
W. Switzer.
W. E. Conway.
G. A. Gilmspie.
Robt. Vance.
W. Collins.
Dr. Johnston.

A PLEBISCITE ON THE SENATE

The proposal to hold a plebiscite on the abolition of the Senate is very cruel, says the Montreal Star. They might as well ask the hard-headed people of the country to vote as to whether or not they will continue to employ a Black Rod for the amusement of the members of the House of Commons. The mass people do not understand these things. They do not realize how much the members need the Black Rod or how much more they need the prospect of getting a soft berth one of these days as a member of the Senate. Much of the life would go out of the proceedings of the Commons if the hard-worked and over-paid members did not see always before them the prospect of an old age of leisure in "the land where it is always afternoon"—for the Senate seldom sits at night.

The people, who are hard-worked themselves and cannot vote themselves an increased indemnity to save their lives, might remember only that the Senate costs money. They might be acrdid enough to ask why they should pay for a system of old age pensions for good politicians in this way. The common people are so unfeeling. They are not versed in the benefits of a second chamber to restrain the haste of the first. They cannot appreciate the conviction of the Commoners that they must have an Upper House to correct their mistakes. Some might imagine that the Commons would be eager rather to have absolute power—would be unwilling to admit that it made a mistake. That is the attitude of the British Commons to-day. But not so with the Canadian Commons. It is more modest. It would rather take care to make a few mistakes to keep the Senate employed than see this refuge for its declining years removed from reach.

It would certainly never, never do to let the people get at the Senate with bare hands.

Will Drive Out Asiatics

Johannesburg, Jan. 14.—Pursuant to the determination of the government to make the Transvaal so hot for Asiatics that those now in the country will be driven out and further immigration come to an end, fifty prominent Asiatics were arrested here this morning. Among the prisoners are the chairmen of both the British Indian and Chinese Associations and a number of officers and committeemen of these organizations.

IS THE PRINCE COMING?

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—It is confident expected that the British royal family will be represented by one of its members at the tercentenary celebration in Quebec next August. At the same time it is not known who the representative will be, although it is hoped that their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales will be able to again visit Canada for this occasion.

Frank Clark Arrested Charged with Murder

London, Jan. 15—Frank Scott, alias Frank Clark, a mulatto, of Pittsburg, was arrested yesterday on a telegram from the superintendent of the police force of that city, charging him with the murder of another negro, his step-father, the crime being committed last Tuesday. Scott offered no resistance, and admitted the charge. He was locked up pending the arrival of Pittsburg authorities.

About noon on Tuesday, Jan. 7, Scott killed his foster stepfather, husband of the woman who had taken Scott from the poor house and raised him decently. The name of the man murdered was Granville Davis, aged 48 years, who was known throughout the entire country by colored people as the personal confident of Joe Gans, the pugilist. Davis was considered the best dressed colored man in Pennsylvania, and he and his foster stepson frequently quarrelled over dress. Scott wounded a detective when he killed Davis.

The January Rod and Gun

It is often said that a good beginning is half the battle, and the Canadian Sportsman's magazine, "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., makes a splendid beginning for the New Year. It is crowded with stories of interest to sportsmen, including notes on the last season's sport in several Provinces, which must cause hunters to go over their own experiences once more and see if they agree with those given. The most important subject of the International Control of the Great Lakes Fisheries is dealt with in an address given by Mr. A. Kelly Evans at a conference of the American Fisheries Society. Stories of deer hunting in Quebec and Ontario, duck hunting in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, exploring trips in the northern country, with fishermen's yarns and mountain climbing reminiscences are but samples of the budget of good things awaiting the readers of this excellent magazine. Every lover of outdoor life must find something to appeal to his particular and favorite recreation, and to the whole of them must come the spirit of the well written and effective story "Nature's Elixir and it is not work!" This is the spirit pervading the whole—the spirit of freedom and strenuous exertion which brings with it health and happiness, though in the conventions of modern civilization it is not classed as "work." Often indeed, as every sportsman knows, it is work of the hardest possible character, but when it is a change from ordinary occupations, let the labor be what it may, so long as it is performed in the open air and without restraint, it is not, in the ordinary acceptance of the word, "work". With such a promising beginning the New Year holds the strongest possibilities for the further success of this favorite Canadian magazine, whose special work it has been to make the advantages of the Dominion in the region of sport known to our people and through them to the whole world.

The Claw of the Devil.

In the middle ages people recognized witches and possessed persons by seeking on their bodies for what was called the claws of the devil. It was a more or less extensive part of the skin in which the subject was insensible to any touch or prick. The expert intrusted with this work would close the eyes of the subject and, armed with a sharp needle, prick here and there the different parts of the body. The sufferer was to answer with a cry to each prick, and the claw of the devil on a certain spot was recognized from the fact that he did not cry when this spot was examined.—From "The Major Symptoms of Hysteria," by Pierre Janet.

Learn to Be Genial.

There are many people who excuse themselves from the little familiarities and kindnesses of life on the ground that they are not natural to them. These people say they are reserved by disposition and cannot be free and easy in meeting other people. But we can learn to row a boat or to write shorthand or to speak a new language. That unaffected simplicity of address which made Ruskin so approachable to child or man was the work of a long life's discipline.

The Unveiling.

Great occasions do not make heroes or cowards, they simply unveil them to the eyes of men. Silently and imperceptibly, as we wake or sleep, we grow and wax strong, we grow and wax weak, and at last some crisis shows us what we have become.—Canon Westcott.

"Do you see that lady over there? She broke my cousin's heart."

"Was she so cruel?"

"No, but the day before he broke off his engagement to her she inherited 200,000 marks."—Fliegende Blatter.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

With a slight shudder, he dropped her hand as soon as it was touched; then, pressing his fingers together so firmly that his long nails left marks in his flesh, he look curiously down upon her, eying her as furtively as if she had been a wild beast. Nothing of all this escaped Eugenia, who, feeling greatly amused at what she thought to be his embarrassment, and fancying he had never before conversed with so fine a lady as herself, commenced quizzing him in a manner excessively provoking to one of his excitable temperament. Lifting up first one foot, and then the other, he felt his patience fast giving way, and at last, as her ridicule became more and more marked, he could endure it no longer, but returned it with a kind of sarcasm far more cutting than anything she could say. Deeply chagrined, and feeling that he had been beaten with her own weapons, she was about to leave the "old bear" as she mentally styled him, when remembering that he was Mr. Hastings' friend, and as such worthy of more respect than she had paid him, she said playfully, "I have a mother and sister here whom you may like better than you do me. I'll introduce them," and tripping across the room she made known her wishes to her mother, adding that there was a chance for her, as he was an old bachelor.

Long and searchingly the old man looked in the face of the widow, thinking of the time when she had called Varnie her sister; but of this Mrs. Deane did not know, and remembering what Eugenia had said, she blushed crimson, and as soon as possible stole away, leaving him alone with Alice, with whom he was better pleased, talking with so long that Eugenia, who was hovering near Mr Hastings, began to think of what she called her sister's conquest. Nothing had escaped Mr Hastings, and thinking this a good opportunity for rebuking the young lady he spoke of Mr. Hamilton in the highest terms, saying that he should consider any disrespect paid to his friend a slight to himself. This hint was sufficient, and wishing to make amends for her rudeness Eugena ere long sought the stranger, and tried to be very agreeable; but there was no affinity between them, and to Mr. Hastings, who was watching them, they seemed much like a fierce mastiff and a spiteful cat impatient to pounce upon each other!

During the evening the three were standing together, and Eugenia, suddenly remembering Dora, asked Mr. Hastings how she was, saying she seldom wrote to them, and when she did her letters amounted to nothing. With a warning glance at Uncle Nat, whose face grew very dark, Mr. Hastings replied that she was well, and had, he thought, improved under his sister's care.

"I am glad," said she, "for there was need enough of improvement. She was so unrefined, always preferring the kitchen to the parlor, that we couldn't make anything of her."

A sudden "Ugh!" from Uncle Nat stopped her, and she asked him what was the matter.

"Nothing, nothing," said he, wiping his face, "only I'm getting pretty warm, and must cool off."

The next moment he was gone, and when, at a late hour Mr. Hastings repaired to his room, he knew by the chairs, boots, brushes, and books scattered over the floor that Uncle Nat, snoring so loudly in bed, had "cooled off"!

"I had to hold on, to keep from falling to pieces right before her," he said next morning, in speaking of the last night's adventure; "but I shall do better next time. I am getting a little accustomed to it."

And he was right, for only twice during the entire day and evening did he disappear from the room. Once when Eugenia sat down to play, and once when he heard her tell Stephen Grey, who asked her to ride again, that he really must excuse her, as she had a letter to write to Uncle Nat, who undoubtedly wondered why she was so tardy. "And you know," she said, "it won't do to neglect him."

Uncle Nat knew it was a farce to get rid of Stephen Grey, who was nothing compared with his brother-in-law, but his indignation was not the less; and Mr. Hastings, when he saw the long blue coat flying up the stairs, smiled quietly, though he pitied the poor old man who was thus kept vibrating between his chamber and the parlor.

In this manner several days passed away, during which time Uncle Nat's temper was severely tested, both by Eugenia's remarks concerning Dora and by what she said of himself, far be more than once heard her speaking of "old Uncle Nat," who sent her money to buy the various articles of jewelry which she wore. On such occasions it seemed almost impossible for him to restrain his anger, and he often wished he had never promised to keep silent; but by frequent visits to his chamber, which witnessed many a terrific storm, he managed to be quiet, so that Eugenia had no suspicion whatever, though she disliked him greatly, and wished he had never come there. Mr. Hastings troubled her, too, for she felt very uncertain as to the nature of his feelings towards her. He treated her politely, but that was all, and no management on her part could draw from him any particular attention.

"Maybe he's jealous of Stephen Grey," she thought, and then she became so cold towards the latter individual, that had he not remembered Uncle Nat's will, in which he firmly believed, he would have packed his trunk at once and left her in disgust.

But Stephen's necessities were great. There was standing against him a long list of bills, which his father refused to pay, and he was ready to marry the first purse which was offered. Had Eugenia been altogether agreeable to him he would have proposed ere this, but, without knowing why, he felt afraid of her. Added to this was the memory of his mother's threat that his father should disinherit him if he disgraced them by marrying that Deane girl, in whose expected fortune she did not believe. In halting between two opinions, he allowed himself to be taken up and cast off whenever the capricious Eugenia chose.

In the meantime Uncle Nat had cultivated the acquaintance of Mrs Deane and Alice, finding the latter quite a pleasant girl, and feeling disposed to think more favorably of the former when he heard her speak kindly of Dora, as she always did. Matters were in this state, when, one afternoon, in compliance with her brother's written request, Mrs Elliott arrived, together with Dora. Most of the visitors were at the springs, and as Eugenia never let an opportunity pass for showing herself to the guests of the different houses, she too was there, and thus failed to see how tenderly Dora was greeted by Mr Hastings, and how fondly Uncle Nat clasped her in his arms, holding her hand all the way up the stairs, and only releasing her when she reached the door of the room which had been previously engaged for them by Mr Hastings. Feeling slightly indisposed, Mrs. Elliott did not go down to supper; and, as Dora chose to remain with her, neither of them was seen until evening. Eugenia had heard of the arrival of two aristocratic-looking ladies, one of whom was young and beautiful, and this aroused her fears at once. Hitherto she had reigned without a rival, for aside from her beauty the generally believed rumor of her being an heiress procured for her attentions from many who otherwise would have been disgusted with her overbearing manner and hoyden conduct, for, like many others she had fallen into the error of thinking that to be fashionable she must be bold and noisy, and no voice in the drawing-room ever reached so high a note as hers. Still she was considered and flattered, and when the friend who told her of the new arrivals, and who had caught a view of Dora's face, laughingly bade her beware lest her star should begin to wane, she curled her lip in scorn, as if anything in Avon could compare with her, who "had spent so many seasons at Saratoga and Newport, and who would

BLINDING HEAT RAYS.

British Bluejackets Mysteriously Injured by Electrical Experiment.

An extraordinary accident which has just occurred on board one of the home fleet ships at Portsmouth suggests that the heat ray of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" has been stumbled on by accident.

This particular vessel was in dockyard hands, and for five days dockyardmen had been busy trying to bore a hole through an armor plate. Time being short, the torpedo lieutenant brought a dynamo into play, and, equipped with goggles to protect his eyes, melted a hole through the Krupp armor plate much as one can bore a hole through wood with a red-hot poker.

The sight was an extremely interesting one, and a good many officers and men had a look at it.

Next day everyone who had even glanced at the operation was on the sick list, including the captain of the ship, who was very nearly blinded. The torpedo lieutenant has lost all the skin from his face, and the other onlookers are in little better plight. Several men have had to go to hospital, and it is even feared that one or two may lose their sight.

Some chemical reaction in the supposed cause; but the whole business is wrapped in a good deal of mystery. All that is certain is that under the electric ray the armor melted like ice under a burning glass, and that practically a whole ship's company are incapacitated, half-blinded, their faces burned to a deep copper tint, and exuding continual moisture as from enormous boils.

If a person is seized with violent convulsions and loss of consciousness, you may know that he has a fit of some kind. The head should be raised a little and no stimulant given; the limbs should be allowed plenty of freedom, and a little beef tea or milk should be given on recovery.

Constipation

Baked sweet apple, with cream—people, being prompt relief for Constipation. With cream, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And it is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—the cara sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Spicery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., the same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A tasteless Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories. From this ingredients and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful flint-grapined metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

ANTIGUA GOLD-COPPER Co.

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON: "Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 531 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunnelling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 8 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 2 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public, in this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT,

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Mrs. Arthur Haverstock Makes Public Statement

Tells of Her Belief in the Undying Merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 19.—When interviewed at her home at 194 Argyle street, Mrs. Haverstock was quite willing to talk of her peculiarly unfortunate case. "I was always blue and depressed, felt weak, languid and utterly unfit for any work. My stomach was so disordered that I had no appetite. What I did eat disagreed I suffered greatly from dizziness and sick headache and feared a nervous breakdown. Upon my druggist's recommendation I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"I felt better at once. Every day I improved in six days I was a well woman, cured completely after different physicians had failed to help me. It is for this reason that I strongly urge sufferers with stomach or digestive troubles to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills

Dr Hamilton's Pills strengthen the stomach, improve digestion, strengthen the nerves and restore debilitated systems to health. By cleansing the blood of long-standing impurities, by bringing the system to a high point of vigor, they effectually chase away weariness, depression and disease. The councils of the townships of Belmont and Methuen in a body will join Havelock and Norwood councils along with company directors who are leading business men and manufacturers at the end of the month in a deputation to urge the Dominion government to grant a lease of the intervening portion of upper Healey rapids to the Northumberland Durham Power Company

The company already holds a lease of the Ontario government of the main Healey Falls and lower rapids and owns patent of land required for development works and holds deeds of other lands.

The company recently, upon advice of Havelock council, and a visiting delegation of ratepayers who viewed the construction works of the company, stopped work, pending the answer of the Dominion government, but this has been delayed owing to the canal surveys of the Healey Falls section not being completed.

Former Local Oddfellows Honored

When the members of Queen City of Ontario Lodge, No. 56, I.O.O.F., Toronto, met last Monday night a pleasing function was included in the lodge's evening session. This was the presentation to two members of Peterborough Lodge, No. 111. Messrs E. J. Cobean and John Skitch, formerly of Peterborough, but now residing in Toronto, with veterans' jewels, the gift of Peterborough Lodge in recognition of their twenty-five years' faithful membership. As these brothers could not be present at Peterborough in November, when some of the other members were honored in a similar manner, the jewels were forwarded to Bro. M. W Matchett, D.D.G.M., a member of Peterborough lodge now residing in Toronto, who made all arrangements for their presentation.

The Noble Grand, Bro. Wm. Hudson, called upon Bro. Matchett, who in a short address, explained the circumstances, and concluded by asking Mayor Oliver to make the presentation. Mayor Oliver has been for thirty-five years a member of Queen City Lodge, and who is a past grand master and a past past grand patriarch, referred to the pleasure it gave him to be present and assist in the noble work of the order. Hearty applause greeted Bros. Skitch and Cobean as the jewels were pinned on their breasts by the mayor, who hoped they might be long spared to wear them.

Generous Donations for Charity

At the meeting of the General Charity Board last evening Mayor Ruah, who is Chairman of the Board, said that he would give $100 to the Board to be used for charitable purposes. The Board receives a grant each year from the City Council, which it disburses to those in need, but the Mayor, who has held the position of Chairman for several years and is familiar with the work and its needs, has found that this winter there are not only larger demands than usual, but along with the greater demands there are calls of a special nature, that, in addition to the regular system of orders for groceries and wood, require to be given special aid. In view of these facts he made the generous contribution referred to, which was accepted by the Board and will be disbursed by the Relief Officer.

But the matter did not end there. Mr. Rush's explanations of the exigency of the situation which had caused him to make this donation appealed to others and the suggestion was made before all the members had left the room that others would follow his excellent example in placing further funds at the disposal of the Board to aid in relieving the distress. This suggestion was acted upon at once, with the result that two other subscriptions were made, and it was deemed advisable to open the way for further contributions in order that everyone who approved of the action taken, and wished to join in the good work might do so.

The subscriptions made, including that of the chairman, were as follows:—

H. Rush	$100.00
Robert Neill	25.00
R. C Braund	10.00

Any person who is willing to aid in this way is invited to send his contribution to the Mayor, or to Mr. W Yelland, Treasurer of the Board, or to Mr. S R. Armstrong, Secretary at the City Clerk's Office.

"Beauty Triumphant"

The Times is in receipt from Messrs. Oldfield, Kirby & Gardner of Winnipeg, Man., a handsome calendar containing a fac-simile of the original painting by H. K. Ward, and exhibited in the Royal Academy, London, England, entitled "Beauty Triumphant." This picture is a symbolism of the primitive belief in the essential oneness of all forms of life, and reminds one that whether plant or vegetable life has its origin in a single principle of vital force. In the picture noted a graceful woman with a tiger whose steel like muscles are concealed by its sleek and beautiful hide are shown together. The picture is a wonderfully depicted idea of an imaginative and powerful artist

Fallows Attacks Cult of Mrs. Eddy

Chicago, Jan. 16.—Bishop Fallows drew a sharp dividing line in his sermon at St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church last Sunday evening between what he calls Christian Psychology and what Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy calls Christian Science.

Christian psychology recognizes the value of the services of skilled physicians. Christian Science, he declared, does not.

Incidentally the bishop remarked that life insurance "is one of the ways ordained through a divine law of mutualism for God to take care of fatherless children."

"A true faith", he said, "recognizes that the imminent God works in innumerable ways to carry out his purposes for the welfare of man. The help that comes from the skilled physicians and the use of appropriate medicine is just as divine as if it came directly from the source of all life into the human organism by prayer and faith and the ordinances of so-called truth.

"The leader of a religious cult which professedly discalims physicians and the whole materia medica yet gives in her own experience a most striking illustration of the fact that faith must ultimately triumph over presumption and the teachers of religion and psychology with the medical fraternity must go hand in hand.

A GRAND VALLEY ELECTRIC CAR PLUNGED OVER BRIDGE

Car Came off its Trucks Near Paris and Dropped 30 Feet to the Roadway Below--Eight Persons Injured

Brantford, Jan. 16.—Eight persons were injured and one fatally may result from the accident which occurred on the Grand Valley Radial Electric Line between this city and Paris last night, when in trying to cut through the snow on the Paris bridge about one mile out of Paris the eight o'clock car bound for Brantford left the track and plunged over the structure, dropping thirty feet to the roadway below. The car was completely demolished and so badly damaged that passengers had to be taken out through the roof, which was removed after the wreck.

Conductor Beacom, Brantford, who was driving the car while Motorman Longhurst of Brantford was eating his lunch in the vestibule, was probably fatally hurt, his injuries consisting of a crushed chest, fractured thigh, and head injuries. Longhurst sustained a dislocated shoulder. Broom was brought to the city today after being kept at a farm house near the scene of the accident over night.

The following were on the car but escaped injury: James Dennison, Brantford; Mrs. James Miller and two children, Brantford; Isaac Newsom, Paris.

CAME OFF TRUCKS

In backing up for the third time in order to get up speed to make the run over the bridge, the track being slippery, the rear truck left the tracks. This was not noticed owing to the protection afforded by the guard rail. When the bridge was reached the car toppled, leaving the trucks, both front and rear, plunged over the bridge, landing on its side. The vestibule was the most badly smashed, the conductor being pinned beneath the motorman in the wreckage.

Two passengers managed to get out and break off the roof, already badly smashed, thus releasing the others.

The Grand Valley officials state that the passengers were warned of the fact that the line was in bad condition, owing to the snow, and that the car was at their own risk.

STAGE DROPPED THROUGH THE ICE

Little Current, Ont., Jan. 16.—Last night about eight o'clock, with the temperature below zero and in a blinding snowstorm, the mail stage with mail for thirty-four Manitoulin offices went through the ice.

A Toronto traveller was drowned. Driver Mahash rescued the mail. The stage and horses were lost.

A relief rig brought the mail on today at noon.

A. E. Noble, Crazed with Drink, Shot at Mother and Sister

They Fled and He Locked Them Out of the House

Arrested by Police

Toronto, Jan. 16.—The usual quiet and peaceful atmosphere of Jameson avenue, in South Parkdale, was somewhat disturbed last night at an early hour by the arrest of Albert Ernest Noble of 109 Jameson avenue, who on coming home in an intoxicated condition drove his widowed mother and married sister from the house with a Mauser cavalry carbine, and then locked the door and kept them out.

Mrs. Noble, widow of the late Detective Alex F. Noble, who died only a week ago, was seated in the living room talking to her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lynd, and Mr. Charles H. Connor, city solicitor of St. Catharines, when the young man entered the front door, and after rushing around the hall for a few minutes, muttered something unintelligible and went upstairs.

HAD A CAVALRY CARBINE

The trio thought that the young man was drunk, and had gone to his room. They were surprised when a few moments later he stumbled down stairs, carrying in his hands a Mauser cavalry carbine. Without a word he raised the gun and fired in the direction of the latter. The bullet went wild of its mark and rode high up to the wall above the dining room door.

The terrified women fled precipitately from the house, closely followed by Mr. Connor. As soon as they had gone the son locked the door and stood on guard with the carbine.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

From a neighbor's house in which the rejected family took refuge, Mrs. Noble telephoned the police. Patrol Sergeant Taylor responded, and, on arrest at the Mrs. Lynd wished to see two small children said to have been left in the house, he succeeded in persuading the intoxicated man to admit him. Noble was immediately placed under arrest, and taken to No. 6 police station, where two charges, one of drunk unase and one of shooting with intent, were entered against him.

Patrol Sergeant Taylor later found the bullet.

In the police court this morning young Noble pleaded not guilty on both charges. Mr. J. Walter Curry, who appeared for the prisoner, secured a week's remand. The mother and daughter did not appear in the court.

Lottery Case Against Crystal Dismissed

Yesterday afternoon the "cause celebre" of the King vs. Mr. Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal, heard before Judge Weller, and also of the latter evening, two of the evening papers, for publishing an advertisement, alleged to be of a lottery character was heard and dismissed. It will be remembered that some months ago Mr. Edwards had an advertisement inserted in the evening papers, stating that a watch would be given away at the Crystal under certain conditions. After the publication of the advertisement, but before the way or means of settling how said watches were to be given, the chief of police took action against Mr. Edwards and the two newspapers, basing the charge on section 236 of the criminal code, which states that anyone found guilty of causing to be published or of publishing a lottery scheme is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine.

It will be remembered that a preliminary hearing was taken before Magistrate Dumble, who committed the defendants for trial before the county judge. His decision was handed out yesterday, and resulted in the case being dismissed. The court held that there was nothing in the advertisement that would indicate that a lottery was to be conducted.

Mr. D. O'Connell looked after the interests of Mr. Edwards, and the newspapers, and Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution.

Unwarranted Attack on Former Local Man

Local Contemporary, Misled by Similarity of Names and Circumstances, Made Mistake

We are pleased to learn that an unfounded though most evidently incorrect report contained recently in a contemporary paper was founded not on fact but on misleading information. The report referred to was concerning Mr. McDonald, a former member of the local police force. This misguided, though undoubtedly taken at the time as correct report, said Mr. J. B. McDonald, formerly of the local police force, had been arrested in Chicago on the charge of endeavoring to obtain money under false pretences. There was not one word of truth in the report, which whilst incorrect, was somewhat excusable owing to a concurrence of startling circumstances, not the least of which was a close similarity of name and, further, a seemingly natural sequence of events connecting an innocent man with another. However, the main point, as might be expected by those who knew him, was that Mr. McDonald of Peterborough, was not and could not be the guilty man. "Mac's" friends or enemies either, as far as that goes, know him too well.

Lindsay Lady Breakes Her Leg

Saturday evening about 9 o'clock, while a young lady of about seventeen, Miss Jessie Mapes, daughter of Mr. Ben Mapes, was skating on the small rink opposite the Public Library she stumbled in some way and fell heavily with her feet caught together. The manner and force of the fall broke her right leg between the ankle and knee. Comrades carried her to a nearby house, where a doctor was called and she was then taken through to her home, where her leg was set. Today she is doing well, but will not be able to skate again this winter.—Lindsay Post.

EIGHTY-FOUR POUNDS OF BEEF ORDERED FOR BREAKFAST

Harry Thaw's Crazy Order for Evelyn--Mrs. Thaw Senior, Arrives in New York--A Pathetic Letter

Pittsburg, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw left here last night for New York for the purpose of attending the trial of her son.

New York, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Wm. Thaw, mother of the defendant, is now in New York. It is said that she would be called as a witness tomorrow.

One of Mr. Thaw's eccentricities, which is soon to be gratified, was the ordering of 84 pounds of beef to Evelyn Nesbit one morning when she was ill. The attorneys have the receipts for the meat.

New York, Jan. 16.—A white-haired schoolmaster whose every word was effective was a splendid witness for Harry K. Thaw this morning. The man was Abram R. Heck, an uncle of James M. Beck, the former United States attorney-general in Philadelphia, and he offered his services as a witness because he felt that Thaw was not responsible for his actions, and his testimony went far to support the insanity plea offered by the young Pittsburg boy. Stanford White, Mr. Heck testified, was shown by the witness's brother, Mrs. Thaw, the mother of the prisoner, had once sent a communication from Mr. Heck, telling her that she must take her son home, that his influence was having a bad effect on the other pupils, and that Mr. Heck thought the boy needed the scientific care of a sanitarium for the nervous.

"Deal with him gently," wrote Mrs. Thaw, "for my sake. I do not know what to suggest. His father will be home on Saturday, and I will help me to advise you. Your letter fills me with dread, for the uncle of whom I spoke was similarly afflicted as a child, and I cannot help fearing the worst for my boy's future.

"How would it do to not notice him in any way for a whole day? It may help us to save him from himself, for my boy is not to blame."

This letter was dated in October, 1901, when Harry was about eighteen years old.

Mr. Heck said Thaw was given to lessen outbursts in the schoolroom when everything was quiet, and there was nothing whatever to cause such expression.

THE EVIDENCE

New York, Jan. 16.—August Weber, the former Thaw butler, who first told of the various incidents in the life of Harry Thaw that led to the latter's confinement in the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, was recalled to the witness stand when the trial was opened today. He was asked by Mr. Littleton, of the defence, if Thaw's actions as he observed them while employed in the Washington and Philadelphia homes suggested him as abnormal or irrational.

"Irrational," replied the witness promptly.

District Attorney Jerome then began the cross-examination. It had the witness repeat several of the incidents related yesterday afternoon, and asked if he considered a gift of money from Thaw an irrational act.

HEALTHY, BUT NERVOUS.

"It seems a queer way for what I did," said Weber.

The witness declared that Thaw was not despising and seemed healthy when he knew him, but always was nervous and excitable.

Christopher Briggs, steward of the New York Whist Club, was recalled to give the dates of Thaw's visits to the club in 1904-05 and 1906. Mr. Jerome brought out the fact that he was absent on each of these occasions to play bridge whist with the best players in the club.

Raymond A. Brown, a music roll dealer, and key witness of the killing of Stanford White, was called, and testified to Thaw's irrational appearance on the roof garden.

Brown said he knew Thaw personally, and spoke to him during the intermission in the performance, but could not get a coherent reply.

"Did you ever try to get a coherent reply from any other man twenty minutes before he took the life of a fellow human being?" asked District Attorney Jerome.

"No," replied the witness.

"That's all."

UNSOCIAL, SULLEN, ABSTRACTED

Abraham R. Heck, of Lancaster county, Penna., father of former assistant District Attorney-General Jas. M. Beck, who was present this morning, was called. He said that Harry Thaw was one of the fifteen boys in his school in 1901 and 1902. The memory of the boy had always lived with him, said the witness, who now is quite an elderly man.

"The boy was excessively nervous," said Mr. Beck, "and was very unsocial and sullen and abstracted. His eyes were most striking. One of the principal things I remember about young Thaw were the spasmodic and startling outbursts of animal-like howls. These howls would stop as suddenly as the turning off of a fountain."

DOMESTICS AND FARMERS ONLY

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—Mr. Edgar Norman Lewis, West Hastings, introduced a bill in the house this afternoon giving the medical officers inspecting foreign arrivals power to search their clothing and baggage for concealed weapons, such as revolvers, dirks, bowie knives, stilettoes, etc., and when such are found the name and address of the immigrant shall be taken, his record looked up, and, if unfavorable, he may be deported. The bill also provides that if an immigrant is found with such weapons in his possession within two years after arrival he may be deported. Mr. Lewis said he thought a clause might be added to the bill or an amendment made to the criminal code which would forbid the exposure for sale in stores of revolvers, dirks, knives, etc., and would provide that every purchaser of such weapons must sign documents and furnish satisfactory reasons for the purchase, as is now the case with the purchaser of poisons.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. W. F. Cockshutt: "That, in consideration of the great congestion that at present prevails in the labor market in many of the industrial centres throughout the country, it is highly expedient that assisted immigration, excepting only the agricultural and domestic servant classes, should immediately cease, and that no further bonuses shall be paid to individual agents or companies for sending or bringing in such immigrants. Further, that the time has come for the strict enforcement of the law that requires that only the financially, morally, and physically fit shall be allowed to enter his Dominion as settlers."

The Press Debarred from Privileges

Yesterday Chief Rossel of the local police force informed the local reporters of the daily papers, that they must not speak to prisoners whilst in the police court cells, previous to trial. Chief Rossel, in this final decision, is not condemned by the Times nor possibly so by the reporters of the evening papers.

It seems that a younger reporter at one of the evening contemporaries, a day or two ago, having as per former custom, access to the police court cells, interviewed a prisoner, and with his zeal for news pursuing a certain prisoner dry, as far as this particular source of news went. Now there is no doubt but what this scribe was ambitious to get the latest, but ——common judgment and it was ——separate articles.

The chief yesterday grappled, metaphorically speaking, with the various representatives of the local papers, and complained that the result of the reporter's action referred to, had brought down, and, inasmuch rightly, the wrath of the police magistrate, who naturally and, in common sense and justice does not wish to read the record of a prisoner before his pending trial.

The chief has now issued orders that no reporter must, before trial of the latter, pass the line between the police station and the cells where prisoners are confined. If our reporters are debarred from any part of the police news, that might have been gained by a Times representative previous to his or her trial, they will now understand the reason. All things considered, we do not dispute either the magistrate's or the chief's decision, all things considered in this recent phase of the grand scotch of the law in Peterborough.

Said "Good Bye" But Don't Go

Niagara Falls, Jan. 16.—John Hudson, 48 years old, a Canadian by birth, walked out onto the lower steel arch bridge Saturday night and, shouting "Good-bye!" climbed to the top of the rail and was balancing himself for a plunge, Patrolman Roeder, who had followed him, anticipating some such action, grabbed Hudson by the coattails and jerked him back upon the bridge. Then ensued a struggle which was short and unequal, for despite the great strength with which Hudson seemed endowed, Roeder, one of the most powerful men on the force, quickly subdued him and marched him to the American side, where he was held until the arrival of the patrol wagon. He is still under arrest.

Sports

DEMANDS SUSPENSION.

Toronto, Jan. 16.—President Solon Lutz, of the Orillia Senior O.H.A. Club, today made a complaint to the O.H.A., regarding the amateur standing of "Toad" Edmunds, of the Stratford team. The complaint alleges that Edmunds left Stratford to play hockey in a semi-professional league in the Canadian Northwest, signing with the Regina team.

Mr. Lutz says the Regina club men claim that these facts came to Edmunds as being a "hockey-tourist."

NEW CHAMPION LOOMS UP.

Cobourg, Ont., Jan. 15.

John L. Sullivan,

Sporting Editor The News:

Sir,—I see by the paper that Jack Johnson, the colored champion, is very anxious to meet all comers. I don't think he requires to wait until Tommy Burns returns to get a match. I am prepared to put him on a side bet of twenty pounds, and for those stakes offered by the reputable club of Australia, the same to be put up and the loser to pay the amount at the ringside. I will risk any reasonable amount for a purse, and meet him in any part of America.

My claim to contest for championship honors is as good as his or any other heavyweight. I have met some of the best men that ever entered a ring.

I boxed four rounds to a draw with Jem Mace, the champion of the Theatre Tasmania. I was defeated by Bob Fitzsimmons in the first round when I slipped on a clot of blood and fell on my nose.

Mr. L. Foley got in the ring and stopped the fight. He and I are really hurst. L. Foley was a cracking good sport. I defeated H. Long, the champion, in four rounds at Broken Hill, and put Joe Goddard away in six rounds in my own private tent. I defeated Jack Burke in our records at Bathurst, New South Wales, and have won many other contests.

I have a record of 40 1-2 pounds consecutive club swingings, a draw with Tom Burrows, the champion of the world, at Port Elizabeth, South Africa, in 1904.

Hoping this will meet with your consideration, and you will give it space in your sporting columns, I have the honor to be, most respectfully,

J. L. WEST.

Inspector of Physical Culture, Cobourg, Ont.

Reports Show Many Cases of Rheumatism

Efforts to Check What Appears Like Epidemic of Dread Disease

Thousands of men and women who have felt the sting and suffering of this dread disease, which is the inspector of ages, persons, sex, color or rank, will be interested to know that while for many years rheumatism was considered an incurable disease, now it is one of the easiest afflictions of the human body to conquer. Medical science has proved it not a distinct disease in itself, but a symptom caused by defective kidneys. Rheumatism is uric acid in the blood and other waste products of the system which should be filtered and strained out in the form of urine. The functions of the kidneys is to sift these poisons and acids out and keep the blood clean and pure. The kidneys, however, are subject to like substance, the holes or pores of which will sometimes, either from overwork, cold or exposure, become clogged and inactive, and failing in their function of eliminating the poisons from the blood, they remain in the veins, and cause the untold suffering and misery of rheumatism and backache, and its many dreadful complications, Bright's disease, urinary troubles, weakness, etc.

The following simple prescription is said to relieve the worst cases of rheumatism in from one to four days. Its action upon the blood and kidneys is remarkable, for, in most severe cases of bladder and urinary troubles, Doan's Kidney Pills will afford relief in a few hours and the Great Roberts.

Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix well by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. The ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy and are absolutely harmless and safe for use at any time.

COUNTESS OF YARMOUTH, THAW'S SISTER, SUES EARL FOR DIVORCE--CASE PRIVATE

Harry Introduced Her to the Earl of Yarmouth

But Opposed Marriage

London, Jan. 16.—The Countess of Yarmouth, who was Miss Alice Thaw of Pittsburg, petitioner of Harry K. Thaw, has begun proceedings for the nullification of her marriage with the Earl of Yarmouth.

The cause entered in the defended list for trial in the courts. Things of the world court. It will be heard in private.

Alice Cort Lee Thaw, daughter of the late William Thaw of Pittsburg, was married to George Reuben Alexander Seymour, Earl of Yarmouth, at Cavalry church, Pittsburg, on April 21, 1903.

The marriage followed a rather brief courtship, and put a stop to the earl's career on the stage, where he was known as Eric Hope, which had begun in private society theatricals. Nevertheless, Lord Yarmouth was starred by a well-known New York manager, but, being thinly veiled in the productions and announcements.

The earl was first introduced to the Thaw family by Harry, who had evidently opposed the marriage, declining to come to blows with the nobleman, and refusing to attend the wedding.

It is said that the Thaws were occupying the fine house in Lafayette square, Washington, formerly occupied by Senator Hanna. Don Cameron and the Garrett Roberts.

Yarmouth followed Miss Thaw on an interesting trip through the South. It is said that he got aboard the Southern Palm express just in time to accompany the young heiress.

At Fernandina, Fla., the party belonging to George Carnegie, Miss Thaw's brother-in-law, was waiting. The Carnegies were friendly with Yarmouth, and they invited them to take a trip on the yacht.

Mrs. Thaw went South to bring her daughter back, and it was reported that she was vehemently opposed to the match, but she explained that all she desired was to prevent any undue haste.

The result of this was to fix the wedding day within two months of the beginning of the courtship.

Exactly how much the earl received for marrying Miss Thaw is not given out. Two days ago Sheriff $3,000,000 from her father, and it was understood at the time that the nobleman received $1,000,000 for carrying out his part of the contract.

Certain it is that when all was ready for the ceremony the earl balked and held up the family by refusing to be married until papers and documents were signed which put him in possession of an enormous fortune.

It had been planned that Harry should give the bride away, but he refused. Joseph T. Thaw, another brother, acted in his place.

Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, who was a familiar figure in the family group at the first Thaw trial, was the matron of honor. Lord Edward Seymour, brother of the groom, was best man. A number of the earl's relatives came over for the ceremony.

Within the first year of her married life the Lady Yarmouth was compelled to deny rumors of a disagreement with her husband. She endeavored to live as quietly as possible, and any entertaining that was done was on a small scale.

Lady Yarmouth has always been the favorite of the family, with her brother Harry K. Thaw, who is now on trial for the killing of Stanford White.

She returned from England, where she had made her home since the latter three months of the first of her brother's, which resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

It had been given out that Lady Yarmouth would not be present at the second trial out of deference to the wishes of her husband and his family, as it was said that she still strongly objected to the notoriety and prominence of the Yarmouth name in connection with the proceedings.

Giving Boxing Matches In Sacred Edifice

London, Jan. 16.—The Church of England nowadays is put to queer shifts to attract congregations. Concerts, lantern shows and topical sermons have been introduced as baits for filling the churches, but the most daring and original device must be credited to the Rev. Edward Digby, curate of St. Michael's, Coventry, who is making a new mission church popular with the young men of the parish by holding an athletic club there.

Every evening except Sundays the working lads of Coventry come to the church to develop their muscles. They hold boxing contests and practice gymnastics under the eye of the curate, who is a "muscular Christian" and acts as referee and instructor.

Naturally Mr. Digby has made himself very popular with the youth of his parish. They are mostly workers in the Coventry factories, and find their only recreation in the church boxing club. The pastor makes a picturesque figure, in his cassock and biretta, smoking cigarettes while he times the boxing matches and puts the boys through their gymnastic exercises.

Meanwhile the girls of the parish are not being neglected, and Mr. Digby's aunt has opened a dancing class for them.

Families Awake Amid Flames and Smoke

Dunkirk, Jan. 13. — Fire, caused by an overheated stove, broke out in a two-storey frame building in East Courtney street early yesterday morning and nearly caused the death of several persons.

The upper storey was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Howlis and their children. Frank Adamski, his wife and several children occupied the first floor, where the latter also had a meat market. All were asleep when the fire broke out. The members of the Howlis family, aroused by a neighbor, who threw a brickbat through the window, stumbled through the suffocating smoke to the head of the stairs, only to find their escape in that direction cut off by the flames. Retracing their steps Mr. Howlis cut in way through the flames for the veranda window where he called to the firemen who succeeded in getting the family in their night clothes by safety. Mr. Adamski was awakened by his wife, but was so weak from inhaling the smoke he had to be carried out by firemen. The building was damaged $1,200, partly covered by insurance. The effects of the Howlis family were destroyed, and the belongings of the other family were badly damaged. A valuable hunting dog belonging to the Howlis family, and a wallet of currency belonging to Mr. Howlis were also destroyed in the blaze.

Brockville, Ont., January 15.—According to the report of the Chief of the fire department, presented at the meeting of the town council, last evening, Brockville suffered only to the extent of $4,35 in five losses last year.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE

A Case of Neglecting a Weak Heart and Tired Nerves.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allan Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

SYMPTOMS OF WEAK HEART.

Nervousness, Palpitation,
Trembling, Dizziness,
Sinking Feeling, Heart Pains,
Short Breath, Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says:

"I was weak and miserable.

"I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness.

"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations.

"Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great rebuilder."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it. 50c per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

BRITISH RACE WARS

The racial prejudices and open outbreaks in various parts of the British Empire, upon which comment has already been made, seem to be increasing in extent and intensity and to be presenting a more and more serious problem. The outbreaks against Japanese in the Dominion of Canada were embarrassing, seeing that Japan and Great Britain are allies. But even worse, from some points of view, are the violent discriminations made in that Dominion and also in the Transvaal Colony against Hindus and Sikhs—not merely against alien Asiatics who happen to be of a country diplomatically allied with Great Britain but also against Asiatics who are of countries within the British Empire, and who are just as truly subjects of the British crown as are the Britons and Frenchmen of Canada and the Boers of the Transvaal.

Such discrimination indicates how much room there still is for consolidation and unification of the empire. Or perhaps it indicates rather the great difficulty of forming a consolidated empire out of elements so heterogeneous. The British Empire comprises subjects of every considerable race of mankind. Nominally they are all alike under the British flag and alike the givers of loyalty and the recipients of protection from the British crown. Practically, the races remain distinct. Englishmen and Hindus live side by side under British rule in India, but they are as sharply differentiated as though they were not both British subjects, while when a Hindu seeks to settle in some other province of the one common empire he finds himself treated as an alien, just as though he had never lived under the British flag or sworn allegiance to the British crown.

The case is the more noteworthy and the more perplexing because of the traditional attitude of Great Britain toward other races than the Anglo-Saxon. We must remember that England abolished African slavery and proclaimed the principle of the equality of all men long before America did so. Conspicuously among the nations, Great Britain has stood for generous treatment of one race by another, and also for the doctrine of civis Romanus — or Britannicus—sum, under which every British subject, of whatever nativity, race or color, is entitled to the equal protection of British laws. There can be no question that such is the intent of the British government and probably of an overwhelming majority of the British people. But Canada and the Transvaal, while members of the empire, as all the states are members of the American Republic, are self-governing commonwealths, just as the states are, and perhaps even more so. If, then, local passions and prejudices in these colonies violate the general principles of the mother country and of the empire, as some of the United states have violated federal principles in respect to the negro, the imperial government is placed in as difficult a position as the American government when one of its states disfranchises one race or persecutes another. The problem is much the same and its similarity and its difficulty make the two governments kin.

VOTING IN PRUSSIA

Every Prussian who is 25 years old and has not forfeited his civil rights can vote directly, by secret ballot, for members of the reichstag. When it comes to voting for members of the so-called popular branch of the Prussian legislature the situation is altogether different. In one case numbers are decisive, in the other wealth. When the Prussians were granted representative government their monarch saw to it that the majority should be unrepresented and voiceless.

There is neither direct nor equal suffrage in Prussia. The qualified voters of a district are divided into three classes, each representing one-third of its taxable wealth. Inevitably the first-class consists of a handful of wealthy men. The second class may embrace several hundred men of moderate means. The third class will number thousands. Each class chooses an equal number of electors and the electors for a district choose the representative. The electors of the first and second classes vote together, and the workingmen, who are the majority of the voters, get no representation. Thus there are no socialists in the Prussian house of representatives, while Prussia sends some to the reichstag.

It is not surprising that the socialists of Prussia and many men of small means who are not socialists should be opposed to a system which practically disfranchises them and should desire direct suffrage and the secret ballot. Certainly the present system is an anachronism in a progressive state like Prussia, where illiteracy is almost non-existent. Prince von Bulow admits that it stands in need of reform. He says the government has been considering the question and will do something, but he says emphatically that the method of choosing members of the reichstag will not be adopted. Why it should not be adopted he does not explain. Possibly the reason is that the government does not wish to convert all the landed proprietors of Prussia into enemies.

Strikes, demonstrations or riots engineered by socialists will not make the Prussian government abandon its position nor will they make converts to socialistic principles. The thousands of "sympathizers" mentioned in the dispatches doubtless would like to see the election laws changed, but if changed they would not vote for socialist candidates.

Those laws are archaic and cannot endure forever. With universal suffrage in Austria-Hungary on one side and France on the other and with universal suffrage for the reichstag it will be impossible to refuse indefinitely to grant real representative institutions to Prussia.

Canada is Proud of It

Canadians are always proud of great Canadian enterprises. From the Atlantic to the Pacific Canadians are proud of the great Canadian Family paper, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal. It is certainly worthy of all the good things said about it. It is said that twenty thousand new subscribers were received during December. Every Canadian home should have that great weekly at the small price they ask for it—one dollar a year.

A COLD WEATHER PLAINT.

Priscilla Jane's a helpmate, worth her honest weight in gold.
A wife who scorns fault finding and who's never known to scold.
Of calm and even temper, meek and quiet
as a lamb.
Who, whate'er the aggravation, never gives the door a slam.
Yet her mood doth oft annoy me when from work at night I come
And a cold draft from the parlor on the threshold strikes me dumb
With experienced conviction, born of my ten wedded years—
The furnace isn't working, and Priscilla
Jane's in tears!

It takes but one wee moment to assure me of the fact
That since midday or thereabouts Priscilla
Jane's been racked,
Chilled, worried, grieved and frozen, soothed, grimed and smudged in turn
By a cranky furnace fire that would do all else but burn
That first cold draft convinced me, so I feel naught of surprise
At her choked, subdued boohooing, with her apron to her eyes.
On a cold day I expect it, and there's ground for all my fears—
That the furnace isn't working, and Priscilla Jane's in tears.

The mild warm days of winter never give me great concern
I know such days our furnace, all uncared for, is sure to burn!
When it's too warm for much fire, yet too chill to do without,
'Twill, raging, feed on nothing, sheer perversity, no doubt!
But wait until the mercury's at zero or below
And justice sure as preaching when from work at night I go
I find a cold reception and frailtion of my fondest
Our furnace isn't working, and Priscilla
Jane's in tears!

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. (2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

have gone there this summer, only she wanted a change, and then it was more quiet for ma."

This was one of her stereotyped remarks until Mr. Hastings came, but he knew her, and in his presence she was less assuming. She had heard that the new arrivals were his friends, and, thinking they must of course be somebody, she arrayed herself for the evening with unusual care, wearing her white satin and lace berthe, the most becoming and at the same time the most expensive dress she had.

"I wish I had some pearls," she said, glancing at her raven hair; "they would look so much richer than these flowers."

"I should think an heiress like you could have everything she wanted," suggested Alice mischievously, and Eugenia replied, "Oh, pshaw! We shall never get more than five hundred a year from Uncle Nat, but I don't much care. Old Mr. Grey is wealthy, and if Mr. Hastings don't manifest any more interest in me than he has since he came here I shall let that foolish Steve propose, much as I dislike him."

So saying, she clasped upon her arm a heavy bracelet, for which the sum of forty dollars had been paid, and descended with her mother and sister to the parlor. Mrs. Elliott and Dora were there before her—the former leaning on Mr. Hastings' arm, while the latter was already surrounded by a group of admirers, a few of whom had met her before. She was standing with her back towards Eugenia, who singled her out as a moment as her rival, noticing that her magnificent hair, in which an ornament of any kind would have been out of place, and which she confined at the back of the head with a small and elegantly wrought gold comb. Her dress was perfectly plain, consisting simple of white India muslin, which fitted her admirably and seemed well adapted to her youthful form.

"Who is she?" inquired Eugenia of Uncle Nat, who had stationed himself near the door, on purpose to see how the first sight of Dora would affect her.

"Who is she?" he replied. "Strange you don't know your own cousin Dora Deane," and a look of intense satisfaction danced in his keen eyes as he saw the expression of astonishment which passed over Eugenia's face.

"Impossible!" she exclaimed, while a pang of envy shot through her heart. "That stylish-looking girl can't be Dora! Why, I always supposed Mrs. Elliott made a half-servant, half-companion of her. She never told us any different"; and, with a vague hope that the old South American might be mistaken, she took a step or two forward just as Dora turned round, disclosing to view her face.

There was no longer any doubt, and with mingled feelings of surprise, mortification, jealousy, and rage Eugenia advanced to meet her, wisely resolving as she did so to make the best of it, and never let her cousin know how much annoyed she was. Both Mrs. Deane and Alice were greeted kindly by Dora, who could scarcely be more than polite to Eugenia, and when the latter made a movement to kiss her she involuntarily drew back, feeling that she could not suffer it.

"Grown suddenly very proud," muttered Eugenia, at the same time determining that her mother should insist upon taking Dora home with them, and secretly exulting as she thought how she should again work in the dark kitchen at Locust Grove, as she had done before. "That'll remove some of her fine airs, I reckon," she thought, as, with bitter hatred at her heart, she watched her young cousin, who, throughout the entire evening, continued to be the centre of attraction.

Everybody asked who she was; everybody pronounced her beautiful, and everybody neglected Eugenia Deane, who, greatly enraged, retired early, and vented her wrath in tears, to think that the once despised Dora should now be so far above her.

"But it shall not be," she said, and then to her mother she unfolded her plan of having Dora go home with them immediately. "I'd as soon be in Joppa as to stay here with her for a rival," she said. "Mr. Hastings don't care for me, I know, and I hate that old codger of a Hamilton, with his sarcastic remarks and prying eyes. I've been here long enough, and I mean to go home."

To this proposition Mrs. Deane assented willingly; but she expressed her doubts concerning her ability to make Dora accompany them.

"Of course she'll go," said Eugenia. "Her mother placed her under your control, and she is bound to obey."

Yielding at last, as she generally did, Mrs. Deane promised to see what she could do; and the next day she announced to Mrs. Elliott her intention of taking Dora home with her. "I am grateful for all you have done for her," said she; "but we need her, and cannot spare her any longer; so, Dora dear," turning to her niece, "pack up your things, and we will start to-morrow morning."

Had Uncle Nat been there he would undoubtedly have exploded at once; but he was not present, neither was Mr. Hastings, and it remained for Mrs. Elliott alone to reply, which she did firmly and decidedly: "No, Mrs. Deane, Dora cannot go. She was committed to your care, I know, but you gave her up to me, and I shall not part with her unless I am legally compelled to do so, or she wishes to go. She can answer this last for herself," and she turned towards Dora, who, drawing nearer to her, replied, "I am sorry to disobey you, Aunt Sarah, but I cannot leave Mrs. Elliott."

Mrs. Deane was not very courageous, and, unwilling to press her claim, she turned away and reported her ill-success to Eugenia, who heaped a torrent of abuse upon both Mrs. Elliott, Dora, the old South American, and Mr. Hastings, who, she declared, were all leagued against them.

"But I don't care," said she, "old Mr. Grey is quite as wealthy as Mr. Hastings, and by saying the word I can marry Steve at any time; and I will do it, too," she continued, "and then proud Mrs. Elliott shall yet be [illegible] of equality, for she will not dare to neglect the Greys."

Somewhat comforted by this thought, she dried her tears, and, recalling her willingness to part for home on the morrow, even if Dora did not accompany her. As yet she had no suspicion whatever of the engagement existing between Mr. Hastings and her cousin. There was nothing in the manner of either to betray it, and when, next morning, attired in her traveling dress, she stood with them upon the piazza, she little thought how and where she would next meet them. At her side was Stephen Grey. He had been won over by her gracious smiles the night previous, and was now going with her as far as Rochester, where, if a favorable opportunity were presented, he intended offering himself for her acceptance. Uncle Nat was not present, and Eugenia was glad that it was so, for [illegible] something about him exceedingly annoying to her, and she always felt relieved at his absence.

"Why do you go so soon? I thought you were intending to spend the summer," said one of her old admirers; and with a scornful toss of her head she replied, "It is getting so insufferably dull here that I can't endure it any longer."

Presence of Mind.

Although it is not given to everybody to know exactly what to do at the right moment, one woman at least can lay claim to a presence of mind which may, without undue exaggeration, be considered phenomenal. This woman's little boy was ailing with some trivial childish complaint, and the doctor ordered him some medicine. He had just taken his daily dose when his mother said, with some excitement:

"I quite forgot to shake that bottle afore givin' ye't, Johnnie. Come here."

Johnnie obeyed, and, much to his astonishment and disgust, was subjected to a vigorous shaking from the strong arms of the parent, at the conclusion of which he was laid down with the remark:

"There, my laddie, that'll dae. It should be grey weel mixed up noo. I'm thinkin', but don't let me forget again."

Johnnie promised.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Wardrobe in a Hat.

Grandfather De Voe is an artist who appreciates fine millinery. His young married daughter, however, was practicing domestic economy when a hat, a beautiful creation in real lace, arrived for little Elise from her devoted grandparent, whose eye had scarcely rested on this bit of baby apparel the moment he saw it in a department store.

"That hat is entirely too extravagant for this family," remarked the young mother. "I'll take it back and see what I can do."

A few days later the grandfather called to see the baby in the new hat.

"Do let me see how she looks in it," he said. "And how did you like it?"

"Very much, father, thank you. They gave me two hats, two dresses, a sweater and 39 cents in change for it."—Youth's Companion.

Signs of Long Life.

In view of the diversified testimony of present day centenarians on the subject of longevity and its causes, it is interesting to get a little light on the subject from Queen Elizabeth's time.

"Bacon took a deep interest in longevity and its earmarks," says a physician, "and Bacon's signs of long life and of short life are as true today as they ever were. You won't live long, Bacon pointed out, if you have soft, fine hair, a fine skin, quick growth, large head, early corpulence, short neck, small mouth, brittle and separated teeth and fat ears. Your life, barring accidents, will be very lengthy if you have slow growth, coarse hair, a rough skin, deep wrinkles in the forehead, firm flesh, a large mouth, wide nostrils, strong teeth set close together and a hard, grisly ear."

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness, nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is in it. [illegible] It is almost always a [illegible] nerve that really is all at fault. The nervous nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more energy, more [illegible], more governing force. Without that the Heart must continue [illegible], and the stomach and kidneys also have [illegible] nervous.

That's why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the nerves of all those [illegible], palpitating, [illegible] heart disease, [illegible]. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this nerve [illegible]—is alone directed to these [illegible] and vitalizing nerve centers. It builds; it [illegible]; it calms and, gains heart help.

If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen them [illegible]—re-establish them as needed, with

Offers the Biggest and Most Attractive Mining Investment Now Before the Public.

ITS HOLDINGS ARE MINES--NOT PROSPECTS

With Vast Bodies of Ore Ready for the Mill, Now Nearing Completion.

THOMAS W. LAWSON
"Copper stocks offer the biggest opportunity for money making in the world to-day. A good copper mine is really a safe-deposit vault of stored up dividends which cannot be stolen or destroyed by fire, flood or famine."

CECIL RHODES
said: "Mining offers greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB
says: "The big fortunes of the next twenty-five years will come from Mother Earth." Among all mining investments none stand ahead of copper for safety, permanency and profit.

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 631 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortes, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 6 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. M. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 20 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done, this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Hussingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government experts report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months. DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Alleged Forgery Cases Today

Frank Hamilton and Charley and Frank Healey, all of Peterborough, appear before County Police Magistrate Edmison this morning on the charge of forging a cheque on the Cavendish Lumber Company. It is said the cheque was raised by Hamilton from $1.40 to $51.40, and the two Healeys are supposed to know something of the offence. They disclaim all knowledge of it, however.

Sterling Cattle Drover

Albert Seeley, a cattle shipper of Stirling, was sentenced last Wednesday in Toronto, to a fine of $10 and costs for overcrowding cattle on a G.T.R. car. Seeley said that he had not exceed the weight per car in his shipments, but upon Magistrate Kingsford being informed by Humane Officer Chipman that the cattle were chained by the forelegs, and that no man was sent with the cattle, although the railroad officials' transportation to cattle drovers in charge of cattle, the magistrate decided to convict him.
"I can't send a man with every load. We charge a car every time," said Seeley.

Old and Respected Citizen Passes Away

Yesterday morning one of the oldest resident men of the East Side in the person of Mr. John Gainey, passed away at his late residence, Driscoll Terrace. The late Mr. Gainey had only been sick for about a week, his death being due to a general breakdown of the system. He was seventy-one years of age and was born in Newcastle, Limerick, Ireland. He came to Canada when a boy of thirteen, and for fifty-eight years had resided in Ashburnham. He was very highly respected. Mr. Gainey was predeceased by his wife fourteen years ago.

Stole Boots

It seems that a young man, with more brazen than common sense or honesty yesterday entered the residence of Mrs. Geo. Tebault, Borg street, whilst the latter was getting in her daily supply of that mixture sold as milk, (we don't know her milkman but judge possibly by others) and carried off a new pair of boots with hockey skates attached. The police have the thief and consequent culprit under watchful eye.

Destitute Children Easily Placed

The Children's Shelter is at present tenantless, which is largely due to the system recently adopted. The Secretary has secured a list of persons desirous of adopting children, and in this way it has been possible to place all the children with good families, almost as soon as they are brought to the shelter. Mr. Geo. Cochrane, the agent, is investigating cases of neglected children, but fortunately the number is not as large as usual this winter.

Y.M.C.A. Sunday Notes

Bible class for men meets Sunday morning at 10.45 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. Mr. W. B. Warne will be the leader. Already quite a number of men have expressed their desire to join. The first class will be held this coming Sunday. Any man may join.

The afternoon meeting will be addressed by Rev. Andrew Allan. His subject will be "Gold Mining."

Miss Beynon, soloist of George St. Methodist church, will sing. A large attendance and a good meeting is expected.

Wedding Bells

A quietly celebrated but none the less pretty wedding, was solemnized by Rev. Canon Davidson at the home of the bride's mother, when Mamie, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Gray, 209 Murray street, was united in marriage to Mr. Peter Morrison, of Arcola, Saskatchewan. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Austin Gray, and was very becomingly attired in a gown of white silk, over which blue taffeta, with trimming of duchess satin ribbon and Irish baby lace. Miss Lolla Redpath of Lakefield, acted as bridesmaid, and wore white silk trimmed with lace. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Andrew Young, of Lakefield.

After the ceremony the guests partook of a toothsome wedding supper. The groom's present to the bride was a gold bracelet, and to the bridesmaid a crescent.

"There's a Reason"

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better plan! It is used both for treating and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—refined triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hanging coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

NOTORIOUS CRIMINAL GETS LIFE SENTENCE IN PENITENTIARY

Companion in Robberies Let Out on Suspended Sentence--Chambers Glared with Hate at Chancellor Boyd as He Left the Court Room

Toronto, Jan. 17.—When the Assize Court was resumed this afternoon two prisoners were conducted to the box to be sentenced by Chancellor Boyd. They were Georg Chambers and Thomas Morgan, the two young criminals who pleaded guilty to several charges of highway robbery, and whose sensational arrest took place about two weeks ago.

"Chambers and Morgan," said his worship, "you have pleaded guilty to the charges laid against you. The convictions I have here before me are different for both of you, and I must deal with both of you differently.

"Morgan, you are yet a minor in the eyes of the law, as yet you are not 21 years old.

"Chambers, you too are a young man, as you are but twenty-two years of age.

"As to both of you, I feel a responsibility. As to you Morgan, I do not propose to use the arm of the law against you. The Salvation Army has come to me on your behalf, and propose to put you on a farm, and every six months you are to report to Inspector Archibald. Do you agree?"

Morgan said he agreed, and signed a paper to that effect.

"The sentence, then, against you, Morgan, is five years in prison, and 25 lashes. That sentence against you is suspended, provided you live up to the agreement you have signed, and lead a lawful life.

"As to you, Chambers, the story is a very different one. On five charges you have pleaded guilty to highway robbery, having used a revolver. There is a long list of other convictions against you. That means that you have started on a deliberate life of crime. I cannot impose a light sentence upon you.

"While you are in the penitentiary you will have time to improve, and if you intend to lead a new life the authorities of the government will intervene on your behalf.

"My sentence then, is that you be committed to penitentiary for life."

Chambers turned white when he heard the sentence imposed. Immediately a guard opened the gate of the prisoners' dock. With a look of hate evident on his face, and uttering an oath plainly audible, Chambers turned towards the chancellor and left the box. On his way out of the court the prisoner again turned to have a final look at the judge who sentenced him, while his face could be seen to work.

POLICE

Yesterday a local carter was charged at the police court with not having renewed his license that had expired and with having failed to return the number plate that belong to the city. The magistrate imposed a fine of $5, with $3.5 costs. The fine however, was remitted, on consideration of the carter, who is only what might be called a "casual" carter, taking out his license.

Reuben May, the Englishman who was sometime ago, charged with vagrancy, and pleaded guilty to the crime, and is really being held pending the arrival of Dominion government deportation officers to see that he returns to the shores of old Albion to do his vagrancy there. He was remanded for one month.

Four Families were Kidnapped

New Orleans, La., Jan. 14.—The State Immigration league announces that four Italian families numbering about 28 persons have been apparently kidnaped by some planter living near Tallulah, La. The Italians, who were immigrants, came here from New York en route for Girard, Ks., where employment had been secured for them.

So far as the State immigration league knows the Italians have not been mistreated.

HUNDRED GIRLS IN BURNING FACTORY

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 17.—The Imperial Underwear factory, employing more than 100 girls, is burning. A number of girls have leaped from the windows and some are reported caught in the building.

One employe, Florence Wattrous, is reported burned to death, and another, Marie Buckler was killed in jumping.

WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS FOOLED THE POLICE

They Tied Themselves to an Iron Railing in Downing Street with Chains--Five Arrests Were Made

London, Jan. 17.—The arrival of the ministry in Downing street today to attend the first meeting of the cabinet before the assembling of parliament was made the occasion of a public demonstration by the women suffragists. The police anticipated trouble, and a large force was present, but the women succeeded in making their way inside the residence of Premier Campbell-Bannerman, and five arrests were made before order was restored.

Some of the demonstrators forged a novel manner to prevent being carried off by the police. They had attached to their belts, stout chains which, when they saw the police about to lay hands on them, they quickly threw around the railing in front of the building. The police had to break the chains by force before they could get the women away.

The suffragists were subsequently arraigned in the Bow street police court. They refused to give surelties for their good behavior and were sent to prison for three weeks.

MRS. EVELYN NESBIT THAW CALLED TO THE BOX YESTERDAY

As if by Magic, the Court-room Began to Fill with "Sporting" Crowd when Prisoner's Wife Took the Witness Stand

New York, Jan. 17.—With frequent interruptions by Attorney Jerome, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw began her testimony this afternoon. Mr. Littleton began by asking her age, and where she was born. This was at Pittsburg, Penn. She gave her age as 24. Time and again Mr. Jerome interposed objections, and was sustained by Justice Dowling.

She was permitted to tell how she secured a position as model in several artists' studios in Philadelphia, and then coming to New York, but was not permitted to say whether she had a letter of introduction to a New York artist, or not. It soon became evident that Jerome was going to fight every word of Evelyn Thaw's testimony. He said she succeeded in securing employment with the Florodora Company at the Casino. At this point a ten-minute recess was ordered to clear the room.

THE EVIDENCE

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was called to the stand. She said she was the wife of the defendant, and was born Christmas Day, 1884. Her father died when she was ten years old.

District Attorney Jerome objected to practically every question Mr. Littleton asked, but the questions were finally allowed, although Jerome objected to many of them.

The questions ruled out usually had to do with how long she lived at various places and things about the move were made.

Mr. Jerome said that after seeing the jury she thought it was the last time with stories about "pet cats and other irrelevant stuff."

Young Mrs. Thaw finally was allowed to say that when living in Philadelphia before coming to New York she posed for various artists. At the time she was 14 years old. The witness was allowed to tell of coming to New York at the age of 15, and of posing for Carroll Beckwith, Carl Blenner, and other artists here. She was not allowed to tell how much compensation she obtained, or whether her mother was employed at the time.

At 3.30 p.m., a ten-minute recess was ordered.

MANY SEEK ADMISSION.

After recess, there was a crush for admission to the court room, and the officers had to use force in repelling some of the mortal mob which stormed the door.

When Evelyn Thaw was first called to the stand her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carnegie, left the room.

Thaw watched his wife narrowly, but Mr. Jerome interposed his broad back between the two, and the spectator had a strenuous time swaying from one side to another.

"When did Harry Thaw first tell you he cared for you?"

"He said he loved me and wanted me to marry him," the witness replied. "We were in Paris at the house where my mother and I were staying. I refused to marry him, and he asked me why. I did not reply."

An entirely unexpected move was made by District Attorney Jerome, who pertained the court to exclude newspaper men and those not immediately associated with the case.

If America Persists in Her Pretensions it Means War with Japs

Paris, Jan. 16.—The Patrie to-day publishes a letter from a "Japanese officer" who was wounded in Manchuria and is now convalescing at Nice, protesting against the idea of inferiority of the Japanese. This writer says:—

"In the hierarchy of peoples we are superior to the Italians and the Spaniards. Can the Yankees refuse to the immigrants when they accept the Italians and the scum of Italy and Germany? No one has the right to treat us like the Chinese, who are savages. If the Americans persist in their pretensions, it means war."

DENIES CRITICISM OF FLEET.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Mr. Nabuco, the Brazilian ambassador here, has protested at the publication of statements attributed to him criticising the navy department for sending an officer of the comparatively low rank of rear admiral in command of the great battleship fleet at present receiving a splendid welcome from the Brazilian people.

A formal statement issued by the Brazilian embassy is as follows:—

"In one of the newspaper reports of to-day it is said the Brazilian embassy mentioned pointedly the fact that the rank of Rear Admiral Evans was entirely inappropriate for the great naval force he is in command of.

"This embassy could not pass any unfavorable comment on any appointment made by the president, much less on that of the splendid chief to whom is intrusted a whole American fleet, and at the moment Brazil was welcoming him."

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 15.—Swinging at their anchors, the American battleships early to-day seemed as if they were enjoying a well-earned rest after their run of 3,000 miles and more from Trinidad. They lay under the green hills of Rio, in the shadow of Mount Corcovado, and soon the streets took on a lively appearance as thousands made their way to the edge of the water, where they could watch the ships and launches dashing in and out.

A warm welcome awaited the fleet from the moment the signal flags went up announcing its approach, and from the first landing of the "liberty" men until anchor is weighed again Rio has much in store for those who wish to view its beauties and enjoy its bounty.

Entertainments have been arranged for almost every hour of the day and some of the hours of the night as well, and the fact that Rear Admiral Evans, the commander of the fleet, is ill is cause for the deepest regret.

Lakefield Conservatives Meet

A well attended meeting of Conservatives of Lakefield, was held recently for the purpose of electing delegates to the nomination conventions for the Dominion Parliament and Provincial Legislature, and other business. Besides a big attendance from the village, many were present from the adjoining townships. The following officers of the local association were elected.

President—Dr. J. R. Fraser.

1st Vice-President—Dr. J. A. Burgess.

2nd Vice-President—R. C. Strickland.

3rd Vice-President — Gerald Fitzgerald.

Secretary—O. A. Langley.

Assistant Secretary — J. W. Reddath.

Delegates were appointed to attend the convention at Peterborough, but it was decided to defer appointments of delegates to the convention at Norwood until after the next meeting to be held on call of the president. A motion was adopted unanimously that the Provincial Government be asked to place the village of Lakefield in the Riding of East Peterborough for Provincial elections as it is now for Dominion elections.

On motion of Mr. Langley, the following resolution was carried unanimously: "Resolved, that this meeting of Liberal-Conservatives of Lakefield do express by this resolution its entire confidence in the Hon. J. P. Whitney and his government.

ALL AMERICA EXCITED OVER SENSATIONAL REPORTS CONCERNING THE JAP FLEET

But Japanese Are Willing to Tell Where They Are All Located

U. S. Very Restless

Tokio, Jan. 17.—The foreign office is in receipt of a despatch from Washington pointing out that there is much uneasiness in America in consequence of the sensational reports emanating from Europe regarding the distribution of the Japanese naval fleet.

While not inclined to treat the matter seriously, the Japanese officials have assured the Associated Press that the governments of the various countries are in possession of all the facts connected with Japan's distribution of their warships through their attaches at Tokio.

Admiral Sato, minister of marine, said today that he was willing to make a full statement if it would in any way allay excitement, but he considered the rumors from Europe hardly worth attention.

Cannot Bar Evelyn's Story is Effect of New Ruling

New York, Jan. 16.—District Attorney Jerome's carefully laid plan to exclude the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, when she was called to the stand at the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, was completely upset yesterday.

The district attorney expected to be able to exclude the story on the ground that it related to Stanford White. The same question came up today when Benjamin Boman, former stage doorkeeper at the Madison Square theater, was called to tell of Stanford White's threat to kill Thaw.

Justice Dowling ruled that the doorman might testify to what he told Thaw about the occurrence. Boman, having told Thaw all about the incident, suggested the story as he had related it to the jury.

In the same manner the testimony of Evelyn Thaw will be got before the jury. She will testify to her friendship for Stanford White as a part of the story told by her to Harry K. Thaw before the marriage and while they were both in Paris. Under the ruling of Justice Dowling, Mr. Jerome will be unable to stop the admission of this evidence.

Boman's testimony was sensational. He told of White's throwing up his hands in front of the stage door of the Madison Square theater on Christmas Eve, 1905, flourishing a silver, after Evelyn Nesbit and Harry Thaw had gone away together in an automobile. White had asked for Evelyn, and Boman told him she had gone home.

"You're a liar!" White shouted.

The architect rushed past Boman back to Evelyn Nesbit's dressing room and searched wildly for her, expecting to find her on the stage.

Finding the dressing room empty, White returned and demanded to know where the girl had gone. Boman told him that Thaw had called for her. White pulled a revolver out of his pocket, flourished it, and shouted:

"I'll kill that ——— ——— before daybreak."

A Wealthy Woman Leaped to Death--- Sensational Suicide

New York, Jan. 17.—Miss Harriet M. Sears, 40 years old, a guest at the Hotel St. Regis, committed suicide today by jumping from a thirteenth storey window. Mrs. Sears was a member of a wealthy Boston family. She had been at the St. Regis for twelve days. Her Boston home was at 237 Commonwealth avenue.

Mrs. Sears had been a frequent visitor at the St. Regis for several years. She always came to the hotel accompanied only by a maid, and frequently remained there several days. Her actions were described by the hotel porter as erratic, and the maid always maintained a close watch over her mistress.

The body of Mrs. Sears fell on the roof of a four-storey building adjoining the St. Regis, and the fall was heard by the residents of that building. Mrs. Sears left a note to her husband in her room in the hotel.

Revived at Last

Emaciated Woman Restored by Proper Food

The amount of harm done from eating food which lacks the nourishing elements or is in such form that the system can't absorb it, is much greater than many persons even suspect.

The harm can't be corrected by drugs or pills. There must be a complete change in the dietary—the cause of the trouble must be removed.

"I have been a constant sufferer from stomach trouble, constipation and neuralgia, for the past 14 years," writes a Mich. lady, "and the past year became tired of life, of everybody and everything.

"The best doctors and several weeks at a Sanitarium afforded me only temporary relief. Finally an attack of the grippe caused me to give up hope of ever being well again. I was growing weaker and more emaciated every day.

"At last a doctor advised me to try some predigested food, as nothing would stay on my stomach. My husband sent for some Grape-Nuts, of which I ate a little with milk, and then awaited the usual results.

"My stomach did not reject this food, and from that time on for several weeks, I lived on Grape-Nuts and milk. All pain whatever in my stomach, my health gradually came back and in five weeks I gained 25 pounds. I received more strength from Grape-Nuts than I ever did from a meat and potato diet. There's a Reason."

Frank Hamilton Pleads Guilty to Forgery

Yesterday morning County Magistrate Edmonson held court in the council chamber. The case against the Healey boys, Frank and Charles, charged with forgery was brought up but County Crown Attorney Wood was not ready to proceed, so it was enlarged until next Thursday. The prisoners were allowed out on bail of $500 each, Mr. P. Hogan becoming their security. Mr. Gordon, who acts for the prisoners, remarked to Mr. Wood, "I think you might as well discharge these boys as there is no evidence against them." The crown attorney however did not see this in the same light. Mr. Gordon elected to have his clients tried summarily by the magistrate.

Mr. McWilliams, who appeared for the young man Frank Hamilton charged with the same forgery, pleaded guilty. He said that Hamilton had told him that one of the Healey boys was absolutely innocent. Mr. Gordon asked that the one referred to be discharged.

However the magistrate thought it was better to wait until the case against them is heard next Thursday. Mr. Wood also objected to this as High County Constable Cochrane was not present. Hamilton was remanded for sentence till Thursday.

The forgery referred to in the above cases was the raising of a cheque given by the Lakefield Lumber Co. to Hamilton, for the sum of $1.40, which the latter raised to $50 and then had cashed by Mr. Armstrong a Havelock hotelkeeper. The forgery was a very clumsy one,

Death of Mr. Thos. Stothart

Mr Thomas Stothard, one of the best known and most generally respected wendors of milk in this city has passed away. The late Mr Stothart lived in the Township of Smith on the west half of lo 16 concession 2, all his life. For twenty year he carried on a milk business in Peterborough.

Excepting for six years when he was working for the Shaw Lumber Company, he lived on his farm in Smith. The deceased was unmarried. The rest of the family are, James and John of Smith, and two sisters, Mary and Ellen, also of Smith.

Mr Stothart was a member of the Presbyterian church, and in politics he was a Reformer.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Everything Points to Successful Race Meet

The Times has always been an advocate of good clean horse-racing, as long as the race was in competition between the various merits of the respective horses and not for, in plain English, "filthy lucre." Now on the 21st of January, the Peterborough Turf Club will hold a meeting at the Driving Park, which will be well worth attendance by lovers of the horse, from east to west or north to south, beginning on January 21st. The members are making great strides in the coming races, and yesterday afternoon many members of the club despite the cold weather, had their nags, whether standard bred, mates or geldings, clean and proper accoutrements hitched to racing sleighs at the Driving Park. The turnout of the local horsemen yesterday dispelled the general interest that the Turf Club has created on matters appertaining to the horse and its action, and spread throughout the city and county. There is no doubt but what the Peterborough Turf Club's races on January 21st and 22nd, will be largely patronized.

Thaw Kicked Meal Into Grate and Threw Letters Up-Stairs

New York, Jan. 17.—No more interesting evidence has been given at the Thaw trial than that of the pusher Ingram, steward of the White Club, who testified on Wednesday. His story was sensational because related to Thaw's actions the very day before the shooting of Stanford White.

THE CIGARETTE INCIDENT.

"What was his appearance as you observed it on the day before the shooting?" asked Mr. Littleton.

"His eyes were glaring, he was extremely nervous and complained of having a chill, although it was a warm day, with a temperature of about 80 in the club rooms. He complained of the electric fan and wanted me to stop it. The windows were up in order to ventilate the room, but there was no draught where he sat, so far as I could see, yet he complained that the room was chilly, and at his request I closed the windows. He also got me to bring a fringed carpet and adjust it about the back of his chair while he sat there."

"Mr Thaw came to the club on the morning of June 25, the day of the shooting, at about eleven o'clock, and remained until noon. I observed him and saw that he appeared nervous and that he was perspiring freely. After passing a long time in the telephone booth he came out shaking his head, and I heard him mumble, "This is awful." He then went out immediately to the front steps, passing me in the hallway, but in a moment he wheeled and rang the bell of the basement door. Mr. Astor answered the bell. He handed to her a small package done up in tinfoil, and said he wanted it placed in the club safe and kept for him."

"Did you find out later what was in that package?"

"Yes, there was nothing in it but three rolled cigarettes."

There were other telling bits of evidence given by the witness during Mr. Littleton's examination in chief.

"I remember one day when Mr. Thaw was occupying a room in the club, and his valet Bedford was carrying for the room that he tried to throw an empty log up two flights of stairs to the valet, who stood at the head of the stairway."

Matilda C. Stein, who was the telephone girl employed at the switchboard in the Grand Hotel during 1903 and 1904, was an interesting witness called for the defense. That was during the time when Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit were occupying a room in that hotel under the assumed names of Mr. Parr and Miss Parr. When the girl was asked to give instances of Thaw's vagaries she said that one day within not more than three or four hours he kept calling from his room and gave her no less than seventy-five calls for all sorts of people and places. Some of these was a long distance call, and she remembered distinctly that his bill for service that day was $7.50. When he got connection with one of the persons for whom she had called and she said to him over the wire, "All right, go ahead," he usually replied simply, "Oh, never mind." This girl evidently left the "impression."

KICKED OVER BREAKFAST.

A new witness was P. August Weber, the former Thaw butler. Asked to describe anything unusual he had observed in Harry Thaw's conduct Webber said: "One day he called me downstairs about four o'clock in the morning. He was sitting there in his room and had a friend with him. He wanted cigarettes and some highballs. I noticed that his face looked blank and staring. I think he had been listening to some music and I heard him say, 'Keep that music up. I like it.' I went back to my room, and some time later he came and knocked on my door and woke me up. He gave me a five-dollar bill. I asked him if that was part of my wages, and he said it was not, but it was for my trouble for being bothered so late at night."

Weber described another occasion when he entered Thaw's bedroom with his breakfast on a tray. As soon as Thaw caught sight of him he leaped out of bed, kicked the breakfast and tray into the fireplace, one of his slippers going with it, and then threw himself down on a couch and appeared to have another fit. He recovered, as he had done before, and on starting to walk up and down the floor, he appeared to see for the first time the debris of the breakfast. Then, turning to the butler, who stood aghast at his master's antics, Thaw inquired, 'Why, Weber, where did all this stuff come from?'"

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, pervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little larger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's peculiar ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front rank, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strength-giving nervine it is unequaled. It won't benefit those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

HOW CHILDREN ARE QUICKLY STRENGTHENED

Develop Them with Ferrozone, Which Makes Rich Blood, Hardy Muscle, Steady Nerves.

Children brought up on Ferrozone are known by their strong, rugged frame, their chubby cheeks and healthful appearance.

Mothers find it an indispensable tonic and body builder, and in thousands of homes no other remedy is used.

EVERY CHILD IMPROVES ON FERROZONE

Mrs. E. Montgomery, of Port Hawkesbury, C. B., writes: "A little niece came to visit me, and noticing her pale and haggard looks, I started her on a course of Ferrozone. The change that quickly came over her in a few weeks was marvellous. Her appetite chirped up, she had more spirit and strength, and a rosy color came into her cheeks that I never saw there before. I weighed my niece about the time she started to pick up, and in seven weeks she gained almost eight pounds, and just looked the picture of health. I think this should be an example to many mothers, and I hope that others will try Ferrozone for their little boys and girls. I am thoroughly convinced that it is the most strengthening tonic it has my strongest endorsement."

The reason Ferrozone works so beneficially with Ferrozone is that it acts directly on the blood, freeing it of all unhealthy matter, at the same time giving it an additional supply of iron.

This at once results in more strength new spirit and renewed vitality. Just one tablet at meal time works wonders.

Refuse to accept any article the druggist may say is just as good. Get Ferrozone, and the result we guarantee will be satisfactory. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 15, 1908

THE FUTURE OF THE SPANISH RACE

The proposal that the next Pan-American Congress shall be held at Buenos Ayres in 1910, conjointly with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Argentine war for independence, has much to commend it. The congress has twice been held in the United States, once in Mexico and once in Brazil. In turn we suppose each American republic will be its host. Seeing what they are now doing for peace, union and their own advancement, the Central American states might make a strong bid for it. So might Cuba, when she has "found herself" again, as she will soon do. One of these days, perhaps coincidently with the completion and opening of the canal, we shall hope to see it at Panama, where eighty-odd years ago the first attempt was made at holding such a congress. But it may well be that for the next meeting Argentina, with her palatial capital, has the strongest claims.

The question, however it may be decided, serves as a reminder of the continued greatness, the steady growth and the high and inspiring future promise of the Spanish race, in both the New World and the Old. Nothing could be more fatuous than to consider Spain as moribund or the Spanish race the world around as degenerate or declining. The fact is that the great Iberian kingdom itself is no long the apparent sport of malicious and inconstant fortune, contains within itself the promise and potency of a splendid renascence, while the Spanish race at large is to-day more numerous, more powerful and more progressive than ever before in its amazing history. Never was the Spanish language more widely or more numerously spoken and written than to-day. Never did it rank higher and nearer toward universal use among the languages of the world.

They declare ill who leave me out. The Spanish race possesses perhaps more than any other since the fall of Rome, save only the Anglo-Saxon, those conquering characteristics which have contributed so much to the growth and progress of the English speaking peoples. Like the Anglo-Saxon, the Spanish race is completely composite, and it has drawn some of its strongest ejements from the same sources as our own. Like the Anglo-Saxon, too, it retains to a marvellous degree the power of assimilating additional foreign elements. The Spanish language more than any other approximates to the inexhaustible copiousness and flexibility of the English; it is exceptionally easy to learn, and it is invested with a singular and seldom rivalled charm; the result of those conditions being that it is adopted as perhaps no other, not even English, is by the aliens who come within its magic influence. Germans by thousands and Italians by scores of thousands have settled in the Spanish speaking countries of South America, but more than their compatriots who have settled in the United States they have abandoned the noble tongues of the old countries and have taken to speaking and writing the language of their adopted homes.

Omitting St. Asian tongues and races of India and China, and also those of Russia are more than half Asian, the Spanish race and the Spanish tongue stand easily second in the world in numbers and distribution, and we do not say, in scope of future promise. To them belong Central and South America, the whole Western Hemisphere below the Tropic of Cancer, or more than one-fourth of the surface of the globe—for Portuguese Brazil must be reckoned in with its somewhat closer than cousinly kin—and in addition one of the most valuable parts of Europe and a goodly holding in Africa and Asia. No other race save our own has a comparable field for growth, nor are we convinced that any other has within itself more unexhausted vitality. With all its mighty past, the Spanish is still one of the great races of the present and of the future.

UNREST IN MOROCCO

The troubles between France and Morocco were adjusted in the month of September last. Most of the tribes agreed to disarm and to pay indemnity for losses sustained through their uprising. But, as we predicted at that time, there could not be absolute peace in the country so long as rival sultans were dodging each other with their following of chiefs looking for plunder and position as the accompaniments of civil war. The danger of European interference with Morocco was over for the time, but the belief was expressed that some day the empire would have to be taken in hand by the leading nations in Europe and forced into a state of quietude suited to the demands of the twentieth century.

Events of the last few days seem to indicate the reopening of the questions whose settlement was hoped for by the September negotiations. The claimant, Mulai Hafid, has gained fresh strength by an uprising at Fez, where the leaders have been forced by popular demand to proclaim him sultan instead of Abd-el-Aziz. He has been at work among the people of the interior, using the argument that the reigning sultan has sold out to the Christians, being in alliance with France and Spain. The conditions under which he has been proclaimed are disturbing.

He plans to make an alliance with the sultan of Turkey and put an end to relationships with other Europeans just as far as possible. He proposes to reject the Algeciras act, expel the French troops, prohibit access to the interior by Europeans, restricting them to reserved quarters in port towns, prohibit Moorish subjects from placing themselves under the protection of foreign consulates, secure Morocco's rights in the dispute over the Algerian frontier, and abolish all taxation. This program includes the important things which have brought about discontent among the people.

It now remains to be seen how much power he can secure at his back. If the present outbreak is supported by any considerable number of people there may be serious trouble. The French must uphold the cause of the reigning sultan, with whom their negotiations have been carried on. The other European nations may be drawn into the difficulty on account of trade relationships. There may be a division of the country, each of the contending factions taking part of the territory. Such an outcome would be a certain preliminary to a long and discouraging struggle.

The situation is a disquieting one, for Imperial soldiers at Fez have deserted the reigning sultan for the other leader. Such an act probably reflects the popular feeling in that part of the empire. The French and Spanish soldiers cannot withdraw from Morocco under present unsettled conditions. There may be a good deal of trouble, which will hasten the inevitable clearing up of the situation by the European nations acting in concert in the interests of trade and of civilization.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, but they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that action and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle no such lasting accomplishments, wherever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

DORA DEANE

OR THE EAST INDIA UNCLE.

BY MRS. MARY J. HOLMES

Author of "Tempest and Sunshine," "Lena Rivers," "English Orphans," "Maggie Miller," Etc.

Just then the omnibus was announced, and with a hurried good-bye she followed her baggage down the stairs, and amid a cloud of dust was driven rapidly away, while Uncle Nat, from his chamber window, sent after her a not very complimentary or affectionate adieu. Arrived at the hotel in Rochester where Eugenia had once waited in vain for Mr. Hastings, Stephen Grey managed to hear from her again that she had well-founded hopes of being one of the heirs of Nathaniel Deane, who, she said, sent them annually a sum of money varying from five to fifteen hundred dollars. This was quite a consideration for one whose finances were low, and whose father, while threatening to disinherit him, was himself on the verge of bankruptcy; and thinking the annual remittances worth securing even if the will should fail, Stephen found an opportunity to go down on his knees before her after the most approved fashion, telling her that she alone could make him happy, and that without her he should be wretched, and she, knowing just how much in earnest he was, promised to be his wife, intending the while to break that promise if she saw in Mr. Hastings any signs of renewed interest. So when Stephen pressed her to name an early day she put him off, telling him she could not think of being married until near the middle of autumn, and at the same time requesting him to keep their engagement a secret, for she did not wish it to be a subject of remark, as engaged people always were. To this Stephen reluctantly willingly, as he would have escape, for a time, his mother's anger. And so when, tired, jaded [illegible] and dusty, Eugenia Deane [illegible] Locust Grove, she had the [illegible] of springs knowing that her trip [illegible] as it had procured for her a husband such as he was!

CHAPTER XXI.

The Deanes had been home about two weeks when Mr. Hastings returned to Rose Hill, accompanied by the "old South American," who seemed to have taken up his abode there. Being naturally rather reserved, the latter visited but little in the village, while at Locust Grove he never called, and seldom saw Eugenia when he met her in the street. Mr. Hastings, too, was unusually cool in his manner towards her, and this she imputed wholly to the fact of her having been rude to his friend on the night of her introduction. "He was never so before," she thought; and she redoubled her efforts to be agreeable, to no effect, as he was simply polite to her and nothing more. So after a series of tears and headaches she gave him up, comforting herself with the belief that he would never marry anybody. After this she smiled more graciously upon Stephen Grey, who, pretending to be a lawyer, had, greatly to her annoyance, hung out his sign in Dunwood, while his office proper seemed to be in the barroom or drinking-saloon, as in one of these he was always to be found when not at Locust Grove.

One evening towards the last of September, when he came as usual to see her, he startled her with the news that there was ere long to be a new bride at Rose Hill! Starting involuntarily, Eugenia exclaimed: "A new bride! It can't be possible! Who is it?"

It was months since Stephen had been in New York, and he knew nothing except that the lady was from the city, and he mentioned a Miss Morton with whom he had several times seen Mr. Hastings walking, and who was very intimate with Mrs. Elliott. At first Eugenia refused to believe it, but when she had remembered how extensively Mr. Hastings was repairing his place, and heard that the house was being entirely refurnished, and fitted up in a princely style, she wept again over her ruined hopes, and experienced many a sharp pang of envy when from time to time she saw go by loads of elegant furniture, and knew that it was not for herself, but another. The old South American, too, it was said, was very lavish of his money, purchasing many costly ornaments and furnishing entirely the chamber of the bride. For this the fair Eugenia styled him a silly old fool, wondering what business it was to him, and why he need be so much interested in one who, if she had any sense, would, in less than two weeks, turn him from the house, with his heathenish ways. Still, fret as she would, she could not in the least retard the progress of matters, and one morning towards the last of October she heard from Mrs. Leah, whom she met at a store in the village, that the wedding was to take place at the home of the bride on Tuesday of the next week, and that on Thursday evening following there was to be a grand party at Rose Hill, far exceeding in splendor and elegance the one given there some years before, when Mr. Hastings first came to live there.

"Crowds of folks," she said, "are coming from the city with the bridal pair, who will start on Wednesday, stay in Syracuse all night, and reach Dunwood about three o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The invitations for the village people," she added, "are already written and left with me to distribute on Wednesday morning."

Eugenia would have given much to know if she were invited, but she was too proud to ask, and assuming an air of indifference she casually inquired the name of the bride.

With the manner of one in a deep study Mrs. Leah replied, "Let me see! It's a very common name. Strange I don't speak it!"

"Morton!" suggested Eugenia; but Mrs. Leah affected not to hear her, and, having completed her purchases, she left the store and walked slowly homeward, dropping more than one tear on the brown-paper parcel she held in her hand.

Crying, however, was of no avail, and mentally chiding herself for her weakness she resolved to brave it through, comforting herself again with the thought that the Greys were as aristocratic as the Hastingses, and as Stephen's wife she should yet shine in the best society, for in case she [illegible] that [illegible] she [illegible] but [illegible] delay [illegible] tried [illegible] to [illegible] believed [illegible] course [illegible] gayly [illegible] she [illegible] second [illegible] with the first.

That night they went down to the postoffice, many which [illegible] turned evidently much excited and rushing into the room where [illegible] ther and sister were sitting, she said, as she threw a letter into the lap of the latter: "It's from Uncle Nat, and is postmarked New York."

Turning white then even as she was before, Eugenia could scarcely command herself to break the seal and read the few brief lines which told her that Uncle Nat had at last concluded to come home that a matter of some importance would keep him from Locust Grove for a few days; but if nothing occurred he would be with them on Saturday evening of next week. To the postscript he added that he should expect to find Dora with them, and he hoped that the time that she had been away to school would prove a benefit to her.

So great was their consternation that for some minutes neither of them uttered a word, but each waited for the other to suggest some way of acting in the present emergency. As Eugenia's mind was the most active of the three, she was the first to speak. After venting her indignation upon Uncle Nat for intruding himself where he was not wanted, she continued: "We are in a sad dilemma, but we must make the best of it, and inasmuch as he is coming I am glad that Dora is what she is. We can tell him how rapidly she has improved, and how rejoiced we are that it is so. I am glad I have said nothing about her for the last two years, except that she was away at school. I'll write to her to-night, and tell her to meet him here, and come immediately. You know she is good-natured, and on my bended knees I'll confess what I have done, and beg of her not to betray me to him, or let him know that we did not pay for her education, and if she refuses, you, mother, must go down on your knees, too, and we'll get up between us such a scene that she will consent. I know—if not, why, we must abide the consequence;" and with the look of one about to be martyred, Eugenia sat down and wrote to Dora, beseeching her to "come without delay, as there was something they must tell her before meeting Uncle Nat."

This was Friday night, and very impatiently she awaited an answer, which, though written on Monday did not come until the Wednesday afternoon following.

"What does she say?" cried Mrs. Deane and Alice, crowding around her [illegible]

Lay the Foundation for Your Fortune Today

THE ANTIGUA PROPERTIES

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company holdings consist of 631 acres, situated in Honduras, Central America, 100 miles southeast from Puerto Cortez, and midway between New Orleans and Panama. Development work is being pushed, with all possible speed, and more than 1,500 feet of tunneling and shaft work has been completed. A 40 to 50-ton capacity gold-silver mill is in course of construction, and will be in operation before the close of the year.

Development work has conclusively proven that every acre of our holdings are rich in gold, copper and silver, and that every ton of this great ore body will yield a handsome profit on milling expense. The ore exposed on the surface does not require mining in the usual sense of the term, but may be obtained by quarrying. It can, according to estimates of experts, be quarried and treated for the gold and silver on an extensive scale at a cost of less than $1.00 a ton. Think of it! A solid mountain of rich ore, from the very grass roots of which may be washed gold.

Beyond a doubt Honduras has beneath her soil larger, richer deposits of copper, gold and silver than any other section of the American continent. Spain, during her sovereignty in that country, took out more than $300,000,000 in gold alone—and she scarcely scraped the Earth's surface. There is evidence that the pre-historic races knew how to mine and utilize copper—smelting it in their crude way.

The original incorporators of the Antigua Gold-Copper Company spent thousands of dollars of their own money in bringing this property to its present stage of development. They opened up the mine on every side with tunnels, crosscuts and shafts. They purchased machinery and began the erection of a gold-silver mill—now nearing completion. These men appreciated from the first that this mine was destined to become one of the greatest copper-gold-silver properties in America; and that it justified more extensive and more rapid development than they were able to make without the co-operation and financial assistance of the public.

The average assay values of Antigua ores, ranging from the surface to a depth of 200 feet, is over 5 per cent copper. This is above the average of the ore of the world's greatest producers, the famous Anaconda yielding ore which averages only a little over 3 per cent. The Anaconda has little other ore value, while our property, in addition to the copper, carries $2.00 to $1,400 a ton in gold and silver.

WHY STOCK IS SOLD

The Antigua Gold-Copper Company finds itself in precisely the same position as the farmer who has a larger farm than he can cultivate with the capital in hand. He knows that with additional capital and assistance he could make the land yield abundant crops and enormous profits. In the same way we intend, by the investment of additional capital, to bring our enormous ore bodies to a highly profitable state of development at the earliest possible moment. For this reason a limited amount of treasury stock is offered the public. In this way funds will be available for immediate use in purchasing additional machinery and for continuing vigorous development of the property.

THERE ARE NO PREFERRED SHARES AND NO BONDS TO COME FIRST IN THE DIVISION OF PROFITS.

and your shares will earn as much as a like number of shares owned by any other stockholder in the company. Each share CARRIES WITH IT THE RIGHT TO VOTE, so that with a single share you have every right, privilege and protection possessed by any other stockholder.

Stock is now being sold at $2.50 a share, and this stock, we firmly believe, will, within a year, be selling at its par value of $5.00 a share, or higher; nor will it stop there. If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, reserve shares TO-DAY.

Such an investment opportunity can scarcely be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Millions of dollars of copper, gold and silver will be marketed from the mines—fortunes will be reaped as a result of the prompt seizure of the opportunity we offer you to-day.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT

Much weight can justly be given the statement of a properly qualified and reliable mining engineer. Such is the character of T. W. Foster, from whose report on Antigua we make the following extracts:

"From the development work done and the indications shown by the croppings, I am convinced this is one of the largest gold-copper deposits in existence, and under proper development will make one of the richest mining properties in America. * * * I consider this ore an ideal smelting proposition, there being an abundance of iron, lime and silica in close proximity. There is plenty of water for power and milling purposes, and an abundance of timber on the property. * * *

"A large amount of development work has been done on this property in tunnels, drifts and shafts, ranging from 30 to possibly 200 feet in length. * * * This work has all been in ore—in fact, the ore body on the surface is shown to be fully one-half mile wide by two miles in length. To judge from the development work done this property is all ore—no matter where work was started, ore was encountered.

"The company is erecting a mill, consisting of one five-stamp and three Huntingtons, to work the surface ore. This surface ore is mostly free milling, the copper and galena sulphides being oxidized, freeing the gold, and being readily amalgamated. But I am confident that at no very great depth copper sulphides will be encountered, as there are many places in this great ore body where the sulphides crop to the surface. I have taken a dozen samples from various places on the lead, and from these made free gold tests, finding an average of over $6.00 a ton in FREE gold, and from 5 to 25 per cent copper. Native copper is frequently seen in this ore. If the Antigua mines continue in depth as on the surface, a 1,000 ton smelter will not work it out in 100 years. * * *

"* * * With good management and proper development, it will be but a short time until the stock of the company will be worth more than par. I fully believe that if this great ore body is properly developed there is a mine here worth many millions of dollars.

Make Your Money Work

THE PACIFIC FRUIT COOLING AND VAPORIZING COMPANY (Inc.)

was organized several months ago by well-known business men and fruit shippers of California for the purpose of precooling fruit before starting it on its long journey to the Eastern market. The Government expert's report on the precooling of fruits, is convincing evidence that the importance of precooling fruit is necessary and has come to stay. The inventor of our process has been engaged in the fruit business for many years and during the past five years has spent much time and money experimenting with the best methods of pre-cooling fruits. His tests have been practical and convincing. The keen business man saw at a glance the possibilities of his invention, and with the combination of capital, together with the enormous fruit industry, we were convinced of success and have succeeded far beyond our expectations. We are now busy at work making our machinery, to install ready for the coming season's fruit crop, and the opportunity now offered by this company is an ideal investment for the wage earner as well as the rich man. Moderate sums invested now will bring splendid returns in the near future, and as a ground floor opportunity we are offering a limited allotment of stock to the general public as a profitable investment.

At 25 Cents Per Share for a Short Time Only

Investments made six months ago have advanced 150 PER CENT. The next six months promise to far exceed the past six months DON'T WAIT.

Time is the essence of this proposition. This stock will certainly double in a short time. J. Gould once said, "When you see a good investment, don't wait to see if it pans out well, for by that time other people see it too and you have lost your opportunity and you must then pay a higher premium on the original price to get it."

You will note the entire absence of risk in this advertisement. Each machine will pay for itself the first season and leave a handsome margin for dividends. Just as soon as we set our machines in motion they begin to earn money and big money, too.

Jas. Schrum, of Dartmouth, Makes Valuable Discovery

Says the Most Obstinate Case of Stomach or Liver Trouble is Quickly Curable.

Dartmouth, N.S., Sept. 21st.—There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum, of Pleasant Street. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away. he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave the tone and strength to my stomach that it craved for. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly enervated man and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy.

Dr Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable—all the ingredients coming from the great store house of Nature, they can't help but Heal, Strengthen, Cure.

Banished

Coffee Finally Had to Go

The way some persons cling to coffee even after they know it is doing them harm, is a puzzle. But it is an easy matter to give it up for good, when Postum Food Coffee is properly made and used instead.

A girl writes: "Mother had been suffering with nervous headaches for seven weary years, but kept drinking coffee.

"One day I asked her why she did not give up coffee as a cousin of mine had done who had taken to Postum. But Mother was such a slave to coffee she thought it would be terrible to give it up.

"Finally, one day, she made the change to Postum, and quickly her headaches disappeared. One morning while she was drinking Postum so freely and with such relish, I asked for a taste.

"That started me on Postum and I now drink it more freely than I did coffee, which never comes into our house now.

"A girl friend of mine, one day, saw me drinking Postum and asked if it was coffee. I told her it was Postum and gave her some to take home, but forgot to tell her how to make it.

"The next day she said she did not see how I could drink Postum. I found she had made it like ordinary coffee. So I told her how to make it right and gave her a cupful I made, after boiling it fifteen minutes. She said she never drank any coffee that tasted as good, and now coffee is banished from both our homes." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Michigan.

HOTEL CARSLAKE, MONTREAL, European plan—opposite Grand Trunk Depot. Carslake, proprietor.

MRS. ADDIE HARDING. MRS. MARY MEYER. MRS. FRANCES WILSON.

MRS. ADDIE HARDING, 810 Court street, Syracuse, N. Y., writes:

"I have been a user of Peruna for the last twelve years and can truthfully say that there is no better medicine on earth.

"With me it is a sure preventive for colds and many other ills. In my home can always be found a bottle of Peruna. Two or three times a year I am troubled with my throat.

"I always had to have the services of my physician two or three times in each case.

"Although a user of Peruna, I never thought of taking it for my throat until about two years ago.

"I tried Peruna to check it, and to my great delight I was not troubled with the smothered and choked feeling and never have since.

"I can check it every time with Peruna.

"I certainly would not be without Peruna one minute."

"A SURE PREVENTIVE."

The fight against consumption is becoming a national problem.

Everywhere we hear of sanitariums established at the expense of the state for the treatment of the vast army of consumptives.

The open air treatment, fresh air and sunlight, are recognized by the medical profession generally as being the greatest necessities in the treatment of consumption in all of its stages.

Dr. Hartman has for many years advocated the fresh air treatment for consumption. At the same time he has recognized Peruna as a useful palliative for the many distressing symptoms which accompany the white plague.

Mrs. Mary Meyer, Thomson avenue, near Shell Road, Winfield, L. Y., N. Y., writes:

"I have been annoyed with a cough for years.

"Often it was so bad that I could not sleep half the night. Many people thought I had consumption.

CONSUMPTION WAS FEARED.

"A woman recommended Peruna to me two years ago. I began to take Peruna and now I am perfectly free from a cough.

"I am glad to say that Peruna cured me entirely. I take Peruna occasionally when I do not feel well and I also give it to my children.

"Peruna is the best medicine for coughs and colds. I have told many people how much Peruna has helped me."

Peruna tends to lessen the cough, decreases the expectoration, strengthens the patient, increases the appetite and in many cases procures sound, refreshing sleep.

But the value of Peruna in the treatment of a case of consumption is not so great as it is in the prevention of consumption.

Since it is well known that consumption begins with a common cold or catarrh, any medicine that can be relied upon to relieve these must be regarded as a preventive of consumption.

Thousands of cases of incipient consumption, or chronic coughs, or settled colds, have reported Peruna as being a safe and reliable remedy for these ailments.

CONSUMPTION PREVENTED.

Mrs. Frances Wilson, 32 Nelson street, Clinton, Mass., writes:

"Had you seen me at the time of my illness and now, you would not wonder that I take delight in sounding the praises of Peruna.

"My ailment was a severe cold which attacked the bronchial tubes and lungs.

"I followed your special directions and after using six bottles of Peruna I was on my feet again.

"I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."

The promptness with which Peruna relieves a fresh cold, and even removes chronic colds, that have become thoroughly established, is well-known throughout the entire country. This ranks Peruna as a reliable prophylactic against consumption.

CONSUMPTION PREVENTED.

Mr. Wm. Swain, 4245 Stiles street, W. Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"Before I commenced taking Peruna I had used almost everything I could think of for catarrh.

"I felt so tired when getting up in the morning and my lungs felt dry and sore. No one who has not experienced it can imagine how I suffered.

"I tried nearly everything recommended, but nothing did me any permanent good.

"The first bottle of Peruna did me so much good that I continued taking it until completely cured.

"I cannot praise Peruna high enough. I wish every one could know of it."

Those suffering from colds can do nothing better than to procure a bottle of Peruna and give it a fair trial.
